GENESIS

Book of Beginnings - Creation - Fall - 2 Deluges - 4 Dispensations - 8 Covenants - Patriarchs - 2371 Years

CHAPTER 1

THE CREATIVE AGES (Gen. 1:1-2:25).

I Original creation made perfect and inhabited (Isa. 45:18). "The world that then was" (2 Pet. 3:5-8)

1 IN the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

II Earth made chaos: end of earth's first perfect state and first sinful career because of Lucifer's rebellion. Overthrow of "the world that then was" (2 Pet. 3:5-8; Jer. 4:23-26)

2 And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

III Re-creation: earth's second perfect state and second habitation. The seven days: 1 Day and night restored

3 ¶ And God said, Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day.

2 Firmament and waters restored

6 ¶ And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

3 Earth and vegetation restored

9 ¶ And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth; and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

4 Solar regulation: first or Solaric Covenant (Gen. 8:22; Ps. 89:34-37; Jer. 31:35; 33:19)

14 ¶ And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth.

18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

5 Life restored: fish and fowl

20 And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.

21 And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

22 And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.

23 And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

6 Life restored: man and beasts' second or Edenic Covenant

24 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind: and it was so.

25 And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

26 ¶ And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

27 So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.

28 And God blessed them, and m Heb. tohu va bohu, meaning waste and empty (Jer. 4:23). The earth was not created tohu in the beginning (Isa. 45:18), but became tohu because of sin, as in note 1, above n Obscuring the sun and consequent darkness are always a result of judgment, never of creation (Gen. 6-8; Ex. 10:21; Jer. 4:23; Joel 2:31; Rev. 6:12; 8:12; 9:16:10)

i Job 38:8; Ps. 104:8; Pr. 8:29
j If dry land is earth, and it was originally created such in 1:1, then 1:2 refers to a flood on dry land because of sin. Dry land must have been created before the waters, else there would have been no place to hold the waters. Ps. 104:8 states that certain places for waters were founded. Not one passage teaches that God founded the earth in waters (Job 22:16; 38:4-7; Ps. 18:15; 63:5; 102:25; 104:8; Pr. 3:19; 8:29; Isa. 51:13-16). Part of the places founded for the waters are on the surface of the earth and part in the deep bowels of the earth (Gen. 7:11; 8:2; Ex. 20:4; Job 38:25; Ps. 24:2; Jonah 2:5-6) k 3 distinct kinds of vegetation: the grass; the herbs; the trees

f The greater light to rule the day is first called sun in Gen. 15:12. The word is found 168 times in Scripture. The sun is spoken of as going down (Gen. 15:12, 17), rising (Num. 2:3; Josh. 12:1), setting (Lk. 4:40), going backward (Isa. 38:8), and standing still (Josh. 10:12-13). See Our solar system, p. 58
g The moon is the lesser light, because it is not a ball of fire like the sun. It merely reflects the light of the sun. See notes on the solar system, p. 58 h The stars are really suns to other solar systems like our sun to our system. There are trillions of them. See notes on the solar system, p. 58

m Heb. sherets, swarming, creeping things (7:21; Lev. 5:2; 11:20, 21, 23, 29, 41, 42, 43, 44; 22:5; Dt. 14:19) n Heb. nephesh, the soul - the feelings, passions, desires, and appetites of any living thing. See Soul in Index o This verse literally reads, "Let the waters swarm with swarms of living creatures. And let fowl fly above the earth." There is no allusion to any productive power in the waters, or to the fowls being produced by the waters. God was the personal Creator of each (v 21; 2:19)
p See Created - not made, p. 52
q Great sea creatures. Some whales are said to become 40 x 100 ft. in size with weight of 300,000 lbs. See note s, Mt. 12:40

s See First blessing, p. 52
t See 5 divine acts in day 5, p. 52
u This covenant was made with Adam and Eve before the fall and was conditional upon man remaining true to God v In v 24 we have the divine purpose stated, and in v 25 the divine work. The how and order of the divine work are recorded in 2:7-25 where it seems clear that man was first created (2:7). Next, the beasts were created and brought to Adam so that he could name each one (2:19-20). Last of all, the woman was created (2:21-25)
w Evolution theories make this a lie; but the truth is that God made each creature Himself, in days 5 and 6 (1:20-31; 2:7-25; 5:1-2; 9:6; Ex. 20:8-10; Jn. 1:3-4; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18; Heb. 1:1-3; Rev. 4:11) x A Divine Trinity is required by the use of plural personal pronouns (1:26; 3:22; 11:7; Ps. 2:2-4; Isa. 6:8; Jn. 14:23; 17:11, 21, 22. See p. 280 of N.T. y Heb. tselem, shade, resemblance. Its usage proves it refers to outward form, not to attributes (1:26-27; 5:3; 9:6; Ex. 20:4; Lev. 26:1; Ps. 73:20; 106:19; Isa. 40:19-20; 44:9-17; 45:20; 48:5; Jer. 10:14; 51:17, Cp. Rom. 1:20; 1 Cor. 11:7; Jas. 3:9) z Heb. demuwth, resemblance, model, shape; and refers to outward form as proved by its usage (1:26; 5:1, 3; Isa. 40:18; Ezek. 1:5, 10, 13, 16, 22, 26, 28; 8:2; 10:1, 10, 21, 22) a Man's dominion included even the sun, moon and stars (Ps. 8). In the final restoration man will again have such rulership (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; Heb. 2:7-9)
b See Creation of man, p. 52
c See The doctrine of man, p. 618
d In the image of God - Elohim (plural), Gods. The whole structure of the sentence shows that there is unity joined with plurality (Cp. 3:22; p. 280 N.T) e Gen. 5:22; Mt. 19:4. All other creatures also were made male and female f The second blessing was upon man and woman together, not upon man alone or upon other creatures. Cp. 1:22 a Gen. 1:22; 8:17; 9:1, 7; 35:11. After the fall, to be fruitful was a special blessing and to be unfruitful was a curse

b This proves a social system before Adam, when Lucifer ruled (Cp. 9:1; Isa. 2:6; 23:2; Jer. 31:26; Ezek. 26:2; 27:25) c Man was given grain, fruits and other higher products. Animals were also created to be eaten by him (1 Tim. 4:3-5; 1 Cor. 6:13. Cp. Gen. 9:3) d Animals were not created to eat each other and will not do so in the Millennium and the New Earth (1:30; Isa. 11:6-9; 65:25)

e See 9 divine acts in day 6, p. 52
f See God's sabbath, p. 52

g The earth's first sinless career was when Lucifer ruled the pre-Adamites without sin (1:2; Ezek. 28:15) and before his rebellion (1:2; Isa. 14:12-16; Ezek. 28:11-17; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)
h "The heavens and the earth, which are now," as in 2 Pet. 3:5-8, not the original creation of the heavens and the earth as in 1:1. This work was that of the 6 days of 1:3-2:25 to regulate the solar system in connection with the restored earth and to make it habitable again i Heb. tsaba, mass of persons or things. Cp. 2:1-4-28; 10:14-26 with Dt. 4:19; 17:3; 2 Ki. 17:16; Isa. 24:21; Jer. 8:2. Here it refers to all the infinite creations of heavens and earth j Literally, on the 6th day He ended His work (1:31; Ex. 20:11), and rested the whole 7th day (2:2). The Septuagint and some other versions read, on the 6th day, instead of the 7th and this is correct k Everything is ascribed to the personal acts, words and deeds of a living God; hence, no room for evolution without a flat denial of the divine revelation

1 Upon the fish and fowls (1:22)
2 Upon man and animals (1:28)
3 Upon the 7th day (2:3; Ex. 20:11) p The first use of this word proves that sanctification means separation from a profane to a sacred purpose, and that it is not limited to the sin question. See Sanctification, p. 231 of N. T.

y Heb. yatsar, to mould or squeeze into shape as a potter does (2:7, 19; 2 Ki. 19:25; Ps. 94:9; 95:5; Isa. 45:18). The body was formed but the soul and spirit, or the inner man was created (1:26-27; 5:1-2) z Heb. aphar, mud, rubbish. Trans. earth (26:15); dust (2:7; 3:19); ashes (Num. 19:17; 2 Ki. 23:4); ground (Job 14:8); morter (Lev. 14:42, 45); powder (2 Ki. 23:6, 15); and rubbish (Neh. 4:2, 10) a Heb. naphach, to breathe out, puff, inflate, blow hard (2:7; Ezek. 37:9) b Heb. neshamah, breath - the air inhaled and exhaled, respiration (2:7; 7:22; Job 33:4; 37:10; Isa. 2:22; 30:33; 42:5). Breath is not the soul or spirit of man, for spirit and breath are distinguished in Job 34:14 c Heb. chayim, lives. Breath of lives, because it made the body, soul, and spirit live and function together
d See Adam, p. 53
e Heb. hayah, became (note l, 1:2)
f Heb. nephesh, soul. See Index g See Garden of Eden, p. 53
h See Eden, p. 53
i This seems to indicate that Adam was formed before the garden was planted j 3 food appeals (v 8)
1 Fruit trees pleasant to the sight (2:8; 2 Fruit good for food (2:8; 3:6) 3:6)
3 Fruit to be desired (3:6)
k Here and in 3:6 food is connected with sight. Most food is eaten because it is good to the eyes and taste. In modern times this is very deceiving as far as nutrition is concerned

God said unto them, [a]Be fruitful, and multiply, and [b]replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

29 [c] And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; [c]to you it shall be for meat.

30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have [d]given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the [e]sixth day.

CHAPTER 2 2

7 Sabbath rest [f]of God: beginning of earth's [g]second sinless career

THUS [h]the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the [i]host of them.

2 And [j]on the seventh day God ended [k]his work which he had made; and [l]he [m]rested on [n]the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 [o]And God blessed the seventh day and [p]sanctified it: [q]because that in it he [r]had rested from all his work which God created and made.

8 Summary of [s]creative ages (Gen. 1:1; Job 38; Heb. 11:3)

4 ¶ These are the [t]generations of the [u]heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the [v]LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

9 Earth described before plants were restored in day three (Cp. Gen. 1:9-13; 2:8-14)

5 [w]And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But there went up a [x]mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

10 Day six: man formed and created (Cp. 1:24-31)

7 And the LORD God [y]formed man of the [z]dust of the ground, and [a]breathed into his nostrils the [b]breath of [c]life; and [d]man [e]became a living [f]soul.

11 Day six: man's first home

8 ¶ And the LORD God planted a [g]garden eastward in [h]Ē'dĕn; and there he put the man whom he [i]had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow [j]every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for [k]food; the tree of life also in the [l]midst of the garden, and [m]the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

12 Water system of Eden

10 And a [n]river went out of Ē'dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first [o]is Pi'son: that is it which compasseth the whole land [p]of Hăv'i-lah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is [q]bdellium and [r]the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is [s]Gi'hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of [t]Ē-thi-ō'pi-a.

14 And the name of the third river is [u]Hĭd'de-kĕl: that is it which goeth toward the east of [v]As-sўr'i-a. And the fourth river is [w]Ū-phrā'tēs.

ANTE-DILUVIAN AGE: re-creation to flood (2:15-8:14)
IV [x]First dispensation: Innocence; length - ?. 1 Favorable beginning and test

15 And the LORD God took the man, and put him into the garden of Ē'dĕn [y]to dress it and to keep it.

16 And the LORD God [z]commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: [a]for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

2 God's foresight for man

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; [b]I will make him an [c]help meet for him.

3 Animals created (Cp. Gen. 1:20)

19 And [d]out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Ad'ăm [e]to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Ad'ăm called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And [f]Ad'ăm gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ad'ăm there was not found an help meet for him.

4 Woman's creation (1 Tim. 2:13)

21 [g]And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Ad'ăm, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, [h]made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

5 Day six: first marriage (Heb. 13:4)

23 And Ad'ăm said, [i]This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be [j]called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

24 [k]Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and a Heb. chayim, lives, from chayah, to live, revive, keep or preserve alive (3:22; Pr. 3:18; Rev. 2:7; 22:2). Literally, the tree of the lives, because each separate life eating thereof would live forever

o Man's duty: cultivate and keep or preserve the garden from all intruders (2:15). Keep, Heb. shamar, to hedge about, guard, protect, as in 3:24; 6:19-20; 7:3; 17:9-10; 18:19; 28:15, 20; Ps. 17:8. This is the first reference to an enemy of God and man. Adam failed, so sin entered and Satan became the pseudo-ruler of the restored earth (Mt. 4:1-11; 12:24-25; Rom. 5:12-21; 2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 6:10-18). His final defeat is pictured in Rev. 12:7-12; 20:1-10 p 5 commands before the fall:
1 Be fruitful (1:28)
2 Multiply (1:28)
3 Replenish (1:28. Cp. 9:1-2)
4 Exercise dominion and do not give it to another (1:28; 2:15)
5 Refrain from eating of the tree of knowledge of good and evil (2:17)
The last two were broken in Gen. 3. Of the 5 commands only the last would be a source of temptation, cross man's will and arouse his curiosity. The others needed no special warning to cause respect, hence the special penalty attached to the last q Adam died the same day he sinned, so this should be understood as a 24 hr. day. The penalty, eternal death, took effect immediately upon the act of disobedience (Rom. 5:12-21)
r God saw that His work was not yet complete in that man was not complete and could not reproduce his kind alone; so He made a help meet for him to enable him to propagate his kind (1:28; 1 Tim. 2:11-15; 1 Cor. 11:9)

Woman is said not to have been taken out of man's head to be lorded over by him, nor from his feet to be trampled on by him, but from his side to be equal with him, from under his arm to be protected by him, and from near his heart to be loved by him

b Heb. nachash, snake. Satan has no power to transform himself into a snake. He is an angel and always will be though now a fallen angel (Ezek. 28:11-17). A literal serpent is involved as a tool of Satan; otherwise, it would be unjust of God to curse it. See The serpent of Eden, p. 47
c Heb. aruwm, cunning (usually in a bad sense), crafty (Job 5:12; 15:5). The character of the temptation illustrates craftiness. The method was no doubt agreed upon by Satan and the serpent, as the best to cause the fall of man. There was nothing said at first to awaken suspicion, or to shock the moral sense; merely a shy insinuation calculated to excite a natural curiosity. Then there was a direct lie, combined, however, with just enough truth to give it plausibility (v 4-5). Note the 3 steps in the outline of v 1-4, leading to transgression (v 6; Jn. 8:44; 2 Cor. 11:3; 1 Tim. 2:14)

7 Man's failure: temptation and fall (Gen. 3:1-7; Rom. 5:12-21; Jas. 1:13; 1 Jn. 2:15-17; 1 Tim. 2:14).

(1) Doubt of God's Word (Rom. 14:23)

NOW the [a]serpent was more [c]subtil than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, [f]Yea, hath God said, [g]Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

(2) Addition to God's Word (2 Cor. 4:2-4; Rev. 22:18-19)

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:
●3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, [f]neither shall ye touch it, [g]lest ye die.

(3) Contradiction of God's Word (Cp. Gen. 2:17)

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, [g]Ye shall not surely die:
5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your [h]eyes shall be opened, [l]and ye shall be as [k]gods, [l]knowing good and evil.

(4) Transgression of God's Word. Beginning of earth's second sinful career. It ends in Rev. 20:7-15

6 And when the woman [m]saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her [n]husband with her; and he did eat.

(5) Immediate effects of sin (2:17; Ezek. 18:4; Jas. 1:15)

7 And the [o]eyes of them both were opened, and [p]they knew that they were naked; and [q]they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves [r]aprons.

8 New restoration work begun: first man hunt (Cp. Gen. 4:9; Lk. 15; 19:10)

8 And [s]they heard the [t]voice of the LORD God walking in the garden in the [u]cool of the day: and Ad'am and his wife [v]hid themselves from the [w]presence of the LORD God amongst the trees of the garden.

9 Man on trial: cross-examination (Cp. 4:9-10; Job 38:1-42:6)

●9 And the LORD God [a]called unto Ad'am, and said unto him, [b]Where art thou?
10 And [c]he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.
●11 And he said, [f]Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I [c]commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?
12 And the man said, [f]The woman whom [g]thou gavest to be with me, [i]she gave me of the tree, and I did [l]eat.
●13 And the LORD God said unto the woman, [k]What is this that thou hast done? And the woman [l]said, The [m]serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

10 Third or [n]Adamic Covenant: fivefold sentence.

(1) Curse upon the serpent

●14 [o]And the LORD God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; [p]upon thy belly shalt thou go, and [q]dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

(2) Curse upon Satan

15 And [r]I will put [s]enmity between thee and the woman, and between [t]thy seed and [u]her seed: it shall [v]bruise thy head, [w]and thou shalt bruise his heel.

(3) Curse upon the woman

●16 [x]Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy [y]sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth [z]children; and thy [a]desire shall be to thy husband, and [b]he shall rule over thee.

(4) Curse upon man and the earth

★17 [c]And unto Ad'am he said, Because thou hast [d]hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: [e]cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;
18 [f]Thorns also and [g]thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the [h]herb of the field;
19 [i]In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; [j]for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

22 ¶ And the LORD God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:
23 Therefore the LORD God sent him forth from the garden of Ē'dĕn, to till the ground from whence he was taken.
24 So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Ē'dĕn Chĕr'u-bĭms, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

CHAPTER 4 4

2 Adam's sons (Cp. Gen. 4:25-5:4)

AND Ad'ăm knew Ēve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cāin, and said, I have gotten a man from the LORD.
2 And she again bare his brother Ā'bĕl. And Ā'bĕl was a keeper of sheep, but Cāin was a tiller of the ground.

3 Failure of Cain: first false religion

3 And in process of time it came to pass, that Cāin brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the LORD.
4 And Ā'bĕl, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the LORD had respect unto Ā'bĕl and to his offering:
5 But unto Cāin and to his offering he had not respect. And Cāin was very wroth, and his countenance fell.

4 First religious teacher

6 And the LORD said unto Cāin, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?
7 If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him.

5 Failure of Cain: first murder (Jn. 8:44)

8 And Cāin talked with Ā'bĕl his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cāin rose up against Ā'bĕl his brother, and slew him.

6 Failure of Cain: lying (Cp. Gen. 3:9; Job 38:1-42:6)

9 ¶ And the LORD said unto Cāin, Where is Ā'bĕl thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?
10 And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.

7 Fourth or Cainic Covenant (Gen. 4:11-15). (1) Cain sentenced

11 And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand;
12 When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.

(2) First recorded remorse

13 And Cāin said unto the LORD, My punishment is greater than I can bear.
14 Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and from thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, that every one that findeth me shall slay me.

(3) Divine intervention (Gen. 3:21)

15 And the LORD said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cāin, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the LORD set a mark upon Cāin, lest any finding him should kill him.

8 First civilization

16 ¶ And Cāin went out from the presence of the LORD, and dwelt in the land of Nōd, on the east of Ē'dĕn.
17 And Cāin knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Ē'nŏch: and he builded a city, and called the name of the city, after the name of his son Ē'nŏch.

9 Failure of Lamech: first polygamist

18 And unto Ē'nŏch was born Ī'răd: and Ī'răd begat Mē-hū'ja-el: and Mē-hū'ja-el begat Mē-thū'sa-el: and Mē-thū'sa-el begat Lā'mech.
19 ¶ And Lā'mech took unto him two wives: the name of the one was Ā'dah, and the name of the other Zĭl'lah.

10 First cattle rancher

20 And Ā'dah bare Jā'bal: he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and of such as have cattle.

11 First musical instruments

21 And his brother's name was Jū'bal: he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ.

12 First metal-smiths

22 And Zĭl'lah, she also bare Tū'bal-cāin, an instructer of every artificer in brass and iron: and the sister of Tū'bal-cāin was Nā'a-mah.

a Mt. 23:35; Heb. 11:4; 12:24
b Heb. dam, drops of blood. Could this refer to Abel's posterity which was cut off forever by his death? In murder, one not only sins against God and the man he kills (9:6), but also against the murdered man's posterity for eternal generations c Heb. taa'ak, to shriek, cry out in anguish and fear (27:34; 41:55; Ex. 5:15; 8:12; 14:10,15; 15:25; 17:4; 22:27; Ps. 107:6). Unsuspecting Abel may have cried out thus to God and to Cain. God had compassion; Cain showed no concern (v 9) d See 15 great covenants, p. 57
e No death penalty here because no law against murder yet (Rom. 7:7-25; Gal. 3:19-25). First law against murder (9:6). A further curse seems to have been placed on the ground (v 12) and Cain's occupation made much harder than before (v 2) f 4th prophecy in Gen. (4:12). Next, 6:3
g Heb. nuwa, to waver, go to and fro. Trans. fugitive in v 12, 14, but elsewhere reel (Isa. 24:20); wander (32:13; Ps. 59:15; Jer. 14:10; Lam. 4:14-15; Amos 4:8; 8:12); and vagabonds (Ps. 109:10) h Heb. guwd, to flee, wander. Trans. elsewhere flee (Ps. 11:1); shaken (1 Ki. 14:15); wandering (Pr. 26:2) i Heb. avon, perverseness, wrung out of course. Many translate it "Is mine iniquity too great to be forgiven?"
j By now Adam had been on earth about 130 years (4:25; 5:3). At a very moderate rate of increase there could have been 500,000 people by this time. Cain himself built a city which requires many people (4:17). Every son of man had sons and daughters and started branches of the race (4:15-24; 5:1-32; 6:1-2) k Heb. owth, token, sign. Trans. mark only here; token (9:12-17; 17:11; Ex. 3:12; 12:13; 13:16; Num. 17:10; Josh. 2:12; Dt. 22:15-20; Job 21:29; Ps. 65:8; 86:17; 135:9; Isa. 44:25); sign and signs (1:14; Ex. 4:8-9, 17, 28, 30; 7:3; 8:23; 10:1-2; 13:9; 31:13). The idea is that God gave him a pledge that vengeance would be taken sevenfold on anyone who became his murderer. It was not a physical mark or a change of color from white to black. The black race did not begin with Cain. All of his line perished in the flood (6:8, 18; 7:1). All races as we know them now, began after Noah (10:1-32)
l Evidently God already had a place or tabernacle of meeting with men where He blessed worshippers (Cp. 2 Ki. 13:23; 24:20; Ps. 51:11; 96:6-8; Job 1:12; 2:7) m Heb. nod, wandering. So-called because of Cain's wanderings. Supposed by some to be ancient Tartary (eastern Europe and western Asia), or China n A Heb. idiom for co-habitation and fatherhood (4:1; 38:26; 1 Sam. 1:19; 1 Ki. 1:4; Mt. 1:25)
o The first city on earth since the destruction of pre-Adamite cities when Lucifer rebelled (Jer. 4:23-26, notes). The antediluvians built cities; invented musical instruments; made songs; danced; forged weapons of war from brass and iron; set boundaries around lands; fortified their cities against beasts and invaders; invented weights and measures and, in general, lived wicked, licentious lives before God until judgment had to come. People were plunderers and profligates. Cain's leadership as "mayor" of the first city reveals the wickedness of the times (1 Jn. 3:12; Jude 11) p Not the Enoch of Seth's line who was the 7th from Adam (5:18-24; Jude 14). This Enoch was the 3rd from Adam in Cain's line q The 7th from Adam in Cain's line became the first polygamist (v 19) and the second murderer (v 23)
r An idiom for originator or inventor of any new thing s Houses were of earlier origin than tents (Cp. v 17). Tents were a special invention for the cattle trade, which made it necessary to travel from place to place where grass was the best. A wandering life required a movable habitation t Heb. miqneh, live stock (Ex. 34:19; Num. 32:15; Eccl. 2:7)
u Inventor and teacher of musical instruments
v Heb. taphas, manipulate, wield, take hold (Jer. 2:8; 46:9; Ezek. 27:29; 38:4) a First of 153 occurrences of hearken. These two verses are supposed to be an antediluvian song. If so, it is the first on record

b Literally, I have slain a man who wounded me, and a young man who hurt me. If God protected Cain by a sevenfold pledge who committed wilful and pre-meditated murder, He will protect me seventy-sevenfold when I have slain a man in self-defense

d Seth means substituted

f It is generally believed that there were only two branches of the race: one, a godly line through Seth; and the other an ungodly line through Cain. But this is contrary to Scripture and history. All the sons and daughters of Adam and others throughout the antediluvian period started branches of the race. Then too, there were the giants, the offspring of the sons of God and daughters of men (6:4, note)

There were multiplied millions of men on earth during this period. It would be impossible to have the race divided into only two families. Cain's line is mentioned only to the 7th generation (4:16-24). Seth's line is the only one entirely given in all this period, the purpose being to record the line of the Messiah from Adam to Christ (4:25-5:32; Lk. 3:23-38)

Seth's line was just as ungodly as all others. Abel, Enoch and Noah were the only godly people mentioned in this period of all the race. Apostasy began in Seth's line with his first-born (4:26). This verse literally reads, "then men began to call themselves by the name of Jehovah" or "call upon their gods (idols) by the name of Jehovah." If true worship began here then what kind of worship was that of Adam, Abel, Seth and others up to this time (3:21; 4:1-15; Heb. 11:4)? Seth's line and others were so ungodly at the time of Enoch that he prophesied of their destruction (Jude 14). He also foretold the deluge, for he called his son Methuselah, which means, "when he is dead it (the deluge) shall come." Where were all the many so-called sons of God from Seth's line during those last 600 years? God said to Noah that he was the only righteous one in the earth (6:9; 7:1). All flesh had corrupted his way upon earth, hence the judgment upon all flesh except eight persons. If Seth's line had not failed as much as all other men, God would not have destroyed them along with the ungodly. Even Noah's family was not saved from the flood because they were godly, but because they were pure Adamite stock (see p. 63)

g Heb. toledah (plural only), descent, family history. Here we have the family history of the first man Adam of this race, showing the line through whom the second man Adam, the seed of the woman, should come into the world. In Gen. 2:4 we have the family history of the heavens and of the earth. In Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 3:23-38 we have the family history of the second man Adam, Christ. Adam was the youngest man in history to have children (4:1-6:1). The next youngest in this chapter was 65-years old (v 15, 21). See note, 46:21

h The 6th day (1:24-31; 2:7, 21-25)

i Gen. 1:27; Mt. 19:4; 1 Cor. 11:3-12; 1 Tim. 2:13

j See note f, 1:28

k Heb. Adam, red, rosy, flush, ruddy

l Adam was created in the likeness of God (1:26-28); men are begotten in Adam's likeness (v 3). God's likeness was perfect; Adam's was imperfect and depraved with the law of sin and death working in and bringing it to ruin (Job 14:4; 25:4; Ps. 14:3; 51:5; Rom. 5:12-21; 1 Cor. 15:39; Eph. 2:2-3) m If Adam had sons and daughters after Seth, then doubtless he also had them after Cain and Abel. One tradition says that Adam had 30 sons and 30 daughters; another says 300 sons and 300 daughters. Adam was contemporary with all of Cain's posterity mentioned in 4:16-24 and all of Seth's down to the 308th year of Enoch and the 243rd year of Methuselah. Thus two men (Adam and Methuselah) lived through the whole Antediluvian Age (v 5, 27). This chapter singles out the human line through whom the Messiah was to come

13 Failure of Lamech: second murderer

23 And Lā'mech said unto his wives, Ā'dah and Zĭl'lah, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lā'mech, [a]hearken unto my speech: [b]for I have slain a man to my wounding, and a young man to my hurt.

24 If Cāin shall be avenged sevenfold, truly Lā'mech seventy and sevenfold.

14 Failure of Enos: beginning of idolatry

25 ¶And Ād'ăm knew his wife again; and she bare a son, and called his name Sĕth: For God, said she, hath [c]appointed me another seed instead of Ā'bĕl, whom Cāin slew.

26 And to [d]Sĕth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name [e]Ē'nos: [f]then began men to call upon the name of the LORD.

5 CHAPTER 5

15 Length of Conscience 1656 years (Gen. 5; 7:6; 1 Chr. 1; Lk. 3:36). (1) Adam: 930 years

THIS is the [a]book of the generations of Ād'ăm. [b]In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made he him;

2 [c]Male and female created he them; and [d]blessed them, and called their name [e]Ād'ăm, in the day when they were created.

3 ¶ And Ād'ăm lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat a son in his own likeness, after his image; and called his name Sĕth:

4 And the days of Ād'ăm after he had begotten Sĕth were eight hundred years: and [m]he begat sons and daughters:

5 And all the days that Ād'ăm lived were nine hundred and thirty years: [n]and he died.

(2) Seth: 912 years

6 ¶And Sĕth lived an hundred and five years, and begat Ē'nos:

7 And Sĕth lived after he begat Ē'nos eight hundred and seven years, and [o]begat sons and daughters:

8 And all the days of Sĕth were nine hundred and twelve years: and he died.

(3) Enos: 905 years

9 ¶ And Ē'nos lived ninety years, and begat Cā-ī'nan:

10 And Ē'nos lived after he begat Cā-ī'nan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat sons and daughters:

11 And all the days of Ē'nos were nine hundred and five years: and he died.

(4) Cainan: 910 years

12 ¶ And [p]Cā-ī'nan lived seventy years, and begat Mā-hā'la-lē-el:

13 And Cā-ī'nan lived after he begat Mā-hā'la-lē-el eight hundred and forty years, and begat sons and daughters:

14 And all the days of Cā-ī'nan were nine hundred and ten years: and he died.

(5) Mahalaleel: 895 years

15 ¶ And [q]Mā-hā'la-lē-el lived sixty and five years, and begat Jā'red:

16 And Mā-hā'la-lē-el lived after he begat Jā'red eight hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters:

17 And all the days of Mā-hā'la-lē-el were eight hundred ninety and five years: and he died.

(6) Jared: 962 years

18 ¶ And [b]Jā'red lived an hundred sixty and two years, and he begat Ē'nŏch:

19 And Jā'red lived after he begat Ē'nŏch eight hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

20 And all the days of Jā'red were nine hundred sixty and two years: and he died.

(7) Enoch: 365 years on earth: about 5310 years in heaven (Heb. 11:5)

21 ¶ And [r]Ē'nŏch lived sixty and five years, and begat Mĕ-thū'se-lah:

22 And Ē'nŏch [s]walked with God [t]after he begat Mĕ-thū'se-lah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

23 And [u]all the days of Ē'nŏch were three hundred sixty and five years:

24 And Ē'nŏch walked with God: and he was not; [v]for God took him.

(8) Methuselah: 969 years

25 ¶ And [w]Mĕ-thū'se-lah lived an hundred eighty and seven years, and begat Lā'mech:

26 And Mĕ-thū'se-lah lived after he begat Lā'mech seven hundred eighty and two years, and begat sons and daughters:

27 And all the days of Mĕ-thū'se-lah were nine hundred sixty and nine years: and he died.

(9) Lamech: 777 years

28 ¶ And [x]Lā'mech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and [y]begat a son:

29 And he called his [z]name Nō'ah, saying, This same shall [a]comfort us concerning our work and toil of our hands, because of the [b]ground which the LORD hath cursed.

30 And Lā'mech lived after he begat Nō'ah five hundred ninety and five years, and begat sons and daughters:

31 And all the days of Lā'mech were seven hundred seventy and seven years: [c]and he died.

(10) Noah: 950 years (Cp. Gen. 7:6; 9:28)

32 And [d]Nō'ah was five hundred years old: and Nō'ah begat Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

a Heb. praise of God (1 Chr. 1:2; Lk. 3:37)

b Heb. yarad, to descend or cast down (1 Chr. 1:2; Lk. 3:37). Could it be that his name was prophetical of the casting down or overthrow of the race by the deluge? It is significant that his was the first one after the middle of 10 names from Adam to Noah. At least, in the day of his son, Enoch God definitely foretold the deluge as a judgment upon the apostate and corrupt race

c See Enoch, p. 36

d Heb. halak, to walk up and down, be conversant. Cp. Ex. 2:5; 14:29; Lev. 26:30; Josh. 5:6; 1 Sam. 8:3; 12:2. Enoch and Noah were the only antediluvians who walked with God (5:22; 6:9). Abel, Enoch and Noah are the only ones referred to in the Bible as being godly during this age (4:4, 5:22; 7:1; Lk. 17:26-27; 1 Pet. 3:20; 2 Pet. 2:4-5; Heb. 11:1-7; Jude 14). This walk with God might have been as literal as with Adam (2:19; 3:8)

e Why not before Methuselah was born? Could it be that something happened at this time that would have turned him to God. It is clear that at this time he did receive a revelation from God, for he named his son Methuselah, which means "when he is dead it (the deluge) shall come." He also foretold the 2nd coming of Christ to destroy the ungodly (Jude 14)

f That is, all his days on earth at that time. Besides living 365 years on earth, he has now lived about 5,310 years in heaven, making around 5,675 years he has lived without death. He will return as one of the two witnesses of Rev. 11 to complete his earthly life and die (Rev. 11:7), as is appointed unto all men (Heb. 9:27). It is said of each of the others in this chapter that "he died" (v 5, 8, 11, 14, 17, 20, 27, 31), but of Enoch, "he was not, for God took him" (v 24)

g That is, translated him without dying as in the case of Elijah (2 Ki. 2; Heb. 11:5). His is one of the briefest and most outstanding of biographies - one sentence revealing the history of 365 years, 300 of which were believing, humble, holy walking with God

h The longest earthly life on record. His father still lives in heaven and will again live on earth and die as one of the two witnesses (Rev. 11:3-11). Enoch, therefore, and not Methuselah is the oldest man that ever lived. All men would have lived forever if man had not sinned. All will live forever physically in the new earth and carry out God's original program (Rev. 21-22, notes)

i Heb. means destroyer. The 9th from Adam in Seth's line, not Lamech, the 7th from Adam in Cain's line (4:7-24)

j First time this expression is used since v 3. In both cases something is mentioned in particular for the sons; hence, the different wording k Heb. Noach, rest, comfort. A different Heb. word (No'ah, movement) is used of the Noah in Num. 26:33; 27:1; 36:11; Josh. 17:3. This ark-builder is mentioned in 5:29-32; 6:8-22; 7:1-23; 8:1-20; 9:1-29; 10:1, 32; 1 Chr. 1:4; Isa. 54:9; Ezek. 14:14, 20; Mt. 24:37-38; Lk. 3:36; 17:26-27; Heb. 11:7; 1 Pet. 3:20; 2 Pet. 2:5

l Heb. nacham, to sigh, avenge, pity, console. Cp. 27:42; 37:35; Ps. 23:4; 71:21

m See the curse on the ground (3:17-19)

n He died 5 years before the flood o To be understood (in round numbers) as about 500 years old, for Noah was 600 years old when the flood came (7:6); and his son, Shem was only 100 years old 2 years after the flood (11:10). See 12 examples of younger chosen, p. 7

n Fulfilling Gen. 2:17; Heb. 2:27; 1 Cor. 15:21-22; Rom. 5:12-14

o All these generations following Seth were perhaps first-born sons, as nothing is stated any place to the contrary. It could be that daughters were born in some cases before these sons. And again, it may be in some instances, as in that of Seth that the boy mentioned was a younger one who took the older one's place in the chosen line. See 12 examples, p. 7 p Heb. fixed possessor (1 Chr. 1:2; Lk. 3:37)

a This history begins again with the time of Adam and ends with Noah as did Gen. 5. Each of the chs. 4, 5 and 6 begins with Adam, but only the last two cover the whole Antediluvian Age

b It seems that daughters were born before sons (v 1. Cp. note o, 4:1)

c See Sons of God, p. 14

d Daughters of men (Heb. sing. the man Adam), therefore, not the daughters of Cain, Seth, or men in general

e Heb. towb, fair (6:2; 24:16; 26:7; Judg. 15:2; Esther 1:11; Isa. 5:9; Dan. 1:15); beautiful (2 Sam. 11:2); and good (1:4, 10, 12, 18, 21, 25, 31)

f 5th prophecy in Gen. (6:3). Next, 6:7. It was fulfilled in Adam, and gave him 120 more years to live before being cut off. This was given when he was 810 years old, making v 1–2 refer to the 810 years since Adam's creation, and v 4 refer to the days after this to the flood g Heb. ruach, wind, breath, life. Here it is the breath of life, or lives - conscience, life (45:27; Josh. 5:1; Judg. 15:19; Job 27:3; 32:8)

h Heb. duwn, to rule, judge. Trans. strive only here. Elsewhere, judge, judged, judgeth, judgment, contend, execute, and plead. Many versions translate it remain in, i.e. My breath of life will not always remain in the Adam i Heb. Adam, with the definite article, the man Adam. The meaning is "for that he (Adam) is also flesh (as all other men are): yet his (Adam's) days shall be an hundred and twenty years" (v 3). If man is held to be in the plural, meaning all men in general and not Adam in particular, then who else is referred to by the word also? The fact is, the verse reveals that Adam had corrupted his way upon earth as all other flesh had done, and that God, in His mercy, gave him 120 more years in which to repent and conform his life to the will of his Creator. Whether Adam did this or not is not known j Heb. nephilim, pl. of nephil, bully, tyrant, giant. Only here and in Num. 13:33; but other words are trans. giant or giants 18 other times in Scripture. See Giants and sons of God, p. 62

k The days of Noah after Adam or before the flood l See Giants after the flood, p. 14

m Marriage of sons of God, p. 14

n Not the daughters of Cain as supposed, for no daughters of Cain could be on this side of the flood. They were all killed by the flood (6:18; 7:7; 8:18; 9:1; 1 Pet. 3:20)

o Women had children by fallen, wicked angels as well as by men. It was not necessary to emphasize having children by men, but having children by angels was something to make special mention of (v 4; Jude 6–7). It was because of this great sin that "it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth" (6:1–6) p Heb. shem, men of name, honor, and authority (Num. 16:2; Ezek. 16:14–15; 34:29; 39:13; Dan. 9:15). The giants became the heroes of Gr. mythology and primitive truth now corrupted by transmission. See Giants, p. 62

q Divine inspection and dissatisfaction. God learns true conditions the same as man (v 5–6; 7:1; 11:5; 18:21; 22:12; 29:31; Ex. 3:4; Dt. 32:19; 2 Ki. 14:26; 2 Chr. 12:7; Isa. 59:15–16; Jonah 3:10). Cp. the same statements regarding men (3:6; 8:8; 37:14)

r Heb. rah, bad, evil, wicked (v 5; 39:9; Dt. 13:11; 17:2; Judg. 20:3, 12)

s Heb. rab, abundant, full, exceedingly. Cp. 13:16; 18:20; 1 Sam. 12:17

t Heb. yetser, concept, purpose, desire (8:21; Dt. 31:21)

u Heb. means to sigh, breathe heavily, and be sorry in the literal sense (Ex. 32:14; Judg. 2:18; 1 Sam. 15:36; 2 Sam. 24:16; Ps. 106:45)

v God is capable of all feelings, emotions, and right desires as we are. See note r, Jn. 4:24; and God in Index

w 6th prophecy in Gen. (6:7, fulfilled). Next, 6:13. The 1st prophecy of the flood x The divine purpose stated. God had created; now decided to destroy (Rom. 9:11–39)

y Heb. chen, favor, grace. Used 38 times in the O.T., proving grace is not only a N.T. doctrine. Only the fulness of grace came by Christ (Jn. 1:17; 1 Pet. 1:10–12). See 19:19; Ex. 22:27; 33:19;

CHAPTER 6 6

16 Sin of angels: fornication to do away with pure Adamite stock (v 4; 1 Pet. 3:19; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6–7)

AND it came to pass, [a]when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and [b]daughters were born unto them,

2 That the [c]sons of God saw the [d]daughters of men that they were [e]fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose.

17 Final failure of Adam

[f]3 And the LORD [f]said, [g]My spirit shall not always [h]strive with [i]man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years.

18 Sin of angels: giants before and after the flood (2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6–7)

4 There were [j]giants in the earth in [k]those days; and [l]also after that, [m]when the sons of God came in unto the [n]daughters of men, [o]and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men [p]of renown.

19 Complete failure of man (Gen. 6:5–8:14). (1) The cause

5 ¶ And [q]GOD saw that [r]the wickedness of man was [s]great in the earth and that every [t]imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

20 Judgment ending the second dispensation - Conscience. (1) Judgment purposed

6 And it [u]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [v]grieved him at his heart.

[w]7 And the LORD [w]said, [x]I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

(2) Grace purposed

8 But Nō'ah found [y]grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a [z]just man and [a]perfect in his [b]generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, [c]Shēm, Hām, and Jā'pheth.

(3) Judgment announced

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with [d]violence.

12 And [e]God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

[f]13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.

(4) The ark of grace 625x104x62 1/2 ft.

●14 ¶ Make thee an [a]ark of [b]gopher wood; [c]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and [d]shalt pitch it within and without [e]with pitch.

●15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The [f]length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

●16 A [g]window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a [h]cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

(5) Judgment revealed

*17 [i]And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, [j]to destroy [k]all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.

●18 [l]But with thee will I establish my covenant; and [m]thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.◂

●19 And of every living thing of all flesh, [n]two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

●20 Of fowls [o]after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two [p]of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

●21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 [q]Thus did Nō'ah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

CHAPTER 7 7

(6) Preparation for judgment

[r]AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I [s]seen [s]righteous before me in this generation.

●2 Of every [t]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

●3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

*4 [u]For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth [v]forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the [w]flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 ¶ And Nō'ah [x]went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of a Heb. tebah, vessel. Used only of this boat (6:14–9:18) and of Moses' ark (Ex. 2:3–5)

b An unknown wood, unless it was the cypress of Assyria which was used in ship-building because it was not likely to rot or be eaten by worms

c Heb. qen, nest, as translated elsewhere (Num. 24:21; Dt. 22:6; 32:11; Job 29:18; 39:27; Ps. 84:3; Pr. 27:8; Isa. 10:14; 16:2; Jer. 48:16)

d Heb. kaphar, to cover. The only word for atonement in the O.T. Used 69 times (Ex. 29:33–37; 30:10–16; Lev. 16:6–34; 17:11)

e Heb. kopher, resin, not the pitch or bitumen of Ex. 2:3; Isa. 34:9; which is zepheth

g See "Window" of the ark, p. 41

h The theory of only one small cubit-size window to the ark, and in the roof for the sole purpose of allowing men to look upward to God is unbelievable in view of facts

m This is proof that Noah's sons were grown and married when God told him to make the ark. Shem was only 100 years old 2 years after the flood; so, Noah could not have been 120 years building the ark (note c, 8:18)

Let it be remembered that the first and chief fundamental principle of interpretation is to take everything as literal unless there is plain evidence that the language is figurative. 2fold sin of Adam (3:17):

1 Hearing the pleadings of his wife to eat the forbidden fruit. What form her arguments took, how Adam met them, or to what extent he resisted before he yielded is not known. The theory that he would have been required to live separated from her and not have children by her is not biblical. If he had lived true to God he could have had children and they would have been accounted sinless, for it was reckoned that sin passed to others by the father, not the mother (Ex. 20:5; Ezek. 18:2-4; Rom. 5:12-21). The mother would have merely been the means of bringing sinless children into the world in the same sense that Christ was born sinless by a sinful mother and a sinless Father (Rom. 8:3)

(7) Judgment executed

10 And it came to pass after [b]seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the [c]great deep broken up, and the [d]windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the [e]rain was upon the earth [f]forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Nō'ah, and Shēm, and Hăm, and Jă'pheth, the sons of Nō'ah, and Nō'ah's wife, and the three wives of his sons [g]with them, into the ark;

14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth [h]after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.

15 And they went in unto Nō'ah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in [i]male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the LORD [j]shut him in.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the [k]face of the waters.

19 And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.

20 [l]Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail; and the mountains were covered.

21 And [m]all flesh died that moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of beast, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man:

22 All in whose nostrils was the [n]breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, died.

23 And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth: and Nō'ah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.

24 And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

8 CHAPTER 8

(8) Judgment finished: end of dispensation of Conscience

AND God remembered Nō'ah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that was with him in the ark; and [a]God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged;

2 The fountains also of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained;

3 And the waters returned from off the earth continually: and after the end of the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.

4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of [b]Ar'a-rât.

5 And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains [c]seen.

6 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Nō'ah opened the [d]window of the ark which he had made:

7 And he sent forth a [e]raven, which went forth [f]to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth.

8 Also he sent forth a [g]dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground;

9 But the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him into the ark, for the waters were on the face of the whole earth: then he put forth his hand, and took her, and pulled her in unto him into the ark.

10 And he stayed yet other seven days; and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark;

11 And the dove came in to him in the evening; and, lo, in her mouth was an [h]olive leaf pluckt off: so Nō'ah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

12 And he stayed yet other seven days; and sent forth the dove; which returned not again unto him any more.

13 ¶ And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, [i]the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Nō'ah removed the [j]covering of the ark, and looked, and, behold, the face of the ground was dry.

■14 [k]And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dried.

3 Fifteenfold test and purpose of Human Government

[a]AND [m]God blessed Nō'ah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and [n]replenish the earth.

●2 [o]And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered.

●3 [p]Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things.

●4 But flesh with the life thereof, which is the [q]blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast will I require it, and at the hand of man; at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man.

●6 Whoso sheddeth man's blood, [r]by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man.

●7 And you, be ye [s]fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein.

4 Fifth or Noahic Covenant made (Gen. 9:8-17; 8:21-22). (1) Parties of the covenant

■8 ¶ And God spake unto Nō'ah, and to his sons with him, saying,

*9 [t]And I, behold, I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you;

10 And [a]with every living creature that is with you, of the fowl, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.

(2) Terms of the covenant

►11 And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any [b]more [b]by the waters of a flood; neither shall there [c]any more be a flood to destroy the earth.

(3) Length of the covenant

■12 And God said, This is [d]the token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, [e]for perpetual generations:

(4) Sign of the covenant

13 I do [f]set my [g]bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.

►14 And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth, that the bow shall be seen in the cloud:

►15 And I will [k]remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

►16 And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the [i]everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.

■17 And God said unto Nō'ah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

5 New rulers of creation

18 ¶ And the sons of Nō'ah, that went forth of the ark, were Shēm, and Hām, and Jā'pheth: and [j]Hām is the father of Cā'nāan.

19 These are the three sons of Nō'ah: and [k]of them was the whole earth overspread.

6 Failure of man in Human Government (Gen. 9:18-11:4). (1) Failure of Noah

20 And Nō'ah began to be [a]an husbandman, and he planted [m]a vineyard:

21 And he drank of the wine, and was [n]drunken; and he was uncovered within his [o]tent.

(2) Failure of Ham

22 And Hām, the father of Cā'nāan, saw the nakedness of his father, and [p]told his two brethren without.

23 And Shēm and Jā'pheth took a garment, and laid it upon both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their faces were backward, and they saw not their father's nakedness.

(3) Great racial prophecy

c 2 common errors:
1 That Noah was 120 years building the ark. This could not be so because:
(1) In no place does the Bible mention 120 years in connection with Noah, as is clear from notes f-l, 6:3
(2) It is clear from 6:18 that when God told Noah to build the ark his sons - Shem, Ham, Japheth - were already grown and married (7:7, 12; 8:16, 18)
(3) Shem had a son born when he was 100 years old which was 2 years after the flood (11:10). He was 97 years old when he entered the ark for the flood lasted 1 year and 17 days (note k, 8:14). All this being true, it is plain to see how impossible it would be for Noah to spend 120 years building the ark
2 That it did not rain before the flood. This is disproved by Gen. 2:5-6, notes, as well as the fact that God created clouds to give rain (Job 38:9, 25-28)

q When God gave man a vegetable diet He retained the tree of knowledge to attest His own supreme lordship and to remind Adam of the conditions of his tenure. Now, with animal food permitted, He likewise retained a portion - the blood, to testify that He alone is the giver of all life (Lev. 3:17; 7:26; 17:10-14; 19:26; Dt. 12:16, 23; 1 Sam. 14:34)

a 4 parties to the Noahic covenant:
1 God (v 8-17)
2 Noah (v 8, 11-16)
3 Noah's seed (v 9)
4 All living creatures (v 10, 12-17)
b Two times the earth has been cursed by a universal flood (1:2; 6:8-8:22; 2 Pet. 3:6). Though the earth will some day be renovated by fire, its inhabitants will not be destroyed (2 Pet. 3:10-13) c Further proof that the flood was universal. There have been many local floods in all ages, but never another universal flood since Noah's time, nor will there ever be (8:21-22; 9:11, 15)
d See note k, 4:15
e 2 great truths here:
1 The eternal pledge between the eternal parties of the eternal covenant (v 12-16)
2 Eternal length of the covenant - for perpetual generations, plainly promising eternal generations of natural people. See col. 4, p. 312 of N.T.
f Heb. nathan, grant. Not the first time seen, but the first time assigned as a reminder of the eternal covenant. Cp. Ezek. 1:28; Rev. 4:3; 10:1. The rainbow is a natural effect of a natural cause. It always has been and always will be seen where water falls, showers of rain and sunshine exist. The multi-colored semi-circle caused by rays of the sun on drops of water has no doubt been an enjoyable sight since the original creation of clouds, rain and sun. The true meaning here is: As surely as the eternal rainbow is an effect of sunshine and rain, so surely and eternal this earth and natural life shall be an effect of God's covenant with all living creatures

5 reasons murder a great crime:
1 It is a crime against God who created man in His own image (1:26-28; 9:6)
2 It manifests hatred of God's image
3 A crime against society of which each man is an important part 4 A crime against the family unit
5 It is a crime against the individual whose life is taken away. It cuts him off from his duties to both God and man; and seals his doom regarding eternal life and heaven if he is unconverted. n From Heb. marad, to rebel, or "we will rebel." It points to some violent and open rebellion against God. Nimrod began to be a mighty one in the earth by bold and daring deeds. His rebellion is associated with the beginning of his kingdom and suggests that his hunting and mighty deeds were related primarily to hunting men by tyranny and force. He lorded it over others, hunting and destroying all who opposed him in his despotic rule over men. This is the meaning understood by Josephus and writers of the Targums. Josephus says that Nimrod persuaded men not to ascribe their happiness to God, but to him as the cause of it. He became a great leader; taught men to centralize; and defied God to send another flood. It is said that Nimrod hunted down wild beasts also, which were killing many people, and taught men to build walls around cities for protection against them

The term mighty hunter in Heb. could refer to a hunter of animals or of men to enslave them. Nimrod was a hunter of both men and animals. The Heb. gibbor, trans. mighty here means a powerful warrior, tyrant, champion, giant, or strong one. It is used of giants who were renown for wickedness (6:4), and of other wicked men (Ps. 52:1-3; 120:4; Isa. 5:22; Jer. 9:23), so could logically refer to Nimrod as a tyrant and despot oppressing others in the earth. He established the first kingdom and the first great universal false religion opposing God, since the flood of Noah (see p. 809 of the N. T.). This was done "before the Lord," that is, openly in the presence of God with all defiance. That is why God, when He came down to see Babel, took action to counteract the rebellion of Nimrod (11:1-9)
o Here we have the beginning of empires among men, not necessarily divine institutions guaranteeing law and order among men, as ordained by God to Noah (Gen. 9), but the achievements of lawless tyrants who taught men to revolt against divine laws and duly constituted authority. The story of Gen. 11 concerns happenings before this portion of Gen. 10 where we have 8 great cities constituting the first 2 empires - Babylon and Assyria (v 10-12) tower, for the work was stopped on the city only (v 4, 8). One ancient Babylonian tablet reads, "The building of this illustrious tower offended the gods. In a night they threw down what they had built. They scattered them abroad and made strange their speech. Their progress was impeded. They wept hot tears for Babylon"

The builders were supposed to have been giants who waged war with the gods. Nimrod, himself is called "a mighty one" and the giants in Gen. 6:4 are called "mighty men." These came from the fallen angels and daughters of men after the flood (Gen. 6:4, note)

PARENTHETICAL: generations of the sons of Noah (Gen. 10:1-32; 1 Chr. 1). 1 Sons of Japheth (1 Chr. 1:5)

NOW these are the [i]generations of the sons of No'ah, Shem, Ham, and Ja'pheth: and unto them were sons born [j]after the flood.

2 [k]The sons of Ja'pheth; Go'mer, and Ma'gog, and Ma'da-i, and Ja'van, and Tu'bal, and Me'shech, and Ti'ras.
3 And the sons of Go'mer; Ash'ke-naz, and Ri'phath, and To-gar'mah.
4 And the sons of Ja'van; E-li'shah, and Tar'shish, Kit'tim, and Do'da-nim.
5 By these were the [l]isles of the Gen'tiles divided in their lands; every one after his tongue, after their families, in their nations.

2 Sons of Ham (1 Chr. 1:8; 4:40; Ps. 78:51; 105:23; 106:22)

6 ¶ And the [m]sons of Ham; Cush, and Miz'ra-im, and Phut, and Ca'nan.
7 And the sons of Cush; Se'ba, and Hav'i-lah, and Sab'tah, and Ra'a-mah, and Sab'te-chah: and the sons of Ra'a-mah; She'ba, and De'dan.
8 And Cush begat [n]Nim'rod: he began to be a mighty one in the earth.
9 He was a mighty hunter before the LORD: wherefore it is said, Even as Nim'rod the mighty hunter before the LORD.
10 And the [o]beginning of his kingdom was Ba'bel, and E'rech, and Ac'cad, and Cal'neh, in the land of Shi'nar.
11 Out of that land went forth [p]As'shur, and builded Nin'e-veh, and the city Re-ho'both, and Ca'lah, 12 And Re'sen between Nin'eveh and Ca'lah: the same is a great city.
13 And Miz'ra-im begat Lu'dim, and An'a-mim, and Le'ha-bim, and Nap'tu-him, 14 And Path-ru'sim, and Cas'lu-him, (out of whom came Phi-lis'tim,) and Caph'to-rim.
15 ¶ And Ca'naan begat Si'don his firstborn, and Heth, 16 And the Jeb'u-site, and the Am'or-ite, and the Gir'ga-site, 17 And the Hi'vite, and the Ark'ite, and the Sin'ite,
18 And the Ar'vad-ite, and the Zem'a-rite, and the Ha'math-ite: and afterward were the families of the Ca'naan-ites spread abroad.
19 And the border of the Ca'naan-ites was from Si'don, as thou comest to Ge'rar, unto Ga'za; as thou goest, unto Sod'om, and Go-mor'rah, and Ad'mah, and Ze-bo'im, even unto La'sha.
20 These are the sons of Ham, after their families, after their tongues in their countries, and in their nations.

3 Sons of Shem (Gen. 11:10; 1 Chr. 1:17-28; Lk. 3:23-38)

21 ¶ Unto [q]Shem also, the father of all the children of E'ber, the brother of Ja'pheth the elder, even to him were children born.
22 The [r]children of Shem; E'lam, and As'shur, and Ar-phax'ad, and Lud, and A'ram.
23 And the children of A'ram; Uz, and Hul, and Ge'ther, and Mash.
24 And Ar-phax'ad begat Sa'lah; and Sa'lah begat E'ber.
25 And unto [s]E'ber were born two sons: the name of one was Pe'leg; [t]for in his days was the earth divided; and his brother's name was Jok'tan.
26 And Jok'tan begat Al-mo'dad, and She'leph, and Ha-zar-ma'veth, and Je'rah, 27 And Ha-do'ram, and U'zal, and Dik'lah, 28 And O'bal, and A-bim'a-el, and She'ba, 29 And O'phir, and Hav'i-lah, and Jo'bab: all these were the sons of Jok'tan.
30 And their dwelling was from Me'sha, [u]as thou goest unto Se'phar a mount of the east.
31 These are the sons of Shem, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their nations.
32 These are the families of the [v]sons of No'ah, after their generations, in their nations: and by these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

11 CHAPTER 11

(5) Failure of all men (Gen. 6:1-5)

AND the whole earth was of [w]one language, and of one speech.
2 And it came to pass, as they journeyed [x]from the east, that they found a plain in the [y]land of Shi'nar; and they dwelt there.
3 And they said one to another, Go to, let us make [z]brick, [a]and burn them thoroughly. And they had brick for stone, [a]and slime had they for morter.
4 And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top [b]may reach unto heaven; and [c]let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

a Shem, the 2nd son of Noah, was perhaps mentioned last in the table of nations because his seed was to be the important subject of the remainder of the book of Genesis as well as the remainder of the O. T., as the line through whom the Messiah would come (v 21-32; 9:26; 11:10-32; Lk. 3:23-38; Rom. 9:4-5). The whole of Genesis 10 is parenthetical and an introduction to the story of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and their seed. Chronologically, it should follow Gen. 11:9, but its position here completes the story of Noah's 3 sons of ch. 9 before taking up the story of one and his descendents in the rest of Genesis. Men were not divided as to tongues and nations until after the event of Gen. 11:1-9; hence, Genesis 10 gives the earliest division of men after the confusion of tongues and before the division of the earth into continents and islands which took place in the days of Peleg (10:25)
b See Sons of Shem, p. 40 c Heb. eber, across or the opposite side, referring to the other side of Euphrates. From this the word Hebrews is derived (14:13) d This explains the word Peleg. In his days the earth was divided into continents and islands, after the various nations were scattered abroad on all the one land at the time of the divine judgment of Gen. 11:1-9 e This is supposed by some to refer to the mountains of Media, and by others to mean southern Arabia; but the exact location is not known f In general, we may conclude that Japheth settled in the north, west and east of Europe, and in Asia; that Ham settled in Africa; and that Shem settled in countries surrounding Palestine g There are evidences they say, that the Hebrew was the original language of the whole earth. It is impressive that it was the one God used to give His revelation of the O. T. to man; and the one Christ used when speaking to Paul, although the Apostle knew the Greek well (Acts 21:40; 22:2; 26:14)

k Bricks in Palestine were sun-dried. Here, they burned them to quicken the process. Men are usually in a hurry when in rebellion against God l Slime (bitumen) pits are still found in Babylon. The slime used in those days was so tenacious that it is almost impossible, even today, to detach things which are found cemented with it
m There are no words in the Heb. for may reach, which means there is therefore, nothing in the text to suggest that the height was to be as high as heaven. The meaning is that the top would be dedicated to the heavens, with signs of the Zodiac portrayed on it as visible objects to worship. Up to this time the whole race not only had one language, but the idolatrous worshippers had only one form in religion. When God confounded their language they began to disagree on religion and other matters, branching off into sects and parties

The tower of Babel (11:4)

A Babylonian description of the tower of Babel discovered in 1876 indicates there was a grand court 900 x 1,156 ft. and a smaller one, 450 x 1,056 ft., inside of which was a platform with walls about it having 4 gates on each side. In the center stood the tower with many small shrines at the base dedicated to various gods. The tower itself was 300 ft. high with decreased width in stages from the lowest to the highest point. Each was square. The 1st foundation stage measured 300 ft. square and 110 ft. high; the 2nd measured 260 ft. square and 60 ft. high; the 3rd 200 ft. square and 20 ft. high; the 4th 170 ft. square and 20 ft. high; the 5th 140 ft. square and 20 ft. high; the 6th 110 ft. square and 20 ft. high; and the 7th 80 ft. long, 60 ft. wide, and 50 ft. high. On the top platform measuring 60 x 80 ft. was a sanctuary for the god Bel-Merodach and signs of the Zodiac

f This was done before God split the earth into continents and islands (10:25). The people being scattered "upon the face of all the earth" before it was split explains how the Indians got to the Americas and how various other tribes came to be on certain islands and other remote parts of the earth

i Shem was 97 years old when he entered the ark (v 10; 6:11; 8:13); and was grown and married when God told his father to make an ark (6:9-10, 18). Noah, therefore, was not 120 years building the ark j Shem was the 3rd generation from Adam to Abraham. Methuselah was contemporary with Adam 243 years (5:1-32): Shem was contemporary with Methuselah 97 years (5:32; 11:10-11); and Abraham was contemporary with Shem 75 years (11:10-32). Then, Jacob was contemporary with Abraham 40 years: so it can be seen how information could, by natural means be passed from Adam to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob k Lk.3:36 adds Cainan, but this was probably a gloss from the Septuagint and crept into the text. No second Cainan is found in the Heb. anywhere (Cp. 1 Chr. 1:18)

5 And the LORD[a] came down[b] to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded.
6 And the LORD said, Behold, the people is[c] one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do.
7 Go to, let[d] us go down, and there confound their[e] language, that they may not understand one another's speech.
8 So the LORD[f] scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city.
9 Therefore is the name of it called [g]Bā'bel; because the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the LORD scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.

8 Length of Human Government: 427 years. Generations of Shem (11:10-32; 1 Chr. 1; Lk. 3). (1) Shem: 600 years

10 ¶ These are the generations of [h]Shēm: Shēm was an [i]hundred years old, and begat Ăr-phăx'ad two years after the flood:
11 And [i]Shēm lived after he begat Ăr-phăx'ad five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

(2) Arphaxad: 438 years

12 And Ăr-phăx'ad lived five and thirty years, and begat Să'lah:
13 And Ăr-phăx'ad lived after he begat Să'lah four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

(3) Salah: 433 years
Cp. 1 Chr. 1:17-28

14 And [k]Să'lah lived thirty years, and begat Ĕ'bēr:
15 And Să'lah lived after he begat Ĕ'bēr four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

(4) Eber: 464 years

16 And Ĕ'bēr lived four and thirty years, and begat [l]Pē'lĕg:
17 And Ĕ'bēr lived after he begat Pē'lĕg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.

(5) Peleg: 239 years

18 And Pē'lĕg lived thirty years, and begat Rē'u:
19 And Pē'lĕg lived after he begat Rē'u[m] two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.

(6) Reu: 239 years

20 And [n]Rē'u lived two and thirty years, and begat Sē'rug:
21 And Rē'u lived after he begat Sē'rug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.

(7) Serug: 230 years

22 And [a]Sē'rug lived thirty years, and begat Nā'hôr:
23 And Sē'rug lived after he begat Nā'hôr two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

(8) Nahor: 148 years

24 And Nā'hôr lived nine and twenty years and begat [b]Tĕ'rah:
25 And Nā'hôr lived after he begat Tĕ'rah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.

(9) Terah: 205 years

26 And Tĕ'rah lived seventy years, and begat [c]Ă'brăm, Nā'hôr, and Hā'ran.
27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Tĕ'rah: Tĕ'rah begat Ă'brăm, Nā'hôr, and Hā'ran; and Hā'ran begat Lŏt.
28 And Hā'ran died before his father Tĕ'rah in the land of his nativity, in [d]Ūr of the Chăl'dees.
29 And Ă'brăm and Nā'hôr took them wives: the name of Ă'brăm's wife was [e]Să'rāi; and the name of Nā'hôr's wife, [f]Mil'cah, the daughter of Hā'ran, the father of Mil'cah, and the father of [g]Is'cah.
30 But Să'rāi was barren; she had no child.
31 And Tĕ'rah [h]took Ă'brăm his son, and Lŏt the son of Hā'ran his son's son, and Să'rāi his daughter in law, his son Ă'brăm's wife; and they went forth with them from Ūr of the Chăl'dees, to go into the land of Că'năan; and they came unto [i]Hā'ran, and dwelt there.
32 And the days of Tĕ'rah were two hundred and five years: and Tĕ'rah died in Hā'ran.

12 CHAPTER 12

Fourth dispensation: [j]Promise; 430 years. Abraham to the Exodus of Egypt (Gen. 12:1-Ex. 12:36)

VII History of Abraham (12:1-25:11). 1 The sixth or Abrahamic Covenant (12:1-3, 7; 13:14-18; 15:1-18; 17:4; 22:15; 26:1; 28:3, 10)

NOW the LORD[k] had said unto Ă'brăm, [l]Get thee out of thy country, [m]and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that [n]I will shew thee:●
▶2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great;

a Saruch (Lk. 3:35)
b Thara (Lk. 3:34)
c Here we have the 4th instance of God choosing the younger instead of the elder (note c, 4:25). The reason he is mentioned first here is that his history is the subject of this part of Genesis as the father of the Hebrews. Terah was 130 years old when Abraham was born (11:26-12:5)
d Now Mugheir on the western bank of the river Euphrates e Mentioned 61 times. Her biography is found in Gen. 11:29-31; 12:1-23:19. Elsewhere referred to in Gen. 24:36; 25:10; 49:31; Isa. 51:2; Rom. 4:19; 9:9; Heb. 11:11; 1 Pet. 3:6. One other person so named (Num. 26:46)
f Mentioned 7 times (11:29; 22:2-24:47). One other person so named (Num.26:33) g Josephus identifies Iscah as Sarah, but this cannot be as is clear from Gen. 11:27, 29; 14:12; 20:12. Sarah was Abraham's half-sister, not his niece, as in the case of Iscah h It was Abram that had received the call, not Terah (12:1; Acts 7:2) i Haran was located in northeast Mesopotamia on the river Bellas about 60 miles above its confluence with the river Euphrates. It was a trade center on the route from Nineveh to Carchemish (Ezek.27:23); and the chief seat of worship of the moon-god Sin. Here is where Isaac and Jacob got their wives and where the latter brought up most of his family (24:1-35:29). See 2 Ki. 19:12; Isa. 37:12; Acts 7:2, 4
j See 7 dispensations, p. 59
k From Acts 7:2 we learn that God first called Abram before he went to Haran. From Josh. 24:2 we learn that Terah and his family were idolaters previous to this call. It was Terah that took Abram and others to go into Canaan. Terah seems to have become converted to Abram's God and desired to flee idolatry and persecution from his neighbors. In this case Abram was not as disobedient as he is generally pictured. Cp. 12:4; 13:14; 31:53. In 12:1-3 God repeats His call to Abram which was first given in Ur of the Chaldees (Acts 7:14) l 13th prophecy in Gen. (12:1-3, fulfilled and being fulfilled). Next, 12:7. It predicted that Abraham and his seed would be many and be blessed forever, and that all nations would be blessed through Christ, the promised seed. This is the 3rd prophecy of Christ (3:6-8, 16)
m 14 commands to Abraham:
1 Get out of your country (12:1; Acts 7:2
2 Leave your kindred (12:1) 7:2)
3 Leave your father's house (12:1)
4 Go to a land I will show you (12:1)
5 Arise, walk through the land (13:17)
6 Make a sacrifice to Me (15:9-12)
7 Walk before Me and be perfect (17:1
8 Keep My covenant (17:9-14) 1)
9 Circumcise all your males (17:10-14)
10 Circumcise on the 8th day (17:12)
11 Call your son's name Isaac (17:19)
12 Obey your wife in this matter (21:12 13 Offer Isaac as a sacrifice (22:2) 12) 14 Lay not your hand upon Isaac (22:12)
n 48 promises to Abraham:
1 I will show you the land (12:1)
2 Make of you a great nation (12:2)
3 Bless you (12:2; 22:17)
4 Make your name great (12:2)
5 You will be a blessing (12:2) 3)
6 I will bless them that bless you (12:3
7 Curse them that curse you (12:3)
8 In you all nations will be blessed (12:3; 22:18)
9 I will give this land to your seed forever (12:7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:8)
10 I will make your seed as the dust in number (13:16)
11 I am your shield (15:1)
12 I am your great reward (15:1)
13 Your own son shall be your heir (15:2-4)
14 Your seed shall be as the stars in number (15:5; 22:17. See p.)
15 Your seed shall be strangers and oppressed 400 years (15:13) 14) 16 I will punish their oppressors (15:
17 I will bring your seed out of bondage (15:14-16. Fulfilled, Ex. 12)
18 I will bless your seed with great material substance (15:14)
19 You will die in peace (15:15)
20 You will be buried in a good old age (15:15)
21 I will make an eternal covenant and [a]thou shalt be a blessing:

▶3 And [b]I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: [c]and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

2 First sojourn in Canaan (13:1)

4 So A'brăm departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lŏt went with him: and A'brăm was [d]seventy and five years old when he departed out of Hā'ran.
5 And A'brăm took Sā'răi his wife, and Lŏt his brother's son, and [e]all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had [f]gotten in Hā'ran; and they went forth [g]to go into [h]the land of Că'năan; and into the land of Că'năan they came.
6 ¶ And A'brăm passed through the land unto the place of [i]Sī'chem, unto the plain of Mŏ'reh. And the [j]Că'năan-ite was then in the land.
7 And the LORD [k]appeared unto A'brăm, and said, [l]Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded [m]he an altar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him.
8 And he removed from thence unto a [n]mountain on the east of Bĕth'-el, and pitched his tent, having [o]Bĕth'-el on the east: and Hā'ī on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and [p]called upon the name of the LORD.
9 And A'brăm journeyed, going on still toward the [q]south.

3 Sojourn in Egypt. (1) A coward and deceiver

10 ¶ And there was a [r]famine in the land: and A'brăm [s]went down into E'gўpt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.
11 And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into E'gўpt, that he said unto Sā'răi his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a [t]fair woman to look upon:
12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the E-gўp'tians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive.
13 [u]Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

(2) God's intervention (Cp. Gen. 20)

14 ¶ And it came to pass, that, when A'brăm was come into E'gўpt, the E-gўp'tians beheld the woman that she was very fair.
15 The princes also of Phă'raŏh saw her, and commended her before Phă'raŏh: and [v]the woman was taken into Phă'raŏh's house.
16 And [w]he entreated A'brăm well for her sake: and he had sheep, and oxen, and he asses, and menservants, and maidservants, and she asses, and camels.
17 And the LORD [x]plagued Phă'raŏh and his house with great plagues because of Sā'răi A'brăm's wife.

(3) Abraham's trial: expelled from Egypt

18 And Phă'raŏh called A'brăm, and said, [a]What is this that thou hast done unto me? why didst thou not tell me that she was thy wife?
19 Why saidst thou, [b]She is my sister? so I might have taken her to me to wife: now therefore behold thy wife, take her, and go thy way.
20 And [c]Phă'raŏh commanded his men concerning him: and they [d]sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

13 CHAPTER 13

4 Second sojourn in Canaan (12:4)

AND A'brăm [e]went up out of E'gўpt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, and Lŏt with him, into the [f]south.
2 And A'brăm was very [g]rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold.
3 And he went on his journeys from the south even to Bĕth'-el, unto the [h]place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bĕth'-el and Hā'ī;
4 Unto the place of [i]the altar, which he had made there at the first: and there A'brăm [j]called on the name of the LORD.

5 Abram separates from Lot

5 ¶ And Lŏt also, which went with A'brăm, had flocks, and herds, and tents.
6 And the land was not able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.
7 And there was a [k]strife between the herdmen of A'brăm's cattle and the herdmen of Lŏt's cattle: and the Că'năan-ite and the Pĕr'ĭz-zite dwelled [l]then in the land.
8 And A'brăm said unto [m]Lŏt, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be brethren.
9 [n]Is not the whole land before thee? separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left.
10 And Lŏt lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jôr'dan, that it was well watered every where, [o]before the LORD destroyed Sŏd'om and Gō-mŏr'rah, even as the garden of the LORD, like the land of E'gўpt, as thou comest unto Zō'ar.
11 Then Lŏt chose him all the plain of Jôr'dan; and Lŏt journeyed east: and they separated themselves the one from the other.
12 A'brăm dwelled in the land of Că'năan, and Lŏt dwelled in the cities of the plain, and pitched his tent toward Sŏd'om.
13 But [p]the men of Sŏd'om were [q]wicked and sinners before the LORD exceedingly.

a This has been fulfilled many times and will be eternally fulfilled in the Millennium and New Earth b The only place in Scripture where this statement is found c In the Messiah of Abraham's seed all nations will be blessed eternally (Ps. 72:17; Isa. 2:6-7; 35:1-8; Dan. 7:13-27; Mic. 4; Rev. 11:15; 21:1-22:5) d Beginning of the 427 years of the dispensation of Promise. See 7 dispensations, p. 59
e This was so great that it caused the separation of Lot and Abraham (13:7) f This refers to the share of Abraham's inheritance at the death of Terah as well as to the converts he made at Haran who wanted to go along with him to share God's blessings that were promised. There were many slaves, among them at least 318 trained soldiers and their wives and families, besides the many who belonged to Lot (14:14). The 318 were born in Abraham's house of 636 fathers and mothers who no doubt also had other children. All these families together made a great throng, perhaps several thousand g At this time Abraham may have known the land to which he was going, but at the original call in Ur he did not know (Acts 7:3; Heb. 11:8) h This land was named after Canaan, the son of Ham, whose descendents settled in this place (15:18-21; Josh. 12). The land of Canaan is found 66 times in Scripture, 35 times in Genesis alone. The term is found only 5 times outside of the Pentateuch and Joshua, in the O.T., and not once in the N.T.

l 14th prophecy in Gen. (12:7). Next, 13:14. Here we have the first promise that Abraham's seed would be given Canaan. It has been partially fulfilled but will be completely and eternally fulfilled in the Millennium and the New Earth (v 7; 17:8; 26:3-7; Ezek. 37:1-28; 47:13-23; 48:1-35; Dan. 7:13-18; Zech. 14; Hos. 3:4-5; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18)

o Heb. means house of God. About 20 mi. south of Sichem, and 10 mi. north of Jerusalem. Called Luz (28:17-19; 35:6; 48:3; Josh. 16:2; 18:13; Judg. 1:23) p Abraham is the first man named in Scripture of whom it is recorded that he called upon the name of, or prayed to God (v 8). Abel, Enoch and others prayed, we are sure, but no record of it was made. The men of Gen. 4:26 were idolaters, not men who prayed to God. Cp. 13:4; 26:25; 1 Chr. 4:10; Ps. 99:6; 116:4; Joel 2:32; Acts 2:21
q Heb., the Negeb or hill country south of Judah. Cp. 13:1; 20:1; 24:62; Josh. 11:16; 15:19; Lk. 1:39. Many Bible events took place here

q This verse shows the nature of Lot's choice. Cp. 19:1-38

o The first use of the word and proves that God has had representatives in all ages. Melchizedek was a Gentile whose priesthood is eternal in Christ (Ps. 110; Heb. 5:10; 6:20; 7:1-28). The Aaronic priesthood was temporary (Heb. 7:11-12) p Heb. El-Elyon, Most High God. First occurrence (v 18-22). El signifies Strong, First. It is the title that shows God to be the Mighty One, the First Cause of everything, the possessor of the heavens and earth. It is used 250 times and is connected with some of the attributes of God as: Almighty-God (17:1); Everlasting-God (21:33); Jealous-God (Ex. 20:5); Great-God (Dt. 10:17); Living-God (Josh. 3:10); Merciful-God (Dt. 4:31); Faithful-God (Dt. 7:9); Mighty-God (Dt. 7:21). In Dt. 32:4 it is connected with truth, justice, righteousness, perfection. El-Elyon is always used to refer to the highest Sovereign of the heavens and earth. Cp. Lk. 1:76; Acts 17:26

6 Abrahamic Covenant confirmed

14 ¶ And the LORD said unto A'brăm,[a] after that Lŏt was separated from him, [b]Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward:●

15 For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed[c] for ever.

16 And I will make thy seed as the[d] dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered.

●17 Arise, walk through the land in the length of it and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee.◂

18 Then A'brăm removed his tent, and came and dwelt in the plain of Măm're, which is in He'bron, and built there an altar unto the LORD.

14 CHAPTER 14

7 Abram delivers Lot (Cp. 19:27). (1) First battle of the vale of Siddim: 12 years of servitude

AND it came to pass in the days of [e]Am'ra-phĕl king of Shi'năr, A'rī-ŏch king of [f]El'la-sär, [g]Chĕd-or-la'o-mēr king of E'lăm, and Ti'dal king of nations;

2 That these made [h]war with Bĕ'rā king of Sŏd'om, and with Bir'shā king of Gō-mōr'rah, Shi'năb king of Ad'mah, and Shĕm-e'ber king of Ze-bō'im, and the king of Bĕ'lā, which is Zō'ar.

3 All these were joined together in the vale of Sid'dim, which is the [k]salt sea.

4 Twelve years they served Chĕd-or-la'o-mēr, and in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

(2) Rebellion: conquest of the giants

5 And in the fourteenth year came Chĕd-or-la'o-mēr, and the kings that were with him, and smote the [i]Rĕph'a-ĭms in Ash'tĕ-rŏth Kär-nā'im, and the Zū'zims in Hăm, and the E'mims in Shā'veh Kir-i-a-thā'im,

6 And the Hō'rītes in their mount Sē'ir, unto El-pā'ran, which is by the wilderness.

7 And they returned, and came to Ĕn-mish'pat, which is Kā'-desh, and smote all the country of the Am'a-lĕk-ites, and also the Am'ŏr-ites, that dwelt [j]in Hăz'e-zon-tā'mar.

(3) Second battle of the vale of Siddim

8 And there went out the king of Sŏd'om, and the king of Gō-mōr'rah, and the king of Ad'mah, and the king of Ze-bō'im, and the king of Bĕ'lā (the same is Zō'ar;) and they joined battle with them in [k]the vale of Sid'dim;

9 With Chĕd-or-la'o-mēr the king of E'lăm, and with Ti'dal king of nations, and Am'ra-phĕl king of Shi'năr, and A'rī-ŏch king of El'la-sär; four kings with five.

10 And the vale of Sid'dim was full of slimepits; and the kings of Sŏd'om and Gō-mōr'rah fled, and fell there; and they that remained fled to the mountain.

11 And they took all the goods of Sŏd'om and Gō-mōr'rah, and all their victuals, and went their way.

(4) Captivity of Lot

12 And they took Lŏt, A'brăm's brother's [l]son, who dwelt in Sŏd'om, and [m]his goods, and departed.

(5) Abram's only war: Battle of Dan

13 ¶ And there came one that had escaped, and told [n]A'brăm the [o]Hē'brew; for he dwelt in the plain of Măm're the [p]Am'-ŏr-ite, brother of Esh'cŏl, and brother of A'nēr: and these were confederate with A'brăm.

14 And when A'brăm heard that his brother was taken captive, he armed his [q]trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto [r]Dăn.

15 And he divided himself against them, he and his servants, by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto [s]Hō'bah, which is on the left hand [t]of Dā-măs'cus.

(6) Abram's victory

16 [u]And he brought back all the goods, and also brought again his brother Lŏt, and his goods, and [k]the women also, and the people.

(7) Abram's triumphant return

17 ¶ And the king of Sŏd'om went out to meet him after his return from the slaughter of Chĕd-or-la'o-mēr, and of the kings that were with him, at the valley of Shā'veh, which is the king's dale.

8 Abram's blessing by Melchizedek: a new revelation

18 And [v]Mĕl-chiz'e-dĕk king of [w]Sā'lem brought forth [x]bread and wine: and he was the [y]priest of the [z]most high God.

19 And he blessed him, and said, Blessed be A'brăm of the most high God, possessor of heaven and earth:

20 And [a]blessed be the most high God, which hath delivered thine enemies into thy hand. And [b]he gave him tithes of all.

9 Abram's unselfishness

21 And the king of Sŏd'om said unto A'brăm, Give me the persons, and take the goods to thyself.

22 And A'brăm said to the king of Sŏd'om, [c]I have lift up mine hand unto the LORD, the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth,

c Changed to Abraham in 17:5

d First use of the word Hebrew, from eber, meaning across, or the opposite side. It refers to the other side of the Euphrates in this case. The word is used of Abraham's descendents (v 13; 39:14, 17; 41:12; Ex. 1:15-19; 2:7-11; 21:2; Dt. 15:12; Jer. 34:9-14; Jonah 1:9; Acts 6:1; 2 Cor. 11:22; Phil. 3:5)

e Descendents of one of the sons of Canaan (10:16). Most powerful of the Canaanite nations. They were to be dispossessed by Abraham's descendents (15:16-21). Here they were confederate with him (v 13). They were the first people to be dispossessed by Israel when coming out of Egypt (Num. 21:21-35; Dt. 3:1-17. Cp. Josh. 11)

f Trained for war because of danger from unfriendly wandering tribes and other enemies. See note f, 12:5

g A city marking the northern limit of Israel (Judg. 20:1; 1 Sam. 3:20; 17:11; 24:2, 15; 2 Chr. 30:5). It was originally called Laish (Judg. 18:7, 29). Here Jeroboam set up an idol (1 Kl. 12:28-29)

h A place 60 miles northwest of Damascus

i Capital of Syria (2 Sam. 8:5; 1 Ki. 11:24; 15:18-20; 20:1; 2 Ki. 8:28; 10:33; 12:17; 13:3, 24; 14:28; 16:5-9). One of the oldest cities in the world. Tradition says it was built by Abraham or his steward (15:2)

j Abraham was no warrior by nature, yet through God's help he became a successful conqueror and accomplished a feat equal to Gideon's (Judg. 7). This was one of the exploits of faith (Heb. 11:33-39)

k This is of special interest as it shows Abraham carried out his attack so quickly that all the wives and daughters were rescued from the licentiousness of the victorious soldiers. Note that besides Lot, these were rescued: all females, all captives, the material goods

l Many idle stories and unscriptural interpretations have been given about Melchizedek; but the Bible states very simple facts about him which will give us a clear understanding of the subject, if we will limit ourselves to what is written

Melchizedek - 7fold type of Christ in 1 Genealogy (Heb. 7:3, 6 with Mic. 5:2)
2 Sacrifice (14:18 with Lk. 22:14-30)
3 Endless priesthood (Ps. 110 with Heb. 5:10; 6:20; 7:3, 17, 21, 23-28) 12-13)
4 King-priest (Heb. 7:1 with Zech. 6:13)
5 Greater than Abraham (Heb. 7:4-8 with Jn. 8:55-59)
6 King of righteousness (Heb. 7:2 with 1 Cor. 1:30; Heb. 1:8)
7 King of peace (Heb. 7:2 with Isa. 9:6)
The contrast between the Melchizedek and Aaronic priesthoods is in person, order and duration. In His sacrificial work Christ followed the Aaronic which was merely the shadow of His sacrifice (Heb. 8:1-10:19). See Melchizedek (Melchisedec) in the Index

m The name of ancient Jerusalem (v 18; Ps. 76:2; 122:3; Heb. 7:1-2). It is said that 700 years before Rome was founded, the Jebusites conquered Salem and called it Jebus. Later the two names were united into one - Jerusalem, meaning habitation of peace. The city is mentioned 807 times in Scripture by this name, beginning with Josh. 10:1 and ending with Gal. 4:25. The only other places the name is used in Scripture it refers to the New and Heavenly Jerusalem (Gal. 4:26; Heb. 12:22; Rev. 3:12; 21:2, 10). Earthly Jerusalem has undergone 30 sieges, of which 12 are recorded in Scripture. It was the capital of Israel from David's time until Nebuchadnezzar (2 Sam. 5-2 Chr. 36); and became the capital of restored Israel in the day of Ezra and Nehemiah (Ezra 1:2-Neh. 13:20). It was totally destroyed in 70 A. D. when Israel was scattered among the nations the 2nd time (Lk. 21:20-24). It will become the capital of the new modern Israel before the days of Antichrist when he will conquer Israel and make Jerusalem his capital for the last 3 1/2 years of this age (Rev. 11:1-2). It is God's chosen place for the capital of His eternal earthly kingdom under the Messiah (2 Chr. 6:6; 33:4; Isa. 2:1-4; 9:6-7; 44:26; 62:7; Jer. 17:25; 43:7; 48:35; Joel 3:20; Zech. 14:1-21). God alone was seen and heard; and Abraham's thoughts were filled with the subject to the exclusion of all else. Thus, the Abrahamic covenant had a vividness and reality which made it indelibly impressive

o 17th prophecy in Gen. (15:13-16). Next, v 18. This predicts that Abraham's seed would be sojourners for 400 years more; that Egypt would be punished for enslaving Israel; that Israel would become rich; that Abraham would live long; and that his seed would come out of Egypt in the 4th generation to defeat the Amorites. All of the prophecy was fulfilled in the exodus and settlement of Canaan under Moses and Joshua (Ex. 7:1-14:28; Num. 21:21-25; Josh. 12)

The actual sojourn of Abraham's seed in Egypt was only 215 years. There were other countries which made up the land of sojourn (12:1-20; 13:1-18; 15:13-14; 20:1-18; 21:22-34; 23:4; 26:3-35; 28:10; 29:1; 31:13-55; 35:6; 37:1; 46:1-7; 47:27; 50:22-26; Ex. 1-12; Heb. 11:8-10). The 400 years of Gen. 15:13 and Acts 7:6 date back to the time when Isaac was weaned and confirmed as the seed, and Ishmael was cast out (21:12; Gal. 4:30). At that time Isaac was 5 years old

Other scriptures speak of the period as 430 years (Ex. 12:40; Gal. 3:14-17), and that reckoning dates back farther, to take in these 5 years of Isaac's life and 25 years previous to his birth - when Abraham went into Canaan to sojourn. The following outline shows how the 430 years are accounted for. Subtracting the 30 years (25 for Abraham's sojourn before Isaac and 5 for Isaac's years before he was confirmed as the seed) explains the 400 years

10 Abrahamic Covenant enlarged. (1) Concerning the seed

AFTER these things b the word of the LORD came unto Ăʹbrăm in a vision, saying, Fear not, Ăʹbrăm: I am thy c shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

2 And Ăʹbrăm said, Lord GOD, d what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Ēʹli-ēʹzĕr of Dămʹăsʹcus?

3 And Ăʹbrăm said, Behold, to me thou hast given e no seed: and, lo, f one born in my house is mine heir.

4 And, behold, the word of the LORD came unto him, g saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.

5 And he brought him forth abroad, and said, h Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be.

6 i And he believed in the LORD; and he counted it to him for righteousness.

(2) Concerning the land

7 And he said unto him, I am the LORD that brought thee out of Ûr of the Chăl'deeș, to give thee this land to inherit it.

8 And he said, j Lord GOD, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

(3) Concerning the seed

9 And he said unto him, k Take me an heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon.

10 And he took unto him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but the birds divided he not.

11 And when the fowls came down upon the carcases, Ăʹbrăm drove them away.

12 And when the sun was going down, a l deep sleep fell upon Ăʹbram; and, lo, an horror of great darkness fell upon him.

13 m And he said unto Ăʹbrăm, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger n in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them o four hundred years;

14 And also that nation, whom they shall serve, p will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with q great substance.

15 And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good r old age.

16 But in the s fourth generation they shall come hither again: for t the iniquity of the Ămʹôr-ītes is not yet full.

(4) The torch of worship

17 And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a u burning lamp that passed between those pieces.

(5) Concerning the land

18 In the same day the LORD made a covenant with Ăʹbrăm, saying, v Unto thy seed have I given f this land, from the river of Ēʹgўpt unto the great river, the river Ū-phrāʹtēs:

19 The Kĕnʹītes, and the Kĕnʹīz-zītes, and the Kădʹmon-ītes,

20 And the Hĭtʹtītes, and the Pĕrʹīz-zītes, and the Rĕphʹa-ĭms,

NOW Sāʹrāi Ăʹbrăm's wife w bare him no children: and she had an h handmaid, an Ē-gўpʹtian, whose name was Hāʹgar.

3 And Sāʹrāi Ăʹbrăm's wife took Hāʹgar her maid the Ē-gўpʹtian, after Ăʹbrăm had dwelt j ten years in the land of Cāʹnăan, and gave her to her husband Ăʹbrăm to be his wife.

o Questions 18-19, Next, v 13

p God not only raises questions, but offers a solution for them. He always asks men to do the best thing, though it may be the hardest to do. Hagar did submit, but was cast out of Abraham's home when Ishmael was about 19 years old (17:24-25). This is the event referred to in the allegory of Gal. 4:21-31 which proves that the law of Moses has been abolished, that the old covenant has been cast out, and that the new covenant has now taken the place of the old. See 85 old and new covenant contrasts, p. 201 of N. T.

d Heb. pereh, running wild. Here it refers to man. Used 10 times of wild asses (Job 6:5; 11:12; 24:5; 39:5; Ps. 104:11; Isa. 32:14; Jer. 2:24; 14:6; Hos. 8:9)

h Meaning, Do I live after seeing God? or "the well of living after seeing." Cp. 32:20. It was a custom among Egyptians to give names to each of the gods, indicating their offices and attributes. It was natural for Hagar to give this title of honor to the One who appeared to her in her distress

i Abraham got this name from Hagar who got it from God (v 10-12)

k The 24th year in Canaan (12:4) 7)

l 5th appearance to Abraham (note k, 12:

m Heb. El Shaddai, Almighty God. It is found 218 times. El signifies Strong One and Shaddai, the Breasted One. This pictures God as the Strong-Nourisher, Strength-Giver, Satisfier, and All-Bountiful, the Supplier of the needs of His people. Its first occurrence here reveals God as the Fruitful-One who was to multiply Abraham abundantly; the Life-Giver who was to restore life to Abraham and Sarah who were as good as dead, as far as off-spring was concerned. Through Him, they were to have future off-spring as the dust (13:16), as the stars (15:5), and as the sand in number (22:17)

n The standard of holiness and perfection was no higher under the Abrahamic covenant than it is under the new covenant. If God could help Abraham to be perfect, could He not also help believers in Christ today to be the same? According to Scripture, the state of perfection and holiness required by God is not explained by the theory that all saved men are sinners and sin every day. See Lk. 1:74-75; Rom. 6:1-23; 8:1-13; 12:1-2; 1 Cor. 1:18-30; 3:16-17; 6:9-20; 9:27; 2 Cor. 5:17-21; 6:14-18; 7:1; Gal. 5:16-26; Eph. 4:22-24; Col. 3:5-10; 2 Tim. 2; Tit. 2:11-14; Heb. 12:14; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:5-10; 5:1-4, 18. 12 Abram's new revelation (Cp. 14:18)

[m]AND when Ă'brăm was ninety years [n]old and nine, the LORD [o]appeared to Ă'brăm, and said unto him, I am the [p]Almighty God; [q]walk before me, and be thou perfect.

2 ★And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly.◂

3 And Ă'brăm [r]fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying,

13 Abram's name changed

4 ★As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.◂

5 Neither shall thy name any more be called Ă'brăm, but thy name shall be [s]Ă'brā-hăm; for a father of many nations have I made thee.

14 Abrahamic Covenant enlarged

6 ▸And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will [t]make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.

7 ▸And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an [u]everlasting covenant, [v]to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

8 ▸And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Că'năan, for [v]an everlasting possession; and I will be their God.

15 Sign of the covenant

9 ¶ And God said unto Ă'brăhăm, ●Thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations.

10 ●This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised.

11 ●And ye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a [a]token of the covenant betwixt me and you.

12 ●And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, ●every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed.

13 ●He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised: and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an [d]everlasting covenant.

14 ●And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be [e]cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant.

16 Eighth or [f]Sarahic Covenant (17:15-19; 18:9-15)

15 ¶ [g]And God said unto Ă'brăhăm, As for Să'rāi thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Să'rāi, but [h]Să'rah shall her name be.●

16 ▸And I will bless her, and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; kings of people shall be of her.

17 Then Ă'brā-hăm fell upon his face, and laughed, and said in his heart, ●Shall a child be born unto him that is an hundred years old? and shall Să'rah, that is ninety years old, bear?

18 And Ă'brā-hăm said unto God, ●O that Ish'ma-el might live before thee!

19 And God said, [h]Să'rah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and [i]thou shalt call his name [m]I'saac: [n]and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, [o]and with his seed after him.◂

17 Hagaric Covenant enlarged

20 ▸And as for Ish'ma-el, I have heard thee: Behold, [p]I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly; [q]twelve princes shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation.

21 ▸But [r]my covenant will I establish with I'saac, which Să'rah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the [s]next year.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God [t]went up from Ă'brā-hăm.

18 Abrahamic Covenant sealed

23 ¶ And Ă'brā-hăm took Ish'ma-el his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, a The Abrahamic covenant is generally held to be unconditional, but this is an error. God would not and could not fulfill such wonderful promises with any people while in rebellion (v 9-10). See 210 warnings, p. 284 of N.T.

b See note k, 4:15

c 3 clauses to be circumcised (v 12):
1 All male children of Israelites
2 All male servants and children
3 All males of foreigners in Israel

d The 2nd of 3 times the Abrahamic covenant is declared to be eternal (v 7,13,19)

e Cut off by death. So used 145 times (9:11; Ex. 12:15, 19; 31:14; Lev. 7:20, 21, 25, 27; Ps. 101:5; Isa. 53:8; Dan. 9:26; Zech. 14:4; Mal. 2:12). The manner of death is not stated. One was simply under the sentence of death if he willfully neglected the sign of the covenant. It is evident that the letter of the law was not carried out, for children were not circumcised in the wilderness (Josh. 5:2-10)

l Second of 7 persons named before birth (note i, Mt. 1:21)

n This was fulfilled in Isaac (26:2-4)

o This was fulfilled in Jacob (28:12-15); in David (2 Sam. 7); and in Christ (Isa. 42:6; 49:8; Heb. 8:6)

Sons of God (6:2)

Seth did not have a son until 235 years after creation; and his son did not have a son until 325 years after creation (5:3, 6, 9). Where did these sons come from? They could not have been sons of Seth, for these marriages took place when men began to multiply - in the very beginning of the race before Seth had sons of marriageable age. The term sons of God proves that they were the product of God, not of Seth. They were the fallen angels of 1 Pet. 3:19; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7. See also the Septuagint; Josephus, p. 36; Ante-Nicene Fathers, Vol. VIII, p. 273; and Giants and sons of God, p. 62

Giants after the flood (6:4)

Also after that, after those days before the flood, i.e., after the flood, the sons of God again married the daughters of men and produced a second race of giants in the earth who occupied the land of Canaan in advance of Abraham. The purpose here was the same as before the flood - to corrupt the race and thereby make it impossible for the pure seed of the woman to come as predicted. See Giants and sons of God, p. 62

Marriage of sons of God (6:4)

When the sons of God married the daughters of men, as before the flood, giants were again born to them. This definitely answers the question regarding where the giants before and after the flood came from (6:1-4)

6 outstanding facts in Gen. 6:4:
1 There were two eruptions of angels
2 Two times the fallen angels married earthly women a Circumcision, which was a part of the Abrahamic covenant, was a sign of the promised Redeemer out of the loins of Abraham, and of His works for all who wished to put off the sins of the flesh, and serve God as new creatures. The word circumcision came to be used as synonymous with Jews (Rom. 3:20; 4:9; Gal. 2:9). Since Christ came circumcision avails nothing (Gal. 5:6; Col. 3:11). Christian circumcision is in the heart or spirit and not in the flesh (Rom. 2:28-29; 1 Cor. 7:19; Phil. 3:3; Col. 2:11)

b It is said that Ishmaelites and Arabians still circumcise, in the 13th year

c Abraham had been living here since the time of Gen. 14:18; and continued to live here until he "journeyed from thence" as in 20:1. It was customary to sit under the door-flap for shade and to rest and eat at noon when the sun was the hottest and the heat very oppressive

d God and 2 angels (18:3, 13-14, 17, 20; 19:1, 15), called men in 18:16, 22; 19:5, 10, 12, 16

e A common practice to this day because of sandals being worn (v 4; 43:23; Lk. 7:44). The kind of shoes worn by God and the 2 angels is not stated; but they had feet to wash, the same as men of earth

f God and the angels not only agreed to wait until the dinner was prepared, but they did eat (v 8. Cp. Ex. 24:9-11; Ps. 78:25)

g Heb. seah, about 1 1/2 pecks (1 Sam. 25:18; 1 Ki. 18:32; 2 Ki. 7:1, 16, 18). The 3 measures were about 1 bushel and 1/2 peck; and were perhaps enough for only one meal, for Abraham had many servants in his household. All present actually saw God and the angels, proving further that men have seen God with the natural eyes

h Cakes are mentioned 14 times (Ex. 12:39; Lev. 7:12; 24:5; 1 Ki. 17:12-13; 19:6; Jer. 7:18)

i Such speedy hospitality was common in the East (v 2, 6). It was also a common practice to bow as Abraham did (v 2-3)

j Heb. chemah, curdled milk, cheese, butter (v 8; Dt. 32:14; Pr. 30:33; Isa. 7:15-22)

k It is said that an Arab chief never eats with his guests. He generally stands by while they eat, as if enjoying his own hospitality. This was Abraham's custom as in v 8 l God and angels eat even in heaven, so why not on earth? (Ps. 78:25; Lk. 22:16, 18, 30; 24:30, 43; Acts 10:41; Heb. 13:2; Ex. 24:11). What could this mean other than what it says? One of the great promises of Christ to His disciples, to be fulfilled after their bodies have been resurrected and glorified, pertains to their eating. Lk. 22:30 says: "That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom"

m Question 23, Next, 18:12, Cp. 4:9

n 24th prophecy in Gen. (18:10, fulfilled). Next, v 14. This is the 8th prophecy concerning Abraham's seed. It was fulfilled the following year in the birth of Isaac (21:1-8)

o This proves 2 things 1 That women did not eat with the men guests in that day
2 That when Sarah heard her name mentioned she arose and stood in the doorway of her tent apartment and looked at God and the angels as they were talking to Abraham

p Abraham was 99 years old and Sarah 89, for when Isaac was born the next year Abraham was 100 and Sarah 90 years old (17:17; 21:5)

q Sarah was not only barren (11:30), but had also passed the productive age which was no doubt later in life than the time customary with women of today (Heb. 11:11)

The Seed of the woman (3:15)

The Seed of the woman, not the seed of man. This could only refer to the coming of the Messiah, the Son of God and Mary (3:15; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; 11:1; Mt. 1; Lk. 1:31-35; Jn. 1:14; Rom. 1:1-3; 8:3; Gal. 3:16, 19; 4:4; Phil. 2:5-11; 1 Tim. 3:16; 2 Tim. 2:8; Heb. 1:1-8; 2:9-18; 1 Jn. 4:1-6; Rev. 5:5). The virgin birth is one of the most essential doctrines of the whole plan of God. Without faith in it and in the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ one cannot be saved (1 Cor. 15:1-8; 1 Jn. 4:1-6)

25 And Ish'ma-el his son [b]was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

26 In the selfsame day was Ă'bră-hăm circumcised, and Ish'-ma-el his son.

27 And all the men of his house, born in the house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

CHAPTER 18 18

19 Divine Visitor: (1) Appearance of God to Abraham

AND the LORD appeared unto him in the plains of [c]Măm'-rē: and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day;

2 And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, [d]three men stood by him: and when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground,

(2) The reception

3 And said, My Lord, if now I have found favour in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant:

4 Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and [e]wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree:

■5 And I will fetch a morsel of bread, and comfort ye your hearts; after that ye shall pass on: for therefore are ye come to your servant. And [f]they said, So do, as thou hast said.

(3) The dinner

6 And Ă'bră-hăm hastened into the tent unto Să'rah, and said, Make ready quickly three [g]measures of fine meal, knead it, and make [h]cakes upon the hearth.

7 And Ă'bră-hăm [i]ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man; and he hasted to dress it.

8 And he took [j]butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he [k]stood by them under the tree, and [l]they did eat.

(4) The conversation: Sarahic Covenant confirmed

■9 ¶ And they said unto him, [m]Where is Să'rah thy wife? And he said, Behold, in the tent.

‡10 [n]And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life; and lo, Să'rah thy wife shall have a son. [o]And Să'rah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him.◂

11 Now Ă'bră-hăm and Să'rah were [p]old and well stricken in age; and it [q]ceased to be with Să'rah after the manner of women.

12 Therefore Să'rah laughed within herself, saying, [r]After I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my [s]lord being old also?

■13 And the LORD said unto Ă'bră-hăm, Wherefore did Să'rah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old?

★14 [t]Is any thing too hard for the LORD? [u]At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Să'rah shall have a son ■15 Then Să'rah [v]denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh.

(5) The departure

16 ¶ And the men [w]rose up from thence, [x]and looked toward Sŏd'-om: and Ă'bră-hăm [y]went with them to bring them on the way.

■17 [z]And the LORD said, [aa]Shall I hide from Ă'bră-hăm that thing which I do;

18 Seeing that Ă'bră-hăm shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

19 [ab]For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD, to do justice and judgment; that the LORD may bring upon Ă'brăhăm that which he hath spoken of him.

■20 And the LORD said, [ac]Because the cry of Sŏd'om and Gō-mŏr'-rah is great, and because their sin is very grievous;

21 I will go down now, [ad]and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know.

22 And the men [ae]turned their faces from thence, and went toward Sŏd'om: but Ă'bră-hăm stood yet before the LORD.

(6) Abraham the intercessor

23 ¶ And Ă'bră-hăm [af]drew near, and said, [ag]Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

24 Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein?

25 That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?

■26 And the LORD said, [ah]If I find in Sŏd'om fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes.

27 And Ă'bră-hăm answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the LORD, which am but dust and ashes:

28 Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I a Questions 24-26, Next, v 17

b Heb. adon, ruler, master, possessor, proprietor, or lord. It occurs 30 times of God, the first time in Ex. 23:17. Here it is used of man. Cp. 1 Pet. 3:6

c Num. 11:23; 2 Ki. 4:16; Jer. 32:17

d 25th prophecy in Gen. (18:14, fulfilled). Next, v 17. The 9th prophecy of Abraham having seed of Sarah e Sarah was perhaps afraid that God would change His mind about the son. Instead of rebuking her for the lie, He only corrected her

f This proves again that God and angels have bodies capable of sitting, standing, looking, eating, walking and other bodily action

g The purpose of this earthly visit of God and the 2 angels was to see if Sodom was as wicked as God's scouts had reported to Him (v 20-21). On the way to accomplish this mission they visited their friend, Abraham. Now, arising from eating, they looked toward Sodom

h This further emphasizes the literalness of this story and is more proof that God is a real person with a body that can perform acts stated of Him and the angels in this chapter. Abraham simply walked with his guests toward Sodom, which was a matter of courtesy and not that he needed to show God the way i 26th prophecy of Gen. (18:17-19, V 17-18 fulfilled; v 19 unfulfilled). Next, 21:12. The 10th prophecy of Abraham's seed and the 4th distinct prophecy of all nations being blessed through Christ (3:6-8). The prediction of the seed of Abraham keeping God's laws has never been completely fulfilled, but will be in the Millennium and in the New Earth forever

j Question 27, Next, v 23. God's secrets are revealed to His friends (Ps. 84:11; Jn. 15:15; Jas. 2:23)

k I have foreknown and chosen Abraham that he should be the depository of the truth, and that he should teach his children the way of religion and godliness, so that the promises made to him should be fulfilled

l God judges sin in everybody and metes out the right penalty for sin, even to His own sons whether angels (Mt. 25:41; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7; Rev. 20:10) or men (Gen. 2:17; Ex. 32:32-33; Ezek. 18:20-26; Rom. 6:14-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:6-10)

m Here we have another proof that God receives knowledge of true conditions and becomes acquainted with existing facts

n This plainly teaches that God, as well as men and angels, is limited to one place as far as the body is concerned. The doctrine of omnipresence of God can be proved, but not His omnibody. In His body He goes from place to place like other persons (v 21; 11:5-9; 17:22; 18:33; 35:13; etc.). Abraham stood yet before the bodily presence of God, but not before the bodily presence of the 2 angels because they went to Sodom and were no longer bodily present (v 22; 19:1)

o He came closer to God's body and plead with Him as with any other friend (v 23-33) p Questions 28-31, Next, 19:5. Here we have the first example of intercession in Scripture, but not the first prayer. Notice how he plead with God for mercy on others, giving reasons for his requests

q Here God was giving Abraham a lesson and showing him that He was just and merciful; and that in His moral government of the world the principle of justice was ever paramount. Hence, Sodom must be punished; and that punishment ever afterwards would be a lesson to Abraham and his seed. The place of this lesson was Mamre beside Hebron, which lies in a valley near the southern end of the mountain chain of Judah. From Hebron there is a rapid descent of 4200 ft. to the Dead Sea. Sodom was situated near the Dead Sea about 26 mi. southeast of Mamre, at a place now covered by the sea. Abraham could see the plain and cities from the mountain top. The 2 angels had gone on, while Abraham stood yet before God to intercede. When he was finished God went His way, and Abraham went back to Mamre returning the next day to see the destruction (v 33; 19:27)

a The Lord went His way and Abraham returned to his place (v 33). Two friends had walked and talked together and now they were parting. Cp. Ex. 33:11 where it says "the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend" b Lot is not mentioned by the historian from the time he chose the plain in 13:10-13, until now. Here he is seen in the gate which, in an Eastern town, was a place of public resort. The chiefs usually gave judgment here. Lot, seeing the strangers enter town, felt obligated, in accordance with patriarchal laws of hospitality, to invite them in and care for their needs
c In many warm climates it was the custom of some to abide in the streets, or open air d Second time they did eat (v 3; 18:12) e In Eastern cities there were different quarters where people lived segregated by nation, religion, or occupation (Isa. 47:15; 56:11; Jer. 37:21)
f Question 32. Next, v 12
g Sodomy forbidden (Ex. 22:19; Lev. 18:22; 20:13; Dt. 23:17; 1 Cor. 6:9-10; 1 Tim. 1:10. Cp. Isa. 1:19; 3:9; Judg. 19:22; 20:13; Rom. 1:18-32)
h Oriental hospitality guaranteed protection to guests with the life, if necessary, but such an offer as this was more sinful than violating the rules of hospitality
i They intended to commit sodomy with Lot if they could not have the angels (v 9)

The N. T. teaches the death penalty for certain crimes (Rom. 13:1-7; 1 Tim. 1:8-10; Jas. 2:10-13; 4:11-12; 1 Pet. 2:13-15). Both testaments list many sins that always damn the soul and cause one to incur the eternal death penalty, the lake of fire (Jer. 23; Ezek. 3, 18, 33; Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:5-10; 2 Pet. 2; Jude 3-19). Though the law of Moses has been abolished, the same sins it condemned (except sabbath-breaking) are now condemned in N. T. scriptures

30 And he said unto him, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there.
31 And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake.

33 And the LORD [a]went his way, as soon as he had left communing with Ā'brā-hām: and Ā'brā-hām returned unto his place.

19 CHAPTER 19

20 Destruction of Sodom.

(1) Lot and the angels

AND there came two angels to Sŏd'om at even; [b]and Lŏt sat in the gate of Sŏd'om: and Lŏt seeing them rose up to meet them; and he bowed himself with his face toward the ground;
2 And he said, Behold now, my lords, turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. And they said, Nay; but [c]we will abide in the street all night.
3 And he pressed upon them greatly; and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house; and he made them a feast, and did bake unleavened bread, and [d]they did eat.

(2) Lot and the mob

4 ¶ But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Sŏd'om, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people [e]from every quarter:
5 And they called unto Lŏt, and said unto him, [f]Where are the men which came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, [g]that we may know them.
6 And Lŏt went out at the door unto them, and shut the door after him, 7 And said, I pray you, brethren, do not so wickedly.
8 Behold now, [h]I have two daughters which have not known man; let me, I pray you, bring them out unto you, and do ye to them as is good in your eyes: only unto these men do nothing; for therefore came they under the shadow of my roof.
9 And they said, Stand back. And they said again, This one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge: now will we deal [i]worse with thee, than with them. And they pressed sore upon the man, even Lŏt, and came near to break the door.

(3) The angels and the mob

10 But the men put forth their hand, and [a]pulled Lŏt into the house to them, and shut the door.
11 And they [b]smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door.

(4) Lot and the angels

12 ¶ And the men said unto Lŏt, [c]Hast thou here any besides? son in law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, bring them out of this place:
13 For we will destroy this place, [d]because the cry of them is waxen great before the face of the LORD; and the LORD hath sent us to destroy it.

(5) Lot and sons-in-law

14 And Lŏt went out, and spake unto his sons in law, which married his daughters, and said, Up, get you out of this place; for the LORD will destroy this city. [e]But he seemed as one that mocked unto his sons in law.

(6) Eight angelic commands

15 ¶ And when the morning arose, then the angels hastened Lŏt, saying, [f]Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters, which are here; lest thou be consumed in the iniquity of the city.
16 And while [g]he lingered, the men laid hold upon his hand, and upon the hand of his wife, and upon the hand of his two daughters: the LORD being merciful unto him: and they brought him forth, and set him without the city.
17 ¶ And it came to pass, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said, Escape for thy life; look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.
18 And Lŏt said unto them, Oh, not so, my Lord:
19 Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto me in saving my life; and I [h]cannot escape to the mountain, lest some evil take me, and I die:
20 Behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: Oh, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live.
21 And he said unto him, See, I have accepted thee concerning this thing also, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou hast spoken.
22 Haste thee, escape thither; for [i]I cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was called Zŏ'ar.

a That angels are spirits is clear from Ps. 104:4; Heb. 1:13-14; and that angels have spirit bodies is clear from this record which shows that they have hands which they can use to lay hold of human bodies. God is a Spirit too (Jn. 4:24); and He likewise has a spirit body capable of personal acts like the bodies of other persons (note r, Jn. 4:24)

c Question 33. Next, 20:4. There is no record of Lot having sons, as suggested by the angel (v 12). If so, they chose to remain in Sodom, indicating they were homosexuals as were all the other men in the city. That his sons-in-law chose to remain is clear (v 14). It seems that they were only espoused to his 2 daughters and had not yet entered into marriage relationship with them. Verse 8 says of the daughters: "which have not known (had relationship with) man." If the sons-in-law had entered into the final marriage contract, then they perhaps lived with Lot's daughters in name only. This is done among sodomites or homosexuals as is stated in Rom. 1:27 which says, "the men, leaving the natural use of the woman burned in their lust one toward another; men with men, . . ."
That Lot had no sons and only 2 daughters is plainly indicated in v 30-31 where one is called the firstborn and the other the younger (Cp. 29:26). The terms his two daughters (v 30) and both the daughters of Lot (v 36) also emphasize this. We learn from the question of the angels (v 12) that the knowledge of angels is limited, for if they had infinite knowledge they would have known that Lot did not have sons
d It is found to be as wicked as reported by Our scouts (18:21)
e These men responded to Lot's warning much the same way the scoffers of 2 Pet. 3:3-4 are predicted to receive teaching about Christ's coming, in the last days f 8 commands of the angels
1 Arise (v 15)
2 Take your wife and daughters (v 15)
3 Escape for your life (v 17)
4 Look not behind you (v 17)
5 Do not stay in the plain (v 17)
6 Escape to the mountain (v 17)
7 Make haste (v 22)
8 Escape (v 22)
g A conflict between faith and sight. Lot did not refuse to obey, yet lingered before he did obey. He was brought forcibly out, and warned to escape to the mountain; yet he intreated for a city of refuge in the plains. His prayer was heard and the city spared. Its name was formerly Bela (14:2, 8), now changed to Zoar which means little, in commemoration of his plea for mercy (v 22). Lot chose the plain and went into Sodom a prosperous man - with herdsmen, cattle and riches. Notice how emptyhanded he came out h After Zoar was spared Lot became afraid to dwell there, so finally escaped to the mountain. Seeing the destruction of the other cities made him fearful that the same would happen to Zoar (v 30)
i An example of man hindering and delaying the work of God. The incapacity is not from lack of power, but of will. The purpose of mercy must precede that of judgment

12 "I will's" of God to Noah: I will (6:13)

1 Destroy them with the earth (6:13)
2 Establish My covenant with you (6:
3 Cause it to rain upon earth (7:4) 18)
4 Destroy living substance (7:4)
5 Not curse the ground again (8:21)
6 Not smite every living thing again
7 Require life for life (9:5) (8:21)

9 Require blood of man who kills
10 Establish My covenant with you (9:11) (9:15)
11 Remember My covenant with you 12 Look upon the rainbow (9:16)

a When Lot entered Zoar God destroyed the other cities of the plain. Zoar was spared in answer to Lot's prayer (v 18-22). Abraham's intercession of 18:23-33 was no doubt the first reason God had for sparing the city; and his prayer for the saving of at least 10 persons was abundantly answered. Zoar continued for many centuries, not because of prayer only, but no doubt also because it was not as ripe for judgment as the other cities. See Dt. 34:3; Isa. 15:5; Jer. 48:34

b Dt.29:23;Ps.11:6; Isa.13:19; Jer.49:18; 50:40;Ezek.16:48-49;Amos 4:11;Zeph. 2:9; Mt. 11:23; Lk. 17:29; 2 Pet. 2:6; Jude 6-7 c A clear example of more than one person in the Godhead, and also of the Bible teaching more than one Jehovah. The Heb. for Lord here is Yehovah. One Yehovah on earth rained fire and brimstone from another Yehovah in heaven (v 24). Scores of times the phrase the angel of (from) the Lord (Jehovah) is used, and it is clear from the scriptures that this angel is both Lord (Jehovah) and God (16:7-11; 22:1-16; Ex. 14:19-31; Num. 22:22-35; Judg. 2:1-4; 6:11-24; 13:2-25; Zech. 1:9-19; 3:1-6; 12:8; etc. Cp. Acts 7:30-38). The literal meaning is that one Jehovah sends another Jehovah as His messenger. See note, Ex. 6:3; 89 proofs of a Trinity, p. 280 of N. T.

d Note the extent of the overthrow - cities, all the plain, all the inhabitants, all vegetation (v 25)

e Willful disobedience to God's word, showing to what extent they had become attached to the world (v 17; Lk. 17:32. Cp. Pr. 14:14; Heb. 10:38)

f See 18:33

g Recent researches verify and throw much light on every detail of this account

h Another proof of an answer to Abraham's prayer. Lot was delivered because Abraham prayed (18:23-33)

i Lot finally had to obey the original command of the angel (v 17)

2 Abraham and Sarah (20:12-13)

9 Herod (Mt. 14:3-4; Mk. 6:17-18; 10 A Corinthian (1 Cor. 5)

It must be understood that while all these would have been condemned by the law of Moses (Lev. 18:6-18; 20:11-21;Dt.22:30; 27:20-23),such marriages as that of Abraham and his half-sister, and that of Nahor and Milcah before the Law were excusable during the period in which they took place (Acts 17:30)

h Questions 36-38. Next, 21:7

i What a poor excuse for a man who had been promised complete protection and blessing from God! If he had believed God he would have known that nothing could hurt him until he had received the full blessings promised in the Abrahamic covenant

(7) Destruction of Sodom

23 ¶ The sun was risen upon the earth when Lŏt entered into Zō'ar.

24 Then the LORD [b]rained upon Sŏd'om and upon Gō-mŏr'rah brimstone and fire [c]from the LORD out of heaven;

25 And he [d]overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the [m]habitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground.

(8) Lot's wife (Lk. 17:32)

26 ¶ But his wife [e]looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt.

(9) Abraham's second deliverance of Lot (14:1)

27 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm [f]gat up early in the morning to the place where he stood before the LORD:

28 And he looked toward Sŏd'om and Gō-mŏr'rah, and toward all the land of the plain, and beheld, and, lo, the smoke of the country went up [g]as the smoke of a furnace.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, that God [h]remembered Ā'brā-hăm, and sent Lŏt out of the midst of the overthrow, when he overthrew the cities in the which Lŏt dwelt

(10) Lot the cavedweller

30 ¶ And [i]Lŏt went up out of Zō'ar, and dwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him; for he feared to dwell in Zō'ar: and he [j]dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters.

31 And the firstborn said unto the younger, [k]Our father is old, and there is [l]not a man in the earth to come in unto us after the manner of all the earth:

32 Come, [m]let us make our father drink wine, and we will lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

(11) Lot's shameful end (Cp. 13:5)

33 [n]And they made their father drink wine that night: and the firstborn went in, and [o]lay with her father; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

34 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the firstborn said unto the younger, Behold, I lay yesternight with my father: let us make him drink wine this night also; and go thou in, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

35 And they made their father drink wine that night also: and the younger arose, and lay with him; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

36 Thus were both the daughters of Lŏt with child by their father.

37 And the firstborn bare a son, and called his name [p]Mō'ab: the same is the father of the Mō'ab-ites unto this day.

38 And the younger, she also bare a son, and called his name Bĕn-ăm'mi: the same is the father of the children of Am'mŏn unto this day.

CHAPTER 20 20

21 Sojourn in Gerar (Cp. 12:10-20). (1) Coward and deceiver

AND Ā'brā-hăm journeyed from thence toward [b]the south country, and dwelled between Kā'desh and Shûr, and sojourned in Gĕ'rär.

2 And Ā'brā-hăm said of Sā'rah his wife, She is my sister: and Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch king of Gĕ'rär sent, and took Sā'rah.

(2) Divine intervention: deception discovered

3 But God came to Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch in a [c]dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou art but a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is a man's wife.

4 But Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch had not come near her: and he said, Lord, [d]wilt thou slay also a righteous nation?

5 Said he not unto me, She is my sister? and she, even she herself said, He is my brother: in the integrity of my heart and innocency of my hands have I done this.

6 And God said unto him in a [e]dream, Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy [f]heart; for I also withheld thee from sinning against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her.

7 Now therefore restore the man his wife; for he is a [g]prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine.

8 Therefore Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their ears: and the men were sore afraid.

(3) Abraham on trial (Cp. 12:18)

9 Then Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch called Ā'brā-hăm, and [h]said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done.

10 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ā'brā-hăm, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

(4) Abraham's defense

11 And Ā'brā-hăm said, [i]Because I thought, Surely the fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake.

12 And yet indeed she is my sister; she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and she became my wife.

e Generally, dreams are vain images of the imagination, which come through much business or overeating (Job 20:8; Eccl. 5:3; Ps. 126:1; Dt. 13:1-5; Jude 8). However, God has revealed things in dreams many times. See 34 dreams, note m, Dan. 4:5

b Official title of the kings of Gerar, like Pharaoh in Egypt. He appears to have been a man of virtue, and a true worshipper of God (21:22–32; 26:1–31). Also the name of a son of Gideon (Judg. 8:31; 2 Sam. 11:21) c Note the irony in this reproof (v 16). God heard Abraham in spite of his distrust, groundless suspicion of the Gerarites, and his plan of misconduct (v 13). Counting that a piece of silver was 64¢ the 1,000 pieces amounted to $640.00
d The idea here is: I have given your brother 1,000 pieces of silver ($640.00) to buy you a veil to conceal your beauty so that no stranger will covet you, because you are another man's wife. In other words: Speak the truth, not only a part of the truth; tell the whole and say not only he is your brother, but that he is also your husband

13 And it came to pass, [r]when God caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said unto her, This is thy kindness which thou shalt shew unto me; at every place whither we shall come, say of me, He is my brother.

(5) The verdict (Cp. 12:14)

14 And [b]Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch took sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and womenservants, and gave them unto Ă'brā-hăm, and restored him Să'rah his wife.

15 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, Behold, my land is before thee: dwell where it pleaseth thee.

16 And unto Să'rah he said, Behold, [c]I have given thy brother a thousand pieces of silver: behold, he is to thee a [d]covering of the eyes, unto all that are with thee, and with all other: thus she was reproved.

(6) First miracle of bodily healing (Cp. Ex. 15:26)

17 ¶ So Ă'brā-hăm prayed unto God: and God [e]healed Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children.

18 For the LORD had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, because of Să'rah Ă'brā-hăm's wife.

21 CHAPTER 21

22 Birth of Isaac (1 Chr. 1:28; Mt. 1:2; Lk. 3:34)

AND the LORD [f]visited Să'rah as he had said, and the LORD did unto Să'rah [g]as he had spoken.

2 For Să'rah [h]conceived, and bare Ă'brā-hăm a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him.

3 And Ă'brā-hăm called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Să'rah bare to him, [i]Ī'şaac.

4 And Ă'brā-hăm circumcised his son Ī'şaac being [j]eight days old, [k]as God had commanded him.

5 And Ă'brā-hăm was an [l]hundred years old, when his son Ī'şaac was born unto him.

6 ¶ And Să'rah said, God hath made me laugh, so that all that hear will laugh with me.

7 And she said, [m]Who would have said unto Ă'brā-hăm, that Să'rah should have given children suck? for I have born him a son in his old age.

8 And the child grew, and was weaned: and Ă'brā-hăm made a great [n]feast the same day that Ī'şaac was weaned.

23 The bondwoman cast out

9 ¶ And Să'rah saw the [o]son of Hā'gar the Ĕ-gyp'tian, which she had born unto Ă'brā-hăm, [p]mocking.

●10 Wherefore she said unto Ă'brā-hăm, [q]Cast out this bondwoman and her son: for the son of this bondwoman shall not be heir with my son, even with Ī'şaac.

11 And the thing was [r]very grievous in Ă'brā-hăm's sight because of his son.

¶12 ¶ And God said unto Ă'brā-hăm, [s]Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Să'rah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice, for [t]in Ī'şaac shall thy seed be called.●

13 And also of the son of the bondwoman will I make a [u]nation, because he is thy seed.

14 And Ă'brā-hăm rose up early in the morning, and took bread, and a [v]bottle of water, and gave it unto Hā'gar, putting it on her shoulder, and the child, and sent her away: and she departed, and wandered in the wilderness of Bē'er-shē'bā.

15 And the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs.

16 And she went, and sat her down over against him a good way off, as it were a bowshot: for she said, Let me not see the death of the child. And she sat over against him, and lift up her voice and [w]wept.

24 Hagaric Covenant confirmed

●17 And God heard the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hā'gar out of heaven, and said unto her, [x]What aileth thee, Hā'gar? fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.

●18 [y]Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for I will make him a [z]great nation.●

19 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink.

20 And God was [1]with the lad; and he [2]grew, and dwelt in [3]the wilderness, and became [4]an archer.

21 [m]And he dwelt in the wilderness of Pā'ran: and his mother took him a wife [5]out of the land of Ĕ'gypt.

25 Covenant with Abimelech

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ă'brā-hăm, saying, [6]God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [7]swear unto me here by God that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ă'brā-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And Ă'brā-hăm reproved Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch because of a well of water, which Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch's servants had [8]violently taken away.

26 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ă'brā-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto e One of the most touching incidents of Scripture. Though called a child, Ishmael was at least 19 years old (17:1, 25; 21:5, 8). In the country south of Beersheba fountains were almost unknown, and wells were rare. Only those who really knew the country could find the wells, for the policy of the wandering tribes was to conceal their watering places from strangers. Abraham knew that Hagar's own people were not far distant so she could find refuge. She knew the desert but got lost through sorrow. The purpose of the casting out of Hagar and Ishmael, from God's standpoint, was to keep the Messiah's line separated, and to illustrate vividly how the law of Moses was to be abolished and done away (2 Cor. 6:5–18) and cast out (Gal. 4:21–31). d Heb., well of the seven, referring to the 7 lambs that were a witness of the oath (21:28-30). It was near the south border of Canaan (26:31-33; Josh. 15:28; Judg. 20:1; 2 Sam. 17:11; 1 Ki. 4:25)

e This word is found 250 times in Scripture. Philistines came from Mizraim, the son of Ham (10:6, 13-14). They became the bitter enemies of Israel from the conquest of Canaan until the Babylonian captivity. They are mentioned mainly in Judges, 1 and 2 Samuel, and 1 Chronicles; in fact, only 42 times outside of these books

f Heb. El Olam, the Everlasting God. Olam is trans. everlasting 67 times; ever 238 times; evermore 15 times; perpetual 22 times; and eternal 1 time. Every time it means unending whether used of covenants, possessions, hills, mercy, God or other subjects. El Olam is the name of God expressing His eternal Being as well as His authorship of all eternal things, plans, and purposes in the universe. See p. 680, col. 1

h Only son of promise or covenant, of Sarah, and the only one left, Ishmael having gone some years before (21:9-10). His other sons were not yet born (25:1-6)

i The land of Moriah means all the mountains of Jerusalem - Calvary, Zion, Olives, Moriah, and others. Calvary is the highest peak and it was perhaps on this mount that Isaac was offered as a type of Christ. All that is stated here is upon one of the mountains which God would show him (v 2). Calvary would be the choice for the type or figure (Heb. 11:19), as well as the reality (Lk. 23:33)

j The early rising, saddling, cleaving the wood and going 3 days' journey to slay his only son of promise proves his deliberate and complete obedience. Travelling early was customary on account of the heat. Saddles were simply a piece of cloth thrown over the backs of the animals. No ancient nation had saddles and stirrups as we know them. Camel and pack saddles were different and had to be tied on the camel or ass.

28 And Ā'brā-hăm set [b]seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ā'brā-hăm, [c]What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he called that place [d]Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà: then Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the land of the [e]Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm planted a grove in Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà, and called there on the name of the LORD, the [f]everlasting God.

34 And Ā'brā-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

CHAPTER 22 22

26 Abraham's great trial.
(1) The supreme test

AND it came to pass after these things, that God [g]did tempt Ā'brā-hăm, and said unto him, Ā'brā-hăm: and he said, Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, Take now thy son, thine [h]only son Ĭşaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land [i]of Mō-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

(2) The journey to Mount Moriah, perhaps Calvary

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm [j]rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ĭ'şaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then [k]on the third day Ā'brā-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

(3) Abraham's faith in Isaac's resurrection (Heb. 11:17-19)

5 And Ā'brā-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, [l]and come again to you.

(4) Abraham's faith and works (Jas. 2:20-24)

6 And Ā'brā-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering, [m]and laid it upon Ĭ'şaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

(5) Abraham's faith in a substitute

7 And Ĭ'şaac spake unto Ā'brā-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, [n]Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'brā-hăm said, [o]My son, [p]God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ā'brā-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, [q]and bound Ĭ'şaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'brā-hăm stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

(6) Divine satisfaction: Abraham's faith rewarded

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, [r]Ā'brā-hăm, Ā'brā-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: [s]for now I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

(7) The Divine provision

13 And Ā'brā-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'brā-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [t]in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'brā-hăm called the name of that place [u]Jē-hō'vah-ĭi'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

(8) Abrahamic Covenant enlarged (Gen. 12:1-3, refs.)

15 ¶ And [v]the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'brā-hăm out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, [w]By myself have I [x]sworn, saith the LORD, [y]for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 [z]That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.

(9) The return journey

19 So Ā'brā-hăm returned unto his [aa]young men, and they rose up and went together to Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà; and Ā'brā-hăm dwelt at Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà.

b 29th prophecy in Gen. (22:8, fulfilled). Next, v 16. The first prophecy of Abraham the prophet (20:7). He spoke prophetically of God's Lamb (Jn. 1:29), and of the crucifixion of Christ (1 Pet. 1:19-23; 2:24; Rev. 5:5-10). This is the 6th prophecy of Christ as typified in Isaac and his substitute (22:8-14)

c Here again, we see Abraham's faith. He could not fully comprehend the object of God's command, but he had the fullest confidence in His wisdom, love and providential care for both himself and Isaac. See Heb. 11:17-19

7 consecrations of Abraham:
1 To leave his native land (12:1)
2 To leave his own kindred (12:1)
3 To follow God's leading (12:1)
4 To separate from Lot (13:5-18)
5 To give up his plans for Ishmael (17:15-27) 9-21)
6 To cast out Hagar and Ishmael (21:
7 To offer up Isaac (22:1-19)

d There is no hint of any struggle on the part of Isaac (Jn. 10:17)

e 10 double-callings of names:
1 Abraham, Abraham (Gen. 22:11)
2 Jacob, Jacob (Gen. 46:2)
3 Moses, Moses (Ex. 3:4)
4 Samuel, Samuel (1 Sam. 3:10)
5 Lord, Lord (Mt. 7:21-22)
6 Jerusalem, Jerusalem (Mt. 23:37)
7 My God, My God (Mk. 15:34)
8 Martha, Martha (Lk. 10:41)
9 Simon, Simon (Lk. 22:31)
10 Saul, Saul (Acts 9:4)

f Here God confirmed what He thought about Abraham, as stated in Gen. 18:19. As a free moral agent Abraham could have disappointed the Lord, but testing him made it possible to say, Now I know. God limits His own attributes to conform to His plan for free moral agents. This makes Him no less omniscient; but makes it possible for Him to respect the sovereign will of man. Thus, God does not plan man's choices or acts, but holds him responsible for them should he choose and act contrary to the best good of all g Here we have the doctrine of substitution by example. As the ram became a substitute for Isaac, to spare his life, so Christ became a substitute for all men, dying in their place so that they might go free from eternal death and hell should they desire to accept Him as their sacrifice (Isa. 53; Mt. 20:28; Jn. 6:51; 10:11-18; 11:50-52; 15:13; Rom. 4:25; 5:6-8; 14:15; 1 Cor. 15:3; 2 Cor. 5:14-21; Gal. 1:4; 2:20; Heb. 2:9-18; 5:9; 9:15-28; 10:10; 1 Pet. 2:21-24; 3:18; 4:1). All the animal sacrifices of the O. T. portrayed Christ paying the sin penalty in our stead. That the experience of Abraham with Isaac and the ram pre-figured the work of Christ is clear from Heb. 11:17-19

h Meaning, the Lord will provide. See 16 Jehovah titles, p. 52

i Another example of God appearing as the angel of (from) Jehovah. This is one of the divine persons of the Trinity. He is called the Lord, Jehovah (v 16). This is proof that there is more than one Jehovah. The angel of Jehovah is one person, and Jehovah who sent Him is another (Cp. 19:24, note)

p Nahor did not start for Canaan with Terah and Abraham, but settled in Haran while Abraham was still there (11:31). His family is mentioned here as an introduction to the story of Rebekah, in Gen. 24. Nahor had 12 sons as did Ishmael and Jacob (v 21-24; 46:8-30)

b Ancient name of Hebron, meaning stronghold of Arba, because of being built by Anak and the sons of Arba of the race of giants (Josh. 14:15; 15:13; Num. 13:22). It was given to Caleb (Judg. 1:10, 20). David first reigned there (2 Sam. 2:5), Absalom started his rebellion there (2 Sam. 15). It became the burying place of Abraham and Jacob (23:1-20; 35:28-29; 50:5-14; Josh. 24:32) c It seems that Abraham was away from Hebron when Sarah died. He could have been 24 miles away at Beer-sheba where he had previously settled and perhaps still had temporary residence near part of his vast herds. His coming to mourn for Sarah signifies his coming from some place away from home. If this is not the true meaning, then the word come refers to some kind of ceremonial mourning for the dead
d See Ps. 39:12; Heb. 11:9-16; 1 Pet. 2:11
e No contradiction with 33:19. Jacob bought a place for an altar, not to bury the dead. There were about 80 years between the time of the purchase of Abraham and that of Jacob. If it was the same purchase Jacob did it to avoid trouble when he came back to Canaan. Cp. 50:13; Josh. 24:32
f It was the custom to have middlemen transact business of any importance; hence, his appeal for the Hittites to plead for him (v 8) g The Heb. means double. Perhaps it was a double cave. It still exists inside a massive wall which must have been built before the Christian era. It is one of the holiest shrines of the Mohammedan world. Neither Jew nor Christian is permitted to enter it h The present ready and Abraham's uncertainty of obtaining it (v 13) are to be explained by a custom still prevailing in many countries of the Orient - offering as a gift whatever a stranger admires or desires to obtain. This is a form of bargaining, equal to offering it for sale; and Abraham understood the gift as an offer in accordance with that custom. There is no evidence here of a written contract. The bargain was made sure by being completed in the presence of the crowd assembled at the gate, which was customary in that country. The many witnesses bound both parties to the contract

27 Death and burial of Sarah.
(1) Age and death

AND Sā'rah was an[a]hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sā'rah.
2 And Sā'rah died in[b]Kĭr'jath-ăr'bā; the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'năan: and Ā'brā-hām [c]came to mourn for Sā'rah and to weep for her.

(2) Selection of a burying-place

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hām stood up from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of Hĕth, saying,
4 I am a [d]stranger and a sojourner with you: give me a possession of a [e]buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.
5 And the children of Hĕth answered Ā'brā-hām, saying unto him, 6 Hear us, my lord: thou art a mighty prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead.
7 And Ā'brā-hām stood up, and bowed himself to the people of the land, even to the children of Hĕth.
8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight; hear me, and [f]intreat for me to Ē'phron the son of Zō'hăr, 9 That he may give me the cave of [g]Măch-pē'lah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field; for as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you.

(3) Cave of Machpelah and field bought for $288.00

10 And Ē'phron dwelt among the children of Hĕth: and Ē'phron the Hĭt'tite answered Ā'brā-hām in the audience of the children of Hĕth, even of all that went in at the gate of his city, saying, 11 Nay, my lord, hear me: [h]the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee: bury thy dead.
12 And Ā'brā-hām bowed down himself before the people of the land.
13 And he spake unto Ē'phron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me: I will give thee money for the field; take it of me, and I will bury my dead there.
14 And Ē'phron answered Ā'brā-hām, saying unto him, 15 My lord, hearken unto me: the land is worth [a]four hundred shekels of silver; [b]what is that betwixt me and thee? bury therefore thy dead.
16 And Ā'brā-hām hearkened unto Ē'phron; and Ā'brā-hām weighed to Ē'phron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Hĕth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant.
17 ¶ And the field of Ē'phron, which was in Măch-pē'lah, which was before Mām're, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure

(4) Burial of Sarah

19 And [d]after this, Ā'brā-hām buried Sā'rah his wife in the cave of the field of Măch-pē'lah before Mām're: the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'năan.
20 And the field, and the cave that is therein, were made sure unto Ā'brā-hām for a possession of a buryingplace by the sons of Hĕth.

28 Marriage of Isaac (Gen. 24). (1) Abraham's prosperity (13:1-6; 25:5-7)

(2) Eliezer's commission

3 And I will make thee swear by the LORD, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, [h]that thou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Cā'năan-ites, among whom I dwell:
4 But thou shalt go unto my country, [i]and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son I'saac.
5 And the servant said unto him, [j]Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me unto this land: must I needs bring thy son again unto the land from whence thou camest?
*6 And Ā'brā-hām said unto him, [k]Beware thou that thou bring not my son thither again.

d All the details of a contract and the transaction of business are here made plain (v 3-18). The last thing was to pay in the presence of many witnesses so it could be known that the property now belonged to the buyer

h Eliezer of Damascus (15:2). He was not necessarily the oldest but the head servant. The meaning of the word eldest here is as used in the official sense. The position was sometimes filled by younger men, as in Joseph's case (39:4, 22; 41:46)
i According to ancient Jewish expositors, putting the hand on the thigh (representing the organs of generation) was most sacred. The act, according to the Indian custom was a sign of subjection (Cp. 47:29-31). God touched Jacob's thigh when He changed his name as a sign of blessing (32:24-32. Cp. 14:22; 47:29-31)
j Abraham, Isaac and Jacob all had a horror of inter-marriage with Canaanites (24:3; 27:46; 28:1-9; 34:1-31). The reason was the giant races whom the devil was then using in an effort to do away with pure Adamite stock so that the seed of the woman could not come into the world. See Giants, p. 62; and 30 reasons for segregation of races, p. 158 of N.T.
k Rebekah cannot be a type of Christ and the church, for she was exclusively of one race and the church includes all races (v 3,4, 7, 37, 38; 26:35; 27:46; 28:1-8). Christ is making up His church from the Gentiles as well as from His own kin (Acts 15:13-18; Eph. 2:14-20; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:26-29; Col. 3:11). The N.T. church is mainly from Gentiles, but not entirely (Acts 15:13-18)

m 31st prophecy in Gen. (24:6-8). Next, v 40. The 2nd prophecy of Abraham. Cp. 22:7. He predicted God's angel would go before Eliezer to get a wife for Isaac. It was fulfilled as in v 12-67

A wise provision (25:5)

A wise provision to guard against jealousy and trouble between Abraham's sons. The main reason was that they might be settled in other lands so as not to dispute Isaac's claim in God's plan for him and his seed to have the land of Canaan as promised in the Abrahamic covenant (13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:8). It was the custom to give the estate to the oldest son of the first wife. The sons of concubines did not inherit unless in the case of no legal heir, and with the consent of the wife. A law of that time provided that they could receive from the father certain presents. The separation of Abraham's sons was in harmony with God's will concerning the chosen nation remaining segregated from all other branches of the race so that the Messiah could come as predicted (12:1-3; 13:14; 24:3; 28:1; Ex. 34:12-16; Num. 23:9; Dt. 7:3-4; Josh. 23:12; Ezra 9:1-10:44; Neh. 13)

The east country (25:6)

This naturally refers to the east of Canaan where Abraham settled. Just how far east is not stated, but we do know that the Midianites, Ishmaelites, Moabites, Edomites, and others settled east of Canaan proper. The terms people, children, and men of the east are used of Abraham's own people in Mesopotamia (29:1); of various unnamed people who co-operated with the Midianites against Israel (Judg. 6:3, 33; 7:12; 8:10); of Job and his kindred east of Arabia (Job 1:3); of Babylon and other eastern lands (2 Ki. 17:24; Isa. 2:6; Ezek. 25:4, 10; Mt. 2:1); of Persia (Isa. 41:2; 46:11); of unidentified nations east of Syria, Babylon, and Persia who will fight Antichrist (Dan. 11:44); and of other people further east who will co-operate with Antichrist at Armageddon (Rev. 16:12)

The birthright of men in the direct lineage of Christ included all the above, but that of an ordinary first-born of any other family was in many respects different. The birthright belonged to the firstborn even where hatred was involved. He was entitled to a double portion of the inheritance (Dt. 21:15–17). It could be sold (25:29–34; 27:36; Heb. 12:16; Rom. 9:12–13), forfeited because of sin (1 Chr. 5:1–2), or set aside by God (25:23; 48:15–20; 1 Ki. 2:15; 1 Chr. 26:10) me, and that sware unto me, saying, 'Unto thy seed will I give this land; he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence.

8 And if the woman will not be willing to follow thee, then thou shalt be clear from this my oath: only bring not my son thither again.

9 And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Ă'brā-hăm his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.

(3) Eliezer's journey

10 ¶ And the servant took ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed; for all the goods of his master were in his hand: and he arose, and went to [b]Mĕs-o-pŏ-tā'mĭ-ă, unto the [c]city of Nā'hôr.

11 And he made his camels to kneel down without the city by a well of water at the time of the evening, even the time that women go out to draw water.

(4) Eliezer's prayer

12 And he said, O LORD God of my master Ă'brā-hăm, [d]I pray thee, send me good speed this day, and shew kindness unto my master Ă'brā-hăm.

13 Behold, I stand here by the well of water; and [e]the daughters of the men of the city come out to draw water:

14 And let it come to pass, that the damsel to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: let the same be she that thou hast appointed for thy servant Ĭ'şaac; and thereby shall I know that thou hast shewed kindness unto my master.

(5) Eliezer's answer to prayer

15 ¶ And it came to pass, before he had done speaking, that, behold, [f]Rĕ-bĕk'ah came out, who was born to [g]Bĕth-ų'el, son of Mĭl'cah, the wife of Nā'hôr, Ă'brā-hăm's brother, with her [h]pitcher upon her shoulder.

16 And the damsel was very fair to look upon, a virgin, neither had any man known her: and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up.

17 And the [i]servant ran to meet her, and said, Let me, I pray thee, drink a little water of thy pitcher.

18 And she said, [j]Drink, my lord: and she hasted, and let down her pitcher upon her hand, and gave him drink.

19 And when she had done giving him drink, she said, I will draw water for thy camels also, until they have done drinking.

20 And [k]she hasted, and emptied her pitcher into the trough, and ran again unto the well to draw water, and drew for all his camels.

21 And the man [l]wondering at her held his peace, to wit whether the LORD had made his journey prosperous or not.

(6) Introduction and welcome

22 And it came to pass, as the camels had done drinking, that the man took a golden earring of [a]half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten shekels weight of gold;

23 And said, [b]Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there room in thy father's house for us to lodge in?

24 And she said unto him, I am the [c]daughter of Bĕth-ų'el the son of Mĭl'cah, which she bare unto Nā'hôr.

25 She said moreover unto him, [d]We have both straw and provender enough, and room to lodge in.

(7) Eliezer's worship

26 And the man [e]bowed down his head, and worshipped the LORD.

27 And he said, Blessed be the LORD God of my master Ă'brā-hăm, who hath not left destitute my master of his mercy and his truth: I being in the way, the LORD led me to the house of my master's brethren.

(8) Eliezer's reception

28 And the damsel [f]ran, and told them of her mother's house these things.

29 ¶ And Rĕ-bĕk'ah had a brother, and his name was Lā'ban: and Lā'ban ran out unto the man, unto the well.

30 And it came to pass, [g]when he saw the earring and bracelets upon his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of Rĕ-bĕk'ah his sister, saying, Thus spake the man unto me; that he came unto the man; and, behold, he stood by the camels at the well.

31 And he said, [h]Come in, thou blessed of the LORD; wherefore standest thou without? for I have prepared the house, and room for the camels.

32 ¶ And the man came into the house: and he ungirded his camels, and gave straw and [i]provender for the camels, and water to [j]wash his feet, and the men's feet that were [k]with him.

(9) Eliezer's business stated

33 And there was set meat before him to eat: but he said, I will not eat, until I have told mine errand. And he said, Speak on.

34 And he said, [l]I am Ă'brā-hăm's servant.

35 And the LORD hath blessed my master greatly; and he is become great: and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver, and gold, and menservants, and maidservants, and camels, and asses.

36 And [m]Sā'rah my master's wife bare a son to my master when she was old: and unto him hath he [n]given all that he hath.

37 And my master made me swear, saying, [o]Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the a A shekel weight was 224 grains or about 1/2 ounce. Half of this - a half-shekel or bekah would be worth about $4.85 in our money. The gold in the two bracelets, weighing 2,240 grains, 10 shekels, or about 5 ounces would be worth $96.95. This valuation does not include the cost of precious stones. Gold, they tell us, can be beaten to 1/250,000 of an inch in thickness and one grain can be drawn into a wire 500 ft. long. The gold in a half-shekel earring would thus make a wire 56,000 ft. long and that in two bracelets of 10 shekels, a wire 1,120,000 ft. long. Bracelets were worn universally by women of the East. Made of gold, silver, steel, brass, copper, and beads, they sometimes covered the whole arm from wrist to elbow (see Num. 31:50; Ezek. 16:11; 23:42). The Heb. word for earring in some passages means a jewel for the nose or forehead. The Heb. indicates it as a nosejewel here. Cp. Pr. 11:22; Isa. 3:21; Ezek. 16:12. Noserings were made of a light ring of gold or silver with 3 or 4 precious jewels or beads dangling at the bottom part from smaller rings of the same metal. Cheaper ones were made of coral and mother-of-pearl, or even horns. The metal rings were from 1 1/2 to 3 inches in diameter, and usually hung through a hole in the right nostril, though sometimes they were worn at the left nostril or middle part of the nose

l Abraham had told him all about his relatives in Haran, so when he heard their names (v 23–27) he knew he was in the right place. Abraham knew of Rebekah and her brother, Laban (22:20–24). Rebekah may have been mentioned to Abraham as being suitable for Isaac. Note the salesmanship - trying to make a good impression on Rebekah's family. Marriages of those days were made by the parents or representatives of both families. They were, more or less, business deals between two families. Usually the bridegroom's parents made the choice of the bride. The young people were expected to agree to the choice and all business arrangements (v 3; 21:21; 28:1; 38:6). Sometimes, however, the young man would make his own choice regardless of parents (26:35); others would suggest their personal preference (34:4; Judg. 14:2)

The Heb. for life in v 30 is nephesh, meaning soul; and the word for preserved is natsal, to snatch away, deliver, rescue, or save. The passage could read, My soul is redeemed. From this time Jacob was a new man with a new name, a new heart, and a new character. He was no more a supplanter, a cheater, or deceiver, but Israel, the man who prevailed with God and saw Him face to face. It was an ancient belief that if one saw God he would die. This seems to be what Jacob had in mind when he said his life was preserved (v 30; Judg. 6:22–23; 13:22) daughters of the Cā'năan-ītes, in whose land I dwell:

38 But thou shalt go unto my father's house, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son.

39 And I said unto my master, Peradventure the woman will not follow me.

*40 And he said unto me, [c]The LORD, before whom I walk, will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy way; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my kindred, and of my father's house:

41 Then shalt thou be clear from this my oath, when thou comest to my kindred; and if they give not thee one, thou shalt be clear from my oath.

42 And I came this day unto the well, and said, [b]O LORD God of my master Ă'brā-hăm, if now thou do prosper my way which I go:

43 Behold, I stand by the well of water; and it shall come to pass, that when the virgin cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink;

44 And she say to me, Both drink thou, and I will also draw for thy camels: let the same be the woman whom the LORD hath appointed out for my master's son.

45 And before I had done speaking in mine heart, behold, Rē-bĕk'ah came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder; and she went down unto the well, and drew water: and I said unto her, Let me drink, I pray thee.

46 And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: so I drank, and she made the camels drink also.

47 And I asked her, and said, [c]Whose daughter art thou? And she said, The daughter of Bĕth-ū'el, Nā'hôr's son, whom Mĭl'cah bare unto him: and I put the [d]earring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands.

48 And I [e]bowed down my head, and worshipped the LORD, and blessed the LORD God of my master Ă'brā-hăm, which had led me in the right way to take my master's brother's daughter unto his son.

49 And now if ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me; that I may turn to the right hand, or to the left.

(10) Eliezer's success

50 Then [f]Lā'ban and Bĕth-ū'el answered and said, The thing proceedeth from the LORD: [g]we cannot speak unto thee bad or good.

51 Behold, Rē-bĕk'ah is before thee, [h]take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, as the LORD hath spoken.

52 And it came to pass, that, when Ă'brā-hăm's servant heard their words, he worshipped the LORD, bowing himself to the earth.

53 And the servant brought forth [a]jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment, and gave them to Rē-bĕk'ah: he gave also to [b]her brother and to her mother precious things.

54 And they did eat and drink, he and the men that were with him, and tarried all night; and they rose up in the morning, and he said, Send me away unto my master.

55 And her brother and her mother said, Let the damsel abide with us a few days, at the least ten; after that she shall go.

56 And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the LORD hath prospered my way; send me away that I may go to my master.

57 And they said, We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth.

58 And they called Rē-bĕk'ah, and said unto her, [c]Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.

(11) Eliezer's return

59 And they sent away Rē-bĕk'ah [d]their sister, and her nurse, and Ă'brā-hăm's servant, and his men.

60 And they blessed Rē'bĕk'ah, and said unto her, Thou art our sister, [e]be thou the mother of thousands of millions, and let thy seed possess the gate of those which hate them.

61 ¶ And Rē-bĕk'ah arose, [f]and her damsels, and they rode upon the camels, and followed the man: and the servant took Rē-bĕk'ah, and went his way.

(12) Marriage of Isaac

62 And Ĭ'şaac came from the way of the [g]well Lā-hāi'-roi; for he dwelt in the south country.

63 And Ĭ'şaac went out [h]to meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and, behold, the camels were coming.

64 And Rē-bĕk'ah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Ĭ'şaac, she [i]lighted off the camel.

65 For she had said unto the servant, [j]What man is this that walketh in the field to meet us? And the servant had said, [k]It is my master: therefore she took a veil, and [l]covered herself.

66 And the servant told Ĭ'şaac all things that he had done.

67 And Ĭ'şaac brought her into his mother [m]Sā'rah's tent, and took Rē-bĕk'ah, and she became his wife; and he loved her; and Ĭ'şaac was [n]comforted after his mother's death.

a 32nd prophecy in Gen. (24:40, fulfilled). Next, 25:23. The prophecy of v 7 is repeated, but with an additional detail - that he would take a wife for Isaac, as fulfilled in v 50-67

b After recommending Isaac as a suitable husband he recounted his prayer and experience of receiving an answer a few hours before, which proved the will of God to him (v 33-49)

c Question 48. Next, v 58

d Heb. nezem, a nose-ring, earring, or jewel for the forehead. Here it is perhaps the nose-ring, or head jewel, for the word is in the singular in v 22, 30, 47. The nose jewel, an ornament still common in parts of the East, was usually worn in a hole bored low down in the nostril

e Evidence of Eliezer's faith that everything was going to be as he had prayed f Laban was evidently the chief in the household after Nahor's death. See his biography in 22:23; 24:15-33; 28:5; 29:12-30; 30:27-43; 31:1-55

g We fully submit to the providence of God (Cp. Acts 11:17)

h The journey to Beer-sheba was about 450 miles, arduous and dangerous; and, with camels would take about 25 to 30 days. It was natural that a young woman would hesitate, perhaps absolutely refuse to place herself in the hands of entire strangers with the prospect of accepting a husband whom she had never seen, and of whose character she knew nothing. But Eliezer's worship before them made an impression on the entire family. They saw God's hand in the matter; and Rebekah was willing to obey what was believed to be the will of God

16 We have no right to question the will of God (Rom. 9:8-24)
17 Do not permit natural dispositions to hinder spiritual blessings (25:34)
18 God has made it possible for natural traits and dispositions to be completely changed so as to obey Him (32:24-29; 2 Cor. 5:17) a Heb. kelly, vessels, instruments, weapons, jewels. Just what they were here is not known, but they were given as wedding gifts, not tokens of respect as those in v 22. They could include more elaborate jewels as well as other gifts, as is clear

b Her brother was Laban (v 29) and her mother was Milcah (11:29; 24:24, 47)

c Question 49, Next, v 65. It seems that the final choice was left up to Rebekah unless we consider the question as referring to departure immediately or a little later

d Rebekah had only one brother, so it appears but it was usual for all relatives to call a female their sister. In Eastern families the nurse was very important and esteemed almost as a parent. This one went with the new bride, served as her assistant and adviser, and later helped in bringing up the children (16:1-8; 24:59; 29:24, 29; 30:3, 9)

e Cp. 14:19; 22:17; Ruth 4:11-12. In the East a large family was always regarded as the greatest of earthly blessings. With numbers came power

f How many is not stated. One is called her nurse (v 59), named Deborah (35:8)

h Heb. lasuach, to bend down in body and mind. He was in godly meditation or praying and deep in thought before God. Cp. v 67

m Tents or apartments of wives were separated from those of husbands. The children lived in their own apartments. There was no ceremony of marriage in ancient times. Some celebrated with a feast, but the removal of the bride from her home to that of the bridegroom completed the marriage

n This may explain Isaac's meditation of v 63

o This was the second marriage of Abraham. Keturah who had already been his concubine (1 Chr. 1:32) was now promoted to become his second wife

Israel defined (32:28)

Heb. Yisrael, from sar, a prince (and sarah, a princess) meaning prevailed or ruled as a prince; and El, God, Strength, Mighty, the Almighty. It means, Prince with God, Soldier of God, God-wrestling, or God's Prince, for as a prince you have power with God and with man and have prevailed (v 28). He had prevailed with man (25:29-34; 27:1-31:55). Now he prevailed with God (32:29-32). This name, which occurs 2,540 times, was given to Jacob (v 28; 2 Ki. 17:34; Hos. 12:3-4); to Jacob's descendants (Ex. 9:7), and also to Christ (Isa. 49:3)

The O. T. is largely a record of the history of Israel and of God's revelation to them - their beginning as a nation (29:21-30:43); their 430 years of sojourn (12:1-Ex. 12:40); journeys and wanderings for over 41 years (Ex. 12-Dt. 34); conquest of Canaan (Josh. 1-24); experiences under 15 judges (Judg. 1:1-1 Sam. 7); under 42 kings (1 Sam. 8-2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36); in the captivities (2 Ki. 25; Ezra 1); the restoration as a nation under Ezra and Nehemiah. Hundreds of the prophecies recorded in Scripture concern Israel as can be seen from a study of them

PARENTHETICAL: generations of Ishmael. Hagaric Covenant fulfilled (Gen. 16:7, note 2). 1 The 12 tribes of Ishmael (Cp. 35:22-26)

12 ¶ Now these are the generations of Ish'ma-el, A'brā-hăm's son, whom [l]Ha'gar the E-gyp'tian, Să'rah's handmaid, bare unto A'brā-hăm:

13 And these are the names of the sons of Ish'ma-el, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Ish'ma-el, [m]Ne-bā'joth; and Kē'dăr, and Ad'bĕ-el, and Mib'sam,

14 And Mish'mā, and Dū'mah, and Mās'sā,

15 Ha'dăr, and Tē'mā, Je'tūr, Na'phish, and Kĕd'e-mah:

16 These are the [n]sons of Ish'ma-el, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their [o]castles; twelve princes according to their nations.

2 Death of Ishmael: 137 years

17 And these are the years of the life of Ish'ma-el, an hundred and thirty and seven years: and he gave up the ghost and died; and was gathered unto his people.

18 And they [p]dwelt from Hăv'i-lah unto Shūr, that is before E'gypt, as thou goest toward As-sȳr'i-a: and he [q]died in the presence of all his brethren.

VIII History of Isaac (25:19-35:29). Outlined to 28:10. 1 Birth of Isaac (21:1-8; Rom. 4:17-25; Heb. 11:11-12)

19 ¶ And these are the generations of [r]I'saac, [b]A'brā-hăm's son: A'brā-hăm begat I'saac:

2 Marriage of Isaac (24:62)

20 And I'saac was [s]forty years old when he took Rē-bĕk'ah to wife, the daughter of Bĕth-u'el the Sȳr'i-an of Pā'dan-a'ram, the sister to La'ban the Sȳr'i-an.

21 And I'saac intreated the LORD for his wife, [d]because she was barren: and the LORD was intreated of him, and Rē-bĕk'ah his wife conceived.

22 And the children struggled together within her; and she said, [t]If it be so, why am I thus? And she went to enquire of the LORD.

3 Birth of Esau and Jacob

23 [u]And the LORD said unto her, [e]Two nations are in thy womb, and two [f]manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels: and the one people shall be [g]stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were [h]twins in her womb.

25 And the first came out [i]red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name [j]E'sau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on E'sau's heel; and his name was called [k]Ja'cob: and I'saac was [l]threescore years old when she bare them.

4 The divided family (Cp. 29:31)

27 And the boys grew: and E'sau was a cunning [m]hunter, a man of the field: and Ja'cob was a [n]plain man, dwelling in tents.

28 And I'saac [o]loved E'sau, [p]because he did eat of his venison: but Rē-bĕk'ah loved Ja'cob.

5 Sale and despising of the birthright (Heb. 12:16)

29 ¶ And Ja'cob [q]sod pottage: and E'sau came from the field, and he was faint:

30 And E'sau said to Ja'cob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called E'dom.

31 And Ja'cob said, Sell me this day thy [r]birthright.

32 And E'sau said, [s]Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?

33 And Ja'cob said, [t]Swear to me this day; [u]and he sware unto him: and he [v]sold his birthright unto Ja'cob.

34 Then Ja'cob gave E'sau bread and pottage of [w]lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way: thus E'sau [x]despised his birthright.

CHAPTER 26 — 26

6 Sojourn in Gerar (Cp. 12:

a Midian was the most prominent of Abraham's second family. He and his people are mentioned 67 times by name. He was defeated by Esau (36:35). Moses fled to his land and married a woman of Midian (Ex. 2:15-16; 3:1; 4:19; 18:1). Midianites became a snare to Israel (Num. 25:1-15), for which God commanded Israel to war with them (Num. 25:16-18; 31:1-20). For many centuries, off and on, Israel fought with them (Josh. 13:21; Judg. 6:1-2; 7:8-25; 8:3-28; 9:17). Midian was the nation defeated by Gideon with such great destruction that its downfall is referred to in the Bible as the day of Midian (Isa. 9:4; 10:26; Ps. 83:9) d This genealogy and record of the death of Abraham were given here because no more was to be said of him in the Genesis story. He lived until Jacob was 15 years old, dying at the age of 175 (25:7). He was a contemporary of Shem 75 years. See note j, 11:11

e First of 11 times in the O.T. (v 8, 17; 35:29; 49:33; Job 3:11; 10:18; 11:20; 13:19; 14:10; Jer. 15:9; Lam. 1:19) and 8 times in the N.T. (Mt. 27:50; Mk. 15:37-39; 23:46; 18:30; Acts 5:5, 10; Acts 12:23). The Heb. gava, to breathe out, expire, and die, is used in the above O.T. scriptures except in Job 11:20; Jer. 15:9 where nephesh, soul, is used. The Gr. for ghost in Mt. 27:50 is pneuma, spirit. In the other passages the words are ekpneo and ekpsucho, to expire. The English word ghost, is from the Anglo-Saxon gast, an inmate, inhabitant, or guest. The word spirit is now the restricted meaning and always refers to the immortal soul and spirit of man, the guest or indweller of the body. At physical death the inner man leaves the outer man and the body only is lifeless (Jas. 2:26). See Immortality, Death, Soul in the Index

f First of 5 men called "old man":
1 Abraham (25:8)
2 Jacob (43:27; 44:20)
3 An unnamed man (Judg. 19:16-22)
4 Eli (1 Sam. 4:18)
5 Zacharias (Lk. 1:18)
See 34 other "old" things, p. 18

g See note g, Lk. 4:28

h An expression used only in the early ages and means gathered with the other departed spirits. It is used 11 times in the writings of Moses (v 8, 17; 35:29; 49:29, 33; Num. 20:24-26; 27:13; 31:2; Dt. 32:50) and once in Judg. 2:10. It could not mean that all men referred to were buried together. All spirits went to sheol-hades before the resurrection of Christ, but were in two separate compartments. See notes on Hell in the Index

i This shows that Isaac and Ishmael lived near each other and were friendly. Both Abraham and Isaac must have had some influence on the character and religion of Ishmael. This is evident, for when Esau saw that Isaac was displeased with his marriages with Canaanites, he married wives from Ishmael, seemingly, for the reason that they would be acceptable with his father. q Heb. naphal, to fall, have inheritance or divide by lot, as in Josh. 23:4. It is never so translated any place else. Not the ordinary word for die, as in v 17. It means that it fell his lot to have inheritance with and to dwell among his brethren, fulfilling 16:12 f 33rd prophecy in Gen. (25:23, fulfilled). Next, 26:2. It concerned the struggle between Jacob and Esau and was partially fulfilled in their descendants many times. It will be completely fulfilled in the Millennium and the New Earth when Israel under their Messiah will be the head of all nations (Isa. 2:2-4; 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-18, Zech. 14; Zeph. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:13)

g See Origin of races, p. 24

h The Edomites and Israelites have been two different peoples in manners, customs, and religion from the very beginning. Edomites were idolaters (2 Chr. 25:20). The history of Edomites is one of wars with Jews (Ex. 15:15; Num. 20:14-21; 1 Sam. 14:47; 2 Sam. 8:14; 1 Ki. 11:15; 2 Ki. 8:20-22; 14:7, 10; Ezek. 25:12-14). Edom is the subject of many O.T. prophecies (Ex. 15:15; Num. 24:18; Ps. 60:8-10; Isa. 11:14; 63:1; Jer. 9:26; 25:21; 27:3; 49:7-22; Ezek. 25:12-14; 32:29; Dan. 11:41; Joel 3:19; Amos 1:6-11; 2:1; 9:12; Oba. 1-8; Mal. 1:4).

i The family of Esau (or Edom) seemed to be stronger at first than Jacob's (or Israel's), for they had dukes and kings long before Israel did (Gen. 36); and they were powerful enough to resist Israel's passage through their land when coming out of Egypt (Num. 20). Later, David completely defeated them and made them subject to Israel for about 150 years (2 Sam. 8:14). After the Babylonian captivity, the Maccabees compelled them to leave their country or embrace the Jewish religion. From then on they were ruled by Israel. In the Millennium they will again be under Israel (Ps. 60:8-10; Isa. 11:14; 63:1; Amos 9:12)

j First of 3 sets of twins in Scripture:
1 Jacob and Esau (25:24-28)
2 Pharez and Zarah (38:25-30)
3 Thomas (Didymus, meaning twin) and his brother or sister (Jn. 11:16; 20:24; 21:2) k Heb. admoniy, reddish, ruddy. It means that he was covered all over with red hair, or that he was red in complexion and had hair all over his body. The Peshitta reads: "came out red, all covered with ringlets of hair." Other translations read: "came out all red as a hairy robe... came out reddish all over, like a hairy coat" 30)

n Abraham waited 25 years (12:4; 21:5) and Isaac waited 20 years for a son (25:20, 26). Abraham was 100 years old when Isaac was born (17:17; 21:5); and Isaac was "three-score" or 60 years old when Jacob and his twin brother were born (25:26). One score is 20 s Heb. yazed nazid, boiled a boiling. Beans, lentils, and peas were the pulse of Canaan (v 34; Dan. 1:12). This red pottage (v 30) was made of lentils (v 34). Beans and lentils, when boiled with garlic and oil, made a delicious dish, chocolate in color. Jacob was the first man cook recorded in Scripture (v 29-34. Cp. 2 Ki. 4:38-41; Jn. 21:9). Sarah was the first woman cook (18:6). Angels also can cook (1 Ki. 19:5-7)

d 34th prophecy in Gen. (26:2-5, fulfilled and will be fulfilled in all eternity). Next, v 24. To teach that 10 commandments were known to Adam and Abraham just because God said Abraham had kept His commandments is unscriptural. God gave Abraham 14 commandments (note m, 12:1), but not the 10 given at Sinai, as proved in 20 facts about the 10 commandments, p. 112

2 Kept My charge
3 Kept My commandments
4 Kept My statutes
5 Kept My laws
Because of this God blessed his sons n Following in the footsteps of Abraham the wrong way (12:10-20; 20:1-17). Both failed God in faith, for it was impossible for either to be killed if God's word was to be fulfilled concerning their seed. It was doubtful that Abraham had ever told his son of his own weakness on this point, so Isaac was not prepared to guard against such temptation. The statement was true regarding Abraham and his wife, but not with Isaac, for Rebekah was only his cousin o Heb. towb, fair, beautiful. Used of women (6:2; 24:16; 26:7; Esther 1:11; Judg. 15:2) and of men (Dan. 1:15). Cp. note t, 12:11 p Heb. tsachaq, to laugh outright, play, make sport. Here it means that Isaac was making some gesture of love to Rebekah or caressing her, taking such liberties as were not common or lawful with brother and sister. It is possible that what happened in the case of Abraham, under similar circumstances, was not yet forgotten (Gen. 20). No excuse can be made for Isaac any more than for Abraham (Cp. Ps. 31:5; Num. 32:23)
q Questions 53-54, Next, v 27. Cp. 3:11, 13 r This indicates that Abimelech and his people were God-fearing and moral idealists. Death was the penalty for adultery in Israel and some of the other nations even before Moses (38:24) u Riches are always a source of envy (31:1; Ps. 37:7; 49:16; 73:3; 1 Cor. 3:3; 13:4)

v It was customary in the East to dig wells as proof of title to surrounding unoccupied lands. Isaac inherited the lands where Abraham had dug wells. To fill wells was a declaration of war, or at least a hostile act (2 Kl. 3:19, 25). To avert war Isaac gave up the wells

10-20; 20:1-17). (1) Abrahamic Covenant confirmed in Isaac

AND there was a [a]famine in the land, beside the [b]first famine that was in the days of Ă'bră-hăm. And Ĭ'şaac went unto Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch king of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes unto Gĕ'rär.

¶2 And the LORD [c]appeared unto him, and said, [d]Go not down into Ĕ'gўpt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:

●3 /Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; [e]for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give [f]all these countries, and I will perform [g]the oath which I sware unto Ă'bră-hăm thy father; ◂

▸4 And I will make thy seed [h]to multiply as the stars of heaven, and [i]will give unto thy seed all these countries; and [j]in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;

5 [m]Because that Ă'bră-hăm obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

(2) Coward and deceiver (12:10; 20:1)

6 ¶ And Ĭ'şaac dwelt in Gĕ'rär.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife; [n]and he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rĕ-bĕk'ah; because she was [o]fair to look upon.

8 And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch king of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, Ĭ'şaac was [p]sporting with Rĕ-bĕk'ah his wife.

(3) Isaac on trial (Cp. 12:18; 20:9)

9 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch called Ĭ'şaac, and said, [q]Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Ĭ'şaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.

10 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and thou shouldest have [r]brought guiltiness upon us.

11 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

(4) Isaac the farmer

12 Then Ĭ'şaac [s]sowed in that land, and received in the same year [t]an hundredfold: and the LORD blessed him.

13 And the man waxed great, and went forward, and grew until he became very great:

14 For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of servants: and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [u]envied him.

15 For all the [v]wells which his father's servants had digged in the days of Ă'bră-hăm his father, the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had stopped them, and filled them with earth.

16 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ĭ'şaac, [q]Go from us; for thou art much mightier than we.

(5) Isaac the well-digger

17 ¶ And Ĭ'şaac [b]departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gĕ'rär, and dwelt there.

18 And Ĭ'şaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Ă'bră-hăm his father; for the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had stopped them after the death of Ă'bră-hăm: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.

19 And Ĭ'şaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of [c]springing water.

20 And the herdmen of Gĕ'rär did strive with Ĭ'şaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours: and he called the name of the well [k]Ē'sĕk; because they strove with him.

21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it [l]Sĭt'nah.

22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it [m]Rĕ-hō'both; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

7 Abrahamic Covenant confirmed in Isaac (12:1; 26:1-5)

23 And he went up from thence to [d]Bē'er-shĕ'bà.

¶24 And the LORD [i]appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Ă'bră-hăm thy father: [j]fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Ă'bră-hăm's [k]sake. ◂◂

25 And he [l]builded an [m]altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there: and there Ĭ'şaac's servants digged a well.

8 Covenant with Abimelech

26 ¶ Then Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch went to him from Gĕ'rär, [n]and Ă-hŭz'zath one of his friends, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his army.

27 And Ĭ'şaac said unto them, [o]Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have sent me away from you?

28 And they said, We saw certainly that the LORD was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a [p]covenant with thee;

29 That thou wilt do us no hurt, [q]as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now the blessed of the LORD.

30 And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.

31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and sware one to another: and Ĭ'şaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

a This was a strange way of saying: You have become wealthy in our midst and my people are envious of you (v 16). It could literally mean that Isaac had become mightier than all the Philistines

Origin of races (25:23)

This passage, with 9:24-27; 17:20; 19:33-38; 25:1-6; Acts 17:26 and other scriptures, explains how different races and types of people came into being, since the flood. When the first of each type and color was brought into existence is not stated and cannot therefore be known. Such facts are among the secrets of God referred to in Dt. 29:29. If two nations and two manner of people were born on this occasion, then the same could have happened at other times. Hence, there remains no mystery as to where the black, the yellow, the brown, and other races came from. The only part not known is when and by whom. This much is sure, the various races came into being since the flood, for only one color was saved in the ark (6:18) a Heb. shibah, seven. The well was called the well of the seven, referring to the 7 lambs that were a witness of the covenant made at that place between Abraham and Abimelech (21:22-33)

b Beer-sheba still exists, and retains its ancient name in a slightly modified form. It is said that the old wells are still there, which are of great depth, and of great value to the surrounding Arabs c It seems that both Judith and Beeri had other names (36:2, 5, 13) d Heb., bitterness of spirit (27:46; 28:2-8). The Targums say that they quarelled with Isaac and Rebekah and rebelled against their religious instructions e Isaac was about 138 years old at this time. He lived 42 years after the time he thought he was going to die, so evidently he was healed by God (35:27-28). He died at the age of 180 (35:28), only 10 years before his son, Jacob went into Egypt (47:9)
f See 25:23-34
g No man knows the day of his death, unless God particularly reveals it to him; nor does he have a set time to die, even though he is appointed to die. A person's appointed death is at some unspecified time (Heb. 9:27). There are conditions one can meet which will extend life longer than what may be otherwise expected

7 examples of God revealing death:

1 Jacob (time of revelation before death, 1 day; Gen. 48:1; 49:29-33)
2 Aaron (1 day; Num. 20:23-29)
3 Moses (1 day; Dt. 31:2; 32:48-52; 34:1-8)
4 Joshua (1 day; Josh. 24:14)
5 Hezekiah (1 day, but changed to 15 years; 2 Ki. 20:1-8; Isa. 38:1-20)
6 Ezekiel's wife (1 day; Ezek. 24:15-18)
7 A rich fool (a few hours; Lk. 12:20)

We have one example of an evil spirit revealing death - that of Saul on the morrow (1 Sam. 28:19 with 1 Chr. 10:13-14)

14 proofs no set time to die:

1 It was said to Abimelech: You are a dead man unless you give up this man's wife (Gen. 20:3-7)
2 Honor parents, that your days may be long upon earth (Ex. 20:12; Eph. 6:2)
3 Because of your sins you will quickly perish (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)
4 Consider the poor - the Lord shall keep him alive (Ps. 41:1-2)
5 The wicked shall not live out half their days (Ps. 55:23)
6 With long life will I satisfy him (providing he meets the conditions of Ps. 91:1-9)
7 Keep My words, for length of days, and long life shall they add to you (Pr. 3:1-2)
8 The years of the wicked shall be shortened (Ps. 10:25)
9 He that hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be destroyed (Pr. 29:1)
10 I will add to your days 15 years (Isa. 38:5)
11 I am deprived of the rest of my years (Isa. 38:10)
12 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you and many have died (1 Cor. 11:29-30)
13 He that will love life, and see good days, let him keep his mouth from evil (1 Pet. 3:10-11)
14 Many have been cut off in death because of sins. They could have lived longer if they had not committed them, and such judgment had not become necessary (Ex. 9:15; 12:15, 19; 30:33; 31:14; Lev. 7:20-27; 17:4-14; 18:29; 19:8; 20:3-18; Num. 9:13; 15:30-31; 19:13, 20; etc.)

h Esau had missed finding his venison before this and had lost his birthright (25:27-34). Now he lost his blessing because he was late in finding it i His carnal appetite caused him to forget God's word and Esau's oath (25:23, 31-34). Thus he was tricked into right action by his wife and younger son j The phrase intimates more than a common blessing. This is proved in v 28-29, Isaac must have known that God desired to bless Jacob instead of Esau, for such was revealed by Him to Rebekah (25:23). Isaac finally did bless him (Heb. 11:20; Rom. 10:17). The carnal man was dictating to him when he purposed to bless Esau instead. This 32 And it came to pass the same day, that Isaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.

33 And he called it [a]Shē'bah: therefore the name of the city is Bē'er-shē'bā[b] unto this day.

9 Marriages of Esau

34 ¶ And Ē'sau was forty years old when he took to wife Jū'dith [c]the daughter of Bē-ē'ri the Hit'tite, and Bāsh'e-māth the daughter of Ē'lŏn the Hit'tite:
35 Which were [d]a grief of mind unto Ī'saac and to Rē-bĕk'ah.

CHAPTER 27

10 The stolen blessing (Gp. 25:31, note). (1) Charge to Esau

AND it came to pass, that when Ī'saac was [e]old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called Ē'sau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son: and he said unto him, Behold, here am I.
2 And he said, Behold now, I am old, [f]I know not the day of my death:
3 Now therefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and take me some venison;
4 And make me savoury meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat; that my soul may bless thee before I die.

(2) Rebekah's plot

5 And Rē-bĕk'ah heard when Ī'saac spake to Ē'sau his son. And [g]Ē'sau went to the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.
6 ¶ And Rē-bĕk'ah spake unto Jā'cob her son, saying, Behold, I heard thy father speak unto Ē'sau thy brother, saying,
7 [h]Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee [i]before the LORD before my death.
8 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice according to that which I command thee.
9 Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats; and I will make them savoury meat for thy father, such as he loveth:
10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he may bless thee before his death.
11 And Jā'cob said to Rē-bĕk'ah his mother, Behold, Ē'sau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man:
12 My father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver; and I shall bring a curse upon me, and not a blessing.
13 And his mother said unto him, Upon me be thy curse, my son: only obey my voice, and go fetch me them.

(3) The plot executed

14 And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made savoury meat, such as his father loved.
15 And Rē-bĕk'ah took goodly raiment of her eldest son Ē'sau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon Jā'cob her younger son:
16 And she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck:
17 And she gave the [a]savoury meat and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jā'cob.
18 ¶ And he came unto his father, and said, My father: and he said, [b]Here am I; who art thou, my son?
19 And Jā'cob said unto his father, I am Ē'sau thy firstborn; I have done according as thou badest me: arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me.
20 And Ī'saac said unto his son, How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son? And he said, Because the LORD thy God brought it to me.
21 And Ī'saac said unto Jā'cob, Come near, I pray thee, that I may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son Ē'sau or not.
22 And Jā'cob went near unto Ī'saac his father; and [c]he felt him, and said, The voice is Jā'cob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Ē'sau.
23 And he discerned him not, because his hands were hairy, as his brother Ē'sau's hands: so he blessed him.
24 And he said, [d]Art thou my very son Ē'sau? And he said, I am.
25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat: and he brought him wine, and he drank.

(4) The plot successful

26 And his father Ī'saac said unto him, Come near now, and kiss me, my son.
27 And he came near, and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of his [e]raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the LORD hath blessed:
28 [f]Therefore God give thee of the dew of heaven, and the fatness of the earth, and plenty of corn and wine:
29 Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee: be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee: cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

(5) The plot discovered

30 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as Ī'saac had made an end of blessing Jā'cob, and Jā'cob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Ī'saac his father, that Ē'sau his brother came in from his hunting.
31 And he also had made savoury meat, and brought it unto his father, and said unto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me.
32 And Ī'saac his father said unto him, [g]Who art thou? And he said, I am thy son, thy first-a Orientals were fond of highly seasoned food. Salt, spices, onions, garlic, saffron, mint, and various other herbs were used to flavor foods (Ex. 12:8; Num. 11:5; Lk. 11:42)

b Questions 56-57. Next, v 24
c The only case recorded in Scripture where a man depended upon feeling; and, he was deceived. The lesson to Christians is clear, Isaac must have had a sickness which affected his eyes and made him think he was going to die. He recovered, however, and saw Jacob on his return from Padan-aram about 20 years later. He died just 10 years before Jacob went into Egypt (25:26; 35:28; 47:9)
d Question 58. Next, v 32
e Raiment in the East marked the social rank and position of the wearer. The first-born had an official garment as the priest and head of the house. However, this garment put upon Jacob was one which had the smell of the field upon it to make the deception more complete. It was a perfect deception except the voice. Even God was affirmed as aiding him to find the meat sooner than it could be expected (v 20). This feature is the worst part about it, and shows the nature and daring of the whole falsehood. God certainly was not a party to these plots and sin f 36th prophecy in Gen. (27:28-29, fulfilled). Next, v 37. It predicted that Jacob would be blessed above Esau in material and spiritual things. This is the first prophecy of Isaac the prophet (cp. v 39-40)

10fold prophetical blessing of Jacob:

1 God give you the dew of heaven (v 28)
2 The fatness of the earth (v 28)
3 Plenty of corn (wheat, v 28, 37)
4 Plenty of wine (vineyards, v 28, 37)
5 Let people serve you (v 29)
6 Let nations bow down to you (v 29)
7 Be lord over your brethren (v 29, 37)
8 Let your brothers bow to you (v 29, 37)
9 Cursed are those who curse you (v 29)
10 Blessed are those who bless you (v 29)

g Questions 59-61. Next, v 36. Isaac was seized with a great fear which perhaps recalled to him God's purpose in the matter, so he resolved to let the blessing stand (v 33). Cp. Lk. 22:61 where Peter forgot the words of Jesus until Christ turned and looked upon him natural love for Esau was brought about by this son being very careful to gratify his father's fleshly appetite (25:28). Isaac wished to repay the many favors of Esau by this one blessing. He recognized his own lawful right as the priestly and prophetic head of his house to bless the first-born and give him all the birth-right signified; but in this case, as in that of Ephraim (48:8-22), God had commanded that the natural order be set aside and the blessing be given the one of His choice (25:23; Mal. 1:2-3; Rom. 9:11-13. born Ē'saụ.

33 And Ī'saac trembled very exceedingly, and said, Who? where is he that hath taken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and have blessed him? yea, and he shall be blessed.

(6) Esau's unavailing remorse (Heb. 12:17)

34 And when Ē'saụ heard the words of his father, he cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry, and said unto his father, Bless me, even me also, O my father.

35 And he said, Thy brother came with subtilty, and hath taken away thy blessing.

36 And he said, Is not he rightly named Jā'cob? for he hath supplanted me these two times: he took away my birthright; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?

37 And Ī'saac answered and said unto Ē'saụ, Behold, I have made him thy lord, and all his brethren have I given to him for servants; and with corn and wine have I sustained him: and what shall I do now unto thee, my son?

38 And Ē'saụ said unto his father, Hast thou but one blessing, my father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And Ē'saụ lifted up his voice, and wept.

(7) Isaac's wicked suggestion

39 And Ī'saac his father answered and said unto him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above;

40 And by thy sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother; and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.

(8) Esau's plot against Jacob

41 ¶ And Ē'saụ hated Jā'cob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and Ē'saụ said in his heart, The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jā'cob.

(9) The plot discovered

42 And these words of Ē'saụ her elder son were told to Rē-bĕk'ah: and she sent and called Jā'cob her younger son, and said unto him, Behold, thy brother Ē'saụ, as touching thee, doth comfort himself, purposing to kill thee.

(10) Rebekah's plan to save Jacob

43 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to Lā'ban my brother to Hā'ran;

44 And tarry with him a few days, until thy brother's fury turn away;

45 Until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him: then I will send, and fetch thee from thence: why should I be deprived also of you both in one day?

(11) Rebekah's appeal to Isaac

46 And Rē-bĕk'ah said to Ī'saac, I am weary of my life because of the daughters of Hĕth: if Jā'cob take a wife of the daughters of Hĕth, such as these which are of the daughters of the land, what good shall my life do me?

28 CHAPTER 28

(12) Isaac's charge to Jacob

AND Ī'saac called Jā'cob, and blessed him, and charged him, and said unto him, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Cā'năan.

2 Arise, go to Pā'dan-ā'ram, to the house of Bĕth-ụ'ĕl thy mother's father; and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Lā'ban thy mother's brother.

(13) Abrahamic Covenant confirmed in Jacob (12:1)

3 And God Almighty bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, that thou mayest be a multitude of people;

4 And give thee the blessing of Ā'brā-hăm, to thee, and to thy seed with thee; that thou mayest inherit the land wherein thou art a stranger, which God gave unto Ā'brā-hăm.

(14) Jacob escapes from Esau

5 And Ī'saac sent away Jā'cob: and he went to Pā'dan-ā'ram unto Lā'ban, son of Bĕth-ụ'el the Sўr'ĭ-an, the brother of Rē-bĕk'ah, Jā'cob's and Ē'saụ's mother.

(15) Esau's conciliatory act

6 ¶ When Ē'saụ saw that Ī'saac had blessed Jā'cob, and sent him away to Pā'dan-ā'ram, to take him a wife from thence; and that as he blessed him he gave him a charge, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Cā'năan;

7 And that Jā'cob obeyed his father and his mother, and was gone to Pā'dan-ā'ram;

8 And Ē'saụ seeing that the daughters of Cā'năan pleased not Ī'saac his father;

9 Then went Ē'saụ unto Ish'-ma-el, and took unto the wives which he had Mā'ha-lăth the daughter of Ish'ma-el Ā'brā-hăm's son, the sister of Nē-bā'-joth, to be his wife.

6fold prophetical blessing of Esau:
1 The fatness of the earth (v 39)

4 To be a servant of Jacob (v 40) 40)

h Esau possessed the land of Edom, a very fruitful place. Cp. Heb. 11:20 i The dew of heaven is a symbol of God's blessings of earth (v 28, 39; Dt. 32:2; 33:13, 28; Ps. 133:3; Pr. 3:20; 19:12; Hos. 14:5) j The Edomites (descendants of Esau) were a warring people for many generations. See note h, 25:23 k Israel ruled Edom for long periods (1 Sam. 14:47; 2 Sam. 8:14; 2 Ki. 14:7)
l Edom finally threw off the yoke of Israel (2 Ki. 8:20-22; 2 Chr. 21:8-10) m All natural men would perhaps do this under the same circumstances. Esau seemed to have passed this hatred to his offspring, for they were always ready to war with Jacob's descendants. See note h, 25:23
n This alludes to the formal, ceremonial mourning for the dead, which lasted 7 to 70 days (50:1-3, 10; I Sam. 31:13; Job 2:13)
o The information was given to Rebekah, as her partiality for Jacob was well known. Being a shrewd woman she advised against private revenge or going to Isaac about the threat. Her plan was to send Jacob away until Esau's anger cooled down and it was safe for him to return p Her few days were 20 years (31:41). She never saw Jacob again. All the family paid a bitter price for their sins, in the many years of separation k Called the Syrian 2 times (v 5; 25:20). Laban, his son, is called the same 3 times (25:20; 31:20, 24). Jacob is so-called in Dt. 26:5. Naaman the leper is the only other person so-called (2 Ki. 5:20; Lk. 4:27). The Syrian tongue was a very widespread language in the days of the kings of Israel (2 Ki. 18:26; Ezra 4:7; Isa. 36:11). The word Syria is used 77 times and Syrians 61 times of a land north of Palestine and its people who made many wars on Israel. They are mostly referred to in the books of Kings and Chronicles, as the enemies of the Jews

l 5 things Esau saw:
1 That Isaac had blessed Jacob (v 6)
2 That Jacob had been sent to Syria to take a wife (v 6)
3 That Jacob was charged not to take a wife of Canaanites (v 6)
4 That Jacob had obeyed his parents by going to Syria (v 7)
5 That Canaanite women did not please his father (v 8) m It was very convenient and profitable for Jacob to obey. He always obeyed where there was some gain to be received. Cp. 25:30-31; 27:8, 13; 31:1-13 n His going unto Ishmael means he took a wife from his descendants, for Ishmael had been dead about 15 years. He was 14 years old when Isaac was born (17:17, 24-25), and Isaac was now 138 years old. See note e, 27:1
o His first wives had been a constant grief to his parents (26:34-35; 27:46), and now he hoped to please them with wives from Abraham's son, Ishmael. Taking Mahalath meant he married his father's niece, as Jacob married his mother's niece. This was as far from the Canaanite women in the land as he could get; and it seems that this was not an act of malice but of respect p Note the 25 and's of v 10-15 a She never did fulfill this promise to Jacob. Perhaps it was never safe to bring him back, for Esau seems to have kept his hatred until Jacob prayed in all seriousness and God changed him (32:6-33:17) b Question 66. Next, v 46. She was no doubt deprived of both, for Jacob went away never to be seen by her again, and Esau probably lost respect for her because of her plots against him c If she had been concerned about both she would not have plotted against Esau. Could it be that she remembered the prophecy of 25:23 and was seeking to help God fulfill it? She could have had the law of Gen. 9:6 in mind. If Esau would kill Jacob, then he would be subject to the death penalty, which would mean she would lose both d This was perhaps her cunning way of getting Isaac to send Jacob away on a legitimate trip - one to seek a wife. She had not been thus concerned about her 77-year-old bachelor son before, as far as we know

That Jacob was 77 years old at this time seems evident from a study of several passages. It is necessary to take into account the age of his son, Joseph at the time he (Jacob) went down into Egypt with his family, and figure back to this time. From Gen. 41:46-54; 45:5-9 we learn that Joseph was 30 years old "when he stood before Pharaoh" at the beginning of 7 plenteous years. After those 7 years and 2 more years (of famine), when Joseph was 39, his brothers, their families, and their father, Jacob came down to be with him in Egypt. Jacob was then 130 years old (47:9). This means that Jacob was 91 years old when Joseph was born, in Haran. It was then that Jacob wanted to return from Haran to his own people in Canaan but Laban persuaded him to remain 6 more years (30:25-28; 31:38-41). Since the entire stay in Haran was 20 years, of which 6 were spent after Joseph's birth, then we know that Joseph was born in the 14th year of Jacob in Haran. Counting back 14 years from his age of 91 at Joseph's birth we thus find him about 77 when he first came to Haran looking for a wife. He was perhaps 78 years old when his first son was born and 97 years old when he finally returned to Isaac and Esau after the 20 years with Laban

f This blessing was freely given, after he had obtained the birthright by deceit (27:1-46). Perhaps it was needful to erase all doubt as to whether the birthright now really belonged to him g This charge was concerning the segregation of the races. Early God forbade Israel to integrate with other nations, commanding them to dwell alone and not to be reckoned among them (v 1; 24:3; Ex. 34:12-16; Num. 23:9; Dt. 7:3-4; Josh. 23:12; Ezra 9:1-10:44; Neh. 13:1-30). The failure of Esau to keep his part of the race pure was a grief to his parents (26:34-35), God cursed such carelessness in Israel (Num. 25:1-8; Judg. 3:5-8). He divided the nations into their own lands so that they could be segregated (10:5, 20, 32; 11:8-9; Dt. 32:8; Acts 17:26, note) p It was a house of God (Bethel, v 19), because he saw God in it. It was the gates of heaven because of the ladder reaching up to it q He set the stone up for a monument and anointed it to consecrate it to God as an altar (v 18). About 30 years later he repeated his solemn vow in the same place (35:14). It was customary to do this when commemorating great events. Moses did this at Sinai (Ex. 24:4). Joshua set up two monuments at Jordan (Josh. 4), and at Shechem (Josh. 24:26). Samuel set up one to witness victory over the Philistines (1 Sam. 7:12). Stones for memorials were allowed, but as idols were forbidden (Lev. 26:1; Dt. 16:22). There is an unfounded tradition that the stone Jacob set up was afterwards brought to Jerusalem, later taken to Spain, then to Ireland and finally, to Scotland. On what is supposed to be that very stone, the kings of Scotland sat when crowned. Edward I had it brought to Westminister and placed under the chair on which kings of England were to be crowned r The only recorded vow before the law of Moses, God, Himself remembered it (31:13). Vows were to be made (Lev. 23:37-38; Num. 29:39); were to be voluntary (Num. 30:2; Eccl. 5:4-6); and not to be broken (Lev. 5:4-13; 22:18-25; Num. 15:2-16; 30:2-16; Dt. 23:18-22). Be'er-shē'bā, and went toward Ha'ran.

11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.

12 And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.

13 And, behold, the LORD stood above it, and said, I am the LORD God of A'brā-hām thy father, and the God of I'saac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed;

14 And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

15 And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.

16 ¶ And Jā'cob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the LORD is in this place; and I knew it not.

17 And he was afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.

18 And Jā'cob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place Bēth'-el: but the name of that city was called Lūz at the first.

2 Jacob's conditional vow

20 And Jā'cob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

21 So that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the LORD be my God:

22 And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

CHAPTER 29 29

3 Jacob at Haran (Gen. 29:1-31:55). (1) Arrival and introduction

THEN Jā'cob went on his journey, and came into the land of the people of the east.

2 And he looked, and behold a well in the field, and, lo, there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone was upon the well's mouth.

3 And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place.

4 And Jā'cob said unto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Ha'ran are we.

5 And he said unto them, Know ye Lā'ban the son of Nā'hōr? And they said, We know him.

6 And he said unto them, Is he well? and they said, He is well: and, behold, Rā'chel his daughter cometh with the sheep.

7 And he said, Lo, it is yet high day, neither is it time that the cattle should be gathered together: water ye the sheep, and go and feed them.

8 And they said, We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep.

9 ¶ And while he yet spake with them, Rā'chel came with her father's sheep: for she kept them.

10 And it came to pass, when Jā'cob saw Rā'chel the daughter of Lā'ban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Lā'ban his mother's brother, that Jā'cob went near, and rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the flock of Lā'ban his mother's brother.

11 And Jā'cob kissed Rā'chel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.

12 And Jā'cob told Rā'chel that he was her father's brother, and that he was Rē-bĕk'ah's son: and she ran and told her father.

13 And it came to pass, when Lā'ban heard the tidings of Jā'cob his sister's son, that he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Lā'ban all these things.

14 And Lā'ban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the space of a month.

(2) Servitude to Laban (30:27). A Seven years for Rachel 15 ¶ And Lā'ban said unto Jā'cob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what shall thy wages be?

16 And Lā'ban had two daughters: the name of the elder was Lē'ah, and the name of the younger was Rā'chel.

17 Lē'ah was tender eyed; but Rā'chel was beautiful and well favoured.

18 And Jā'cob loved Rā'chel; and said, I will serve thee seven years for Rā'chel thy younger daughter.

19 And Lā'ban said, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man: abide with me.

20 And Jā'cob served seven years for Rā'chel; and they seemed unto him but a few days, for the love he had to her.

B Deceived: beat at his own game (Cp. Gen. 27)

21 ¶ And Jā'cob said unto Lā'ban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may go in unto her.

b Here the word son is used for grandson. Laban was the son of Bethuel, the son of Nahor (22:20-24; 24:15, 24, 29, 47, 50; 28:2) c This was an Eastern custom of greeting and friendship. Even men kissed men (v 13; 27:27; 33:4; 45:15; 48:10; Ex. 4:27; 18:7; 1 Sam. 20:41; Lk. 15:20; Acts 20:37)

f Heb. rak, rana, tender (18:7; 33:13; Dt. 28:54-56; 32:2; 1 Chr. 22:5; 29:1); soft (Job 41:3; Pr. 15:1; 25:15); and weak (2 Sam. 3:39). It could mean any one of these. Various translations read: no sparkle, tender, weak, timid, attractive g Heb, yaphath toar, beautiful in shape, countenance, features, and appearance. She was lively, gay, vivacious, and extremely attractive (v 17)
h In European society the father gave a dowry with his daughter. In Arabia and other Eastern countries, the father received it for his daughter. Polygamy was perhaps partly responsible for the custom. Covetous fathers were thereby enabled to make a profit by their daughters. The place women held in the household was likely another reason. One was no more than a servant of higher rank, being purchased by a master, for whom she was to toil as one inferior to himself i It was customary to give daughters in marriage to relatives more than to men of other races j It seems from the way it reads in v 18-30 that Jacob worked 7 years before Leah and Rachel were given to him, but this could not be if we are to have harmony regarding all the facts in Scripture. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30 fered in vows (Lev. 7:16-18; Dt. 12:6-26; Judg. 18:14). Certain things were forbidden to be offered (Dt. 23:18-23). See Job 22:27; Ps. 22:25; 50:14; 56:12; 61:5; 65:1; 65:13; 76:11; 116:14-19; Pr. 20:25; Nah. 1:15

n Stones were placed upon the mouths of wells to protect them from impurities and drifting sands which could soon choke them o It was customary to wait until all the flocks had gathered before opening the wells (v 3). Then the stones were taken off so the watering could begin. Wells were usually opened in the early morning and in the evening; and at such times all the people came to get their water supply. The work of carrying water was done by women except in large cities, where both men and women became water carriers. Villages were built near wells and springs for convenience, but not near enough for a household to be disturbed by the noise and dust of the crowds which were sure to be drawn to such a place. Well-stones were common as coverings, the purpose being to protect the water from impurity and shifting sands which could soon choke a well. Some of these stones were so large and heavy as to require the united strength of several men to remove them. Because of the scarcity of water in certain places constant strife and even wars have been fought over wells. Isaac and the king of Philistia had strife for many months and perhaps even years over certain wells that Isaac had dug (Gen. 26:15-33)

a It was customary to have a wedding feast for a week (v 27-28; Judg. 14:12) b She became the mother of Gad and Asher (30:10-18). Slaves given to daughters at marriage were the particular property of the wife, and over them the husband had no right or power c The bride was always veiled and the bridechamber dark. With Leah being brought to him in the evening darkness, it is possible that such deception could have passed the attention of Jacob d Questions 73-75. Next, 30:2
e Jacob had deceived others (ch. 27), and now he began to be the victim of deceptions (31:7-10, 31; 34:30; 37:28-36; 38:22; 42:1-28)
f It had not been mentioned to Jacob in making the contract, but it was a custom in the East, and even a law in some parts to give daughters in marriage according to seniority, unless the older daughter was deformed or unfit for marriage. If a father had an opportunity to give the younger in marriage advantageously, he would first do all he could to get the older one married. Until this was done the younger one could not be married. Laban took care to conceal this from Jacob until he had given Leah to him, being confident that he would do anything else required, to get Rachel. It was good dowry Laban received for both daughters. Cp. Judg. 15:2; 1 Sam. 14:49; 18:17-20, 28 g Laban appealed to Jacob not to disturb the week of feasting to which many people had been invited (v 22). He wished to keep any evidence of trouble or disappointment from the public eye, and therefore, promised Rachel also when the week was fulfilled (v 27-28) for an additional 7-years' work, if Jacob would co-operate and accept Leah. He agreed because of his great love for Rachel h He lived with Rachel during the 14 years. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30
i She became the mother of Dan and Naphtali (30:3-8)
j This was the third generation having family trouble. Sarah, Hagar, and Abraham had trouble over Isaac and Ishmael (16:1-16; 17:18; 21:9-16; Gal. 4:21-31). Isaac and Rebekah had trouble over Jacob and Esau (25:28; 27:1-46). Here we have a division between Jacob and his wives (29:31-30:43) k To hate here is an idiom meaning preference, not hatred as we understand it. See note q, Lk. 14:26
l See 7 barren women, note g, 16:1
m Reuben means behold a son - for Jehovah has looked upon my affliction of being less loved by my husband than Rachel (v 30-32). See Reuben in the Index n Simeon means hearing - because the Lord has heard that I was preferred less than Rachel and has given me another son to cause my husband to love me (v 33). See Simeon in the Index o Levi means joined - my husband will be joined to me because I have borne him three sons (v 34). See Levi in the Index p Judah means praise - I will praise Jehovah because He has given me four sons and my husband will love me (v 35). His was to be the ruling tribe and from him was to come the Messiah, the Redeemer and Governor of all nations (49:10; Isa. 9:6-7). See Judah in Index

Rending clothes (38:34)

Rending of clothes is a chief sign of mourning in the East. It is customary to lay aside jewels and fine clothing and to be clothed in sackcloth while making loud wailing. See Josh. 7:6; 1 Sam. 4:12; 2 Sam. 1:11; 3:31; 13:31; 2 Ki. 2:12; 18:37; 19:1; Ezra 9:3; Job 1:20. The ceremony of rending clothes requires the use of a knife. Cuts are first made on the right side of the upper garment for brother, sister, son, daughter, or wife, and on the left side for father or mother. Then, other garments are likewise cut. When sackcloth is used it is generally material made of the hair of goats or camels, a cloth that is very coarse and black. Such was used for straining liquids, for sacks, and customarily for mourning garments. Sometimes, in mourning, sackcloth was worn next to the skin and at other times over the outer garments, or instead of them

14 ¶ And Reu'ben went in the days of wheat harvest, and found [j]mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother Lē'ah. Then Rā'chel said to Lē'ah, Give me, I pray thee, of thy son's mandrakes.

15 And she said unto her, [k]Is it a small matter that thou hast taken my husband? and wouldest thou take away my son's mandrakes also? And Rā'chel said, Therefore he shall lie with thee to night for thy son's mandrakes.

16 And Jā'cob came out of the field in the evening, and Lē'ah went out to meet him, and said, Thou must come in unto me; for surely I have hired thee with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night.

a What the Bible says about envy:
1 Commands against envy (Ps. 37:1-7; Pr. 3:31; 24:1; 1 Pet. 2:1)
2 A work of the flesh (Rom. 1:29-31; 13:13; Gal. 5:19-21; 1 Tim. 6:4; Tit. 3:3)
3 Results of envy (Job 5:2; Pr. 14:30; 27:4; Cant. 8:6; 1 Cor. 3:3; Jas. 3:14; 5:9)
4 One thing that does not envy (1 Cor. 13:4)
5 Instances of envy (Gen. 4:4-8; 16:5-6; 21:9-10; 26:14; 30:1,15; 31:1; 37:4-11,19-20; Judg. 11:28-30; 12:1-10; 16:3; 1 Sam. 18:8-9,29; 20:31; Esther 5:13; Dan. 6:4; Mt. 27:18; Jn. 11:47; Acts 13:45; 17:5) b First record of a husband being angry with his wife. Cp. 1 Sam. 1:2-23; 2 Sam. 6:20-23; Esther 1; Job 2:10 c Question 76, Next, v 15, Cp. 50:19
d Rachel followed Sarai's policy in 16:2. Children were regarded as a special favor of God, and barrenness was considered a mark of divine displeasure. Males were especially important, to build and preserve the family tribe. The slaves and their offspring were the absolute property of the mistress e Dan means judging - for God has judged me worthy of a son by my maid (v 6). See Dan. in the Index f Naphtali means wrestling - for I have struggled with my sister for offspring and have prevailed by my maid (v 8). See Naphtali in the Index
g Rachel's policy of producing children through her maid only inspired Leah to do likewise; and by this method Jacob was able to have more sons h Gad means a troop or an army, as if this son added to Leah's other 4 would make a troop or an army (v 11)
i Asher means happiness or blessedness. Leah concluded that women would call her happy and blessed because of 6 sons now borne to Jacob by herself and her maid j A lettuce-like plant of dark green color, with purple flowers and fruit about the size of a small apple, red, and of an agreeable odor. Much used in so-called love potions, it was believed that conception was insured by eating it (30:14-16; Cant. 7:13). Arabs later called the fruit apples of Satan, for some unknown reason. Rachel fancied she needed mandrakes more than Leah who was blessed with sons after this event (v 16-21). God no doubt made her fruitful as an added lesson to Rachel whose mind was more or less occupied with this superstition. Leah became fruitful without mandrakes, while Rachel was not fruitful by eating them and having faith in the superstition a Issachar means my hire or reward, Leah reasoned that God had rewarded her for giving her maid to Jacob, and repaid her for having lost his affections to Rachel (v 17-18 with v 15) b Zebulun means dwelling or co-habitation, Leah concluded that since she and her maid had borne 8 of the 10 sons thus far, Jacob would now set his affections upon her and dwell with her as he had formerly dwelt with Rachel (v 20 with v 15) c Afterwards evidently means that in the next year she had Dinah d Dinah means vindicated, suggesting that Leah believed God was vindicating her in the struggle with Rachel over the affections of Jacob (v 21) e This indicates that Rachel, like others, was praying and struggling inwardly concerning her barrenness. See note g, 16:1. God heard her prayers (v 22) f 41st prophecy in Gen. (30:24, fulfilled in Benjamin, 35:16-20). Next, 31:3. Rachel, the prophetess predicted that she would have another son. This is the first recorded prophecy by a woman g Joseph means adding. Rachel predicted that God would add to her another son (v 24) h This proves that Leah's 6 sons and a daughter, Bilhah's 2 sons, Zilpah's 2 sons, and Rachel's first son were all born during the 14 years that Jacob lived with his wives; for when Joseph was born Jacob desired to return to Canaan, but was persuaded to continue at Haran for 6 more years (v 25-43 with 29:20-30; 31:38-42). See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30

i Polygamy is forbidden in the N. T. (Mt. 19:4-5; Mk. 10:2-8; 1 Tim. 3:2, 12; Tit. 1:6; see Acts 17:30); but was tolerated in the O. T. (Ex. 21:10; 1 Sam. 1; 2 Sam. 12:8; 2 Chr. 24:3); and practised (Gen. 4:19; 16:1-4; 25:1-6; 26:34; 28:9; 29:39; Judg. 8:30; 1 Sam. 1:2; 25:39-44; 2 Sam. 3:2-5; 5:13; 12:8; 1 Ki. 11; 1 Chr. 4:5; 14:3; Job 27:15). L The birth of Issachar

17 And God hearkened unto Lē'ah, and she conceived, and bare Jā'cob the fifth son.
18 And Lē'ah said, God hath given me my hire, because I have given my maiden to my husband: and she[a] called his name Is'sa-char.

M Birth of Zebulun and Dinah

19 And Lē'ah conceived again, and bare Jā'cob the sixth son.
20 And Lē'ah said, God hath endued me with a good dowry; now will my husband dwell with me, because I have born him six sons: and she[b] called his name Zĕb'u-lŭn.
21 And [c]afterwards she bare a daughter, and called her name [d]Dī'nah.

N The birth of Joseph

22 ¶ And God remembered Rā'chel, and [e]God hearkened to her, and opened her womb.
23 And she conceived, and bare a son; and said, God hath taken away my reproach:
*24 [f]And she [g]called his name Jō'seph; and said, The LORD shall add to me another son.

(4) Jacob desires to go home

25 ¶ And it came to pass [h]when Rā'chel had born Jō'seph, that Jā'cob said unto Lā'ban, Send me away, that I may go unto mine own place, and to my country.
26 Give me my [i]wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, and let me go: for thou knowest my service which I have done thee.

(5) Servitude to Laban (29:15). A Jacob's new contract

27 And Lā'ban said unto him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thine eyes, tarry: [j]for I have learned by experience that the LORD hath blessed me [k]for thy sake.
28 And he said, Appoint me thy wages, and I will give it.
29 And he said unto him, Thou knowest how I have served thee, and how thy cattle was with me.
30 For it was little which thou hadst before I came, and it is now increased unto a multitude; and the LORD hath blessed thee since my coming: and [l]now when shall I provide for mine own house also?
31 And he said, What shall I give thee? And Jā'cob said, Thou shalt not [m]give me any thing: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again feed and keep thy flock.
32 I will pass through all thy flock to day, [n]removing from thence all the speckled and spotted cattle, and all the brown cattle among the sheep, and the spotted and speckled among the goats: and of such shall be my hire.
33 So shall my righteousness answer for me in time to come, when it shall come for my hire before thy face: every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats, and brown among the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me.
34 And Lā'ban said, Behold, I would it might be according to thy word.

B Jacob's new starting point (Cp. 31:41)

35 [o]And he removed that day the he goats that were ringstraked and spotted, and all the she goats that were speckled and spotted, and every one that had some white in it, and all the brown among the sheep, and gave them into the hand of [p]his sons.
36 And he set [q]three days' journey betwixt himself and Jā'cob: and Jā'cob fed the [r]rest of Lā'ban's flocks.

C Tampering with nature

37 ¶ [s]And Jā'cob took him rods of green poplar, and of the hazel and chesnut tree; and [t]pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appear which was in the rods.
38 And he set the rods which he had pilled before the flocks in the gutters in the watering troughs when the flocks came to drink, that they should conceive when they came to drink.
39 And the flocks [u]conceived before the rods, and brought forth cattle ringstraked, speckled, and spotted.
40 And Jā'cob did separate the lambs, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ringstraked, and all the brown in the flock of Lā'ban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not unto Lā'ban's cattle.
41 And it came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that Jā'cob laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods.
42 But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in: so the feebler were Lā'ban's, and the stronger Jā'cob's.
43 And the man [v]increased exceedingly, and had much cattle, and maidservants, and menservants, and camels, and asses.

31 CHAPTER 31

(6) Jealousy of Laban's sons

AND he heard the words of Lā'ban's sons, saying, Jā'cob hath [w]taken away all that was our father's; and of that which was our father's hath he gotten all this glory.
2 And Jā'cob beheld the [x]countenance of Lā'ban, and, behold, it was not toward him as before.
3 [y]And the LORD [z]said unto Jā'cob, [aa]Return unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred; and I will be with thee.◂★
4 And Jā'cob sent and called Rā'chel and Lē'ah to the field unto his flock, a Laban agreed to Jacob's terms, but removed all these colors from the flocks for himself at the beginning of the agreement, thinking that no more would be produced by the ones left to Jacob. This way he would have the services of Jacob for little or nothing. Thus, Jacob began with flocks containing not one of the kind he had requested for his wages b How many sons Laban had is not known. Jacob had 11 by this time (30:22-28) c This would be about 50 miles from Jacob d All the flocks separated from the kind which Jacob was to receive as wages (v 31-35) e Here Jacob tampered with nature but whether this caused him any prosperity is not certain, for 31:4-13 indicates that God was helping him. Laban had deceived him, changing his wages 10 times, but God saw to it that Jacob received his just compensation (31:5, 7, 9, 11-12)

f Lit., peeled a peeling, meaning he made white stripes in the rods by laying the white wood bare (v 37) g Heb., be in heat. Used of animals except in Ps. 51:5
h See 32:13-23; 33:8, 17; 37:12-17
i Laban was an unjust and covetous man. His treatment of Jacob from the first was shameful. There was no ground for this jealousy, for he was greatly enriched through Jacob who had been the means of raising Laban's family to importance as compared to former times

1 Cain (Gen. 4:5-6)
2 Laban (Gen. 31:2-5)
3 Hazael (2 Ki. 8:11)
4 Nehemiah (Neh. 2:2-3)
5 Belshazzar (Dan. 5:6, 9-10)
6 Daniel (Dan. 7:28)
7 Christ (Lk. 9:29)
8 Moses (2 Cor. 3:7)

Anger (4:5-6); jealousy (31:2-5); greed (2 Ki. 8:11); sorrow (Neh. 2:2-3; Eccl. 7:3); fear (Dan. 5:6-10; 7:28); rebuke (Ps. 80:15); merry heart (Pr. 15:13); and transfiguration of body are the main causes of changed countenances (Ps. 42:11; 43:5; Dan. 1:13-15; Lk. 9:29)

k 42nd prophecy in Gen. (31:3, fulfilled). Next, 32:9
l In the days before God raised up prophets to speak to His people, He, Himself spoke directly to them and revealed His will. The exact method He used in each case is not stated, but in some instances it was by visions (15:1; 46:2) and dreams (20:3, 6; 28:12; 31:10-11, 24; 37:5-10; 37:5-10; 40:5-16; 41:7-32; 42:9). At times He filled messengers with the Holy Spirit and spoke through them in their own language the messages He wished to be given (Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-3; 2 Pet. 1:21). At other times God's Word came by revelation in various ways, and even with an audible voice (Dt. 5:4, 22-28). In many ways God made His will known to man, but regardless of the method He used, it was always clear when it was the revelation of God, making known His will to man. Up to this time of Jacob we have several definite predictions of God to men. The first 3 prophecies were by an audible voice to Adam (3:14-19)

First prophecies of Scripture:

1 To Adam in an audible voice (3:14-19)
2 To Cain in an audible voice (4:12)
3 To Enoch (method unknown, Jude 4 To Adam or Enoch (6:3,7) 14-15)
5 To Noah in an audible voice (6:13, 17; 7:4; 8:21; 9:9, 25)
6 To Abraham in an audible voice, vision; and perhaps other means (12:1, 7; 13:14; 15:1, 4, 13, 18; 16:10; 17:2, 4, 15, 19; 18:10, 14, 17; 21:12, 18; 22:8, 16; 24:6, 40) 23) 7 To Rebekah in an audible voice (25:
8 To Isaac in an audible voice (26:2, 24; 27:28, 37, 39; 28:3) 9 To Jacob in vision and other means (28:13; 30:24; 31:3; 32:9; 35:11; 46:3; 48:4, 15, 19; 49:3) m The land of promise, or the land promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the Abrahamic covenant (12:1-3, 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:8; 26:3-4; 28:13-15). God fulfilled this prophecy in Jacob by being with him in all his dangers (31:11-49:33). His kindred were Isaac and Esau a This conduct of Jacob is an admirable example of domestic management. As husband and father he had the right to decide upon his own plans for the family, but instead of exercising that right, he wisely called his wives and revealed his plans to them, obtaining their full co-operation (v 5-21)

b Deceit is falsehood (Ps. 119:118). It comes from the heart (Jer. 17:9; Mk. 7:22; Rom. 3:13). God abhors it (Ps. 5:6) and forbids it (Job 27:4; 31:5; Pr. 24:28; 1 Pet. 3:10). All saints are free from it (Ps. 24:4; Isa. 53:9; Zeph. 3:13; 1 Pet. 2:22; Rev. 14:5). It is to be shunned (Ps. 43:1; 72:14; 101:7; 120:2; Eph. 5:6; Col. 2:8), and laid aside (2 Cor. 4:2; 1 Th. 2:3; 1 Pet. 2:1). Scripture refers to the wicked and deceit (Ps. 10:7; 35:20; 36:3; 38:12; Pr. 11:18; 12:5; 20:17; Jer. 9:5; 37:9; 2 Tim. 3:13); false teachers and deceit (Job 15:35; Pr. 12:17; Jer. 14:14; 23:26; Rom. 16:18; 2 Cor. 11:13; Eph. 4:14; 2 Pet. 2:13; 2 Th. 2; 2 Jn. 7); evils of deceit (Ps. 10:7; 24:4-5; 32:2; 55:23; Pr. 14:8, 25; 26:24; 27:6; Jer. 8:5; 9:6)

God demands absolute truth in the inward parts and absolute justice and honesty in all dealings between fellowmen. It is in the hidden parts that God wants righteousness and not outwardly only (Ps. 51:6). To this end His program in the gospel is that the inward man be renewed and perfected more and more, day by day (2 Cor. 4:16). This is the acid test of character (Ps. 15)

e Questions 61-82, Next, v 26

f In obedience to God (v 3)

g No mention is made here of his mother, Rebekah. Perhaps Jacob knew of her death h Heb. teraphim, family idols. What they were like is not known, but they were small or Rachel could not have hid them as she did (v 34). This shows that Abraham's relatives were still idolaters and affirms that his family served idols in Babylon before settling in Haran (Josh. 24:1-4)

i The river Euphrates

j About 300 miles south of Haran on the east of Jordan (Num. 32:40; Dt. 3:12-16; 34:1; Josh. 12:5; 13:11; 17:1; Judg. 20:1; 2 Ki. 10:33)

k It was about 300 miles to the place where Laban caught up with him in 7 days (v 22-23). This would be an average of about 43 miles a day on swift dromedaries. It would have taken Jacob 10 days at 30 miles a day with his family and stock

4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately (29:20)

1 In v 21 Jacob did not say, "Give me my wife, for my years are fulfilled," He said plainly, "for my days are fulfilled," implying a certain number of days from the time the contract was made until he could actually have Rachel. The number was always left up to the contracting parties. It could not have been 7 years of waiting to fulfill the marriage contract. These years of service were the total dowry, and not the customary waiting period. The few days could have been the month of v 14, and the contract could have been made at the beginning of these 30 days

2 From v 27-30 we learn that Jacob received both wives within a week of each other. Regarding Leah, he was to "fulfil her week" (v 27) and then Rachel would be given to him. Verse 28 states clearly: "Jacob did so, and fulfilled her week: and he (Laban) gave him Rachel his daughter to wife also." Since it can be proved that Leah became his wife at the beginning of the total 14-year dowry period, then we know that Rachel became his wife also at that time

3 It is unreasonable to believe that Jacob received Leah (and Rachel a week later) at the end of the first 7-year period, because that would not give time enough for so many children to be born. The last son of Jacob's before returning to Canaan was Joseph, born the 14th year of his father's 20-year stay in Haran. At his birth Jacob desired to return to Canaan, but was persuaded to remain 6 more years (30:24-28; 31:41). We know then, that all the other children had to be born in either a 7-year

5 And said[a] unto them, I see your father's countenance, that it is not toward me as before; but the God of my father hath been with me.

6 And ye know that with all my power I have served your father.

7 And your father hath [b]deceived me, and changed my wages ten times; but God suffered him not to hurt me.

8 If he said thus, The speckled shall be thy wages; then all the cattle bare speckled: and if he said thus, The ringstraked shall be thy hire; then bare all the cattle ringstraked.

9 Thus God hath taken away the cattle of your father, and given them to me.

10 And it came to pass at the time that the cattle conceived, that I lifted up mine eyes, and saw in a dream, and, behold, the rams which leaped upon the cattle were ringstraked, speckled, and grisled.

(7) Call back to Canaan

■11 And the angel of God spake unto me in a [c]dream, saying, Jā'cob: And I said, Here am I.

●12 And he said, Lift up now thine eyes, and see, all the rams which leap upon the cattle are ringstraked, speckled, and grisled: for I have seen all that Lā'ban doeth unto thee.

●13 I am the God of Bĕth'-ĕl, where thou anointedst the pillar, and[d] where thou vowedst a vow unto me: now arise, get thee out from this land, and return unto the land of thy kindred.

(8) Jacob's flight

14 And Rā'chel and Lē'ah answered and said unto him, [e]Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house?

15 Are we not counted of him strangers? for he hath sold us, and hath quite devoured also our money.

16 For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours, and our children's: now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.

17 ¶ Then Jā'cob [f]rose up, and set his sons and his wives upon camels;

18 And he carried away all his cattle, and all his goods which he had gotten, the cattle of his getting, which he had gotten in Pā'dan-ā'ram, [g]for to go to I'ṣaac his father in the land of Cā'nāan.

19 And Lā'ban went to shear his sheep: and Rā'chel had stolen the [h]images that were her father's.

20 And Jā'cob stole away unawares to Lā'ban the Sўr'ĭ-an, in that he told him not that he fled.

21 So he fled with all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the [i]river, and set his face toward the [j]mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

(9) Jacob pursued by Laban

22 And it was told Lā'ban on the [k]third day that Jā'cob was fled.

23 And he took his brethren with him, and pursued after him seven days' journey; and they overtook him in the mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

(10) God protects Jacob

■24 And God came to Lā'ban the Sўr'ĭ-an in a [c]dream by night, and said unto him, Take heed that thou speak not to Jā'cob either good or bad.

25 ¶ Then Lā'ban overtook Jā'cob. Now Jā'cob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Lā'ban with his brethren pitched in the mount of Gĭl'e-ăd.

26 And Lā'ban said to Jā'cob, [l]What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and carried away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword?

27 Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and steal away from me; and didst not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, with tabret, and with [d]harp?

28 And hast not suffered me to kiss my sons and my daughters? thou hast now done foolishly in so doing.

●29 It is in the power of my hand to do you hurt: but the God of your father spake unto me yesternight, saying, Take thou heed that thou speak not to Jā'cob either good or bad.

(11) Accusation and search

30 And now, though thou wouldest needs be gone, because thou sore longedst after thy father's house, yet [e]wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?

31 And Jā'cob answered and said to Lā'ban, [f]Because I was afraid: for I said, Peradventure thou wouldest take by force thy daughters from me.

32 With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, let him not live: before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jā'cob knew not that Rā'chel had stolen them.

33 And Lā'ban went into Jā'cob's tent, and into Lē'ah's tent, and into the two maidservants' tents; but he found them not. Then went he out of Lē'ah's tent, and entered into Rā'chel's tent.

34 Now Rā'chel had taken the images, and put them in the camel's furniture, and sat upon them. And Lā'ban searched all the tent, but found them not.

35 And she said to her father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot rise up before thee; for the [g]custom of women is upon me. And he searched, but found not the images.

(12) Jacob argues with Laban

36 ¶ And Jā'cob was wroth, and chode with Lā'ban: and Jā'cob answered and said to Lā'ban, [h]What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?

37 Whereas thou hast searched all my stuff, what hast thou found of all thy household stuff? [i]set it here before my brethren

b Questions 83-85, Next, v 30

c Heb. ṭoph, tambourine. It is translated tabret (v 27; 1 Sam. 10:5; 18:6; Isa. 5:12; 24:8; 30:32; Jer. 31:4; Ezek. 28:13) and timbrel (Ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:34; 2 Sam. 6:5; 1 Chr. 13:8; Job 21:12; Ps. 68:25; 81:2; 149:3; 150:4) d Heb. kinnor, a stringed instrument. See note j, Ps. 33:2

e In reality he had no power to hurt Jacob, for God was protecting him (28:15; 31:3)

f Question 86, Next, v 36. Laban evidently went home to inquire of his gods and found them missing. Perhaps Rachel had taken them so that he could not inquire about their flight. This is the last of his dishonest speech. He had set out to compel Jacob to return. In consequence of the divine warning he had abandoned that intention, so now tried to put Jacob in the wrong

g The cause of Jacob's action

h No such custom is ever recorded, but the camel's furniture could refer to a couch which was used as a bed at night, or to a chair or cage covered with a canopy and held up by poles between 2 camels, in travel

i Questions 87-89, Next, v 43. Jacob held his peace until all his stuff had been searched and Laban's anger somewhat cooled down by his failure to find his gods. Then, knowing that God had intervened for him he was not afraid to talk back, even though the strength of Laban's band may have been the greater j Jacob proposed to settle his differences with Laban in true oriental fashion. He reviewed all the injustices done him while in Haran for 20 years (v 38-42) and evidently proved he had a strong case against Laban, for he soon became willing for a peaceful settlement or a 14-year period. These facts establish it as the full 14-year period. Leah, herself had 7 children, 6 sons and a daughter before Joseph was born (30:20-21). Furthermore, she had a period when she "left bearing" after having 4 sons (29:35; 30:9). During this unfruitful time which was no doubt at least 2 years, she gave Zilpah, her maid, to Jacob that she might have more children through her. Zilpah bore 2 sons before Leah, herself began to hear again. It would have been impossible to account for Leah's 7 children and a 2-year unfruitful period in 7 years. We conclude then, that Jacob received his wives at the beginning of the entire 14-year dowry period

4 Judah could not have been born in the second 7-years, for the events of ch. 38 related to his life and supposed to take place before his family went down into Egypt, required more time. His father, Jacob was 97 when they left Haran (note d, 27:46), and 130 when they entered Egypt (47:9). This gave the family only 33 years back in Canaan; and during that time Judah married, had a son named Er, who took a wife and then died. Judah later, supposing Er's widow to be a harlot, went to her and she gave birth to twins by him. According to Gen. 46:12, those twins were old enough that one of them (Pharez) was married and had 2 sons by the time the whole tribe followed Joseph into Egypt. Judah, who was the 4th son, was perhaps born in the 5th year of Jacob's married life. Counting that Jacob took his wives at the first of the first 7-years of his 20-year stay in Haran, and judging that Judah was born at the end of the first 5 years it would make this 4th son 15 when his father took him to Canaan. His 15 years added to the 33 years the family stayed in Canaan would allow a total of 48 years for these 4 generations to come into being: Judah, Er, Pharez, and the 2 sons of Pharez, Judah, Er, and Pharez would be around 15 or 16 years old at marriage. If we tried to make the time of Judah's birth in the second 7-years though, we should lose 7 years, make him 8 instead of 15 when he went to Canaan, and thereby force all these births and marriages into a 41-year period, which is not enough. We must conclude therefore, that Jacob took his wives at the beginning of the entire 14-year dowry period, working for Laban to pay the dowry while living with both Leah and Rachel a There is no ground for the theory that Jacob was in Haran two 20-year periods (v 38,41). See note e, 27:2; note h, 29:28

b Eastern shepherds were often away from home for weeks at a time
c See 29:18, 20, 27, 30
d The 6 years began when Joseph was born (30:25-34)
e Used twice by Jacob (v 7, 41)
f Perhaps Jacob was warning Laban that Isaac was still alive and could take vengeance on him if his son was harmed g Laban had no rightful claim on these things, but may have thought he could take them by force if he wanted to h Question 90, Next, 32:17
i Covenants of Scripture were:
1 Sacred (Josh. 9:18; Gal. 3:15-17)
2 Binding (Josh. 9:18; Gal. 3:15-17)
3 Upheld with penalty for breaking (Lev. 26; Dt. 28; 2 Sam. 21:1-6; Jer. 34:8-22; Ezek. 17:13-19) 4 Ratified by:
(1) Oaths (note k, 22:16)
(2) Blood of animals (15:9-17; 31:43-53; Ex. 24:8; Heb. 9:19-22)
(3) Feasts (21:26-31; 26:30-31; 31:46, 54) 53)
(4) Monuments (28:16-22; 31:43-
(5) Raising hands (Ezra 10:10. Cp. Gen. 14:22)
(6) Plucking off shoes (Ruth 4:7-8)
(7) Blood of Christ (Mt. 26:28; Heb. 9:11-22; 13:11-12, 20)
Concerning the old covenant, the 10-commandments written on stone were kept in a special box (ark) which had a mercy seat on it as a constant reminder of God's presence and of man's obligation to obey it (Num. 10:33; 14:44; Dt. 10:8; Josh. 3:3-17; etc.). The new covenant has an eternal ark (Heb. 8:1-6; 9:1-22; Rev. 11:19). See 15 covenants, p. 57 and 22 covenants, p. 19
j 2 stones of Jacob:
1 A monument of his covenant with God (28:18)
2 A monument of his covenant with Laban (31:45)
Each man present gathered a stone as a personal token of the covenant (v 46-52) k Eating was a sign of friendship. If an Arab chief ate with you it was said, there is salt between us, meaning we are friends. Refusal to eat would signify that one was an enemy l Chaldee, heap of witnesses (v 48)
m Heb., heap of witnesses (v 48) n Heb., beacon or watch tower, a place of separation. It was Laban's name for the monument - a place or a witness that the Lord would watch between them while absent from each other (v 49). It signified that neither people would pass this boundary line to make war on the other (v 50-53). History shows that this covenant was broken many times by both peoples. See note on wars, victories, and defeats of Israel, p. 635
o The heap was gathered by Laban (v 46); the pillar was set up by Jacob (v 45, 52) p Abraham and Nahor were sons of Terah (11:27). Terah started with Abraham to the land of promise (11:31). This proves further that Terah was converted to Abraham's God. Laban's gods were stolen by Rachel and he was left without any (31:30-35) q This was the second time Jacob used this term (v 42, 53). He either referred to the God whom Isaac feared, or to the power of Isaac who had thousands of servants, among them hundreds of trained soldiers he had inherited from Abraham (25:5; note f, 12:5)

6 acts of God (32:25)

1 Wrestled (v 24-25) 25)
2 Saw - understood by experience (v
3 Touched - causing Jacob's thigh to be out of joint (v 25)
4 Said - talked (4 times; v 26-29)
5 Changed Jacob's name (v 28) and thy brethren, that they may judge betwixt us both.

38 This [a]twenty years have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she goats have not cast their young, and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.

39 That which was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it; of my hand didst thou require it, whether stolen by day, or stolen by night.

40 Thus I was; in the day the drought consumed me, and the frost by night; and [b]my sleep departed from mine eyes.

41 Thus have I been twenty years in thy house; I served thee [c]fourteen years for thy two daughters, and [d]six years for thy cattle: and thou hast changed my wages [e]ten times.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of A'bră-hăm, [f]and the fear of I'saac, had been with me, surely thou hadst sent me away now empty. God hath seen mine affliction and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee yesternight.

(13) The covenant of peace

43 ¶ And Lā'ban answered and said unto Jā'cob, These daughters are my daughters, and these children are my children, and these cattle are my cattle, [g]and all that thou seest is mine: [h]and what can I do this day unto these my daughters, or unto their children which they have born?

44 Now therefore come thou, let us make a [i]covenant, I and thou; and let it be for a witness between me and thee.

45 And Jā'cob took a [i]stone, and set it up for a pillar.

46 And Jā'cob said unto his brethren, Gather stones; and they took stones, and made an heap: and they did [k]eat there upon the heap.

47 And Lā'ban called it [l]Jē'gar-să-hă-dū'thă: but Jā'cob called it [m]Găl'e-ĕd.

48 And Lā'ban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Găl'e-ĕd;

49 And [n]Miz'pah; for he said, The LORD watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another.

50 If thou shalt afflict my daughters, or if thou shalt take other wives beside my daughters, no man is with us; see, God is witness betwixt me and thee.

51 And Lā'ban said to Jā'cob, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I have cast betwixt me and thee:

52 This [o]heap be witness, and this pillar be witness, that I will not pass over this heap to thee, and that thou shalt not pass over this heap and this pillar unto me, for harm.

53 The God of A'bră-hăm, and the God of Nā'hôr, the [p]God of their father, judge betwixt us. And Jā'cob sware [q]by the fear of his father I'saac.

(14) Feast and the parting

54 Then Jā'cob offered sacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eat bread: and they did eat bread, and tarried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning Lā'ban rose up, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and blessed them: and Lā'ban departed, and returned unto his place.

32 CHAPTER 32

4 Jacob's second vision (28:10)

AND Jā'cob went on his way, and [a]the angels of God met him.

2 And when Jā'cob saw them, he said, This is God's host: and he called the name of that place [b]Mā-hă-nā'im.

5 Jacob's reconciliation with Esau. (1) Desired

3 And Jā'cob [c]sent messengers before him to Ē'sau his brother unto the land of Sē'ir, the country of E'dom.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Ē'sau; Thy servant Jā'cob saith thus, I have sojourned with Lā'ban, and stayed there until now:

5 And I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants: and I have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.

6 ¶ And the messengers returned to Jā'cob, saying, We came to thy brother Ē'sau, and also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

(2) Prayer of distress

7 Then Jā'cob was [d]greatly afraid and distressed: and he divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and herds, and the camels, [e]into two bands;

8 And said, If Ē'sau come to the one company, and smite it, then the other company which is left shall escape.

9 ¶ And Jā'cob said, O God of my father A'bră-hăm, and God of my father I'saac, the LORD which [f]saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee:

10 I am [g]not worthy of the least of all the mercies, and of all the truth, which thou hast shewed unto thy servant; [h]for with my staff I passed over this Jôr'dan; [i]and now I am become two bands.

11 [j]Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Ē'sau: [k]for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, and the mother with the children.

12 And thou [l]saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

b Heb., two camps. The hosts of heaven met Jacob to assure him of the promised protection as he entered Canaan (28:15). They became visible as two hosts, one on each side of Jacob's company, or one band for each part of his family when they were divided (v 7-8) c Jacob sent messengers before him to make his return to Canaan known to Esau and to show desire for a reconciliation with him (v 3-6) d The coming of Esau with 400 men was hard to understand apart from hostile intentions (v 6). Jacob gave evidence of his great fear by dividing the family, wrestling all night with God, alone, earnestly pleading His promises, praying in humility for deliverance from Esau, and making a gift to him of several bands as if to mitigate Esau's anger by degrees. Cp. 3, 6, 7-8, 9-12, 13-21, 24-32
e He did so as if committing a band to each of the hosts of God which had appeared to him (note b, above) f 43rd prophecy in Gen. (32:9, fulfilled). Next, v 12. A repetition of a prophecy by God in 31:3
g The first time Jacob confessed his unworthiness of God's blessings. He had a number of experiences that finally brought him to the point of surrender to God and to helplessness without Him. Now it was his privilege to meet God face to face and become a prince of God (v 24-32)
h This proves that he went alone to Haran i He had become wealthy in his own right. What he had now and what he later inherited from Isaac made him a very rich man j For the first time Jacob prayed for deliverance. He had fled from Esau (27:41-46; 28:1-6; 35:7), and from Laban (31:17-23); now he had to face Esau not knowing the outcome, but solely depending upon God to fulfill His promises (28:13-15; 31:3; 32:9, 12) k The visions of 28:12; 31:3; 32:1 did not entirely allay the fears of Jacob. Conscience made him a coward. He knew his past deceits full well and naturally feared those whom he had wronged

10 facts about deceit:

1 It is falsehood (Ps. 119:118)
2 It comes from the heart (Mk. 7:22)
3 Characteristic of the heart (Jer. 17:
4 God abhors it (Ps. 5:6) 9)
5 Forbidden (Pr. 24:28; 1 Pet. 3:10)
6 Christ free from it (1 Pet. 2:22)
7 Warned to beware of those who teach and practice it (Eph. 5:6; Col. 2:8)
8 Must be laid aside (2 Cor. 4:2; 1 Pet. 2:1)
9 False teachers are workers of (2 Cor. 11:13; Jer. 14:14; 23:26)
10 False witnesses use it (Pr. 12:17)

10 facts - wicked and deceit:

1 Wicked are full of it (Rom. 1:29)
2 Devise it (Job 15:35; Ps. 35:20; 38: 3 Utter it (Ps. 10:7; 36:3) 12)
4 Work at it (Pr. 11:18)
5 Increase in it (2 Tim. 3:13)
6 Use it on each other (Jer. 9:5)
7 Use it on themselves (Jer. 37:9)
8 Delight in it (Pr. 20:17)
9 Impose on others by it (Rom. 16:18)
10 Sport themselves with it (2 Pet. 2:13)

10 evils of deceit:

1 Hinders knowledge of God (Jer. 9:6)
2 Keeps men from God (Jer. 8:5)
3 Leads to pride and sin (Jer. 5:27-28)
4 Leads to lying (Pr. 14:25) 7; 43:1)
5 Causes fraud and injustice (Ps. 10:
6 Conceals hate (Pr. 26:24-26)
7 Conceives evil plans (Ps. 50:19)
8 Encourages sin (Pr. 20:17)
9 Defiles the soul (Mk. 7:22)
10 Causes hardening in sin (Heb. 3:13) c According to modern standards, Jacob's gifts to Esau totalled $22,500.00 as follows:

200 she-goats	$4,000.00
20 he-goats	400.00
200 ewes	4,000.00
20 rams	400.00
30 milch camels and colts	3,750.00
40 kine	7,000.00
10 bulls	3,250.00
20 she-asses	1,000.00
10 foals (young asses)	500.00
Total	$24,300.00

e A stream 65 miles long. It begins in the Hauran mountains and empties into Jordan about 30 miles below Lake Galilee. It was the boundary line between the kingdoms of Sihon and Og (Josh. 12:2; Judg. 11:13-32). Afterwards it was the boundary between Reuben and Manasseh (Dt. 3:16; Josh. 12:2)

f 6 men left alone with God, p. 31

g Heb. abaq, to grapple or struggle with. It is not the same word used in 30:8, which refers more to mental struggles (Cp. Eph. 6:12). Here it refers to actual bodily wrestling, proving that God has a body and can be seen, felt, handled, and touched bodily like a man or angel (v 24-32)

h How long the bodily struggle went on is uncertain. It was not all night, as is generally believed, for he had retired for the night and later, becoming restless, arose to move his family over Jabbok (v 21-22). How long it took to do this is not known. Perhaps it was toward morning when God began wrestling with him

10 proofs of bodily wrestling:

1 God grappled bodily with Jacob. See note g, v 24

2 If Jacob struggled in prayer only, as the wrestling referred to in Eph. 6:12, then it could be understood that it was with something invisible and intangible, but since a Man grappled with his human body, as stated, then invisibility must not be the idea. The word for Man here is the Heb. ish, which is used of God in Ex. 15:3; Josh. 5:13; Dan. 10:5; 12:6-7; Zech. 1:8; etc. It was not Jacob grappling with a man, but a Man approaching and grappling with him first (v 24), which surely speaks of more than an invisible presence

3 It is clear from Hos. 12:3-4 that prayer was only a part of Jacob's experience. Not only does this passage say "he wept, and made supplication unto him," but also that he "had power over the angel." Like Daniel he was touched by a hand and was bodily affected (v 25-26, 30; Dan. 10:10, 16, 18)

4 The Heb. abaq meaning to grapple or wrestle, also means to float away, but is so used only of dust. Hence, its use here could only mean to raise dust by wrestling, proving the struggle between the Man and Jacob was a bodily contest

5 When the Man saw that He prevailed not against Jacob in the wrestling, He touched (Heb. naga, to lay a hand upon, strike, smite) the hollow of his thigh and dislocated it, proving further that the struggle was bodily. With what did the Man touch him if not with His hand, a bodily part? The word touch is used 48 times and only of literal, bodily contact (3:3; 20:6; Ex. 19:12-13; etc.)

6 The only other place in the O.T. where wrestling is mentioned is in Gen. 30:8; and there it is a different Heb. word from the one used here and could mean a mental struggle. Here, in 32:24-25 it clearly means a bodily struggle, for when the Man touched the hollow of his thigh, Jacob's thigh was out of joint. This was indeed a physical handicap, the result of physical grappling and not the outcome of spiritual struggles. Having one's bone actually thrown out of joint is unheard of in spiritual warfare

7 We read that the Man said, "Let me go," and Jacob replied, "I will not let thee go, except thou bless me" (v ent for Ê'sąu his brother;

14 Two hundred she goats, and twenty he goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams, 15 [c]Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and ten bulls, twenty she asses, and ten foals.

16 And he delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by themselves; and said unto his servants, Pass over before me, and put a space betwixt drove and drove.

17 And he commanded the foremost, saying, When Ê'sąu my brother meeteth thee, and asketh thee, saying, [b]Whose art thou? and whither goest thou? and whose are these before thee?

18 Then thou shalt say, They be thy servant Jā'cob's: it is[a] present sent unto my lord Ê'sąu: and, behold, also he is behind us.

19 And so commanded he the second, and the third, and all that followed the droves, saying, On this manner shall ye speak unto Ê'sąu, when ye find him.

20 And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant Jā'cob is behind us. For he said, [d]I will appease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will accept of me.

21 So went the present over before him: and himself lodged that night in the company.

22 And he rose up that night, and took his two wives, and his two womenservants, and his eleven sons, and passed over the ford [e]Jăb'bŏk.

23 And he took them, and sent them over the brook, and sent over that he had.

(4) Jacob wrestles with God

24 ¶ And Jā'cob was [f]left alone; and there [g]wrestled a man with him [h]until the breaking of the day.

25 And when [i]he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jā'cob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him.

26 And he said, Let me go, [j]for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

27 And he said unto him, [k]What is thy name? And he said, [l]Jā'cob.

28 And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jā'cob, but [m]Is'ra-el: for as a [n]prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.

29 And Jā'cob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, [o]Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And Jā'cob called the name of the place [p]Pĕ-nī'el: for [q]I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved.

31 And as he passed over Pĕ-nū'el the sun rose upon him, and he [r]halted upon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Is'ra-el eat not of the [a]sinew which shrank, which is upon the hollow of the thigh, unto this day: because he touched the hollow of Jā'cob's thigh in the sinew that shrank.

33 CHAPTER 33

(5) Reconciliation effected

AND Jā'cob lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, Ê'sąu came, and [b]with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto Lē'ah, and unto Rā'chel, and unto the two handmaids.

2 And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Lē'ah and her children after, and [c]Rā'chel and Jō'şeph hindermost.

3 And he passed over before them, and [d]bowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.

4 And Ê'sąu ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept.

5 And he lifted up his eyes, and saw the women and the children; and said, [e]Who are those with thee? And he said, The children which God hath graciously given thy servant.

6 Then the handmaidens came near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves.

7 And Lē'ah also with her children came near, and bowed themselves: and after came Jō'şeph near and Rā'chel, and they bowed themselves.

8 And he said, What meanest thou by all this drove which I met? And he said, These are to find grace in the sight of my lord.

9 And Ê'sąu said, I [f]have enough, my brother; keep that thou hast unto thyself.

10 And Jā'cob said, Nay, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, then receive my present at my hand: for therefore I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me.

11 Take, I pray thee, my blessing that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough. And he urged him, and [g]he took it.

12 And he said, Let us take our journey, and let us go, and I will go before thee.

13 And he said unto him, [h]My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds with young are with me: and if men should overdrive them one day, all the flock will die.

14 Let my lord, I pray thee, pass over before his servant: and I will lead on softly, according as the cattle that goeth before me and the children be able to endure, until I come unto my lord unto Sē'ir.

15 And Ê'sąu said, Let me now leave with thee some of the folk that are with me. And he said, [i]What needeth it? [j]let me find grace in the sight of a Not only was his thigh dislocated by the blow God gave him (v 25), but the sinew shrank (v 32). The hip bone perhaps went back into place and the sinew stayed shrunken enough to cause the limp of v 31

b He brought this many men to take vengeance as he had vowed in 27:41, or to honor Jacob, or to make a show of his own power. If vengeance was the motive, God changed his mind. If to honor or show power, he had the satisfaction of seeing his brother greatly humbled before him (v 3). 400 soldiers were 82 more than the number Abraham had in his war with the kings of the East (14:14). This indicates several thousands were in his kingdom. Though he failed morally otherwise, Esau did show manly traits in burying his resentments, and forgetting his injuries. His forgiveness seems to have been complete

f Proving that God had also blessed Esau, as predicted by Isaac in 27:39-40

g The acceptance of a gift under such circumstances was a token and pledge of peace. Absolute refusal would have indicated intentions of hostility and revenge, so Esau took it (v 11)

h Jacob really did not desire to go to Seir. He knew that Canaan was the country given to him by covenant promise. He never did go to Seir

i Question 98. Next, 34:23

j Jacob was perhaps still distrustful of Esau. He, himself had practised cunning and deception and now was harassed by the fear of others, when in reality there was no cause. He did plan to visit Esau, but possibly circumstances later made it impractical. As soon as Esau left, Jacob built Succoth on the east of Jordan by Jabbok before entering Canaan

20). How could Jacob have such a hold on another if not by bodily grasp? An invisible presence could go without being "let go" as requested here, but a bodily presence could be thus limited

8 Jacob prevailed bodily with God, for when the Man "saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh" (v 24-25). In the finish of the struggle Jacob still prevailed (v 28) and that bodily with another who with a bodily member touched his body at the thigh

9 The One whom Jacob was "left alone" with could wrestle (v 24); see (v 25); touch (v 25); speak, think, discern, reason, and exercise power (v 27-29), which proves personality and bodily members. It is only logical then, to believe that the wrestling was bodily, as recorded

10 Jacob saw God or the Man face to face (v 30). This means he wrestled with a bodily form that had a face. Others have seen God face to face, as men speak with men (4:14; Ex. 33:11; Num. 14:14; Dt. 34:10; Judg. 6:22; Dan. 10:6; etc.). All men shall see God's face eventually (Rev. 22:4). It is logical therefore to believe the record as written, which shows Jacob and God wrestling as Man with man. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

17 And Jā'cob journeyed to Sŭc'coth, and built him [c]an house, and made booths for his cattle: therefore the name of the place is called [d]Sŭc'coth.
18 ¶ And Jā'cob came to [e]Shā'lem, a city of Shē'chem, which is in the land of Cā'năan, when he came from Pā'dan-ā'ram; and pitched his tent before the city.
19 And he bought a parcel of a field, where he had spread his tent, at the hand of the children of Hā'mor, Shē'chem's father, for an [f]hundred pieces of money.
20 And he erected there [g]an altar, and called it [h]Ĕl-e-lō'hē-Ĭs'ra-el.

34 CHAPTER 34

7 Jacob's troubles in Canaan (Gen. 34-35). (1) Dinah's disgrace

AND [a]Dī'nah the daughter of Lē'ah, which she bare unto Jā'cob, went out to see the daughters of the land.
2 And when Shē'chem the son of Hā'mor the Hī'vīte, prince of the country, [b]saw her, he took her, and [c]lay with her, and defiled her.
3 And his [d]soul [e]clave unto Dī'nah the daughter of Jā'cob, and he loved the damsel, and spake [f]kindly unto the damsel.
4 And Shē'chem spake unto his father Hā'mor, saying, [g]"Get me this damsel to wife.
5 And [h]Jā'cob heard that he had defiled Dī'nah his daughter: now his sons were with his cattle in the field: and Jā'cob [i]held his peace until they were come.

(2) The proposed union

6 ¶ And Hā'mor the father of Shē'chem went out unto Jā'cob to commune with him.
7 And the sons of Jā'cob came out of the field when they heard it: and the men were [j]grieved, and they were [k]very wroth, because he had wrought [l]folly [m]in Ĭs'ra-el in lying with Jā'cob's daughter; which thing ought not to be done.
8 And Hā'mor communed with them, saying, The soul of my son Shē'chem longeth for your daughter: I pray you give her him to wife.
9 And make ye marriages with us, and give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.
10 And ye shall dwell with us: and the land shall be before you; dwell and trade ye therein, and get you possessions therein.
11 And Shē'chem said unto her father and unto her brethren, Let me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me I will give.
12 [n]Ask me never so much dowry and gift, and I will give according as ye shall say unto me: but give me the damsel to wife.

(3) Deceitful dealings Cp. Josh. 9; 1 Sam. 23

13 And the sons of Jā'cob answered Shē'chem and Hā'mor his father [o]deceitfully, and said, because he had defiled Dī'nah their sister:
14 And they said unto them, We [p]cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised; for that were a reproach unto us:
15 But in this will we consent unto you: If ye will be as we be, that every male of you [q]be circumcised;
16 Then will we give our daughters unto you, and we will take your daughters to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will become [r]one people.
17 But if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised; then will we take our daughter, and we will be gone.
18 And their words pleased Hā'mor, and Shē'chem Hā'mor's son.
19 And the young man deferred not to do the thing, because he had delight in Jā'cob's daughter: and he was more honourable than all the house of his father.
20 ¶ And Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son came unto the gate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, saying,
21 These men are peaceable with us; therefore let them dwell in the land, and trade therein; for the land, behold, it is large enough for them; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters.
22 Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised.
23 [s]Shall not their cattle and their substance and every beast of theirs be ours? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us.
24 And unto Hā'mor and unto Shē'chem his son hearkened all that went out of the gate of his city; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city.

(4) Vengeance executed

25 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jā'cob, Sĭm'e-on and Lē'vī, Dī'nah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the [t]city boldly, and slew all the males.
26 And they slew Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son with the edge of the sword, and [u]took Dī'nah out of Shē'chem's house, and went out.
27 The sons of Jā'cob came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had defiled their sister.
28 They [v]took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field, 29 And all their wealth, and all s First time the name Israel is used collectively t Ancients of all nations required compensation for giving up the laboring services of a daughter and for their trouble and expense of bringing her up and providing her wants. This, the dowry, could be gifts, services, or anything else of value agreed upon, in all Heb. weddings, as well as those of many other nations, the dowry held an important place. It sealed the betrothal and all legal agreements

6 kinds of dowry:

1 Gifts from the bridegroom to the bride (24:22, 30, 53, Ruth 4:10; Hos. 3:2). A strange man presented gifts to a strange girl and they were accepted without breaking custom
2 Gifts from the bridegroom to the parents and other members of the family (24:53; 34:12)
3 Price paid to parents and brothers (34:12; Ex. 22:17; 1 Sam. 18:25). This was the practice of buying wives
4 Services rendered parents (29:18)
5 Deeds of valour might be accepted if this was all that was required by parents (Josh. 15:16; Judg. 1:12; 1 Sam. 18:25)
6 Gifts from the father to a daughter was also called a dowry (Judg. 1:15; 1 Ki. 9:16)

The dowry was according to the wealth and standing of the bride (1 Sam. 18:23). Much negotiation generally went on between the parents of both sides, with a friend of the bridegroom's family handling most of the transaction. He was called the friend of the bridegroom (Jn. 3:29). In later Jewish history a written contract definitely arranged for the nature and size of the dowry

The word dowry in more modern times, simply refers to the value of anything, money, property, etc, that a woman brings to her husband when he marries her, while in ancient times it meant that which was paid for a wife. Jacob worked 14 years for his 2 wives and that was the dowry or what he paid to get them (29:20-30). The other meaning - what a woman brings her husband - applies to what Leah said when she had so many sons she exclaimed "God hath endowed me with good dowry" (30:20). Paying dowry for a wife is referred to in Gen. 34:12; Ex. 22:16-17; 1 Sam. 18:25; Ruth 4:3-9 a The sons of Jacob never did intend to give their sister to Shechem. This was Satan's first attempt to defile a virgin in Israel. It was a threat to God's plan - that His son should come through one of Israel's virgins (Isa. 7:14; Mt. 1:18-25)

b This was in harmony with Israel's calling to be a separated people to represent God in His plan (12:1-3; 21:12; 24:3; 28:1, 6; Ex. 34:12-16; Num. 23:9; Dt. 7:3-4; Josh. 23:12; Ezra 9-10) c Circumcision was the sign of the Abrahamic covenant and every soul in Israel who would reject this sign was to be destroyed (17:9-14). This promise to be one people was purely deception (v 13). Religion was used to promote the wickedness that the sons of Jacob had in mind d This would have defeated God's purpose with Israel (see scriptures in note b, above). Israel would have lost her identity through the centuries. Not only did Jacob's sons plan deception, Hamor evidently planned to take over all the substance of Jacob (v 23). If this was not his intention, then he used this idea to deceive his own people and get their consent to meet the terms of Israel. Jacob was more wealthy than the whole city, so such a promise made the people willing to endure temporary pain. Jacob's sons, the oldest of whom was 26 or 27 years old at this time, only sought opportunity for revenge. Thus they used religion for revenge and the Shechemites used it in an effort to gain riches
f Shechem must have been a small place, perhaps only an encampment. How many were slain is not known. Simeon and Levi were the chief contrivers and leaders of the massacre; their servants and others also helped. The attack was made the third day when fever and inflamation generally accompanied circumcision - when the Shechemites were less able to defend themselves. Deception and surprise were great factors in such an easy victory. The whole city was a party to the crime by condoning what one of their company had done, and by entering into a plot to get Jacob's wealth g Dinah was held captive until rescued by her brothers (v 5, 17, 26)
h All this wealth and the captives made Jacob still more powerful and rich

Wealth of the patriarchs

God has always planned and willed for His people to be free from poverty, weakness, and sickness, and have an abundance of good things to enjoy. All the patriarchs were healthy, wealthy, and wise

Adam was the wealthiest man that ever lived or ever will live. He owned the entire earth and everything in it; he was created to rule the sun, moon, and stars (1:26-31; Ps. 8). When men inherit the earth again many will own what Adam had before the fall

Abraham was very rich, owning innumerable flocks, herds, much silver and gold, besides hundreds of servants (13:2; 14:14). It would take a very wealthy man to support no more than his 318 trained soldiers with their wives and children. He is called the father of us all, so if God allowed him to be rich, we need not look on any opportunity for our own prosperity as displeasing to God. The abundance of life for body, soul, and spirit is promised every man today in Christ (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 10:10; 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26). It is God's will that all His children prosper and be in health, even as their souls prosper (3 Jn. 2; Ps. 1:3; 23:1; 34:9-10; 84:11)

Isaac inherited all that Abraham had except portions given the other sons sent into the east country away from Isaac (25:5-6). He continued to add to his wealth all his days, and was considered richer and greater in power than the king of Philistia (26:14-16). We read that he was a successful farmer, that he waxed great, and had possessions of flocks, herds, and a great store of servants (26:12-14)

Jacob inherited the wealth and servants of both Abraham and Isaac other than the portion given to Esau. Besides this, he became very rich in his own right, in Haran. He gave Esau, as a token of friendship, $24,300.00 worth of live stock (550 head) when he met him, saying that it was nothing and that he had plenty more (33:11; note c, 32:18)

h See note on Giants, p. 62
c Jacob for the moment lost faith in God, like Abraham (12:10-20; 20:1-17) and Isaac (26:6-35) before him, when tested. Such would have been impossible in view of God's word (12:1-3; 15:1-21; 26:1-25; 28:3-49; 31:11-13). God did keep His word (35:5)
d Question 100. Next, 37:8
e God now directed Jacob to a safer place and put fear in the hearts of other cities so they would not follow him (v 1, 5) f Idolatry was abolished in Israel (v 2; 31:19). Purification was always necessary when going up to Bethel, the house of God g Earrings not used in idolatry were permitted of God (24:22, 30, 47; Ex. 32:2-3; 35:22; Num. 31:50; Judg. 8:24-26; Job 42:11; Pr. 25:12; Ezek. 16:12; Hos. 2:13; 1 Pet. 3:5-6). They were made of gold, silver, brass, ivory, and wood and were often adorned with precious stones. Here they were connected with idolatry; and that is why Jacob commanded them to be given up. For this reason they were condemned in Isa. 3:20; Hos. 2:13, in idolatry they were used as amulets and charms to ward off evil. They are still used by some in the East for this purpose
h Jacob's fear was unnecessary. God had made many promises of protection and had kept them with Abraham (12:17; 20:7, 17); Isaac (26:6-31); and thus far with Jacob (27:41-42; 31:1-55; 32:10-32; 33:1-17); so it was to be expected that God would continue protecting him if His plan for Israel was to be completed

(6) Flight: idols destroyed

AND God said unto Jā'cob, [a]Arise, go up to Bĕth'–el, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Ē'saũ thy brother.

2 Then Jā'cob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, [f]Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments:

3 And let us arise, and go up to Bĕth'–el; and I will make there an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gave unto Jā'cob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their [g]earrings which were in their ears; and Jā'cob hid them under the oak which was by Shĕ'-chem.

5 And they journeyed: [h]and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jā'cob.

6 ¶ So Jā'cob came to Lŭz, which is in the land of Că'năan, that is, Bĕth'–el, he and all the people that were with him.

9 ¶ And God [m]appeared unto Jā'cob again, when he came out of Pā'dan–ā'ram, and blessed him.

10 And God said unto him, Thy name is Jā'cob: thy name shall not be called any more Jā'cob, [n]but Ĭs'ra-el shall be thy name: and he called his name Ĭs'ra-el.

11 [o]And God said unto him, I am [p]God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins;

12 And [q]the land which I gave Ā'brā-hăm and Ī'saac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land.

13 And God [r]went up from him in the place where he talked with him.

14 And Jā'cob [s]set up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, even a pillar of stone: and he poured a [t]drink offering thereon, and he poured oil thereon.

a Heb. El-Shaddai, the All-Bountiful or All-Sufficient One, a title in accord with this promise of a unified nation or a company of nations, referring to the unity of the distinct tribes of Israel

Company of nations (35:11)

It is clear that this whole prophecy was to be fulfilled through the loins of Jacob who was not the father of all these different nations coming from Abraham and fulfilling Gen. 17:4-6, this company of nations refers to the 13 tribes of Israel

In this case the word nation simply means a tribe. The Heb. for nation and nations here is goy or gowy'ranu, nation 102 times; nations 265 times; Gentiles 30 times; heathen 146 times; and people 11 times. Here it literally means "a people, and a company of people." The word for company is qahal, assemblage, assembly, company, congregation, or multitude. The term company of nations could be trans. "assembly," or "congregation," or "multitude of people shall be of thee." The Peshitta reads, "Be fruitful and multiply a people and a multitude of peoples shall come from thee." The passage could not mean that the Gentiles, heathen, or all other nations were to come from Jacob, for this would contradict the Bible origin of the Gentiles and other nations as in Gen. 10

This much is certain - the passage does not refer to Anglo-Saxons, who are sometimes erroneously taken to be the descendants of Jacob and called "the ten log tribes of the house of Israel." The 10 tribes have never been lost, except in the sense of being lost in sin as is the case with the other 3 tribes, and the Gentiles. They never did lose their identity as descendants of Jacob. The Jews scattered abroad among the nations have always been the 13 tribes of Israel dispersed as God predicted regarding all of them and not just a part. Prophecies of the dispersion were spoken to all the tribes when they were all together making the nation of Israel, and they therefore could not be fulfilled in Judah only. Note the following passages in the Pentateuch, spoken to all Israel:

1 I will scatter you among the heathen... your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste... ye shall perish among the heathen (Lev. 26:32-45)

2 The people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations (Num. 23:9)

3 When you have remained long in the land and corrupted yourselves... the Lord shall scatter you among the nations and you shall be left few in number (Dt. 4:25-31)

4 The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies... thou shalt be removed into all kingdoms of the earth... thou shalt become a proverb, and a by-word among all nations whither the Lord shall lead thee... and the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other... among these nations thou shalt find no ease... but trembling of heart... thy life shall hang in doubt before thee (Dt. 28:25, 37, 64-66)

5 When all these things are come upon thee... thou shalt call them to mind among all nations, whither the Lord hath driven thee... shalt return to the Lord, and obey His voice... Then the Lord will turn thy captivity... And will return and gather thee from all nations, whither the Lord thy God hath scattered thee... and bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it (Dt. 30:1-10)

No Anglo-Saxon nation ever has fulfilled or ever will fulfil these scriptures; but the Jews scattered throughout the world have fulfilled the sin and curse part of these prophecies, and are now fulfilling the re-gathering part b Jacob and Esau were 120 years old when they buried Isaac (25:26; 35:28). This was about 23 years after Jacob had come back from Haran and 10 years before going down into Egypt (47:9). Here Esau is put before Jacob, but in other places after this Jacob is always first (Josh. 24:4; Heb. 11:10) except in 1 Chr. 1:34

He yet fed many of his flocks in Canaan, but it finally became necessary to separate from Jacob because of the increased herds of both men. After Isaac's death the final separation came (v 6)
l The mountains of Seir extended from southeast of the Dead Sea to the Arabian Gulf. Esau fulfilled the prophecy of Isaac by living by his sword, and became master of all this region (27:39-40)

These, the Edomite Amalekites, were always a separate people from the giants; but, like the giants they were to be exterminated, for they were likewise the enemies of Israel (Ex. 17:8-13; Dt. 25:17-18; Judg. 3:13; 5:14; 6:3-5; 12:15; 1 Sam. 15:1-9; 27:8; 30:1; 1 Chr. 4:41-43; Ps. 83:7)

CHAPTER 36 36

PARENTHETICAL: sons of Esau. 1 Sons of Esau in Canaan

NOW these are the generations of [d]Esau, [e]who is Edom.

2 Esau took his wives of the daughters of Canaan; [f]Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite, and [g]Aholibamah the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon the Hivite;

3 And [h]Bashemath Ishmael's daughter, sister of Nebajoth.

4 And Adah bare to Esau [i]Eliphaz; and Bashemath bare Reuel.

5 And Aholibamah bare Jeush, and Jaalam, and Korah: these are the sons of Esau, which were born unto him in the land of Canaan.

6 And Esau took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the persons of his house, and his cattle, and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had got in the land of Canaan; and went into [k]the country from the face of his brother Jacob.

7 For their riches were more than that they might dwell together; and the land wherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle.

8 Thus dwelt Esau in mount Seir: Esau is Edom.

2 Sons of Esau in Mt. Seir

9 ¶ And these are the generations of Esau the father of the Edomites in [l]mount Seir:

10 These are the names of Esau's sons; Eliphaz the son of Adah the wife of Esau, Reuel the son of Bashemath the wife of Esau.

11 And the sons of Eliphaz were [m]Teman, Omar, Zepho, and Gatam, and Kenaz.

12 And Timna was concubine to Eliphaz Esau's son; and she bare to Eliphaz [n]Amalek: these were the sons of Adah Esau's wife.

13 And these are the sons of Reuel; Nahath, and Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah: these were the sons of Bashemath Esau's wife.

14 ¶ And these were the sons of Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon, Esau's wife: and she bare to Esau Jeush, and Jaalam, and Korah.

3 Dukes of Edom (1 Chr. 1:35)

15 ¶ These were [o]dukes of the sons of Esau: the sons of Eliphaz the firstborn son of Esau; duke Teman, duke Omar, duke Zepho, duke Kenaz, 16 Duke Korah, duke Gatam, and duke Amalek, these are the dukes that came of Eliphaz in the land of Edom; these were the sons of Adah.

17 ¶ And these are the sons of Reuel Esau's son; duke Nahath, duke Zerah, duke Shammah, duke Mizzah: these are the dukes that came of Reuel in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Bashemath Esau's wife.

18 ¶ And these are the sons of Aholibamah Esau's wife; duke Jeush, duke Jaalam, duke Korah: these were the dukes that came of Aholibamah the daughter of Anah, Esau's wife.

19 These are the sons of Esau, who is Edom, and these are their dukes.

4 Sons of Seir (1 Chr. 1:38)

20 ¶ These are the sons of Seir the [p]Horite, who inhabited the land; Lotan, and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah, 21 And Dishon, and Ezer, and Dishan: these are the dukes of the Horites, the children of Seir in the land of Edom.

22 And the children of Lotan were Hori and Hemam; and Lotan's sister was Timna.

23 And the children of Shobal were these; Alvan, and Manahath, and Ebal, Shephi, and Onam.

24 And these are the children of Zibeon; both Aijah, and Anah: this was that Anah that found the [q]mules in the wilderness, as he fed the asses of Zibeon his father.

25 And the children of Anah were these; Dishon, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah.

26 And these are the children of Dishon; Hemdan, and Eshban, and Ithran, and Cheran.

27 The children of Ezer are these; Bilhan, and Zaavan, and Akan.

28 The children of Dishan are these; Uz, and Aran.

5 Dukes of Seir (1 Chr. 1:38)

29 These are the [r]dukes that came of the Horites; duke Lotan, duke Shobal, duke Zibeon, duke Anah, 30 Duke Dishon, duke Ezer, duke Dishan: these are the dukes that came of Hori, among their dukes in the land of Seir.

6 Kings of Edom (1 Chr. 1:35)

31 ¶ And these are the kings that reigned in the land of Edom, [s]before there reigned any king over the children of Israel.

32 And Bela the son of Beor reigned in Edom: and the name of his city was Dinhabah.

33 And Bela died, and Jobab the son of Zerah of [t]Bozrah reigned in his stead.

34 And Jobab died, and Husham [u]of the land of Temani reigned in his stead.

35 And Husham died, and Hadad the son of Bedad, who smote Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his stead:

a Horites were a branch of the giants who came from the sons of God and daughters of men after the flood (14:6). Seir was the father of the Horites (v 20). Their land, called Mount Seir (14:6) and land of Seir later became the land of Edom (32:3). Seir had 7 sons (v 20-21), called the dukes of the Horites (v 21, 29-30). These 7 dukes had 19 sons and a daughter as listed (v 22-28). Seir also had a daughter prominent enough to be listed (v 22) Horites were the first occupants of this land and dwelt in caves. The chiefs of v 20-21 probably reigned before Esau conquered the land. He became complete master of Seir before the exodus of Israel from Egypt, fulfilling 27:39-40. The mountains of Edom abound with caves. The rock-hewn city, Petra or Sela, later the capital of Edom, was one of the great strong-holds in ancient times. The temples and houses cut in the sides of the mountains surrounding Petra still exist and look freshly made. This deserted city is one of the wonders of antiquity in this part of the world. It will again play a great part in the last-day dealings of God with Israel (Ps. 60:8-12; Isa. 16:1-5; Dan. 11:40-41; Ezek. 20:33-38; Hos. 2:14-18; Mt. 24:15; Rev. 12:6-14) b Heb. yemim, mules, in v 24, is trans. warm springs and hot springs in many versions and in others Imim and Emim (giants). It is never trans. mules except here. The ordinary word for mules is pered (2 Sam. 13:29; 18:9; 1 Ki. 1:33, 38, 44; 10:25; 18:5; 1 Chr. 12:40; 2 Chr. 9:24; Ezra 2:66; Neh. 7:68; Ps. 32:9; Isa. 66:20; Ezek. 27:14; Zech. 14:15). Yemim is never trans. springs or waters in the 618 times these words are used in the King James version. Controversy over this will never be settled, so whether Anah found mules, giants, or hot springs, he became famous for it (v 24)
c Called Amram in 1 Chr. 1:41
d 7 dukes of Seir the Horite:

1 Duke Lotan (v 29)	5 Duke Dishon (v 30)
2 Duke Shobal	6 Duke Ezer
3 Duke Zibeon	7 Duke Dishan, Cp. v
4 Duke Anah	20-21; 1 Chr. 1

e At the time Moses wrote Genesis there had been no kings reigning over Israel as in other nations. In fact, it was in Egypt that Israel became a nation large enough to warrant kings. Moses spoke prophetically of kings of Israel. God had told Abraham, Isaac and Jacob that kings would come from them, so having kings for Israel was in the mind of God this far back (17:6, 16; 35:11). Moses spoke in his law of the time when Israel would have kings and gave the manner of the kingdom in Dt. 17:14-20; 28:36

6 Duke Pinon
7 Duke Kenaz (v 42)

10 Duke Magdiel (v 43)
11 Duke Iram

Perhaps those dukes reigned when Israel came out of Egypt. They were local shieks or chiefs who ruled over sections of the land and were subject to the kings mentioned in this genealogy. This ends the story of Esau

d After completing the history of Isaac and Esau in 35:27-36:43, Moses continues the history of Jacob and his family which was dropped in 35:27-29
e The land of the sojournings of his forefathers (Heb. 11:9-16)
f The history of what befell him and his posterity, not a regular genealogy g The story of Joseph now begins and that of Jacob is interrupted not to be resumed until chapter 46 h Jacob was now 107 years old, having been back in Canaan for 10 years. Joseph's brothers were young, Reuben, the oldest being around 29 years old and Benjamin, the youngest, perhaps 7 or 8 years old. All the brothers who sold him to Ishmaelites on the way to Egypt were from 18 to 29 years old - the age to be more thoughtless, reckless and jealous than in the more matured years i Concubines (35:22)
j Report of their evil doings as youths k Jacob was about 91 years old when Joseph was born. This was not a son of his old age more than some of the others. Benjamin was born about 9 years after Joseph. Hence, this phrase must refer to a son especially devoted to the care of Jacob in his old age. After the death of Rachel perhaps Joseph became his father's special helper in supplying his wants and being an agent between him and his other sons (v 2, 13-14)
l A mark of honor and rank, and worn only by the chief and heir. Joseph inherited the birthright (1 Chr. 5:1-2). The garment was of many colors, not pieces, marking it as a priestly and royal one, and possibly with fine and beautiful needle work of various colored threads. Cp. Ex. 28:4; 39:1; 2 Sam. 13:18-19; Ps. 45:14. Some think this refers to a coat made of many broad stripes of different colored cloth (v 3, 23, 32, Cp. Judg. 5:30; 2 Sam. 13:18)
m It was unwise of Jacob to show a respect of persons. This may have been one reason these brothers had such little respect for their father (v 31-34). Children see it when a parent shows a respect of persons and such will always cause trouble in the family, as here (v 4-11, 18-34), and in the case of Isaac and Rebekah (25:28; 27:1-13, 35-38, 41-46. 37 CHAPTER 37

X Jacob's history resumed: history of Joseph (Gen. 37:1-50:26). 1 Jacob in Canaan

AND [d]Ja'cob dwelt in the land wherein his father was a stranger, in the [e]land of Ca'naan.

2 Joseph in Canaan. (1) A model boy (Cp. Lk. 2:51)

2 These are [f]the generations of Ja'cob. [g]Jo'seph, being seventeen [h]years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren; and the lad was with the sons of Bil'hah, and with the sons of Zil'pah, his father's [i]wives: and Jo'seph brought unto his father their [j]evil report.

(2) Loved by Jacob (Cp. 25:28)

3 Now Is'ra-el loved Jo'seph more than all his children, [k]because he was the son of his old age: and he made him a [l]coat of many colours.

(3) Hated by his brothers

4 And when his brethren [m]saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they [n]hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.

(4) Two dreams of Joseph

5 ¶ And Jo'seph [o]dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more.

6 And he said unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed:

*7 [p]For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf.

8 And his brethren said to him, [q]Shalt thou indeed reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words.

*9 ¶ [p]And he [o]dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, [r]the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me.

10 And he told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father [s]rebuked him, and said unto him, [t]What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and [u]thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee to the earth?

11 And his brethren [v]envied him: but his father observed the saying.

(5) Seeks his brethren

12 ¶ And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in She'chem.

13 And Is'ra-el said unto Jo'seph, [w]Do not thy brethren feed the flock in She'chem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said to him, Here am I.

14 And he said to him, Go, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks; and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale of He'bron, and he came to She'chem.

15 ¶ And a certain man found him, and, behold, he was wandering in the field: and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

16 And he said, I seek my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they feed their flocks.

17 And the man said, They are departed hence; for I heard them say, Let us go to Do'than. And Jo'seph went after his brethren, and found them in Do'than.

(6) Plot against Joseph

18 And when they [x]saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him.

19 And they said one to another, Behold, this [l]dreamer cometh.

20 [y]Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and [z]we will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and [o]we shall see what will become of his dreams.

21 And [aa]Reu'ben heard it, and he [v]delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him.

22 And Reu'ben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again.

d A symbol of Israel, the sun representing Jacob; the moon his wives; and the 12 stars his 12 sons (Rev. 12:1) e Partly through ignorance and partly in wisdom, to lessen the hatred of his other sons toward Joseph f Questions 103-104. Next, v 13. Jacob rightly interpreted the dreams as referring to himself, and his family being dependent upon Joseph and being humbled before him. Fulfilled as in chapters 42-50 g His actual mother, Rachel, was dead but Jewish custom conceded the title of mother to another who was the wife of the father. In this case it was Leah who was still alive h Envy was added to hatred. Envy is selfish and unfriendly grudging of what another enjoys (Job 5:2; Pr. 14:30; Rom. 1:29; 1 Tim. 6:4; Tit. 3:3). It is associated with bitterness, strife, murder and other sins (Eccl. 9:6; Rom. 1:29; 13:13; 1 Cor. 3:3; 2 Cor. 12:20; Gal. 5:19-21; 1 Tim. 6:4; Tit. 3:3; Jas. 3:14-16; 4:5). Joseph's dreams made an impression on the father and brothers. They incited envy in the brothers, but deep thought in Jacob who took them as divine indication of events that would affect his family. They also helped to prepare Joseph for his coming sufferings in Egypt (42:8-9; 45:4-8; 50:15-21)

l Heb., master of dreams. Joseph did have dreams and the divine gift of their interpretation (chs. 37, 40-41). In this he was like Daniel (Dan. 1:17)
m Note the 4-fold plot against Joseph in v 20-21, showing to what extent his brethren hated and envied him n Killing is generally the next step downward from other pre-meditated sins o This proves that the dreams of Joseph had made a deep impression on them. Envy, selfishness and pride are the roots of crime p Reuben had committed the sin of adultery with his father's concubine (35:22). It could be that his remorse over this and regret for the silent and deep disappointment of his father in him, made Reuben want to spare his father any further suffering q Reuben did his part. His thought was to return Joseph to his father (v 22), but he, himself, was deceived by the others who suspected this of him (42:22). This weakness of Reuben as the firstborn, in not rebuking his brothers and taking a firm stand to deliver Joseph, illustrates Jacob's appraisal of him in 49:4

Enoch (5:21)

Heb. chanowk, initiated. Enoch was the only one mentioned as being godly in Seth's line except Noah (Cp. 6:9; 7:1). He was a prophet (Jude 14). He was translated by FAITH (Rom. 10:17; Heb. 11:5). His experience parallels that of Elijah (2 Ki. 2). Both were taken to heaven bodily without dying; both were prophets of judgment; both fought idolatry and apostasy; both knew the time and purpose of their translation (2 Ki. 2; Heb. 11:5). Could they not fulfill Zech. 4:11-14; Mal. 4:4-6; Rev. 11:3-11? Heaven is a material place with cities and inhabitants (Heb. 11:10, 13-16; 13:14; Jn. 14:1-3; Rev. 4:4, 5; 5:9-10, 13; 12:12; 13:6; 18:20; 19:1-10); food and living conditions (Ex. 24:11; Ps. 78:25; Lk. 22:16, 18, 30; Jn. 6:31; Rev. 2:7, 17; 7:17; 22:2). Could not two prophets, therefore, eat and live in heaven all these millenniums? Paul and John were others who went to heaven (2 Cor. 12:1-7; Rev. 4:1). All resurrected saints will eventually go to heaven and live until they come back to earth with Christ to set up His kingdom (1 Th. 4:14-17; 1 Cor. 15:51-58, Rev. 7:9-17; 19:1-21). They will then reign as kings and priests with Christ for 1,000 years helping to put down all rebellion (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10). When this is accomplished God will move His capital city to earth and live among men forever. See 2 witnesses, p. 306 of N. T.

b Heb. bor, a dry cistern. There are numerous pits or cisterns still to be found in Palestine. They were often hewn out of solid rock, being narrower at the mouth than at the bottom. It would be almost impossible for one to get out of such a pit unaided. Some were even used as dungeons for prisoners. See Jer. 38:6 where the Heb. bor (pit) is trans. dungeon. See also Jer. 2:13; 14:3; Zech. 9:11; note j, Ps. 28:1 c Showing indifference and hardness of heart toward sin (v 25)

d A company of Ishmaelites and Midianites (v 25-28), descendants of Abraham through Hagar and Keturah (16:11-12; 25:2). Some versions read Arabians, from arab, to mingle, which comprehends a vast number of clans, tribes, and peoples. They were travelling together for safety from robbers. There was a well organized trade between Egypt and other lands. Many drugs and spices were sold into Egypt for embalming and medicinal purposes (v 25). Egyptians depended upon Arab merchants for these supplies. In a caravan there would be many companies, each with its own name and organized work that contributed to the smooth running of the whole. Camels were generally tied together four abreast, and again tied to others behind them, like teams g They thought to ease their conscience, but responsibility for crime is not so easily disposed of. God remembered and allowed these young men to reap what they had sowed (42:1-45:15; 50:15-21)

h The word pieces is in italics, so it is not clear what kind of money is referred to. Perhaps they were shekels of 64¢ each. If so, 20 shekels or $12.80 would be $6.40 less than what Judas was paid for selling Christ. Cp. this covetousness with Joseph's unselfishness in 42:25-35

i Reuben was away when Joseph was sold, so was not a party to this crime

j Showing his earnestness in trying to deliver Joseph. See note q, v 34

k Question 108. Next, 38:16

l Nothing is said as to what part Reuben played in this or how far he consented to covering up the crime

m Modern analysis would have proved that this was not human blood n It appears that the coat was sent by servants to Jacob (v 32), and later the sons came to comfort their father (v 35)

o Not our brother's, but thy son's coat. Sin always chooses a word least calculated to disturb the conscience p The sons did not say Joseph had been torn by animals. This was Jacob's conclusion and the sons accepted this, permitting their father to live in grief, deceived (v 33)

q See Rending clothes, p. 28

r How the sons could go through such hypocrisy and see their father grieved many days is hard to understand unless we take into account that sin and guilt seek to hide themselves, whereas, the pretense of innocence shielding selfishness likes to manifest itself to the very last s Jacob had only one daughter; but his sons' wives are no doubt referred to here as daughters (v 35)

t Jacob was deceived by the blood of a kid, as he had deceived his father by the skin of a kid (27:16)

u The words Midianites and Ishmaelites are used interchangeably in this passage, proving they were one people or lived in the same country and carried on business together. Cp. v 25, 27, 28, 36; 39:1

23 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jō'seph was come unto his brethren, that they [a]stript Jō'seph out of his coat, his coat of many colours that was on him;

24 And they took him, and cast him into a[b]pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it.

25 And they [c]sat down to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes and looked, and, behold, [d]a company of Ish'me-el-ites came from Gil'e-ad with their camels bearing spicery and balm and myrrh, going to carry it down to E'gypt.

26 And Jū'dah said unto his brethren, [e]What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood?

27 Come, and let us [f]sell him to the Ish'me-el-ites, and [g]let not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother and our flesh. And his brethren were content.

(9) Jacob deceived by his sons (34:13)

29 ¶ And Reu'ben [i]returned unto the pit; and, behold, Jō'seph was not in the pit; and he [j]rent his clothes.

30 And he returned unto his brethren, and said, The child is not; and I, [k]whither shall I go?

33 [p]And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; Jō'seph is without doubt rent in pieces.

34 And Jā'cob [q]rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and mourned for his son many days.

35 And [r]all his sons and [s]all his daughters rose up to comfort him; but he refused to be comforted; and he said, For I will go down into the grave unto my son mourning. [t]Thus his father wept for him.

38 CHAPTER 38

3 Shame of Judah (Cp. 35:21). (1) His marriage

AND it came to pass [x]at that time, that [y]Jū'dah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a certain [z]A-dul'-lam-ite, whose [a]name was Hi'rah.

2 And Jū'dah saw there a daughter of a certain Ca'nan-ite, whose name was Shu'ah; and he [b]took her, and went in unto her.

(2) Judah's wicked sons

3 And she [c]conceived, and bare a son; and he called his name Er.

4 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and she called his name O'nan.

5 And she yet again conceived, and bare a son; and called his name Shē'lah: and he was at [d]Chē'zib, when she bare him.

6 And Jū'dah [e]took a wife for Er his firstborn, whose name was [f]Ta'mar.

7 And Er, Jū'dah's firstborn, was wicked in the sight of the LORD; and the LORD slew him.

8 And Jū'dah said unto O'nan, Go in unto thy brother's wife, and marry her, and [g]raise up seed to thy brother.

9 And O'nan knew that the seed should not be [h]his; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother.

10 And the thing which he did [i]displeased the LORD: wherefore he slew him also.

(3) Judah's promise to Tamar

11 [j]Then said Jū'dah to Ta'mar his daughter in law, Remain a widow at thy father's house, till Shē'lah my son be grown: for he said, Lest peradventure he die also, as his brethren did. And Ta'mar went and dwelt in her father's house.

12 ¶ And in process of time the daughter of Shu'ah Jū'dah's wife died; and Jū'dah was comforted, and went up unto his sheepshearers to Tim'nath, he and his friend Hi'rah the A-dul'lam-ite.

(4) Promise broken: commits adultery with Tamar (Ruth 4:12)

13 And it was told Ta'mar, saying, Behold thy father in law goeth up to Tim'nath to shear his sheep.

14 And she put her widow's garments off from her, [k]and covered her with a veil, and wrapped herself, and sat in an open place, which is by the way to Tim'nath; for she saw that Shē'lah was grown, and she was not given unto him to wife.

15 When Jū'dah saw her, he thought her to be an harlot; because she had covered her face.

16 And he turned unto her by the way, and said, Go to, I pray thee, let me come in unto thee; (for he knew not that she was his daughter in law.) And she said, [l]What wilt thou give me, that thou mayest come in unto me?

a A friend of his (v 12)

b Judah was about 15 years old when he took Shuah's daughter to wife. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30 c Er, the first-born of Judah seems to have been the chosen one in Judah's family through whom the Messiah was intended to come; for, even after his death, Tamar, his widow bore a son to Judah whose name (Pharez or Phares) appears with hers (Thamar) in the line of Christ (Mt. 1:3). No doubt the wickedness of Er included despising his privilege to bring forth one in the lineage of Christ (49:10; note h, below)

d Chezib, Timnath, and Adullam were cities southwest of Jerusalem (v 1, 5, 12). Hirah evidently kept a lodging house, for Judah turned in to him as well as did Shuah and his family (v 1-2) e Er was about 15 and Judah about 30 or 31 years old. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30

f Who she was is not known, except that she was evidently a Canaanite. Her history is given in v 6-30; Ruth 4:12; 1 Chr. 2:4. She was in the line of Christ (Mt. 1:3)

g A law before Sinai. Still practiced in the East. It became a part of the law of Moses (Dt. 25:5-9)

h Onan resented a child of his being born to carry on Er's name instead of his own. Both were wicked men. Sin had likely made them bitter enemies; hence, Onan wanted his brother's name to be blotted out of the earth. The first-born in such cases did carry on the dead man's name and not his own father's (Dt. 25:6-10). Furthermore, perhaps the devil had stirred up hatred in Onan concerning the Seed of the woman who seems to have been intended to come through Er's offspring. This deep-seated anger could have caused him to behave as in v 9 to prevent such offspring coming in his brother's name (note c, above)

i Why? See notes c and h, above

j When Judah saw that his 2 sons were dead and the law had not been fulfilled by his 2nd son, he promised Tamar could have his 3rd son when he should be old enough. This would not have been long, possibly 1 or 2 years, as the 3 sons had been born in quick succession (v 3-5). The fact is he may have been old enough for marriage at the time, but Judah hesitated to give her to him, lest he die as the other sons had done (v 11). This was Judah's wrong, and caused Tamar to carry out the plan of having a child by Judah, himself, whose own wife was now dead (v 12) ister of state; chamberlain (v 36; 39:1; 40:2, 7; 1 Sam. 8:15; 1 Ki. 22:9; 2 Ki. 8:6; 24:12-15; 25:19; 1 Chr. 28:1; 2 Chr. 18:8). It is trans. chamberlain 13 times (2 Ki. 23:11; Esther 1:10-15; 2:3-21; 4:4-5; 6:2, 14; 7:9); eunuch 17 times (2 Ki. 9:32; 20:18; Isa. 39:7; 56:3-4; Jer. 29:2; 34:19; Jer. 38:7; 41:16; Dan. 1:3-18). This may explain the unfaithfulness of Potiphar's wife (39:10-13). In the East many eunuchs had wives and even harems where they kept many women; but they bore no children

w In charge of police; chief of the butchers. A term that fitted the duties of this man. If a person offended one of the Eastern despotic rulers, it was the duty of such guards to destroy the offender without giving him a trial. Potiphar's duty was to take care of Pharaoh and execute his will on all subjects of his displeasure x Chronologically, ch. 38 should follow ch. 33; for 33 years after Jacob left Haran he went into Egypt. By that time, Judah's son's widow had given birth to twins and they were old enough that one of them had married and become the father of twins. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30

y This story is given as a necessary link in the genealogy of Christ and is inserted here so that the history of Joseph, which immediately follows, may not be interrupted z Adullam was the ancient capital of the Canaanites or giants who occupied the southern part of Canaan a A seal with his name or emblem worn about the neck which was indispensable with men of wealth or position, for by it all legal documents were certified. The loss was regarded as serious because documents might then be forged and the character and credit of the owner abused. Hence, the anxiety of Judah to regain it (v 20-23). As the case often is, passion had overcome reason and prudence, causing Judah to part with something very valuable and important to him

b Bracelets were worn by men of wealth and position. Sometimes signets were a part of the bracelets

c Important and wealthy men of the East carried a staff with their name on it. Thus Judah foolishly gave as a pledge all his marks of identification, playing into the hands of his daughter-in-law whom he had deceived (v 11-14)

22 And he returned to Jū'dah, and said, I cannot find her; and also the men of the place said, that there was no harlot in this place.
23 And Jū'dah said, Let her take it to her, lest we be shamed: behold, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her.
24 ¶ And it came to pass about three months after, that it was told Jū'dah, saying, Tā'mar thy daughter in law hath played the harlot; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom. And Jū'dah said, Bring her forth, and [f]let her be burnt.

(6) Repents: protects himself

26 And Jū'dah acknowledged them, and said, She hath been more [g]righteous than I; because that I gave her not to Shē'lah my son. And he knew her again no more.

(7) Birth of Pharez and Zarah

27 ¶ And it came to pass in the time of her travail, that, behold, [h]twins were in her womb.
28 And it came to pass, when she travailed, that the one put out his hand: and the midwife took and bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This came out first.
29 And it came to pass, as he drew back his hand, that, behold, his brother came out: and she said, [i]How hast thou broken forth? this [i]breach be upon thee: therefore his name was called Phā'rĕz.
30 And afterward came out his brother, that had the scarlet thread upon his hand: and his name was called [k]Zā'rah.

4 Joseph tested in Egypt.

(1) In Potiphar's house

AND [a]Jō'seph was brought down to Ē'gўpt; and Pŏt'ĭ-phar, an [b]officer of Phā'raōh, [c]captain of the guard, an Ē-gўp'tian, [d]bought him of the hands of the Ish'me-el-ites, which had brought him down thither.
2 And the LORD was [e]with Jō'seph, and [f]he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Ē-gўp'tian.

(2) God blesses Joseph

3 And his master [g]saw that the LORD was with him, and that the LORD made all that he did to prosper in his hand.
4 And Jō'seph found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand.
5 And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the LORD blessed the Ē-gўp'tian's house for Jō'seph's sake; and the blessing of the LORD was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field.
6 And he [h]left all that he had in Jō'seph's hand; and he knew not ought he had, save the bread which he did eat. And Jō'seph was [i]a goodly person, and well favoured.
7 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that his [j]master's wife cast her eyes upon Jō'seph; and she said, Lie with me.
8 But [k]he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand;
9 There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: [l]how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?
10 And it came to pass, as she spake to Jō'seph [m]day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her.
11 And it came to pass about this time, that Jō'seph went into the house to do his business; and there was none of the men of the house there within.
12 And she caught him by his [n]garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out.
13 And it came to pass, [o]when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled forth, f 8 examples of prosperity from God:

1 Joseph (Gen. 39:2-3, 23; 41:40-44)
2 Joshua (Josh. 1:7; 12:1-24; 24:15)
3 David (Ps. 30:6; 2 Sam. 5:10)
4 Solomon (1 Ki. 3:13; 4:1-34; 10:7)
5 Uzziah (2 Chr. 26:5)

7 Daniel (Dan. 6:28)
8 Messiah (Isa. 53:10; Jer. 23:4)

7 laws of prosperity:

1 God with man (Gen. 39:1-3, 23; Jer. 23:11) 2-3; 1 Chr. 22:13) 2 Obedience (Dt. 28:1-14; 29:9, 1 Ki.
3 Meditation (Josh. 1:8; Ps. 1:3)

5 Seeking God (2 Chr. 26:5; Jer. 10:21)
6 Goodness to Israel (12:1-3; Ps. 122:6)
7 Hospitality (Lk. 6:38; 2 Cor. 8:15)

Promises for prosperity:

Gen. 24:40; Dt. 29:9; Ps. 1:3; 122:6; Isa. 55:11; 3 Jn. 2

3 reasons some do not prosper:

1 Rebellion against God (Dt. 28:29)
2 Covering sins (Pr. 28:13)
3 Fighting God (Isa. 54:17)

g Saw, not only that Joseph could be trusted, but that the God of Joseph was the true God

h Common for rich men to do this i The same thing said of his mother (29:17). Joseph was handsome and well shaped and developed in body (v 6). The same Heb. expressions used of him are also used of Rachel (note g, 29:17). The beauty of Joseph was celebrated all over the East. Persian poets and the 12th chapter of the Koran speak of his beauty as perfect. Old traditions say that Zuleekha, Potiphar's wife, was at first the most virtuous of women, but when she saw him she was so affected that she lost all self-control and became a slave to her passion. On one occasion she supposedly made a dinner inviting 40 of the most beautiful women of Egypt who, when they saw Joseph, were so moved with admiration that they exclaimed with one accord that he must be an angel

j Egyptian women were not entirely secluded as Syrian women were k His character stands out as one of the purest in all history. He allowed no temptation to affect his high morality, no calamity to shake his implicit faith in God, no adversity to depress him, and no power or position to make him proud and haughty. In his father's house he had likely been pampered and petted; in slavery he was wantonly and falsely accused. In the palace as the ruler of what was then the greatest kingdom on earth he was always the same truthful, pure, just, merciful, kind and God-fearing man

22 great facts about Joseph (39:8):

1 The 11th of Jacob's 12 sons but the first by his favorite wife (30:22-26)
2 His father's favorite child (37:2-3)
3 Had an unimpeachable character (37:2, 14; 39:7-20; 50:15-21)
4 Had the divine gift of interpretation of dreams (37:5-10; 40:7-23; 41:1-44)
5 Had a flawless record of faithfulness and trust in God and man (37:2, 13; 39:1-23; 40:1-23; 41:14-50:21)
6 Was hated and rejected by his brethren (37:4-33)
7 Was sold into foreign slavery (37:28-36; 39:1)
8 Adjusted his life perfectly in favor or disfavor, slavery or freedom, as a servant or master (37:2-41:57)
9 Prospered by God in all places of trust (39:2-3, 23; 40:1-23; 41:14-57)

b Many times, as here, full justice is prevented by a jealous, untruthful accuser c Potiphar is to be commended for even showing some justice under the circumstances: and yet God's hand is seen in all these events. The prison, a large state prison under him, was still a part of Potiphar's house (40:3 with 37:36). He was chief executioner and captain of the body guard of Pharaoh. The justice manifest regarding Joseph and others in this story indicates a high degree of legal civilization at that time. In a despotic government they all would have perished at the first show of their superior's anger d The Lord was the one friend Joseph had left who could do anything for him. He later raised up another friend close to the time when Joseph was to be delivered and exalted in Egypt (v 21-23)

e 4 times Joseph gained favor: with

1 Jacob (37:3)
2 Potiphar (39:4)
3 Potiphar's wife (39:7)
4 Pharaoh (41:37-44)

3 times Joseph suffered disfavor: with

1 His own brethren (37:4-11)
2 Potiphar's wife (39:14-18)
3 Potiphar, himself (39:19-20)

f This was the second success of Joseph in Egypt. The world would call it good fortune, but Scripture attributes it to the God of Israel (v 21). Joseph had absolute power over his new realm, including all the prisoners and all that was done in the prison (v 22)
g Cup-bearer and baker of Pharaoh
h Had been bound (Ps. 105:17-20). He could not have been bound while carrying out his duties of v 21-23, but could have been left bound at nights or when not on duty

12 tests Joseph gave his brethren (45:1)

1 Making himself a stranger to them, accusing them of being spies (42:7-16)
2 Threatening to keep 9 of them in prison until the other one brought Benjamin (42:16)
3 Putting all 10 brothers in jail for 3 days so his servants could listen to their conversations and get information concerning his home and the events of the past 22 years, and to know their true attitude now concerning Jacob and Rachel's children (42:17)
4 Binding Simeon and keeping him in prison for a whole year, thus punishing him for his cruelty and perhaps for being the leader of the plot against him (42:19-23; 43:23, Cp. 34:25; 49:5)
5 Putting their money back in the sacks so as to test their honesty and to see if they were as covetous as they were when they sold him (42:25-28)
6 Giving them hospitality to make them feel keenly his disappointment in them when they were accused of robbery, after such good treatment (43:16-34)
7 Giving Benjamin a meal 5 times bigger than the others, so as to see if they would hate and be jealous of another one of Rachel's children (43:34)
8 Putting their money back into their sacks a second time, so as to see what their answer would be concerning money they were accused of taking after his hospitality (44:1-8)
9 Putting his personal cup in Benjamin's sack, so as to see what the brothers would do if Benjamin were detained and imprisoned for robbery (44:2-13)
10 Arresting them again and putting them on trial for their returning evil for good (44:2-17)
11 Accusing them of robbery and stealing from a palace, a crime punishable by death (44:2-17)
12 By threatening to keep only Benjamin in prison for the crime, so as to see if they were as anxious to get rid of their father's present favorite son as they had been to get rid of the one in the past (44:17. Cp. 37:2-28)

16 And she laid up his garment by her, until his lord came home.

17 And she spake unto him according to these words, saying, The Hē'brew servant, which thou hast brought unto us, came in unto me to [a]mock me:

18 And it came to pass, as I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled out.

(4) Joseph in prison

19 And it came to pass, when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spake unto him, saying, After this manner did thy servant to me; that his wrath was kindled.

20 And Jō'şeph's master [b]took him, and [c]put him into the prison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound: and he was there in the prison.

(5) Only two friends left

21 ¶ But the [d]LORD was with Jō'şeph, and shewed him mercy, and gave him [e]favour in the sight of the keeper of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison [f]committed to Jō'şeph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison; and whatsoever they did there, he was the doer of it.

23 The keeper of the prison looked not to any thing that was under his hand; because the LORD was with him, and that which he did, the LORD made it to prosper.

CHAPTER 40 40

5 Wisdom of Joseph (40:1-41:36). (1) Fellow prisoners

AND it came to pass after these things, that the [a]butler of the king of Ē'gўpt and his baker had offended their lord the king of Ē'gўpt.

2 And Phā'raōh was wroth against two of his officers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers.

3 And he put them in ward in the house of the captain of the guard, into the prison, the place where Jō'şeph [b]was bound.

4 And the captain of the guard charged Jō'şeph with them, and he served them: and they continued a season in ward.

5 ¶ And they [f]dreamed a dream both of them, each man his dream in one night, each man according to the interpretation of his dream, the butler and the baker of the king of Ē'gўpt which were bound in the prison.

6 And Jō'şeph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and, behold, they were [g]sad.

7 And he asked Phā'raōh's officers that were with him in the ward of his lord's house, saying, [h]Wherefore look ye so sadly to day?

8 And they said unto him, We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Jō'şeph [a]said unto them, Do not interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you.

(2) The butler's dream

9 And the chief butler told his dream to Jō'şeph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, [b]a vine was before me;

10 And in the vine were three branches: and it was as though it budded, and her blossoms shot forth; and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes:

11 And Phā'raōh's cup was in my hand: and [c]I took the grapes, and pressed them into Phā'raōh's cup, and I gave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand.

*12 [d]And Jō'şeph said unto him, This is the interpretation of it: The three branches [e]are three days:

13 Yet within three days shall Phā'raōh lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thy place: and thou shalt deliver Phā'raōh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler.

(3) Joseph's request

14 But [f]think on me when it shall be well with thee, and shew kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Phā'raōh, and bring me out of this house:

15 For indeed [g]I was stolen away out of the land of the Hē'brews: and here also have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon.

(4) The baker's dream

16 When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was good, he said unto Jō'şeph, I also was in my dream, and, behold, I had three white baskets on my head:

17 And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of bakemeats for Phā'raōh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket [h]upon my head.

*18 [i]And Jō'şeph answered and said, This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days:

19 Yet within three days shall Phā'raōh [j]lift up thy head from off thee, and shall [k]hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

(5) Dreams fulfilled: Joseph forgotten by the butler

20 ¶ And it came to pass the third day, which was [l]Phā'raōh's birthday, that he made a feast unto all his servants: and he lifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants.

21 And he restored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and he gave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand:

22 But he hanged the chief a He lost no opportunity for speaking to them about God. Note how he associated himself with God (v 8) b Here we have a comprehensive outline of the different stages of the vine in producing grapes (v 9-11) c Here is a reference to a religious ceremony connected with the worship of Horus, portrayed in Egyptian paintings. There has been some controversy regarding whether vines grew in Egypt. Critics have denied this story on that ground, but now paintings have been discovered with pictures of vines in them. However, it would not have to be proved that vines grew in Egypt to verify the fact that a man in Egypt had a dream about a vine. The demands of unbelief are utterly ridiculous at times. Who in Egypt at this time would not know of the vines in Canaan or of the raisins and wines made from grapes and taken into Egypt and sold?

25 things Joseph learned by the tests

1 His dreams of 37:5-11 were being fulfilled (42:6; 43:26, 28; 44:14)
2 His brothers did not know him (42:8, 23)
3 They claimed to be true men (42:11)
4 Benjamin was alive and home (42:13; 44:20)
5 They thought him dead (42:13;
6 They felt their guilt of refusing to have mercy on him (42:21)
7 They thought they were reaping what they had sowed (42:21-22)
8 Reuben had plead for him, but the others would not listen (42:22; 37:21-22, 29-30)
9 They obeyed and brought Benjamin (43:16)
10 Jacob was yet alive (43:27)
11 He was in good health (43:22)
12 The identity of Benjamin (43:29)
13 His brothers were surprised that he knew the custom of seating among Hebrews (43:33)
14 They were honest in bringing back the first money (43:21; 44:8)
15 They were willing to take blame and suffer for their sin (44:16)
16 They felt that God was punishing them for their kidnapping crime (44:16)
17 Judah was the one who had proposed selling him instead of killing him (37:26; 44:18)
18 All his brethren were changed men (42:22; 43:18-34; 44:9-34)
19 They recognized him as being equal to Pharaoh in power (44:18)
20 Benjamin was now the beloved of his father (44:20-22, 27-31)
21 Jacob's belief was that Joseph had been torn by beasts (44:28)
22 They had lied to Jacob concerning him (44:28)
23 Jacob would no doubt die if Benjamin would be missing (44:30)
24 Judah had become surety to Jacob. He would take the blame and be a substitute to suffer for Benjamin (44:32-33)
25 They were deeply concerned for Jacob and Benjamin - not for themselves (44:20-34)

a Normal acting for the natural man who is consecrated to a life of self-gratification. Self is always his chief interest b 11 years had gone by from the time Joseph was sold as a slave to the time he interpreted the dream of the butler. Then, for 2 more years he remained in prison, being tested in his faith (Ps. 105: 17-20). Being thus tried for 13 years would be a long time for any man (37: 2; 41:2, 46)
c The Nile River on which Egypt depended for good crops. Little rain falls in Egypt but tropical rains in central Africa cause the Nile to rise in the middle of June. It overflows the country 2 months later, and then recedes leaving the land very fertile. Its rise is about 27 feet at Cairo. A few feet above this could cause a destructive flood; and a few feet under it could cause famine

i The east wind, in Egypt is said to be dry and parching. It prevents the dew, hardens the earth, and shrivels the grain j God was causing this, so as to reveal Joseph as in the case of Daniel and Nebuchadnezzar (Dan. 2) k They were the Egyptian priests who understood the sacred hieroglyphic writings. They had a knowledge of art and science, pretended to reveal secrets, interpret hidden things, and foretell what the future held. They accomplished many strange feats by trickery and the power of Satan (Ex. 7:11, 22; 8:7, 18). They were divided into 4 classes; and 5 men taken from them were the king's counsellors l None could. Cp. Dan. 2:10-13; 4:7; 5:8
m His fault was that of forgetting Joseph (40:14-15, 23). It may not have done any good to remember him before it was God's time. We must recognize providence in the forgetfulness as well as in the reminding of his fault (40:23) n Heb., made him run. Joseph had often prayed for and expected this deliverance o Shaving was a disgrace in Palestine and many other Eastern nations, but a very strict custom of the Egyptians who detested long beards. Joseph conformed to the prevailing custom and did all he could to be accepted by Pharaoh (v 14). Hebrews shaved as a sign of mourning. Egyptians let their beards grow only when mourning; and had a custom of using false beards of plaited hair and of different sizes, according to the rank of the wearer. In prison, Joseph had let his hair grow, but now shaved in accordance with custom p As always, he spoke of the God of Israel, giving glory to Him, and expressing absolute faith in His power and faithfulness. Cp. Dan. 2:27-28; 4:8-9; 5: 18-23

Sons of Japheth (10:2)

Japheth means enlargement or extension. This was true of him, for his posterity spread over all the earth. 14 descendents, 7 sons and 7 grandsons, are listed

1 Gomer (10:2-3; 1 Chr. 1:5-6), the progenitor of the ancient Galatians and Phrygians, from which came the natives of northern Europe known as the Gauls and Celts, and in later times as the Germans, French, Welsh, Irish, Britons and various other Anglo-Saxon races. These all came from the 3 sons of Gomer - Ashkenaz, Riphath, and Togarmah

2 Magog (10:2; 1 Chr. 1:5), the progenitor of the Scythians and Tartars, whose descendents predominate in modern Russia (Ezek. 38:2; 39:6; Rev. 20:8). Magog was also a general name of the country north of the Caucasus mountains which are between the Black and Caspian seas

3 Madai (10:2; 1 Chr. 1:5), progenitor of the ancient Medes, Persians, and perhaps the Hindoos

4 Javen (10:2-4; 1 Chr. 1:5-7), the progenitor of the Greeks, Italians, Spaniards, Portuguese and other nations through Elishah, Tarshish, and Dodanim 23 [c]Yet did not the chief butler remember Jō'seph, but forgat him.

41 CHAPTER 41

(6) Two dreams of Pharaoh

AND it came to pass at the end of [b]two full years, that Phā'raōh dreamed: and, behold, he stood by [c]the river.

2 And, behold, there came up out of the river seven well favoured [d]kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a [e]meadow.

3 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the other kine upon the brink of the river.

4 And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Phā'raōh awoke.

5 And he slept and [f]dreamed the second time: and, behold, seven ears of [g]corn came up upon one stalk, [h]rank and good.

6 And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the [i]east wind sprung up after them.

7 And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Phā'raōh awoke, and, behold, it was a dream.

(7) Interpretation sought

8 And it came to pass in the morning that [j]his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the [k]magicians of Ē'gўpt, and all the wise men thereof: and Phā'raōh told them his dream; [l]but there was none that could interpret them unto Phā'raōh.

9 ¶ Then spake the chief butler unto Phā'raōh, saying, I do remember [m]my faults this day:

10 Phā'raōh was wroth with his servants, and put me in ward in the captain of the guard's house, both me and the chief baker:

11 And we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream.

12 And there was there with us a young man, an Hē'brew, servant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he interpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret.

13 And it came to pass, as he interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.

14 ¶ Then Phā'raōh sent and called Jō'seph, and they brought him [n]hastily out of the dungeon: and he [o]shaved himself, and changed his raiment, and came in unto Phā'raōh.

15 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

16 And Jō'seph answered Phā'raōh, saying, [p]It is not in me: God shall give Phā'raōh an answer of peace.

(8) Dreams related to Joseph

17 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river:

18 And, behold, there came up [q]out of the river seven kine, fatfleshed and well favoured; and they fed in a meadow:

19 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of Ē'gўpt for badness:

20 And the lean and the ill favoured kine did eat up the first seven fat kine:

21 And when they had eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them; but they were still ill favoured, as at the beginning. So I awoke.

22 And I saw in my dream, and, behold, seven ears came up in one stalk, full and good:

23 And, behold, seven ears, withered, thin, and blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them:

24 And the thin ears devoured the seven good ears: and I told this unto the [r]magicians; but there was none that could declare it to me.

(9) Joseph's interpretation

■25 ¶ And Jō'seph said unto Phā'raōh, The dream of Phā'raōh is one: [s]God hath shewed Phā'raōh what he is about to do.

■26 [t]The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one.

27 And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be seven years of famine.

28 This is the thing which I have spoken unto Phā'raōh: What God is about to do he sheweth unto Phā'raōh.

29 Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Ē'gўpt:

30 And there shall arise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Ē'gўpt; and the famine shall consume the land;

31 And the [u]plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for it shall be very [v]grievous.

32 And for that the dream was doubled unto Phā'raōh twice; it is because the thing is established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass.

33 Now therefore let Phā'raōh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Ē'gўpt.

34 Let Phā'raōh do this, and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the [w]fifth part of the land of Ē'gўpt in the seven plenteous years.

35 And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn [x]under a Both the kine and the ears of wheat were dependent upon the Nile for life

b See note k, v 8 c Both dreams signified the same thing. Repeated for emphasis to establish the truth of what was to happen (2 Cor. 13:1) d Joseph directed the king to look to God as the author of these events, since such famine did not come from natural causes but from providence which governed the flow of the Nile. God not only can but does bring about certain conditions on earth to fulfil His own will in dealing with His own creation, and in particular, in dealing with His own chosen people. God had told Abraham many years before that Israel would go into Egypt and come out again with great substance (15: 12-16). He has even made known His future dealing to pagan rulers whom He has used many times to further the divine plan (Dan. 2:28, 37-38; 4:17, 25-27; Isa. 44:28; 45:1-4)

Sons of Shem (10:22)

1 Elam (v 22; 1 Chr. 1:17), progenitor of the Elamites who settled near the Persian Gulf (14:1, 9; Isa. 11:11; 21:2; 22:6; Jer. 25:25; 49:34-39; Ezek. 32: 24; Dan. 8:2)

2 Asur (v 11, 22; 1 Chr. 1:17), progenitor of the Assyrians (Num. 24:22-24; Ezek. 27:23; 32:22; Hos. 14:3)

3 Arphaxad (v 22), progenitor of the Israelites, Arabians, Edomites, Moabites, Ammonites, Ishmaelites, Midianites, and other tribes of Asia (11:10-32; 17:20; 25:1-18; 36:1-43)

4 Lud (v 22), progenitor of the Lydians of Asia Minor, and the Ludim of Chaldea and Persia

5 Aram (v 22), progenitor of Aramaeans, later called Syrians

Sons of Ham (10:6)

1 Cush (v 6-12; 1 Chr. 1:8-10; Isa. 11: 11), progenitor of various Ethiopian tribes that settled south of Egypt and also overran Arabia, Babylonia, and India

2 Mizraim (v 6, 13-14; 1 Chr. 1:8-11), progenitor of various Egyptian tribes. Mizraim means double. Tribes of the double Egypt (upper and lower Egypt), called the land of Ham came from him (Ps. 78:51; 105:23-27; 106:22). The Philistines also came from Mizraim (v 14)

3 Phut (v 6; Ezek. 27:10), progenitor of the Libyans and other tribes in northern Africa (Ezek. 27:10; 30:5; 38:5; Jer. 46:9; Nah. 3:9)

4 Canaan (v 6, 15-19; 9:18-27; 1 Chr. 1:8-13), progenitor of peoples that settled mainly in Palestine, Arabia, Tyre, Sidon, and other parts of the land promised to Abraham. These nations are often mentioned in connection with Israel (v 15-19; 15:18-21; Dt. 7: 1-3; Josh. 12)

The above study concerning the sons of Shem, Ham, and Japheth gives one an idea of the origin of the various races of men and shows clearly that God's original plan was to have separate races of various colors and distinct types after the flood. It is plainly evident that God segregated and scattered the people abroad on the face of the earth, and then divided the one land into islands and continents as it is today (Gen. 10:25) a Joseph spoke by inspiration and faith, remembering the dreams he had told his brethren. He felt that God had already made clear a great destiny for him. This consciousness of God's will made him speak with freedom and authority to recommend the line of action for Pharaoh that would save the nation, and especially his own people, from famine. Pharaoh was prepared, by the startling and vivid revelation of God to him, to hear and adopt Joseph's plan

b Question 117. Next, 42:1

c It was evident to Pharaoh and his servants that Joseph had divine wisdom by the Spirit of the God of Israel (v 37-39). They would remain idolaters and still recognize Elohim as the God of the Hebrews. This does not mean that they renounced all idolatry

d Apepi, according to the monuments, had only recently become king over all, having reigned with his father and grandfather for a time

e A ring with the king's seal and name on it, by which he could transact all business for Pharaoh (v 42)

f Or silk, worn by the Egyptian priesthood, to which the king, himself belonged

g A symbol of dignity and honor worn by all rulers and people of high rank

h An act of prostration before royalty i As surely as I am king you will have absolute authority in all Egypt

j Originally, an Egyptian word meaning abundance of life. Jerome translates it Saviour of the world k An Egyptian word meaning belonging to Neith, the Egyptian Minerva and goddess of handicraft l An Egyptian word meaning belonging to the sun. On was the city of the sun god, identical with the Syrian Baal. Joseph married into one of the most influential and noble families in Egypt. The chief priest's power was great and his office hereditary. The priests were the wealthy land-owners, the aristocracy whose statues were in the temples of the gods like those of the Pharaohs

p The fifth part of the land (v 34)

The size of Noah's ark (6:15):

Considering that a cubit is 25 inches, the ark was about 625 ft. long, 104 ft. wide, and 62 1/2 ft. high. Up to 1850 A. D. there was no ship in the history of the world as large as the ark. Of the world's steamships up to 1932 less than 1 per cent were as large; and only 160 were longer, 7 wider and 8 higher than the ark. Only 6 had a greater tonnage. The capacity of the ark was equivalent in tonnage to more than 600 freight cars, which would form a train about 4 miles long capable of handling over 90,000,000 pounds

The ark was easily big enough for all it was to hold. The fish and other sea creatures stayed in the sea; insects were small as well as snakes and lizards. The average size of most mammals was no larger than a dog. The birds could have easily lodged in the ceilings or been hung up in cages. An ox is allowed 20 sq. ft. on a modern vessel. If this much room was allowed in the ark for each of the larger mammals there would have been ample room for all including food for a year and 17 days

"Window" of the ark (6:16)

Heb. zohar, an opening or place for light "with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it." This is not challon trans. window in 8:6, which means one of the windows in zohar, the place for light on each of the three decks. Zohar is also trans. noontide (Jer. 20:16); noonday (Dt. 28:29; Job 5:14; 11:17; Ps. 37:3; Isa. 16:3; Jer. 15:8); and noon (Gen. 43:16, 25; 2 Sam. 4:5; 1 Ki. 18:26, 27; 20:16). 36 And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Ē'gўpt; that the land perish not through the famine.

6 Joseph's exaltation.

(1) Made second ruler

37 ¶ And the [a]thing was good in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

38 And Phā'raōh said unto his servants, [b]Can we find such a one as this is, a man [c]in whom the Spirit of God is?

39 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art:

40 Thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou.

41 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, See, I have set thee over [d]all the land of Ē'gўpt.

42 And Phā'raōh took off [e]his ring from his hand, and put it upon Jō'ṣeph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of [f]fine linen, and put a [g]gold chain about his neck;

43 And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, [h]Bow the knee: and he made him ruler over all the land of Ē'gўpt.

44 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, [i]I am Phā'raōh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Ē'gўpt.

(2) Marriage of Joseph

45 And Phā'raōh called Jō'ṣeph's name [j]Zāph'nath-pā-ne'ah; and he gave him to wife [k]As'e-nāth the daughter of Pō'tī-phē'rah priest of [l]On. And Jō'ṣeph went out over all the land of Ē'gўpt.

(3) Seven years of plenty

46 ¶ And Jō'ṣeph was [m]thirty years old when he stood before Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt. And Jō'ṣeph [n]went out from the presence of Phā'raōh, and went throughout all the land of Ē'gўpt.

47 And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by [o]handfuls.

48 And he gathered up [p]all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Ē'gўpt, and laid up the food in the cities: the food of the field, which was round about every city, laid he up in the same.

49 And Jō'ṣeph gathered corn as the sand of the sea, very much, until he left numbering; for it was without number.

(4) Joseph's family in Egypt

50 And unto Jō'ṣeph were born two sons before the years of famine came, which As'e-nāth the daughter of Pō'tī-phē'rah priest of On bare unto him.

51 And Jō'ṣeph called the name of the firstborn [a]Mā-nās'seh: For God, said he, [b]hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

52 And the name of the second called he [c]Ē'phrā-im: For God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.

(5) Seven years of famine

53 ¶ And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Ē'gўpt, were ended.

54 And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Jō'ṣeph had said: and the dearth was in [d]all lands; but in all the land of Ē'gўpt there was bread.

55 And when all the land of Ē'gўpt was famished, the people cried to Phā'raōh for bread: and Phā'raōh said unto all the Ē-gўp'tians, Go unto Jō'ṣeph; what he saith to you, do.

(6) The authority of Joseph

56 And the [e]famine was [f]over all the face of the earth: And Jō'ṣeph opened all the storehouses, and sold unto the Ē-gўp'tians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Ē'gўpt.

57 And all countries came into Ē'gўpt to Jō'ṣeph for to buy corn; because that the famine was so sore in all lands.

42 CHAPTER 42

7 Joseph and his brethren (Gen. 42:1-45:28). (1) First trip of Joseph's brethren to Egypt

NOW when Jā'cob [a]saw that there was corn in Ē'gўpt, Jā'cob said unto his sons, [b]Why do ye look one upon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Ē'gўpt: [c]get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.

3 ¶ And Jō'ṣeph's ten brethren went down to buy corn in Ē'gўpt.

4 But Bĕn'ja-mĭn, Jō'ṣeph's brother, Jā'cob sent not with his brethren; for he said, [d]Lest peradventure mischief befall him.

5 And the sons of Ĭs'ra-el came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the land of Cā'nāan.

6 And Jō'ṣeph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and [e]Jō'ṣeph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.

d One of 13 famines of Scripture. See note r, Gen. 12:10 e These general expressions, all the face of the earth, all lands, etc. of v 56-57 must be understood in a limited sense as when we say, the whole city, or everybody in the country was there, referring to a great crowd. These are examples of synecdoche, the figure of speech wherein the whole is used when only a part is meant. There are several uses of synecdoche in the Bible. All the world as we know it could not have gone to Egypt to buy corn (or wheat), for there were peoples on far-away islands and continents separated by oceans which at that time were not crossed. See note, Lk. 2:1; p. 308, col. 1 of N. T.

f Jacob heard, as in v 2

g Question 118. Next, 42:7. Joseph's brethren were becoming concerned about food

h The same thing that Abraham had done in the first famine (12:10-20)

i Jacob evidently had centered his love upon Benjamin after Joseph was gone, and feared something would happen to him also (42:35-38; 43:1-9; 44:12-34). Furthermore, Jacob may have had a suspicion that his other sons were responsible for Joseph being gone and was afraid to trust them with Benjamin j Next to Joseph's piety his application to business is the most outstanding trait thus far recorded. He personally sold all corn in Egypt, going from one storehouse to another. One reason for this, no doubt, was that he knew eventually his brethren would come to buy corn and he wanted to be on hand to meet them and help fulfil his dreams (37:5-11)

k This is what Joseph had long looked for. Thus part of his dreams was fulfilled

l Heb., hard things with them. Each step in Joseph's treatment was designed to bring them back to the pit in Dothan, convict them of their sin, and compel their confession of it. That climax was finally reached as recorded in v 21 and in Judah's plea for mercy in 44:18-34. Joseph by this time was 39 years old (37:2; 41:46-54; 45:11). 22 years had passed since their last meeting with Joseph; therefore, they did not know him because of the great change in his appearance mals and the refuse would be removed. We have no passage indicating that God required men and thousands of animals to live in a tight place without light, ventilation, and sanitation for 1 year and 17 days. Recent archaeological findings at Nippur disclose that the ark had a sewage system unsurpassed by that of any modern city and that there were openings for light and ventilation in each story

16 examples of men blessed (9:26):

1 Adam and Eve (1:22, 28; 5:2)
2 Noah and sons (9:1)
3 Abraham (14:19; 24:1, 35)
4 Ishmael (17:20)
5 Isaac (25:11; 26:12)
6 Jacob (30:27; 35:9)
7 Laban (30:30)
8 Potiphar (39:5)
9 Israel (Dt. 2:7; 7:14; 12:7; 14:24; 15:14; 16:10; 2 Chr. 31:10)
10 Samson (Judg. 13:24)
11 Obed-edom (2 Sam. 6:11; 1 Chr. 13:14)
12 Peulthai (1 Chr. 26:5)
13 Job (Job 42:12)
14 Solomon (Ps. 45:2)
15 Simon Peter (Mt. 16:17)
16 Paul and others (Eph. 1:3)

Others named in Scripture were blessed of God in various ways, but the word blessed is not used in the record as in the above outstanding examples. The fact is, the whole human race is blessed of God in many ways, with fruitful seasons, daily provision and favor, and continued preservation and help in innumerable things. Even the most ungodly and rebellious against God are permitted by Him to live and enjoy the blessings of life. He seeks constantly by His goodness to win them and bring them to repentance (Rom. 2:1-11)

a Question 119, Next, v 22
b See his dreams in Gen. 37:5-11 c Egyptians were exposed to incursions from the northeast so it was not unnatural to make such an accusation and act as he did. He led them to believe that he thought they were representatives from various tribes or nations seeking to know the defenses of Egypt d No man would expose 10 of his sons at once to the dangerous business of being spies. They claimed to be all of one family, not spies from different nations. On these grounds he tested them to get proof they were all of one family (v 9-16)
e Every time they spoke Joseph received more news from home. This is perhaps why he continued to question them. He now knew that both Benjamin and Jacob were alive
f Your statements are so improbable that it increases my suspicion of you (v 14)
g In his position Joseph could make very strict inquiry. There was nothing cruel about his treatment of his brethren. He knew the wickedness they were capable of, and it was his plan to get information about home without causing suspicion about himself. How did he know but what they had done to Benjamin what they had done to him, and that his father was now dead?
h This was a common way of expressing an oath. Similar oaths are heard daily in the East (v 15) i This implies that Joseph was not yet convinced about Benjamin and wanted proof that he was alive. Joseph relented in this; instead of keeping all but one he kept only one as security for bringing Benjamin (v 15)
j This was nothing compared to his many years in prison which they had been responsible for (v 17) k Heb., I also fear (ha Elohim) the Gods (v 18). Joseph used the emphatic ha with Elohim, emphasizing the Supreme Being, the God of Israel in contrast with the idol gods of Egypt. He told his brothers that he was a worshipper of the true God and they had nothing to fear if they were telling the truth. This sudden change of providence awakened the brothers, who for 22 years now had likely lulled their conscience to sleep concerning Joseph, not knowing the outcome of their crime as to whether he had perished or not. The conscience now condemned their act as guilty (v 21)
l 3 demands by Joseph of his brethren:
1 Let one of you be bound in prison (v 19)
2 Go with food for your families (v 19)
3 Bring your youngest brother (v 20) m Promised to meet his demands n All this severe treatment was considered reaping for their sin in selling Joseph them; [a]and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Cā'năan to buy food.

8 And Jō'şeph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Jō'seph [b]remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and [c]said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

(3) Their answer to Joseph

10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.

11 We are all [d]one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.

(4) Second time accused of being spies

12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

(5) Second answer to Joseph
Cp. v 10-11; 44:18-34

13 And [e]they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Cā'năan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is not.

(6) Demands proof of them that they are not spies

14 And Jō'şeph said unto them, [f]That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:

15 [g]Hereby ye shall be proved: [h]By the life of Phā'raōh ye shall not go forth hence, [i]except your youngest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Phā'raōh surely ye are spies.

(7) Joseph jails his brethren

17 And he put them all together into ward/three days.

18 And Jō'şeph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; [j]for I fear God:

(8) Joseph again demands proof that they are not spies

19 If ye be true men, [k]let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: go ye, carry corn for the famine of your houses:

20 But bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. [l]And they did so.

(9) Remorse over past sins

21 ¶ And they said one to another, [m]We are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us.

22 And Reu'ben answered them, saying, [n]Spake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? therefore, behold, also his blood is required.

(10) Simeon bound for security

23 And they knew not that Jō'şeph [o]understood them; for he spake unto them by an interpreter.

24 And he turned himself about from them, and [p]wept; and returned to them again, and [q]communed with them, and took from them [r]Sim'e-on, and bound him [s]before their eyes.

(11) The return to Canaan

25 ¶ Then Jō'şeph commanded to fill their [t]sacks with corn, and to restore every man's money into his sack, and to give them provision for the way: and thus did he unto them.

26 And they laded their asses with the corn, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sack to give his ass provender in the [u]inn, he espied his money; for, behold, it was in his sack's mouth.

28 And he said unto his brethren, My money is restored; and, lo, it is even in my sack: and their heart failed them, and they were afraid, saying one to another, [v]What is this that God hath done unto us?

(12) Report to Jacob

29 ¶ And they came unto Jā'cob their father unto the land of Cā'năan, and told him all that befell unto them; saying,

30 The man, who is the lord of the land, spake roughly to us, and took us for spies of the country.

31 And we said unto him, We are true men; we are no spies:

32 We be twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Cā'năan.

33 And the man, the lord of the country, said unto us, Hereby shall I know that ye are true men; leave one of your brethren here with me, and take food for the famine of your households, and be gone:

34 And bring your youngest brother unto me: then shall I know that ye are no spies, but that ye are true men: so will I deliver you your brother, and ye shall traffick in the land.

35 ¶ And it came to pass as they emptied their sacks, that, behold, [w]every man's bundle of money was in his sack: and when both they and their father saw the bundles of money, they were afraid.

(13) The sorrow of Jacob

36 And Jā'cob their father said unto them, Me have ye bereaved of my children: Jō'şeph is not, and Sim'e-on is not, and ye will take Bĕn'jamin away: all these things are against me.

a Joseph no doubt learned the answer to many questions concerning his case and who was the one most responsible b He left them alone while he wept and then returned to them (v 24) c Continued to question and examine them until he was satisfied (43:6-7) d Simeon, because of his cruel nature (34:25; 49:5) was evidently the one most responsible for Joseph's sufferings. He had perhaps been the one to bind him and cast him into the pit; hence, he was left bound while the others were back in Canaan. How many times, if any, that Joseph visited him during this period is not known e To make an impression on the other brothers and upon Jacob when they got home. Whether he was left bound the whole time is not stated (v 24)
f Sacks filled with corn that were not opened until they got home. A different Heb. word in this verse from the other one for sack referring to what was used for the food of the animals and into which the money was put. These were perhaps large woolen bags lined with leather to keep out dust and sand (v 25). There must have been hundreds of bags of corn (wheat) for such a large tribe. See note a, 45:11
g Simply a resting place for the night by some well h Question 121, Next, 43:6. This was the second time they were convicted in conscience and attributed things that had happened, to God (v 21, 28)
i Joseph's act of returning the money was thoughtful and kind. To have done this publicly might have caused suspicion and discovery of his identity. To have retained the money, he may have thought, would be taking something which was needed to help his father in time of famine. He had a large household to be provided for during the years to come. Joseph also may have desired to impress upon them the thought of the supply of God. Jacob and his sons no doubt thought it might be a trap to enslave them all. It seems that the money of all but one was at the bottom of the sacks, and not discovered until they were emptied (v 27, 35). When the sons returned to Egypt for more corn the money was taken back and offered to Joseph, whose servant would not take it (43:12-25)

Man's curse (3:19)

This foretells the hard labor man was to endure making a living under the conditions of the curse. The very elements were to be abnormal and make him suffer for his sin. Hard labor was to break him down physically, and finally result in his death (Eccl. 3:20; 12:7; Ps. 103:14; 1 Cor. 15:21-28). Deserts, barrenness, weeds, poisons, germs and every other form of curse causing adversity were to add to man's punishment until he would finally return to the cursed ground himself. The planets were affected so that weather conditions became a problem (Isa. 30:26; 35:1-8; Rev. 7:16). Man's whole existence, until the final restoration of all things, was now to be one of constant hardships, sufferings, and trials (3:1-42; 35:16; Ps. 90:10; 107:12; Eccl. 1:8; 2:18; 4:8; Mt. 11:28; Jas. 5:4). In the new earth there will be no more curse; everything will be as it was before Lucifer's rebellion in the pre-Adamite world, and before man's rebellion in the Adamite world (Acts 3:21; Rev. 22:3). The purpose of Christ in the 1,000-year reign will be to rid the earth of all rebellion and curse so that man can carry out his original assignment of helping God to administer the affairs of the universe (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 20-22)

Law of double reference (3:15)

Here we have the first occurrence of the law of double reference (Cp. Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; Mt. 16:22-23; Mk. 8:7-16; Lk. 4:33-35, 41). In these and many other passages a visible creature is addressed but certain statements also refer to an invisible person WHO IS USING THE VISIBLE creature as a tool. Thus two persons are involved in the same passage. The law of interpretation to follow in such passages is to associate only such statements with each individual as could refer to him. The statements of v 14 could apply only to the serpent and not to Satan. The first part of v 15 could apply to both the seed of the serpent and Satan. The last part of v 15 could only refer to Satan and Christ. A simple example of this law which is recognized by scholars is the case of Christ addressing Peter as Satan. When Peter declared that he would never permit anyone to crucify his Lord on the cross, Christ rebuked him saying, "Get thee behind Me, Satan: thou art an offence unto Me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men" (Mt. 16:22-23). Both Satan and Peter were addressed in the same statement, and both were involved in the rebuke. Peter, for the moment, was unknowingly being used as a tool of Satan in an effort to keep Christ from going to the cross. Primarily, Satan was the one addressed; and so it is with the passage above, where a visible creature is addressed, and the primary reference is to an invisible being. We have other examples in Isa. 14:12-14 and Ezek. 28:11-17 where the kings of Babylon and Tyre are addressed, and the statements apply in particular to Satan - the invisible king of Babylon and Tyre. There are some statements in these passages which could not possibly refer to an earthly man

g Jacob said nothing of the terms of Joseph, hoping that he could avoid meeting them h Judah became the spokesman and reminded his father of the only conditions on which they could return to Egypt. He offered himself as security as Reuben did a year earlier (42:37; 43:9). He rebelled against going if the terms were not met (43:5)
i Questions 122-125, Next, v 27
j Many things could have caused these grown men to suspect Joseph of being acquainted with their people and country, if not to believe he might be their lost brother. His inquiries concerning details of their home and family were enough (43:7). The money in the sacks, the demand to see Benjamin and other acts would lead one to wonder about many things k Though Benjamin is called a lad, he was at least 30 years old (notes h and k, 37:2-3). He had 10 sons (46:21), proving further that Jacob's sons married at 15 to 20 years of age. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30
l It was a matter of life and death or Jacob never would have consented to let Benjamin go (v 8)
m Proving Jacob was holding out as long as possible n Jacob surrendered and planned to win favor by gifts as he did with Esau many years before (33:8-11; 43:11)
o In the present were fruits, listed here as balm, a very wonderful gift and rich in fragrance; honey from wild bees or syrup from dates; figs or grapes; myrrh, a gum taken from trees; nuts; almonds; and spices p Showing the honesty of Jacob. Perhaps Joseph wanted to test his brethren to see if they had become honest, so he had given their money back to them (42:25)
q The very man his brothers had hated, envied, and sold into slavery. Life often holds such experiences teaching us that it always pays to be loving and just r Heb. El-Shaddai, the All-Bountiful or Supplier of All Needs. This name emphasizes the providence of God over all creation. Providence means foresight and forethought; divine superintendence over all things. In providence God assumes responsibility for the eternal care of the universe. It takes in the provision for and preservation of His creation in all eternity. El-Shaddai manifested Himself as the All-Bountiful One when He planned and brought about the abundance of all things. In nature everything produces abundantly to supply the infinite needs of other things in due season (1:20-31; 8:22; 49:24; Lev. 25:20; 26:4; Dt. 7:13-15; Job 38:27-41; Ps. 36:6-7; 65:9-13; 103:3-6; 104:10-30; 105:14-45; 107:1-43; 135:7; 136:25; 145:15; 146:7-9; 147:8-14; Mal. 3:10-12; Mt. 6:26-33; 10:29-31; Acts 14:17; 1 Cor. 1:9; 2 Cor. 9:8-10)

The All-Bountiful has promised:

1 Salvation - To him that ordereth his conversation (manner of life) aright will I show the salvation of God (Ps. 50:23); That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation (Rom. 10:9-10; 1:16; Acts 2:21; 4:12; 2 Th. 2:13; Tit. 2:11-14; Heb. 7:25)

2 Prosperity - The Lord... maketh rich (1 Sam. 2:7-8); Keep the charge of the Lord... to walk in His ways... that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest (1 Ki. 2:3-4); Both riches and honor come of Thee (1 Chr. 29:12); The hand of God is upon all them for good that seek Him: but His power and 37 And [c]Reu'ben spake unto his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee: deliver him into my hand, and I will bring him to thee again.

(14) Decision to return to Egypt

AND the [d]famine was sore in [e]the land.

2 And it came to pass, [f]when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of E'gypt, their father said unto them, [g]Go again, buy us a little food.

(15) Jacob persuaded to meet the demands of Joseph

3 And [d]Ju'dah spake unto him, saying, The man did solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food:

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Is'ra-el said, [f]Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother?

7 And they said, [f]The man asked us straitly of our state, and of our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye another brother? and we told him according to the tenor of these words: could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down?

8 And Ju'dah said unto Is'ra-el his father, [g]Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that [h]we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones.

9 I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever:

10 For [m]except we had lingered, surely now we had returned this second time.

11 And their father Is'ra-el said unto them, [n]If it must be so now, do this; take of the [o]best fruits in the land in your vessels, and carry down the man a present, a little balm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds:

12 And [p]take double money in your hand; and the money that was brought again in the mouth of your sacks, carry it again in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight:

13 Take also your brother, and arise, go again unto [q]the man:

14 And [r]God Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may send away your other brother, and Ben'ja-min. If I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.

(16) Second trip to Egypt

15 ¶ And the men took that present, and they took double money in their hand, and Ben'ja-min; and rose up, and went down to E'gypt, and stood before Jo'seph.

16 And when Jo'seph saw Ben'ja-min with them, he said to the ruler of his house, [e]Bring these men home, and slay, and make ready; for these men shall dine with me at noon.

17 And the man did as Jo'seph bade; and the man brought the men into Jo'seph's house.

(17) Their fear and humility

18 And the men were [h]afraid, because they were brought into Jo'seph's house; and they said, Because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first time are we brought in; that he may seek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, and our asses.

19 And they came near to the steward of Jo'seph's house, and they communed with him at the door of the house,

20 And said, [c]O sir, we came indeed down at the first time to buy food:

21 And it came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight: and we have brought it again in our hand.

22 And other money have we brought down in our hands to buy food: we cannot tell who put our money in our sacks.

23 And he said, [d]Peace be to you, fear not: your God, and the God of your father, hath given you treasure in your sacks: [i]I had your money. And he [f]brought Sim'e-on out unto them.

24 And the man brought the men into Jo'seph's house, and gave them water, and they washed their feet; and he gave their asses provender.

25 And they made ready the present against Jo'seph came at noon: for they heard that they should eat bread there.

(18) Their meeting with Joseph

26 ¶ And when Jo'seph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and [f]bowed themselves to him to the earth.

27 And [d]he asked them of their welfare, and said, [f]Is your father well, the old man of whom ye spake? Is he yet alive?

28 And they answered, Thy servant our father is in good health, he is yet alive. And they [f]bowed down their heads, and made obeisance.

29 And he lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Ben'ja-min, his mother's son, and said, Is this your younger brother, of whom ye spake unto me? And a Joseph was so busy with his duties that he could not pay attention to them, even though he saw Benjamin with them. He also wished to remain unidentified. He was fearful of breaking down and revealing himself before time and that in public b They did not know what fate awaited them. They could have had many fears because of all the strange happenings. Being taken to Joseph's house was altogether unusual. A guilty conscience suspected that evil was determined against them, and that he was seeking some quarrel with them so as to enslave and rob them of all they had (v 18) c They wasted no time before telling of the money found in their sacks and how they had brought it back (v 19-21). They wanted to clear themselves before Joseph came. They were learning the law of reaping for sowing at each step d Joseph's steward talked as if he had been well instructed in matters concerning the true God. He answered like a real believer; and associated their God with Joseph's God indicating he may have known somewhat of who they were. Could Joseph have trusted him with his secret?

e This could have been literally true. Their money could have been kept and other money put in the sacks f Joseph's steward brought Simeon out to them, proving that he had full instructions to do so. This would be the first act to calm their fears g Again Joseph's dreams were fulfilled (37:5-11, Cp. 42:6) h This would have caused them to wonder further about such kind treatment from a total stranger i Questions 126-128, Next, 44:4
j Once again they fulfilled his dreams of 37:5-11

His wrath is against them that forsake Him (Ezra 8:22); If they obey and serve Him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures (Job 36:11); But in His law doth he meditate day and night... whatsoever he doeth shall prosper (Ps. 1:1-3); I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper (3 Jn. 2, Cp. Mt. 7:7-11; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; 2 Cor. 9:6-8)

3 Healing and health - If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His sight, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord thy God that healeth thee (Ex. 15:26); He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty... Surely He shall deliver thee from the noisome pestilence... A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee... There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling (Ps. 91; 103:3-5; Isa. 53:3-5; 58:8; Mt. 8:16-17; Mk. 16:15-20; Jas. 5:14-16; 1 Pet. 2:24; 3 Jn. 2)

4 All wants and needs - I shall not want (Ps. 23:1); they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing (Ps. 34:9-10); no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly (Ps. 84:11); nothing shall be impossible unto you (Mt. 17:20); all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive (Mt. 21:22); all things are possible to him that believeth (Mk. 9:23); whosoever... shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass: he shall have whatsoever he saith... What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them (Mk. 11:22-24); whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do... If ye shall ask any thing in My name, I will do it (Jn. 14:12-15); ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you (Jn. 15:7); whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in My name, He may give it you (Jn. 15:16); Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in My name, He will give it you... ask and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full (Jn. 16:23-26); it shall be given him (Jas. 1:4-8); whatsoever we ask we receive of Him (1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:13-14; Heb. 11:6)

he said, God be gracious unto thee, my son.

(19) Joseph weeps

30 And Jō'şeph made haste; for his bowels did yearn upon his brother: and [a]he sought where to weep; and he entered into his chamber, and wept there.

31 And he washed his face, and went out, and [b]refrained himself, and said, Set on bread.

(20) Banquet with Joseph

32 And they set on for him[c] by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Ĕ-gўp'tians, which did eat with him, by themselves: because the Ĕ-gўp'tians might not eat bread with the Hē'brews; for that is an abomination unto the Ĕ-gўp'tians.

33 And they [d]sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright, and the youngest [e]according to his youth: and the men marvelled one at another.

34 And he took and sent messes unto them before him: but/Bĕn'ja-min's mess was five times so much as any of theirs. And [g]they drank, and were merry with him.

CHAPTER 44 44

(21) Their feigned dismissal

AND he commanded the steward of his house, saying, [a]Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put every man's money in his sack's mouth.

2 And [b]put my cup, the silver cup, in the sack's mouth of the youngest, and his corn money. And he did according to the word that Jō'şeph had spoken.

3 As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away, they and their asses.

4 And when they were gone out of the city, and not yet far off, Jō'şeph said unto his steward, Up, follow after the men; and when thou dost overtake them, say unto them, [j]Wherefore have ye rewarded evil for good?

5 Is not this it in which my lord drinketh, and whereby indeed he [k]divineth? ye have done evil in so doing.

6 ¶ And he overtook them, and he spake unto them these same words.

7 And they said unto him, Wherefore saith my lord these words? God forbid that thy servants should do according to this thing:

8 Behold, the money, which we found in our sacks' mouths, we brought again unto thee out of the land of Cā'năan: how then should we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold?

9 With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, both [l]let him die, and[m] we also will be my lord's bondmen.

10 And he said, [n]Now also let it be according unto your words: he with whom it is found shall be my servant; and ye shall be blameless.

11 Then they speedily took down every man his[a] sack to the ground, and opened every man his sack.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest, and left at the youngest: and the cup was found in Bĕn'ja-min's sack.

13 Then they [b]rent their clothes, and laded every man his ass, [c]and returned to the city.

(22) Explanation to Joseph

14 ¶ And Jū'dah and his brethren came to Jō'şeph's house; for he was yet there: and they [d]fell before him on the ground.

15 And Jō'şeph said unto them, [e]What deed is this that ye have done? wot ye not that such a man as I can certainly [f]divine?

16 And Jū'dah said, [g]What shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants: behold, we are my lord's servants, both we, and he also with whom the cup is found.

17 And he said, God forbid that I should do so: but the man in whose hand the cup is found, he shall be my servant; and as for you, get you up in peace unto your father.

(23) Judah's heart-breaking plea

18 ¶ Then Jū'dah came near unto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in my lord's ears, and let not thine anger burn against thy servant: for thou art even as Phā'raōh.

19 My lord asked his servants, saying, [h]Have ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we said unto my lord, We have a father, an old man, and a child of his old age, a little one; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him.

21 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Bring him down unto me, that I may set mine eyes upon him.

22 And we said unto my lord, The lad cannot leave his father: for if he' should leave his father, his father would die.

23 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more.

24 And it came to pass when we came up unto thy servant my father, we told him the words of my lord.

25 And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food.

26 And we said, We cannot go down: if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down: for we may not see the man's face, except our youngest brother be with us.

27 And thy servant my father said unto us, Ye know that [i]my wife bare me two sons:

28 And the one went out from a The second time he sought privacy to weep (v 30; 42:24)

b This was hard for a tender-hearted and kind man like Joseph to do. They had done exactly as he had dreamed, and even called Jacob the servant of Joseph (v 28). His dream of the sheaves was doubly prophetic: of his dignity and his brethren's free acknowledgement of it, and of symbolizing the circumstances under which they bowed to him - seeking corn to save their lives (37:5-11)

c The caste system was in evidence all over Egypt. Different classes of Egyptians would not eat or live together. Joseph was of the highest caste, so he had food set for himself; then food for the other Egyptians, and some for the Hebrews by themselves. Egyptians would not eat with foreigners, chiefly because they ate flesh of the cow, which Egyptians considered sacred to their deity Isis, and a high crime to kill. Shepherds were abhorred by them (46:34)

d Egyptians sat at meals instead of reclining as in some other countries

e The fact that Joseph knew their ages and order at meals caused them to marvel (v 33)

f This was perhaps done to see if they were still jealous and could be moved with envy against a younger brother

g They drank abundantly and were happy

h A repetition of what had happened before (42:27, 35; 43:12, 18-23)

i This was Joseph's new strategy to humble his brethren before revealing himself. It was his 4th step in trying them and proving them to see if they were still the same brethren and would treat Benjamin as they had treated him

j Questions 129-132. Next, v 15. What a shock to them who had been so royally treated!

k This was to impress them that Joseph was an Egyptian. Divining cups were used among the Egyptians as well as other nations. They bore certain magical inscriptions, and when used were filled with pure water. In some cases melted wax was poured into the water, and the will of the gods was interpreted by the variously shaped figures formed in this way. Or, plates of gold and silver, and precious stones with magical characters engraved on them were thrown into the water. Then, words of incantation were muttered, and some of the signs engraved on the stones being reflected by the sun, in the water, were interpreted as having some meaning l Such rashness was in accordance with the Code of Hammurabi, which was known in both Canaan and Egypt. It ordered the death penalty for trivial offences in some cases, and counted robbing from a palace as a very serious crime

Death penalties-Code of Hammurabi:

1 One who stole from a palace was to be put to death. Such property was held more sacred than life itself

2 The purchaser of stolen property was to be put to death as a thief

3 A woman unjustly accused of adultery was required to throw herself into a river

4 A careless woman who had gadded about, neglected her house, and belittled her husband, was to be thrown into a river

5 A builder of a faulty house which fell and killed the owner was to be put to death

6 A poor thief who had nothing to pay back was to be put to death

7 One who stole property from a burning house was to be thrown into the fire

8 The man who cheated in selling goods to a neighbor was to be thrown into water to drown

9 The woman who brought about the death of her husband for the sake of another man was to die

10 A man who killed a gentleman's daughter would be put to death; but if he killed a poor man's daughter he was only to pay a mina (1 lb.) of silver

Death penalties were carried out with burning, drowning, and the sword. Other penalties of this code were cutting out the tongue for lying or denying parents; plucking out eyes for hatred of foster parents; cutting off the breast of a nurse who had caused a child to die; cutting off fingers of those who smote parents;

a The sacks filled with corn (wheat) and those in which the money was put were two different kinds. The one contained the grain that was to be taken to their families (42:35), and the other held the feed for the animals on the journey (42:27)

b Rending the clothes was a Hebrew custom and a sign of genuine honesty, sincerity, and deep mourning. By this Joseph knew that his brothers had the right spirit of love and concern for their younger brother as well as for their father (v 13. See note q, 37:34)

c They could have made a break for freedom, but they were clear in their conscience that they were innocent. They were glad to return and face charges, which proved further their innocence (v 13)

d The 4th time they fulfilled his dreams (37:5-11. Cp. 42:6; 43:26, 28)

f What Joseph meant by leading his brethren to believe this is not stated. He evidently was merely playing his part to bring them to complete submission and confession of their guilt, hatred, and envy; to make them merciful and kind to one another; and to find out their true and deepest love for Jacob. He wanted to know what they were willing to do to help a younger brother and protect their father from suffering. Such treatment brought out to his full satisfaction that they had greatly changed

g Judah offered no excuse for the cup being in Benjamin's sack. What could he say under the circumstances? He offered all to become slaves, Joseph rejected this and wanted Benjamin only. The demand brought Judah to the height of his manhood, to make the plea of v 18-34 and offer himself instead of Benjamin. The simplicity of the narrative, the pathetic appeal, the filial affection, the generous devotedness to his father and brothers make this plea of Judah one of the greatest examples in history. Every word finds its way to the heart, and it may well be that this plea in the presence of Benjamin cemented the brothers together for life. To Joseph it meant there had been enough of self-containment for himself and enough of suffering for his brothers. He could not refrain himself longer (45:1) cutting off the ears of slaves striking the master's children; cutting off the fingers of a physician who used brass lancets to open abscesses if the patient died; and the scourging of a man with 60 strokes who smote a superior

In accordance with this code women could be consecrated as the bride of an idol god and be used in prostitution for devotees of the idol. In marriage the father had the final say as to whom his daughter should marry. A man desiring a wife was free to make choices, but a woman was not. An unsatisfactory wife could be put away by the husband simply saying, "I have put her away." On her departure from her husband's house she was not given anything to take with her. On the other hand, if the husband should say, "I have not put her away," he could take another wife and the first woman would remain in his house as a maid. If a wife wanted a divorce she had to prove that her husband had injured her reputation and then she could go free

If a man was in debt he could sell his wife, son, or daughter, or bind them over for service to work in the house of the purchaser for 3 years, and then go free. The relation of sonship could be dissolved if there were grounds for such; and if the crime was sufficiently grave

The Code of Hammurabi was civil, not ceremonial. There was no admonition to worship, no directions concerning altars, offerings, and sacrifices, and no doctrines taught. It was the civil law in Babylon, Assyria, and in much of Canaan and Egypt in the days of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. It gives the Bible reader an insight into the laws of that period before the law of Moses

m This shows the absolute confidence that the brethren had in one another

n Their proposition was accepted, so search was made (v 10-13)

a Joseph learned what happened after they had sold him and how they had deceived their father (37:31-32)

b Sheol, the unseen world, not the grave. See Hell, p. 620

c Joseph could understand this for he, himself had been the one loved of his father before being sold into slavery (37:3). Such preference of children always causes troubles in the home (25:28; Jas. 2:9) d Sheol, the unseen world, not the grave. See Hell, p. 620

e Judah described very passionately Jacob's suffering at the loss of Joseph (v 27-33). The loss of Benjamin would no doubt cause his death, so to prevent this Judah offered himself as a bondman in place of Benjamin. He was the one who had proposed to sell Joseph and thus saved his life (37:26-27), and now he begged to save Benjamin even at the cost of his own freedom. He had already become surety for him (43:8-9; 44:32). This moving speech and generous and unselfish offer to suffer for others could not be withstood by Joseph; and therefore, not being able to contain himself any longer he commanded all others to leave so that he could reveal himself to his brethren (45:1)

f Question 139. Next, 45:3

g 12 tests Joseph gave his brethren, p. 39

h Joseph was unwilling for the Egyptians to see him overcome by his feelings. A deeper reason may have been that he did not want them to know the full truth of the sins of his brothers in selling him as a slave into Egypt

i Gave himself up to intense and loud weeping until it became known to the Egyptians (v 2)

j Question 140. Next, 46:33

k What a shock to his brethren who were troubled at this announcement and who had reached the climax of their own suffering over their sins at this point (v 3-5)

l Heb., terrified, as in Zech. 12:10 (cp. Rev. 1:7). Their sense of guilt, fear of punishment and the strangeness of events made them confounded (v 3) m They had to be invited and commanded to come near him for fear of him. What they must have experienced seeing the second ruler of all Egypt suddenly breaking forth in loud and uncontrolled weeping. Before this they evidently had not been very close to him, an interpreter being between them all the while. This may be one of the reasons none of them had recognized him

n If claiming to be Joseph would not make believers out of them, the mention of his kidnapping and being sold into slavery surely would (v 4; 37:2-27)

o What a generous forgiveness of his brethren; what a comfort to those who had sinned; and what a faith in God to see His hand in 22 long years of homesickness, insulting accusations, physical torment, and mental cruelty!

p God was looking forward to the next step in the fulfillment of His plan concerning Israel and the coming of the Messiah to redeem man and restore his dominion. God had told Abraham that his seed would serve a nation and then come out of that land with great substance (15:13-14). It was now time for them to go down into Egypt to fulfil this. Exactly 215 years of the 430 years of the dispensation of Promise had come to an end, and 215 more years were beginning, during which the second half of the sojourning of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob would be completed. See The dispensation of Promise, p. 60

q The main purpose of God in all these events between Joseph and his brothers was to preserve life; and Joseph was the agent God used in doing so (v 5)

32 [e]For thy servant became surety for the lad unto my father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then I shall bear the blame to my father for ever.

33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let thy servant abide instead of the lad a bondman to my lord; and let the lad go up with his brethren.

34 [f]For how shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? lest peradventure I see the evil that shall come on my father.

CHAPTER 45 45

(24) Joseph reveals himself

[g]THEN Jō'seph could not refrain himself before all them that stood by him; and he cried, [h]Cause every man to go out from me. And there stood no man with him, while Jō'seph made himself known unto his brethren.

2 And he [i]wept aloud: and the Ĕ-gўp'tians and the house of Phā'raōh heard.

3 And Jō'seph said unto his brethren, [j]I am Jō'seph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren [k]could not answer him; for they were [l]troubled at his presence.

4 And Jō'seph said unto his brethren, [m]Come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I am Jō'seph your brother, [n]whom ye sold into Ĕ'gўpt.

5 Now therefore [o]be not grieved, nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither: for [p]God did send [q]me before you to preserve life.

6 For these [r]two years hath the famine been in the land: and yet there are five years, in the which there shall neither be earing nor harvest.

7 And [s]God sent me before you to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance.

8 So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God: and he hath made me a [t]father to Phā'raōh, and lord of all his house, and a ruler throughout all the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

9 Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son Jō'seph, God hath made me lord of all Ĕ'gўpt: come down unto me, tarry not:

10 And thou shalt dwell in [u]the land of Gō'shen, and thou shalt be near unto me, thou, and thy children, and thy children's children, and thy flocks, and thy herds, and all that thou hast:

11 And there will I nourish thee; for yet there are five years of famine; lest thou, [v]and thy household, and all that thou hast, come to poverty.

12 And, behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Bĕn'ja-mĭn, that it is my mouth that speaketh unto you.

13 And ye shall tell my father of all my glory in Ĕ'gўpt, and of all [a]that ye have seen; and ye shall haste and bring down my father hither.

14 And he fell upon his brother Bĕn'ja-mĭn's neck, and wept; and Bĕn'ja-mĭn wept upon his neck.

15 Moreover he [b]kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and after that his brethren talked with him.

(25) Pharaoh's invitation

16 ¶ And the fame thereof was heard in Phā'raōh's house, saying, Jō'seph's brethren are come: and it [c]pleased Phā'raōh well, and his servants.

17 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, Say unto thy brethren, This do ye; lade your beasts, and go, get you unto the land of Că'năan;

18 And take your father and your households, and come unto me: and I will give you the good of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and ye shall eat the fat of the land.

19 Now [d]thou art commanded, this do ye; take you [e]wagons out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt for your little ones, and for your wives, and bring your father, and come.

20 Also [f]regard not your [g]stuff; for the good of all the land of Ĕ'gўpt is yours.

(26) Gifts from Joseph

21 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did so: and Jō'seph gave them wagons, according to the commandment of Phā'raōh, and gave them provision for the way.

22 To all of them he gave each man [h]changes of raiment; but to Bĕn'ja-mĭn he gave three hundred pieces of silver, and five changes of raiment.

23 And to his father he sent after this manner; ten asses laden with the good things of Ĕ'gўpt, and ten she asses laden with corn and bread and meat for his father by the way.

(27) Return to Canaan

24 So he [i]sent his brethren away, and they departed: and he said unto them, [j]See that ye fall not out by the way.

25 ¶ And they went up out of Ĕ'gўpt, and came into the land of Că'năan unto Jā'cob their father, 26 And told him, saying, Jō'seph is yet alive, and he is governor over all the land of Ĕ'gўpt. And Jā'cob's heart [k]fainted, for a Jacob had a large tribe by this time. His slaves were many when he left Haran. He was the heir of Isaac and Abraham, and inherited all their servants and riches. Abraham had 318 trained soldiers besides other servants (14:14). Isaac had a great store of servants (26:14). All these had been multiplying for 215 years before Jacob went to Egypt, so the 66 souls of 46:26 were all Jacob's. The many servants who had wives, children, and parents, could easily number into thousands by this time. These made the mixed multitude that continued to multiply in Egypt and came out with Israel (Ex. 12:38; Num. 11:4). All the people are referred to as thy household, and all that thou hast (v 11)

b I cannot tell you of all my glory, but your eyes have seen more than I can tell. Go tell my father what you have seen, so that he may know that I am in a position to supply all the wants of his whole tribe. He will understand that my prophetic dreams have been fulfilled (37:5-11)

c Such was a common custom in the East (27:27; 33:4; 45:15; 48:10; Ex. 4:27; 18:7; 1 Sam. 20:41; Lk. 15:20; Acts 20:37)

d Pharaoh was pleased so invited Jacob to move into Egypt (v 16-20)

e Thou, therefore command them—showing the king respected Joseph's position as absolute ruler under him (41:40)

f Carts for hauling, not chariots which were different in construction. These had two wheels and were drawn by oxen. They were not used in Canaan at this time. Figures of such carts are found on the monuments

h Large utensils and heavy furniture which might be difficult to transport

i Robes, more or less ornamented, were the most common gifts from rulers to visitors and others whom they wanted to honor (v 22)

j A different sending away this time, compared to the last time he sent them away (44:2). Then he was testing them, now he had been revealed and they had his blessing and gifts to take back to Jacob, as proof that his beloved son was still alive k Heb., be not stirred, suggesting possibility of quarrels by the way. They now had to face Jacob and tell the truth of their cruelty to Joseph and deception to him, their father. The efforts of Reuben and Judah to save Joseph would be known and the others would suffer deeper humiliation. Their suffering would be lessened only by the good news of Joseph and the assurance of preservation and plenty in Egypt. Nothing is said about Jacob's reaction when his sons confessed to him, except that he was revived and prepared to go see his son before he died. He lived yet 17 years (47:9, 28)

l Was overcome because of the good news and his doubts as to its truth. He had learned by now that he could not know what to expect from his sons. He was finally convinced of the truth, so said, "It is enough. I believe. I will go and see him before I die"

God is no party to evil of any kind. He simply stood by Joseph and gave him favor with key persons who became a blessing to Israel in God's plan (39:2-6, 21-23; 40:7-23; 41:9-44)

46 CHAPTER 46

8 Jacob journeys to Egypt. (1) First stop - Jacob's fourth vision: Abrahamic covenant confirmed again in Jacob

AND Iş'ra-el took his journey with all that he had, and came to [b]Bē'er-shē'bă, and offered sacrifices unto the [c]God of his father Işaac.

2 And [d]God spake unto Iş'ra-el in the visions of the night, and said, Jă'cob, Jă'cob. And he said, Here am I.

[e]3 [c]And he said, I am God, the God [f]of thy father: [g]fear not to go down into Ē'gўpt; [h]for I will there make of thee a great nation:

[e]4 I will go down with thee into Ē'gўpt; and I will also surely bring thee up again: and [i]Jō'şeph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.

(2) Jacob arrives in Egypt

5 And Jă'cob rose up from Bē'er-shē'bă: and the sons of Iş'ra-el carried Jă'cob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Phă'raōh had sent to carry him.

6 And they took their cattle, and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Că'năan, and came into Ē'gўpt, Jă'cob, and all his seed with him:

7 His sons, and his sons' sons with him, his [j]daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Ē'gўpt.

(3) Sons of Jacob and Leah

8 ¶ And these are the [k]names of the children of Iş'ra-el, [l]which came into Ē'gўpt, Jă'cob and his sons: Reu'ben, [m]Jă'cob's firstborn.

9 And the sons of Reu'ben; Hă'nŏch, and Phăl'ū, and Hĕz'rŏn, and Căr'mī.

10 ¶ And the sons of Sĭm'e-on; Jē-mū'el, and Jă'min, and Ō'hăd, and Jă'chin, and Zō'hăr, and Shā'ul the son of a [n]Că'năan-ĭt-ish woman.

11 ¶ And the sons of Lē'vī; Gēr'shŏn, Kō'hath, and Mĕ-rā'rī.

12 ¶ And the sons of Jū'dah; Er, and Ō'nan, and Shē'lah, and Phā'rĕz, and Zā'rah: but [o]Er and Ō'nan died in the land of Că'năan. And the [k]sons of Phā'rĕz were Hĕz'rŏn and Hă-mūl.

13 ¶ And the sons of Iş'sachar; Tō'lă, and Phū'vah, [k]and Jōb, and Shĭm'rŏn.

14 ¶ And the sons of Zĕb'u-lŭn; Sē'red, and Ē'lŏn, and Jăh'lĕ-el.

15 [p]These be the sons of Lē'ah, which she bare unto Jă'cob [b]in Pă'dan-ā'ram, with his daughter Dī'nah: [q]all the souls of his sons and his daughters were thirty and three.

(4) Sons of Jacob and Zilpah

16 ¶ And the sons of Găd; Zĭph'ī-on, and Hăg'gī, Shu'nī, and Ĕz'bŏn, Ē'rī, and Ăr'ō-dī, and Ă-rē'lī.

17 ¶ And the sons of Ăsh'ēr; Jĭm'nah, and Ish'u-ah, and Iş'u-ī, and Bē-rī'ah, and Sē'rah their sister: and the sons of Bē-rī'ah; Hē'bĕr, and Măl'chī-el.

18 These are the sons of Zĭl'pah, whom Lă'ban gave to Lē'ah his daughter, and these she bare unto Jă'cob, even [k]sixteen souls.

(5) Sons of Jacob and Rachel

19 The sons of Ră'chel Jă'cob's wife; Jō'şeph, and Bĕn'ja-mĭn.

20 ¶ And unto [r]Jō'şeph in the land of Ē'gўpt were born Mă-năs'seh and Ē'phrā-ĭm, which Ăs'e-năth the daughter of Pō'tĭ-phē'rah priest of Ōn bare unto him.

21 ¶ And the [k]sons of Bĕn'ja-mĭn were Bē'lah, and Bē'chĕr, and Ăsh'bel, Gē'rā, and Nā'a-man, Ē'hī, and Rōsh, Mŭp'pim, and Hŭp'pim, and Ărd.

22 These are the sons of Ră'chel, which were born to Jă'cob: all the souls [s]were fourteen.

(6) Sons of Jacob and Bilhah

23 ¶ And the sons of Dăn; Hū'shim.

24 ¶ And the sons of Năph'ta-lī; Jăh'zē-el, and Gū'nī, and Jē'zĕr, and Shĭl'lem.

25 These are the sons of Bĭl'hah, which Lă'ban gave unto Ră'chel his daughter, and she bare these unto Jă'cob: all the souls were [k]seven.

(7) Summary of Jacob's family

26 All the souls that came with Jă'cob into Ē'gўpt, which came [t]out of his loins, besides Jă'cob's sons' wives, all the souls were [k]threescore and six;

27 And the sons of Jō'şeph, which were born him in Ē'gўpt, were two souls: all the souls of the house of Jă'cob, which came into Ē'gўpt, were [k]three-score and ten.

(8) Jacob and Joseph united 28 ¶ And he sent [l]Jū'dah before him unto Jō'şeph, to direct his face unto Gō'shen; and they came into the land of Gō'shen.

29 And Jō'şeph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Iş'ra-el his father, to Gō'shen, and presented himself unto him; and he fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.

g Isaac was forbidden to go to Egypt (26:2), but now it was the time for the remainder of the prophecy of 15:13-14 to be fulfilled, so Israel was allowed to go. He had doubts and fears regarding the outcome of such a re-settlement of his large tribe in a strange land (v 3). Hence, the appearance of God to assure him, by the promises of v 3-4, that it would be for the best. i Shall close your eyes in peace, referring to his death, so plainly trans. in some versions. It was the custom for the nearest of kin to close the eyes and kiss the corpse of a loved-one at death. It must have been comforting to Jacob to know that his long lost son would perform this in his case. See 50:1

k Compare the names here with 25:31-30:24; 49:3-27; Ex. 6:14-17; Num. 26:2-64. Jemuel (v 10) is Nemuel (Num. 26:12); Jachin (v 10) is Jarib (1 Chr. 4:24); Gershon (v 11) is Gershom (1 Chr. 6:16). It was not uncommon for persons to have different names. Other names are changed in other parts of Scripture n Both Judah and Simeon had sons by Canaanite women (v 10; 38:1-30)

q This Job is perhaps the one mentioned in the book of Job. See Summary of Job

Where did Cain get his wife? (3:20)

Where did Cain get his wife? Adam and Eve were the first and only people on earth immediately after the 6 days' work of re-creation. They were commanded to multiply and replenish the earth with their own kind (1:26-28). They had sons and daughters (4:1; 5:4; 6:1). The first marriages had to be between brothers and sisters in order to get the race started. After that, marrying close relatives was forbidden (Lev. 18). Cain was over 100 years old when he took his wife and went into the land of Nod where enough people already lived to build a city. There he knew his wife, that is, had relationship with her and started his family (4:16-26). The fact that Gen. 3:20 says, "Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of ALL living," is proof enough that she was responsible for Cain's wife as well as for Cain, himself a Leah's sons are mentioned first because she was the first to have children by Jacob (v 8-15). Zilpah's sons are listed next because she was the maid of Leah (v 16-18), being followed by Rachel's (v 19-22), and those of her maid, Bilhah in proper order (v 23-25)

b See 29:32-30:24 for this story

c Leah's sons numbered almost as many as those of Zilpah, Rachel, and Bilhah combined - 33 (v 15) as compared to 37 (v 18, 22, 25)

33 sons of Jacob and Leah (v 8-15):

Reuben and his 4 sons (v 8-9)	5
Simeon and his 6 sons (v 10)	7
Levi and his 3 sons (v 11)	4
Judah, 5 sons, 2 grandsons (v 12)	8
Issachar and his 4 sons (v 13)	5
Zebulun and his 3 sons (v 14)	4
Total (v 15)	33

d 15 sons of Jacob and Zilpah (v 16-18):

Gad and his 7 sons (v 16)	8
Asher and his 6 sons (v 17)	7
Total (v 18)	15

e See 41:45, 50-51; 48:8-22

f These 10 sons of Benjamin show that he was not a mere boy though he is called a lad and little one (43:8; 44:20, 21, 30-34). He was about 30 years of age, and to have 10 sons must have married early as Judah did, perhaps between the age of 15 to 20. See 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30.

g 14 sons of Jacob and Rachel (v 19-22):

Joseph and his 2 sons (v 19-20)	3
Benjamin and his 10 sons (v 19, 21)	11
Total (v 22)	14

h 7 sons of Jacob and Bilhah (v 23-25):

Dan and his son (v 23)	2
Naphtali and his 4 sons (v 24)	5
Total (v 25)	7

i This is said to distinguish the number 66 from the 70 souls of v 27 and the 75 mentioned by Stephen (Acts 7:14). The 66 did not include Jacob, or Joseph and his 2 sons in Egypt, whereas the 70 did. The 75 included the 5 grandsons of Joseph, sons of Manasseh and Ephraim. See note o, Acts 7:14

j 66 "out of" Jacob's loins (v 26):

11 sons and 1 daughter	12
Reuben's sons (v 9)	4
Simeon's sons (v 10)	6
Levi's sons (v 11)	3
Judah's sons and grandsons (v 12)	5
Issachar's sons (v 13)	4
Zebulun's sons (v 14)	3
Gad's sons (v 16)	7
Asher's sons, grandsons, 1 dg. (v 17)	7
Dan's son (v 23)	1
Naphtali's sons (v 24)	4
Benjamin's sons (v 21)	10
Total (v 26)	66

Note: It must be remembered that 2 of Judah's sons died in Canaan, so they are not counted with those who went with Jacob into Egypt. Joseph and his sons were already there k Joseph was also of the house of Jacob, and came into Egypt from Canaan. Adding him, his 2 sons and Jacob, himself to the 66 "out of" Jacob's loins (v 26) accounts for the "threescore and ten" or 70 of the house of Jacob (v 27). This does not include the wives of the sons and grandsons, nor the multitude of servants and their wives, children, and parents. See note a, 45:11

l Jacob chose Judah perhaps, because he had been one of two brethren who sought to save Joseph from death when he was sold, and had been the spokesman for the brothers pleading for Benjamin (44:18-34). If not for this reason, Judah had natural traits that made him an outstanding leader of men, and one to be trusted. In prophecy he was destined to have the chief place among his brethren. His was to be the ruling tribe through whom the Messiah would come and rule all nations forever (49:10; Isa. 9:6-7; Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 1:32-33; Heb. 7:14; Rev. 5:5-10; 11:15; 20:1-10). In history Judah had the ruling part in Israel from David to the Babylonian captivity, a period of 473 years. This tribe, along with Benjamin and multitudes from all the other tribes, continued as a nation for 133 years longer than the apostate northern kingdom of Israel. Judah was the leader in the return from captivity until the Messiah came the first time. Judah will be the leading tribe under the Messiah in the Millennium and forever, as in the scriptures above, and in many of the prophets of both testaments c East of Memphis, suitable for grazing, and next to Canaan so they could be separated from the wicked Egyptians. It was called the field of Zoan; and was inhabited by non-Egyptians and Semites d An abominable person. Apepi, the Pharaoh of Joseph, was one of the shepherd kings that ruled Egypt. Joseph's advice of 47:6 would commend his brethren to Pharaoh and keep them separate from the Egyptians. It was a race prejudice not a class prejudice. This rule of shepherd kings may have so oppressed the Egyptians that all shepherds became hated by natives. On the monuments shepherds are always depicted as dirty, unshaven or deformed, and as an inferior people. Egypt was an agricultural and commercial country and highly civilized while shepherds were nomads and a rough-like people held in contempt (v 34)

m This perhaps included saluting him (2 Ki. 4:29); offering gifts (2 Sam. 8:10); prayer for his welfare (Num. 6:23-27); and giving thanks for his kindness
n Question 143, Next, v 15
o Heb. magur, temporary abode. A pilgrim was one who took a religious journey, submitting to many hardships and privations to attain to his end. This was true of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 9; Ex. 6:4; Ps. 119:54; Heb. 11:10-16; 1 Pet. 2:11) p Jacob was 130 years old. This would perhaps make Reuben about 51; Simeon around 50; Levi perhaps 49; Judah 48; Dan 46; Naphtali 45; Gad 44; Asher 43; Issachar 42; Zebulun 41; Dinah 40; Joseph 39; and Benjamin about 30. See Chronology of Abraham's seed, p. 35
q Few, compared to the days of Abraham (175 years, 25:7) and Isaac (180 years, 35:28)
r Heb. ra, adversity, affliction, sad, sorrow, wretchedness. It means that his years had been full of these conditions by day and by night. He had lived a hard life, enduring many privations and sufferings as a sojourner on earth which could make life bitter. His troubles with Esau, Laban, his sons, and life in general among the giant nations who were multiplying in the land of promise, his work as ruler of such a large tribe, and migrating from place to place without so much as any permanent land to call his own - these were hardships which explain his evil days (15:13-15; Acts 7:5-17; Heb. 11:9)
s Jacob considered his life as blessed as the lives of Abraham and Isaac who were pilgrims wandering in a strange land, with the view of another home (Acts 7:3-7; Heb. 11:8-16). 215 years had gone by since God had called Abraham. This was the half-way mark of the 430 years of the whole sojourn of the chosen race (Ex. 12:41; Gal. 3:17). These 215 years were made up of the 25 before Isaac was born (12:4; 21:5); 60 before Jacob was born (25:26); and the 130 years Jacob had lived up to this time of going into Egypt (47:9). Recorded, as happening during this first 215 years we have the story of Abraham from his call at the age of 75 years to his death, a period of 100 years (12:1-25:11); the story of Isaac from his birth to his death in the 120th year of Jacob's life, a period of 180 years (21:1-35:29); the story of Jacob's life before going into Egypt, a period of 130 years (25:19-47:9); and the story of Joseph and his brethren the last 22 years (37:1-47:9). The lives of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Joseph overlapped in this period. The last 215 years of the 430 were from Jacob's entrance into Egypt to the 80th year of Moses (47:9-Ex. 12:41). Israel left Egypt the selfsame day in the 430th year after God called Abraham to leave for Canaan (12:1-4; Ex. 12:40-41)

30 And Ĭs'ra-el said unto Jŏ'-sĕph, [q]Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, because thou art yet alive.

31 And Jŏ'sĕph said unto his brethren, and unto his father's house, I will go up, and shew Phā'raŏh, and say unto him, My brethren, and my father's house, which were in the land of Că'năan, are come unto me;

32 And the men are shepherds, for their trade hath been to feed cattle; and they have brought their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have.

33 And it shall come to pass, when Phā'raŏh shall call you, and shall say, [t]What is your occupation?

34 That ye shall say, Thy servants' trade hath been about cattle from our youth even until now, both we, and also our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of [u]Gō'shen; for every shepherd is an [v]abomination unto the Ē-gўp'tiăns.

47 CHAPTER 47

(9) Pharaoh and Jacob's sons

[a]THEN [b]Jŏ'sĕph came and told Phā'raŏh, and said, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have, are come out of the land of Că'năan; and, behold, they are in the [c]land of Gō'shen.

2 And he took some of his brethren, even [d]five men, and presented them unto Phā'raŏh.

3 And Phā'raŏh said unto his brethren, [e]What is your occupation? And they [f]said unto Phā'raŏh, Thy servants are shepherds, both we, and also our fathers.

4 They said moreover unto Phā'raŏh, For to [g]sojourn in the land are we come; for thy servants have no pasture for their flocks; for the famine is sore in the land of Că'năan: now therefore, we pray thee, let thy servants dwell in the land of Gō'shen.

5 And Phā'raŏh spake unto Jŏ'sĕph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee:

6 The land of Ē'gўpt is before thee; in the [h]best of the land make thy father and brethren to dwell; in the land of Gō'-shen let them dwell: and if thou knowest any men of activity among them, then make them rulers over [i]my cattle.

(10) Pharaoh and Jacob meet

7 And Jŏ'sĕph brought in Jā'-cob his father, and set him before Phā'raŏh: and [j]Jā'cob blessed Phā'raŏh.

8 And Phā'raŏh said unto Jā'-cob, [k]How old art thou?

9 And Jā'cob said unto Phā'-raŏh, The days of the years of my [l]pilgrimage are an [m]hundred and thirty years: [n]few and [o]evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their [p]pilgrimage.

10 And Jā'cob blessed Phā'-raŏh, and went out from before Phā'raŏh.

(11) Settlement in Rameses

11 ¶ And Jŏ'sĕph placed his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Ē'gўpt, in the best of the land, in the [q]land of Rā-mĕ'sēs, as Phā'raŏh had commanded.

12 And Jŏ'sĕph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household, with bread, [r]according to their families.

9 Joseph's policies. (1) Collects all the money

13 ¶ And there was no bread in all the land; for the famine was very sore, so that the land of Ē'gўpt and all the land of Că'năan fainted by reason of the famine.

14 And Jŏ'sĕph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Ē'gўpt, and in the land of Că'năan, for the corn which they bought: and Jŏ'sĕph brought the money into Phā'raŏh's house.

15 And when money failed in the land of Ē'gўpt, and in the land of Că'năan, all the Ē-gўp'-tiăns came unto Jŏ'sĕph, and said, [s]Give us bread: for why should we die in thy presence? for the money faileth.

(2) Buys all the cattle

16 And Jŏ'sĕph said, Give your cattle; and I will give you for your cattle, if money fail.

17 And they brought their cattle unto Jŏ'sĕph: and Jŏ'-sĕph gave them bread in exchange for horses, and for the flocks, and for the cattle of the herds, and for the asses: and he fed them with bread for all their cattle for that year.

18 When that year was ended, they came unto him the second year, and said unto him, [t]We will not hide it from my lord, how that our money is spent; my lord also hath our herds of cattle; there is not ought left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies, and our lands:

19 [u]Wherefore shall we die before thine eyes, both we and our land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants unto Phā'raŏh: and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate.

(3) Buys all the lands

20 And Jŏ'sĕph bought all the land of Ē'gўpt for Phā'-raŏh; for the Ē-gўp'tiăng sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so [v]the land became Phā'raŏh's.

(4) Moves people to cities

21 And as for the people, [w]he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Ē'gўpt even to the other end thereof.

a A later name of Goshen (46:34). So named for the old city Rameses in that province. It was later rebuilt by the Israelites (Ex. 1:11)
b Or, as little ones are nourished
c Question 144, Next, v 19
d Perhaps the second year before the famine ended, for the second year of the famine had already passed before Jacob went to Egypt to live (45:6). If it refers to the second year of the famine then it happened before or about the time Jacob came into Egypt (45:11). In that case the people used all their money and cattle to buy food the first 2 years, and sold their lands and themselves to Joseph for food for the next 5 years. If it refers to the second year after Jacob came, then it was for 3 years that they sold themselves and their land
e Question 145, Next, 48:8
f Joseph's policy has been criticized, but we must keep in mind that Moses simply recorded facts as they were without explanatory comment. The truth is that the food belonged to Pharaoh, for he had the food laid up during the 7 years of plenty. Otherwise there would not have been any food for anybody. He did it because of the revelation of God to him of approaching famine. Joseph was simply the minister of Pharaoh to do his business; and this was a business proposition. The people became tenants of Pharaoh, giving him a 5th part or 20% after the famine years. There was no other mark of slavery (v 24)
g This was to save work and to feed the people more easily

The serpent of Eden (3:1)

The same Heb. word used of the serpent here is used of literal snakes throughout Scripture (3:1-14; 49:17; Ex. 7:15; Num. 21:9; 2 Ki. 18:4; Pr. 30:19; Eccl. 10:8, 11; Amos 5:19; 9:3). If we substitute the word Satan for serpent in these and other scriptures it would not make proper sense. See note r, 3:15

These facts about the serpent of Eden, especially his curse being greater than any other beast proves it was a literal snake (3:1, 13-15). These facts are neither allegory, myth, legend, nor fable, but literal and historical. In the main, they are not even expressed in figurative language. The seed of the serpent simply refers to natural serpents as having a natural enmity against man. The seed of the woman refers to the literal coming of God in the flesh as a man (3:15; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; 11:1; Mt. 1; Jn. 1:14; Rom. 1:1-2; Gal. 4:4; 1 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 2:14-18)

Only 3 figurative statements in Gen. 3:

1 "Dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life" - expressing utter humiliation of the serpent as the lowest of all the beasts of the field (note q, 3:14)

2 "It shall bruise thy head" - expressing complete and crushing defeat of the devil and all his forces, as a serpent is killed by crushing its head (note o, 3:14)

3 "Thou shalt bruise his heel" - expressing temporary sufferings of the Messiah (note o, 3:14)

There is no reason for making the historical record of man's fall figurative. To make the serpent figurative of Satan instead of a tool of Satan is out of harmony with all facts in Scripture. The serpent is classed with the beasts of the field and cursed above them (3:1, 14). It is spoken of as being formed by God's hand (Job 26:13), as being cursed in the Millennium when Satan is bound (Isa. 65:25), and in the same literal sense as other creatures formed in Adam's day. It is true, Satan is symbolized by a great red dragon and is called that old serpent that deceives the whole world (Isa. 27:1; Job 41:34; Rev. 12:3-17; 20:2), being like the serpent of Eden who deceived only Eve (1 Tim. 2:14), but this does not make the serpent of Gen. 3 the personal devil any more than it makes Peter the devil in Mt. 16:22-23, or the kings of Babylon and Tyre the devil in Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17. All were merely tools of Satan, as in note r, 3:15. The most fundamental principle of interpretation is to take the Bible literally wherever possible. If the language

b A 5th part shows mercy and justice. It must also be remembered this 5th part or 20% was all the people had to pay. This supported the government and no additional taxes were required. It was Joseph's duty and his right to do business wisely for his employer, Pharaoh was under no obligation to give all he had for charity. No advantage was taken of them and the people were grateful, content and prosperous (v 25) c This proves the people were grateful and content over the justice received (v 25)
d We will be Pharaoh's farmers e This law has been used in many Eastern lands where a 5th part or 20% is given to landlords who supply the seed f This word is used 2,540 times in Scripture as the name of Jacob and his descendants. The word Jacob is used the same way 446 times g As God promised (12:2; 13:16; 15:5; 22:17; 26:3-4, 24; 28:3, 14; 32:12; 35:11; 46:3-4) h He was 130 when he entered Egypt and 147 when he died (47:9, 28)
i This time will come to all until the time of the rapture and the Millennium (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Heb. 9:27)
j This refers to Jacob, not to all his seed as in v 27; 32:28 cannot be taken as literal, then determine what is the literal truth conveyed by the figurative expressions. See Law of double reference, p. 42

15 facts about the serpent of Eden:

1 He was a beast of the field (3:1)
2 More subtil than all others (3:1)
3 Created by God (3:1)
4 A serpent, not Satan (3:1)
5 Had power of speech (3:1-6)
6 Had reasoning powers (3:1-6)
7 Had deceptive powers (3:1-6)
8 Had knowledge of God's plan (3:1-6)
9 Walked upright before the fall (3:14)
10 Head of all animals (3:1, 14)
11 Capable of enmity (3:15)
12 Close to man in Eden (3:1-15)
13 Carried on conversation (3:1-6)
14 Cursed above all animals (3:14)
15 A literal snake that was used as a tool of Satan to deceive man (3:1-19)

6fold prophecy to the serpent:

1 You are cursed above all cattle (v 14)
2 You are cursed above all beasts (v 14)
3 Upon your belly you shall go all the days of your life (v 14)
4 Dust you shall eat all the days of your life (v 14; Isa. 65:20)
5 I will put enmity between you and the woman (v 15)
6 I will put enmity between your seed and her seed (v 15)
7 The seed of the woman shall bruise your head (v 15; Rom. 16:20; Rev. 20:1-10)
8 You shall bruise the heel of the seed of the woman (v 15; Rev. 1:18)

Points 1-6 are being fulfilled, and will continue in fulfillment into all eternity. Point 7 was partially fulfilled when Satan was defeated through the cross (Col. 2:14-17), but the final fulfillment will be at Armageddon (Rev. 19:11-20:3) and at the end of the Millennium (Rev. 20:7-11). Point 8 was fulfilled completely when Christ was crucified. He was not crushed by seeming defeat in being killed, for it was impossible that He should be held in death (Jn. 10:18; Acts 2:23-36). He was merely wounded as a heel is bruised, but Satan is to be completely defeated and his power destroyed as when a serpent's head is crushed (3:15; Col. 2:14-17; Rom. 16:20; Rev. 20:7-10)

(5) Joseph exempts the priests

22 [a]Only the land of the priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Phä'raŏh, and did eat their portion which Phä'raŏh gave them: wherefore they sold not their lands.

(6) Joseph makes tenant laws

23 Then Jŏ'şeph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Phä'raŏh: lo, here is seed for you, and ye shall sow the land.

24 And it shall come to pass in the increase, that ye shall give the [b]fifth part unto Phä'raŏh, and four parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones.

25 And they said, [c]Thou hast saved our lives: let us find grace in the sight of my lord, and [d]we will be Phä'raŏh's servants.

26 And Jŏ'şeph made it a[e]law over the land of É'gÿpt unto this day, that Phä'raŏh should have the fifth part; except the land of the priests only, which became not Phä'raŏh's.

10 Last days of Jacob.

(1) Jacob's stay in Egypt: his age at death

27 ¶ And [f]Is'ra-el dwelt in the land of É'gÿpt, in the country of Gō'shen; and they had possessions therein, and grew, and [g]multiplied exceedingly.

28 And Jā'cob lived in the land of É'gÿpt [h]seventeen years: so the whole age of Jā'cob was an hundred forty and seven years.

(2) Jacob's charge to Joseph

29 And the [i]time drew nigh that [j]Is'ra-el must die: and he called his son Jŏ'şeph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, put, I pray thee, thy hand [k]under my thigh, and deal kindly and truly with me; bury me not, I pray thee, in É'gÿpt:

30 But I will lie with my fathers, and thou shalt carry me out of É'gÿpt, and bury me in their buryingplace. And he said, I will do as thou hast said.

31 And he said, [l]Swear unto me. And he sware unto him. And Is'ra-el [m]bowed himself upon the bed's head.

CHAPTER 48 48

(3) Jacob's sickness

AND it came to pass [a]after these things, that one told Jŏ'şeph, Behold, thy father [n]is sick: and he took with him his two sons, Mä-năs'seh and É'phrä-im.

2 And one told Jā'cob, and said, Behold, thy son Jŏ'şeph cometh unto thee: and Is'ra-el strengthened himself, and [a]sat upon the bed.

(4) Jacob claims Joseph's sons

3 And Jā'cob said unto Jŏ'şeph, [b]God Almighty appeared unto me at [c]Lūz in the land of Cā'nāan, and blessed me,

4 And said [d]unto me, Behold, I will make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and I will make of thee a multitude of people; and will give this land to thy seed after thee for an everlasting possession.

5 ¶ And now thy [f]two sons, É'phrä-im and Mä-năs'seh, which were born unto thee in the land of É'gÿpt before I came unto thee into É'gÿpt, are [g]mine; as Reu'ben and Sim'e-on, they shall be mine.

6 And thy issue, which thou begettest after them, shall be thine, and shall be called after the name of their brethren in their inheritance.

7 And as for me, when I came from Pä'dan, [q]Rā'chel died by me in the land of Cā'nāan in the way, when yet there was but a little way to come unto Ĕph'răth: and I buried her there in the way of Ĕph'răth; the same is Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm.

(5) Jacob blesses Joseph and his sons

8 And Is'ra-el beheld Jŏ'şeph's sons, and said, [f]Who are these?

9 And Jŏ'şeph said unto his father, They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and I will bless them.

10 Now the [k]eyes of Is'ra-el were dim for age, so that he could not see. And he brought them near unto him; and he kissed them, and embraced them.

11 And Is'ra-el said unto Jŏ'şeph, I had not thought to see thy face: and, lo, God hath shewed me also thy seed.

12 And Jŏ'şeph brought them out from between his knees, and he [h]bowed himself with his face to the earth.

14 And Is'ra-el stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon É'phrä-im's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Mä-năs'seh's head, guiding his hands [i]wittingly; for Mä-năs'seh was the firstborn.

15 ¶ And he blessed Jŏ'şeph, and said, God, before whom my fathers A'brä-hăm and I'şaac did walk, the God [e]which fed me all my life long unto this day,

16 [e]The Angel which redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let [e]my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers A'brä-hăm and I'şaac; and let them [q]grow into a z Predictions that God would help and bless Joseph and his seed with manifold blessings (v 25-26). These blessings made Ephraim, the successor of Joseph, one of the strongest tribes which inherited the very center of Palestine. It was as strong as Judah and contended with Judah for the sovereignty. The struggles between the two helped bring about the division of Israel after Solomon 17 And when Jō'seph saw that his father laid his right hand upon the head of Ē'phrā-ĭm, it displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ē'phrā-ĭm's head unto Mā-nās'seh's head.

18 And Jō'seph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head.

*19 And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations.

20 And he blessed them that day, saying, In thee shall Is'ra-el bless, saying, God make thee as Ē'phrā-ĭm and as Mā-nās'seh: and he set Ē'phrā-ĭm before Mā-nās'seh.

21 And Is'ra-el said unto Jō'seph, Behold, I die: but God shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers.

22 Moreover I have given to thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Am'ŏr-īte with my sword and with my bow.

(6) Prophecies concerning the 12 tribes: A Time of fulfillment

AND Já'cob called unto his sons, and said, Gather yourselves together, that I may tell you that which shall befall you in the last days.

2 Gather yourselves together, and hear, ye sons of Já'cob; and hearken unto Is'ra-el your father.

B Concerning Reuben

*3 Reu'ben, thou art my firstborn, my might, and the beginning of my strength, the excellency of dignity, and the excellency of power:

4 Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel; because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defiledst thou it: he went up to my couch.

C Concerning Simeon and Levi

5 Sim'e-on and Lē'vī are brethren; instruments of cruelty are in their habitations.

6 O my soul, come not thou into their secret; unto their assembly, mine honour, be not thou united: for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they digged down a wall.

7 Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel; I will divide them in Jā'cob, and scatter them in Is'ra-el.

D Concerning Judah - the Messianic tribe (Rev. 5:5)

8 Jū'dah, thou art he whom thy brethren shall praise: thy hand shall be in the neck of thine enemies; thy father's children shall bow down before thee.

9 Jū'dah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up: he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up?

10 The sceptre shall not depart from Jū'dah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shī'lōh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be.

11 Binding his foal unto the vine, and his ass's colt unto the choice vine; he washed his garments in wine and his clothes in the blood of grapes:

12 His eyes shall be red with wine, and his teeth white with milk.

E Concerning Zebulun and Issachar

13 Zēb'u-lūn shall dwell at the haven of the sea; and he shall be for an haven of ships; and his border shall be unto Zī'dŏn.

14 Is'sa-char is a strong ass couching down between two burdens:

15 And he saw that rest was good, and the land that it was pleasant; and bowed his shoulder to bear, and became a servant unto tribute.

F Concerning Dan and Gad

16 Dān shall judge his people, as one of the tribes of Is'ra-el.

17 Dān shall be a serpent by the way, an adder in the path, that biteth the horse heels, so that his rider shall fall backward.

18 I have waited for thy salvation, O LORD.

19 Gād, a troop shall overcome him: but he shall overcome at the last.

G Concerning Asher and Naphtali

20 Out of Ash'ēr his bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties.

21 Nāph'ta-lī is a hind let loose: he giveth goodly words.

H Concerning Joseph

22 Jō'seph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose branches run over the wall:

23 The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him:

24 But his bow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the mighty God of Já'cob; (from thence is the shepherd, the stone of Is'ra-el:)

b A symbol of Judah (Rev. 5:5)

d Heb. shebet. Trans. tribe and tribes 140 times; rod 34 times; staff (2 Sam. 23:21; 1 Chr. 11:23); darts (2 Sam. 18:14); and sceptre (v 10; Num. 24:17; Ps. 45:6; Isa. 14:5; Ezek. 19:14; Amos 1:5, 8; Zech. 10:11). It means the sceptre of government and rule shall not depart from Judah, i.e., Judah shall be the ruling tribe and from him shall come the Messiah who shall rule eternally and bring obedience to the people (v 10) e Heb. chaqaq. Trans. lawgiver (v 10; Num. 21:18; Dt. 33:21; Ps. 60:7; 108:8; Isa. 33:22); appoint (Pr. 8:29); decree (Pr. 8:15; Isa. 10:1); and governors (Judg. 5:9, 14). The true meaning is, "the kingly sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor the lawgiver's staff from between his feet until Shiloh come" (v 10). Judah is called God's lawgiver (Ps. 60:7; 108:8, Cp. Isa. 33:22; Jas. 4:12). Some versions read, "nor a leader's staff between his feet, ... commander's staff between his feet"

f Judah's dominion lasts until:

1 Shiloh comes (v 10). Shiloh is an epithet of the Messiah and can have no other meaning. It refers to the 2nd advent of Christ who will fulfill the next part of the verse

2 He gathers the people (v 10). Unto Him (Shiloh) shall the people gather; that is, at Christ's 2nd advent Israel will be gathered from the 4 quarters of the earth (Isa. 11:10-12; 60:8-9; 66:19-21; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31). The Messiah will rule all Israel (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33) and all nations when He comes (Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 27; Zech. 14; Rev. 11:15; 20:4-6; 22:5)

l 40 days were spent in mourning, but the one embalmed continued to lie in natron for 30 more days - 70 days in all (v 3). It was against the law to appear in mourning apparel in public, and especially in the royal presence, because a mourner was looked upon as being defiled

12 Burial of Jacob in Canaan

AND Jō'ṣeph fell upon his father's face, and [i]wept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And Jō'ṣeph commanded his servants the [j]physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians [k]embalmed Iṣ'ra-el.

3 And [l]forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are embalmed: and the Ē-gyp'tians mourned for him threescore and ten days.

4 And when the days of his mourning[m] were past, Jō'ṣeph spake unto the house of Phā'raōh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Phā'raōh, saying,

5 My father[n]made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave which I have digged for me in the land of Că'năan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.

6 And Phā'raōh said, Go up and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.

7 ¶ And Jō'ṣeph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the [a]servants of Phā'raōh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Ē'gypt,

8 And all the house of Jō'ṣeph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Gō'shen.

9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.

10 And they came to the threshingfloor of Ā'tăd, which is [b]beyond Jôr'dan, and there they mourned[c]with a great and very sore lamentation: and he made a mourning for his father seven[d]days.

11 And when the inhabitants of the land, the Că'năan-ītes, saw the mourning in the floor of Ā'tăd, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the Ē-gyp'tians: wherefore the name of it was called [e]Ā'bel-mĭz'ra-ĭm, which is beyond Jôr'dan.

12 And his sons did unto him according [f]as he commanded them:

13 For his sons carried him into the land of Că'năan, and buried him in the [g]cave of the field of Măch-pē'lah, which Ā'brā-hăm bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ē'phron the Hĭt'tite, before Măm'rē.

14 ¶ [h]And Jō'ṣeph returned into Ē'gypt, he, and his brethren, and all that went up with him to bury his father, after he had buried his father.

13 Joseph's brethren fear his vengeance

15 ¶ And when [i]Jō'ṣeph's brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Jō'ṣeph will peradventure hate us, [j]and will certainly [k]requite us all the evil which we did unto him.

16 And they sent a messenger unto Jō'ṣeph, saying, Thy father did [l]command before he died, saying,

17 So shall ye say unto Jō'ṣeph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin; for they did unto thee evil: and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of the God of thy father. And Jō'ṣeph[m]wept when they spake unto him.

14 Joseph comforts his brethren

18 And his brethren also went and [n]fell down before his face; and they said, Behold, we be thy servants.

19 And Jō'ṣeph said unto them, [o]Fear not: for am I in the place of God?

20 But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive.

21 Now therefore fear ye not:

b This does not mean on the east of Jordan, for Hebron is south of Jerusalem and the Jordan is farther on. The phrase "beyond Jordan" must be understood from the standpoint of where the writer was at the time of writing Genesis. Here it must signify west of Jordan, for that was the true location. Thus, we must believe that Moses was on the east of Jordan when he wrote this c Mourning among the Egyptians consisted of abstaining from customary ablutions, wines and ointment; in avoiding all luxury in eating, all comfort in garments; in covering the head with ashes; in allowing the hair of the head and beard to grow; and in lamentations twice daily, usually accompanied by paid mourners. This explains v 10-11 d Later, in the law, God provided for 7 days of mourning and uncleanness (Num. 19:11, 19; 1 Sam. 31:13). On some occasions Hebrews mourned 30 days (Num. 20:29; Dt. 31:13; 34:8), but never longer

i Joseph's brethren had reflected often on their past sins against him no doubt, and thought perhaps he had forgiven them only for the sake of Jacob. They were fearful as to what he might do now that Jacob was dead; so they sent a messenger asking Joseph to carry out the wishes of their father and forgive. This was entirely unnecessary for Joseph had already proved his love to them in many ways

j This is what natural men and sinners expect of each other but godly men are different and cannot hold grudges (Mt. 6:14-15; 18:21-35; Col. 3:13)
k This was allowed under law but not under grace (Mt. 5:38-48)
l Perhaps Jacob, in his foresight, had seen it was best to give such a command, not because he was afraid that Joseph would do the wrong thing but to comfort and strengthen his other sons concerning true repentance and confession

The dateless past (1:1)

The dateless past (Pr. 8:22-23; Jn. 1:1; Acts 15:18; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:18; Heb. 1:10; 11:3; 1 Jn. 1:1; Rev. 1:6; 3:14). V 1 is the introduction to the whole Bible and all history, for it marks the boundary between time and eternity. It is not a summarized statement of what is to follow, for it mentions heaven first, while the following verses mention the earth first. Job 38:4-7 makes it clear that the heavens were created first else the stars could not have rejoiced when the earth was created. This proves that v 1 refers to prior acts of God and the verses which follow refer to the earth under a flood and judgment, and then restored to a second habitable state, as before the curse of v 2

"Bara - create" defined (1:1)

Heb. bara, to bring into being (Heb. 11:3). Used 7 times in Gen. 1-2. All other places made and make are used, thus proving the 6 days' work to be mainly reconstructive. In Gen. 1:1 the universe is brought into existence; in Gen. 1:21 sea creatures are created; and in Gen. 1:28 man is created. Thus bara is reserved for the introduction of the 3 great spheres of existence: the world of matter; natural life as in all living creatures; and spiritual life represented by man. See Original Creations, p. 53

"Earth" defined (1:1)

Called dry land (v 10), thus proving the earth was created dry and later became submerged in water because of sin (v 2; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-9), the sin of Lucifer and the Pre-Adamites (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:19)

Use of "and" in Gen. 1-2 (1:2)

And is used 148 times in Gen. 1-2 to separate the 102 recorded independent acts of God. V 2 is as independent of v 1 as to time and subject matter as all the other separate acts of God. V 1 refers to the whole universe being created and inhabited in the dateless past, while v 2 refers to chaos because of sin. V 3-31 picture the restoration of the earth as before chaos, and its second habitation with present man and the new earth and water creatures brought into being about 6,000 years ago

Lucifer's flood (1:2)

This flood was more devastating and lasted longer than Noah's flood, for it destroyed even vegetation (Gen. 2:5-6; Jer. 4:23-26), while the 1 yr. and 17 days of Noah's flood did not (Gen. 8:11, 22; 9:3). There is no conflict between science and the Bible. Real scientific discoveries must be distinguished from theories, however. Science, especially geology, is still in its infancy and the testimony of rocks uncertain. True statements of God's Word must also be distinguished from man's interpretation of them. When men finally agree on the age of the earth, then place the many years (over the historical 6,000) between Gen. 1:1 and 1:2, there will be no conflict between the book of Genesis and science

Summary of Genesis

Date and place: written either while the author was a sheep-herder with Jethro, or at Sinai as an introduction to the law - about 1668 B.C.

Author: Moses, the lawgiver and leader of Israel during the exodus and wilderness wanderings. See Moses in Index

Proof of authorship: To establish proof of authorship for Genesis is to do so for the entire Pentateuch - the first 5 books of the Bible, called The Law by the Jews and which formed the basis of the Hebrew theocracy. The word Pentateuch means five; and the present books were originally one writing in 5 sections. The separation into 5 books is thought due to the Alexandrian translators of the Septuagint, from which came the present names of the books as well as the word Pentateuch

16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch:

1 God commanded Moses to write a book (Ex. 17:14; 34:27)
2 Moses did write a book (Ex. 24:3-7; Num. 33:2; Dt. 31:9)
3 He called his book the book of the covenant (Ex. 24:7), the book of this law (Dt. 28:58, 61; 29:20-27); and this book of the law (Dt. 30:10; 31:24-26). It included the whole Pentateuch which was considered by Jews as one book in 5 sections
4 Copies of Moses' book of the law were to be made for kings (Dt. 17:18-20)
5 God recognized the book of the law as being written by Moses and commanded it to be the rule of conduct for Joshua (Josh. 1:1-8; 8:30-35)
6 Joshua accepted the book of the law as being written by Moses and copied it upon two mountains (Dt. 11:26-32; Josh. 8:30-35). He added to the book, perhaps writing the last chapter (Dt. 34) about the death of Moses (Josh. 24:26)
7 Joshua commanded all Israel to obey the book of the law of Moses (Josh. 23:6) 8 During the kings it was the law:
(1) David recognized it (1 Chr. 16:40)
(2) Solomon was charged by David to keep it (1 Ki. 2:3)
(3) It was found and obeyed by Josiah and Israel (2 Ki. 22:8; 23:1-24; 2 Chr. 34:14; 35:12)
(4) Jehosaphat had it taught to all Israel (2 Chr. 17:9)
(5) Joash obeyed it (2 Ki. 12:6; 2 Chr. 23:11, 18)
(6) Amaziah obeyed it (2 Chr. 25:4)
(7) Hezekiah obeyed it (2 Chr. 30:1-18)
9 Prophets refer to it as God's law written by Moses (Isa. 8:20; Dan. 9:11; Mal. 4:4)
10 Ezra and Nehemiah both ascribe the book of the law to Moses (Ezra 3:2; 6:18; 7:6, 10, 14, 21, 25; Neh. 1:7-9; 8:8, 14, 17; 10:28-29; 13:1)
11 Christ ascribed the whole law, all 5 books of the Pentateuch to Moses (Lk. 24:27, 44 with Gen. 3:15; 12:1-3, Mk. 12:26 with Ex. 3 and Mk. 7:10 with Ex. 20:12; 21:17. See also Jn. 1:17; 5:46; 7:19, 23)
12 The apostles ascribed the law to Moses (Acts 13:39; 15:1, 5, 21; 28:23)
13 For more than 3,500 years it has been the unified belief of all Jewish scholars and the common people that Moses wrote the Pentateuch. Jews from their earliest history never questioned it 14 Heathen writers - Ticitus, Juvenal, Strabo, Longinus, Porphyry, Julian and others agree without question that Moses wrote the Pentateuch 15 Religious leaders among the heathen - Mohammed and others, ascribe it to 16 Internal evidences prove one author: Moses

(1) The Pentateuch was written by a Hebrew speaking the Hebrew language and cherishing the sentiments of his nation. Moses fulfilled this requirement

(2) It was written by a Hebrew acquainted with Egypt and Arabia, their customs and learning. Since Egyptian learning was carefully concealed from foreigners, and was for priests and the royal family only, Moses was the only known Hebrew who could have fulfilled this requirement (Acts 7:22; Heb. 11:23-29)

(3) There is an exact correspondence between the narratives and the institutions, showing they both had the same author

(4) The agreement in style of the 5 books proves a single author

(5) Moses, himself plainly declared that he wrote this law. See Ex. 24:4; Num. 33:2; Dt. 31:9, 22

Theme: the creation, the fall, and redemption of the human race through Jesus Christ. Around this centers all divine revelation and Scripture truth. The book is the seed-plot of the whole Bible and is essential to the correct understanding of every part of it. Genesis is the foundation on which all divine revelation rests and on which it is built up. Not only that, but it enters into, and forms a very integral part of that revelation. Every great doctine of Scripture finds its roots in Genesis in germ, type, or simple revelation

Purpose: to reveal to man the origin of the heavens and the earth and all things therein; to declare God as the personal Creator and show that nothing was evolved through billions of years; to reveal a pre-Adamite world and its destruction before Adam; to record the restoration of the earth to a second habitable state and give the facts concerning man and animals as we know them today; and to record the history of the fall of man, the second curse on the earth, and the sinful career of the earth for 2,391 years to the time of Moses, as an introduction to his law

Statistics: 1st book of the Bible; 50 chapters; 1,533 verses; 38,267 words; 1,156 verses beginning with and; 1,385 verses of history; 148 questions; 56 prophecies; 123 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 23 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; shortest chapter, 16; longest, 24; 16th chapter has 16 verses; 32nd has 32 verses. 5 chapters have 34 verses; 4 have 22, 24, and 32 each; 106 commands; 71 promises; 326 predictions

Genesis has 95 distinct messages from God (marked in the text; 1:3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 29; 2:16, 18; 3:9, 11, 13, 14, 16, 22, 23; 4:6, 9, 10, 15; 6:3, 7, 13; 7:1; 8:14, 21; 9:1, 8, 12, 17; 11:6; 12:1, 7; 13:14; 15:1, 4, 5, 7, 9, 13, 18; 16:8, 9, 10, 11; 17:1, 3, 9, 15, 19; 18:5, 9, 10, 13, 15, 17, 20, 26, 29, 30, 31, 32; 20:3, 6; 21:12, 17; 22:1, 2, 11, 12, 15; 25:23; 26:2, 24; 28:13; 31:3, 11, 24; 32:9, 26, 27, 28; 35:1, 10, 11; 41:25; 46:2; 48:4)

15 things the Bible does not say: that

1 The beginning was 6,000 years ago
2 The earth was created 6,000 years ago
3 The 6 days' work of Gen. 1:3-2:25 was the same as the original work of v 1
4 The earth was created chaos and flooded as in v 2 (Isa. 45:18)
5 The earth was created waste and empty as in v 1 (Isa. 45:18)
6 Light and darkness were created in day 1 of v 3-5. This is not true because they were present in Lucifer's kingdom before Adam. When the earth was flooded because of sin (v 2; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-8) the heavens withheld light, causing the darkness of v 2 (Jer. 4:23-26)
7 The clouds and water in them were created in day 2 (Gen. 1:6-8). On the contrary, they had been giving rain on the earth all through Lucifer's reign on earth (Isa. 14:12-14; Job 38:4-30)
8 The earth was created in day 3 of 1:9-13. It was not, for it was brought into existence in the beginning (v 1), and was in existence during the flood of v 2, and during both days 1 and 2 (v 2-8)
9 The earth was dry land for the first time in day 3 (v 9-13). It was dry land from its creation in the dateless past, to the time it was flooded because of sin (1:1-2; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). It is called earth (dry land) in Gen. 1:1
10 The earth brought forth vegetation for the first time in day 3 (1:9-13). There had been fruitful places in Lucifer's kingdom (Jer. 4:23-26)
11 The sun, moon, and stars were created in day 4. They were created in the beginning before the earth existed (v 1; Job 38:4-7). The work of day 4 was the regulation of them in connection with the restored earth
12 Birds, beasts, and man were first created in days 5 and 6, about 6,000 years ago. On the contrary, some were created for Lucifer's kingdom and were destroyed in Lucifer's flood of v 2 (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)
13 Adam was the first man ever to live on the earth. Men and nations were on earth when Lucifer ruled (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)
14 The heavens, the earth and all things therein are a product of evolution. They are not. God created them all (v 1; Jn. 1:3; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18; Rev. 4:11) 15 Men as we know them today are the product of lower forms of life or have come from the immediate past, from cave men and other low and unintelligent stages of development. The Bible teaches that man was created perfect and highly intelligent with ability to name all other created things. Since the day he was created, man has fallen to be depraved and ignorant compared to his original creative makeup (2:7, 15-25; 3:1-24; Rom. 1:18-32; 5:12-21; Eph. 2)

Made - not created (1:16)

Made, not created. They were created in the beginning before the earth was (Gen. 1:1; Job 38:4-7), but during the chaos caused by Lucifer's rebellion, they were forbidden to give light on earth until judgment had been completed (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

4 divine acts in day 1 (1:5):

1 God said - divine purpose stated. Immediately day came and the divine purpose was realized (v 3)
2 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (v 4)
3 God divided - divine division making light and darkness distinct from each other in all parts of the earth (v 4)
4 God called - divine naming of light and darkness (v 5)

This was all the work of day 1, the sun, moon, stars, earth, waters, darkness, and light having been created before day 1. The work of the 6 days was simply the restoration of the planet earth to a second habitable state and the creation of a new social system to take the place of the one Lucifer ruled over and caused to be destroyed in the flood of v 2 (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

4 divine acts in day 2 (1:8):

1 God said - divine purpose stated (v 6)
2 God made - divine work of restoring the firmament or clouds to retain water
3 God divided - waters put back in the clouds to give rain upon earth as when Lucifer ruled (v 7)
4 God called - divine naming of the firmament (v 8)

5 divine acts in day 3 (1:13):

1 God said - divine permission and purpose stated concerning the earth and waters (v 9)
2 God called - divine naming of waters and dry land (v 10)
3 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (v 10)
4 God said - divine permission and purpose stated concerning plant life (v 11)
5 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (v 12)

4 divine acts in day 4 (1:19):

1 God said - divine permission and purpose stated (v 14)
2 God made - divine regulation of solar system again (v 16)
3 God set - divine placing, as before the chaos of v 2; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8 (v 17)
4 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (v 18)

5 divine acts in day 5 (1:23):

1 God said - divine purpose stated (v 20)
2 God created - divine act of bringing new living creatures into existence for the earth and man (v 21)
3 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (v 21)
4 God blessed - divine impartation of reproductive powers to fill the earth and waters (v 22)
5 God said - divine commands for reproduction of fish and fowl (v 22)

9 divine acts in day 6 (1:31):

1 God said - divine purpose stated (1:24)
2 God made - divine formation of the bodies with His hands (1:25; 2:19)
3 God saw - divine inspection and satisfaction (1:25)
4 God said - divine plan to make man and outline his work (1:26)
5 God created - divine work of creating (1:27; 2:7, 21-22; 5:1-2; 9:6)
6 God blessed - divine favor (1:28)
7 God said - divine commands to man (1:28)
8 God said - divine provision (1:29-30)
9 God saw - divine satisfaction (1:31)

Thus, the work of the 6 days was now finished. It began when God said, "Let there be light" (1:3). It ended exactly 6 24-hour days later, with the chaotic earth made perfect a second time and inhabited as it was in Lucifer's kingdom, before Adam's time. Everything was "very good," at once, proving that there was no long process of evolution from a few molecules seeking to improve themselves (1:31)

4 divine acts in day 7 (2:2)

1 God ended - divine completion and perfection (2:1-2; Dt. 32:4; Eccl. 3:11)
2 God rested - divine repose (2:2-3; Ex. 20:11; 31:17; Heb. 4:4)
3 God blessed - divine invocation (2:3)
4 God sanctified - divine separation and dedication (2:3; Ex. 20:8-11)

"Let" defined (1:3)

Let is used 13 times in this chapter; 1,464 times elsewhere, and in no case is an original creative act implied. The sense is made appear or made visible, expressing permission and purpose in connection with already existing things. The light, firmament, waters, earth, darkness and all other things mentioned here were already in existence, but had been thrown into chaos and the laws which previously governed them had been made void. The very purpose of their existence had been annulled because of sin. Now, in the restoration to perfection and original usefulness, God merely commands and the sun again gives light on this planet, as it had done all through Lucifer's kingdom (Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). Thus the light of days 1, 2 and 3 came from the sun as has been the case every day since. Cp. let in Gen. 13:8; 18:4; 24:14-18; Mt. 7:4; 13:30; 27:22; Jn. 14:1; Phil. 2:5 for the true sense

2 divisions by God (1:3):

2 times (v 4, 7). Here division is made by God, Himself because He is the only one who could restore day and night. In v 14-18 God commands the sun, moon and stars to divide day and night forever, of themselves, by natural law without a daily divine command. Both light and darkness had been created with the universe in the beginning. Here they are not created but divided as before the chaos in v 2; Jer. 4:23-26; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-8

"Firmament" defined (1:6)

Heb. shamayim, expanse, something spread out (Job 37:18; Isa. 40:22; 44:24; Jer. 10:12; 51:15). It is called heaven (v 8); clouds (Job 26:8; Ps. 77:17; Pr. 8:28). It was created in the beginning as one of the heavens of v 1. It had served its purpose of retaining water above the earth throughout Lucifer's reign, but upon his overthrow the earth was cursed by the firmament pouring out its waters and causing the flood of Gen. 1:2; Ps. 104:5-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-7. The heaven of heavens and the clouds are distinguished in Scripture (Judg. 5:4; Ps. 147:8; Isa. 14:12-14; Dan. 7:13). See Heaven in Index

Division of the waters (1:6)

In the judgment on the original earth the vapours condensed and fell upon the earth; and because the sun was withheld from shining on the earth the waters could not be vaporized again until the restoration of the sunlight. Hence, the waters did not naturally abate from the earth in the first universal flood of Gen. 1:2, as they did continually in the flood of Noah (Gen. 7:24; 8:3, 5, 8, 12). Because the waters were then divided again as before Gen. 1:2, natural laws took care of flood conditions on earth in Noah's time. Waters and firmament were both created in the beginning, and now were merely being restored as before the chaos of v 2

Earth restored (1:9)

Note that in day 2 part of the waters were placed in the clouds to give rain upon earth (v 6-8; Job 38:4-30; Amos 5:8; 9:6). Now the rest are commanded to return to the bowels of the earth, to river beds and low places of the earth created for them and where they were before being commanded to assist in causing the flood of Gen. 1:2. Cp. 7:11; 8:2; Ps. 104:8. Earth (dry land) then, could immediately appear as before when it was originally created and inhabited (1:1, 9; Isa. 45:18)

"Asah - made" defined (1:7)

Heb. asah, to make out of already existing material. It is the opposite of bara, to create. See note g, 1:1. It is translated made 659 times; make 449 times; maker 16 times; maketh 59 times; makest 16 times; maker 13 times; and madest 3 times. When Scripture reads "in six days the Lord made heaven and earth" it refers to their restoration in the 6 days after the curse of Gen. 1:2, and not to their original creation in the beginning (Ex. 20:8-11; 31:17)

2 great lights (1:14):

Heb. mawore, lightholders or luminaries (Ex. 25:6; 27:20; 35:8, 14, 28; 39:37; Lev. 24:2; Num. 4:9, 16; Ps. 74:16; 90:8; Pr. 15:30). The object of the 2 great lights is mentioned; that of the stars is not. They were to be the rulers of day and night - regulating their length, the amount of light and darkness and the intensity of their heat and cold. Here, the lights are made not created. They were originally created with other parts of the universe in the beginning, while now they are made to fulfill their creative purposes again, in the newly restored earth. The work of day 1 proves the existence of these lights at that time, for we have merely the introduction of light and the division of day and night. Not only do we have the fact that the sun existed, but also that the diurnal motion of the earth on its axis was in operation

The light of the first 3 days came from the same source as the light of the last 3 days and 2,261,990 (or more) days of the 6,193 (or more) years from the restoration to 1959 A.D. See lengths of the 7 dispensations, p. 59

The lights shone upon the waters on days 1 and 2, but not upon the earth, for it was under water until day 3. With earth restored, permanent regulation of the planets in connection with it, as before chaos, was the next natural step

7fold purpose of lights (1:14)

1 Divide day and night; light and darkness (v 14, 18)
2 Be for signs (v 14)
3 Be for seasons (v 14)
4 Be for days (v 14)
5 Be for years (v 14)
6 Give light on earth (v 15, 17)
7 Rule day and night eternally (v 16, 18; 8:22)

Source of light (1:17)

Here is proof that the light of days 1, 2, and 3 came from the sun, which was created before the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25, and which had given light on earth all through Lucifer's kingdom before Adam's time and before being commanded not to give light on the cursed earth of Gen. 1:2; Jer. 4:23-26. Here we have merely the regulation of the sun, moon, and stars in connection with the earth which is restored to a second habitable state in day 3 (1:9-13)

The Solaric covenant is now made guaranteeing the present life on earth forever. See 15 great covenants, p. 57

Created - not made (1:21)

Here the word created is used for the first time since v 1 (see note g, v 1). All that was done in the interval was a re-arrangement and restoration of matter. Now, life is introduced, which requires not simply constructive, but creative power. All forms of animal life in the air and in the waters are embraced in the statements of this verse. In the first creative acts of God in v 1, the universe was brought into existence; in the second creative acts the multiplied thousands of bodies which were formed by God out of the ground are given self-existent and self-productive life, each after his kind (v 21; 2:19). In v 1 we have the origin of the pre-Adamic world and in v 3-31 we have the restoration of the earth to a second habitable state and the origin of the Adamite world

First blessing (1:22)

First blessing - 3 gifts from God:
1 Fruitfulness. Heb. parah, bear fruit, the power of pro-creation (1:28; 8:17; 9:1, 7; Ps. 128:3)
2 Multiplication. Heb. rabah, to increase
3 Occupancy of suitable places. Heb. mala, to replenish (note b, 1:28). There no doubt had been fish and fowl when Lucifer ruled (Jer. 4:23-26), but they were destroyed because there was no sunlight during the flood of 1:2; Jer. 4:23-26. Therefore, Gen. 1:2 was a longer period than that of Noah's flood wh did not destroy sea creatures

Creation of man (1:27)

In the third creative act of God beasts and man were brought into be (v 24-28. Cp. 1:1, 2). Their bod were formed but their life was creat Man's creation alone was not mer accomplished by a divine fiat, but also the subject of a divine council (26-28). So (as had been decreed divine council) God created man in own image (v 27). Man was a work God, not of molecules and monke See 15 facts disproving evolution, p.

God's sabbath (heading, 2:1)

God's sabbath could not be the sa day as man's, for Adam was not creat until day 6 and had worked only o day, naming the animals (1:24-31; 2: 19-25). There is no record of any sa bath for man for at least 2,513 ye after God rested on the 7th day. T first sabbath for man is mentioned Ex. 16:23-29. It was a sabbath for Isr only, as a sign between them and G (Ex. 31:12-18; Ezek. 20:12-24) to com memorate the deliverance of Isra from slavery - not to commemora God's rest day of over 2,513 years b fore (Dt. 5:15)

Shebii - seventh (2:2)

Heb. shebii, seventh. God ceased wo on this day of the week of re-creatio not from fatigue, but from achieve ment (2:2-3). He had completed H work, and was refreshed (Ex. 31:17 Men were told to rest likewise and re fresh themselves on the 7th day after days of work (Ex. 20:8-11; 23:12; 3 21). This was a mere shadow or tem porary picture of eternal rest (Col. 2 14-17; Heb. 4:1-11)

God's day of rest (2:3)

Had rested. God rested on that one da not on every 7th day from then unt now. It was necessary for Him to wa again when man sinned (3:8-24), an not only for 6 days a week. The re demption program is carried on 7 day a week. Therefore, the 7th day was n sanctified or set apart for God's re very long; and there is no statemen here or elsewhere showing that ma was commanded to rest, or that h rested every 7th day from this time fo ward. On the contrary, no man wa commanded to rest every 7th day until 2,513 years later. See 22 facts abou the sabbath, p. 111

16 Jehovah titles (2:4):

Jehovah-Elohim. The first occurrenc of this title in hundreds of times used It means the self-existent or Eterna Creator; the Elohim in covenant rela tionship with His people. Jehovah real ly means the Eternal, the Immutabl One, He who WAS, and IS, and IS T COME (21:33; Ex. 3:13-14; 6:3; Ps. 83 18; Isa. 12:2; 26:4). The name Jehovah i combined with other words which form what we know as the Jehovah titles

1 Jehovah-Elohim - the Eternal Creator (2:4-25)

Earth before 1:11 described (2:5)

1 Before plants of the field were in the earth (v 5). It appears that God created all vegetation in a state of maturity. This had to be to sustain life of man and all living creatures

2 Before the herbs of the field were in the earth to grow (v 5)

3 Before it had rained upon earth after it was made dry ground (v 5; 1:9-10)

4 Before there was a man (Adam) created to till the soil (v 5-7; 1:26-28)

To use this passage to teach that there was no rain on earth before Noah's flood is far from truth. It refers to the time before plants and man were created. That it did rain upon earth from the time of original creation and all through Lucifer's reign on earth is clear from Job 38:4-9, 25-30; Ps. 135:7; 147:8; Pr. 8:27-29; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 10:12-13. Clouds are referred to as being in the very beginning and they were made to give rain on the earth. There was no rain in the 6 days before Adam was created and before vegetation was in the ground; but after that there was rain in season all during the 1,656 years before Noah, as has been the case ever since the flood

Mist and vapour (2:6)

Heb. ed. Trans. mist (2:6) and vapour (Job 36:27), God had just finished dividing the waters, causing some to be retained by the clouds as before they fell to cause the flood of Lucifer (1:2). There would naturally be vapours and fogs rising from the earth and condensing into dew as today. See Ps. 135:7; 148:8; Jer. 10:12-13. It could not mean that this is the way God watered the earth for 1,656 years between Adam and Noah and that no man had ever seen it rain upon earth until it began to do so after the ark was made. If so, this would nullify the very purpose for which God made the clouds. This shows how rain is produced - from vapours ascending to cold air, becoming condensed into water that falls again in the form of rain

Adam (2:7)

Heb. adam, ruddy; to flush or turn rosy; red. This word denotes Adam's origin, as being made from the dust of the adamah, ground or red soil. The word Adam without the definite article denotes man or mankind in general (1:26; 2:5; 5:1). With the article it denotes the man Adam (1:27; 2:7, 8, 15, 16, 19, 22; 3:12, 22, 24; 5:1; 6:1-4). In Gen. 6:5 and on through the remainder of the O.T. it generally, though not always, refers to mankind

Garden of Eden (2:8)

The garden was located in the east of Eden, which was evidently a large district. Two of the rivers had well known names - Euphrates and Tigris. The other two are not so easily identified. Gihon compassed Ethopia and may refer to the Nile. Pison compassed Arabia. There is no known spot where physical features accord exactly with the description here. The garden has been destroyed and the surface of the earth changed

Earth divided into continents

It is clear from Gen. 10:25; 1 Chr. 1:19 that the dry land was one solid section and together until the time of Peleg, when the earth was divided into continents and islands as we know it today. Hence, it is impossible to locate all these rivers or the garden of Eden spot. Even greater changes will take place at the 2nd advent of Christ (Isa. 11:15-16; 34:1-17; 35:1-10; Zech. 14:4-10; Rev. 16:10-21), and when the earth is made new again (Rev. 21:1-2, 9-10)

Location of Eden

Religious leaders have speculated about the location of Eden, suggesting places from the third heaven to the lowest part of earth; from the north to the south poles; and have named China, India, Ceylon, Armenia, Africa, Mesopotamia, Syria, Persia, Arabia, Babylon, Assyria, Palestine, and Egypt, and even Missouri and Utah in America. It would be wise of all to read and be content with Dt. 29:29

4 gardens in Scripture

1 Lucifer's garden of Eden before Adam, where sin originated among the angels and pre-Adamites (Ezek. 28:11-17; Jer. 4:23-26)

2 Adam's garden of Eden where sin originated with Adamites (Gen. 2:8-3:24)

3 Garden of Gethsemane where Satan was defeated and the cross assured (Mt. 26:36; Jn. 18:1)

4 Garden of resurrection where Christ triumphed over sin, death, hell and the grave (Jn. 19:38-42; Rev. 1:18)

Eden (2:8)

Heb. Eden, pleasure; the Septuagint reads paradise (Ezek. 31:9, 16, 18; Joel 2:3)

4 paradises in Scripture

1-2 Eden is generally referred to as a paradise by scholars because the Heb. pardace is trans. orchard (Song 4:13; Eccl. 2:5) and forest (Neh. 2:8), and seems to describe the garden (Gen. 2:8-17). There were 2 Edens: Lucifer's (Ezek. 28:11-17); and Adam's

3 Paradise in the third heaven - the planet heaven (2 Cor. 12:1-4; Rev. 2:7)

4 Paradise under the earth where the righteous were held prisoners against their wills (Lk. 16:25, and 23:43 with Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10; Heb. 2:14-15)

Summary of creative ages (2:4)

The first half of v 4 refers to the original creation (1:1); the last half to the work of days 2, 3, and 4. The first work was a creation, and the second a making or a restoration of the clouds in day 2, the earth in day 3, and the solar system in day 4. With the words, In the day that God made the earth and the heavens (v 4), we have the commencement of a new section and a new narrative, complete in itself, to a great extent. V 1:3-2:4 are the summary of the 6 days' work; 2:4-25 are a more detailed account of the work of days 2, 3, 5, and 6. The first narrative states what God did and embraces the universe and all things therein. The second is mainly a description of how the work of days 2, 3, 5, and 6 was done. In the first, the Divine Being is called Elohim, Indicating creative relationship and infinite power. In the second, He is called Jehovah-Elohim, Indicating covenant relationship and infinite power, so as to inspire man with implicit faith

Original creations of God (1:1)

The original creations of God include the heavens, the earth and all things therein as first brought into being. They were made perfect the first time. Gen. 1:1 refers to the dateless past or the beginning of the creative ages (Job 38; Ps. 8:3-8; 19:1-6; Pr. 8:22-31; 1 Jn. 1:3, 10; Acts 17:24-26; Col. 1:15-18; Heb. 1:1-12; 11:3; Rev. 4:11). The 6 days of re-creation (Gen. 1:3-2:25 are a part of and the end of the creative ages, and have nothing to do with the original creations of the heavens and earth

God in the eternal past

That God existed from all eternity is very clear in Scripture (Ps. 90:2; 93:2; Pr. 8:22-31; Mic. 5:2; Jn. 1:1-3; Heb. 3:4; Rev. 1:4-8; 4:8; 22:5, 13), what He did in all the dateless past, besides create the spiritual, moral and material universes, is not revealed (Dt. 29:29)

Age of the earth (1:1)

We cannot say how old the earth is because we do not know WHEN the beginning was. God's creation of the heavens and the earth in the beginning could have been millions and billions of years ago. If geologists can prove the age of the earth to be what they claim, we have no scriptural authority to disagree. They cannot contradict the Bible, for it does not reveal any time element in connection with the earth's original creation. This much is certain, according to Scripture, that the earth is more than 6,000 years old, and there were inhabitants on the earth before the days of Adam. The earth was cursed and flooded, as in Gen. 1:2 because of sin before the 6 days of re-creation in 1:3-2:25. Lucifer was already a fallen creature when he came into Adam's Eden, having already ruled the earth, rebelled and caused the first flood (Gen. 1:2; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:18; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

The drafting of God's plan

That the plan was drafted by all 3 members of the divine Trinity is evident from Gen. 1:26-28; 3:22; 11:7; Isa. 6:8; 46:10-11; Acts 15:18; Eph. 1:4-11; 2:7; 3:5-11; 1 Pet. 1:20. The Bible is very clear as to there being 3 separate, distinct and eternal persons in the Godhead. See 89 proofs of a Trinity, p. 280 of the N.T.

God's plan is revealed in 3 distinct parts being carried out by these 3 persons. One, now known as the Father holds the headship in the plan of creation and redemption of all things (1 Chr. 29:11; 1 Cor. 3:23; 11:3). Another, now called the Son, carries out the representative duties of the plan. God, the Father, creates and redeems BY Jesus Christ (Jn. 1:3; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-16; Heb. 1:1-3; 1 Pet. 2:24). A third person, the Holy Spirit, actually executes the plan under the direction of the Father and the Son (Gen. 1:2; Job 33:4; Lk. 1:35; Jn. 3:5; 14:16-17, 26; 16:7-15; 2 Pet. 1:21)

30fold dispensational plan of God from eternity past through eternity future (Eph. 3:11)

If the student will master the following 30 points and related scriptures he can then rightly divide the word of truth (2 Tim. 2:15); and the Bible will become a plain and simple book to him

1 God in the eternal past (Ps. 90:2; 93:2; Mic. 5:2; Heb. 9:14)

2 The drafting of God's plan (Eph. 3:11; Heb. 1:3; 11:3; 1 Pet. 1:20)

3 Creation of the heavens, including the sun, moon, and stars (Gen. 1:1; Col. 1:15-18; Ps. 8:3; 90:2; 95:5; 102:25; Isa. 40:12, 26; 45:12; 48:13)

4 Creation of the spirit-world before the creation of earth (Job 38:4-7; Col. 1:15-18)

5 Creation of the earth - made perfect the first time (Gen. 1:1; Job 38:4-7; Isa. 45:18; Heb. 11:3)

6 Creation of the world (kosmos, social order) that then was (2 Pet. 3:5-8; Isa. 14:12-14; 45:18; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17)

7 Lucifer's reign over the world that then was (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Col. 1:15-18). The length of his rule is unknown

8 Other thrones, dominions, principalities, and powers placed over other parts of the universe (Col. 1:15-18; Eph. 1:21; 3:10; 1 Pet. 3:22)

9 The kingdom of God universal - God the Supreme Moral Governor of the universe, and everything in harmony with Him (Job 38; Dan. 4:17, 25, 32, 35). The length of rule of the universal harmonious kingdom, before Lucifer's rebellion is unknown

10 Lucifer, the original ruler of the planet earth, conceives an idea that he can obtain co-operation of other angelic beings, dethrone God, and become the exalted supreme ruler of the universe himself (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; 1 Tim. 3:6)

11 Lucifer carries out his plans, falls through pride, and foments rebellion by slander and accusations against the Almighty, causing his own earth-kingdom subjects and over one-third of God's angels (Rev. 12:7-12) to rebel against Him. The earth enters its first sinful career (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; 1 Tim. 3:6). Length of the uprising is unknown

12 Lucifer openly breaks relations with God and His government, leading his rebels from the appointed place of mobilization on earth into heaven in his attempt to dethrone God. He is met by Michael and the faithful angels; and is defeated, being cast as lightning back to the earth (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:18)

13 God destroys Lucifer's kingdom on earth completely, and curses the earth by destroying every bird, animal, fish, city, inhabitant, and all vegetation. He then turns the earth upside down, and by means of a great flood makes it empty and a waste (Gen. 1:2; Ps. 104:5-9; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; 2 Pet. 3:5-9). Length of the pre-Adamite flood on earth is unknown

14 Re-creation of the heavens and earth in 6 literal 24-hour days. The Spirit of God moves upon the flooded earth in the darkness covering the waters. Light is restored; earth is brought to a second habitable state; new land-animals, fish, fowls, and vegetation are created; and Adam is made the new ruler of the earth in Lucifer's place (Gen. 1:2-3:25; Ex. 20:8-11; 31:15; Ps. 104:6-9)

15 The earth being made perfect a second time, all things in the universe are again in harmony with God as before Lucifer's rebellion, except Lucifer and his spirit rebels who are still at large in the heavenlies, being permitted to remain free to further God's plan by testing man in the probationary periods of the human race (Gen. 1:3-2:25; Job 1:6; 2:1; Eph. 2:1-3; 6:10-18; Rev. 12:7-12)

16 THE FIRST PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Innocence. Length of this period: only a few days (Gen. 2:17-3:24)

17 Lucifer (now the devil or adversary of God and man, called "Satan") enters the restored earth, tempts man and causes his fall, thus regaining dominion of the earth and all things therein (Gen. 3; Lk. 4; Jn. 12:31; 2 Cor. 4:4; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

18 Rebellion is begun on the earth again - by its second ruler, Adam. Man is judged, the earth is cursed again; and it enters its second sinful career, with all creatures being brought under the bondage of sin and corruption (Gen. 3; Rom. 5:12-21; 8:19-23)

19 The heavens and the earth which are now (since the restoration work of the 6 days, and since the new curse on the earth) await the time of the second renovation, and the third perfect state, called the New Heavens and the New Earth (2 Pet. 3:5-13; Rom. 8:19-23; Heb. 1:10-12; 12:24-28; Rev. 21-22)

20 THE SECOND PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Conscience (Gen. 3:1-8:14). Length of this period: 1,656 years (Gen. 5:1-29; 7:11)

21 THE THIRD PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Human Government (Gen. 8:15-11:9). Length of this period: 427 years (Gen. 11:10-12:9)

22 THE FOURTH PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Promise (Gen. 11:10-Ex. 12:51). Length of this period: 430 years (Ex. 12:40; Gal. 4:30)

23 THE FIFTH PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Law (Ex. 13:1-Mt. 4:1; 11:11; Lk. 16:16). Length of this period: over 1,700 years - from Moses to Christ

24 THE SIXTH PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Grace (Mt. 4:1-Rev. 19:21; Jn. 1:17). Length of this period: from the 1st to the 2nd advent of Christ and the binding of Satan in the abyss at the end of this age. It has already lasted over 1,900 years. The rapture, completion of the first resurrection, judgment of saints, judgment of nations, and the tribulation or Daniel's 70th week take place at the end of this age

25 THE SEVENTH PROBATIONARY PERIOD - Dispensation of Divine Government, or Millennium (Rev. 20:1-10). Length of this period: 1,000 years (Rev. 20:1-10)

26 Satan loosed from the abyss at the end of the Millennium, to deceive the nations and cause the last rebellion on earth and the destruction of all human rebels (Rev. 20:7-10)

27 The second resurrection and final judgment at the end of the Millennium (Rev. 20:11-15)

28 Earth's second sinful career ended with renovation of the Immediate heavens and the earth by fire, and removal of all the curse and its effects (Rom. 8:19-23; Heb. 1:10-12; 12:24-28; 2 Pet. 3:10-13)

29 Confinement of all spirit and human rebels of all ages in the lake of fire forever (Isa. 66:22-24; Mt. 25:41, 46; Rev. 14:9-11; 20:10-15) with God all-in-all again (1 Cor. 15: 24-28), as before rebellion in the universe headed by Lucifer and Adam (Isa. 65:17; 66:22-24; 2 Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21-22)

The pre-Adamite world (1:2)

18 proofs of a pre-Adamite world:

1 In Gen. 1:1 we have the original creation of the heavens and the earth. This is certainly pre-Adamite, for Adam was created much later as is clear

Regarding the original creation, the following facts make it clear that the term in the beginning used in Gen. 1: 1-2 does not refer to the time or work of the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25:

(1) The word and (as stated in note p. 51) is used 148 times in Gen. 1-2 to separate the 102 different acts of God. These acts are all independent and important. The and of 1:2 proves that the work of v 2 is entirely independent of the work of v 1. While v 1 records the original creation of the heavens and the earth, v 2 records the original dry land, or earth, made chaos and flooded through a great catastrophe which destroyed all life on a pre-Adamite earth

(2) The word was in v 2 is from the verb to be, not the verb to become, which proves that the earth became waste and empty since its original creation and habitation in the beginning. See note 1, 1:2

(3) The phrase without form in v 2 is from the Heb. tohu, meaning waste, desolation. It is trans. waste (Dt. 32:10); without form (Gen. 1:2; Jer. 4:23); vain (Isa. 45:18; 1 Sam. 12:21); confusion (Isa. 24:10; 34:11; 41:29); empty (Job 26:7); vanity (Isa. 40:17, 23; 44:9; 59: 4); nothing (Job 6:18; Isa. 40:17); and wilderness (Job 12:24; Ps. 107:40). It can be seen from these passages what the condition of the earth was, in v 2 of Gen. 1. God did not originally create the earth in such a waste and ruined condition. It is stated in Isa. 45:18 that He did not create the earth tohu (vain, waste, desolate), yet in v 2 it is this way. Therefore, we are to conclude that the earth was made perfect, dry land, beautiful, and inhabited originally, and that later it became empty, waste and a ruin because of sin (Dt. 32:4; Eccl. 3:11)

(4) The Heb. for void is bohu, empty, ruin, void. It is trans. void (v 2; Jer. 4:23); and emptiness (Isa. 34:11). The Heb. phrase tohu va bohu, waste and empty, describes the chaotic condition of the earth at the time it was cursed and made flooded because of the sins of Lucifer and the pre-Adamites. It could not refer to the earth as originally created - beautiful, perfect, dry land

2 The earth was created to be inhabited (Isa. 45:18), and was inhabited before the flood of Gen. 1:2 and the work of the 6 days of Adam's time (Gen. 1:3-2:25; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4: 23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). See note 1 (3) above

3 The earth is called dry land (Gen. 1:10) which means Gen. 1:1 could read, "In the beginning God created the heaven and dry land." Since it was created dry (not wet and flooded as in Gen. 1:2) then it was immediately inhabited; and the flood of Gen. 1:2 was a curse, not a creative act. According to Ps. 136:6 the earth was originally created dry and "stretched above the waters," not the waters stretched upon the earth (note g, Ps. 136:6). This requires a pre-Adamite race whose sin brought such a curse

4 In Gen. 1:2 the earth is not only flooded with water but covered with total darkness, the sun, moon, and stars having withdrawn their light, causing all life on earth to be totally destroyed. This requires a pre-Adamite world with vegetation, birds, animals, and men as proved in Jer. 4:23-26, notes

5 We have the fact recorded in Gen. 1:2 that the earth, the waters, and the darkness were already in existence before the work of the 6 days which began in Gen. 1:3 and continued until the earth was restored to a second habitable state in Gen. 2:25. Thus, it is clear from Gen. 1:1-2 (and related scriptures) that:

(1) In the beginning, the dateless past, and not in 6 days about 6,000 years ago, God created the heavens, including the sun, moon, and stars - all the heavenly bodies in space. See note h, Ps. 136:7

(2) In the beginning or the dateless past, as in point (1) above, God created the earth or dry land

(3) The heavens and the earth were created by God, a personal and an eternal Being; they were not the product of molecules deciding the produce innumerable offspring of heavenly and earthly things

(4) The heavens were created before the earth was. Cp. Job 38:4-7

(5) Both the heavens and the earth were created before the earth was flooded

(6) The earth was created dry land, not wet and flooded (v 1, 10; Isa. 45:18)

(7) The waters that flooded the dry land or earth were created in the beginning along with the earth, to cause the dry land to become productive (Job 38:4-30), and not to curse the earth as in Gen. 1:2

(8) The darkness was also created in the beginning with day, or light, to help sustain life on the earth (Job 38: 4-41)

(9) The earth only was cursed, flooded, and filled with darkness, not the heavens (v 2)

We, therefore, conclude that Gen. 1:1-2 proves a pre-Adamite world that was destroyed in a flood, which necessitated the making of the present Adamite world so that the original purpose of God concerning the earth could be realized (Isa. 45:18)

6 It is further revealed in Gen. 1:2 that the Spirit of God began to move upon the flooded earth and in the darkness to restore the dry land as before it was flooded. This also confirms the fact of a pre-Adamite world which was destroyed, making it necessary to restore the earth to a second habitable state as in the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25

7 In Scripture, all instances of obscuring the sun and bringing consequent darkness, and the two past cases of universal floods are revealed to be the result of judgment, not creation (Gen. 6:8-8:22; Ex. 10:21-23; Isa. 5: 30; Jer. 4:23-26). All predictions of such future darkness depict judgment (Ex. 10:21; 24:29-31; Rev. 6:12-17; 8: 12; 9:2; 16:10; Isa. 13:10; Joel 2:30-3:16; Amos 8:18-20). Could we say that Gen. 1:2 is an exception and the only place in Scripture where darkness and universal flood on the earth are not an act of judgment? If then, as in other cases, these are the result of judgment, Gen. 1:2 definitely proves there was a pre-Adamite world which was destroyed by darkness and flood

No one questions the flood of Noah's time being an act of judgment passed upon free moral agents because of sin. No one doubts the existence of the free moral agents before the flood actually came. Why, then, doubt the existence of a pre-Adamite world which was destroyed by the darkness and flood of Gen. 1:2? That this was even a worse flood than the one of Noah's time, and an act of greater judgment in punishment of more horrible sin is clear from the outline of contrasts below

We find proof of two universal floods on earth, one in Lucifer's day and another in Noah's. In Gen. 1:2; Isa. 14: 12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8

20 contrasts between the 2 floods

11 Waters hasted away (Ps. 104:7)	Waters gradually receded (8:1-14)
12 God set a bound for waters (Ps. 104:9)	Bounds already set (1:6-12; 8:2)
13 All fish destroyed - because sun without light (1:2-24-25; 2:19)	No fish destroyed, only the land anihelp from earth (1: mals (6:18-8:22)
14 No fowls left (1: 20; Jer. 4:23-26)	Fowls preserved (6:20; 8:17)
15 No animals left (1:24-25; 2:19)	Animals preserved (6:20; 8:17)
16 No man left (1:26-28; Jer. 4:23-26)	8 men and women saved (6:18)
17 No social system left (2 Pet. 3:6; Jer. 4:23-26)	A social system left (6:18; 8:22; 2 Pet. 2:5)
18 No ark made to save life (Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:6-8)	An ark made to save life (6:14-22; 1 Pet. 3:20)
19 Cause: fall of Satan (Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:18)	Cause: wickedness of man (6:5-13) and fallen angels (6:1-4)
20 Result became - necessary to make new fish, fowl, land for animals, man, vegetation (1:3-2:25)	Result no new creations made, for all things were preserved (6:18-8:22)

The flood of Noah lasted over a year, yet vegetation was not destroyed. But, in Lucifer's flood the fruitful place became a wilderness (Jer. 4:23-26). New vegetation had to be planted in the 6 days, for the earth was totally desolate (1:11-12; 2:5, 8-17). This proves that Lucifer's flood was on earth longer than Noah's and without doubt, as judgment for a more serious rebellion - a complete rebellion of the pre-Adamite world

8 The command for Adam to replenish the earth (fill it again) - not plenish it, proves that the earth had been filled before this (Gen. 1:28). God gave the same command to Noah, after the second universal flood (9:1-2). Should we conclude from His command to Noah to replenish the earth that He meant to fill it for the first time, and not refill it? Substitute the word fill (meaning supply for the first time) in Gen. 9:1; Isa. 2:6; 23:2; Jer. 31:25; Ezek. 26:2; 27:25, as some do in Gen. 1:28 and see if it makes better sense. Whatever we conclude in these other places where replenish is used, let us be consistent and give the same meaning to Gen. 1:28

9 The fact that Lucifer had already ruled the earth and become a fallen creature before Adam's time is proof that Adam and his race were not the first ones on earth. We are required to acknowledge that Satan's fall was before Adam's time because he was already a fallen creature when he came into Adam's Eden (Gen. 3; 2 Cor. 11:2). Hence, he must have fallen with a pre-Adamite creation

10 According to Isa. 14:12-14, Lucifer actually invaded heaven from earth, hoping to defeat God and take His kingdom; but, Lucifer, himself was defeated and his kingdom cursed. Before his defeat he had a throne and therefore a kingdom and subjects to rule over. His kingdom was under the clouds, under the stars, and under heaven; therefore, on earth. Having weakened the nations over whom he ruled, and wanting to be like God and take His place in heaven, Lucifer led the invasion of heaven. All this had to be before Adam's day, for no such things have occurred since Adam was created

11 In Ezek. 28:11-17 we have a picture of Lucifer before he fell, as the anointed cherub or protector of the earth, as being full of wisdom and perfect in beauty, as ruling in a garden of Eden (before Adam), as being created of God and perfect in his ways up to the time of his fall, the passage gives the reason for his fall and the result of it. The only time this could have been true of Satan was before the days of Adam, thus proving a pre-Adamite world

12 In Jer. 4:23-26 we have a full description of the earth under a total curse, as in Gen. 1:2. It was desolate and empty, the heavens had no light, the hills and mountains were undergoing convulsions, there was no man, no bird, no animal, no fruitful place, and no city left standing because of God's fierce anger. The only time Jeremiah could have seen the earth without form and void and totally dark and desolate of all life was at the same time Moses saw it thus, and as recorded by him in Gen. 1:2. There never has been a time from Adam until now when the earth was in such a state (not even at the time of Noah's flood), and there will never be a time of such a curse in the eternal future. The only time Jer. 4:23-26 could be fulfilled was before Adam, for the earth was in such a condition when the Spirit began the 6 days' work of restoring it to a second habitable state (Gen. 1:2-21). Regarding the future, such will never be the condition of the earth again, for at the 2nd advent Christ will begin to reign over all nations on earth forever, and of His kingdom there shall be no end (Gen. 8:22; 9:12; Isa. 9:6-7; 55:12; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 1:6; 5:10; 11:15; 20:4-10; 22:4-5). Even the renovation of the heaven and earth at the end of the Millennium will not make the earth desolate as pictured in Gen. 1:2 and Jer. 4:23-24 (see notes Rom. 8:19-25; Heb. 1:10-12; 12:25-28; 2 Pet. 3:10-13). Therefore, Jer. 4:23-26 must refer to the same judgment as pictured in Gen. 1:2, thus proving further that a real social system - men, birds, fruitful places, cities - existed before Adam.

13 Ps. 104:5-9 speaks of God sending a flood on the earth after its creation at which time the waters stood above the mountains. V 7 identifies this as Lucifer's flood, saying "At thy rebuke they fled." In the case of Noah's flood the waters slowly and naturally abated. Furthermore, v 9 makes it clear that this flood was at a time when God set a bound for the waters "that they turn not again to cover the earth," and that is what happened in the 6 days' work of Gen. 1:3-2:25. Thus, Ps. 104:5-9 refers to the same flood as Gen. 1:2 and proves the existence of a pre-Adamite world which was overthrown by a flood

14 Turning to the N. T., we find that Jesus taught the fall of Satan from heaven, in Lk. 10:18. When did he fall? Before Adam's time, for he was already a fallen creature when he came into Adam's Eden (Gen. 3). Why did he fall? Because of pride and wanting to exalt his earthly kingdom above God's (Isa. 14:12-16; Ezek. 28:11-17). What was the result of his fall? All of Satan's earthly subjects as well as over one-third of God's own angels fell with him (Rev. 12:3, 7-12); and all earth-nations were totally destroyed, along with vegetation, fish, fowls, and animals (2 Pet. 3:5-8). Thus, Lk. 10:18 substantiates the teaching of O. T. passages regarding a pre-Adamite world

15 Jesus further taught the overthrow of the pre-Adamite world by plainly stating that the world had been overthrown. See note i, Mt. 13:35

16 Paul also taught the overthrow of the pre-Adamite world (Eph. 1:4; Heb. 4:3; 9:26. See notes at these scriptures and note i, Mt. 13:35). In Col. 1:15-18 he made it clear that there are thrones, principalities, and powers in heaven and in earth, visible and invisible. It should not be difficult then, to believe that Lucifer was given one of these thrones and a kingdom to rule over, before he fell. That his kingdom was on earth in a pre-Adamite period is indicated by the fact that he returned to the earth after his fall, and moving with envy and jealousy brought about the downfall of the new earth-ruler, Adam. Why all this desire to usurp man's dominion on earth if the earth was not one time Lucifer's place of rulership? Even his eternal punishment will be in the lake of fire under the earth, which further proves his sin was in connection with the earth - and if so, when, if not at the time of a pre-Adamite world?

17 Peter was very definite in his statements regarding a social system overthrown before Adam. See Pre-Adamites, p. 274 of the N. T.

18 John referred to the overthrow of the pre-Adamite world (Rev. 13:8; 17: 8, notes; also note i, Mt. 13:35)

Thus, it is clear that both testaments give proof of a pre-Adamite world. The actual findings of science regarding pre-historic animals and men, the age of the earth, its rock formation, and other facts can be recognized only if we believe the Bible's revelation of a pre-Adamite social system. There are many questions which cannot be answered apart from a belief in the pre-Adamite age. How did Lucifer become the devil and the prince of demons? When did he weaken the nations, ascend into heaven to exalt his throne above the stars and when did he fall from heaven as in Isa. 14:12-14? How did demons originate, for what purpose, and when? What caused the calamity in Gen. 1:2; Jer. 4:23-26; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-6? Why was hell prepared for the devil and his angels as stated in Mt. 25:41, and why was it located beneath the earth (Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:7-11)? Why was Adam told to replenish and not merely to plenish the earth? These, and other questions go unanswered apart from a belief in the pre-Adamite world

Creation not evolution (1:12)

The theory of evolution is that all forms of life derived by gradual modification from earlier and simpler forms or from one rudimentary form. It teaches a process in which something complex is developed by itself from a simple beginning. It accepts the existence of the cause or causes of the first substance and the force or forces working successive transformations from a lower to a higher form of matter and life

The theory of cosmic evolution claims that from lower units of matter (atoms and molecules) the vast material suns, moons, stars, planets, and universes were formed by themselves. That of organic evolution teaches that the vegetable and animal kingdoms evolved from lower forms of life to what they are today

Utter foolishness of evolution

Evolutionists do not deny the first cause. Their theory begins with matter or substance already in existence. They believe in primitive nebulosity and powers possessed by molecules. They do not try to account for how these came to exist, how molecules got their different powers, or how there came to be definite laws governing them so that they could produce, without failure, all things as we now have them. Their theory does not show why there is such bitter hatred against the God of the Bible as being that first cause. It does not consider proved facts, but has absolute faith in a mere supposition which no fact has ever been produced

Above, its teachers seemingly deny God, the Bible, and known facts and continue to rob multiplied thousands of boys and girls of their simple faith in God and the Bible without a sting of conscience. They manufacture multiplied drawings of human beings, different kinds, rising from a molecule through a monkey to the present man; and add guess upon guess of how life was in each stage of evolution, but refuse to accept the Bible truth of the origin of all things. They speak glibly of denying God and His work in creation and at the same time pose as having the only truth on the subject

Huxley said, "It is clear that the doctrine of evolution is directly antagonistic to that of creation... Evolution, if consistently accepted, makes it impossible to believe in the Bible"

Darwin taught that the more complex organs and instincts have been perfected by the accumulation of innumerable slight variations, each good for the individual possessor

Spencer said that evolution was purely mechanical and anti-supernatural

Earnest Haeckel said, "It entirely excludes the supernatural process, every prearranged and conscious act of a personal character. Nothing will make the full meaning of the theory of descent clearer than calling it the non-miraculous theory of creation"

Thus the confessed evolution-theory leaders are clear that no true evolutionist can be a Christian or a believer in the Bible. There is no place for God in evolution, hence no need of a belief in sin or a Saviour, heaven or hell. Those in the church who try to harmonize evolution with the Bible rule God out in spite of themselves and are enemies of both God and the church

No one branch of organic evolution has been proved, much less the main theory. It is a bankrupt, speculative, philosophy - not a scientific fact

True science rejects

1 The theory that the hair is but elongated scales of pre-historic animals

2 The legs of all animals developed from warts on aboriginal amphibians

3 Eyes are but accidental development of freckles on blind amphibians that responded to the sun

4 Ears came about by the air waves calling to spots on early reptiles

5 The theory of natural selection

6 Man came from monkeys

7 The vast universes came from a few molecules

8 Nothing working on nothing by nothing, through nothing, for nothing began everything

12 fallacies of evolution:

1 It accepts heathen and pagan philosophers in preference to God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Bible, and Christians. Pagan Hindu and Greek philosophers invented such a theory. Aristotle taught an internal spontaneity, which is the same idea of modern evolutionists who call it resident forces or impersonal eternal energy

2 It nullifies the idea of Bible creation by God. Blind force is substituted for the creative power of the personal and living God who created all things (Gen. 1:1, 20-28; 2:7-22; 5:1-2; 9:6; Jn. 1:1-4; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18; Heb. 1:1-3)

3 It degrades man from creation by God in the image of God to a monkey ancestry. See Gen. 1:26-28; 2:7; 5:1-2

4 It degrades God's image to a mere beast. See Gen. 1:26-28; 9:6; Jas. 3:9

5 It makes Christ, the second and last Adam, nothing more than a mere beast. See Gen. 1:26-28; 1 Cor. 15:45

6 It does away with the fall of man, for how can a mere beast who has evolved steadily from a molecule to an intelligent being go backward and have a fall? See Gen. 3; Rom. 5:12-21

7 It does away with Bible miracles and the supernatural in all its forms. The only miracle or power of evolution is the inherent force of molecules. See Heb. 2:1-4

8 It does away with the virgin birth, makes it impossible and unnecessary, and makes Christ a product of evolution in the same sense that it does all other men. See Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mt. 1:18-25

9 It denies the bodily resurrection of Christ and declares that it is contrary to the process of evolution of resident forces making progress

10 It denies the atonement, for according to evolution there was no fall of man and therefore no sin to make atonement for. Regeneration by outside power is the direct opposite of the resident powers, the only power accepted by evolution

11 It denies the 2nd advent of Christ and the final restoration and preservation of all things by the personal acts of God

12 It does away with the authority of the Bible as a real revelation from a personal and living God, making it a lie, not only regarding creation but every other doctrine. See 2 Tim. 3:16

To argue that the Christian can accept evolution on the grounds that the Bible is not to be taken literally, is a surrender to the foes of God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Bible, and all Christian teachings. The theory, therefore, is anti-God, anti-Christ, anti-Bible, anti-Christian, and anti-intelligence

A Christian must believe that

1 The Bible IS the Word of God, not that it merely CONTAINS the Word of God (2 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 4:12; 2 Pet. 1:16-21)

2 God is a person who created (brought into existence all material and spiritual substance), and that, out of the created material, He personally formed the worlds and each creature therein (Gen. 1:1; 2:7, 19; Ps. 8:1-9; 102:25; Jn. 1:3-4; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18; Heb. 1:1-3; Rev. 4:11)

3 God created man in His own image and likeness in one day, fully mature and highly intelligent, not that he descended from molecules through the lower forms of life to monkey and man (Gen. 1:26-28; 2:7, 19; 9:6; Acts 17:26; 1 Cor. 11:7-9; Jas. 3:9)

4 All angels and spirit beings were created by God fully mature and intelligent (Ps. 104:4; Ezek. 28:15; Col. 1:15-18; Rev. 4:11)

5 God created man, animals, fish, fowls, and plants to reproduce themselves after their own kind (Gen. 1:20-31; 2:5-7, 19-25)

6 Jesus Christ is THE Son of God in a sense no other man is - the only begotten of the Father, not that He is A Son of God in the sense all men are (Gen. 3:15; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 1:34-35; Jn. 1:18; 3:16; Phil. 2:5-11; 1 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 1:1-3, 8; Rev. 1:8-11)

7 The Holy Spirit is a person, separate and distinct from both the Father and the Son. All 3 persons have their own personal body, soul, and spirit and make the Divine Trinity (1 Jn. 5:7; p. 280 of the N. T.)

8 The birth of Christ WAS SUPERNATURAL, not NATURAL as is the case of all other men. He was VIRGIN-BORN, and OF THE HOLY GHOST without a human father (Gen. 3:15; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 1:34-35; Jn. 1:1-14; 3:16-18; 1 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 1:1-3)

9 The death of Christ WAS EXPIATORY, not EXEMPLARY. He died for all men. His blood is the only atonement for sin and by His stripes we are healed (Isa. 53; Mt. 1:21; 8:17; 26:28; Jn. 3:16; Acts 4:12; Rom. 8:3; 1 Cor. 1:18-24; 5:7; Heb. 1:3; 2:9-18; 9:11-28; 10:5-29; 1 Pet. 2:24; 1 Jn. 2:1-2; Rev. 1:5; 5:8-10)

10 Jesus Christ rose BODILY from the dead, not SPIRITUALLY or AS A SPIRIT BEING. He is alive forevermore in His earthly, resurrected flesh-and-bone body and represents men before God as their High Priest and Saviour (Lk. 24:39; Jn. 10:17-18; Acts 1:3, 11; 2:22-34; 4:10-12; Rom. 1:4; 8:11; 1 Cor. 15; 1 Th. 4:13-16; Phil. 3:20-21; Rev. 1:18; Zech. 13:6)

11 Jesus Christ ASCENDED INTO GLORY BODILY, and WILL COME AGAIN IN LIKE MANNER to rule the world eternally, put down all rebellion, restore man's dominion and God's kingdom over all as before the falls of Lucifer and Adam (Lk. 24:50-52; Acts 1:11; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14; Rev. 19:11-21; Zech. 14)

12 Man IS A SINNER fallen from original righteousness and a high, intelligent and responsible place as head of the present creation. APART FROM God's redemption grace is lost. Man is not THE UNFORTUNATE VICTIM OF ENVIRONMENT, one who THROUGH SELF-CULTURE can make good (Gen. 3; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 5:12-21; 3:23-25; Heb. 1:1-3; 7:25; 9:22; 1 Jn. 1:9; 2:1-2; Rev. 1:5; 5:8-10; 20:11-15)

13 Man IS JUSTIFIED BY FAITH IN THE ATONING BLOOD OF JESUS CHRIST, resulting in A SUPERNATURAL REGENERATION FROM ABOVE (Mt. 1:21; 18:3; Jn. 3:1-8, 16; Rom. 5:1; 2 Cor. 5:17; Eph. 2:8-9; Col. 1:14, 20; Tit. 3:5; 1 Pet. 1:18-23). He is NOT JUSTIFIED BY WORKS or BY NATURAL DEVELOPMENT FROM WITHIN and SELF-EFFORT

14 Man, animals, and plant-life have DEGENERATED and ARE UNDER A CURSE. Man chooses to continue in sin, sickness, and sufferings of earth and ONLY THROUGH REDEMPTION IN CHRIST will the whole creation be restored to original perfection and goodness (Gen. 3; 6:5-22; Rom. 5:12-21; 8:17-24; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; 2 Pet. 3:7-13; Rev. 21:1-22:5). No single species has evolved from a lower to a higher plane of life

15 All men who accept Christ and conform to God's plan for man WILL BE SAVED, WILL BE RESURRECTED from the dead to immortality and WILL HELP God administer the affairs of the universe forever (Jn. 3:16; Jn. 5:28-29; Rom. 8:17-24; 1 Cor. 6:2; 15:1-54; 2 Tim. 2:12; Rev. 1:6; 2:26-27; 5:10; 11:15; 22:4-5)

16 All men who reject Christ and do not conform to the plan of God for man WILL PAY THE ETERNAL DEATH PENALTY FOR SIN, WILL BE RESURRECTED TO IMMORTALITY, and WILL BE PUNISHED ETERNALLY IN THE LAKE OF FIRE (Mk. 16:16-18; Jn. 3:18-20; 5:28-29; Rev. 14:9-11; 20:11-15; 21:8; 22:15). See Hell, p. 820

Any denial of God or His plan for man in Scripture makes Him a liar, and will damn the soul. If some through ignorance of the Bible think that they can believe in evolution and the Bible at the same time, they are highly deceived by Satan, the deceiver of the world (2 Cor. 4:3-4; 11:14-15; Rev. 12:9). One cannot know the statements of both the Bible and evolutionists and believe both. Nor can he be neutral. He must take a stand either for God and the Bible or for evolution and guesses

15 facts disproving evolution

1 The Bible in its entirety condemns the theories of both cosmic and organic evolution. It declares in no uncertain terms that God created (brought into existence) all the material and moral creations; the animate and inanimate things, and that He is the first and last cause of all existing universes and the things therein

The Bible declares: God created the heavens and the earth (Gen. 1:1; Ps. 8:1-9; 19:1-7; 102:25-27; Isa. 45:18); God created great whales and every living creature (Gen. 1:20); God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them (Gen. 1:26-28; 2:7, 19-25; 5:1-2; 9:6); All things were made by Him; and without Him was not any thing made that was made (Jn. 1:3); God created all things by Jesus Christ (Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18); The upholding of all things by the word of His power (Heb. 1:3); Thou hast created all things, and for Thy pleasure they are and were created (Rev. 4:11)

2 It is a law of nature that nothing reproduces anything greater than itself. If this is true of all species today, of which we have millions of examples, then it was true originally. The vast creations of matter and life had to come into existence by a superior power, not an inferior force. One thing is certain: all intelligence and matter could not have come from one or any number of molecules of unintelligence. The most that has ever been done or can possibly be done is to demonstrate the law of improvement of a species through breeding and cultivation. No new species has been or can be produced by such law. If left alone the plants and animals would degenerate, not improve themselves in any degree, as seen in point 8 below

Therefore, we must conclude that no amount of unintelligent matter could produce intelligence or intelligent beings - anything higher than itself. The intelligent and innumerable self-producing species of creatures, each with its own eternal and consistent traits, distinct flavors, and infinite combinations of chemicals, could never be the product of unintelligent matter. Each one of the millions of creatures that reproduce their own kind by fixed and eternal laws must be the work of an all-powerful and all-wise Creator

3 The Bible declares (10 times in Gen. 1) that everything created by God was given power to reproduce its own kind. No one thing could break this law and produce any other kind (Gen. 1:20-28), 1656 years later it had not been broken (Gen. 7:14). Now, after more than 6,000 years the law of reproduction is still unbroken. The sponge is still a sponge and has not become an oyster, octopus, a turtle, frog, fish, or crab. None of these have ever reproduced anything except their own kind. No lowly earth-worm has ever turned into a spider, tarantula, scorpion, lizard, tortoise, snake, or crocodile. No bug, bird, or animal has ever changed from its own kind or reproduced another kind which was fertile and could produce a new kind. The crossing of an ass and a mare, for instance, will produce a mule which cannot reproduce itself. No monkey has ever produced a man and the missing-link is still missing and always will be

All this is quite remarkable in view of the fact that there are over 2,000,000 different species of plant and animal life. Each species proves the law of reproduction established by God - after his own kind. It is claimed that there are more than 1,000,000 species of insects. Species of beetles number 250,000; butterflies and moths 110,000; shellfish 80,000; snails 80,000; arachnids 60,000; flies 40,000; barnacles, crabs, lobsters, and shrimp 25,000; fish 20,000; bees 10,000; wasps 10,000; worms 9,000; ants 5,000; birds 1,200; and cockroaches 1,000. Besides these, there are many species of larger animals, and over 180,000 species of plants. Species of fungi number 100,000; algae 20,000; mosses 20,000; corals 5,000; and sponges 3,000, besides many other species of living things

All species exist in great variety, and the so-called proofs of evolutionists are merely variations, or minor changes within the same species. Out of billions of living organisms and fossils there is no evidence of the slightest tendency to evolve out of the original kind to which each belongs. There is only evidence of development and normal growth; but these are not evolution. Improvement of a species and new varieties within the species are not evolution. The theory of evolution teaches transmutation, a change in nature, substance, form, and alteration of essence by a slow and gradual process of mutation from one species to another, and from the lower to the higher. This has never been done, nor can it be done. In nature we find endless variety within each species or kind, but no change from one species to another. Without a change of species there can be no evolution. God has made life so that it interbreeds in closely related variations; and when interbreeding is attempted between different kinds of species it is found that there is an impassable gulf which cannot be crossed Life multiplies abundantly. One bacterium in 24 hours can produce 281,500,000,000,000 descendents. A fly can lay 500 eggs in a season, each of which can develop into a fly capable of laying 500 eggs of its own. If all eggs hatched and survived the original fly would have enough descendents in 6 months to cover the earth with flies, to a depth of about 50 feet. A common potato bug is said to be capable of producing 60,000 offspring in a season; a single sunfish lays 30,000,000 eggs a season; an oyster 100,000,000; a codfish 10,000,000; a toad 20,000; spiders have 2,000 babies in one cocoon; a logger-head turtle lays 1,000 eggs at a time; and a pair of meadow mice could produce 1,000,000 offspring in a year. An elm tree produces 1,584,000,000 seeds and a barley seed 18,000 grains. But, out of the billions of yearly reproductions of nature, not one monkey's tail has been produced by anything except a monkey. There is no proof of man in various stages from a molecule to a monkey, or from a monkey to a man!

4 There can be no evolution without the power of reproduction in living things. Since reproduction is a prior condition to evolution, it cannot be a product of it. Hence, we face the logical necessity for the creation of life and its power of continued reproduction. The power of reproduction is not in the embryo, but only in the mature parent. An egg cannot produce an egg. It is also true that the egg is not improvable by itself. Improvement can come only in and through the mature form. Therefore, the parent-form of life must have been created in the beginning to have produced an egg from which offspring alone can come

5 Science has proved that dead matter cannot generate life; and that only life can come from pre-existing life. When test tubes were filled with hay and other organic matter, when all life-germs were completely destroyed, when the tube was hermetically sealed to exclude outer air, and while it was absolutely free of living germs, not one vestige of life appeared. The attempt to get the living out of the dead completely failed. The theory of spontaneous generation of evolutionists has had to be given up. It is now recognized that life can only come from life. All life is dependent upon other life; the lower upon the higher; the simple upon the complex; the powerless upon the powerful; the impersonal upon the personal; the unintelligent upon the intelligent; the non-existing upon the existing; the natural upon the spiritual; the temporary upon the eternal. Nothing can come from nothing or be produced by nothing

6 The argument of evolution from embryology - that embryos of different forms of life are somewhat alike so they must have come from a common ancestor - has utterly failed, as have the theories of natural selection, and the survival of the fittest. The similarity of embryos and their fast development to full growth are contrary to the principles of the evolutionary hypothesis. The chief foundation of evolution is that of a slow and tedious process over millions and millions of years. This, the evolution teachers have to argue due to the fact that no single example of evolution from one species to another can be cited. Human and other embryos pass through various stages of growth very rapidly. In the case of some the progress of growth is so rapid that it is miraculous. Thus, evolutionists are forced to believe in miracles, which they deny, in other fields, but sustain in their own, in the effort to prove their claims. It is now known that there are radical differences between the embryos of vertebrates (backboned animals) and invertebrates (animals without backbones) which we would not have if all things had a common ancestor. Some similarity among embryos of all forms of life should be expected, since all start individually from a single life-germ or a combination of two

If a botanist would be asked the difference between an oak, a palm-tree, and a lichen, he would declare that they are separated from one another by the broadest line of classification. But if the germs of these plants were placed before him, to choose one from the other, he could not do it. Under the most powerful microscope they would yield no clue. If analyzed by the chemist they would still keep their secret. The same is true of the life-germ of various animals and man. No one can tell which is which. What makes the little speck grow in the millions of different kinds of creatures? What is there which the eye cannot see that determines which of the many creatures it shall be? Only a personal and an infinite intelligent Being could make such unfailing laws of reproduction - after his kind

7 It is further argued that man and monkey are so similar that they must have come from a common ancestor. This is neither sound logic nor sound science. Resemblance proves nothing but resemblance. Similarity proves nothing but similarity. Resemblance and similarity run throughout all nature in things that have no connection with each other. Resemblance or similarity on some points is to be expected even though we accept creation by God. Such only magnifies the fact of an intelligent operator. This is true whether it is the Creator or a manufacturer as in every factory of man. The wheel, for example, is the same in the wagon, the car, locomotive, and plane. But such similarity does not prove that the wagon evolved into an automobile, then into a locomotive, and finally into a plane

All animals and men have the same kind of faculties to breathe, eat food, and perform other bodily functions, but no such similarity proves close relationship. God made them thus so that all could exist alike in the same air and on similar foods. The dissimilarities between man and lower animals, not only in body, but also in brain, spirit and soul faculties prove that they are NOT vitally related. The differences between man and monkey are so wide that any single bodily part is sufficient in itself to prove whether it is a part of man or monkey

Evolutionists themselves confirm this fact by their promptness in deciding whether a bone is from a monkey or a man. There are hundreds of differences between the bodies of men and apes, and thousands of differences between these two in mental, moral, spiritual, and habitual matters which prove evolution of man from apes or lower life an impossibility

8 Degeneration. The similarities between man and lower animals could be used to prove a process of degeneration from man more than a process of evolution to man. The Bible teaches that God made man before He made land animals - on day 6. Therefore, man came first, and then the monkey (Gen. 2:7, 19-25). Darwin's argument that plants and animals have within themselves tendencies to vary of their own accord in many and all directions to an unlimited degree, has been disproved many times. Mendel's experiments prove conclusively that plants and animals, even under man's selective skill in breeding, do not tend to vary in all directions and to an unlimited degree; but that the variations are within strict limits and work according to fixed laws producing unvarying results. The theory of natural selection and of inheritance of acquired characters has failed of proof. The forms of vegetables, plants, and animals that man succeeds in improving by human selection and cultivation revert rapidly to type as soon as man's directing skill is removed. In all man's selection and cultivation he can work only within the limits of the species. No change into new species has been produced either by natural or artificial selection. The iron law of sterility stands guard at the far frontiers of the species and everything continues to reproduce after his kind

There is a certain potency of development implanted in all things, but such potential powers are led out into actual development or improvement, not through resident forces, as evolution teaches, but only through outside intervention and intelligent help. Man can develop the wild rose into the American Beauty, or the wild pony into the Kentucky thoroughbred, by selection, better environment, breeding, etc., but it is most significant that these improvements do not continue to increase, or even persist, when things are left to themselves. The rose reverts to a wild rose if left alone, and the horse begins to go back to its degenerated type the very minute man's skill is omitted

If one takes a flock of highly developed pigeons, with all their shades of color and variety of markings, and turns them loose in the forest to see if they will improve or degenerate he will find in a few years that they have all returned to one type. Compelled by an unfailing natural law, all will revert to common colors instead of being a variety with beautiful markings. Improvements brought about by care and selection in breeding will be gone, proving the law of evolution a failure

The same thing will happen to man. If he neglects himself he will revert to a worse and lower type of man - like those who have been discovered on desert islands or in jungles. If the mind is neglected it will degenerate into imbecility and ignorance. Solitary confinement has the power to unmake men's minds and leave them idiots. If the conscience is neglected it will run off into lawlessness and sin. The soul that is neglected will go into ruin and depravity

Only 3 possibilities are before us: balance, improvement only to a certain degree, or degeneration. The Bible question is: How shall we escape if we neglect? (Heb. 2:1-4). These 3 possibilities face every man. He has a desire to better himself and yet he is constantly beset with a gravitation to sin and the law of death working in his very being. We say that nature is full of life, but in reality it is full of death. Plant life and animal life are kept alive by a temporary endowment which gives power over the elements that cause death. Withdraw the elements of life and the true nature will be revealed. Life is merely the suspension of these destructive powers - the sum total of the functions that resist death. Spiritual life is the same - the sum total of the functions that resist sin. If we neglect the use of these powers death will result. The man who does not properly use the powers to live is as much dead as a man falling 500 ft. is as good as dead the first foot of the fall. Unless he is stopped he is a dead man. One who continues to neglect life is dead. If we neglect, degeneration sets in. If we use the powers of life to resist sin, we live

To use the argument that the savages of heathen darkness are more like monkeys than men in the civilized world is no proof of evolution; it is proof of degeneration. Man fell from original nobleness and the highest degree of intelligence to the present status. Adam had more intelligence the day he was created than all men together have now. He could name all things and all men today who learn all their lives cannot yet do this (Gen. 2:19)

Degeneration explains the present uncivilized parts of the world, and the so-called cave-men - the Peking man, the Heidelberg, the Neanderthal, the Cro-Magnon man and others. All problems between true science and the Bible can be solved by the facts of degeneration, or with the Bible truth of a pre-Adamite world. Belief in the pre-Adamite system allows that the earth could be millions of years old. Pre-historic animals could have been a part of that system, as well as any different type of man, if such is ever excluded from Adam's race by established proof. See notes on the pre-Adamite world, p. 54

9 Fossil remains have been referred to as one of the strongest proofs of evolution. But evolutionists themselves acknowledge that this proof is extremely fragmentary, limited, and obscure due to the fact of only a few fossil remains. Hence, they are forced to guess without proof. The missing links between man and monkey have never been found. The manufactured bones of pre-historic men are fakes. The Piltdown man, for example, was no man at all. The story is that in a gravel pit in Sussex, Eng., near Piltdown Common, 2 or 3 bits of a skull bone, a piece of jaw-bone, and a tooth were found by different persons in different places in different years. From these few scraps so-called scientists constructed the Piltdown man and named it the Dawn-man of the dateless past. From the same bones another later type was made by another team of scientists. Finally it was acknowledged that the jaw-bone and tooth did not belong to the skull, but were those of a chimpanzee. The Java-man was built in Java from a skull bone, leg bone, 2 molars, and plaster-of-Paris; the Heidelberg-man was built in Germany from a jaw-bone which was unquestionably human; the Peking-man of China was made from human skull fragments found in a cave, in 1929; the Swanscombe-man of England was made from the back and one side of a woman's skull; the Fontechevade-man of France was made from a part of a skull; the first Neanderthal-man was made from a skull cap in Germany, which one great German pathologist declared to be the cranium of an idiot; the Australopithecus Africanus-man of Africa was made from an ape skull found in a number of other ape skulls and bones in Africa; and the Hesperopithecus Haroldcookii, the Nebraska-man, was made from a single pig tooth said to be 1,000,000 years old. Pictures of these, the man-made specimens, have been the so-called proof shown in school textbooks. Such are the hoaxes which are being passed upon our innocent boys and girls by some educators in the name of science!

10 The old geological scheme to prove evolution has also been repudiated. Instead of the older rocks being found at the bottom and the younger rocks at the top, as would be the case if evolution were true, it is now found that the opposite is often the case. This explodes the evolution-theory of natural building up of the strata 11 The fact of two universal floods instead of one (one in Lucifer's day and one in Noah's day) and a later division of the earth can easily explain the fossil remains being where they are. In Lucifer's flood God turned the earth upside down by earthquakes (Gen. 1:2, note). This accounts for fossil remains being found deep in the earth underneath many layers of solid rock. Such things never would have been there without the earthquakes and judgment of God

It is evident that many fossils came from a great catastrophe, being entombed in the strata instead of being slowly buried by sedimentation over millions of years. We read of whole schools of fish, covering large fields which have been found with every indication of a violent and sudden death. They are not in a relaxed position but often with their head twisted around to their tails and every fin extended, which is the position in which a fish dies when overtaken by an enemy or some catastrophe. Historians tell us that the earth has undergone one great and indescribable catastrophe. This happened at Lucifer's flood or when the earth was divided into continents

That there was a dividing of the earth in the days of Peleg is clear from Gen. 10:25. Such a shaking up of the entire earth, as well as the flood-catastrophe of Lucifer's time could have caused fossils to become deeply submerged

The Arctic regions give clear evidence of a sudden calamity. In their extensive fields of fossilized and frozen mammoths, where multitudes of giant creatures have been found, some have been discovered with their stomachs filled with undigested food, and in some instances with their mouths also full of the food they were eating. This shows that they were feeding quietly when the crisis came and that they were destroyed with suddenness. That the Arctic regions had tropical climate when these beasts were destroyed seems true, for they had tropical food in their mouths. Evidently they were frozen immediately when God withheld the sun, moon, and stars from shining on the earth during Lucifer's flood (Gen. 1:2; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4: 23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Ps. 104:6-9; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

12 Regarding Noah's flood, God commanded male and female of every species to be kept alive in the ark to replenish the earth after his kind when the flood was over (Gen. 6:18-22; 7: 2-16). Had the evolutionists been right, this would have been unnecessary. Noah could have merely saved a couple of molecules, turned them loose after the flood and eventually, we could have the innumerable living things again in all their varieties

13 If evolution is responsible for all the vast creations in space and the endless varieties of species of life on the innumerable planets, then why is the law not working today? And why do we not have actual and unquestionable examples of the various stages of evolution from the lowest to the highest forms of life? If evolution ever worked, it should be working today so that every form or stage of development could be seen as proof that the lower forms of life will eventually be the higher in the ages to come. Is it not strange that the process has been at a standstill for the period man has been on earth to observe the law of evolution at work? Is it not strange that man has not produced one example of change from one species to another, not even to the losing of the monkey tail and hair?

14 There is evidence now that the whole world and all in it are degenerating and moving toward some climax or judgment and re-creation, instead of evolving upward into higher and better forms. In chemistry, which is closest to the deeper facts and forces of inanimate matter and life, there is no evidence of a surge upward. Not only are the laws of chemical affinity static and unchangeable as to their operations, but there is a disintegrating tendency downward instead of upward that seems to characterize all matter. The tendency of atoms of high atomic weight to break up into other atoms of lower weight seems to be the universal tendency of all matter. Scientists declare that this is also true in the vegetable and animal kingdoms

15 The evolution theory is not only absurd - its so-called proofs are so contradictory that they cause increasing doubt regarding its guesses. Tyndal says that the world began in a fire-mist that contracted as it became cold; but Spencer says it was a cold-cloud that became heated and contracted. The age of man is estimated all the way from 550,000,000 years to as little as 6,000,000 years. The age of the earth is put by guessers as 10 billion to the lowest estimate of 10 million years. This proves nothing but the unreliability of data which is used in the effort to prove diverse conclusions

7 proofs 6 days were 24-hr. days (1:5)

1 The fact that God named the light day and the darkness night, ending each day with evening and each night with morning proves the days and nights of the 6 days were as literal as all days and night since then (v 5,8,13,19,23,31)

2 The word day is used 2,182 times in Scripture and always of a literal day unless qualified as the day of the Lord, the day of God, day of judgment, or similarly limited by some other qualifying statement. The days of Gen. 1 are literal, because they are not so qualified, they are numbered 1 to 7, and begin and end with an evening and morning as all other ordinary 24-hr. days

3 The word evening means dusk or night. It is found 49 times and is always used in a literal sense. The word morning means dawn, or break of day. It is found 187 times and is always used in a literal sense. This proves that day and night and light and darkness are literal days and nights, and regular periods of 24 hours regulated by the sun, moon, and stars as commanded in v 14-18; 8: 22; Job 38:12; Ps. 19:2; Jer. 31:35-37; 33:19-26

4 The light of days 1, 2, and 3 came from the same source as the light of days 4, 5, 6, and every day since. The sun, moon, and stars were created before the earth (1:1; Job 38:4-7), so they could give light on the waters that covered the earth in the first days and be permanently regulated in connection with the earth after it became dry land on day 3

5 It is definitely stated in Ex. 20:8-11; 31:14-17 that God made (restored, not created), the heavens (firmament, clouds, not the planet heaven where God dwells) and the earth in 6 days - the same kind and length of days man is to work. It is as logical and scriptural to argue that man is supposed to work 6,000 years (some would say 42,000 years) to make up his 6 days of labor before the sabbath as to say the 6 days' work of God in Gen. 1 lasted 6,000 years. It is never so argued about the days of Ex. 20, and yet, we do not have as clear proof they are literal 24-hour days, as in Gen. 1 where the days are numbered and begin and end with morning and evening

6 Because some versions trans. days as ages and periods of time is no proof that they were 1,000 to 7,000-year ages or periods. An age is any period of time, whether long or short. A 24-hour period is an age as much as any other length of time. When these days, ages, or periods of time of Gen. 1 are clearly stated to be ordinary days and nights made up of periods of light and darkness, as we know days, then there is no reason for making them long periods of time. Could not God do the work of restoring one planet to a second habitable state and complete His work of the 6 days in 24-hour periods?

7 The 1,000-year-day and 7,000-year-day theories are unscriptural in the light of facts. If either of these theories be true, then the waters remained covering the entire earth at least 1,000 to 7,000 years before they were divided on day 2; the earth continued to be desolate and waste another 1,000 to 7,000 years before vegetation was planted; and vegetation was on earth another 1,000 to 7,000 years before the sun, moon, and stars regulated times and seasons on earth. If, as taught, the sun, moon, and stars were not created until day 4, then how could vegetation grow on earth such a long period without sunlight?

According to Gen. 2:7-25 man was created before the animals on day 6, and animals were created before the woman at the end of day 6. The year-day theories would make man here by himself naming the animals over a period of 1,000 to 7,000 years before Eve was created for him. Adam would then be from 1,000 to 7,000 years old when he got married. To make such theories all the more confusing, God rested the 7th day or from 1,000 to 7,000 years between creating Eve and the fall of man. This would make Adam from 2,000 to 14,000 years old by the time he fell, and yet he was only 130 years old when Seth was born, long after the fall (5:1-3)

15 great covenants of Scripture (Heading, 1:14)

1 Solaric (1:14-18; 8:22; Ps. 89:34-37; Jer. 31:35-37; 33:19-26). This covenant was made between God and man. It promised that he would have eternal seasons of fruitfulness and that he would continue forever - as long as the solar system endures. In this connection definite promises were made to Noah, David and others as seen in scriptures above

2 Edenic (1:26-3:24). This was made with Adam and Eve before the fall and was conditional upon obedience (2:17)

10 articles of the covenant

(1) Be fruitful, not sterile (1:28)
(2) Multiply, increase human kind (1:28)
(3) Replenish the earth with men as before, when Lucifer ruled (1:28)
(4) Subdue the earth (1:28)
(5) Rule all God's works (1:28; Ps. 8)
(6) Till the ground and be a partaker of the garden (2:15) mies (2:15)
(7) Protect dominion from ene-
(8) Freely eat of all things except the tree of knowledge (1:29-30)
(9) Refrain from eating of the tree of knowledge (2:16-17)
(10) Fear the penalty for sin (2:17)

3 Adamic (3:14-19). This agreement was made with Adam and Eve after the fall and before the expulsion from the garden. It ushered in the Dispensation of Conscience. The covenant consisted of 2 parts:

(1) The 5-fold curse on 25)
A The serpent (3:14, 15; Isa. 65:
B Satan (3:15; Jn. 12:31; Col. 2: 14-17; Heb. 2:14-18)
C The woman (3:16; 1 Cor. 11: 3; 14:34; 1 Tim. 2:11-15)
D The man (3:17-19; Ps. 90:9, 10; Rom. 5:12-21) 18-23)
E The ground (3:17-19; Rom. 8:
(2) The promise (3:15). This included redemption and the removal of the curse (Rom. 8:18-23; Rev. 22:3)

4 Cainic (4:11-15). This was a pledge to Cain of vengeance on anyone who found him and killed him

5 Noahic (8:20-9:29). This contract was made with Noah and the beasts of the field after the flood and ushered in the Dispensation of Human Government. The terms of the covenant were:

(1) That God would not curse the ground or living creatures any more "while the earth remaineth" (8:22; 9: 12, 16)
(2) That man should replenish the earth forever (9:1, 12, 16) (9:2, 3)
(3) That man should rule the earth
(4) That animals should be eaten, but not the blood (9:3, 4)
(5) That there should be capital punishment for murderers (9:5, 6; Num. 35)
(6) That the rainbow should be a sign of the covenant (9:12-17)
(7) That the covenant would be eternal (9:12, 16)

6 Abrahamic (12:1-3). This was made with Abraham after the confusion of tongues when God saw that it was impossible to deal with the race as as a whole. It ushered in the Dispensation of Promise (13:14-18; 15:1-21; 17: 4-8; 22:15-18; 26:1-5; 28:3, 10-15). The covenant consisted of 2 parts:

(1) The 7fold promise:
A "I will make of thee a great nation" (12:1-3; 13:16; 17:18-20; 24: 34, 35; Gal. 3)
B "Make thy name great" (12: 1-3; Ex. 2:24, 25; 6:3-8)
C "Thou shalt be a blessing" (12:1-3; Gal. 3:13, 14)
D "I will bless them that bless thee" (12:1-3; Mt. 25:31-46)
E "I will bless thee" (13:14-18; 15:18-21; Gal. 3)
F "I will curse them that curse thee" (Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46)
G "In thee shall all the nations of the world be blessed" (Dt. 28:8-14; Isa. 60:3-5; 66:18-21; Jn. 8:56-58; Gal. 3:16)

(2) The sign of the covenant: circumcision (17:1-21; Isa. 24:5)

7 Hagaric (16:7-14). This was a covenant made with Hagar concerning her seed through Ishmael, Abraham's son. It concerned many generations and was in 3 parts:

(1) Commands (16:9)
A Return and submit to Sarah
B Call her son Ishmael, meaning God shall hear (16:11)
(2) Promises
A Seed to be multiplied beyond number (16:10; 17:20-22)
B Ishamel to be blessed and become a great nation (17:20; 21:17-18)
C Ishmael to beget 12 princes (17:20; 25:12-18)
(3) Prophetical revelation: 12)
A Ishmael to be a wild man (16:
B His hand to be against every man (16:12) against him (16:12)
C Every man's hand to be D Ishmael to dwell in the presence of his brethren (16:12)

8 Sarahic (17:15-19; 18:9-15). This covenant made with Sarah, promised certain blessings to her and her offspring, Isaac, for many generations. It was in 2 parts:

(1) Commands:
A Change her name from Sarai to Sarah, meaning princess (17:15)
B Call her son Isaac (17:19)
(2) Promises:
A To be blessed with a son (17:16-19; 19:10-15) tions (17:16)
B To be made a mother of na-
C To become a mother of many kings (17:16)
D Abrahamic covenant to be continued with Isaac (17:19)
E Abrahamic covenant to be continued with Isaac's seed forever (17: 19)

9 Healing (Ex. 15:26; 23:25). This was made with Israel and all who desired or chose to come under the covenant of God as given to Moses. It was in 2 parts:

(1) Commands
A Diligently hearken to God's voice (Ex. 15:26; Lev. 26:14-15)
B Do that which is right in His sight (Ex. 15:26) ments (Ex. 15:26)
C Give ear to His command-
D Keep all His statutes (Ex. 15:26; Lev. 26:3; 14-15)
E Serve the Lord (Ex. 23:25)
(2) Promises:
A "I will put none of these diseases upon thee" (Ex. 15:26)
B "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Ex. 15:26)
C "I will take away sickness from the midst of thee" (Ex. 23:25)

This covenant was made a part of the new covenant, for Christ "took our infirmities and bare our sicknesses" (Isa. 53; Mt. 8:17; 1 Pet. 2:24)

10 Mosaic or old covenant: also called the Old Testament (Ex. 20:1-24: 8; 2 Cor. 3:6-18). See 85 old and new covenant contrasts, p. 201 of N. T.

11 Levitic (Num. 25:10-14). This was given through Moses to Phinehas, the son of Levi, who was zealous for the Lord and executed judgment upon rebels (Num. 25:1-9). It consisted of 2 great promises:

(1) Peace and blessing to Levi's house (Num. 25:12) (Num. 25:13)
(2) An everlasting priesthood

12 Palestinian (Lev. 26; Dt. 11:8-32; 27:1-30:20). This covenant was made with Israel through Moses and was conditioned upon the obedience of the nation. There were 7 parts:

(1) Dispersion for disobedience (Dt. 30:1; 28:63-68)
(2) Repentance while in dispersion (Dt. 30:2; Zech. 12:10-14)
(3) The return of the Lord (Dt. 30: 3; Zech. 14; Acts 15:14-17)
(4) Restoration in the land (Dt. 30: 5; Isa. 11:1-12; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31)
(5) National conversion (Dt. 30:6; Isa. 66; Zech. 12:10-13; Rom. 11:26)
(6) Judgment of Israel's oppressors (Dt. 30:7; Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46)
(7) National prosperity (Dt. 30: 9-10; Rom. 11)

13 Salt (Lev. 2:13; Num. 18:19). A covenant made with Israel concerning the sacrifices they were to offer forever. See usage of salt in Mk. 9:49,50; Col. 4:6. In Palestine and surrounding countries salt was used in making covenants; and if persons ate food with salt in it, together, they became friends though they may have been enemies before. The Arab expression is, "There is salt between us," or "He has eaten of my salt," which means partaking of the hospitality which cements friendship. Covenants were generally confirmed at sacrificial meals and salt was always present. The covenant of salt pictured the everlasting friendship between God and His people (Num. 18:19) 14 Davidic (2 Sam. 7:1-17). This agreement was made with David and his house through Nathan the prophet, and was conditioned upon obedience as all other covenants. It was to be an everlasting covenant, containing 7 blessings:

(1) A Davidic house forever (2 Sam. 7:13-16; Ps. 89:20-37; Lk. 1:32-35)

(2) A Davidic throne forever (2 Sam. 7:12-16; Isa. 9:6,7; Lk. 1:32-36)

(3) A Davidic kingdom forever (2 Sam. 7:12-16; Isa. 9:6,7; Lk. 1:32-35)

(4) A sure land for Israel forever (Gen. 17; 2 Sam. 7:10)

(5) No more affliction from the nations forever (Dt. 28:1-30:10; 2 Sam. 7:10)

(6) The Fatherly care of God forever (2 Sam. 7:14; 2 Cor. 6:15-18)

(7) An eternal covenant (2 Sam. 7:10-16; Isa. 9:6, 7; Lk. 1:32, 33)

15 New covenant (Mt. 26:28; 2 Cor. 3:6-18). This is the one made by Christ (Heb. 8:6). It is still in force and includes all the terms, conditions, commands, promises and benefits revealed in 27 books of the Bible - all of Matthew through Revelation. See 85 old and new covenant contrasts, p. 201 of N. T.

Our solar system (1:16)

The sun which is about 93,000,000 mi. from the earth. It is 865,400 mi. in diameter, weighs about 1,980,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and is considered a dwarf star compared to others. It is 1,300,000 times bigger than the earth and 300,000 times closer to us than any other fixed star. It is a large magnet, as are all the fixed stars and planets; and is the center of our solar system of 9 major planets, 31 known satellites, and innumerable meteors or falling stars. The temperature of the sun on its surface is 12,000 degrees and at its center is 40,000,000 degrees. Flames shoot up from its surface from 25,000 to 500,000 miles

The sun rotates on its axis, making a complete turn in about 25 days, and a circuit of the entire heavens once each year in conjunction with all other fixed stars or suns, which move through space at a speed of 12 mi. a second or 43,200 mi. an hour. The movement of these is at such a vast distance from us that they appear to be almost at rest. The sun goes forth as a bridegroom and as a strong man to run a race from one part of heaven to the other (Ps. 19:1-7), the rapid speed being, as stated, 43,200 mi. an hour. Its family of major planets turn on their own axis and all revolve around the sun at various distances, as follows:

1 Mercury, 3,000 mi. in diameter, revolves nearest the sun in a 36,000,000 mi. orbit, in 88 days

2 Venus, 7,600 mi. in diameter, revolves in its 67,200,000 mi. orbit, as the 2nd nearest the sun in 225 days

3 Earth, 7,927 mi. in diameter, is the 3rd nearest the sun, and travels in its 92,900,000 mi. orbit in 365 1/4 days

4 Mars, 4,200 mi. in diameter, is 4th from the sun travelling in its orbit of 141,500,000 mi. in 687 days

5 Jupiter, 86,700 mi. in diameter, is 5th and travels in its 483,300,000 mi. orbit in almost 12 years

6 Saturn, 75,100 mi. in diameter, is 6th from the sun and travels in its 886,100,000 mi. orbit around the sun, in 29 1/2 years

7 Uranus, 30,900 mi. in diameter, travels in the 7th orbit of 1,783,000,000 mi. in 84 years

8 Neptune, 27,700 mi. in diameter, travels in the 8th orbit of 2,793,000,000 mi. in about 165 years

9 Pluto, 3,600 mi. in diameter, travels in its 3,666,000,000 mi. orbit around the sun in about 284 1/2 years

The last 3 planets named have been discovered in recent times: Uranus in 1781; Neptune in 1846; and Pluto in 1930. All the planets but these 3 appear to the naked eye as bright stars. Uranus is faint; Neptune fainter to the eye; Pluto is so faint that it was only discovered by long exposure photographs with a powerful telescope

The 31 known satellites are moons. The earth has 1; Mars 2; Jupiter 12; Saturn 9; Uranus 5; and Neptune 2. A number of other moons or satellites which are very faint have been discovered only in recent years. Asteroids or minor planets within the range of telescopes number many thousands. It is said that only 2,000 have been photographed and no more than 1,600 have been observed sufficiently to determine their orbits with fair accuracy. Each year about 100 more minor planets are detected, but only a score are followed to determine their orbits

Many comets have been seen. A dozen or so are picked up each year, but relatively few return to visibility in 1,000 years. Their orbits are very elongated and they can be seen only a short time when they are near the sun. Most of them travel beyond the distant planets and therefore, cannot be seen. Halley's comet travels about 3,200,000 mi. away from the sun

Meteors are seen only when they rush into the atmosphere of the earth and burn up. They are the small shooting-stars often seen at night. The air friction heats meteors to about 4,000 degrees and they are first seen about 80 mi. above the earth. They burn up between 30 to 40 mi. above it

There are trillions of solar systems beyond ours. Distances out there are measured by light-year. How far light travels in a year at the rate of 186,324 mi. a second, or about 5,800,000,000,000 mi. is recognized as one light-year. It takes light 400 years to reach us on the earth from the North Star; 700,000 years for it to reach us from the Great Nebula, the galaxy nearest our own; and 500,000,000 years for light to reach us from the faintest galaxy seen by our telescopes

Gravitation is the power that holds all these heavenly bodies in their own orbits in space. They orbit eternally with unerring precision so that man can foretell with accuracy, hundreds of years in advance, the places of planets in the heavens, and the exact hour, minute and second, when eclipses will take place

The earth and all the planets are round (Ps. 19:1-7; Isa. 40:22). The earth turns on its own axis eastward at more than 1,000 mi. an hour. Each year the earth revolves more than 584,000,000 mi. around the sun at the rate of 66,700 mi. an hour or 1,600,000 mi. a day. The earth's revolution around the sun establishes our year; its rotation on its axis establishes our day. The 23 1/2 degree inclination of the earth's axis and its journey around the sun cause the changes of seasons and varying lengths of night and day. The earth requires 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 46 seconds to complete one revolution around the sun; and 23 hours and 56 minutes to complete one rotation on its axis

The moon, mentioned 61 times in Scripture, is the earth's satellite, and revolves around the earth. It is a dark, opaque body; and the ruler of night (1:14-18; Ps. 136:9) and seasons (Ps. 104:19). The half turned toward the sun is always bright and the other half unilluminated and therefore, not visible. While the moon is going once completely around the earth, different regions of the illuminated half are turned toward us, causing the different phases of the moon. Just as the sun has a north and south motion in a period of a year, so the moon has a similar motion in a period of a month. It rises about 50 minutes later from day to day in the month's cycle. It travels toward the east among the stars and makes a complete circle each month. It is the nearest to earth of all celestial bodies, except meteors and an occasional comet, being about 221,000 mi. away at the nearest point and 253,000 mi. at the farthest point of its monthly cycle around the earth

It is said that there are more than 40,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 (40 sextillion) stars, which are suns to other planets like our sun is to our solar system. Most of them are believed to be larger than our sun. The nearest star to the earth, aside from the sun, is Alpha Centauri, about 4 1/2 light-years or 26,100,000,000,000 mi. from the earth. Others range from this vast distance on into infinite space, beyond what any telescope can reveal. On a clear night the eye can see about 3,000 stars or suns. There are about 30,000,000,000 that astronomers can photograph singly. The multitudes of other stars are so close together as to appear to us, as a solid mass

Some stars, as Antares (390,000,000 mi. in diameter) and Epsilon Aurigae (2,400,000,000 mi. in diameter) are giants compared to our sun of only 865,400 mi. in diameter. The heaviest known stars are said to weigh 100 times more than our sun which, in turn, weighs 330,000 times more the weight of the earth which is 6,000 million million million tons

The surface temperatures of stars range from 5,000 to 26,000 degrees and the inner temperatures from 100,000 to 30,000,000 degrees F. Stars are supposed to be made up of gasses. At least, all the elements we know would be turned into gasses at temperatures which exist on most of the stars. The most conspicuous elements on our sun are hydrogen, calcium, sodium, magnesium, and iron. The average density of our sun is much lighter than the earth. Its force of gravity at the surface is about 28 times that of the earth. We are told that a man weighing 150 lbs. on earth would weigh about 2 tons on the sun

4 important questions answered:

1 How did God create and make the material universes? Heb. 11:3 says "we understand that the worlds were framed by the WORD of GOD, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." It is reasonable to believe that He used the same infinite care in original creation as in the re-creation during the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25. However, in the 6 days God FORMED with His hands, each of the living creatures out of already existing material (1:20-27; 2:7-25; Job 26:13; Rom. 9:20; 1 Tim. 2:13); whereas, originally, it was necessary for Him to bring material into existence as He needed it to form things, which He did by His WORD. Cp. Rom. 4:17; 2 Pet. 3:5 with Heb. 11:3

God formed; created; made with hands:
(1) Both light and darkness (Isa. 45:7)
(2) Heavens (Ps. 8:3; 19:1; 102:25; Isa.
(3) Earth (Ps. 8:3,6; 90:2; 95:5) 40:12)
(4) Planets (Ps. 8:3; Isa. 40:26; 45:12;
(5) All things (Pr. 26:10) 48:13)

2 When did God create and make the material universes? In the beginning is all the Bible says regarding this (1:1). It was in the dateless past, and not in the 6 days of 1:3-2:25, for the heavens and earth were already in existence by that time. The Bible does not say 6,000; 6,000,000; 6,000,000,000; or 600,000,000,000 years ago, but we know definitely that original creation of universes took place more than 6,000 years ago when Adam was created. See The pre-Adamite world, p. 54

3 How long was God creating the material universes? Though this is not stated in Scripture, we do have some facts in Gen. 1:3-2:25 concerning the re-creation which are very interesting. God took one day to divide darkness and light on the planet earth (1:3-5); another day to divide the waters (1:6-8); a day to restore dry land (1:9-13); a day to regulate the sun, moon, and stars in connection with the restored earth (1:14-19); another day to create fish and fowl (1:20-23); and still another one to make man and land animals (1:24-31). With this in mind, let us consider how long it could have taken Him to create the 40,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 (40 sextillion) stars which astronomers say are out in space

They tell us that each one of these stars is a sun to other planets like our sun is to our planetary system. We have 9 major planets and 31 satellites which, counting the sun, make 40 great bodies of material substance in this one system. If we suppose that each of the stars (40 sextillion) has the same in its planetary system, then there are 1,520,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 (1,520 sextillion) such bodies which took that many days (or more) to create. Reduced to years we should have the astonishing figure of 4,164,383,561,643,836,164,383 years to create these systems alone

4 Why did God create and make the material universes? The answer is to be inhabited with intelligent, free moral agents, to whom He could reveal Himself, and who would enjoy His infinite blessings and goodness. We are told that the earth was created to be inhabited and no doubt the same is true of other habitable planets (Isa. 45:18; Eph. 1:3-11; 2:7; 3:9-11; Col. 1:15-19; Rev. 4:11; 12:12; 13:6; Dan. 4:35). According to astronomers, about one-tenth of the planets, which number into the millions, are in a temperate zone and could sustain life

Ages and dispensations

Age - revolution of time:

1 Age - defined. The Heb. eth and Gr. aion mean any period of time whether long or short; time; season. In this sense there are numberless ages (Job 38:23; Eccl. 3:1-17; 7:17; 8:6; 9:12; Isa. 49:8; Dan. 8:17,19,23; 10:1; 11:24,27,29,35,40; 12:1,4,7,9,11; Eph. 2:7; 3:5-6,21)

2 Past ages (Job 8:8; Isa. 45:21; Ezek. 26:20; Lk. 1:70; Acts 3:21; 15:18; 1 Cor. 2:7; Eph. 3:5-6; Col. 1:26)

3 Present age (Mt. 13:22, 39-40; Mk. 4:19; Lk. 16:8; 20:34; Rom. 12:2; 1 Cor. 1:20; Gal. 1:4; 2 Tim. 4:10; Tit. 2:12)

4 Future ages (Mt. 12:31-32; Mk. 10:30; Lk. 20:35; Eph. 1:21; 2:7; 3:21; 1 Tim. 1:17)

5 Creative ages (Gen. 1:1-2:25; Rom. 1:20; Eph. 3:9; Col. 1:15-18)

6 5 main ages in time:

(1) The ante-chaotic age - from the original creation (1:1) to chaos (1:2), during which time Lucifer ruled the earth in perfection, before he fell and caused the earth to be made chaotic and flooded (1:1-2; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:18; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). This age took in all the period of the dateless past, the original creations, Lucifer's reign in perfection (Ezek. 28:15), the period of rebellion by Lucifer and pre-Adamites, the actual war between heaven and earth, culminating in the defeat of Lucifer and his armies as they invaded heaven (Isa. 14:12-14; Lk. 10:18), and the chaotic period on earth after the defeat of Lucifer's kingdom (1:2; Jer. 4:23-26; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). These periods were of unknown length, and could be called the Eternal Past

(2) The ante-diluvian age - from the beginning of the 6 days of restoration of the heavens and earth to a second habitable state (1:3-2:25) to the flood of Noah's time; or, from the flood of Lucifer (1:2) to the flood of Noah (6:8-8:14). This age included the dispensations of Innocence and Conscience - 1,656 years (5:1-32)

(3) The present or post-diluvian age - from the flood of Noah (6:8-8:14) to the Millennium (Rev. 19:11-20:7). This age takes in 4 dispensations: Human Government, Promise, Law, and Grace - already over 4,505 years by 1960 A.D.

(4) The age to come - from the 2nd advent of Christ (Rev. 19:11-21) to the New Heavens and New Earth (Rev. 21-22). This age will last 1,000 years (Rev. 20:4-10)

(5) The age of the ages - from the end of the Millennium (Rev. 20:4-10) into all eternity to come when God will move His capital city from the planet heaven to the planet earth to reign for ever and ever (Rev. 11:15; 21:1-22:5; Gen. 9:12, 16; 17:1-8; 2 Sam. 7; Ps. 89; Isa. 9:6-7; Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Lk. 1:32-33; 1 Cor. 15:24-28). This could be called the Eternal Future

Dispensation - a moral time:

1 Dispensation defined. The word itself is not in the O. T., but is used 4 times in the N. T. (1 Cor. 9:17; Eph. 1:10; 3:2; Col. 1:25). This does not mean that there were no dispensations in the O. T. program any more than it means there was no devil in O. T. times simply because the word devil is not used in the O. T. The Gr. oikonomia means an administration, a stewardship, dispensation, or guardianship. It refers to a moral or probationary period in angelic or human history, during which time God deals with angels, or men, according to a particular test or responsibility, under which each is supposed to remain true to his trust of administering affairs for God under His direction

2 9 features of each dispensation:
(1) Definition or name
(2) Length of time
(3) Favorable beginning
(4) Test for responsible agents
(5) Purpose of God in each one
(6) Means of God in accomplishing His purpose
(7) Failure of responsible agents
(8) Judgment of God upon responsible agents
(9) God's provision of reconciliation for fallen agents

When these 9 points regarding each age or dispensation are understood, then God's plan for man as a whole becomes clear. Each dispensation has its own particular beginning and ending; each is characterized by distinctive principles of God's dealings; each has a favorable beginning; a definite test; and each ends in failure and judgment, except the final and eternal one. Nothing but confusion can arise from reading certain meanings into Scripture that do not apply to a particular age. In each, God has a definite and different immediate purpose, all working toward the ultimate purpose of ridding the universe of all rebellion so that all free moral agents will be willingly and eternally subject to God, Christ, and the Holy Ghost, as originally planned, with God all in all forever (1 Cor. 15: 24-28; Rev. 21-22)

In one age there may be some part that may apply to another age, but to force the purposes of God to be the same in every age would be to distort Scripture and confuse the understanding. One should study the history of each period carefully, and the prophecies given in each that predict some definite change in God's dealings or plan to the ultimate end. One must harmonize all passages with the whole plan of God, as revealed in all Scripture. Then, the student can see from God's standpoint the many purposes and plans for free moral agents who prove worthy of eternal trust (Eph. 2: 7; 3:11)

3 Bible divided dispensationally:
(1) The original creations (1:1)
(2) The chaotic earth (1:2)
(3) Restoration of earth (1:3-2:14)
(4) Dispensation of Innocence (2:15-3:21) 22-8:14)
(5) Dispensation of Conscience (3:
(6) Dispensation of Human Government (8:15-11:32) Ex. 12: 37)
(7) Dispensation of Promise (12:1-
(8) Dispensation of Law (Ex. 12: 38-Mt. 2:23) Rev. 19:10)
(9) Dispensation of Grace (Mt. 3:1-
(10) Dispensation of Divine Government, or Millennium (Rev. 19:11-20:15)
(11) Dispensation of faithful Angels and the Redeemed - the New Heavens and New Earth, the eternal perfect state (Rev. 21:1-22:5). See 30fold dispensational plan of God, p. 53

9 dispensations of Scripture:

There are only 7 main dispensations which we know as man's probationary periods. In God's plan these come between 2 other periods - the dispensation of Angels (the ante-chaotic age) and the dispensation of faithful Angels and the Redeemed. All 9 have 9 outstanding features in common

Dispensation of Angels
Ante-chaotic age (1:1-2)

1 Name. We call it the dispensation of Angels, because angels, not men, were given rulership under God to administer the will of God and rule the earth and other planets (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; Mt. 25:41; Eph. 1:21; 3:9-10; 6:12; Col. 1:15-18; 1 Pet. 3: 22; Rev. 12:7-10; 20:10)

2 Length - from the time the earth was created in the presence of angels (Job 38:4-7) to the time of chaos and defeat of Satan in his invasion of heaven (1:2; Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; Lk. 10:18)

3 Favorable beginning. Every angel, devil, and man of all the principalities and powers was sinless to begin with (Eph. 1:21; 3:9-10; Col. 1:15-18; 1 Pet. 3:22). Lucifer, the ruling cherub of earth is described as "perfect in thy ways from the day that thou was created, till iniquity was found in thee" (Ezek. 28: 11-17). This scripture and Isa. 14: 12-14 picture his exalted position. With everything perfect he had a most favorable beginning and could have caused it to remain thus had he not exalted himself in an effort to dethrone God (Ezek. 28:17; 1 Tim. 3:6)

4 Test. The test for angelic rulers was the same as for man, to be subject to God and obey Him in all that He commanded. Lucifer had ways to walk in (Ezek. 28:15), and so did all other angels, or they could not have sinned. Sin is transgression of the law for angels as well as men (1 Jn. 3:4)

5 Purpose of God. His purpose was to test angels to see if they would remain true to Him before using them eternally as trusted servants. For this same reason God tested man, His purpose for testing being alike for all free moral and responsible agents. Satan and others failed because they "abode not in the truth" (Jn. 8:44; Eph. 3: 9-10; 1 Tim. 5:21; 1 Jn. 5:18-19; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7)

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. God used the ways He restricted the angels to walk in as the means of testing them (Ezek. 28:15; Jn. 8:44; Eph. 3:9-10)

7 Failure. Some angelic beings failed to continue in the truth (Jn. 8:44) and the ways God made clear to them (Ezek. 28:11-17). Over 1/3 rebelled, including Lucifer, who will be cast down to earth with the other rebellious angels in the middle of the future tribulation (Rev. 12:4, 7-12). God found it necessary to charge them with folly (Job 4:18), sin (2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7), and rebellion (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; Rev. 12:7-12)

8 Judgment for sin. God prepared hell "for the devil and his angels" (Mt. 25: 41). Some are in hell now (2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7). Lucifer and those still loose with him will eventually be put into hell (Mt. 25:41; Rev. 12:7-12; 20:10). Immediate judgment came by their defeat and God's taking away from them their rulership (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17). They would not be pseudo-rulers of earth now if Adam, the new ruler of the earth, had not fallen and submitted to them (3:1-24; Rom. 5:12-21; Eph. 2:1-3; 4:27; 6:12; 1 Jn. 5:18-19; Rev. 12:9-12). Man now, in Christ, has power over them (Eph. 6:10-18; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 5:7-9) and will eventually have the entire dominion restored to him (Ps. 8; Dan. 7:18, 27; Heb. 2:9-18; Rev. 5:10; 20:4-6; 22:4-6)

9 God's provision of redemption. In what way God offered reconciliation to angels, and how many availed themselves of His grace is not revealed. This is due to the fact that the Bible is not a history of the creation, fall, judgment or redemption of angels, as it is of man, whatever is said about angels, demons, pre-Adamites, and other creatures not of the present race and creation on earth, is limited to that which is necessary to reveal God's plan for man. In 1 Tim. 5:21 we read of elect angels; and the term is no doubt used in the same sense as elect men who are redeemed. We then conclude that angels did have some means of grace and reconciliation, and that some are called elect because they became reconciled. God, who is all good, has always given mercy to rebels of the human race, and we can believe that He was just as merciful to angels, demons, and pre-Adamite rebels, providing them with a means of grace befitting their nature and creative purposes. Among those who ruled, the ones who rebelled when on probation, and now persist in continued rebellion will be punished in the same way that human rebels will be (Mt. 25:41). Since both classes are to be punished, we conclude that angels, as well as men, have been given some means of grace even though not by blood sacrifice

Earth's first sinful career

Lucifer was the first to be exalted in pride; and he and his angelic followers were the first to attempt the overthrow of God's government. They were responsible for earth's first sinful career. Had they remained true to God there would have been no flood and chaos as in Gen. 1:2; and therefore, no need of the 6 days of 1:3-2:25 to restore the earth to a second habitable state, and no need for the creation of new land animals, fish, fowls, and man to rule the planet earth. Lucifer and the pre-Adamites would have continued to live on the earth and carry out the plan of dominion over the earth now designed for man. The entire Bible message is centered around the complete redemption of man which includes ridding the earth of all rebellion, so that in the new heavens and new earth, the original state of the universal kingdom of God will be fully restored, and God will be all and all eternally (1 Cor. 15: 24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 21-22)

Earth's second sinful career

When Adam rebelled the earth entered its second sinful career. In God's plan, we are now nearing the end of Adam's rebellion. God is soon to send Jesus Christ with the armies of heaven to defeat the armies of Antichrist and seize the governments of this world. This, He will do in one day (Zech. 14:7) and for the express purpose of setting up a righteous government on earth forever. The first 1,000 years of the eternal kingdom will be for the purpose of putting down all rebellion so as to restore God's sovereignty in all parts of the universe as before Lucifer and Adam rebelled (1 Cor. 15: 24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 21-22). Saints, the redeemed ones of the human race from the time of Adam to the 2nd advent of Christ, will be the future kings and priests under God and Christ to reign over the dominion originally given to Adam (Ps. 8; Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 1:5; 5:10; 11:15; 20:4-6; 22:1-5)

7 dispensations of man:

In the plan of God the 7 dispensations of man are between the 2 eternities - the eternal past and the eternal future; and between the former restoration of the earth in 6 days (1:3-2:25) and the final restoration (Rev. 21-22)

I Dispensation of Innocence
(2:15-3:21)
Ante-diluvian age (1:3-8:22)

1 Name. So-called because man was tested and put on probation while in innocence (2:8-25; 3:7)

2 Length - unknown, but judging from Satan's dealings today he tried to cause the fall of man immediately. The dispensation may have lasted less than a week, for we have no record of God resting after His first sabbath. Man had not yet had time to visit and eat of the tree of life when the fall came (3:22-24). The dispensation ended before man had offspring (2:21-25; 4:1)

3 Favorable beginning (1:26-30; 2:8-24). Everything was perfect, sinless, and under man's dominion, with just one command to obey (2:17)

4 Test - not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil (2:16-17; 3:6)

5 Purpose of God - to see if man would remain innocent and be true to his trust under the most favorable and perfect conditions possible (2:16-17). God wanted to test him before he had offspring, so that if he sinned the entire race could be dealt with alike through the same means of grace which offers redemption to all who desire it, and promises eternal segregation from redeemed society for all who fail to seek reconciliation (Rom. 5:12-21)

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. The tree of the knowledge of good and evil, and the temptations of Satan were the means used in testing man to see if he would remain true (2: 16-17; 3:1-6; Rom. 5:12-21; 1 Tim. 2:11-15)

7 Failure - the fall (3:1-24; Rom. 3: 23; 5:12-21; 1 Tim. 2:11-15)

7 steps in man's fall:

(1) Doubt of God's Word (3:1)
(2) Adding to and misquoting God's Word (3:2-3)
(3) Contradicting God's Word (3:4. Cp. Ezek. 18:4, 20-24; Rom. 6:16-23; 8:1-13; 1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:9-11; Gal. 5: 19-21; 6:7-8; 2 Tim. 2:12; Jas. 2:9-10)
(4) Misinterpretation of God's Word (3:5)
(5) Temptation to transgress God's Word (3:6; 2 Cor. 11:3; 1 Tim. 2:14) 6)
(6) Transgression of God's Word (3:
(7) Results of transgressing God's Word (3:6-19; Rom. 5:12-21; Jas. 1:13-15)

What man lost in the fall:

(1) Spiritual, physical, and eternal life (Isa. 59:2; Rom. 5:12-21; Eph. 2)
(2) Communion with God (Isa. 59:2)
(3) Fellowship with animals (9:2)
(4) His full dominion over all things (Ps. 8)
(5) Freedom from Satan (Jn. 14:30; 2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 6:10-18; Rev. 12:9)
(6) Perfect God-consciousness (2: 25; 3:7) Rom. 7)
(7) Full power to do good (6:5-7;
(8) Perfect self-control (Eph. 2; Gal.
(9) Right to tree of life (3:22-24) 5)
(10) Garden-home (2:15; 3:22-24)
(11) God's glory (Rom. 3:23)
(12) Righteousness and true holiness (Eph. 4:22-24) 1 Pet. 2:24)
(13) Perfect health (3:16-19; Mt. 8:17;
(14) All benefits of perfect union with God (Rev. 21:1-7; 22:1-3)

8 Judgment for sin (3:14-19, 23-24). Because of his sin man reaped sickness, pain, sorrow, misery, condemnation, death, loss of soul, fellowship and union with Satan and demons, an inferior position, power to do evil and be evil, a life of self-gratification, unclean lusts and habits, unbelief, separation from God, hardships, sufferings, hell, eternal damnation, and other curses too numerous to mention. He became depraved (Rom. 1), darkened (Eph. 4:18), blind in mind (2 Cor. 4:4), defiled in conscience (Heb. 10:22), obstinate and rebellious (Isa. 28:14; Rom. 8:1-13), lustful (Eph. 2:1-3), evil continually (Gen. 6:5), full of abominations (Jer. 17:9; Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:5-10) and lost; making all his offspring, with all their faculties, constituted sinful by nature (Rom. 5:12-21; Eph. 2:1-3), and children of the devil by choice and practice (Jn. 8:44; 2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 2:1-3; 1 Jn. 3:8-10)

6 great curses on creation:

(1) Upon the serpent (3:14-15)
(2) Upon Satan (3:15; Rom. 16:20)
(3) Upon woman (3:16)
(4) Upon man (3:17-19; Rom. 5:12-21)
(5) Upon earth (3:17-19)
(6) Upon all creation (3:14-19; Isa. 65:25; Rom. 8:19-23)

9 God's provision of redemption (3: 15-21. Cp. Isa. 53; Mt. 1:21; 26:28; Eph. 1:7). God promised a Redeemer who would come and restore man's dominion

II Dispensation of Conscience
(3:22-8:14)
Ante-diluvian age (1:3-8:22)

1 Name. So-called because man was tested to see if he would obey his own conscience regarding right and wrong (6:1-7; Rom. 2:12-16). There were no written laws. The 10-commandment law had not been given to Adam in the previous dispensation (note d, 26:2). His only law was not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil; and after being driven out of the garden he did not even have that law (Rom. 5:12-14). See Conscience in Index. This dispensation could be called the age of freedom, for man was free to do as he pleased until it became necessary for God to interfere

2 Length - 1,656 years, from Adam's fall to 600th year of Noah (5:1-29; 7:6, 11)

3 Favorable beginning - a new beginning altogether, with inhabitants having a knowledge of God, and a new covenant with God (3:14-4:26)

4 Test, Obedience to the dictates of conscience as to right and wrong (3:22; 4:7, 15; 6:1-7)

5 Purpose of God. His purpose now, since man knew good and evil, was to guide him in the proper exercise of his conscience to do the right and refuse the wrong; to teach fallen man that only by obedience to God and His will he could be restored to his original dominion and get rid of the curse; and to test man under freedom of conscience and without restraint or compulsion to see if he would voluntarily choose right from wrong, and give service to Him instead of Satan. If voluntary righteousness was rejected, then God planned to add laws and punishments to enforce obedience for man's own good. God wanted man to see that, in his fallen state, he could not choose the best good of being and of the universe, in himself, and that he was powerless to cope with the innumerable fallen angels and demons whom he had now entered into voluntary union with through sin, and who sought his eternal damnation. God wanted man to be brought to helplessness in himself so that he would turn to Him for help, grace, and power against sin, Satan, fallen angels, demons, sickness, and suffering in the struggle to overcome the curse. He wanted man to know that He was the only true friend and helper, and that only through Him was there a way out of sin and the curse, and an opportunity for restoration to original dominion

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. The conscience, freedom of the will, without restraint and compulsion to choose the right or wrong, and the malice of the devil were all the means of God to bring man to a place of utter dependence upon Him for help and redemption from the curse. The conscience demonstrated how exceedingly sinful man would become if he chose evil instead of good; the full freedom of action demonstrated how far man would go in his rebellion against God before it would be necessary for Him to interfere for the good of His own eternal plan; and the malice of satanic forces demonstrated the contrast between the two masters whom man might serve while on probation. Such freedom of the will and conscience was what man chose in the fall; and so God permitted him to go to the full limit of wickedness that he might learn the folly of his own choice, and that all coming generations might profit thereby

7 Failure - 6fold (4:1-8:7):
(1) Failure of Adam (6:3, notes)
(2) Failure of Cain (4:1-16, notes)
(3) Failure of Cain's descendants (4:17-24, notes) 25-5:32, notes)
(4) Failure of Seth's descendants (4:
(5) Failure of the daughters of men, who sinned with fallen angels seeking to do away with pure Adamite stock through whom the seed of the woman was to come (6:1-7, 11-13, notes)
(6) Failure of all men in general (4:1-26; 6:1-7; 7:1; Mt. 24:37-39; Lk. 17:26-27; 1 Pet. 3:20; 2 Pet. 2:4-5). See 12 conditions of Noah's day, p. 201 of N.T.

8 Judgment for sin - the flood of Noah (6:8-8:14; Mt. 24:37-39; 1 Pet. 3:18-21)

9 God's provision of redemption. His grace and mercy in sparing man to have another chance and to continue in God's eternal plan for him on the earth (6:8-22; 7:1; 1 Pet. 3:18-21), and preservation of clean animals for sacrifice so as to continue faith in the coming Redeemer (7:2; 8:20-22) were provisions of redemption for man after the flood. Men in those days were actually saved by grace through faith in the coming Redeemer, as we are now saved by grace through faith in the Redeemer who has already come (6:8; Heb. 11; Eph. 2:8-9)

III Dispensation of Human Government (8:15-11:32)
Present or post-diluvian age (Gen. 8:15-Rev. 19:10)

1 Name. So-called because human laws and human government were instituted to regulate man's life after a long age of freedom of conscience. God now gave Noah certain laws to govern the race by; and man was held responsible for self-government

The first civil laws since Adam

(1) Be fruitful, multiply, and replenish the earth (9:1, 7)
(2) Rule over animals (9:2)
(3) Allow animal food, instead of grains, herbs, vegetables only (9:3)
(4) Eat no blood of animals (9:4)
(5) Do not murder (9:6)
(6) Execute men who murder (9:6)
(7) Keep My covenant eternally (9:8-17)

Some of these laws have formed the basis of human laws in all ages since. It is necessary to punish criminals, individuals, and nations (Rom. 13:1-6; 1 Pet. 2:13-14); hence, law enforcement is needful as well as war under certain circumstances - when nations become criminal (Isa. 11:4-9; 65:20-25; Dan. 2:21; 4:17-26; 5:21; 7:1-25; 8:20-25; 9:24-27; 11:2-45; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21)

Human governments are part of the moral government of God and are needed for the preservation of human society on earth. Without law enforcement and punishments no government could long endure. The chief aim of moral and civil government is the highest good of all. Civil and family governments are necessary in securing this end. It is the duty of all people to help establish, maintain, support, and take part in human government for the preservation of society

2 Length - from Noah's flood to the call of Abraham when 75-years-old - in all, 427 years (11:10-32; 12:5)

3 Favorable beginning. Man was rich in experience and wisdom, had true worship, new laws, new covenant, promises of blessing, dominion of the earth, and responsibility to rule himself forever (8:15-9:17)

4 Test. To obey the laws of human government, rule faithfully, punish criminals, consecrate to God and worship Him (8:20-19:17)

5 Purpose of God. To test man under a new standard of conduct. He had failed to live right without laws and restraint by punishment of civil rulers, now he was forced to obey the right and reject the wrong (9:1-7)

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. Various laws of human government were given and government was established by God, with man now being responsible to rule for the good of all

7 Failure - 4fold (9:18-11:9):
(1) Failure of Noah (9:20-24)
(2) Failure of Ham (9:22-27)
(3) Failure of the daughters of men at the second eruption of fallen angels in their efforts to do away with pure Adamite stock through whom the seed of the woman was to come (9:1-6; 11:1-9; 6:1-4, notes)
(4) Failure of men in general. Instead of segregating and scattering abroad on the earth according to distinct types and colors as they began to be born, men wanted to integrate and be one people to defy God and cause His plan to fail (11:1-9). Pride, self-gratification, and hero-worship became prevalent in this age. See comments on Nimrod and his rebellion (note n, 10:8; p. 309 of N.T.)

8 Judgment for sin. During this dispensation God confused the language of men so as to scatter them over all the face of the earth before it was divided (11:1-9). About 340 years after the flood He divided the earth into continents and islands as it is today, so as to separate the different peoples more permanently (10:25; 1 Chr. 1:19). This explains how the American Indians and other peoples came to be in different parts of the earth. God allotted the various nations their inheritance and determined the bounds of their habitation (Dt. 32:8; Acts 17:26)

9 God's provision of redemption. It was faith in the coming Redeemer and the gospel, and sacrifices typifying these truths (8:20; 12:8; Gal. 3:8; Heb. 4:2)

IV Dispensation of Promise (12:1-Ex. 12:37)
Present or post-diluvian age (Gen. 8:15-Rev. 19:10)

1 Name. So-called because of the promises and covenants made with Abraham and his seed. In this period God began to predict and emphasize the coming of the seed of the woman to be through a particular branch of the race. There had been a few predictions before, as in 3:15; 4:25; 9:24-27, but now Abraham's seed was designated as the special line through whom Christ should come. In this age many promises and predictions were made to this end (12:1-3; 17:7-8, 19; 18:18; 21:12-13; 22:17; 26:3-4; 28:3-4, 13-15; 35:11-12; 49:10)

2 Length - from Abraham's call at 75 years of age to the exodus from Egypt - 430 years (Ex. 12:40; Gal. 3:14-17). See note o, 15:13

3 Favorable beginning. God now began to deal with a special branch of the race (Abraham's seed) in the fulfillment of His plan. Not only did He promise that the Messiah should come through them, but that the promised land would be given to them eternally, as a base for world missionary and governmental operations (12:1-3, 7; 13:14-18; 15:18-21; 17:7-19), and that the revelation of God should come through them (12:1-3; 15:13-21; 17:1-21; Rom. 3:1-2; 4:1-25; 9:4-5; Gal. 3:8; Heb. 11:8-19)

4 Test. For Abraham and his seed the test was to have faith in God, obey Him, remain segregated from all other nations, and evangelize the world (12:1-3; 15:4-6; 17:1-21; 26:3-4; 28:13-15)

5 Purpose of God. To choose one man through whom Messiah should come, to use him and his seed as His representatives in the earth, and to give them Canaan as a base of operation concerning His program among men in the gospel and in government eternally. The second eruption of the sons of God among men had already begun and giants were being born. They were beginning to possess the very land God had in mind for His own headquarters on earth (12:6). It being His plan to use the sword of Israel to destroy these giants so as to preserve a pure line for Messiah to come through, God allowed Abraham's offspring to become a great and mighty nation down in Egypt. It was His further purpose to show the heathen, through Abraham, the difference between serving Him and other gods, and to make Israel an example to all men physically, mentally, morally, spiritually, and financially, as a nation enjoying the blessings of the true God, so that others should be won to Him by such benefits. Never was the purpose of God expressed more fully and clearly to any people; and never before did a nation have in their power such means of blessing all nations and bringing about universal peace, prosperity, and eternal salvation as Israel (12:1-3; 15:4-6; 17:1-21; 26:3-4; 28:13-15; Gal. 3:8-14; Dt. 7:6-9)

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. The call of God, the covenants and promises, and the personal dealings of God were His means in fulfilling His plan with Israel (12:1-3; 17:1-21; Rom. 2:1-2; 9:4-5)

7 Failure - 5fold (12:1-Ex. 12:40):
(1) Failure of Abraham (11:31-12:6; 12:10-20; 16:1-16; 17:18; 20:1-18)
(2) Failure of Isaac (26:6-35; 27:1-4)
(3) Failure of Jacob (25:27-34; 27:1-33; 31:1-42; 33:14; 37:3)
(4) Failure of the sons of Jacob (37:4-6; 38:1-30)
(5) Failure of Israel after the death of Jacob and sons (Ex. 2:11-14; 5:21)

8 Judgment for sin (Ex. 1:7-6:30). The judgment upon Israel was bondage in Egypt - the beginning of oppression by Gentiles to be carried on eventually by 8 world kingdoms. See 8 mountain kingdoms and Israel, p. 311 of N.T. and The times of the Gentiles, p. 873. The judgment upon Egypt was the 10 plagues. See p. 110

9 God's provision of redemption. Israel had the gospel (Gal. 3:8; Heb. 4:2) and the typical program of sacrifices which, in shadow, taught them of redemption through the Messiah (Ex. 12; 25:1-40:38; Lev. 1:1-10:20; 23:1-44)

V Dispensation of Law (Ex. 12:38-Mt. 2:23)
Present or post-diluvian age (Gen. 8:15-Rev. 19:10)

1 Name. So-called because of the law given to Moses, which became part of the rule of faith and practice during the period between Moses and Christ. Men of this dispensation had the gospel also (Gal. 3:8; Heb. 4:2)

2 Length - from the exodus from Egypt to the preaching of the kingdom of heaven by John the Baptist, or from Moses to Christ - 1,718 years or more (Mt. 11:12-13; Lk. 16:16) as follows:

(1) From the exodus to the entrance into Canaan, 41 years

A Over a year at Sinai (Num. 10:11-12)

Total 520

The 450 years "until Samuel the prophet" of Acts 13:19-21 began perhaps with the 1st servitude of point c, and continued through the time of Eli as the 15th judge and the one just before Samuel (points X and Y). Periods for which dates are not mentioned in Scripture were evidently not taken into consideration in Acts 13:19-21; and they are left unspecified in the above list. For this reason we say the period in point (2) was over 520 years, and the whole length of the dispensation of Law was 1,718 years or more

The 480-year period ending with the 4th year of Solomon's reign (spoken of in 1 Ki. 6:1) began with the entrance of Israel into Canaan and excluded the 111 years of servitude and 3 years of confusion under Abimelech. It was the whole period of Israel's security as a nation free from servitude and civil strife, up to that time in Solomon's reign

(5) From the time of restoration from Babylon to the preaching of the kingdom by John the Baptist was 480 years which, added to totals of other periods above make the 1,718 years or more in this dispensation. We arrive at the figure 480 years from a study of Dan. 9:24-26 which speaks of 7 weeks and 62 weeks (or a total of 69 "sevens"), which would be 483 years to take place from the commandment to restore Jerusalem to the crucifixion. Since John announced the kingdom about 3 years before the crucifixion, we subtract those 3 years to find the approximate length of this dispensation. See The 70 weeks, p. 877

NOTE: Although the official length of the dispensation of Law was until John (Mt. 11:13; Lk. 16:16), there was a period of transition afterward, during which time Israel officially rejected Christ, the nation was abandoned (Mt. 23:39), judgment took place at the cross when the law was abolished (Col. 2:14-17) and Israel was destroyed as a nation (in 70 A. D.) and survivors were scattered among the nations (Lk. 21: 20-24)

3 Favorable beginning. Not since the fall of man had any people experienced a more favorable beginning than Israel at the beginning of the dispensation of Law. They saw the power of God in signs and wonders in Egypt and the wilderness. He made personal appearances to them (Ex. 24:9-11; Josh. 5:13-15); and spoke with an audible voice (Dt. 5:22-24). There were visible manifestations of His presence day and night (Ex. 14:19-21). God took sickness from Israel (Ex. 15:26; 23:25; Ps. 105: 37; 107:20); gave them the riches of Egypt (Ex. 12:35; Ps. 105:37); gave them revelations and a complete code of laws; made covenants with them; and gave them the gospel (Gal. 3:8; Heb. 4:2)

4 Test. To obey the law of Moses in every detail (Ex. 19:8; 24:3, 7)

5 Purpose of God. To test Israel to see if they would obey Him; to begin a commonwealth of nations headed by Israel and governed by men of His own choice; to establish a visible system of worship that would picture the coming redemptive truths in every detail; to bring about the complete destruction of the giant races by the sword of Israel so as to bring the Messiah into the world through pure Adamite stock (as predicted in Gen. 3:15); to give Israel His complete revelation for the whole human race which, according to His promise to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, would make them a blessing to all nations

The entire O. T. was written in this dispensation. God's purpose in giving the law was that the whole world might become guilty before Him and every mouth be stopped (Rom. 3:19-20; 4:15; 5:13; 7:5-14; Gal. 4:21-31; 5:1). The law was a shadow of good things to come and was added because of transgression until the seed should come (Mt. 11:11-13; Lk. 16:16-17; Gal. 3:12-25; Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 8:5; 9:1-10; 10:1). See p. 201 of N. T. for proof the law is now abolished. See Law in Index

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. The giving of the law, the completion of the organization of Israel to destroy the giant races, the settling of Israel in the promised land to use them there as an outstanding nation showing forth the benefits of serving the true God - these were the means of God to accomplish His purpose

7 Failure - 7fold:

(1) Failure in the wilderness. See murmurings, sins, and rebellions under Israel in Index

(2) Failure under Joshua (Josh. 7-9)

(3) Failure under judges (Judg. 1-2). See Length, point 2 above

(4) Failure under kings. Nearly every king of Israel and Judah failed after the division of the kingdom, and the people went into such apostasy that the nation was brought into captivities (2 Ki. 17; 25). See note a, 373-1

(5) Failure in captivity (Ezek. 2: 3-3:9; Jer. 1:1-22:30)

(6) Failure in restoration from captivity (Ezra 10; Neh. 13; Hag. 1; Mal. 1:1-4:6)

(7) Failure in rejecting their own Messiah and the gospel (Mt. 5:20; 6:1-18; 11:20-27; 12:22-30; 15:1-20; 16: 1-12; 23:1-39; 26:57-27:66; Jn. 5; Acts 2:11-38; 3:1-5; 6:8-8:3; 9:1-9; 12:1-19; 13:41-52; 22:1-28:24)

8 Judgment for sin - 2fold:

(1) Judgment of the sins of Israel and of the whole world in the cross of Christ (Jn. 12:27-33; 19:16-30; Acts 2: 36; Phil. 2:5-11; Col. 2:14-17; 1 Pet. 2:24)

(2) Judgment on Israel as a nation. The kingdom of God was taken from them (Mt. 21:33-46), the nation was rejected to be desolate until the 2nd advent of Christ (Mt. 23:37-39), and it was completely destroyed in 70 A.D., with survivors being scattered among the other nations (Lk. 21:20-24; Dt. 28; Lev. 26)

9 God's provision of redemption. In the cross God provided the true source of redemption (1 Cor. 1:18-24; Col. 1: 12-20; 2:14-17; 1 Pet. 2:24). Up to this time men offered sacrifices of animals as a picture of the true sacrifice at Calvary (Heb. 8-10). God sent His Son to take the place of all men in death, so that they might be fully redeemed, reconciled, and restored to the original dominion (Ps. 8; Gal. 3:13; Eph. 2:11-18; Heb. 2:9-18; 1 Pet. 1:18-23)

VI Dispensation of Grace (Mt. 3:1-Rev. 19:10) Present or post-diluvian age (Gen. 8:15-Rev. 19:10)

1 Name. So-called because of the fulness of grace brought by Jesus Christ (Jn. 1:16-17). Men had grace in all previous ages, but not in fulness. The same was true regarding laws. Men had laws in all periods before Moses, but the fulness of law came by him. See The truth about grace, p. 226 of N. T. and Grace in Index

2 Length - from the preaching of the kingdom of heaven by John (Mt. 11:11; Lk. 16:16) to the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ. Considering that we reckon our time in A.D. from the birth of Christ, and that He was about 30 years of age (in 30 A.D.) when John the Baptist announced the kingdom, and when Law ended and Grace began (Lk. 1:26; 3: 23), then we know that we have already come 1,930 years in this dispensation by 1960 A.D. How many more years Grace will continue is not known because we do not know when the 2nd advent (which is to terminate this dispensation) will take place. Students of prophecy believe it will be soon. Grace cannot end until 10 kingdoms are formed inside the old Roman Empire territory (Dan. 7:7-8, 19-24), until the Antichrist has been here 7 years after the rapture of the church (Dan. 9:27; 2 Th. 2:7-8), and until all the events of Rev. 4:1-19:10 have been fulfilled in these last 7 years (Rev. 4:1, note). Then, and then only, can Christ come as in Rev. 19:11-21, and the Millennium begin (Rev. 20:1-10)

A review of the 7 dispensations of man up to this point will show that we have come 6,161 years or more since Adam to 1960 A.D. as follows: (years)

(1) Innocence	?
(2) Conscience	1,656
(3) Human Government	427
(4) Promise	430
(5) Law	1,718
(6) Grace	1,930
Total	6,161

This disproves the theory that there are to be only 7,000 years in the 7 dispensations of man - 4,000 from Adam to Christ, 2,000 from Christ to the Millennium, and 1,000 for the Millennium. Having already had 6,161 years or more since Adam to 1960 A.D. puts us at least 161 years ahead into the 7th period of 1,000 years, which is contrary to the theory

3 Favorable beginning. Satan was defeated on the cross and made powerless to overcome any believer who would put on the whole armour of God (Eph. 6:10-18), and resist him (Eph. 4:27; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 5:7-9). In this matter no difference was made between Jew or Gentile, male or female (Acts 2:16-21; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:28; Col. 3:11). Furthermore, the dispensation of Grace began with ministries of power: that of Christ, John the Baptist, the apostles, and other men endued to perform miracles, as recorded in the Gospels and Acts. It began with complete grace (Jn. 1:16-17), promises of the fulness of the Spirit (Jn. 7:37-39), and a full commission to represent God and do the works of Christ (Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 14: 12). There is now no limitation to the believer regarding what he wants from God according to the promises. Everyone is privileged to receive according to his faith (Mt. 8:13; 9:29; 17:20; 21: 21-22; Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15: 7, 16; Heb. 11:6; 1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:13-14)

4 Test. Obedience to the faith of the gospel in all its teachings (Mk. 16:16; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 1:5, 16; 16:26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:5-8)

5 Purpose of God. In this dispensation the purpose has been to save all who would believe, to call out a people for His name, and to build the church (Jn. 3:16; Acts 15:13-18; 1 Cor. 1:18-24; 12:12-31; Eph. 2:14-22; 4:7-16; 5:25-32; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17)

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. Preaching the gospel is His means to call out a people for the church (Mt. 28:19-20; Mk. 16:15-20; Rom. 1:16; 1 Cor. 1:18-24; 2 Cor. 4:4). For this work He uses called and gifted men (Rom. 12; 1 Cor. 12; Eph. 4:7-11). He also uses angels (Heb. 1:14) and ordinary saved men to propagate the gospel under the direction of the Holy Spirit (Jn. 14:16-17, 26; 15:26; 16:7-15; Acts 1:4-8; 2:38-39; 5:32)

7 Failure - 3fold:

(1) The failure of Israel is clearly seen in their rejection of John, Jesus, and the apostles, in the crucifixion of their Messiah, and in war on the early church. The gospel first went to Israel (Mt. 10:5-6), but they would not obey, so it was taken from them and given to Gentiles (Mt. 21:33-46)

(2) The early church began to fail God in the very beginning (Acts 5-6; 15). All the epistles reveal divisions, strifes, heresies, unclean living, false leaders, and other evidences of backsliding and fallacy (1 Cor. 1; 3; 5; 11; Gal. 3; 5; Eph. 4; Col. 3; 2 Pet. 2; Jude 3; Rev. 2-3)

(3) The post-apostolic church, as history reveals, continued in failure, not evangelizing the world, living clean, preaching the full truth, or being one as Christ had prayed (Jn. 17:21-23). The church entered the dark ages when popes and bishops lorded it over civil rulers and murdered millions who would not conform to organized religion. A reformation finally took place and Christianity has now been revived in part as in the N. T., but the church as a whole is still slow to recognize its full rights and privileges in the gospel

8 Judgment for sin. For their rejection of John (Mt. 3:7; 21:23-27), Jesus (Mt. 11:11-27; 12:1-50; 23:1-39), and the early disciples (Acts 4:1-31; 6:8-7:59; 8:1-4; 9:1-8; 12:1-5; 16:19-38; 17:1-18:18; 22:1-29:29), Israel was destroyed as a nation in 70 A.D. and scattered among the other nations (Mt. 24:1-3; Lk. 21:20-24). They will not be restored until the 2nd advent of Christ (Rom. 11:25-29). This dispensation will end with great apostasy (Mt. 24:4-41, 24; 1 Tim. 4:1-16; 2 Tim. 3:1-13; 4: 1-4; 2 Th. 2:1-12; 2 Pet. 2; Jude 3-18). The question in Lk. 18:8 is "when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?" Judgment will include the greatest tribulation ever known on earth (Mt. 24:15-24; Rev. 6:1-19:10; Dan. 12:1). Because men will not receive the truth, God will send strong delusions to damn such rebels (2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:1-18; 16:13-16; 19:20)

9 God's provision of redemption. The provision for this period and every other one, in fact, is the death of Christ on the cross (1 Cor. 1:18-24; Col. 1:12-20; 2:14-17; 1 Pet. 2:24). Men in previous dispensations have been required to look forward to it by faith, in order to receive the benefits of the cross. Men now are required to look back to it in faith, to receive its benefits (Rom. 3: 24-25; 5:1; Eph. 2:8-9; Heb. 11). God sent His Son to take the place of all men in death, so that all who would believe, might be fully redeemed, reconciled and restored to original dominion (Ps. 8; Gal. 3:13; Eph. 2:11-18; Heb. 2:9-18; 1 Pet. 1:18-23)

VII Dispensation of Divine Government or Millennium (Rev. 19:11-20:15) The age to come (Mt. 12:32; Eph. 1:21)

1 Name. So-called because Divine Government will take over all human governments. The first 1,000 years of the ocracy or God's rule on earth is also called the Millennium, meaning 1,000 years (Rev. 20:1-10). See 12 names of, p. 311 of N. T.

2 Length - from the 2nd advent of Christ, the battle of Armageddon, the judgment of the nations, and the binding of Satan (Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-46; Rev. 19:11-20:3) to the loosing of Satan, the 2nd resurrection, the great white throne judgment, the renovation of the heavens and earth, and the beginning of the new heavens and new earth - 1,000 years (Rev. 20:1-15; 21:1; 2 Pet. 3:10-13)

3 Favorable beginning. For the first time since Adam submitted to Lucifer, his fallen angels, and demons, man will be free from them and have perfect earth conditions in every respect as before the fall, except that he will still be subject to death for one thing - committing any sin that carries the death penalty. Human natural and depraved instincts, tendencies and lusts will yet be a part of man's nature, but his opportunities for overcoming them will be greater because there will be no satanic power or influence, no sickness, disease, pain, or other bodily disorder. Christ and resurrected saints will be reigning over the coming generations from the beginning of the Millennium, and forever. See 50 points about, p. 311 of N. T.; 16 proofs when set up, p. 875; and Millennium in Index

4 Test. To obey Christ, resurrected saints, civil and religious laws of the kingdom, and conform to the will of God (Ps. 2; Isa. 2:2-4; Zech. 14:11-21; Rev. 5:10; 11:15; 20:1-10)

5 Purpose of God. To put down rebellion on earth; fulfill the everlasting covenants of the past; vindicate and avenge Christ and the saints; exalt resurrected saints of all ages to a kingly and priestly position; judge the nations in righteousness and restore the earth to its rightful owners; restore Israel as the head of all nations; and to put all enemies under the feet of Christ so as to bring back the perfect conditions that existed before the fall of Lucifer and Adam - these are the purpose of God in the dispensation of Divine Government or the Millennium. See 10fold purpose, p. 311 of N. T.

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. He will send Jesus Christ, faithful angels, and resurrected saints from heaven to put down rebellion on earth; He will complete His testing period for man; and remove the curse (Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-46; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Rev. 19:11-20:10; 22:3)

7 Failure. As in all previous 6 dispensations for man, there will be some who will not choose God and righteousness. At the end of the Millennium multitudes will follow the devil who will then be loosed from the bottomless pit in order to give men a final opportunity to rebel openly and try to overthrow God's government (Rev. 20:7-10)

8 Judgment for sin. Fire will come down from God out of heaven and devour the earth rebels who have lived through the 1,000 years (or a part of it, if they are born within the period), and who choose Satan rather than God (Rev. 20:7-10). Thus, God will bring to an end the rebellion in His universal kingdom which began with Lucifer, unfaithful angels, demons, and pre-Adamites in the ante-chaotic age, and which broke out anew with Adam in the ante-diluvian age. All human rebels will be resurrected to face judgment and be confined to eternal hell and torment with all other rebels (Isa. 66:22-24; Mt. 25: 41, 46; Rev. 14:9-11; 19:20; 20:10; 21: 15; 22:8); and righteous angels and men will serve God and help Him administer the affairs of the universes forever. See Gen. 8:22; 9:12, 16; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Rev. 1:5; 5:10; 22:4-5

9 God's provision of redemption. His provision of salvation through Jesus Christ is eternal for those who accept and conform to it during their probation on earth. The resurrected saints who are to reign as kings and priests with Christ for 1,000 years, will have been saved from all sin and possibility of rebellion by this time. The natural people who remain true to God in the last rebellion on earth will be saved to enter the eternal kingdom - to multiply and replenish the earth eternally, as God originally planned when man was created. See Gen. 1:26-28; 8:22; 9:12, 16; 17:1-8; 2 Sam. 7:12-16; Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Ezek. 43:7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 22:4-5. The full benefits of redemption provided by the cross will then be realized and enjoyed eternally (Rom. 8:21-24; Rev. 5:10; 22:1-5)

The earth, by this time, will have gone through 3 perfect states and 2 sinful careers, as follows: 19)

(1) Original perfection (Gen. 1:1; Ps.

(2) 1st sinful career and judgment - of Lucifer and pre-Adamites (Gen. 1:2; Isa. 14:12-14; Jer. 4:23-26; Ezek. 28:11-17; 2 Pet. 3:6)

(3) 2nd perfect state (Gen. 1:3-2:25)

(4) 2nd sinful career and judgment - of Adamites (Gen. 3:1-Rev. 20:15)

(5) 3rd perfect state - when renovated by fire (2 Pet. 3:10-13; Rev. 20:7-22:5; Isa. 66:17; 66:22-24)

Dispensation of faithful Angels and the Redeemed (Rev. 21-22)

The age of the ages (Eph. 2:7; 3:11)

1 Name. So-called because faithful angels and resurrected saints will be helping God to administer the affairs of the universes from the earth which will be the eternal headquarters of His government. This dispensation is what we know as the New Heaven and New Earth. It could also be called the Eternal Future, the Eternal Perfect State, or the Eternal Sinless Career of the Earth, for it is to be an age of eternal ages, like an endless chain with endless links (Isa. 65:17; 66:22-24; 2 Pet. 3:10-13; Rev. 21:1-22:5)

2 Length - eternity; world without end. It will be the time of perpetual generations, endless perfection, and eternal life. See 65 other eternal things, p. 622

3 Favorable beginning. Not only in the beginning but continuing throughout eternity, there will be perfect conditions and people (Isa. 65:17; 66:22-24; 2 Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21:1-22:5)

4 Test. There will be no further need of moral or probationary test to see if angels or men will prove true and worthy of eternal trust. All in the eternal ruling class - the elect and faithful among angels and men - will have been purged of all possibility of falling. They will be obedient to God's laws and will; and will be absolutely and eternally trusted by God to help Him administer the affairs of the vast creations (Eph. 2:7; 3:11; Rev. 21-22). Perpetual generations to come, who will be ruled by resurrected saints and others, will be born sinless

5 Purpose of God. To be all in all again, as before rebellion began with Lucifer and Adam (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10); and to carry out His eternal plan of having creations and kingdoms which are willingly subject to Him and consecrated to the same end that He, Himself is consecrated to, which is the highest good of being for all in all the universes - that is the purpose of God in the future eternal dispensation. See 10 fold purpose of God in the Millennial reign, p. 311 of N. T. as this applies to the New Heaven and New Earth as well as to the Millennium

6 Means of God in accomplishing His purpose. Throughout eternity He will continue to use Jesus Christ, faithful angels, and redeemed men who will have proved themselves true to trust in ministering to the human race (Heb. 1:13; 2:9-18), and who will have come with Christ to take over the kingdoms of this world (Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 19:38-51; 24:29-31; 25:31-46; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

7 Failure. There will be no failure throughout eternity with elect angels, elect resurrected men, or with elect natural men who will be carrying out their part of the program as natural people in the eternal purpose of God as His plan was, before Adam's fall. The fall did not do away with God's original plan; it only postponed it until the restitution of all things in the new earth (Acts 3:21; Rev. 21-22)

8 Judgment for sin. There will be no judgment for sin again, for all will be righteous and holy. In Rev. 22:3-5 we read: "there shall be no more curse... his servants shall serve him: And they shall see his face... and they shall reign for ever and ever"

9 God's provision of redemption. This is the same as stated in point 9 of the 7th dispensation for man - Dispensation of Divine Government or Millennium. The redemption provided through Christ and the cross is eternal in its scope and benefits to mankind

Giants and Sons of God (6:4)

Proofs giants were sons of angels:

1 The fact that giants or beings of abnormal size in body, have lived on earth is one of the most clearly stated truths in Scripture. The Heb. nephilim from nephil means giant, bully, or tyrant (6:4; Num. 13:33). That they were abnormal in bodily size is clear from the fact that men of Israel were as grasshoppers in size compared to them (Num. 13:33). The Heb. gibbor is also trans. giant, meaning powerful, giant, mighty, or strong man (Num. 13:33; Job 16:14). To say that these original words refer to degree of wickedness instead of size in body, is a mistake

The Anakims were a people great and tall in body (Dt. 1:28; 2:10-11, 21; 9:2; Josh. 11:21-22; 14:12-14). Anak himself was of the giants; and if he and all Anakims were so big, we can be assured the other giants were also (Num. 13:22, 33). The land of Ammon was a land of giants, for giants dwelled there in old time (Dt. 2:19-20). The Emims were also great, many, and tall as the Anakims (Dt. 2:10-11). Zamzummims were called giants, a people great, many, and tall as the Anakims. They dwelled in the land of Ammon from of old (Dt. 2:19-21). Og, king of Bashan, is described as a giant whose bedstead was of iron and about 18 1/2 ft. long and 8 ft. 4 in. wide. This is not a measurement of wickedness, but of a material bed for a giant body measuring not too far from 18 ft. tall (Dt. 3:11; Josh. 12:4; 13:12). Bashan is called the land of the giants (Dt. 3:13)

A valley of the giants is mentioned in Josh. 15:8; 18:16. This is the same as the valley of Rephaim, the name of another branch of the giant races so often mentioned in Scripture (14:5; 15:20; 2 Sam. 5:18, 22; 23:13; 1 Chr. 11:15; 14:9; Isa. 17:5). The Rephaims were well known giants, but unfortunately, instead of retaining their proper name in Scripture the translators translated it dead (Job 26:5; Ps. 88:10; Pr. 2:18; 9:18; 21:16; Isa. 14:8; 26:19); and deceased (Isa. 26:14). The word should have been retained as a proper name in all these places, as it is 10 times otherwise. See notes on these passages which prove giant bodies are referred to instead of great wickedness

Rephaim is trans. giant (2 Sam. 21:16, 18, 20, 22; 1 Chr. 20:4, 6, 8) and giants (Dt. 2:11, 20; 3:11, 13; Josh. 12:4; 13:12; 15:8; 18:16). The phrase remnant of the giants in Dt. 3:11; Josh. 12:4; 13:12 should be remnant of the Rephaims, for there were many nations of giants other than the Rephaims who filled the whole country trying to contest God's claim on the promised land. They are listed as: Kenites, Kenizzites, Kadmonites, Hittites, Perizzites, Rephaims, Amorites, Canaanites, Girgashites, Jebusites, Hivites, Anakims, Emims, Horims, Avims, Zamzummims; Caphtorims, and Nephilim (6:4; 14:5-6; 15:19-21; Ex. 3:8, 17; 23:23; Dt. 2:10-12, 20-23; 3:11-13; 7:1; 20:17; Josh. 12:4-8; 13:3; 15:8; 17:15; 18:16). Og was of the remnant of Rephaims, not the remnant of all other giant nations (Dt. 3:11; Josh. 12:4; 13:12)

All these giant nations came from a union of the sons of God (fallen angels) and daughters of men after the flood. Beings of great stature, some of them even had 6 fingers on each hand and 6 toes on each foot and carried spears weighing from 10 to 25 lbs. (2 Sam. 21:16-22; 1 Chr. 20:4-8). Goliath whom David slew wore a coat of armour weighing 196 lbs. and was about 13 ft. tall (1 Sam. 17:4-6). It is entirely possible that the pyramids of Egypt, the giant cities of Bashan and other huge monuments of construction will remain an unsolved mystery until they are accepted as the result of labor and skill by fallen-angel fathers

The revelation we have of giants, in Scripture, gives us a true picture of what Greek mythology tries in vain to give. Ours is an accurate account because divinely inspired. Mythology is the outgrowth of traditions, memories, and legends telling of the acts of the supernatural fathers and their giant offspring - the perversion and corruption in transmission of actual facts concerning these mighty beings. The fact that giants were partly of supernatural origin made it easy for men to regard them as gods

2 The fact that the Rephaim have no resurrection (Isa. 26:14) proves the reality of giants and that they were not ordinary men. All ordinary men are to be resurrected (Jn. 5:28-29); therefore, giants must be a different class from pure Adamites. Isaiah makes it clear that the dead (Heb. Rephaim) are now in hell (Isa. 14:9). Solomon confirms the same in Pr. 2:18; 9:18; 21:16 where the word dead is Rephaim in the Hebrew Bible. See notes, Isa. 26:14, 19

3 The fact that giants came only from a union of sons of God and daughters of men proves that their fathers were not ordinary men of the Adamite stock. No such monstrosities have been nor can be produced from a union of any ordinary men and woman, regardless of how righteous the father is or how wicked the mother is. Many converted men who are sons of God in the sense of adoption and righteousness through Christ, have been married to unconverted women, and no such offspring the size of Bible giants has ever resulted from these unions. If, as some teach, giants were born of such unions both before and after the flood, then why do not such marriages produce that kind of offspring today? Why did this happen in every case then and in no case today?

4 God's law of reproduction from the beginning has been everything after his own kind. It was not possible then, that giants could be produced by men and women (1:11-12, 21, 24-25; 8:19) of ordinary size. It took the supernatural element, the purpose and power of Satan and his angels to make offspring of such extra size within the human species. After the variation of the species, which had to do with size only, and when giants had come into being, they then produced others of like size instead of ordinary sized men (Num. 13:33; 2 Sam. 21:16, 18, 20, 22; 1 Chr. 20:4-8)

5 Not only is it unscriptural but unhistorical to teach that giants came from the union of ordinary men and women. The great question has been: Where did giants get their start? Gen. 6:4 makes it clear - from a union of the sons of God and daughters of men. If the sons of God were ordinary men in the same sense that the daughters of men were ordinary women, then we must conclude 4 things

(1) That ungodly women have the power to produce such monsters if married to godly men. Or,

(2) That godly men have the power to produce giants when married to ungodly women

(3) That a mixture of godliness and wickedness produces giants

(4) That extreme wickedness on the part of either parent will produce giant offspring

All 4 conclusions are wrong however, as proved every day by the marriages of unconverted persons with the converted and the producing of offspring through the union of a wicked parent and a godly one. Thus, the theory that giants came from the marriage of Seth's sons with Cain's daughters is disproved

6 The sons of God could not have been the sons of Seth or other godly men for the following 7 reasons:

(1) There were no men godly enough to be saved during the Antediluvian Age except Abel (4:4; Heb. 11:4), Enoch (5:21-24; Heb. 11:5), and Noah (6:8; 7:1; Heb. 11:7), as far as Scripture records are concerned. Shall we conclude that these 3 men were the sons of God who married the daughters of Cain and produced races of giants in the earth in those days before the flood (6:4)? We have no record of any such marriage or offspring of Abel before he was murdered. Regarding Enoch, are we to believe that Methuselah and his other children were the giants? Are we to believe that Noah's 3 sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth were giants? If so, where is our authority for this? Had this been true, there would have been nothing on earth after the flood but giants born of Noah's giant sons, for by his children the whole earth was then replenished (10:1-32). That would cause another unsolved mystery - how giants became ordinary sized men again

(2) The time of the marriages of the sons of God disproves the theory that they were the sons of Seth. Marriages of Seth's sons could not have taken place during the first 325 years, for he had only one son of marriageable age up to that time (5:1-8) and he (Enos) was not godly. See note f, 4:26. To say there were no such marriages before Enos would contradict Gen. 6:1-2 which shows that sons of God married daughters of men when such daughters began to be born. Shall we conclude that daughters were not born in the first 325 years? If so, then where did Cain, Seth and others get their wives?

Furthermore, such marriages between godly sons and ungodly daughters could not have been during the last 600 years before the flood, because Noah was the only son of God by righteousness during this time (6:8-9; 7:1; 2 Pet. 2:4-5). His sons were preserved in the ark because of being pure Adamite stock and not because of personal righteousness. The foregoing facts then, would limit these marriages to the 731 years between the first 325 years and the last 600 of the Antediluvian Age; whereas, sons of God actually married daughters of men throughout the entire 1,656 years of that age. Gen. 6:1-2 makes it clear that this happened "when men began to multiply on the face of the earth"

(3) Gen. 6:4 teaches that there were giants on the earth in those days (before the flood), and also after that (after those days which were before the flood) as a result of the sons of God marrying the daughters of men. If, as is taught, the sons of God were the sons of Seth, we can account for them after that (after the flood), for the line of Seth was continued through Noah. But, with the daughters of Cain (supposed to be the daughters of men), the story is different. Cain's line perished in the flood, both men and women, which means there were no daughters of Cain after the flood, for sons of God to marry

(4) The Bible gives us no reason to believe that the statement "the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair" should be limited to Cain's daughters. Other families had daughters too, thousands of families which made up the many branches of the race both before and after the flood. These were daughters of men, too. In the 1,656 years before the flood (which is the period in which Seth and Cain lived), there must have been from 150,000,000 to 500,000,000 people. It is unbelievable that so many as half of these were godly and half ungodly; and we know that they were not limited to two lines - the line of Seth and the line of Cain. Regarding Seth's daughters we have reason to believe that they were as fair as the daughters of Cain - beautiful enough to attract men as husbands for themselves. The line of Seth alone survived the flood, so we know this is true. Gen. 6:1-2 therefore, cannot be said to refer only to the daughters of Cain; and the term daughters of men cannot be limited to mean only the daughters of Cain

(5) The very expressions, sons of God and daughters of men, indicate two different kinds - one the product of God, the other the product of man. Seth was not God, so why call the sons of God the sons of Seth?

(6) It is a matter of record that Seth's children were as ungodly as Cain's. The first-born of Seth even started idolatry, as proved in note f, 4:26

(7) With the exception of Noah and his family all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth, before the flood (6:12), which means the entire race (besides Noah's family) had become a mixture of fallen angels and men, or giants. Only Noah and his family had preserved their pedigree pure from Adam; and this is really why they were saved in the ark. They were the only ones capable of giving the race a new, clean start after the flood. It is said of Noah that he was a just man and perfect in his generations (6:9). The word for perfect in the Heb. is tamim, which means without blemish. It is the technical word for bodily perfection, and not moral perfection. Hence, it is used of the sacrificial animals of the O.T. which had to be of pure stock and without blemish (Ex. 12:5; 29:1; Lev. 1:3; 3:1-6; 4:3, 23-32; 5:15-18; 6:6; 9:2-3; Ezek. 43:22-25; 45:18-23); without spot (Num. 19:2; 28:3-11; 29:17, 26); and undefiled (Ps. 119:1). The use of this word in connection with Noah means that he and his sons were the only pure Adamites left, and for such purity they (regardless of the sons' position in personal holiness) were all preserved in the ark

Proofs the sons of God were angels

Since it cannot possibly be that the sons of God who married the daughters of men and produced giants by them, were the sons of Seth or godly men marrying ungodly women, then it must be that the sons of Gen. 6 were fallen angels. That this is true is clear from many scriptures, as follows:

1 The expression sons of God is found only 5 times in the O.T. and every time it is used of angels (6:1-4; Job 1:6; 2:1; 38:7). It is indisputable that the passages in Job refer to angels. Dan. 3:25, 28 calls an angel the son of God. Is it not possible then, that the sons of God of Gen. 6 could be angels?

2 Some translations, as the Septuagint, Moffat, and others read, angels of God in Gen. 6:1-4, which is the only idea that will harmonize with facts in the passage itself, as well as many other passages

3 Josephus says, "many angels of God accompanied with women, and begat sons that proved unjust, and despisers of all that was good, on account of their own strength.... these men did what resembled the acts of those whom the Grecians called giants" (Ant. Book I, ch. 3). Again, he says, "There was till then left the race of giants, who had bodies so large, and countenances so entirely different from other men, that they were surprising to the sight, and terrible to the hearing. The bones of these men are still shown to this very day" (Ant. Book V, ch. 2)

4 The Ante-Nicene Fathers also refer to angels as falling "into impure love of virgins, and were subjugated by the flesh.... Of these lovers of virgins, therefore, were begotten those who are called giants" (Vol. 2, p. 142; Vol. 8, p. 85, 273). Justyn Martyr, 110-165 A.D., says, "But the angels transgressed... were captivated by love of women, and begat children" (Vol. 2, p. 190). Methodius, 260-312 A.D., says, "the devil was insolent.... as also those (angels) who were enamoured of fleshly charms, and had illicit intercourse with the daughters of men" (Vol. 6, p. 370)

5 Both testaments of the Bible teach that some angels committed sex sins and lived contrary to nature. Gen. 6:1-4 gives the history of such sinning. In 2 Pet. 2:4-5 we have the statement that angels did sin before the flood and for their sin were cast down to hell to be reserved until judgment. This passage does not reveal that the sin was fornication, but Jude 6-7 does, saying: "the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day. Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them in like manner (as did the angels), giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire." If Sodom, Gomorrha and other cities lived contrary to nature and committed fornication, as the angels did, then it is clear that the sin of angels was that of fornication. According to Gen. 6 this sex sin was committed with "daughters of men." See notes on 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7

6 The one scripture used to teach that angels are sexless, which is Mt. 22:30, does not say that they are. It states that "In the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven." The purpose of this verse is to show that men and women who have part in the resurrection do not marry, nor do they need to, in order to keep their kind in existence. In the resurrected state they live forever, but not as sexless beings. The Bible teaches that every person will continue bodily as he was born, in all eternity. Paul said that everyone will have his own body in the resurrection (1 Cor. 15:35-38). If one is a male he will continue as such with all his bodily parts. If one is a female in this life she will be resurrected as such even though her body is changed from mortality to immortality, and is called a spiritual body (1 Cor. 15:35-54). There is nothing in the resurrection to uncreate men and women. Christ remained a man after His resurrection and so will all other males

Throughout Scripture angels are spoken of as men. No female angels are on record. It is logical to say then, that the female was created specifically for the human race in order that it could be kept in existence; and that all angels were created males, inasmuch as their kind is kept in existence without the reproduction process. Angels were created innumerable to start with (Heb. 12:22) whereas, the human multitudes began with one pair, Adam and Eve who were commanded to reproduce and thereby make the multitudes. That angels have tangible spirit bodies with bodily parts, appear as men, and have performed acts equal to and surpassing those of the human male is clear from many passages. See note n, Heb. 13:2

The fact that some angels "kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation," as stated in Jude 6 to commit sin makes it somewhat understandable how a sex sin could be accomplished by them. The Gr. for habitation is oiketerion. It is used only twice in Scripture and then concerning the bodies of men being changed to spiritual bodies (2 Cor. 5:2), and the angels having a bodily change, or at least a lowering of themselves in some way (Jude 6-7). This, in the N.T. helps explain the history of the O.T. concerning the angels living contrary to their nature and producing giants "when the sons of God (angels) came in unto (had relationship with) the daughters of men" as Gen. 6:4 says and other passages confirm. See notes on 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7 and Angels in the Index for many facts about them

7 There are 2 classes of fallen angels - those loose with Satan who will be cast down to earth during the future tribulation (Rev. 12:7-12), and those who are now bound in hell for committing what the Bible calls fornication (2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6-7). Had the ones in hell not committed the additional sin of fornication, they would still be loose, with the others, to help Satan in the future. Their present confinement proves they committed a sin besides that of original rebellion with Satan. That it was sex sin is clear from 2 Pet. 2:4 and Jude 6-7, which fact identifies this class of fallen angels as the sons of God of Gen. 6:1-4

8 In 1 Pet. 3:19-20 we see that Christ "went and preached unto the spirits in prison; Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing". Who are these spirits in prison, if not the confined angels who once lived contrary to their nature - in sin with the daughters of men (Gen. 6:1-4)? We read "Who maketh his angels spirits" (Ps. 104:4; Heb. 1:13-14). If angels are spirits, we can then conclude that the imprisoned ones Christ preached to were angels and the sons of God referred to in Gen. 6, especially since they "were disobedient... in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing." The very purpose of Noah's flood was to destroy the giant offspring of these angels known as the sons of God who "came in unto the daughters of men." See 10 proofs spirits are angels, p. 269 of N.T.

The purpose of Satan in producing giants

It was the purpose of Satan and his fallen angels to corrupt the human race and thereby do away with pure Adamite stock through whom the seed of the woman should come. This would avert their own doom and make it possible for Satan and his kingdom to keep control of the planet earth indefinitely. It was said to Adam and Eve that the seed of the woman should defeat Satan and restore man's dominion (Gen. 3:15). The only way then, for Satan to avoid this predicted defeat was to corrupt the pure Adamite line so that the coming of the seed of the woman into the world would be made impossible. This, he tried to accomplish by sending some of his fallen angels to marry the daughters of men as in Gen. 6:1-4, and producing the giant nations through them

There are two such eruptions of fallen angels taught in Gen. 6:4: There were giants in the earth in those days (before the flood); and also after that (after the flood), when the sons of God (fallen angels) came in unto the daughters of men (any daughters of men - Cain, Seth and others), and they bare children to them (to the angels)

Satan almost succeeded in his plan during the first eruption, for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth; and of all the multitudes Noah and his sons were the only pure Adamites left to be preserved by the ark (Gen. 6:8-13; 1 Pet. 3:19-20). The main object of the flood was to do away with all this satanic corruption, destroy the giants, and preserve the pure Adamite stock so as to make good the guarantee of the coming of the seed of the woman, as in the plan of God

Being defeated before the flood did not stop Satan from making a further attempt to prevent the coming of the Redeemer who should be his final downfall. It was now to his advantage that God had promised never to send another universal flood upon the earth. Satan therefore reasoned that he should make a second attempt to do away with Adamite stock. If he came within "eight souls" of doing it before the flood his opportunities were now even greater, with the promise that there would be no such flood. This is the reason for the second group of his fallen angels being sent to marry the daughters of men. Once again, the unions produced giants, and races of them occupied the land of promise, where the seed should be born, in advance of Abraham. Limited by His promise of no flood, God was then faced with the problem of destroying the giant races another way. This explains why He commanded Israel to kill them every-one, even to the last man, woman and child. This again explains why He destroyed all the men, women and children besides Noah and his family, at the time of the flood. It also answers the skeptics question regarding why the children were taken away with the adults in the flood. God had to do away with this corruption entirely in order to fulfill His eternal plan and give the world its promised Redeemer. The Redeemer has come now, and so Satan is reserving his forces for a last stand at the 2nd coming of Christ

Thus it is clear from Scripture that there were giants in the earth both before and after the flood and that they came from a union of fallen angels and the daughters of men

44 appearances of God (17:22):

1 His forming man and animals out of the dust and Eve out of Adam's rib indicates visible presence of God in the days of recreation (Gen. 2:7, 19-25). According to Gen. 2:21 the Lord God "took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof," which would surely require His presence with Adam at that time

2 Adam and Eve saw God in visible form, after they had sinned, and hid themselves from Him "amongst the trees of the garden" because "they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden" (Gen. 3:8-19). They could not hide behind a tree from God in His invisible presence which is everywhere

3 Cain saw God in visible form, for he could not have been driven out of invisible presence which is with everyone everywhere (Gen. 4:6, 9, 16)

4 It is clear from Gen. 11:5 that God appeared on earth at the time of the tower of Babel, for it says, "the Lord came down to see the city and the tower"

5 Abraham was blessed with several appearances of God. The first recorded appearance is in Gen. 12:7 which says, "the Lord appeared unto Abram"

6 In Gen. 17:1-22 "the Lord appeared to Abram,... and God went up from Abraham"

7 In Gen. 18:1 "the Lord appeared unto him in the plains of Mamre." Verse 2 says Abraham "lift up his eyes and looked, and low, three men stood by him." These proved to be the Lord and two angels (Gen. 18:22; 19:1); and he could see them. Other statements in chapter 18 prove a visible appearance: "Let water be fetched, and wash your feet" (v 4); "he took butter, and milk, and the calf he had dressed and set it before them... and they did eat" (v 8); "the men rose up from thence, and looked toward Sodom: and Abraham went with them to bring them on the way" (v 16); "the Lord said, Because the cry of Sodom and Gomorrah is great... I will go down now, and see" (v 20-21); "Abraham stood yet before the Lord. And Abraham drew near, and said" (v 22-23); "And the Lord went his way... and Abraham returned unto his place" (v 33)

8 God appeared to Isaac and confirmed the Abrahamic covenant with him, as is clear from Gen. 26:2-4. Verse 2 states, "the Lord appeared unto him"

9 He appeared again to Isaac, reminding him of the covenant (Gen. 26:24)

10 He appeared to Jacob and confirmed the Abrahamic covenant with him (Gen. 28:12-15 with 35:1)

11 God wrestled with Jacob bodily as seen in Gen. 32:24-32. That this was a bodily appearance of God is proved in verse 30 where Jacob said, "I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved"

12 Jacob experienced another visible visitation of God as recorded in Gen. 35:9-15. Verse 9 states, "And God appeared unto Jacob again"

13 The Lord appeared to Moses "In a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush" (Ex. 3:1-4; Acts 7:30-34). This is one of many instances in the Bible where the record uses "the angel of the Lord" for God, Himself. Whereas Ex. 3:2 says "the angel," v 4 says "the Lord saw... God called out of the bush. See Angels, p. 6 32

14 The Lord "came down upon mount Sinai," to give the 10 commandments "in the sight of all the people" (Ex. 19:11-24; Dt. 5:4, 22-29)

15 Of the leaders of Israel, 74 (including Moses and Aaron) saw God and ate with Him on Sinai (Ex. 24:1-11)

16 Moses saw God again on Sinai face to face (Ex. 24:12-18)

17 In Ex. 33:9-11 we read of God talking with Moses as he entered the tabernacle. Verse 11 says, "the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend." Even the heathen had knowledge of God being seen face to face (Num. 14:14)

18 In Ex. 33:12-23 we learn of the time when Moses asked to see God's glory (v 18). Instead of His bodily form apart from His glory which he had already seen many times, God refused to show him His glory as expressed in His face but said Moses might see it as expressed in "my back parts" (v 23)

19 Moses saw God another time as recorded in Ex. 34:5-9. Verse 5 says, "the Lord descended in the cloud, and stood with him there"

20 God appeared to Moses and all Israel as recorded in Lev. 9:23-24. Verse 24 says, "there came a fire out from before (not down from) the Lord, and consumed upon the altar." This indicates a visible presence

21 In Lev. 10:1-2 it is stated that "there went out fire from the Lord" to devour wicked priests who "offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not"

22 According to Num. 12:4-5 "the Lord came down... and stood in the door of the tabernacle" to be seen and heard by Moses, Miriam and Aaron

23 In Dt. 31:2, 15-16 we find that when Moses was 120 years old, which was at the time of his death (Dt. 34:5-7) the Lord appeared to him

24 "God came unto Balaam at night" to instruct him and warn him (Num. 22:20)

25 "The ass saw the angel of the Lord standing in the way... his sword drawn (Num. 22:23)

26 Again "the ass saw the angel of the Lord" standing "in a path of the vineyards (Num. 22:24-25)

27 Still again the ass saw "the angel of the Lord" who "went further, and stood in a narrow place" (Num. 22:26-27)

28 When "the Lord opened the eyes of Balaam... he saw the angel of the Lord" as recorded in Num. 22:31-38. That this was an appearance of God is evident from the fact that in verse 35 it says, "the angel of the Lord said unto Balaam... only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak;" and in verse 38 it says, "Balaam said... the word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak"

29 According to Num. 23:3-10 "God met Balaam" and gave him words to speak

30 Again, as recorded in Num. 23:16-24 "the Lord met Balaam, and put a word in his mouth"

31 Joshua saw God in a visible body, having a "sword drawn in his hand" (Josh. 5:13-15). That He received worship when "Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and did worship," proves the visible presence was God. Cp. Rev. 19:10; 22:8-9 where worship was refused

32 God appeared to Israel to rebuke them for sin (Judg. 2:1-5)

33 The Lord appeared to Gideon and "sat under an oak" in visible form as recorded in Judg. 6:11-23. While in verse 11 He is called "an angel of the Lord," in verses 14 and 16 He is plainly called "the Lord"

34 He appeared to Manoah's wife and predicted Samson's birth (Judg. 13:3-7)

35 He appeared to Manoah and his wife together, in answer to prayer as seen in Judg. 13:8-23. That this was an appearance of God in visible form is clear from verse 22 which says, "Manoah said unto his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God

36 God appeared to Samuel and called him to be a prophet, as seen in 1 Sam. 3:10 which says, "the Lord came, and stood, and called"

37 He appeared again to Samuel, for 1 Sam. 3:21 says, "And the Lord appeared again in Shiloh"

38 In 1 Ki. 19:11-18 we see that Elijah saw the Lord when he stood "upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by"

39 From 1 Chr. 21:16-17 we learn that David saw the Lord, for whereas verse 16 says David "saw the angel of the Lord," verse 17 calls Him "God." Referring to the place of this appearance, 2 Chr. 3:1 says, "where the Lord appeared unto David"

40 God appeared to Job who said, "I have heard of thee... but now mine eye seeth thee" (Job 42:5)

41 God appeared to Isaiah in the temple, for in Isa. 6 he testified, "I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple"

42 Amos declared (In Amos 9:1), "I saw the Lord standing upon the altar"

43 Acts 7:54-60 shows that Stephen saw "Jesus standing on the right hand of God"

44 John saw both God and the glorified Christ in the reception of Revelation (Rev. 4:2-11; 5:1-13; 6:16; 7:9-17; 8:3-5; 11:16; 12:5; 14:1-5; 19:1-10; 21:3-7; 22:1-5). In Rev. 1:10-18 we read of an appearance of Christ, for in verse 11 John speaks of a voice saying, "I am Alpha and Omega," and in verses 12 and 13 he says, "I turned to see the voice that spake... I saw seven golden candlesticks; And in the midst... one like unto the Son of man"

Besides the above appearances the prophets saw God, His shape, His body (like that of a man), His hair, eyes, and other bodily parts, His clothing, and His chariot throne drawn by cherubim in visions. Ezekiel saw Him (Ezek. 1:2-28; 8:1-4; 9:1-4; 10:1-5, 7-22; 40:1-4, 6, 8-9, 11, 13-14, 17, 19, 24, 28, 32, 35, 45, 47-48; 41:1, 4-5, 13, 15; 42:1, 13, 15-20; 43:1-7); Daniel saw Him (Dan. 7:9-14; 10:5-9); Zechariah saw Him (Zech. 1:8-20; 2:1-13; 3:1-2; 4:1-5; 5:2-5, 10; 6:4-5). We have reasons to believe that Enoch, Noah and others also saw God, for they walked with Him and received specific instructions from Him (Gen. 5:22-24; 6:8-9; Heb. 11:5-7; Jude 14-15). Furthermore, on a number of occasions the glory of the Lord appeared to Moses and Israel and they saw it and heard God's voice from it. This was more than an invisible presence (Num. 14:10-12; 16:19-30, 41-50; 20:6-13, etc.). In view of the above definite appearances of God to men, the often quoted passage - "No man hath seen God at any time" (Jn. 1:18) - can only be understood to mean that no man has seen Him face to face in His glory and comprehended Him fully as "the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father," and "hath declared him." In 1 Tim. 6:16 we read of the Godhead "dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto" but appearances God chooses to make apart from this light, man can approach unto. Humans have experienced this many times, both seeing and hearing God

EXODUS

Israel in Egypt - The Exodus - Mosaic and Healing Covenants - Journeys - Events - Tabernacle and Priesthood

a Now, literally And, connects this book to the preceding one - Genesis, and records the fulfillment of Gen. 15:13-16; 46:3-4; 50:24. Both Leviticus and Numbers begin the same way, proving that the Pentateuch was originally one book

b Heb, ve-elleh shemoth, these are the names. This is the Heb. title of the book; the Eng. title is from the Septuagint - Gr. Exodus, going out, or departure - because it records the going out of Israel from Egypt, 35 times in this one book Israel is spoken of as going out of Egypt. It is the book of redemption (6:6; 15:13); hence, the work of redemption by Christ is called His exodus (decease, going out of the world; Lk. 9:31)

c The names here are of those that came into Egypt and those that came out of the loins of Jacob (v 1, 5), referring to the same 70 souls as in note k, Gen. 46:27

d See Gen. 37:28-36; 39:1-50:26

e See Gen. 50:26

f 5 facts about Israel (v 7):
1 Fruitful (Gen. 17:6; 26:22; 28:3; 35:11; 41:52; 48:4; 49:22)
2 Increased abundantly (Gen. 30:43)
3 Multiplied (Gen. 16:10; 17:2; 22:17; 26:4,24; 28:3; 35:11; 47:27; 48:4) 18) 4 Waxed exceeding mighty (Gen. 18:
5 The land was filled with them (v 7) Points 1, 3, 5 are fulfillments of prophecy to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob g Heb. kum, stood up, stand up in place of another who is removed (Dan. 2:39)

h A fresh or new dynasty. The founder was the Assyrian of Isa. 52:4 who conquered Egypt: perhaps Rameses II, whose son Meneptah would be the Pharaoh of the exodus

i Joseph died 144 years before Israel left Egypt or 64 years before Moses was born. The king who started enslaving Israel reigned during the last part of this 64 years, for when Moses was born his policy was in force (v 8-22; 2:1-9), it would be his daughter that brought up Moses. His son could have been reigning when Moses came back from the desert to deliver Israel

j This policy was just the opposite of true wisdom and really caused the downfall and ruin of Egypt. He brought up, educated, and prepared the very man that did what he feared. Cp. Isa. 19:11, 13; Ps. 78:12-13

k Heb. sarey missim, chiefs of tribute, burdens, or works. They were the alloters of work and exactors of tribute, which they collected from Israel. They were men of rank, superintendents of public works

l Heb. anah, to browbeat, depress, afflict, chasten, abuse (v 11-12; Gen. 15:13; Ex. 3:7, 17; 4:31; Acts 7:11, 34)

m Store-cities or public granaries and depots of war provisions. Cp. 1 Ki. 9:19; 2 Chr. 8:4; 32:28 Patumos n The city of the god Tum, called o So called because built by Rameses II; capital of Goshen. It is also called On and Heliopolis, the city of the Sun p It is an unwritten law that persecution strengthens a people, a nation, or a church. Afflicted people always find ways and means of resistence until they become strong enough to overthrow their tormentors (v 12). It is a known fact that persecution has always caused the church to grow (Acts 2:13, 41; 4:1-37; 5:1-42; 7:54-8:3; 9:21)

q Filled with alarm at their growth

r Heb. perek, to break apart. They were crushing and ferocious in their oppression of Israel until their lives were made bitter (v 13-14). Cp. Lev. 25:43, 46, 53

s 7fold labor of the Israelites (v 14):
1 Digging the clay for making bricks
2 Kneading clay to proper consistency
3 Taking clay to brick molds
4 Forming the bricks
5 Drying them in the sun
6 Carrying them to building places
7 Building cities out of bricks

t An old tradition says that Pharaoh dreamed of a balance with all of Egypt on one scale and a lamb on the other which outweighed Egypt. The magicians interpreted this to mean that a child was soon to be born in Israel that would destroy the whole of Egypt

51 CHAPTER 1

I Israel in Egypt. 1 The old generation (Gen. 46:8)

NOW [a]these are the [c]names of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, which came into E'gўpt; every man and his household came with Jā'cob.

2 Reu'ben, Sĭm'e-on, Lē'vĭ, and Jū'dah,

3 Is'sa-char, Zĕb'u-lŭn, and Bĕn'ja-mĭn,

4 Dăn, and Năph'ta-lĭ, Gād, and Ash'ĕr.

5 And all the souls that came out of the loins of Jā'cob were seventy souls: [d]for Jō'ṣeph was in E'gўpt already.

6 And [e]Jō'ṣeph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

2 The Egyptian bondage (Gen. 15:12-14; Acts 7:18-19)

7 ¶ And the [f]children of Iṣ'ra-el were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them.

8 Now there [g]arose up a [h]new king over E'gўpt, which [i]knew not Jō'ṣeph.

9 And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Iṣ'ra-el are more and mightier than we:

10 Come on, [j]let us deal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land.

11 Therefore they did set over them [k]taskmasters to [l]afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Phā'raōh [m]treasure cities, [n]Pi'thom and [o]Rā-ăm'sēs.

12 [p]But the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew. And they [q]were grieved because of the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

13 And the E-gўp'tians made the children of Iṣ'ra-el to serve with [r]rigour:

14 And they made their lives bitter with hard bondage, [s]in morter, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

3 Male children destroyed (Acts 7:19; Heb. 11:23)

15 ¶ And [t]the king of E'gўpt spake [u]to the Hē'brew midwives, of which the name of the one was Shĭph'rah, and the name of the other Pū'ah:

16 And he said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hē'brew women, and see them upon the [v]stools; if it be a son, then ye shall [w]kill him: but if it be a daughter, then she shall live.

17 But the midwives [x]feared [y]God, and did not as the king of E'gўpt commanded them, [z]but saved the men children alive.

18 And the king of E'gўpt called for the midwives, and said unto them, [a]Why have ye done this thing, and have saved the men children alive?

19 And the midwives said unto Phā'raōh, [b]Because the Hē'brew women are not as the E-gўp'tian women; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them.

20 Therefore God dealt well with the midwives: and [c]the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty.

21 And it came to pass, because the midwives feared God, that he [d]made them houses.

22 And Phā'raōh [e]charged all his people, saying, Every son that is [f]born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive.

CHAPTER 2 52

II Preparation for deliverance (Ex. 2:1-4:31; Acts 7:20-38. 1 Moses born and hid by faith (Heb. 11:23-28)

AND there went a [g]man of the house of Lē'vĭ, and took to wife a daughter of Lē'vĭ.

2 And the woman conceived, and [h]bare a son: and when she saw him that he was a [i]goodly child, [j]she hid him three months.

2 Moses revealed by faith: sister watching (Heb. 11:23)

3 And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an [k]ark of bulrushes, [l]and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and [m]put the child therein; and she laid it in the [n]flags by the river's brink.

4 And [o]his sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him.

3 Moses discovered: sister interposing - faith rewarded

5 ¶ And the daughter of Phā'raōh came down [p]to wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.

6 And when she had opened it, she saw the child: and, behold, the babe wept. And she had [q]compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hē'brews' children.

7 Then said his sister to Phā'raōh's daughter, [r]Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hē'brew women, that she may nurse the child for thee?

8 And Phā'raōh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother.

9 And Phā'raōh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it.

4 Moses named and adopted a Question 1, Next, 2:7

b This answer was literally true, for both men and women in Israel were forced to do hard labor in the field (v 14); and while it was hard for Egyptian women (who were delicate, soft, and unused to labor) to give birth to children, it was easy for Hebrew women who were strong and healthy. Perhaps many did not even need or have the service of a mid-wife (v 19) c With the blessing of God the Hebrew women were fruitful, had safe and easy travails, and produced many healthy children. God simply fulfilled what He had promised Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob many times - to make their seed as the sand, as the dust, and as the stars innumerable. See note f, v 7

d God blessed the homes of the midwives, gave them many children, and made their families great (v 21)

e Pharaoh's people were commanded to kill all the male children of the Hebrews, not their own sons (v 22)

f Some versions add to the Hebrews after the word born, thus limiting the destruction of males to Israel, as in v 15-19

g See Amram, p. 109

h This was her 2nd son and 3rd child (v 4; 6:18-20; 15:20-21; Num. 12). Moses was the 7th from Abraham, the line being: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Levi, Kohath, Amram, Moses. Abraham was the 7th from Heber, the line being: Heber, Peleg, Reu, Serug, Nahor, Terah, Abraham (Gen. 11:16-26). Enoch was the 7th from Adam, the line being: Adam, Seth, Enos, Cainan, Mahaleel, Jared, Enoch (Gen. 5:1-18; Jude 14)

i Heb. towb, beautiful; fair. He was perfectly beautiful, well-formed, and exceeding fair (Acts 7:20) and a proper child (Heb. 11:23). This very fact caused him to be wanted by Pharaoh's daughter (v 2, 6)

j The parents evidently had God's word (Rom. 10:17), which they believed (Heb. 11:23), so did as He instructed in hiding the child for 3 months, then placed him where the princess of Egypt would see him (v 3-6) k Heb. tebah, a box; ark. Used of Noah's ark 26 times (Gen. 6:14-9:18) and 2 times here (v 3, 5). This one was a small boat made of the papyrus reeds of the Nile. This reed grows 10 to 15 ft. high above the marsh water. Its pith was used for food and the wood part to make boats (Isa. 18:2). It was also used for paper (Isa. 19:7). Many thousands of writings on papyri leaves are being found today, which date back 2,000 to 3,000 years ago

l Like Noah's ark, it was made by divine command (v 3; Rom. 10:17; Heb. 11:23)

m The papyrus reeds of another species, less in size and height than the paper reed n Miriam, who was older than Aaron (7:7)

o It was customary with Egyptian women of rank to bathe in public with their maids. The Nile was honored as a sacred river p In this act lay the defeat of Satan, the preservation of a nation, the fulfillment of prophecy, and the furtherance of God's plan concerning the coming of the Seed of the woman (Gen. 3:15; 12:1-3; 15:13-16; 46:3-4; 50:24)

q Question 2, Next, v 13. This was divinely timed and arranged (v 7-9), God worked it out so that his own mother brought up the very child that was to defeat Pharaoh and Egypt; and she received pay for it (v 9). Moses' parents evidently lived near-by, and his mother knew of the habits and character of the princess, so placed him where she would find him u These were perhaps the head midwives over all the others in Israel. It is estimated that there were 500 to 1,000 midwives in Israel v This either refers to special birth-stools or to a stone trough where babies were washed at the time of birth

w This was another attempt of Satan to destroy all the males of Israel so the Messiah could not come to bruise his head (Gen. 3:15; Rom. 16:20)

x They knew this was sin and that it would incur the death penalty (Gen. 9:6) a Age of Moses at adoption, p. 109 b Josephus gives her name as Thermuthis, and says she adopted Moses to make him her father's successor as ruler of Egypt c Moses means drawn out (v 10), and comes from the same root word as in 2 Sam.22:17; Ps. 18:16. Moses, the great law-giver and leader of Israel, is mentioned 813 times in Scripture. See his history in Ex. 2:10-Dt. 34:12

d At this time Moses was 40 years old (Acts 7:23-24). He thought his brethren would understand that God had called him to deliver them, but it took 40 more years and many miracles from God to convince them (4:1-12:51; Acts 7:22-29). The waiting period gave time for the remainder of the last 215 years of the sojourn of Israel to be fulfilled e The Egyptian might have killed the Hebrew; so Moses thought it proper to avenge him according to the law of Gen. 9:6
f It is a regrettable state when men who have a common foe will fight each other g Questions 3-5, Next, v 18
h Six acts of Moses in Egypt, p. 109
i The land of Midian included the eastern coast of the Red Sea to the borders of Moab, taking in all the Arabian peninsula. Midian was the 4th son of Abraham and Keturah (Gen. 25:1-7)
j This happened to be the well of Jethro, called Reuel (v 18), Raguel (Num. 10:29), Jethro (3:1), and Hobab (Judg. 4:11) - the priest of Midian (v 16; 3:1) k Jethro was chief of a large tribe and as such exercised the right of priestly functions for his people, as did Melchizedek (Gen.14) and Job (Job 1). What Moses learned from Jethro is not stated, but they had common knowledge of their ancestors and many traditions of the family of Abraham, from whom both had descended - one through Isaac and Jacob, and the other through Midian (Gen.25:1-7). It is supposed that during this 40-year period Moses wrote the books of Genesis and Job. See Summary of these books l Jethro had 7 daughters who kept his flock. They sometimes had difficulty with shepherds of other flocks, so on this occasion Moses defended them and helped them water their father's flock (v 16-17). Jethro had at least one son, Hobab (Num. 10:29)
m The shepherds drove the flocks of Jethro away, so as to use the water drawn by his daughters for their own flocks. Moses resented this and helped the girls so they could go home sooner than usual (v 17-18)
n Question 6, Next, v 20
o This implies that the daughters had been having trouble with the shepherds of v 17 in the past and had kept quiet about it to their father for some unknown reason p Moses perhaps looked like an Egyptian in dress and in being shaved according to the custom of Egypt (note o, Gen. 41:14)
q Why Jethro had not done anything to correct this interference of his daughters by the shepherds is not explainable, except that he did not know because they refrained from telling him about it
r Questions 7-8, Next, 3:11
s This again demonstrates the hospitality of the East. It was always customary to care for strangers. Cp. Heb. 13:2
t Marriage of Moses, p. 109 u Gershom means a stranger here (v 22). Following this verse in a number of MSS we find, "And the name of the second he called Eliezer, for God of my father has been my help, and delivered me from the hand of Pharaoh." These words are as necessary here as they are in 18:4 to make the record clear concerning 2 sons which are mentioned in 4:20
v This (v 23) marks the real beginning of the history of the exodus. The king who started the destruction of the males in Israel was now dead, and his son, the one who was later drowned in the Red Sea, was king. The events of 1:8-2:22 covered a period of over 80 years (Acts 7:22-29). During the last 40 years Moses was in training for the work of the next 40 years

(Acts 7:21-22; Heb. 11:24-26)

10 And the [c]child grew, and she brought him unto Phā'-raōh's [d]daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name [c]Mō'sēs: and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.

5 Moses self-sent: failure (Acts 7:23-25; Heb. 11:24-26)

11 ¶ And it came to pass in those days, [d]when Mō'sēs was grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: and he spied an Ĕ-gўp'tian smiting an Hē'-brew, one of his brethren.

12 And he looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, [e]he slew the Ĕ-gўp'tian, and hid him in the sand.

13 And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hē'brews [f]strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, [g]Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?

14 And he said, Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Ĕ-gўp'tian? And Mō'ses feared, and said, Surely this thing is known.

6 Moses flees by faith (Acts 7:29; Heb. 11:27)

15 Now when Phā'raōh heard this thing, he sought to slay Mō'sēs. [h]But Mō'ses fled from the face of Phā'raōh, and dwelt in [i]the land of Mĭd'ĭ-an: and he sat down by [j]a well.

7 Moses meets his wife (Cp. Jacob's experience, Gen. 29)

16 Now the [k]priest of Mĭd'ĭ-an had [l]seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock.

17 And the shepherds came and [m]drove them away: but Mō'ses stood up and helped them, and watered their flock.

18 And when they came to Reu'el their father, he [n]said, How is it that [o]ye are come so soon to day?

19 And they said, [p]An Ĕ-gўp'tian [q]delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and also drew water enough for us, and watered the flock.

8 Family of Moses (Ex. 4:20, 25; 18:1-27; Num. 12:1)

20 And he said unto his daughters, And [r]where is he? why is it that ye have left the man? call him, [s]that he may eat bread.

21 And Mō'ses was content to dwell with the man: and [t]he gave Mō'sēs Zĭp-pō'rah his daughter.

22 And she bare him a son, and he called his name [u]Gēr'-shōm: for he said, I have been a stranger in a strange land.

9 The God of Moses

23 ¶ And [v]it came to pass in process of time, that the king of Ĕ'gўpt died: and the children of Is'ra-el [a]sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry [b]came up unto God by reason of the bondage.

24 And God [c]heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Ā'brā-hām, with Ī'saac, and with Jā'cob.

25 And God looked upon the children of Is'ra-el, and God had respect unto them.

53 CHAPTER 3

10 Call and commission of Moses (Ex. 3:14; 4:2, 11, 14, 19, 21; 6:10, 13, 28; 7:8)

NOW Mō'sēs kept the flock of Jĕth'rō his father in law, the priest of Mĭd'ĭ-an: and he led the flock to [d]the backside of the desert, and came to [e]the mountain of God, even to Hō'reb.

2 And [f]the angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush [g]was not consumed.

3 And Mō'sēs said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

4 And when the LORD saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and [h]said, Mō'sēs, Mō'sēs. And he said, Here am I.

●5 And [i]he said, Draw not nigh hither: [k]put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is [l]holy ground.

6 Moreover he said, [m]I am the God of thy father, the God of Ā'brā-hām, the God of Ī'saac, and the God of Jā'cob. And Mō'sēs [n]hid his face; for [o]he was afraid to look upon God.

7 ¶ And [p]the LORD said, I have surely seen the affliction of [q]my people which are in Ĕ'gўpt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for [r]I know their sorrows;

●8 [s]And I am [t]come down [u]to deliver them out of the hand of the Ĕ-gўp'tians, and to bring them up out of that land unto a [v]good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ām'ōr-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Hĭ'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sites.

9 Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Is'ra-el is come unto me: and I have [w]also seen the oppression wherewith the Ĕ-gўp'tians oppress them.

●10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Phā'raōh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Is'ra-el out of Ĕ'gўpt.

11 First of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:13; 4:1, 10, 13; 5:22; 6:12, 30; 17:4; Num. 11:10, 21)

11 ¶ And Mō'sēs said unto God, [x]Who am I, that I should a 3 things Israel did in Egypt, p. 109 b It is not clear here whether Israelites were conscious of God, or whether they had entirely forgotten Him. It was God who took the initiative in their deliverance in view of His covenants and promises to their fathers (v 24). A few knew God, but as a whole the nation was in apostasy and rebellion c 4 acts of God in behalf of Israel: He 1 Heard their groaning (v 24)

2 Remembered His covenant (v 24)
3 Looked upon their sufferings (v 25)
4 Had respect unto them (v 25)
d West side, which was very fertile. It was the custom for shepherds to take their flocks long distances from home and for weeks and months seek new pasture grounds

f This is God Himself (v 2, 4-22; 4:1-17; Mk. 12:26; Acts 7:30-35, Cp. Dt. 4:15). See 44 appearances of God, p. 63
g The God that kept this bush from being consumed and kept the Hebrew children in the furnace (Dan. 3) can also keep the earth, the kingdom, and people on earth from being consumed during the future renovation of the earth by fire (Rom. 8:19-24; Heb. 1:10-12; 12:25-28; 2 Pet. 3:10-13; Rev. 20:7-10)

j 14 commands to Moses, p. 109 k This was a mark of respect (v 5; Josh. 5:15). Orientals removed their shoes in the home and at all places of worship, as we remove our hats. It was a symbol of laying aside all pollutions from walking in the way of sin l Heb. qodesh, trans. holy 299 times (the first time here); sanctuary 56 times (Ex. 30:13, 24; 36:1-6; etc.); consecrated (Josh. 6:19); dedicated 12 times (1 Kl. 7:51; 15:15; etc.); hallowed 9 times (Lev. 12:4; 19:8; etc.); holiness 30 times (Ex. 15:11; 28:36; etc.); and saints (Dt. 33:2). The root word qadash is trans. holy 7 times; hallow 25 times; consecrate 7 times; dedicate 10 times; sanctified 46 times; sanctify 64 times; and holier (Isa. 65:5)
m God identifies Himself, p. 109 n Contrast this with his desire to see all of God's glory in Ex. 33:18, note o It was an ancient belief that if one saw God he would die (v 6; Gen. 32:30) p The Lord said is found 45 times in Exodus (3:7; 4:2, 4, 6, 11, 19, 21, 27; 6:1, 26, 7:1, 14; 8:16, 20; 9:1, 8, 13, 22; 10:1, 12, 21; 11:1, 9; 12:43; 14:15, 26; 16:4, 28; 17:5, 14; 19:9, 10, 21, 24; 20:22; 24:12; 30:34; 32:7, 9, 33; 33:1, 5, 17, 21; 34:1, 27). God said is used 2 times (4:14-15); He (God) said is found 13 times (3:4, 5, 6, 12, 14; 4:3, 7, 13, 14; 33:14, 19, 20; 24:10); and the Lord God said 7 times (7:13, 22; 8:15, 19; 16:23; 24:3, 7). See note, 6:10

v 4fold description of Canaan (v 8):
1 Good land 3 Land of prosperity
2 Large land 4 Land of many nations
Moses could see from the mention of so many nations the greatness of his mission, for even the armies of Egypt could not conquer and hold down the many war-like peoples of Canaan w The word also proves that somebody besides God had seen and reported to Him the oppression of Israel. This again proves the doctrine of divine agency. In hundreds of scriptures we see the fact of agents scouting for God and reporting to Him of the conditions in various parts of the kingdom of God. See Spirit-world, p. 632 x Question 9, Next, v 13. It is good to be modest, but it can be carried to the point of utter lack of confidence in self and this is too far. Cp. his boldness and self-confidence before he was truly ready and before this time (2:11-15) a 2nd prophecy in Ex. (3:12, fulfilled). Next, v 17. What could inspire confidence in a mission more than God's backing? (v 12) b The token was that when the mission had been accomplished Israel would serve God on Mt. Sinai (v 12) c Questions 10-11. Next, 4:2. Moses was familiar with the Egyptian habit of having a name for every god, so he naturally anticipated this question d Heb. Eheyeh asher Eheyeh, I am that (who or what) I am - or, I am the Self-existent One; the Eternal, the One who always has been and always will be (Ps. 90:2). This is shortened to I AM here, the Ever-present and Living One. It is equivalent to Jehovah the Eternal e The 2nd time God identified Himself to Moses, but this time fathers (in the plural) is used instead of father as in 3:6

f Here we not only have the eternal name of God, but also the promise of eternal generations of natural people on earth. Just as long as God's name continues it will be a memorial to eternal generations (v 15). See Eternal generations in Index g This proves that there was a regular government in Israel. The elders of the tribes formed the ruling body and the court of judges by which all legal decisions were made (v 16,18; 4:29; 5:19)
h God evidently made a personal trip to Egypt to see for Himself the true conditions, as He did on some other occasions before taking action in the affairs of men on earth (Gen. 3:8-19; 4:6, 9; 6:5-7; 11:5-8; 18:1-8, 21, 33; 19:1-22; etc.). For this reason God has made a number of personal appearances on earth. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

j Affliction, Of the 177 times the word is used in the Bible, 175 times it refers to sufferings other than sickness and disease. God predicted this affliction in Gen. 15:13-17. See Affliction in Index k God predicted Israel's obedience, but before they obeyed they had many more bitter experiences (v 18; 4:29-31; 5:7-23)
l The rulers of Israel were to stand by Moses when he made the demands of Pharaoh so Egypt's ruler would know the whole nation acted and not their leader only (v 18)
m A 3-day journey would enable them to be well beyond the Egyptian fortifications and into the wilderness of Sinai n The purpose of sacrifice was only a secondary reason for leaving the land. The main purpose back of the request was to leave Egypt o God's knowledge was based upon the true character of Pharaoh. He knew that this was a stubborn, proud ruler who was not in the habit of obeying gods or man, especially the God of the Hebrews or the nation which was so profitable to Egypt at this time. God also knew just how much it would take to break the will of Pharaoh (v 19-20) p God intended to manifest His mighty power to prove to Egypt and all other nations that His plan for the coming Messiah would be realized. Sin would be put down and man's dominion restored. To this end God has always intervened and will yet do so until the final goal is reached (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Rev. 20-22)
q God also planned that His people should receive just wages for all their hard labor before leaving Egypt (v 21)
r Heb. shaal, to ask; request; demand; require. In 168 occurrences the word is translated borrow only 6 times. Here it could not possibly mean borrow in the sense that we use the term. It should be asked in v 22; 11:2; 12:35. See the true meaning in Gen. 24:47; 26:7; 32:29; 34:12; 1 Sam. 1:17, 20, 27; 8:10; Ps. 2:8; etc. One could not substitute borrow for ask in these and scores of other places, and have the intended thought. It was only that a whole nation serving without pay for 80 to 100 years should receive compensation for their hard labors s Heb. keliy, something prepared; any implement, utensil, dress, vessel, weapon, jewel, or money. Much of this may have been taken from the Israelites, so they merely regained their former riches. Here the articles were of gold, silver, and cloth to be worn by the Israelites (v 22; 11:2; 12:35; 35:22; Gen. 24:53; Num. 31:50-51; 1 Sam. 6:8, 15; 2 Chr. 20:25; 32:27; Job 28:17; Ezek. 16:17, 39; 23:26)

¶12 [a]And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a[b]token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Ĕ'ġўpt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.◂

13 Second of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

13 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall[c]say to me, What is his name? what shall I say unto them?

14 Revelation and enlarged commission (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

■14 And God said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [d]I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, I AM hath sent me unto you.

15 And God said moreover unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, [e]The LORD God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, the God of Ī'ṣaac, and the God of Jā'cob, hath sent me unto you: [f]this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

●16 Go, and gather the[g]elders of Iṣ'ra-el together, and say unto them, The LORD God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, of Ī'ṣaac, and of Jā'cob, appeared unto me, saying, I have surely [h]visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Ĕ'ġўpt:

★17 [i]And I have said, I will bring you up out of the [j]affliction of Ĕ'ġўpt unto the land of the Că'năan-īt̄es, and the Hĭt'-t̄ites, and the Ām'ōr-īt̄es, and the Pĕr'ĭz-z̄ites, and the Hī'-vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sīt̄es, unto a land flowing with milk and honey.

18 And[k]they shall hearken to thy voice: and thou shalt come, thou and the [g]elders of Iṣ'ra-el, unto the king of Ĕ'ġўpt, and ye shall say unto him, the LORD God of the Hē'brews hath met with us: and now let us go, we beseech thee; [l]three days' journey into the wilderness, that [m]we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.

19 ¶ And [n]I am sure that the king of Ĕ'ġўpt will not let you go, no, not by a mighty hand.

20 And [o]I will stretch out my hand, and smite Ĕ'ġўpt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and after that he will let you go.

21 And [p]I will give this people favour in the sight of the Ē-ġўp'tians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty:

22 But every woman shall[q]borrow of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, [r]jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: and [s]ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; and ye shall [t]spoil the Ē-ġўp'tians.

54 CHAPTER 4

15 Third of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

AND Mō'ṣeṣ answered and said, But, behold, [a]they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The LORD hath not appeared unto thee.

16 Complaint overcome by miraculous commission (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

■2 And the LORD said unto him, [b]What is that in thine hand? And he said, [c]A rod.

3 And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and Mō'ṣeṣ fled from before it.

■4 And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand:

5 [d]That they may believe that the LORD God of their fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, the God of Ī'ṣaac, and the God of Jā'cob, hath appeared unto thee.

■6 ¶ And the LORD said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand [e]was leprous as snow.

■7 And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and, behold, it was turned again as his other flesh.

8 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first sign, that they will believe the voice of the latter sign.

9 And it shall come to pass, [f]if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and the water which thou takest out of the river shall become blood upon the dry land.

17 Fourth of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

10 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the LORD, O my Lord, [g]I am not eloquent, neither heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but I am slow of speech, and of a slow tongue.

18 Complaint overcome

■11 And the LORD said unto him, [h]Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the LORD?

12 Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt a This implies that the Egyptians had stripped from the Israelites their own jewels, clothing, and other riches which they had when they came into Egypt. Now they were to get what they needed and evidently lacked for travel from Egypt (v 22; 12:35)

b The spoil here was not to be by rapine and violence, but by asking and receiving what was freely given. In 1 Sam. 30:22 it signifies recovery of that which was taken away by violence. The Egyptians would have refused such requests under ordinary circumstances; but God gave Israel favor (v 21; 11:2-3), and calamities that had befallen the Egyptians in the plagues and the recent death of the first-born made the women willing to give what was asked to avoid further loss of family and property. They were glad to give them anything to get rid of them (12:33-36)
c In this chapter we have the beginning of miracles which brought about the deliverance of Israel. Moses was complaining of the lack of power to convince the people that he was divinely called. It was perfectly natural to desire divine power and credentials. No man has ever been called to a divine mission without the anointing of the Spirit to accomplish what he has been called to do

10 scriptural proofs of this:

1 The Ante-diluvians were all blessed of God in the accomplishment of their missions (Heb. 11:5-7)
2 Post-diluvians (before Moses) were also blessed by God in all they were called to do (Heb. 11:8-22; Gen. 20; 39:2, 23; 40:8; 41:16, 38)
3 Moses (Ex. 4:1-14:31; 15:23-26; 16:12; 17:6; Num. 11:16-25; 12:1-16; 14:28-37; 16:29-30, 37, 45-50; 21:5-9; Heb. 11:24-29)

Why should any man claim a divine call and mission without power and anointing of the Spirit to demonstrate his call?

d Question 12. Next, v 11
e A shepherd's crook. Called later the rod of God because of miracles (v 20)
f This is the purpose of all miracles (Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 7:37-39; 14:12-15; Acts 1:8; 2:38-39; 5:32; 1 Cor. 12; Heb. 2:1-4)

h They did believe Moses when he showed the first 2 signs, so this last one was not necessary (v 29-31)
i The next objection of Moses was that he was not eloquent (v 10). God promised to make him so, but he never did become eloquent because he still objected, God therefore sent Aaron to be his spokesman (v 11-17). This does not contradict Acts 7:22, for one can be mighty in words and not eloquent

19 Fifth of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

13 And he [c]said, O my Lord, send, I pray thee, by the hand of him whom thou wilt send.

20 Complaint overcome by granting Moses' final request

¶14 [b]And the [c]anger of the LORD was [d]kindled against Mō'şeş, and he said, [e]Is not [f]Aâr'on [g]the Lē'vīte thy brother? I [h]know that he can speak well. And also, behold, [i]he cometh forth to meet thee: and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 And thou shalt speak unto him, and [j]put words in his mouth: and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye shall do.

16 And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and thou shalt be to him instead of God.

17 And thou shalt take [k]this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do signs.

21 Obedience of Moses

18 ¶ And Mō'şeş went and returned to Jĕth'rō his father in law, and said unto him, Let me go, I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Ē'gўpt, and see whether they be yet alive. And Jĕth'rō said to Mō'şeş, Go in peace.

22 Moses' call and commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

●19 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş in Mĭd'ĭ-an, [l]Go, return into Ē'gўpt: [m]for [n]all the men are dead which sought thy life.

23 Obedience of Moses

20 And Mō'şeş took his wife and his [o]sons, and set them upon an [p]ass, and he returned to the land of Ē'gўpt: and Mō'şeş took [q]the rod of God in his hand.

24 Moses' call and commission renewed: results predicted (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

¶21 [r]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, When thou goest to return into Ē'gўpt, see that thou do all those wonders before Phā'raōh, which I have put in thine hand: but [s]I will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go.●

●22 And thou shalt say unto Phā'raōh, Thus saith the LORD, Iş'ra-el is [t]my son, even my firstborn:

23 And I say unto thee, Let my son go, [u]that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, [v]I will slay thy son, even thy firstborn.

25 Circumcision separates Moses from his family

24 ● And it came to pass by the way in the [a]inn, that the LORD met him, and sought to kill him.

25 Then Zĭp-pō'rah took a sharp stone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, [b]Surely a bloody husband art thou to me.

26 So he let him go: then she said, A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision.

26 Moses and Aaron meet: Ex. 4:14 fulfilled

¶27 ¶ And the LORD said to Aâr'on, Go into the wilderness to meet Mō'şeş. And he went, and [c]met him in the mount of God, and kissed him.

28 And Mō'şeş told Aâr'on all the words of the LORD who had sent him, and all the signs which he had commanded him.

27 First spiritual revival in Israel through miracles

29 ¶ And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on went and gathered together all the elders of the children of Iş'ra-el:

30 And Aâr'on spake all the words which the LORD had spoken unto Mō'şeş, and [d]did the signs in the sight of the people.

31 And the people believed: and when they heard that the LORD had visited the children of Iş'ra-el, and that he had looked upon their affliction, then they bowed their heads and worshipped.

55 CHAPTER 5

III God's contest with Pharaoh (Ex. 5:1-12:36; Ps. 105:23-38; Rom. 9:14-23).

1 First demand: Pharaoh hardened

AND [e]afterward Mō'şeş and Aâr'on went in, and told Phā'raōh, Thus saith the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, [f]Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me in the wilderness.

2 And Phā'raōh said, [g]Who is the LORD, that I should obey his voice to let Iş'ra-el go? [h]I know not the LORD, neither will I let Iş'ra-el go.

2 Second demand by God

3 And they said, The God of the Hē'brewş hath met with us: let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and [i]sacrifice unto the LORD our God; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.

3 Pharaoh hardened: burdens of Israel increased

4 And the king of Ē'gўpt said unto them, [j]Wherefore do ye, Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, let the people from their works? get you unto your burdens.

5 And Phā'raōh said, Behold, the people of the land now are many, and ye make them rest from their burdens.

6 And Phā'raōh [k]commanded a Moses was not yet convinced that God could make him eloquent and capable of delivering Israel. He still wanted Him to send someone else (v 13)

b 4th prophecy in Ex. (4:14-17, fulfilled). Next, v 21

c The words anger and angry are found 258 times in the O. T., and only 16 times in the N. T. Over 200 of these passages refer to God being angry at men. It is not God's nature to be angry without just cause. He is by nature slow to anger (Neh. 9:17; Ps. 103:9; 145:8); and His anger lasts but for a moment (Ps. 30:5; 103:9)

12 things that provoke God to anger:
1 Stubbornness (4:14)
2 Idolatry (32:7-14; Dt. 4:25; 6:15; 9:18-19; 32:16-22; Josh. 23:16; Judg. 2:12-20; 3:6-8; Ps. 78:58; Isa. 65:3; Jer. 7:18)
3 Murmuring (Num. 11:1, 10)
4 Pride (Num. 12:9)
5 Self-will (Num. 22:22)
6 Adultery (Num. 25:3-4; Ps. 106:28-7 Rebellion (Num. 32:10, 14) 29)
8 Backsliding (Dt. 7:4; 13:12-18; 29:18-21; 31:17, 29; Judg. 2:12-20; 10:6-7; 2 Ki. 22:17; 2 Chr. 34:25; Isa. 1:4)
9 Sin (Josh. 7:1, 26; 23:16; 2 Sam. 24:1; 1 Ki. 11:9; 15:30; 16:2-33; 21:22; 24:20; Isa. 5:18-25)
10 Interfering with the ark (2 Sam. 6:7; 1 Chr. 13:10) 33:6) 11 Spiritualism (2 Ki. 21:1-16; 2 Chr. 12 Wickedness (Jer. 44:3-6; Ezek. 8:17; Ps. 7:11) d Moses was so meek and modest in his estimation of himself that he wore down the patience of God on this point. God became angry with him and gave in to his weakness by sending Aaron, his brother, who was 3 years older (v 14-17; 7:7). The fact that God became angry proves that Moses manifested stubbornness and rebellion, and not only consciousness of his weakness

c Question 16, Next, 5:2

f The first mention of Aaron whose name appears 406 times in Scripture while that of Moses appears 813 times. He, the brother of Moses, was the first high priest of Israel. See Index

g The first time this word is used in Scripture. As applied to Aaron it means he was chief of the priests of Israel in the tribe of Levi. As applied to others it refers to members of the tribe who were priests and ministers (6:16-25; Num. 3:45; Dt. 10:8-9)

h This is part of omniscience, but to say that God knew such about Aaron from all eternity, before he was even in existence, is carrying the doctrine too far. God even knows our thoughts afar off (Ps. 139:2), but He does not try to know them from all eternity past i This was a true revelation to Moses. It illustrates how God gave knowledge of creation past, and hundreds of other facts man could never have known of himself. God had evidently anticipated the objections of Moses and had spoken to Aaron about leaving Egypt and finding him (4:27. Cp. Acts 9:10-19; 10:7-33)

j This clearly defines inspiration. It is simply God putting words in the mouths of prophets and being with them in all they say (v 15-16. Cp. Num. 23:5, 16; 22:35; Dt. 18:18; Jn. 17:8). He shall be thy spokesman (v 16) or prophet (7:1). This indicates that prophets were spokesman for God, and were qualified only by His Spirit, having received the gift of prophecy (Acts 3:21; 1 Cor. 12:1-11; 2 Tim. 3:15-17; 4:1-4; 2 Pet. 1:21). They were men who spoke to men in God's place (v 16). Moses retained his position as mediator k This was the same shepherd's crook which he carried to herd sheep. He was commissioned to use it in all miracles he would perform (v 17)

l God now told Moses to go back to his people (v 19. Cp. Gen. 31:3; 32:9). Nothing was said to his father-in-law about his call, revelation, or purpose of returning to Egypt at this time

m This may have been one of the reasons Aaron set out to seek for Moses (v 14, 27. Cp. Mt. 2:15, 20)

n Not only Pharaoh, but the court faction

o This is the first mention of sons, only one son having been mentioned before a This simply means a resting place for the night by some watering place, not necessarily a hotel or boarding house (v 24; Gen. 42:27). God seems to have come bodily to them seeking to kill one of the boys of Moses because he had neglected to circumcise him. By what means the Lord sought to kill him is not known, but it was a promise to Abraham that the male who was not circumcised would be cut off (Gen. 17:14). God was acting now to deliver Israel, so it was necessary to enforce the letter of the covenant. Zipporah, having understood why God sought to kill the boy, took a knife and circumcised him to save his life. She cast the foreskin down at the feet of Moses, and God let the boy live (v 24-26)

b Zipporah called Moses a husband of bloods, i.e., with rites of blood, referring to the circumcision, which she tried to avoid (v 25-26)

c Aaron met Moses at Mt. Sinai, perhaps at the time he received the revelation - before he told Jethro and started toward Egypt with his wife and sons (v 14, 27-28). The brothers had been separated 40 years

d This was the second time Moses performed the signs of becoming a leper and being healed, and of turning his rod into a serpent (v 2-9, 30-31)

e After convincing Israel of his call and divine mission, they made their first demand upon Pharaoh (v 1)

f 7 demands of God upon Pharaoh, p. 108

g Question 17, Next, v 4. This was the beginning of Pharaoh's hardening by resisting God's will (v 2). See 9 answers of Pharaoh to God's demands, p. 109

h Pharaoh was not acquainted with the true and living God, having been an idolater and a believer of many gods of metal and wood, as worshipped in Assyria (v 2)

i Sacrifice was necessary for the redemption of man and the restoration of his dominion. The whole Bible centers around the sacrifice of Christ, which all animal sacrifices typified (v 3; Heb. 9:22)

j Question 18, Next, v 14

k This was the second act of Pharaoh in resisting the demands of God (v 2, 6-9)

(v 20; 2:22). How old they were is not known p The Sept. reads asses. It would take more than one for the 4 persons to travel on, regardless of how young the sons were (v 20)

q His rod had now become the rod of God because it was a medium of miracles (v 2-4, 17, 20; 7:9-20; 8:5, 16-17; 9:23; 10:13; 14:16; 17:5-9; Num. 20:11)

r 5th prophecy in Ex. (4:21-23, fulfilled). Next, 6:1

s 3 words trans. "harden":
1 Heb. chazaq, to brace or tighten up as opposed to relax (v 21; 7:13, 22; 8:19; 9:12, 35; 10:20, 17; 11:10; 14:4, 8, 17; 12:23; Josh. 11:20)
2 Heb. kabed, to make heavy, weighty, or hard (8:15, 32; 9:7, 34; 10:1; 1 Sam. 6:6)
3 Heb. qashah, to make sharp, hard, severe, or cruel (7:3; 13:15)
Many times God is said to do the things He permits to be done. God gave Pharaoh the occasion to resist Him and harden his own heart (v 21; 9:12; 10:1, 20, 27; 11:10; 14:8; Rom. 9:18) in the same way that the gospel saves or damns today; softens or hardens; and makes alive or kills all who hear it (Rom. 2:4-11; 2 Cor. 2:15-16). Any judgment or calamity which does not break the nature and subdue the life only hardens it. As the sun hardens the clay and softens the wax, so it is with truth. The result is not in the sun (or in God), but in the materials

t Here God calls the nation of Israel His son and firstborn as contrasted with the firstborn of Egypt. Pharaoh would understand this fully, for he, himself was called son of Ra, or beloved of his god. God was telling him that He loved Israel as he, himself loved his firstborn (v 23)

u Israel could not serve God in Egypt, for part of their sacrifices were cattle, which were most sacred to the Egyptians. Moses gave this reason in 8:26

v This prediction had to come true before Pharaoh would break and permit Israel to go (v 23; 11:4-10; 12:1-36)

a Heb. nogeśim, exactors or oppressors. Not the same as those in 1:11. These were perhaps the superintendents over the taskmasters that actually directed the work of the Israelites and were responsible personally to Pharaoh for the work (v 6)

b These were no doubt the Hebrew officers who directed the work under the Egyptians (v 6, 14-15) c Heb. teben, stalks of straw used as fodder; chaff; stubble (v 7, 10-13, 16, 18). Eastern bricks were often made of chopped straw and clay dried in the sun. The straw preserved the original color. Egyptian bricks were about 20 in. long; 8 in. wide; and 7 in. thick. The new task was to go over the fields and gather the stubble which would replace the straw that had been previously furnished in plentiful lots. With this additional work they were to make the same number of bricks as before (v 7-13). This assignment was made to punish the people for demanding to leave Egypt so they could sacrifice to God (v 8-9)

d Number of, or measurement of brick e This was what the Egyptians considered the revelation of God to be (v 8-9)

f The Israelites were now told their new tasks as demanded by Pharaoh (v 10-13)

g The Hebrew officers over the people were beaten. The ordinary punishment in Egypt for common offences required a person to lie on his stomach with his legs and feet upward. The executioner then struck many blows on the soles of the feet. This made it almost impossible to walk for weeks and perhaps for life

h Questions 19-20. Next, v 22. This indicates that it was impossible for the workers to gather straw and make the same number of brick as before. The officers of Israel plead with Pharaoh for mercy, but received none (v 15-18)

i The sin of the Egyptians was 2fold:
1 To require impossibilities
2 To punish for work that could not possibly be done by man (v 16)

j Pharaoh laid the blame to laziness of the people caused by religion (v 17). It is common for the ungodly to blame religion for many things k The Hebrew officers almost gave up hope when they saw that they could expect no mercy or justice from the Egyptians, and that their deliverance seemed almost impossible (v 19)

l The Israelites blamed Moses and Aaron for their plight and called God to witness the truth of their accusation. They concluded that they were destined to death by the sword for not being able to perform their tasks (v 21). This was the signal that caused Moses to make his 6th complaint to God, and which gave God occasion to act (v 22-23; 6:1-8)

19-21; 18:18-19; 21:12-13; 22:17-18; 24:7), Isaac (26:3-4, 24), and Jacob (Gen. 27:28-29, 37; 28:3-4, 13-15; 32:9; 35:11-13; 48:15-16). The fact that God speaks of His covenant with them in v 3-4, proves that Almighty God is His name in the making of the covenant and its many provisions, but Jehovah is His name used in the fulfillment of the covenants and promises to their descendants

The covenant provision mentioned here is the giving of the land of Canaan to the descendants (v 4). The 3 patriarchs were merely pilgrims in Canaan and did not inherit any part of it as long as they lived (Heb. 11:9). Stephen confirmed this truth when he said that they did not inherit it (Acts 7:4-7)

i 5 facts God testifies of (v 3-5): I have 1 Appeared to Abraham, Isaac, Jacob
2 Not revealed the full meaning of My name Jehovah to them (v 3)
3 Established My covenant with them to give Canaan to their seed (v 4)
4 Heard the groaning of Israel (v 5)
5 Remembered My covenant and will now (v 1) begin to fulfill it (v 5)

j See Kinsman redemption, p. 108

k Israel would understand this because of the beatings given them (5:14)

l Swearing by the right hand (Isa. 62:8)

m Contrast this with 4:21

n The Lord spake is found 20 times in Exodus (6:10, 13, 28, 29; 7:8, 19; 8:2, 5; 12:1; 13:1; 14:1; 16:11; 25:1; 30:11, 17, 22; 31:1, 12; 33:11; 40:1). God spake is found in 6:2; 20:1

the same day the [a]taskmasters of the people, and [b]their officers, saying,

7 Ye shall no more give the people [c]straw to make brick, as heretofore: let them go and gather straw for themselves.

8 And the [d]tale of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, ye shall lay upon them; ye shall not diminish ought thereof; for they be idle; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God.

9 Let there more work be laid upon the men, that they may labour therein; and let them not regard [e]vain words.

10 ¶ And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and they [f]spake to the people, saying, Thus saith Phă'raōh: I will not give you straw.

●11 Go ye, get you straw where ye can find it: yet not ought of your work shall be diminished.

12 So the people were scattered abroad throughout all the land of Ĕ'gўpt to gather stubble instead of straw.

●13 And the taskmasters hasted them, saying, Fulfil your works, your daily tasks, as when there was straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Iş'ra-el, which Phă'raōh's taskmasters had set over them, were [g]beaten, and demanded, [h]Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task in making brick both yesterday and to day, as heretofore?

15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Iş'ra-el came and cried unto Phă'raōh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy servants?

16 There is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, Make brick: and, behold, thy servants are beaten; but the [i]fault is in thine own people.

17 But he said, [j]Ye are idle, ye are idle: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to the LORD.

●18 Go therefore now, and work; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks.

PARENTHETICAL: God's contest with Moses and Israel (Ex. 5:19-7:9). 1 First of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 14:10; 15:24; 16:2; 17:2; 32:1; Num. 11:1, 4; 14:1; 16:41; 20:2; 21:5)

19 And the officers of the children of Iş'ra-el [k]did see that they were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task.

20 ¶ And they met Mō'şes and Aâr'on, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Phă'raōh:

21 And they said unto them, The LORD look upon you, and judge; because [l]ye have made our savour to be abhorred in the eyes of Phă'raōh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

2 Sixth of 11 complaints by Moses: God blamed (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

22 And Mō'şeş returned unto the LORD, and said, [a]Lord, wherefore [m]hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me?

23 For [n]since I came to Phă'raōh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people; neither hast thou delivered thy people at all.

CHAPTER 6 56

3 Complaint overcome: commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

THEN the [a]LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [b]Now shalt thou see what I will do to Phă'raōh: for with a strong hand [c]shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall he drive them out of his land.

2 And God spake unto Mō'şeş, and said unto him, [d]I am the LORD:

3 And [e]I appeared unto Ă'brăhăm, unto Ĭ'şaac, and unto Jă'cob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JĔ-HŌ'VAH was I not known to them.

4 And I have also established my covenant with them, to give them the land of Că'năan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 And [f]I have also heard the groaning of the children of Iş'ra-el, whom the Ĕ-gўp'tians keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant.

6 Wherefore say unto the children of Iş'ra-el, I am the LORD, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Ĕ-gўp'tians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will [g]redeem you with a [h]stretched out arm, and with great judgments:

7 And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Ĕ-gўp'tians.

8 And I will bring you in unto the land, concerning the which I did [i]swear to give it to Ă'brăhăm, to Ĭ'şaac, and to Jă'cob; and I will give it you for an heritage: I am the LORD.

4 First of 5 rebellions of Israel (Num. 14:1, 44; 16:19, 41)

9 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake so unto the children of Iş'ra-el: [j]but they hearkened not unto Mō'şeş for anguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.

5 Moses' call and commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

■10 And [k]the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●11 Go in, speak unto Phă'raōh king of Ĕ'gўpt, that he let the children of Iş'ra-el go out of his land.

6 Seventh of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

12 And Mō'şeş spake before a Questions 21-22. Next, 6:12

b The people laid the blame of their plight on Moses and Aaron (v 21); and Moses laid the blame on Jehovah (v 22). The people refused to hold their tongue and be patient until they saw what God would do; and Moses, after all his training in the wilderness, his call, and the miracles, was just as quick to lose patience and complain. He wanted to know just why he had been sent, for God had not delivered Israel at all. Both the people and Moses concluded that their misery was increased by the demand of God to let Israel go and that it would have been better not to make such demands (v 21-23)

c Just how long Moses had been back in Egypt is not known, but doubtless only a few days or a few weeks at the most. God had not yet been given time enough to deliver Israel. He knew that several more weeks would be needed before this could be realized

The days named for the plagues:
1 1 day to go before Pharaoh and perform the serpent miracle (7:10-15)
2 7 days for the miracle of the waters to blood (7:15-25)
3 Several days for frogs to cover all Egypt and accomplish the purpose in making life unbearable (8:1-8)
4 1 day to destroy frogs (8:10-15)
5 Several days for the lice plague to have the desired effect (8:16-19)
6 Several days for the flies to plague all of Egypt. 2 days are mentioned for bringing and getting rid of them (8:23, 29)
7 2 days - 1 to announce and 1 to destroy the animals of Egypt, besides time for Pharaoh to harden his heart (9:1, 5, 7)
8 Several days for boils to be upon the Egyptians (9:8-12)
9 1 day to announce the next plague (9:13); 1 day for the plague (hail) to begin (9:18); and 1 day for Moses to be called (9:27)
10 2 days for locusts to cover Egypt (10:4-6,13); 1 day for Moses to be called (10:8-11); a day or so for the locusts to cause their destruction in Egypt (10:12-17); and 2 days to remove them (10:18-19 with v 13)
11 3 days of darkness (10:21-23) and 1 day to call Moses (10:24-29)
12 1 day to ask of the Egyptians and to slay the passover (11:1-10; 12:29-36)
It took at least 3 to 7 weeks for the 10 plagues. 26 days are named, besides an unspecified number of days for certain plagues to become effective and perform what they were designed to do. On the basis of 10 days for plague 1 (7:25) and plague 9 (10:22); and supposing that the other plagues lasted this long, there would be at least 50 days needed for the plagues

d 6th prophecy in Ex. (6:1-8, fulfilled). Next, 7:3. THEN - when Israel had given up in despair and Moses had complained that God had not kept His word (5:19-23)

e See 10 predictions of God, p. 109

f 2 things Pharaoh to be forced to do:
1 Let you (permit you to) leave Egypt
2 Drive you out of Egypt (v 1)

g Used 4 times in this prophecy to declare God's faithfulness to fulfill His promises and covenants (v 2, 6, 7, 8)

h God testified here that He had personally appeared to these 3 men by the name of God Almighty (El Shaddai, the All-Sufficient One, note m, Gen. 17:1), making many promises to them. He used this name instead of Jehovah, which means the Self-Existing or Eternal One who keeps covenant and fulfills promises. He could not fulfill with them what He promised concerning their future posterity (v 3). It is true that the name Jehovah was used from the very beginning (see note v, Gen. 2:4); nevertheless, the full meaning of it was not made known to men until it was time to fulfill the promises and covenants with Israel as a nation

God had made known to the 3 men His name El Shaddai, or All-Sufficient One, by His continual provision and protection of them, but the full import of Jehovah was made known only to their descendants in the deliverance from Egypt and the settlement in Canaan, as promised Abraham (Gen. 12:1-3; 13:14-17; 15:4-6, 13-21; 17:2-8, a 7th complaint of Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.). His reasoning now was, how would a heathen king listen to him when his own people would not (v 12)

b Question 23, Next, v 30

c 5 uncircumcised things in Scripture:
1 Lips (v 12, 30). As applied to Moses this could only mean some impediment or slowness of speech (4:10-12)
2 Men (Gen. 34:14; Ex. 12:48; Josh. 5:7; Judg. 14:3; 15:18; Ezek. 32:19-32)
3 Fruit (Lev. 19:23)
4 Heart (26:31; Jer. 9:26; Ezek. 44:7-9; Acts 7:51). This means a stubborn and unconverted heart
5 Ears (Jer. 6:10). These are ears that will not hear truth

d This was the final charge to the brothers before bringing judgments on Egypt and fulfilling the covenants and promises to Israel (see note h, 6:3). This begins a new section of the history of Israel. The charge was addressed to Moses and Aaron to give to Israel and Pharaoh. The demand itself was to let Israel go (v 13)

e See Heads of the tribes, p. 71

f 7 purposes of the genealogy, p. 72

g Levi, the 3rd son of Jacob and Leah, was the father of all priests and Levites of Israel. He lived 137 years (v 16), and had a life-span that was 27 years longer than that of Joseph (Gen. 50:26), and 17 years longer than that of Moses (Dt. 31:2). He was about 49 years old when he went to Egypt with Jacob, to live. He lived 88 years after that and died 47 years before Moses was born, and 127 years before the exodus of Israel. See note p, Gen. 47:9; also 4 proofs Jacob took his wives immediately, p. 30

h Kohath, the son of Levi, begat Amram the father of Moses and Aaron (v 16, 18, 20)

i This is the only son of Kohath whose descendants are not mentioned here. Why is not clear. They are mentioned in Num. 3:27; 26:58; 1 Chr. 15:9; 23:19; 24:33; 26:23, 30-31

j Kohath lived 133 years which gave him a life-span of 23 years more than that of Joseph and 13 years more than that of Moses (note g, above). He was born before Jacob went to Egypt (Gen. 46:11)

k This would mean he married his own aunt, a relationship which was later forbidden under the law when Israel was multiplied enough that it was not necessary to marry near kin, as when the new nation was first being separated from the Gentiles and becoming established (Lev. 18)

l Amram, the father of Moses and Aaron, lived 137 years (6:20). His life-span gave him 27 years more than that of Joseph and 17 years more than that of Moses (note g, above). Moses was born to Amram 80 years before the exodus (Acts 7:22-30). How old Amram was when Moses was born is not stated. Jochebed, Amram's wife was the actual daughter of Levi (v 16-20; Num. 26:59) and the sister of Kohath, Levi's son. Amram and Jochebed could have been of equal age if, as we suppose, she was born to Levi late in life and Kohath married young and had Amram early in life

m This is the Korah that rebelled against Moses and was swallowed by the earth (Num. 16)

n Called Aaron's uncle (Lev. 10:4)

o Meaning, the oath of the Lord, the same as Elizabeth, the Christian name. She was a princess of the royal tribe of Judah (Num. 2:3) p This man was father of Naashon who was head of the tribe of Judah (v 23; Num. 1:7; 2:3; 7:12, 17; 10:14) and in the line of Christ (Mt. 1:4; Lk. 3:32)

q Aaron's 4 sons
1 Nadab. He and Abihu were called to see God on Sinai (24:1-11). They were set apart for the priesthood (28:1-43). They offered strange fire before God while drunk and were killed (Lev. 10:1-2)
2 Abihu (see point above) 11)
3 Eleazar, the father of Phinehas, who became head of the tribe of Levi at the death of Nadab and Abihu (v 23, 25; Num. 3:32; 4:16). He succeeded Aaron as high priest (Num. 20:26-28; Dt. 10:6) and assisted both Moses (Num. 26:63) and Joshua (Num. 34:17). Regarding his death and descendants see Josh. 24:33;

the LORD, saying, [a]Behold, the children of Is'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; [b]how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, who am of [c]uncircumcised lips?

7 Complaint overcome: commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

■13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses and unto Aār'on, and gave them a [d]charge unto the children of Is'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gĭpt, to bring the children of Is'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gĭpt.

24 And the sons of Kō'rah; Ās'sĭr, and Ĕl'kă-nah, and Ā-bī'a-săph: these are the families of the Kō'rhites.

25 And Ē-le-ā'zar Aār'on's son took him one of the daughters of Pū'tĭ-el to wife; and she bare him Phĭn'e-has: these are the heads of the fathers of the Lē'vites according to their families.

26 These are that Aār'on and Mō'ses, to whom the LORD said, Bring out the children of Is'ra-el from the land of Ē'gĭpt according to their [a]armies.

27 These are they which spake to Phā'raōh king of Ē'gĭpt, to bring out the children of Is'ra-el from Ē'gĭpt: [b]these are that Mō'ses and Aār'on.

10 Moses' commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

28 ¶ [c]And it came to pass [d]on the day when the LORD spake unto Mō'ses in the land of Ē'gĭpt, 29 That the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying, [e]I am the LORD: speak thou unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gĭpt all that I say unto thee.

11 Eighth of 11 complaints by Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

30 And Mō'ses said before the LORD, [f]Behold, I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Phā'raōh hearken unto me?

57 CHAPTER 7

12 Complaint overcome: commission renewed (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

[a]AND the LORD said unto Mō'ses, See, I have made thee a [g]god to Phā'raōh: and Aār'on thy brother shall be [h]thy prophet.

●2 Thou shalt speak all that I command thee: and Aār'on thy brother shall speak unto Phā'raōh, that he send the children of Is'ra-el out of his land.

★3 [i]And I will [j]harden Phā'raōh's heart, and multiply [k]my signs and my wonders in the land of Ē'gĭpt.

4 But Phā'raōh shall not hearken unto you, that I may lay my hand upon Ē'gĭpt, and bring forth mine armies, and my people the children of Is'ra-el, out of the land of Ē'gĭpt by great judgments.

5 And the Ē-gĭp'tians [l]shall know that I am the LORD, when I stretch forth mine hand upon Ē'gĭpt, and bring out the children of Is'ra-el from among them.

13 Obedience: age of Moses and Aaron when commissioned

6 And Mō'ses and Aār'on [m]did as the LORD commanded them, so did they.

7 And Mō'ses was [n]fourscore years old, and Aār'on [o]fourscore and three years old, when they spake unto Phā'raōh.

14 Final commission of Moses (Ex. 3:1, refs.)

■8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses and unto Aār'on, saying,

★9 [p]When Phā'raōh shall speak unto you, saying, Shew a miracle for you: then thou shalt say unto Aār'on, Take thy rod, and cast it before Phā'raōh, and it shall become [q]a serpent. ●

God's contest with Pharaoh

a Heb. tsibothaam, battalions; regularly arranged troops under the direction of Jehovah-Sabaoth, Lord of Hosts. See 16 Jehovah titles, p. 52

b This 3fold emphatic repetition (v 26-27) shows the main reason for inserting this portion of genealogy here. The names of Moses and Aaron are given twice in a different order: the 1st time (v 26) to mark Aaron as the elder; and the 2nd time (v 27) to mark the divine choice of leadership. See note c, Gen. 4:25. These names are not used as in v 26 again until the next genealogy, where it is Aaron and Moses again (Num. 3:1; 26:59). In 51 other places it is Moses and Aaron, Moses and Eleazar or Moses and Joshua c Chapter 7 should start here, for it begins a new section of events as is clear. 84 chapters of the Bible begin with this phrase: 71 in the O.T. and 13 in the N.T.

d The saying, The mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceedingly small is certainly true in the case of Pharaoh. It seemed that God would never fulfill His covenant and promises to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, or even those promises to Moses and his generation. He and all Israel became fully discouraged (5:19-23; 6:9-13, 28-30). But God, on a certain day (6:1, 28) began to work; and in a period of a few weeks His mills had ground Egypt to utter helplessness and ruin (10:7; 12:31-36; 14:28)

f Question 24, Next, 8:9. This was the 8th of 11 complaints of Moses g I have made you a god in God's stead. Elohim is thus used of men who were to act in God's place before men (v 1; 21:6; 22:8-9; Ps. 82:1, 6. See Jn. 10:34-35)

h A prophet was one who was called and anointed to speak for God and in His name (v 1; 4:15-16; Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-2)

q Heb. tannin, a marine and land monster; not nachash, serpent, or 4:3; 7:15; Gen. 3. It is trans. serpent only here and in v 13. It is trans. dragon (Dt. 32:33; Neh. 2:13; Job 30:29; Ps. 44:19; 74:13; 91:13; 148:7; Isa. 3:22; 27:1; 34:13; 35:7; 43:20; 51:9; Jer. 9:11; 10:22; 14:6; 49:33; 51:34, 37; Zech. 2:9; Mic. 1:8); whale (Gen. 1:21; Job 7:12); and sea monster (Lam. 4:3). It was no doubt the crocodile which was so plentiful in the Nile region, and which was a symbol of Egypt (Ps. 74:13; Isa. 51:9; Ezek. 29:2). At Sinai the miracle was an ordinary serpent (nachash, 4:3-4); but before Pharaoh it was evidently a crocodile (tannin, land, water monster, 7:9, 12). Some versions say reptile, snake, and serpent. The Sept. says dragon; Young, monster; and Rotherham, sea-serpent a See note q, v 9. This we call the first miracle, meaning the first in connection with the 10 plagues on Egypt. In reality it was the 9th miracle of Moses. See 42 miracles of Moses, p. 109

b 2 classes are mentioned:
1 Wise men. Heb. chacamin, men of learning: men who knew the occult arts (v 11)
2 Sorcerers. Heb. cashshephim, to reveal hidden secrets; to uncover. They are called magicians (v 11. Heb. chartummey, decipherers or interpreters of the heiroglyphic writings). Books containing magic formula belonged to the king and no man was permitted to consult them except the priests and wise men. Two such men are named by Paul - Jannes and Jambres (2 Tim. 3:8)

c The rods of the magicians became serpents (crocodiles, note q, 7:9) but Aaron's swallowed up the others, proving that God's power is greater than Satan's

3 miracles of the magicians:
1 Rods to serpents or crocodiles (7:11-2 Turning of water to blood(7:22) 12)
3 Bringing up frogs (8:7)

The magicians could not do many of the miracles, nor could they protect themselves from the plagues (8:18; 9:11). Satan, though he can perform some miracles, is limited in his power. In the future he will call fire down from heaven, and do various kinds of miracles to deceive men (Mt. 24:24; 2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:2, 4, 11-18; 16:13-16; 19:20)

5 The Nile will stink
6 Egyptians will loathe to drink

h 9 times in Exodus (4:22; 5:1; 8:1, 20; 9:1, 13; 10:3; 11:4; 32:27)

i All waters of Egypt - in streams, rivers, ponds, pools, and all vessels in the homes (v 19). The river Nile was worshipped by Egyptians under various names and symbols. It was called the father of life and the father of the gods. Thus the first miracle was a blow to the gods of Egypt. The Egyptians abhorred blood and their horror must have been extreme when they saw their sacred river and all other water in their country turned to blood

j Streams refers to the many canals of the river Nile k This refers to the 7 streams of the delta of the Nile

l This was the fulfillment of v 17-18

Heads of the tribes (6:14)

In this parenthesis (v 14-25) we have the first 3 sons of Jacob and Leah named, showing the descent and position in the genealogy of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. This proved to the full satisfaction of all Hebrews that their leaders were from Israel, as follows:

4 branches of Reuben (v 14)
6 branches of Simeon (v 15)
3 branches of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari (v 16)
2 branches of Gershon (v 17)
4 branches of Kohath (v 18)
2 branches of Merari (v 19)
2 branches of Amram of Kohath (v 20)
3 branches of Izhar of Kohath (v 21)
3 branches of Uzziel of Kohath (v 22)
4 branches of Aaron of Amram, son of Kohath (v 23)
3 branches of Korab of Izhar, son of Kohath (v 24)
1 branch of Aaron, son of Amram, son of Kohath (v 25) resumed after the parenthesis of Ex. 5:19-7:9. 4 Third demand: first miracle

10 ¶ And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on went in unto Phā'raōh, and they did so as the LORD had commanded: and Aâr'on cast down his rod before Phā'raōh, and before his servants, and it became [a]serpent.

5 First actual contest of power between God and Satan

11 Then Phā'raōh also called the [b]wise men and the sorcerers: now the magicians of Ĕ'ğўpt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments.

12 For they cast down every man his rod, and [c]they became serpents: but Aâr'on's rod swallowed up their rods.

13 And he [d]hardened Phā'raōh's heart, that he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

6 Fourth demand by God

14 ¶ [e]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Phā'raōh's heart is hardened, he refuseth to let the people go.

15 Get thee unto Phā'raōh in the morning; lo, he goeth out unto the water; and thou shalt stand by the river's brink against he come; and the rod which was turned to a [f]serpent shalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou shalt say unto him, The LORD God of the Hĕ'brewş hath sent me unto thee, saying, [g]Let my people go, that they may serve me in the wilderness: and, behold, hitherto thou wouldest not hear.

17 [h]Thus saith the LORD, In this thou shalt know that I am the LORD: behold, I will smite with the rod that is in mine hand upon the waters which are in the river, and they shall be turned to blood.

18 And the fish that is in the river shall die, and the river shall stink; and the Ĕ-ğўp'tians shall loathe to drink of the water of the river.

7 Second miracle: 1st plague

19 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, Say unto Aâr'on, Take thy rod, and stretch out thine hand upon the[i]waters of Ĕ'ğўpt, upon their [j]streams, upon [k]their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Ĕ'ğўpt, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone.

20 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on did so, as the LORD commanded; and he lifted up the rod, and smote the waters that were in the river, in the sight of Phā'raōh, and in the sight of his servants; and [l]all the waters that were in the river were turned to blood.

21 And the fish that was in the river died; and the river stank, and the Ĕ-ğўp'tians could not drink of the water of the river; and there was blood throughout all the land of Ĕ'ğўpt.

8 First miracle of the magicians: Pharaoh hardened

22 And the magicians of Ĕ'ğўpt [a]did so with their enchantments: and Phā'raōh's heart was [b]hardened, neither did he hearken unto them; as the LORD had said.

23 And Phā'raōh [c]turned and went into his house, neither did he set his heart to this also.

24 And all the [d]Ĕ-ğўp'tians digged round about the river for water to drink; for they could not drink of the water of the river.

25 And [e]seven days were fulfilled, after that the LORD had smitten the river.

58 CHAPTER 8

9 Fifth demand by God

1 AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, Go unto Phā'raōh, and say unto him, [f]Thus saith the LORD, [g]Let my people go, that they may serve me.

2 And if thou refuse to let them go, behold, I will smite all thy borders with frogs:

3 And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine [h]ovens, and into thy kneadingtroughs:

4 And the frogs shall come up both on thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants.

10 Third miracle: 2nd plague

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, Say unto Aâr'on, Stretch forth thine hand with thy [i]rod over the streams, over the rivers, and over the ponds, and cause frogs to come up upon the land of Ĕ'ğўpt.

6 And Aâr'on stretched out his hand over the waters of Ĕ'ğўpt; and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Ĕ'ğўpt.

11 Second miracle of the magicians

7 And the magicians [j]did so with their enchantments, and brought up frogs upon the land of Ĕ'ğўpt.

12 Pharaoh's plea for mercy (9:27; 10:16)

8 ¶ Then Phā'raōh called for Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, and [k]said, Intreat the LORD, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people; and I will let the people go, that they may do sacrifice unto the LORD.

9 And Mō'şeş said unto Phā'raōh, [l]Glory over me: [m]when shall I intreat for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, to destroy the frogs from thee and thy houses, that they may remain in the river only?

a See note c, v 12

b See note s, 4:21

c He again rejected the message of God, and refused to obey, thus hardening his own heart and bringing upon himself further destruction (v 23)

d This explains where the magicians got water to turn to blood, since the whole river and all ponds and streams were made blood (v 24)

e This first plague lasted 7 days; the 9th one lasted 3 days. It is evident that the whole 10 plagues lasted from 3 to 7 weeks. See note c, 5:23 f 10th prophecy in Ex. (8:1-4, fulfilled). Next, v 10. This plague was directed against the frog-god, an object of worship in Egypt

2 The Nile will bring them forth abundantly (v 3)
3 Frogs will come into your house
4 They will come into your bed-
5 Into your bed room
6 Into the houses of your servants
7 Upon your people
8 Into your ovens

g The 3rd demand to let Israel go (8:1. See note f, 5:1)

h An oven was made of an earthen pot which was heated and placed in a hole dug in the ground. Cakes were stuck to the inside walls of the pot where the heat cooked them. To find the ovens full of frogs was disgusting to say the least i The rod of God caused frogs to be created in all streams, rivers, ponds, and pools until the whole of Egypt was filled with newly made frogs (v 5-6)

j See note c, v 12

k Pharaoh had confidence in Moses and Aaron that they could perform any miracle. He did not depend upon the magicians to get rid of these plagues. Not one reference is made concerning them as helping to do away with a single plague. Pharaoh promised to let the people go if the plague would be removed, but in this he lied and hardened his heart again (v 8-15)

l This is part of the question, meaning Explain yourself to me or The honor is yours to tell me. The idea is that you have the honor of telling me when you want the frogs removed (v 9) a Moses was in supernatural business. If any detail of his predictions and promises to Pharaoh had failed, the God of Israel would have been proved a failure or Moses would have been proved a false representative. The request was to pray for God to rid the land of frogs. To morrow. Moses agreed and God confirmed the word of His servant proving there was no god as great as the God of Israel (v 10-15)

b 11th prophecy in Ex. (8:10-11, fulfilled). Next, v 16

6 predictions of Moses (v 10-11):
1 Tomorrow the frogs will leave
2 They will depart from you
3 From your houses
4 From your servants
5 From your people
6 They will remain in the river only

c The method Moses used to rid the land of plagues was simple prayer, a method open to all children of God. The fear of failure or the way God would remove them was not the subject of his praying. He simply believed God and what he requested happened. This will also be the result if and when Christians learn to pray in faith (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:5-8)

g Perhaps the mosquito-gnat. This was a creation of millions of gnats out of dust (v 17-19). Besides this insect many other kinds were also included (Ps. 78:45). The plague showed the utter helplessness of the insect-god to protect Egypt

h The magicians finally recognized this to be God and not the result of witchcraft which they practiced (v 20. Cp. Lk. 11:20)

10 predictions of God through Moses (8:20-23)
1 Pharaoh will come to the river in the morning (v 20)
2 I will send swarms of flies upon you (v 21)
3 Upon your servants
4 Upon your people
5 Into your houses
6 Into the houses of your people
7 Upon the ground
8 There shall be no swarms of flies in Goshen (v 22)
9 I will make a division between your people and My people (v 23)
10 This sign shall come to pass tomorrow

j The 4th demand to let Israel go (v 20). See note f, 5:1

k This plague was a severe blow to the idolatrous worship of Egypt, and designed to manifest the helplessness of Beelzebub, the god of flies, who was supposed to have power to prevent flies. Cleanliness was necessary in such worship, and the putrid conditions brought about by unclean flies would be a great hindrance to the idolaters. The plague proved again that the God of Israel was more powerful than other gods (v 22)

7 purposes of the genealogy (6:16)
1 To show the descent and position in Israel's genealogy of Moses and Aaron, thus satisfying every Hebrew that the leaders were from Abraham (v 20-26)
2 To identify the 3 main branches of Levi, the priestly tribe of Israel (v 17)
3 To give the full ages of Levi, Kohath, and Amram (v 16, 18, 20)
4 To show that Kohath was the most prominent son of Levi (v 18, 20-26)
5 To show that the 2 great leaders of Israel - Moses the lawgiver, and Aaron the first high priest, came from Kohath (v 18, 20, 23, 25-26)
6 To name the heads of the tribe of Levi (v 25), and show the relationship of Korah, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, Ithamar, Phinehas, and others to Levi, Moses and Aaron (v 21-26)
7 To list the family of Aaron (v 23)

*10 And he said, [a]To morrow. And he said, [b]Be it according to thy word: that thou mayest know that there is none like unto the LORD our God.

11 And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people; they shall remain in the river only.

13 Fourth miracle: Pharaoh hardened

12 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on went out from Phā'raōh: [c]and Mō'şeş cried unto the LORD because of the frogs which he had brought against Phā'raōh.

13 And the LORD [d]did according to the word of Mō'şeş; and the frogs died out of the houses, out of the villages, and out of the fields.

14 And they gathered them together upon heaps: and the land stank.

15 But when Phā'raōh saw that there was respite, [e]he hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

14 Fifth miracle: 3rd plague

‡16 ¶ [f]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Say unto Aâr'on, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become [g]lice throughout all the land of Ē'gўpt.●

17 And they did so; for Aâr'on stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and it became lice in man, and in beast; all the dust of the land became lice throughout all the land of Ē'gўpt.

15 The powerless convinced magicians plead with Pharaoh

18 And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they could not: so there were lice upon man, and upon beast.

19 Then the magicians said unto Phā'raōh, [h]This is the finger of God: and Phā'raōh's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

16 Sixth demand by God

‡20 ¶ [i]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Phā'raōh; lo, he cometh forth to the water; and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD, [j]Let my people go, that they may serve me.●

21 Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will [k]send swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Ē-gўp'tians shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are.

22 And I will sever in that day the land of Gō'shen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; to the end thou mayest know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth.

23 And I will put a [a]division between my people and thy people: to morrow shall this sign be.

17 Sixth miracle: 4th plague

24 And the LORD did so; and there came a [b]grievous swarm of flies into the house of Phā'raōh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of Ē'gўpt: the land was corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies.

18 First compromise refused (Cp. Ex. 8:28; 10:8, 24)

●25 ¶ And Phā'raōh called for Mō'şeş and for Aâr'on, and said, [c]Go ye, sacrifice to your God in the land.

26 And Mō'şeş said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice the [d]abomination of the Ē-gўp'tians to the LORD our God: lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Ē-gўp'tians before their eyes, [e]and will they not stone us?

27 We will go three days' journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice to the LORD our God, as he shall command us.

19 Second compromise refused (Ex. 8:25; 10:8, 24)

28 And Phā'raōh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; [f]only ye shall not go very far away: intreat for me.

29 And Mō'şeş said, Behold, I go out from thee, [g]and I will intreat the LORD that the swarms of flies may depart from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: but let not Phā'raōh deal deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD.

20 Seventh miracle: Pharaoh hardened

30 And Mō'şeş went out from Phā'raōh, and intreated the LORD.

31 And the LORD did according to the word of Mō'şeş; and he removed the swarms of flies from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one.

32 [h]And Phā'raōh hardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go.

59 CHAPTER 9

21 Seventh demand by God

THEN the [i]LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Go in unto Phā'raōh, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD God of the Hē'brews, [j]Let my people go, that they may serve me.●

2 For if thou refuse to let them go, and wilt hold them still,

3 Behold, the hand of the LORD is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the [k]horses, upon the asses, upon the cam-a Heb. peduth. Trans. division only here, but redemption in Ps. 111:9; 130:7. The idea is that God wanted Pharaoh to know that He had redeemed His own people from these plagues to which He had abandoned others (v 23). No doubt this redemption applied to all the plagues because the Egyptians only are mentioned as being affected (7:18-19, 21, 24; 8:3-4, 9, 11-12, 21-24; 9:4-6, 14-16, 26; 10:6, 21-23; 11:5-8; 12:23, 27, 29-30)

b This grievous plague included divers sorts of flies, which killed many Egyptians (Ps. 78:45)

c Pharaoh became willing to tolerate the bloody sacrifices of Israel if the people would stay in the land (v 25). This plan was rejected by Moses who claimed they would be stoned by Egyptians if they started such worship (v 26). He insisted that they should go a 3-days' journey away so the people would be protected (v 27)

d Sacrifice of an animal was an abomination to the Egyptians who held every one to be sacred. Pharaoh's people worshipped almost every form of nature - the sun, moon, stars, planets, rivers, animals, and even the onions and leeks that grew in their gardens. Jupiter was adored in the form of a ram; Apollo in the form of a crow; Bacchus as a goat; Juno as a heifer; Diana as a cat; Venus as a fish; Mercury as an ibis; etc. The belief was that when the giants made war on the gods they were obliged to flee to Egypt and take refuge there in these various creatures in order to escape. Such were therefore sacred, protected and worshipped. The doctrine of reincarnation was believed in strongly by the Egyptians. Like the Hindoos and others of the Orient they taught that departed loved ones were born in the world again in the shape of animals, and that if any were killed some relative would be killed

f Pharaoh's next permission was that the people go sacrifice to the Lord, but that they should not go far away (v 28). This would have defeated the purpose of God, which was to bring Israel out of Egypt entirely g This method of getting rid of flies and other insects worked completely, and left no poisons to contaminate man or his food as in the case of chemicals today. God promises to rebuke the devourer of any people if they will honor Him by paying tithes (Mal. 3:8-11)

k 12 facts about horses:
1 Mentioned 217 times in Scripture
2 Used with chariots of war (14:9-28; Dt. 11:4; Josh. 24:6)
3 Used to ride (15:1, 21; Job 39:18)
4 Both the horses and the chariots were imported from Egypt - cost for a horse $96.00, and a chariot $384.00 a trip (1 Ki. 10:29; 1 Chr. 1:17) 147:10)
5 Had great strength (Job 39:19; Ps. 6 A vain thing for safety (Ps. 20:7; 33:17; Isa. 31:1-3)
7 Low in intelligence (Ps. 32:9)
8 Forbidden kings of Israel (Dt. 17:16)
9 Very swift (Jer. 4:13; Heb. 1:8)
10 Spirit horses are one means of travel between earth and heaven (2 Ki. 2:11; 6:15-17; Zech. 1:8-11; 6:1-8; Rev. 19)
11 Used as symbols (Rev. 6:1-8)
12 Demon creatures having bodies like horses are now in the abyss (Rev. 9)

Horses were little used in Palestine during the days of the patriarchs but they were plentiful in Egypt during the days of Solomon who became the first great importer of horses in Israel (1 Ki. 4:26-28; 10:25-28)

a Heb. deber. Trans. murrain only here; plague (Hos. 13:14); and pestilence 48 times (5:3; 9:15; Lev. 26:25; Num. 14:12; Dt. 28:21; 2 Sam. 24:13-15; etc.). Whatever the plague was it was very grievous and brought death (v 3-4, 6). This also was directed against the gods of Egypt who were supposed to be manifested in the various animal forms, all of which were considered sacred. It proved again that the God of Israel was greater than the gods of Egypt who were powerless to protect themselves

b When a set time is given, as here (v 5), for the fulfillment of any prophecy concerning something that could normally happen otherwise in the regular course of events, it indicates a supernatural prediction

c This could be taken in a figurative sense to allow for the next plague upon man and beast (v 9-10), and in view of the fact that v 3 suggests that only the cattle which is in the field became affected. See v 20-21. This, no doubt is another example of the use of synecdoche - the figure of speech wherein a part is put for the whole, or the whole is put for a part of anything. See p. 308 of N. T. The fact that v 19 mentions more cattle in the field before another plague (hail) is further proof on this point

d This shows the complete protection of God over every Israelite and all that each one possessed. Nothing that belonged to Israel was touched by the 10 plagues of this period (v 6-7)

e If Pharaoh had found that the animals of Israelites were also plagued he would have concluded this to be a natural event; but when he saw that not one was touched he knew it was another supernatural act of the God of the Hebrews (v 7). Instead of breaking him it only gave him another occasion to harden his heart (v 7; note s, 4:21)

f 15th prophecy in Ex. (9:8-9, fulfilled). Next, v 13. The miracle here was that such a few handfuls of ashes became dust throughout Egypt to cause boils and blains upon man and beast

g Heb. kibshan, a smelting furnace for metals (v 8, 10; 19:18). In Gen. 19:28 it refers to the smoke of the destruction of Sodom, so the word is not limited to a smelting furnace. Here it could mean the place of human sacrifices, where such offerings were made in the fire to propitiate the god Typhon, the Evil Principle, in the hope of averting plagues. If so, Moses used those very ashes to produce another plague instead of averting one h Heb. shechin, to burn; ulcer; boil; botch. Trans. boil (v 9; Job 2:7); and botch (Dt. 28:27, 35). This was a most severe inflamation causing one to have fever and the afflicted part of the flesh to burn and swell. See note on Job 2:7

i Heb. ababuoth, to belch forth; an inflamatory pustule. This confirms the fact that the plague was one of boils breaking out on man and beast (v 9-10; Dt. 28:27)

j This again shows the powerlessness of the magicians, their magic art, and their gods before the True and Living God (v 11; 8:19)

4 And the LORD shall sever between the cattle of Ĭs'ra-el and the cattle of Ĕ'gўpt: and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 Eighth miracle: 5th plague. Pharaoh hardened

5 And the LORD appointed a set time, saying, [b]To morrow the LORD shall do this thing in the land.

6 And the LORD did that thing on the morrow, and [c]all the cattle of Ĕ'gўpt died: but of the cattle of the children of Ĭs'ra-el died[d] not one.

7 And Phă'raōh[e] sent, and, behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Ĭs'ra-el-ites dead. And the heart of Phă'raōh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

23 Ninth miracle: 6th plague. Pharaoh hardened

8 ¶ [f]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, Take to you handfuls of ashes of[g] the furnace, and let Mō'şeş sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Phă'raōh.●

9 And it shall become small dust in all the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and shall be a [h]boil breaking forth with [i]blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

10 And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Phă'raōh; and Mō'şeş sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.

11 And the [j]magicians could not stand before Mō'şeş because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Ĕ-gўp'tians.

12 And the LORD [k]hardened the heart of Phă'raōh, and he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had spoken unto Mō'şeş.

24 Eighth demand by God

13 ¶ [l]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Phă'raōh, and say unto him, Thus saith [m]the LORD God of the Hĕ'brews, [n]Let my people go, that they may serve me.●

14 For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth.

16 And in very deed for this cause have I raised thee up, [o]for to shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.

17 [p]As yet exaltest thou thyself against my people, that thou wilt not let them go?

18 Behold, [a]to morrow about this time I will cause it to [b]rain a very grievous[c] hail, such as hath not been in Ĕ'gўpt since the foundation thereof even until now.

19 Send therefore now, and gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die.

20 He that feared the word of the LORD among the servants of Phă'raōh[d] made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses:

21 And he that regarded not the word of the LORD left his servants and his cattle in the field.

25 Tenth miracle: 7th plague

22 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [e]Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail in all the land of Ĕ'gўpt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

23 And Mō'şeş stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and the LORD sent [f]thunder and hail, and the fire ran along upon the ground; and the LORD rained hail upon the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

24 So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, very grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of Ĕ'gўpt since it became a nation.

25 And the hail smote throughout all the land of Ĕ'gўpt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail smote every herb of the field, and brake every tree of the field.

26 Only in the land of Gō'shen, where the children of Ĭs'ra-el were, was there no hail.

26 Pharaoh's plea for mercy (7:8; 10:16)

27 ¶ And Phă'raōh sent, and called for Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, and said unto them, I have sinned this time: [g]the LORD is righteous, and I and my people are wicked.

28 Intreat the LORD (for [h]it is enough) that there be no more [i]mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer.

27 Moses' prophecy of continued hardening of Pharaoh

29 [j]And Mō'şeş said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will [k]spread abroad my hands unto the LORD; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the earth is the LORD's.

30 But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye will not yet fear the LORD God.

31 And the flax and the barley was smitten: for the barley was in the ear, and the flax [l]was bolled.

32 But the wheat and the rie a Again God appointed a set time, even more specific than in 8:10, 23, 29; 9:5. Not only tomorrow but about this time tomorrow, and not any other time on the morrow (v 18). See note b, v 5 b To rain hail is literally true, for hail is made by drops of rain falling through a cold region of the atmosphere where it is frozen into stones of ice before reaching the ground. Ps. 79:47 says that God "destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycomore trees with frost." See v 25 c This plague was directed against Isis and Osiris, the gods of light, health, fertility, arts, and agriculture. The water, fire, earth, and air were all objects of Egyptian idolatry. God showed Pharaoh and his people that He was the Supreme One over these elements and that instead of helping the Egyptians they, under His will and command, were instruments of destruction

d God was fair to tell the people just when the plague would come and warn them of what would be the result if they or their stock were outside the buildings (v 18-21)

e Moses was told to stretch out his hand 11 different times (3:20; 7:5, 19; 8:5, 16; 9:15, 22; 10:12, 21; 14:16, 26)

f This was a series of thunder peals, large hail stones falling, and a continuous fire that ran along the ground devouring everything in its path - not mere flashes of lightning across the sky (v 23-25; Ps. 79:48)

g Here Pharaoh finally confessed that God alone was righteous in His dealings and that he and his people were unrighteous in seeking to hold a whole nation in slavery for personal gain (v 27)

h There is no need for further plagues. I submit to the will of God and will rebel no more (v 28)

See notes c-h, Rom. 9:14-21

There is no statement here that God from all eternity chose Pharaoh to resist Him. The idea is that since he was the type of man to be stubborn and rebellious even to the point of self-destruction, since he was one who would not listen to God, and since he was the kind who would voluntarily choose to resist the Almighty, He could use Pharaoh to make His power, love, patience, and longsuffering known to all men. We can believe that God influenced human affairs so that such a person would be on the throne of Egypt at the time one was needed in the fulfillment of His plan; but we cannot believe that Pharaoh would not have been permitted to repent and become submissive had he chosen to cease being rebellious. It was purely a personal choice with him as it is with everyone else in the acceptance or rejection of the gospel today (Mk. 16:16; Jn. 3:16; 2 Cor. 2:15-16). God did not force him in the least to resist His will. He gave Pharaoh free and complete choice on numerous occasions to break and submit to His will. Since he would not, then all God could do was to send enough judgments to make the king willing to let Israel go (v 17)

p Question 27. Next, 10:3

a All the dealings of God with Pharaoh were efforts to soften his heart; and this would have been the result if he had not preferred to resist God and harden his heart instead. After seeing each miracle and the removal of each plague he chose to resist further and continue the hardening. See note s, 5:21

b 18th prophecy in Ex. (10:2-6, fulfilled). Next, v 29

8 predictions of God through Moses:
1 Tomorrow I will bring locusts (v 4)
2 They shall cover the earth (v 5)
3 They shall eat vegetation
4 They shall eat trees of the field
5 They shall fill your houses (v 6)
6 Fill the houses of all your servants
7 Fill the houses of all the Egyptians 8 It will be the greatest plague of locusts since Adam c Signs and miracles are to cause men to know that God is true and real and that He is Jehovah (v 2). Any other motive is not of Him

d This expression is found 5 times in Exodus (3:18; 7:16; 9:1, 13; 10:3). It literally means the Eternal, Self-existing, Covenant-keeping One, the Supporter, Defender, Protector, and Creator of the Hebrews. A similar expression, The God of the Hebrews is found in 5:3

e Question 28, Next, v 7

f 7th and last time God asked Pharaoh to let His people go (v 3). See note f, 5:1. How many infidels or athiests who criticize God for His action in this case would be as lenient and merciful toward rebels against them if they had adequate power to destroy enemies?

g This plague was directed against the god Serapis, who was supposed to protect the land from locusts. The creatures came at the command of God and went when He said for them to go, proving another time that He was the God of gods, and that the gods of Egypt were false and powerless h Heb. arbeh, locust. The common locust is said to multiply faster than almost anything else in creation. The most numerous armies of men are compared to locusts (Judg. 6:5; 7:12; Ps. 105:34; Jer. 46:23; 51:14; Joel 1:6; Nah. 3:15). The destructive locust, described as larger than the ordinary grasshopper, has a large mouth opening with 4 incisive teeth in its 2 jaws which can cut like scissors. Ordinary swarms have been known to cover the ground for miles around. The sun can be literally darkened by locusts in their flight from one place to another; and the noise of their flight is like the rattling of hailstones. The consequences are infinitely more destructive, however. They light on fields and form a bed 6 to 8 inches thick. As to their eating, the noise they make in browsing can be heard at a great distance. They completely consume all plant life including the leaves of trees. They destroy even faster than fire and there is not the slightest trace of vegetation left after they depart from a place. One can see from this what the supernatural plague on the Egyptians must have been. Ps. 78:46 speaks of this plague, showing that God "gave also their increase unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locust"

i Locusts always cover the ground they invade to the depth of 6 or more inches

j Imagine the impossible living conditions with locusts even in the houses, carpeting the floors several inches deep k This plague was the worst of any locust invasion since Adam, proving a supernatural element involved which other such plagues did not have (v 6)

l Questions 29-31, Next, 12:26. For the first time Pharaoh's officers intervened before the coming of another plague (v 7) m We will take every man, woman, boy, and girl, and every animal of our flocks and herds, which are needed for sacrifice (v 9). This should have sounded reasonable to the Egyptians, for they had 6 great feasts honoring their gods during the year, and allowed their women and children to be in attendance. It was fair that the Hebrews have one feast as requested, in the wilderness (v 9). They did not plan to observe this feast and then return to Egypt, for they knew the plan of God for them was to leave altogether and occupy the promised land (Gen. 15 and 17) were not smitten: for they were not grown up.

28 Eleventh miracle: Pharaoh hardened

33 And Mō'şeş went out of the city from Phā'raōh, and spread abroad his hands unto the LORD: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth.

34 And when Phā'raōh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, [c]he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, he and his servants.

35 And the heart of Phā'raōh was hardened, neither would he let the children of Iş'ra-el go; as the LORD had spoken by Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 10 60

29 Ninth demand by God

AND the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Go in unto Phā'raōh: for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might shew these my signs before him:

*2 [d]And that thou mayest tell in the ears of thy son, and of thy son's son, what things I have wrought in Ē'gўpt, and my signs which I have done among them; that ye may [e]know how that I am the LORD.

3 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on came in unto Phā'raōh, and said unto him, Thus saith [d]the LORD God of the Hē'brews, [f]How long wilt thou refuse to humble thyself before me? [f]let my people go, that they may serve me.

4 Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, [g]to morrow will I bring the [h]locusts into thy coast:

5 And they shall [i]cover the face of the earth, that one cannot be able to see the earth: and they shall eat the residue of that which is escaped, which remaineth unto you from the hail, and shall eat every tree which groweth for you out of the field:

6 And they shall [j]fill thy houses, and the houses of all thy servants, and the houses of all the Ē-gўp'tians; which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen, [k]since the day that they were upon the earth unto this day. And he turned himself, and went out from Phā'raōh.

30 Third compromise refused (Ex. 8:25, 28; 10:8, 24)

7 And Phā'raōh's servants said unto him, [l]How long shall this man be a snare unto us? let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God: knowest thou not yet that Ē'gўpt is destroyed?

8 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on were brought again unto Phā'raōh: and he said unto them, Go, serve the LORD your God: but who are they that shall go?

9 And Mō'şeş said, [m]We will go with our young and with our old, with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds will we go; for we must hold a feast unto the LORD.

10 And he [n]said unto them, Let the LORD be so with you, as I will let you go, and your little ones: look to it; for evil is before you.

11 Not so: go now ye that are men, and serve the LORD; for that ye did desire. And they were [o]driven out from Phā'raōh's presence.

31 Twelfth miracle: 8th plague

*12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [p]Stretch out thine hand over the land of Ē'gўpt for the locusts, that they may come up upon the land of Ē'gўpt, and eat every herb of the land, even all that the [q]hail hath left.

13 And Mō'şeş stretched forth his rod over the land of Ē'gўpt, and [r]the LORD brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts.

14 And the locusts went up over all the land of Ē'gўpt, and rested in all the coasts of Ē'gўpt: very grievous were they; [s]before them there were no such locusts as they, neither after them shall be such.

15 For [t]they covered the face of the whole earth, so that the land was darkened; and they did eat every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left: and there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land of Ē'gўpt.

32 Pharaoh's plea for mercy (7:8; 9:27)

16 ¶ [u]Then Phā'raōh called for Mō'şeş and Aâr'on in haste; and he said, [l]I have sinned against the LORD your God, and against you.

17 Now therefore [l]forgive, I pray thee, my sin only this once, and intreat the LORD your God, that he may take away from me this death only.

33 Thirteenth miracle: Pharaoh hardened

18 And he went out from Phā'raōh, and [k]intreated the LORD.

19 And [l]the LORD turned a mighty strong west wind, which took away the locusts, and cast them into the [m]Red sea; there remained not [n]one locust in all the coasts of Ē'gўpt.

20 But the LORD [o]hardened Phā'raōh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Iş'ra-el go.

34 Fourteenth miracle: 9th plague

*21 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [p]Stretch out thine hand toward heaven, that there may a The sense of these verses is: Let Jehovah be with you if I ever let you go with your little ones; look to it. If you attempt to go you will meet with calamity. Not so (I will not let you take your families). You that are men may go and serve the Lord, for that is what you wanted (v 10-11)

b Pharaoh reasoned that if they had no intention of escaping they would be satisfied for the men only to go. If these went alone they would return to their families; so he gave permission for the men to go. Then, Pharaoh drove Moses and Aaron out from his presence (v 11)

c This plague of locusts was clearly a supernatural one, for it came and left as a miracle. Stretching out the hand with the rod of God was an act of obedience and faith which set the judgment of God in motion. The locusts did not come one minute before this; and they did not leave until there was another act of God, so explaining this as an ordinary happening is unscriptural

d The hail had destroyed much of the vegetation but not the wheat and rye crops (9:32), so now all that was left from the hail plague was to be completely destroyed (v 12)

e This again emphasizes the supernatural element in this miracle. The Lord caused an east wind to blow over the land all day and all night. Locusts began coming in the 2nd morning and continued until all the land was covered with them except Goshen where Israel lived (v 13-14)

f The fact that these locusts were different from any that had ever come or ever would come again proves a supernatural element and that they must have been directly created of God (v 14)

g 5 things the locusts did:
1 Caused men much grief (v 14)
2 Covered the land (v 15)
3 Made the land dark
4 Ate all remaining herbs
5 Ate all fruit of the trees

h When the plague was over and the land lay bare, Moses and Aaron were called to hear another meaningless confession and acknowledgement of a divine act (v 16-17, Cp. 9:27)

i The 2nd time Pharaoh confessed his sinfulness (v 16; 9:27)

j This was the first time Pharaoh asked forgiveness for his stubbornness and sin against Israel (v 17). It was not the kind of repentance that works salvation and needs not to be repented of (2 Cor. 7:10), but a shallow mouth-confession and an acknowledgement that he was in the wrong, without a real change of heart which would cause him to forsake sin (Pr. 28:13). All Pharaoh wanted was relief from his suffering and the opportunity to escape from the death he knew he was worthy of (v 17)

k A full proof of the supernatural element in this plague. The locusts did not depart until Moses prayed and God acted to bring about their departure (v 18-19)

l The Lord did this, not nature (v 19)

m The first mention of the Red Sea in Scripture. It played a prominent part in the exodus (v 19; 13:18; 14:1-31; 15:1-19; Josh. 2:10; Ps. 106:7, 9, 22; 136:13-15; Acts 7:36; Heb. 11:29). It is called Red perhaps, because of Edom or Esau whose name means red and whose lands extended to its coasts (Gen. 25:25). The Red Sea separates Arabia from Upper Ethiopia and part of Egypt. It is about 1,350 miles long and 250 miles wide at the mid-section. It gradually diminishes toward the Suez Canal. A strong current of wind blows from the south from October to May, which raises the sea level several feet; but it is correspondingly lowered between May and October when the wind blows from the north. In the north section the sea is divided into the Gulf of Suez and the Gulf of Aqaba, these being separated from each other by the Sinai peninsula n This proves that removing the plague was as great a miracle as causing it to happen (v 19)

o See note s, 4:21

p The beginning of a new miracle brought about by the use of the rod as on other occasions (v 2). It was accomplished by Moses simply stretching out his hand toward heaven, which indicated obedience to the God of heaven who was the great miracle worker a See 7 cases of darkness, p. 110

b See Dense darkness, p. 110
c This plague was directed against the sun god who was supposed to protect from any curse of the sun and bring natural blessings of light, warmth, and fruitfulness. It must have been a horrifying thing to experience such thick darkness throughout the region occupied by the Egyptians, and a beautiful sight to behold the light which was preserved only in the land of Goshen (v 23) d Pharaoh, nearing the breaking point, was at last willing to let all the men, wives, and children go if he could only keep the flocks and herds of Israel (v 24). He may have thought, in his desperation, that this would discourage Israel from leaving but Moses only answered that not one hoof should be left behind (v 25-26)
e It was not known at this time just what kind of sacrifices or how many would be required by the Lord in the new program ahead for Israel. The law had not yet been given concerning the many kinds and numbers of sacrifices. Therefore, it was only proper that every beast belonging to Israel be taken along. God made the details of worship known to His people later at Sinai, as revealed in Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy
f See note s, 4:21
g Pharaoh was wroth at the answer of Moses, and drove him from his presence under the sentence of death should they face each other again (v 28). Had he attempted to slay either Moses or Aaron, before this or afterward, God would have intervened, for their mission was not yet finished. They were under commission to lead Israel out of Egypt, not to perish in trying to do so. It is impossible for any man under direct orders from God, to die before his mission is accomplished, unless that man fails God, as did the prophet in 1 Ki. 13 n Favor was given. The Egyptians had learned fully by this time that the God of the Hebrews was to be obeyed. They had also learned to respect and fear Moses (v 3). The last plague - the death of their firstborn, made the people more than glad to do anything to get rid of Israel (11:8; 12:33-36)

o He had been great as the deliverer of Egypt from the Ethiopians before he first fled from Egypt, but the great miracles to deliver Israel made him greater in the eyes of men (v 3)

23 They saw not one another, neither rose any from his place for three days: but all the children of Iş'ra-el had [c]light in their dwellings.

25 And Mō'şeş said, Thou must give us also sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice unto the LORD our God.

26 Our cattle also shall go with us; there shall not an hoof be left behind; for thereof must we take to serve the LORD our God; and [e]we know not with what we must serve the LORD, until we come thither.

36 Tenth plague foretold: Pharaoh hardened

*AND the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [j]Yet will I bring one plague more upon Phā'raōh, and upon Ĕ'gўpt; afterwards he will let you go hence: when he shall let you go, he shall surely thrust you out hence altogether.

●2 Speak[k]now in the ears of the people, and let every man [l]borrow of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, [m]jewels of silver, and jewels of gold.

3 And the LORD [n]gave the people favour in the sight of the Ĕ-gўp'tians. Moreover the man Mō'şeş was very [o]great in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, [p]in the sight of Phā'raōh's servants, and in the sight of the people.

*4 [q]And Mō'şeş said, Thus saith the LORD, [r]About midnight will I go out into the midst of Ĕ'gўpt:

5 And all the firstborn in the land of Ĕ'gўpt shall die, from the firstborn of Phā'raōh that sitteth upon his throne, [s]even unto the firstborn of the maidservant that is behind the mill; and all the firstborn of beasts.

6 And there shall be a great cry throughout all the land of Ĕ'gўpt, such as there was none like it, nor shall be like it any more.

7 But against any of the children of Iş'ra-el shall not a [t]dog move his tongue, against man or beast: that ye may know how that the LORD doth put a difference between the Ĕ-gўp'tians and Iş'ra-el.

8 And [u]all these thy servants shall come down unto me, and bow down themselves unto me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that follow thee: and after that I will go out. And he went out from Phā'raōh in a great [v]anger.

●9 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Phā'raōh [w]shall not hearken unto you; that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

10 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on did all these wonders before Phā'raōh: and the LORD [x]hardened Phā'raōh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Iş'ra-el go out of his land.

62 CHAPTER 12

37 The passover instituted

*AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and Aâr'on in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, saying,

●2 This [a]month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you.

●3 ¶ Speak ye unto all the congregation of Iş'ra-el, saying, [b]In the tenth day of this month they shall take to them every man a lamb, according to the house of their fathers, a lamb for an house:

●4 And if the household be too little for the lamb, let him and his neighbour next unto his house take it according to [c]the number of the souls; every man according to his eating shall make your count for [d]the lamb.

●5 Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male of the first year: ye shall take it out from the sheep, or from the goats:

●6 And ye shall keep it up until the [e]fourteenth day of the same month: and the whole assembly of the congregation of Iş'ra-el shall kill it [f]in the evening.

●7 And they shall take of [g]the blood, and strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.

8 And they shall eat the flesh in that night, [h]roast with fire, and [i]unleavened bread; and with [j]bitter herbs they shall eat it.

●9 [k]Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; [l]his head with his legs, and with the purtenance thereof.

●10 And ye shall let [m]nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire.

●11 ¶ And thus shall ye eat it; with your [n]loins girded, [o]your shoes on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and ye shall eat it in haste: [p]it is the LORD's passover.

38 Purpose and symbolism of the Lord's passover a See a Double miracle, p. 110

b This was literally fulfilled (12:33) c Moses was finally stirred up in anger against the devilish and inhuman stubbornness of Pharaoh who had lied, resisted God, and manifested hatred of Israel and Israel's God, in every conceivable way (v 8). See 14 examples of being angry, p. 110 d Pharaoh will not hearken, so I will take advantage of his personal unwillingness to submit to Me and will multiply My acts of power so that all the world may know that I am Jehovah (v 9; 6:7; 7:5, 17; 8:10, 22; 9:14, 29-30; 10:2; 11:7; 14:4, 18; 16:6, 12). This is the very reason God used His power, according to all these passages e See note s, 4:21
f See Jewish calendar, p. 110
g This proves that the death of the firstborn was at least 5 days after its announcement and that the midnight of 11:4 was not on the day Moses received the prophecy of the coming plague (v 3) h The rabbins allowed no less than 10 persons to a lamb and not more than 20
l A type of Christ the Lamb of God (Jn. 1:29; Rev. 5:6-10) who was without blemish (v 5; 1 Pet. 1:19)
j This was the butchering day for the passover lamb. Anyone could kill it (v 6) k Heb., between the two evenings. Jews had two evenings. The first was 3:00 p. m. at which time the evening sacrifice was killed; and the second was at 6:00 or near sunset. Cp. Mt. 27:46
l This was done by dipping a bunch of byssop in the blood and striking the 2 side posts and the upper post or lintel of the door (v 7, 22-23). It typified the blood of Christ sprinkled for believers (Mt. 26:28; 1 Pet. 1:2, 18-19; Heb. 9:13-14, 22; 10:19; 13:20). No blood was to be sprinkled on the threshold so that the feet would trample on it. See Heb. 10:29
m Jews were to roast the lamb and not eat any of it raw, as Egyptians who ate raw flesh in honor of Osiris (v 8). Thus God was seeking in every conceivable way to make Israel free from all idolatrous practices and honor to any false god n The Heb. word matsah means to squeeze or compress, and refers to bread without yeast or leaven which is a form of ferment, and typifies sin (1 Cor. 5:6-8)
o Bitter herbs were to be used with the meal. What kind is not specified, but it is thought they were chicory, wild lettuce, and horehound. They were to remind Israel of their bitter slavery in Egypt from which God was now ready to deliver them (12:29-14:31) p 2 ways not to prepare the passover (v 9):
1 Raw, as Egyptians did in worship
2 Sodden (boiled) in water or milk
q The lamb was to be roasted whole with fire, including the head, heart, liver, and kidneys, but not the intestinal canal (v 9)
r All the lamb was to be eaten before morning if possible (v 10) s This indicates they were to be dressed for travel - in readiness to depart from Egypt (v 11)
t 7 things not observed at other passovers:
1 Congregation killing their own lambs (v 6). The priests did this later
2 Placing blood on the side posts and lintels of the doors (v 7, 22-23)
3 Having loins girded (v 11, Cp. Lk. 12:35)
4 Shoes on the feet (v 11)
5 Staff in hand for travel
6 Eating in haste
7 Refraining from going out the door until morning (v 22)
u This is the general name of this great feast which was to commemorate Israel's deliverance from death when the angel passed over Egypt to slay all the firstborn of the Egyptians (v 11-14)

b See Judgment on gods of Egypt, p. 110

c The blood was the token of obedience to Jehovah. By this sign the death angel knew which houses to spare or pass over when slaying the firstborn. Faith in Jehovah, His token and promise gave peace in the houses where the blood had been sprinkled in obedience to God's demands (v 13, Cp. Heb. 9:22) d When God saw the blood applied and all conditions met, He gave security to that home. Doubt by the occupants of the house might destroy the peace, but not the security, because it was founded on God's word. But, faith in a security without the blood being applied would not have brought any regardless of personal feelings in the matter. So it is in the gospel program, that all conditions must be met, repentance must be sincere and accompanied by a turning away from sin before there is security in Christ. No one is secure in Him while living in sin and when the terms of repentance and living free from sin are not being met (Jn. 8:31-36; 15:1-8; Rom. 6:16-23; 8:1-13; 1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:9-11, 19-20; 9:27; Gal. 1:6-8; 5:4, 16-26; Col. 3:5-10; Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 3:6, 12-14; 6:4-9; 10:19-29; 2 Pet. 2:20-22; etc.)

e Heb. pesach, trans. passover, is the name of the yearly feast of Israel to commemorate their deliverance from the death angel in Egypt (v 11-14). The term recalls how the Lord caused the death angel to pass over the Hebrew houses when the sign of blood being sprinkled at the door was in evidence (v 12)

f A memorial as long as you continue as a people in obedience to God. See 8 feasts of Jehovah, note f, Lev. 23:2

g Heb. olam, time out of mind; without end, it is trans. forever 272 times; everlasting 39 times; evermore 15 times; perpetual 22 times; always 3 times; alway 2 times; long 4 times; world 3 times; ancient 6 times; eternal (Isa. 60:15); and lasting (Dt. 33:15). It means time without defined limits. It corresponds to the Gr. aionios, trans. everlasting and eternal in connection with the existence of God, heaven, hell, life, the life of the righteous, the kingdom, and other things that are clearly eternal. It should never be confused with the Heb. cheled (Ps. 17:14; 49:1) or the Gr. aion (Eph. 2:7; Col. 1:26), which mean a fleeting portion of time; the transient world; age; or period of time whether long or short. The passover and certain other memorials are eternal and will be observed eternally in the eternal reign of Christ (Ezek. 45:17; 46:14)

h First mention of the feast of unleavened bread, a distinct feast from the passover, it began with the passover and continued 7 days, the 1st and 7th days being holy convocations (v 16). See 8 feasts of Jehovah, note f, Lev. 23:2

i First occurrence of leaven, yeast. All leavened or fermented bread was to be put out of all houses during the feast of unleavened bread (v 15-20, 34, 39; 13:3-7). Leaven is a symbol of evil (1 Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:9) and false doctrines (Mt. 13:33; 16:6-12; Mk. 8:15; Lk. 12:1; 13:21)

j The death penalty was passed upon all who ate leavened bread during the feast of unleavened bread (v 15). See 42 death penalty sins, p. 16

k 5 laws of Moses concerning the 7th day:
1 Have an holy convocation on the 7th day of the feast (v 16; 32:5; Num. 28:25)
2 Make the 7th day a feast to the Lord (13:6)
3 Gather no manna (16:29)

*12 [a]For I will pass through the land of Ĕ'gўpt this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, both man and beast; and against [k]all the gods of Ĕ'gўpt I will execute judgment: I am the LORD.

13 And the [c]blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are: and [d]when I see the blood, I will [e]pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

●14 And this day shall be unto you for a [f]memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the LORD throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance [g]for ever.

39 Feast of unleavened bread instituted (13:3, refs.)

●15 [h]Seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread; even the first day ye shall put [i]away leaven out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, [j]that soul shall be cut off from Iş'ra-el.

●16 And in the first day there shall be an holy convocation, and in the [k]seventh day there shall be an holy convocation to you; no manner of work shall be done in them, save that which every man must eat, that only may be done of you.

40 Purpose and symbolism of the feast of unleavened bread (Ex. 13:3)

●17 And ye shall observe the feast of unleavened bread; for in this [l]selfsame day have I brought your armies out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt: therefore shall ye observe this day in your generations by an [m]ordinance for ever.

●18 ¶ In the first month, [n]on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even.

●19 Seven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses: for whosoever eateth that which is leavened, even that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Iş'ra-el, whether he be a stranger, or born in the land.

●20 Ye shall eat nothing leavened; in all your habitations shall ye eat unleavened bread.

41 Passover law communicated to Israel and obeyed

●21 ¶ Then Mō'şeş called for all the elders of Iş'ra-el, and said unto them, Draw out and take you a lamb according to your families, and [o]kill the passover.

●22 And ye shall take a bunch of [p]hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the lintel and the two side posts with the blood that is in the bason; and none of you shall go out at the door of his house until the morning.

*23 [q]For the LORD will pass through to smite the Ĕ-gўp'tians; and when he seeth the blood upon the lintel, and on the two side posts, the LORD will [a]pass over the door, and will not suffer [b]the destroyer to come in unto your houses to smite you.

●24 And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for [c]ever.

●25 And it shall come to pass, when ye be come to the land which the LORD will give you, according as he hath promised, that ye shall keep this service.

26 And it shall come to pass, when your children shall say unto you, [d]What mean ye by this service?

●27 That ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of [e]the LORD'S passover, who passed over the houses of the children of Iş'ra-el in Ĕ'gўpt, when he smote the Ĕ-gўp'tians, and delivered our houses. [f]And the people bowed the head and worshipped.

28 And the children of Iş'ra-el went away, and did as the LORD had commanded Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, so did they.

42 Fifteenth miracle: 10th plague

29 ¶ And it came to pass, that at [g]midnight the LORD smote all the firstborn in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, from the firstborn of Phā'raōh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the dungeon; and all the firstborn of cattle.

30 And Phā'raōh rose up [h]in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Ĕ-gўp'tians; and there was a [i]great cry in Ĕ'gўpt: for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

43 Israel expelled from Egypt

●31 ¶ And he [j]called for Mō'şeş and Aâr'on by night, and said, Rise up, and get you forth from among my people, both ye and the children of Iş'ra-el; and go, serve the LORD, as ye have said.

●32 Also take your flocks and your herds, as ye have said, and be gone; and bless me also.

33 And the Ĕ-gўp'tians were urgent upon the people, that they might send them out of the land in haste; for they said, We be all dead men.

34 And the people took their dough before it was leavened, their kneadingtroughs [k]being bound up in their clothes upon their shoulders.

44 Preparation to leave

35 And the children of Iş'ra-el did [l]according to the word of Mō'şeş; [m]and they borrowed of the Ĕ-gўp'tians jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment:

45 The spoiling of Egypt

36 And the LORD [n]gave the people favour in the sight of the Ĕ-gўp'tians, so that they [o]lent unto them such things as they required. And they spoiled a The words pass over are used 2 times (v 13, 23); pass through 2 times (v 12, 23); and passover 5 times in this chapter (v 11, 21, 27, 43, 48)

10 passovers of Scripture:
1 The original passover (12:21-28)
2 Passover in the wilderness (Num. 9:5)
3 First passover in Canaan (Josh. 5:10)
4 One under Hezekiah (2 Chr. 30:13-15)
5 One under Josiah (2 Ki. 23:21; 2 Chr. 35)
6 One under Zerubbabel (Ezra 6:19)
7 One Jesus attended as a boy (Lk. 2:41)
8 First one in Jesus' ministry (Jn. 2:13; 6:4; 11:55)
9 Second in Jesus' ministry (Jn. 6:4)
10 Last in Jesus' ministry (Mt. 26:17)

b The destroyer was a different person from Jehovah, Himself. It seems that Jehovah passed over Egypt and either directed the destroyer or instructed him not to touch any firstborn in any house where the blood was applied (v 13)

d Question 32, Next, 13:14

e It is called the Lord's passover by Moses only (v 11, 27; Lev. 23:5), in the N. T. it is the Jews' passover (Jn. 2:13; 6:4; 11:55)

f This attitude was different from that seen at the last mention of them in 5:19-21. There they were bitter, but here they were believing, having witnessed the mighty miracles at the hands of Moses and Aaron, and having been protected from the 10 plagues (v 27). Seemingly, they were ignored by their busy leaders during the plague period, but no doubt there was a daily contact with them. Now, they were ready to obey Moses again (v 28)

g This was the night following the daytime of the 14th of Abib or Nisan. The passover was eaten at this same time, and by daylight of the 15th Israel was leaving Egypt (v 22, 29-51; Num. 33:3)

h This was after midnight when all the firstborn had been killed. They urged the Israelites to go at once, and they were ready to do so. There were no restrictions regarding who should go or what should be taken, as on other occasions (v 31-34)

i No people of antiquity were any more emotional in mourning than the Egyptians. They whipped, beat, tore themselves, and howled and screamed in excessive grief. What a manifestation there must have been when the whole nation turned to mourning over the firstborn! (v 30)

j They sent messengers telling the Israelites to get out and take all they owned, urging them to leave at once (v 31-33)

k It was customary in travelling to bind the kneadingtroughs in clothing so as to have them handy for use in travel (v 34). Kneadingtroughs were small wooden bowls used for mixing flour and water or milk in to make bread cakes. Some were made of leather and in travel could be closed like a pocket-book. Dough was often carried in them

m It will be observed by Israel even in the Millennium and New Earth (Ezek. 43:7; 44:5; 45:17-25; 46:14; 48:35)

n The passover and the feast of unleavened bread began at the same time, the 15th day of Abib or Nisan (v 18) which would be sometime after sundown on the 14th. The passover lamb was killed and prepared before sundown (on the 14th) so that both observances could be carried out together, beginning on the 15th (Num. 33:3) a Rameses, or Raamses (1:11), city of the sun, was built by Israelite slave labor

b 600,000 men of war without reckoning the priestly tribe of Levi. Besides these there were wives, children, older men and women, and a multitude of mixed peoples who were the descendants of the servants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. From them the children of Israel inherited a great store of servants (Gen. 14:14-15; 26:14-19, 25, 32; 32:16). These could greatly outnumber the Hebrews, for they far outnumbered them when the 70 souls of Jacob went to Egypt. Abraham alone had 318 trained soldiers and these as well as those of Isaac and Jacob continued to multiply through the years as did the Israelites themselves. Counting the descendants of servants with the Israelites, it is estimated that more than 6,000,000 people made the exodus from Egypt at this time, as follows:

1 Men of war (12:37).....600,000
2 Wives of men of war.... 600,000
3 Wives of others, men not engaged as soldiers, and sisters. ..400,000
4 Children of men of war (estimating 4 to a family)...2,400,000
5 Levites a month old and upward (note b, Num. 3:39).....22,300
6 Wives of Levites 30 to 50 years old (Num. 4:47-48).....8,580
7 Wives of younger and older Levites, and sisters.....2,000
8 Children of Levites (estimating 4 each to 8,580 families).....34,320
Total Israelites.....4,067,200
9 Mixed multitude (estimating one-half as many Israelites) 2,033,600
Estimated grand total, 6,100,800

c The whole of the sojourn was from the 75th year of Abraham's life when he entered Canaan to this day of the exodus. The entire sojourning took place in Mesopotamia, Syria, Canaan, Philistia, and Egypt. The sojourn in Egypt was only 215 years, one-half of the 430 of the whole period. See note o, Gen. 15:13

d This is the whole length of the dispensation of Promise - from Abraham to Moses or the exodus (v 40; Gal. 3:17; note o, Gen. 15:13)

e This indicates that Abraham began his sojourn on the 15th day of Nisan or April exactly 430 years before the exodus (v 41; Gen. 12:6; Num. 33:3; Gal. 3:17)

f It was at midnight that the firstborn were killed. After that Israel was thrust out of Egypt. They left early in the morning of the 15th of Nisan (v 29-37; Num. 33:3)

g 26 laws: passover and unleavened bread:
1 On the 10th day of Nisan, the 1st month, take a lamb and keep it up until the 14th day (v 3-6)
2 If one household is too small for a lamb, let 2 families share it so there will be no waste (v 4)
3 The lamb shall be without blemish (v 5)
4 The lamb shall be a male of the first year (v 5)
5 Kill the lamb in the evening of the 14th day of Nisan (v 6)
6 Sprinkle the blood on doorposts and lintels of the door (v 7, 22-23)
7 Roast the whole lamb and eat with unleavened bread and bitter herbs (v 8-9)
8 Do not eat it raw or boiled (v 9)
9 Eat all of it; and if any of it remains until morning burn it with fire (v 10)
10 Eat in haste with loins girded and shoes on ready to travel (v 11)
11 Eat in the night (v 8, 10, 18)
12 The ordinance shall be a memorial forever (v 14, 17, 24; Ezek. 45:17)
13 Put away leaven out of your houses and eat unleavened bread only (v 15, 19-20; 13:3-7)
14 Begin the feast of unleavened bread at the time of the passover (v 15-20)
15 Eat unleavened bread 7 days (v 15)
16 The 1st and 7th days shall be holy convocations with no work (v 16)
17 Have no leaven whatsoever in your houses for the entire 7 days (v 18-19)
18 No stranger shall eat of the passover (v 43)
19 No uncircumcised male shall eat of it (v 44-48)
20 No foreigner or hired servant shall eat of it (v 45)
21 It shall not be sent to others outside the house, but shall be eaten in the Ē-gȳp'tians.

37 ¶ And the children of Iṣ'ra-el journeyed from [a]Rā-mē'seṣ to Sŭc'coth, about [b]six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children.

THE FIFTH DISPENSATION: Law - from Moses to Christ (Ex. 12:38 - Mt. 3:1; Lk. 16:16)

IV Three months' journey to Sinai (Ex. 12:37 - 19:2).

1 Rameses to Succoth

38 And a mixed multitude went up also with them; and flocks, and herds, even very much cattle.

39 And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought forth out of Ē'gȳpt, for it was not leavened; because they were thrust out of Ē'gȳpt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any victual.

2 Length of the dispensation of Promise - Abraham to Moses: 430 years (Gal. 3:17)

40 ¶ Now the [c]sojourning of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, who dwelt in Ē'gȳpt, was [d]four hundred and thirty years.

41 And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even [e]the selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Ē'gȳpt.

42 It is a[f]night to be much observed unto the LORD for bringing them out from the land of Ē'gȳpt: this is that night of the LORD to be observed of all the children of Iṣ'ra-el in their generations.

3 Law of the passover

43 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on, [g]This is the ordinance of the passover: There shall no stranger eat thereof:

44 But every man's servant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall he eat thereof.

45 A foreigner and an hired servant shall not eat thereof.

46 In one house shall it be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; neither shall ye break a bone thereof.

47 All the congregation of Iṣ'ra-el shall keep it.

48 And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

49 [h]One [i]law shall be to him that is homeborn, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you.

50 Thus did all the children of Iṣ'ra-el; as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on, so did they.

51 And it came to pass [j]the selfsame day, that the LORD did bring the children of Iṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gȳpt by their [a]armies.

CHAPTER 13

4 Sanctification of the firstborn unto God (Ex. 13:11; 22:29; 34:19; Lev. 27:26; Num. 3:40; 8:16; 18:15; Dt. 15:19; 26:1)

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 [b]Sanctify unto me all the firstborn, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Iṣ'ra-el, both of man and of beast: it is mine.

5 Law of the feast of unleavened bread (Ex. 12:15-20; 23:15; 34:18; Lev. 23:6)

3 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the people, [c]Remember this day, in which ye came out from Ē'gȳpt, out of the house of bondage; for by strength of hand the LORD brought you out from this place: there shall no leavened bread be eaten.

4 [d]This day came ye out in the month Ā'bĭb.

5 ¶ [e]And it shall be when the LORD shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ām'ōr-ītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes, which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, that thou shalt keep this service in this month.

6 Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the LORD.

7 Unleavened bread shall be eaten seven days; and there shall no leavened bread be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven seen with thee in all thy quarters.

6 Phylacteries a sign of obedience (v 14; Num. 15:37; Dt. 6:8; Mt. 23:5)

8 ¶ And thou shalt shew thy son in that day, saying, This is done because of that which the LORD did unto me when I came forth out of Ē'gȳpt.

9 And it shall be for a sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a [f]memorial between thine eyes, that the LORD's law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the LORD brought thee out of Ē'gȳpt.

10 Thou shalt therefore keep this ordinance in his season from year to year.

7 Law concerning the firstborn (Ex. 13:1, refs.)

11 ¶ And it shall be when the LORD shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, as he sware unto thee and to thy fathers, and shall give it thee, 12 That thou shalt [g]set apart unto the LORD all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the LORD's.

13 And every firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb;

a This shows that the Israelites had already formed themselves into regular companies and divisions, and were well organized in spite of slavery. No doubt each person knew his place and duty so that the entire multitude could leave on short notice (v 51)

b Heb. qadash, to set apart from a profane to a sacred purpose (v 12). It has no reference to cleansing from sin or removal of what is commonly called the old man. Here it is the setting apart of the firstborn of both man and beast for holy uses (2, 12). Beasts, who are not involved with sin can be sanctified to God in this sense, as well as man. See The doctrine of sanctification, p. 231 of N. T.

c Remember what? This day of the exodus - the day when you came out of slavery (v 3). So that they would not fail to remember, God commanded Israel to set apart the 7th day to commemorate their deliverance from bondage (Dt. 5:15). It was not required of them to remember a day on which God rested some 2,500 years before this. The Remember of Ex. 20:8 has to do with remembering their own sabbath wherein Israel rested from slavery, and not the commemorating of God's sabbath when He rested on the 7th day from His labors as in Gen. 2:2-3. Dt. 5:15 makes this very clear, saying: "And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out... therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day." The sabbath was a sign between God and Israel only, not the church, or Gentiles. Furthermore, the sabbath-command did not even apply to Israel until Sinai when the law was given (31:14-16; Ezek. 20:12-20). In no place in Scripture is man commanded to remember God's rest day. Such a day of rest, the 7th after 6 days of work could not possibly apply to man for he was only created (and began working) on the 6th day of that week. To fulfill the requirements of Ex. 20:8-11 which commands to labor 6 days and rest the 7th, man would have rested on what we call Thursday of the 2nd week. This would have been his first 7th-day; whereas, God completed His 6 days of labor and rested on Saturday of the previous week as His 7th day

d Again emphasizing that the first sabbath was a day of travel from Egypt, and demonstrating that necessary and good things can and should be done on any sabbath (Mk. 3:1-4). This was the regular weekly sabbath as well as a special sabbath (12:16; Num. 33:3)

e 24th prophecy in Ex. (13:5, fulfilled). Next, v 19

f Jews made phylacteries for the foreheads and arms which had scriptures in them. These were for the purpose of keeping certain truths in memory, and procuring reverence and respect from the heathen. In later years, during their backslidings Israel is said to have used phylacteries as charms or amulets to drive away evil spirits. See note b, Mt. 23:5

g This is the divine definition of sanctify, as mentioned in note b, above. All firstborn males of both man and beast were to be sanctified to God (v 12-13; Dt. 5:19). This was limited to the clean beasts as in Num. 18:8, 15. The firstborn of asses and unclean beasts were to be redeemed by a lamb, and then the owner could use them as his own. Otherwise their necks were to be broken (v 13)

side only (v 46)
22 Break no bone of the passover lamb (v 46. Cp. Jn. 19:33, 36)
23 All the congregation of Israel shall keep the passover (v 47)
24 It is to be kept this month - Abib or Nisan (13:5), and yearly (Num. 9:2-6)
25 Men defiled at the passover time may eat it a month later (Num. 9:2-14)
26 Sacrifice lambs to be killed only at the tabernacle (Dt. 16:5-6)

b Although the law of Moses was given for the Israelites only to keep (Dt. 4:6-8, 44-45; Rom. 2:12-16; 3:1-2), any Gentiles who wished to do so could become one with Israel providing their males became circumcised and they conformed to the whole law as if they were Israelites (v 49; Num. 15:16)

i Heb. torah, to aim at; teach; point out; direct; lead; guide; make straight

j The 15th of Nisan (v 41, 51; Num. 33:3) a Heb. gadah, to sever; ransom; release by paying a price. Not the same word for redeem as in note j, 6:6; but the same as in 13:15; 34:20; Lev. 27:27; Num. 18:15-17 where it has the basic idea of exchange of things of token value, not necessarily things of equal value. According to Num. 3:12-13, 42-51, the firstborn males of non-Levite tribes were to be exchanged for Levites. That is, the Levites were to be the minister-tribe, and all the firstborn males of other tribes were to be exempt from ministerial service by payment of a redemption fee. This was $3.20 each and the amount was to be given to the Lord for the support of the Levites. All the firstborn males of clean animals were to go to the Levites, and those of the unclean ones were to be exchanged for lambs which also were for the Levites (v 13, 15)

b Question 33. Next, 14:5

c Why the firstborn were chosen, p.110

d See note b, Mt. 23:5

e This explains why God led the nation of Israel around the long way, through the wilderness and Red Sea instead of taking them through the land of the Philistines. He knew that Pharaoh would try to recapture them, and the Philistines might also help out in this. With war on every hand so soon there would be the possibility of Israel wanting to return to Egypt immediately (v 17-18). The long slavery of Israel had weakened their will to resist to such an extent that God saw it was better to enable them to escape a military campaign at the very outset of leaving Egypt. This weakening of the will may also explain why the people were degraded enough in mind and soul to commit the ungodly and rebellious deeds they did against God and Moses in the wilderness experiences. Thus, God led the nation around the land of Philistia by taking them across the Red Sea and they entered the Sinai peninsula south of the Philistine country f The route of the Mediterranean sea coast toward Gaza in Philistia was nearer but God led them into the wilderness of the Red Sea area southward to Pi-hahiroth on the shore of the Red Sea, about 100 miles south of Rameses. How long it took for the journey is not stated, but Pharaoh concluded they had missed the way out of Egypt and were hemmed in by the wilderness (14:3). The valley the Israelites were in terminated at the sea; and on the north and south there were mountains cutting off their escape. Pharaoh came into the valley from the rear and that cut them off entirely from any way of escape. The actual place of passage through the Red Sea is supposed to have been 12 miles wide from the border of Egypt to the wilderness of Shur (15:22)

g Heb. chamush, armed. It is trans. armed in Josh. 1:14; 4:12; Judg. 7:11. Nothing is said about the Israelites being disarmed by the Egyptians. It is likely that they had helped protect Egypt from invading nomads since they lived in a frontier district. For this they were no doubt well equipped. Israel went out of Egypt in orderly companies (12:51). If they went 5 abreast, as some versions suggest, and there were around 6,000,000 people (as suggested in note b, 12:37), there was a line of marching Israelites approximately 680 miles long, allowing 3 ft. each for the 1,200,000 rows. If they went 50 abreast there would be a line of 68 miles; if 100 abreast a line of 34 miles; if 200, then a line of 17 miles; and if 400, a line of 8 1/2 miles. Allowing 3 ft. to a person a column 400 abreast would mean that a path was made through the solid ice of the Red Sea about 1,200 ft. wide (15:8). This would vary, more or less, according to the column width of the march. It would take hours to cross h 25th prophecy in Ex. (13:19, fulfilled). Next, 14:3. The bones of Joseph were taken with Israel, fulfilling v 19; Gen. 50:25. Cp. Josh. 24:32; Acts 7:15-16. This last passage even suggests that the bodies of the fathers were also taken from Egypt

i When this visible Presence appeared is not stated, but it led the way day and night from Egypt to Canaan. It was the manifestation of and the dwelling place of the angel of God that guided

8 Phylacteries a sign of obedience (Ex. 13:8, refs.)

●14 ¶ And it shall be when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, [b]What is this? that thou shalt [c]say unto him, By strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Ĕ'gўpt, from the house of bondage:

15 And it came to pass, when Phă'raōh would hardly let us go, that the LORD slew all the firstborn in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, both the firstborn of man, and the firstborn of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the LORD all that openeth the matrix, being males; but all the firstborn of my children I redeem.

16 And it shall be for [a][d]token upon thine hand, and for frontlets between thine eyes: for by strength of hand the LORD brought us forth out of Ĕ'gўpt.

9 Reason for God leading Israel through the wilderness

17 ¶ [e]And it came to pass, when Phă'raōh had let the people go, that God [f]led them not through the way of the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people repent when they see war, and they return to Ĕ'gўpt:

18 But God led the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el [g]went up harnessed out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

10 Israel's vow to Joseph fulfilled (Gen. 50:25; Josh. 24:32; Heb. 11:22)

★19 [h]And Mō'şeş took the bones of Jō'şeph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, God will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you.

21 And the LORD went before them by day [i]in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night:

22 He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people.

64 CHAPTER 14

13 Journey from Etham to Migdol (Num. 33:1-8)

★AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they turn and encamp before Pĭ'-ha-hĭ'roth, between [a]Mĭg'dol and the sea, over against Bā'al-zē'phon: before it shall ye encamp by the sea.

14 Prediction of Pharaoh's pursuit of Israel

★3 [b]For Phă'raōh will say of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, They are entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in.

4 And I will [c]harden Phă'raōh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I will be honoured upon Phă'raōh, and upon all his host; that the Ĕ-gўp'tians may know that I am the LORD. And they did so.

15 Pharaoh pursues Israel (v 3-4 fulfilled)

5 ¶ And it was told the king of Ĕ'gўpt that the people fled: and the heart of Phă'raōh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, [d]Why have we done this, that we have let Ĭs'ra-el go from serving us?

6 And he made ready [e]his chariot, and took his people with him:

7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots of Ĕ'gўpt, and captains over every one of them.

8 And the LORD [f]hardened the heart of Phă'raōh king of Ĕ'gўpt, and he pursued after the children of Ĭs'ra-el: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el went out with an high hand.

9 But the Ĕ-gўp'tians pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Phă'raōh, and his horsemen, and his army, [g]and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pĭ'-ha-hĭ'roth, before Bā'al-zē'phon.

16 Second of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

10 ¶ And when Phă'raōh drew nigh, the children of Ĭs'ra-el lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Ĕ-gўp'tians marched after them; and [h]they were sore afraid: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el cried out unto the LORD.

11 And they said unto Mō'şeş, [i]Because there were no graves in Ĕ'gўpt, hast thou taken us away to die in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou dealt thus with us, to carry us forth out of Ĕ'gўpt?

12 Is not this the word that we did tell thee in Ĕ'gўpt, saying, [j]Let us alone, that we may serve the Ĕ-gўp'tians? For [k]it had been better for us to serve the Ĕ-gўp'tians, than that we should die in the wilderness.

17 God promises salvation

★13 ¶ [l]And Mō'şeş said unto the people, [m]Fear ye not, [n]stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD, which he will shew to you to day: for the Ĕ-gўp'tians whom ye have seen to day, [o]ye a The journey thus far from Rameses:

1 To Succoth, perhaps only an encampment, for the name means tents or booths (12:37; 13:20)
2 To Etham, which was a fortress of Egypt where the sun-god was worshipped (13:20)
3 Pi-hahiroth, a place on the Red Sea near Migdol, a fortress that served to defend Egypt from Asia, and close to Baal-zephon, a sacred place to Typhon, the evil demon of Egyptian mythology b 26th prophecy in Ex. (14:3-4, fulfilled). Next, v 13. Here we have another prediction of Pharaoh's stubborness and defeat. His servants were a party to his rebellion and therefore suffered the same tragic end as he did (v 5, 28-31)

c See note s, 4:21

d Question 34. Next, v 11

e 4 parts to this army:
1 Pharaoh, commander-in-chief (v 6)
2 His people, perhaps all the chief officers of his immediate household
3 600 chosen chariots, comprising the king's guard, the pride of Egypt (v 7) 4 All chariots of Egypt as the main body of the army, including chariot drivers and combatants in each chariot (v 7, 9). Josephus says that Pharaoh had 50,000 horsemen and 200,000 footmen

f See note s, 4:21

g It was no doubt about a week since the children of Israel had left Rameses. The journey from Etham itself would have taken at least 2 or 3 days. They were at the end of their journey unless they could get through the Red Sea. This is what God had in mind, but had not yet revealed it to Moses h 3 effects upon Israel: They 1 Were sore afraid (v 10)

2 Cried out to the Lord
3 Complained against Moses (v 11-12)

i Questions 35-37. Next, v 15. This was the 2nd of 12 complaints of Israel (5:19, refs.)

j If Israel had been forsaken here the promises and covenants made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob would have failed and God would have been blamed by all free moral agents in the universe. But He proved Himself just and merciful, and one who works everything out for the best of all concerned, even though He is criticised and misunderstood for the moment. Had He been like many men, just one flare-up like this from Israel would have caused Him to end His efforts to take such a stiff-necked people out of slavery. Little did Israel realize how great was the power of God at this moment even after the mighty miracles seen by them in the land of Egypt

k God had no intention of leaving them to die in the wilderness, but to man who can see only circumstances, it seemed that this would be their fate (v 12). This attitude was a preview of what they were to be like in the coming experiences of the wilderness and throughout their history

l 27th prophecy in Ex. (14:13, fulfilled). Next, v 16

5 predictions of Moses:
1 You will see God's salvation (v 13)
2 You will see it today
3 The Egyptians whom you now see you will see no more, alive
4 The Lord will fight for you (v 14)
5 You will not have to fight

m This has been the command of God about 80 times in Scripture. He has always had to still the fears of men. See Fear in the Index n 5 commands for man to stand still:

1 Stand still and see the salvation of Jehovah (v 13)
2 Stand still and hear what Jehovah will command concerning you (Num. 9:8)
3 Stand still a while that I may show you the word of God (1 Sam. 9:27)
4 Stand still and see the salvation of Jehovah with you (2 Chr. 20:17)
5 Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God (Job 37:14) them (14:19; 32:34). The cloud by day covered Israel to protect from the scorching sun; and the fire by night gave light in all the camp (Ps. 105:39; Num. 9:16-18). Cp. Isa. 4:5 which refers to the Millennium a Question 38, Next, 15:11. Cease this complaining to Me (stop praying) and do something - go forward (v 15). Moses believed God and crossed the Red Sea on dry ground (Heb. 10:17; 11:29).

b 28th prophecy in Ex. (14:16-18, fulfilled). Next, v 26. This was the last prediction of the hardening of Pharaoh's heart

7 predictions of God through Moses:
1 I will divide the Red Sea (v 16)
2 Israel shall go on dry ground 17)
3 I will harden hearts of Egyptians (v
4 They will follow Israel into the sea

c 15 miracles by the rod: It was used
1 To turn into a serpent (4:2-3)
2 To turn back to a rod (4:4)
3 To turn again into a serpent (4:30)
4 To turn back again to a rod
5 To turn into a serpent (7:9-10)
6 To swallow other rods (7:12)
7 To turn waters to blood (7:15-25)
8 To create frogs (8:5)
9 To create lice (8:16-17)
10 To bring hail and fire (9:23)
11 To create locusts (10:13)
12 To divide the Red Sea (14:16)
13 To create water (17:6)
14 To bring military victory (17:8-9)
15 To create water (Num. 20:8-11)

d The bottom of the Red Sea was actually made dry. At the place where Israel crossed it was about 12 miles wide, and from 75 to 100 ft. deep. Imagine a wide path with walls of ice (15:8) on both sides 75 to 100 ft. high!

e This was one of the members of the Godhead who is often called the angel of Jehovah, or angel of God. See point 13, 44 appearances of God, p. 63. He is called Jehovah in 13:21-22; 14:21-25, 31; etc.

f The cloud was dark on one side and luminous on the other so as to give light to the whole camp of Israel. It kept the 2 camps separate all night (v 20)

g Note how God used created things to perform His will (v 21). This was a divine miracle, not something accomplished by the mere forces of nature itself. Not only was this done suddenly by divine power, but it was likewise undone suddenly by the same power (v 21, 26-31). A wind blowing strong enough to make a path through the sea 12 miles across and hold the waters up like a wall 75 to 100 ft. high without any other miraculous force at work, would have been strong enough to blow all the Israelites and Egyptians away

h The waters were congealed or frozen to solid ice on both sides of the people as they went through the sea (v 22; 15:8)

i It would have to be extreme hardness of heart and stubbornness on the part of man to fight God under these circumstances

The many acts of God recorded throughout Scripture, sometimes as many as 80 in a chapter, truly prove that He is a real person whose acts are to be understood in the same literal sense as those performed by men, angels, and other beings. We have no authority to give them a spiritual, symbolic, or figurative meaning simply because they are the acts of God. His creation of the universe, the stars and planets, angels and men, fish, beast, and bird are accepted as literal; and thus it should be with all other acts of God so plainly stated as such, in the Bible shall see them again no more for ever.

14 The LORD shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace.

●15 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [c]Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, that they go forward:

★16 [b]But [c]lift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Iş'ra-el shall go[d]on dry ground through the midst of the sea.●

17 And I, behold, I will harden the hearts of the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş, and they shall follow them: and I will get me honour upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his host, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

18 And the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş shall know that I am the LORD, when I have gotten me honour upon Phā'raōh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

18 Israel protected from Pharaoh: 16th miracle

19 ¶ And [e]the angel of God, which went before the camp of Iş'ra-el, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them:

20 And it came between the camp of the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş and the camp of Iş'ra-el; and it was a cloud and darkness to them, but it [f]gave light by night to these: so that the one came not near the other all the night.

19 Red Sea divided and congealed: 17th miracle (15:8. Cp. Josh. 3:16-4:18; 2 Ki. 2:1-15)

21 And Mō'şeş stretched out his hand over the sea; and the LORD caused the sea to go back by a[g]strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided.

22 And the children of Iş'ra-el went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a[h]wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

20 Chariot wheels taken off by God: 18th miracle

23 ¶ [i]And the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş pursued, and went in after them to the midst of the sea, even all Phā'raōh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen.

24 And it came to pass, that in the [j]morning watch the LORD looked unto the host of the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, and troubled the host of the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş,

25 And [k]took off their chariot wheels, that they drave them heavily: so that the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş said, Let us flee from the face of Iş'ra-el; for the LORD fighteth for them against the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş.

21 Red Sea turned from ice to water destroying the Egyptians: 19th miracle (Ex. 15:8)

★26 ¶ [a]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Stretch out thine hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen.●

27 And Mō'şeş stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea [b]returned to his strength when the [c]morning appeared; and the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş fled against it; and the LORD overthrew the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş in the midst of the sea.

28 And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Phā'raōh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as[d]one of them.

29 But the children of Iş'ra-el walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a[e]wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

30 Thus the LORD [f]saved Iş'ra-el that day out of the hand of the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş; and Iş'ra-el saw the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş dead upon the sea shore.

31 And Iş'ra-el saw that great work which the LORD did upon the Ê-ğyp'tiaṇş: and the people feared the LORD, and believed the LORD, and his servant Mō'şeş.

65 CHAPTER 15

22 Song of Moses (Rev. 15:3)

THEN [g]sang Mō'şeş and the children of Iş'ra-el [h]this song unto the LORD, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the LORD, for [i]he hath triumphed gloriously: the [j]horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

2 [k]The LORD is my strength and song, and he is become [l]my salvation: he is my God, [m]and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.

3 The LORD is a[n]man of war: the LORD is his name.

4 Phā'raōh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

5 The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom[o]as a stone.

6 Thy [p]right hand, O LORD, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O LORD, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

8 And with [q]the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods [r]stood upright as an heap, and the depths were [s]congealed in the heart of the sea.

a 29th prophecy in Ex. (14:26, fulfilled). Next, 15:13. This predicted the complete destruction of Pharaoh and all his army

b The ice walls of the sea which had been caused by the previous miracle were now suddenly melted to water again wherein the Egyptians were all drowned (v 26-31; 15:8)

c This was done at the dawn of the new day. The Egyptians, seeing the walls of water coming down upon them tried to flee (v 27)

d Not one Egyptian was left alive (v 28). This proves that not even Pharaoh escaped, fulfilling the prophecies of 14:3-4, 17, 26

e The waters were congealed or frozen solid from 75 to 100 ft. high, for this was how deep the sea was at the point of crossing

2 Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the shore of the Red Sea

4 Israel feared the Lord 31)
5 Israel believed the Lord
6 Israel believed in Moses as the servant of Jehovah

g This song (15:1-19) was composed by Moses and sung by him and all Israel on the occasion of the destruction of the Egyptians in the Red Sea. It was the real beginning of Hebrew poetry. The song is in 3 parts distinctly marked (v 1-5, 6-10, 11-19), each beginning with praise to God and increasing in length and varied imagery until the triumphant ending which shows Jehovah reigning forever and ever, having triumphed over all His enemies. This song of victory over Pharaoh is mentioned as being as important as the future triumph song over Antichrist (Rev. 15:2-4, Cp. Isa. 14:4-17). See the other great songs of Moses in Dt. 32:1-43; Ps. 90; 91

h This is the first song of Israel on record. They certainly did not sing much in Egypt. Their stay there the last 80 or more years was one of groaning and sighing (2:23-24. Cp. Ps. 137:1-4)

i It was evident that only God could do what had been done the past 24 hours. Due praise was given Him as the author of salvation from destruction by the Egyptians (v 2)

6 predictions of God through Moses:

1 I will rain bread from heaven (v 4)
2 I will rain it daily for 6 days
3 I will test them to see if they will walk in My law
4 They shall gather twice as much the 6th day (v 5)
5 At even I will rain flesh (v 6-8)
6 In the morning I will rain bread (v 8) draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou [a]didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

11 [b]Who is [c]like unto thee, O LORD, among the gods? who is like thee, [d]glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, [e]the earth swallowed them.

*13 [f]Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast [g]redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

14 The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of [h]Pal-es-ti'nā.

15 Then the [i]dukes of E'dom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Mō'ab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Ca'nāan [j]shall melt away.

16 Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as [k]still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O LORD, till the people [l]pass over, which thou hast purchased.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and [m]plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O LORD, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, [n]in the Sanctuary, O LORD, which thy hands have established.

18 [o]The LORD shall reign for ever and ever.

19 For the horse of Phā'raōh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the LORD brought again the waters of the sea upon them; but the children of Is'ra-el went on dry land in the midst of the sea.

23 Song and dance of Miriam and the women

20 ¶ And [p]Mir'i-am the [q]prophetess, the sister of Aār'on, took a[r]timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with [s]dances.
●21 And Mir'i-am answered them, Sing ye to the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

24 Journey: Red Sea to Marah

22 So Mō'ṣeṣ brought Is'ra-el from the Red sea, and [t]they went out into the wilderness [u]of Shūr; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found [v]no water.

25 Third of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

23 ¶ And when they came to Mā'rah, they could not drink of the waters of [w]Mā'rah, for they were bitter: [x]therefore the name of it was called Mā'rah.

24 And the people [y]murmured against Mō'ṣeṣ, saying, [z]What shall we drink?

26 Waters healed: 20th miracle (Cp. 2 Ki. 2:19-22)

25 And he [a]cried unto the LORD; and the LORD shewed him a[b]tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them,

27 Ninth or Healing Covenant (15 covenats, p. 57)

▸26 And said, [c]If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, [d]I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the E-gyp'-tians: [e]for I am the LORD [f]that healeth thee.

28 Journey: Marah to Elim

27 ¶ And they came to E'lim, where were [g]twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees: and they encamped there by the waters.

66 CHAPTER 16

29 Journey: Elim to the wilderness of Sin

AND they took their journey from E'lim, and all the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el came unto the [h]wilderness of Sīn, which is between E'lim and Si'nāi, on the [i]fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of E'gypt.

30 Fourth of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

2 And the [j]whole congregation of the children of Is'ra-el [k]murmured against Mō'ṣeṣ and Aār'on in the wilderness:
3 And the children of Is'ra-el said unto them, [l]Would to God we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of E'gypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.

31 Quails and manna promised

●4 ¶ [m]Then said the LORD unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no.●
●5 And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in; and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily.

32 Promise repeated to Israel: their murmurings rebuked

6 And Mō'ṣeṣ and Aār'on said unto all the children of Is'ra-el, a 30 prayers of Moses answered, p. 111

b What kind of tree this was is not known c 4 conditions of healing (v 26):
1 Diligently hear God's voice - acknowledge Him as God and live free from all idolatry
2 Live righteous lives in His sight - be godly in life and conduct as God, Himself would have you live
3 Give ear to His commandments, not only the 10 commandments, but all the hundreds designed to be the rule of action as to right and wrong
4 Keep all His statutes - receive all His regulations concerning religion and civil life, and consecrate to the same end in life that God, Himself is consecrated to, which is the highest good for all
No man can expect to be immune from sickness unless he meets the conditions; but every man can expect such blessing when he meets them (v 26; 20:6; 23:22-25; Ps. 91). See 210 conditional scriptures, p. 285 of N. T. d The sense in which God is responsible for sending disease upon men is that of making the law of sowing and reaping (Gal. 6:7-8); of making penalties for sin and rebellion (v 26; 23:22-25; Lev. 26; Dt. 28); and of permitting certain agencies that have the actual power of executing the curse upon man to have their way without divine intervention (Job 1:6-22; 2:1-13; 42:10; Ps. 91; Lk. 13:16; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38; Heb. 2:14-15; Rev. 10:10-12). If there had been no sin there would be no curse. When God sends Christ to reign on earth there will be no sickness (Isa. 33:24; 35:5-6). When God's will is done on earth as in heaven there will be no curse (Rev. 21:1-22:6) e The reason given for no sickness upon the obedient was: God is the healer of His people. Here He revealed Himself as Jehovah-Ropheka, Jehovah the Healer, or Jehovah your Physician that heals you (v 26). See 16 Jehovah titles, p. 52 f To prove to them that He not only could heal, but that He was also willing to do so and thus fulfill His promises and covenants, He healed them all by His word and there was not one feeble person in all their tribes (Ps. 105:37; 107:20). God promised to make everyone, without exception, immune from all diseases in the future upon meeting conditions (v 26; 22:22-25; Ps. 91; Isa. 58). Sicknesses and diseases were and still are special curses upon men only when they will not obey or when they fail to understand God's provision along this line and do not appropriate it by faith (v 26; 33:22-25; Lev. 26; Dt. 28; Job 33:14-33; Ps. 91; 103:3; Isa. 58; Mt. 8:17; Jn. 10:10; 1 Cor. 11:30; Jas. 5:14-16, notes; 1 Pet. 2:24)
g Only 9 of the 12 wells remain, the missing ones having been filled with blowing sand through the years; but the 70 palm trees have multiplied into more than 2,000 h A desert stretching all the way across the Sinai peninsula. Highways were maintained by Egyptians who worked copper and turquoise mines in the wilderness i They had been on the road exactly one month, having left Egypt the 15th of the 1st month (Num. 33:3). This indicates that they moved slowly and stopped perhaps several days at a time. One more month brought them to Sinai (19:1)
j The whole, except Moses and Aaron and perhaps a few others (v 2) k The 4th of 12 complaints of Israel. See heading, Ex. 5:19, refs. Mentioned 8 times in this chapter (v 2, 7-12)
l It does not take very much to cause the average person or congregation to murmur. The slightest temporary lack of water, food, clothing, money, or convenience will test the metal of every man. One is virtually a prisoner to his own desires, appetites, and passions (v 3) if he is without God in his life and conduct. The best will finally complain if the pressure increases beyond normal m 31st prophecy in Ex. (16:4-8, fulfilled). Next, v 12

a God continued performing miracles to prove to Israel that He was the One who had brought them out of Egypt, and that He was still with them, leading them into Canaan. Past miracles are convincing but unless there are fresh evidences of God the natural man will soon forget and lapse into unbelief again. God now planned to give Israel daily miracles. Quails were to be given in the evening and bread was to be rained from heaven in the morning - enough to supply millions of people (v 12-15, 21-30). It seems that the quails were to be a temporary provision while the bread was to continue indefinitely. This is indicated in Num. 11:4-9 where we read of murmuring because the people had manna and no flesh to eat. Being tired of the manna they demanded flesh; so God promised quails again, not for one or two days, but for a whole month - until the people would be sick of meat (Num. 11:18-34). The miracle of bread continued for 40 years (v 35, note; Dt. 8:3, 16; Josh. 5:12; Ps. 78:24; Jn. 6:31, 49, 58). A pot of manna was kept in the ark as a memorial of God's supply, but no flesh was kept in like manner (v 33; Heb. 9:4) b Heb. kabod, splendor; honor; glory

14 ways "kabod" is used: Of

1 Material substance (Gen. 31:1; Ps. 49:16-17)
2 Authority and power (Gen. 45:13; Esther 5:11; Job 19:9; 29:20; Ps. 4:2; 8:1, 5)
3 Visible manifestation of God (Ex. 16:7, 10; 24:16-17; 40:34; Lev. 9:6, 23; Num. 14:10, 21-22; 16:19, 42; 20:6; 1 Sam. 4:21-22; 1 Ki. 8:11; 2 Chr. 5:14; 7:1-3; Ps. 19:1; 72:19; 85:9; 97:6; 102:16; Ezek. 1:28; 3:12, 23; 8:4; 9:3; 10:4, 18-19; 11:22-23; 43:2-5; 44:4; Hab. 2:7-9) 6:5)
4 Praise and honor (Josh. 7:19; 1 Sam. 6:5
5 God's works and power (Ex. 29:43; 1 Chr. 16:24, 28-29; 29:9; 84:11; 96:3)
6 The tongue giving praise to God (Ps. 16:9; 21:5; 29:1-2; 30:12; 57:8; 62:7; 24:10; 96:7-8; 105:3; 108:1; 115:1; Isa. 42:8, 12; 48:11; Jer. 13:16)
7 Heaven and its splendor (Ps. 24:7-10; 29:3; 57:11; 73:24; 149:5)
8 Honor to God (Ps. 79:9; Pr. 25:2; Mal. 2:2)
9 God's kingdom and its splendor (Ps. 145:11; Isa. 66:18-19; Ezek. 39:21)
10 Outward appearance (Ex. 28:2, 40)
11 God's infinite light in which He dwells (Ex. 33:18-22, cp. 1 Tim. 6:16)
12 Honor to men (Ps. 3:35; Jer. 2:11)
13 Men created for God's honor (Isa. 43:7; 46:13; 60:2; 62:3; 66:12)
14 Man's honor among men (Isa. 8:7; 16:14; 17:4; 21:16; Dan. 11:39)

There are 12 other Heb. words and 10 Gr. words trans. glory, some of which are defined in other notes. When it is said that men saw the glory of the Lord it refers to some visible manifestation of His person or His power (v 7, 10; 24:16-17). Moses requested to see the infinite glory in which God dwells, but this could not be fully granted (33:18, note; 1 Tim. 6:16)

c God hears and sees all the acts of man and will hold each person responsible as to right and wrong in every detail (Mt. 12:36-37; Rom. 2:12-16; 1 Cor. 3:11-15)

d Questions 42-43. Next, v 28

e All sins against God's people are considered sins against Him (v 8; 1 Sam. 8:7; 1 Cor. 8:12)

f 32nd prophecy in Ex. (16:12, fulfilled, v 13-30). Next, 17:5

g The second time God emphasized the purpose of granting miracles to be done (v 6, 12). Such statements prove that there was yet much unbelief in Israel which God was constantly seeking to root out of the hearts of all who followed Him. This condition prevailed in the lives of the disciples of Christ even after about 4 years of continual miracles of every description in the ministry of Christ. See notes g-k, Lk. 13:6-9. In His last rebuke He upbraided them for their unbelief and hardness of heart (Mk. 16:14)

h The test of any prophecy is its literal fulfillment (v 13-30; Dt. 13; Jer. 23; Ezek. 13, 22, and 34). If quails had never come up and if manna had never fallen, then Moses would have been a false prophet

i Quails came up, seemingly of their own accord. This was a notable miracle - that they should come at the exact time and place as predicted (v 13)

At even, [a]then ye shall know that the LORD hath brought you out from the land of E'gypt:

7 And in the morning, then ye shall see the [b]glory of the LORD; for that he [c]heareth your murmurings against the LORD: [d]and what are we, that ye murmur against us?

8 And Mō'ṣeṣ said, This shall be, when the LORD shall give you in the evening flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full; for that the LORD heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against him: and what are we? your murmurings are not against us, [e]but against the LORD.

33 Invitation to approach God

9 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ spake unto Aär'on, Say unto all the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, Come near before the LORD: for he hath heard your murmurings.

10 And it came to pass, as Aär'on spake unto the whole congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they looked toward the wilderness, and, behold, the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud.

34 God again promises quails and manna (v 6)

11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
12 I have heard the murmurings of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: speak unto them, saying, At even ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread; [g]and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God.

35 Quails and manna given: 21st miracle (Cp. Num. 11:21)

13 [h]And it came to pass, that at even the [i]quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning [i]the dew lay round about the host.

14 And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground.

15 And when the children of Iṣ'ra-el saw it, they said one to another, It is [k]manna: for they [l]wist not what it was. And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, This is the bread which the LORD hath given you to eat.

36 Law of gathering manna: the quantity for each person

16 ¶ This is the thing which the LORD hath [m]commanded, Gather of it every man according to his eating, an omer for every man, according to the number of your persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents.

17 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el did so, and gathered, some more, some less.

18 And when they did mete it with an omer, he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack; they gathered every man according to his eating.

37 Law of manna broken: 22nd miracle - worms

19 And Mō'ṣeṣ said, Let no man leave of it till the morning.
20 Notwithstanding [a]they hearkened not unto Mō'ṣeṣ; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Mō'ṣeṣ was wroth with them.

38 Law of gathering manna: the time to gather

21 And they gathered it every morning, every man according to his eating: and when the sun waxed hot, it melted.

22 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for [b]one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told Mō'ṣeṣ.
23 And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy [c]sabbath unto the LORD: [d]bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning.

39 No worms: 23rd miracle

24 And they laid it up till the morning, as Mō'ṣeṣ bade: and it did not [e]stink, neither was there any worm therein.
25 And Mō'ṣeṣ said, Eat that to day; for to day is a sabbath unto the LORD: to day ye shall not find it in the field.
26 Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none.

40 The law of manna broken

27 ¶ And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

41 Israel rebuked for sin

28 And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [f]How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?
29 See, for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day.
30 So the people rested on the seventh day.

42 Name and description of heavenly bread (Jn. 6:22-59)

31 And the house of Iṣ'ra-el called the [g]name thereof Manna: and it was [h]like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey.

43 Law of manna: the memorial. Preservation of manna: 24th miracle

32 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said, This is the thing which the LORD commandeth, Fill an omer of it to be kept for your generations; [i]that a Note the two times in this chapter Israel deliberately disobeyed God (v 20, 27-30). Moses was wroth with them the first time and God the second time

b The heads of the households
c This is the first mention of a sabbath for man, in Scripture. It was 2,513 years after God rested as in Gen. 2:2. The word sabbath is used 76 times in the singular and 35 times in the plural in the O. T. and 60 times in the singular in the N.T. See Sabbath in Index; also 22 facts about sabbaths, p. 111
d All cooking in Israel had to be done on the day before the sabbath (v 23)
e If kept on any other morning it bred worms and stank (v 20). Thus, miracles were performed on the 2,080 regular sabbaths to preserve the manna on those days, besides the daily miracles of raining manna on other days, which would number 12,530 during the 40 years f Question 44. Next, 17:2. God has no doubt asked this question innumerable times in millenniums past g See note k, v 15
h 6 characteristics of manna:

1 Small (v 14) 4 Sweet (v 31)
2 Round (v 14) 5 Easily melted (v 21)
3 White (v 31) 6 Hard (Num. 11:8)

i This was the purpose of preserving some - as a memorial in all generations (v 32-34). It may still be preserved with the ark in some cave. See 2 Maccabees 2:4-8

j The dew fell first to cool the ground, so that the manna would not melt before the people gathered their daily supply (v 21; Num. 11:9) k Heb. man hu, what is this? It was the bread that God had supernaturally sent 14 reasons manna was supernatural:

1 It had never appeared following the dew until God sent it (v 13-14)
2 It was a fulfillment of prophecy, not some natural happening that had occurred before (v 8, 12)
3 It was a miracle designed to prove that God was the Giver (v 6, 8, 12)
4 If it had been a natural product of some Sinai plant people would have had it before this (v 14)
5 If it had been a natural thing it would not have started appearing for the first time at the beginning of the 40 years, and ceased when the 40 years were ended, as plainly stated (v 35; Josh. 5:12)
6 It was something not known to man before this or after the 40 years (Dt. 8:3, 16; Josh. 5:12)
7 God rained the manna from heaven (Ps. 78:24; Jn. 6:31-32)
8 It came only 6 days and not on the sabbath (v 24-27)
9 It rotted on any other day besides the sabbath, if any happened to be kept over the second day (v 19-23)
10 It was not the product of plants, for it was found upon the ground (v 14)
11 Some was kept in a pot as a memorial (and at God's command) for many hundreds of years; and this did not breed worms or stink as in the usual case when some was held over for a day other than the sabbath (v 19-20, 33; Heb. 9:4)
12 The sun melted it daily, all except the portion kept as a memorial, which was preserved regardless of time or heat (v 21, 33; Heb. 9:4)
13 It was angels' food and from heaven (v 4; Ps. 78:25; Jn. 6:31-32)
14 Jesus Christ testified that manna came from heaven and that it was sent supernaturally by God, not by Moses (Jn. 6:31-32). Moses testified of the same (v 6, 8, 12, 15)

l From Anglo-Saxon, witan, to know
m 4 laws concerning manna:

1 Every person entitled to gather an omer (about 3 quarts, 1 pint) daily for 5 days (v 16-23)
2 The full omer to be eaten daily - nothing to be left over for the next day (v 19)
3 On the 6th day the gathering was to be 2 omers for each person - 1 omer for the 6th day and 1 omer for the sabbath (v 22-30)
4 All of the 2 omers to be baked into bread on the 6th day - no baking on the sabbath (v 23-30) a The manna was to be kept throughout all generations of Israel. The pot was perhaps made of gold. The manna itself would have to be preserved by divine power to last so long, for it was perishable enough to breed worms and stink in one ordinary day (v 20, 24)

b See The Testimony, p. 112

c Israel used manna for bread daily for 40 years, but this is not all they had to eat, for all the meat of the sacrifices was eaten. Milk and other foods are mentioned as being used in cooking (v 12, 23; 32:6; Lev. 6:16; 7:21; Num. 9:2-14; 11:20; Dt. 14:21)

d See Josh. 5:12

f An ephah was 1 bushel, 3 pints

h 5th of 12 complaints of Israel (5:19). They demand water from Moses, indicating they either had faith in him or were taunting him for bringing them into such a place to camp. But, since God was their leader and was guiding them in the pillar of fire and cloud, He was responsible for this camp site. God was bringing them here to test them, for He, Himself knew what He would do for water (v 6)

i Questions 45-48, Next, v 7

l 33rd prophecy in Ex. (17:5-6, fulfilled). Next, v 14

m Moses had evidently been carrying this rod daily, the last time he had used it being to cause the Red Sea to be parted (14:16)

n The rock was a type of Christ (1 Cor. 10:4). Cp. Dt. 32:4, 15, 18, 31, 37; 1 Sam. 2:2; 22:47; Ps. 18:2; 27:5; 62:6-7; Isa. 32:2

o Travellers have described what is believed to be the rock smitten by Moses. It is said to be a vast block of granite, 15 ft. long, 10 ft. broad, and 12 ft. high. It has holes and channels which could have been formed only by the bursting and running out of water. The rock Moses smote supplied water for perhaps 6,000,000 people or more and their stock. The flow then ceased and had to be started again by another miracle at a later date (Num. 20:8-11)

p 35th miracle of Moses. See p. 109

q It made no difference how much unbelief was present, God was not limited by it. Men who work miracles by God should not be hindered or defeated by any like condition. Christ performed His miracles in the presence of any and all unbelievers who gathered with the throngs to hear Him

r Meaning temptation, or tempting God (v 7) s Meaning strife, because of the striving with Moses for water (v 2-4, 7)

t Question 49, Next, 18:14. Asking a question like this in view of the many miracles God had performed to prove He was in their midst, and after seeing the daily manifestation of God in the fire and cloud and other ways, was provoking to say the least. Such unbelief was to lead Israel to fall from God's grace or favor and be cut off (Num. 14:1-35; Jude 5) home. Perhaps he had an understanding that when Israel was delivered he would be re-united with the family at this place

o Gershom means a stranger (v 3; 2:22; 1 Chr. 23:15-16; 26:24)

p Eliezer means God my helper (v 4; 1 Chr. 23:15-17). 10 other men in Scripture are so-named, the servant of Abraham being the most prominent (Gen. 15:2; 24:1-67). See Index

q This proves that ch. 18 is parenthetical, for Israel was already camped at Sinai and this did not happen until after leaving Rephidim (19:1-2)

CHAPTER 17 67

45 Journey: Wilderness of Sin to Rephidim

AND all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el journeyed from the wilderness of Sĭn, after their journeys, according to the commandment of the LORD, and pitched [g]in Rĕph'ĭ-dĭm: and there was no water for the people to drink.

46 Fifth of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

2 Wherefore the people [h]did chide with Mō'şeş, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Mō'şeş said unto them, [i]Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye tempt the LORD?

3 And the people thirsted there for water; and the people murmured against Mō'şeş, and said, [j]Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Ĕ'gўpt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?

47 Ninth of 11 complaints of Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

4 And Mō'şes cried unto the LORD, saying, What shall I do unto this people? [k]they be almost ready to stone me.

48 Water from the Rock: 25th miracle (Cp. Num. 20:70; 1 Cor. 10:4)

✠5 [l]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, Go on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Iş'ra-el; [m]and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go.

●6 Behold, I will stand before thee there upon [n]the rock [o]in Hō'reb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Mō'şeş [p]did so in the [q]sight of the elders of Iş'ra-el.

7 And he called the name of the place [r]Măs'sah, and [s]Mĕr'ĭ-bah, because of the chiding of the children of Iş'ra-el, and because they tempted the LORD, saying, [t]Is the LORD among us, or not?

49 First of 5 wars of Israel: Battle of Rephidim. Divine help: 26th miracle (Num. 14:41; 21:1, 21; 25:16)

8 ¶ [u]Then came Ăm'a-lĕk, and fought with Iş'ra-el in Rĕph'ĭ-dĭm.

●9 And Mō'şeş said unto [v]Jōsh'u-á, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with Ăm'a-lĕk: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the [w]rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Jōsh'u-á did as Mō'şeş had said to him, and fought with Ăm'a-lĕk: and Mō'şeş, Aâr'on, and [x]Hûr went up to the top of the hill.

11 And it came to pass, [y]when Mō'şeş held up his hand, that Iş'ra-el prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Ăm'a-lĕk prevailed.

12 But Mō'şeş' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aâr'on and Hûr stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun.

13 And Jōsh'u-á discomfited Ăm'a-lĕk and his people with the edge of the sword.

50 New revelation of God

✠14 [z]And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [a]Write this for a memorial in a book, and rehearse it in the ears of Jōsh'u-á: for I will [b]utterly put out the remembrance of Ăm'a-lĕk from under heaven.●

15 And Mō'şeş built an altar, and called the name of it [c]Jē-hō'vah–nĭs'sĭ:

16 For he said, Because the LORD hath sworn that the LORD will have war with Ăm'a-lĕk from [d]generation to generation.

CHAPTER 18 68

51 Moses re-united with his family at Rephidim

WHEN [e]Jĕth'rō, the priest of Mĭd'ĭ-an, Mō'şeş' [f]father in law, heard of all that God had done for Mō'şeş, and for Iş'ra-el his people, and that the LORD had brought Iş'ra-el out of Ĕ'gўpt;

2 Then Jĕth'rō, Mō'şeş' father in law, took Zĭp-pō'rah, Mō'şeş' wife, [g]after he had sent her back,

3 And her two sons; of which the name of the one was [h]Gĕr'shŏm; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land:

4 And the name of the other was [i]Ĕ-lĭ-ē'zēr; for the God of my fathĕr, said he, was mine help, and delivered me from the sword of Phā'raōh:

5 And Jĕth'rō, Mō'şeş' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Mō'şeş into the wilderness, [j]where he encamped at the mount of God:

6 And he said unto Mō'şeş, I thy father in law Jĕth'rō am come unto thee, and thy wife, and her two sons with her.

a Amalek attacked the weak and faint people at the hindmost part of the camp to plunder and take a spoil. For this cowardly attack God cut this people off (v 8, 14; Dt. 25:17-19). See note n, Gen. 36:12

b See Joshua in Index

c The rod of God was used in many miracles. Here it had a new role - that of giving victory in war (v 9) d Hur was the son of Caleb of Judah (1 Chr. 2:19-20). He was closely associated with Moses and Aaron (v 10-12; 24:14; 31:2; 35:30; 38:32). Josephus and the rabbins say that he was the brother-in-law of Moses and Aaron, having married Miriam e When Moses held the rod of God up Israel prevailed, hence the support of his hands until Amalek was defeated (v 11-13)

f 34th prophecy in Ex. (17:14-16, fulfilled). Next, 19:9

g 2 objections to Mosaic authorship:

1 That the arts of writing and literary composition were not sufficiently advanced to produce the Pentateuch in Moses' day

This objection is unreasonable in view of facts. There is abundant testimony from the monuments that records were made in writing at the time of Moses. The Tel el-Amarna of Egypt and the Babylonian tablets of the reign of Hammurabi (Amraphel of Gen. 14) prove there was writing in the days of Abraham, over 500 years before Moses wrote. The code of Hammurabi is well known to Bible students. It contains 282 sections and about 8,000 words; its laws regulate all phases of human life in Abraham's time. That writing was well developed in Moses' day and that the law of Moses was not derived from the law of the Babylonians is therefore clear. See note 1, 44:9

2 That the Pentateuch implies a state of religious culture unknown in Moses' day

This too, is mere assumption without evidence. Accounts of times long before Moses show the same religious culture as at the time of Moses. This is proved by the record of Genesis beginning with Abel (Gen. 4), Noah (Gen. 8), Abraham (Gen. 12), and others (Heb. 11). See Summary of Genesis for 16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch, p. 51

h This has been fulfilled. There are no people on earth today called Amalekites

i This means the Lord our banner. See 16 Jehovah titles, p. 52

j This was war carried on by Ehud (Judg. 3:13-15); Barak (Judg. 5:14); Gideon (Judg. 6:3); Saul (1 Sam. 15); Samuel (1 Sam. 15:32-33); David (1 Sam. 27:8; 30:1-17; 2 Sam. 8:12); and completed by Simeonites in the days of Hezekiah (1 Chr. 4:42-43)

k This chapter is parenthetical and as far as Israel's history is concerned should be understood as belonging between Num. 10:10 and 10:11 because:

1 Israel was not yet camped at Sinai (19:1-2) but when Jethro visited Moses they were already at Sinai (18:5)

2 According to the chronology of events in Dt. 1:6-15, Moses complained of the burden being too heavy when Israel was ready to leave Sinai. This complaint was the outcome of talks with Jethro (18:13-26; Num. 11:10-18)

3 Jethro was still with Israel when they were leaving Sinai, and parted from them at that time to return to his own home (18:24-27; Num. 10:11-36)

4 After leaving Sinai the complaint about Moses' wife took place (Num. 12), which was supposed to have been shortly after Jethro left for home

5 The visit of Jethro was after God had already given the laws of Israel as in chs. 20-24 (18:16-26). Moses simply wanted to record this information about his family before his lengthy writing about the laws in chs. 20-40

l See notes 1-11, 2:15-22

m See Father-in-law of Moses, p. 83

n This is the divine comment on what happened after the event of 4:24-26. Moses simply sent her back home for some unknown reason, whether at the advice of Aaron, whether to protect the family from what they would face in Egypt, or whether he thought his wife would be a hindrance to his present work, we know only that he sent her a 10 wonderful traits of Jethro:

1 A religious man (2:16; 3:1; 18:1-12)
2 A family man (2:16; 18:1-7) 3:1)
3 A wealthy and unspoiled man(2:16-4 An observing man (2:18; 18:1-12)
5 A hospitable man (2:20)
6 An appreciative and understanding man (2:20; 18:1-12)
7 A good business man (2:21; 18:1-12)
8 A peace loving man (4:18; 18:1-12)
9 A broadminded and unselfish man
10 A wise man (18:13-27) (18:1-12)

b 3 effects of God's miracles on Jethro:
1 Caused him to rejoice (v 9)
2 Caused him to praise God (v 10)
3 Caused him to acknowledge God as the only great and true One (v 11)

c Burnt offerings were offered to God from the earliest times, as a token of faith in the coming Redeemer (Gen. 4:1-8; 8:20; 22:2-13; Ex. 10:25). Every act of Jethro indicates that he was a true believer in God. Being a descendant of Abraham, he no doubt was taught from his childhood what and how to sacrifice (Gen. 25:1-6) d Many times sacrifices are distinguished from burnt offerings, although such burnt offerings were also sacrifices (Ex. 20:24; Lev. 1:3-17). Sacrifices were not all burnt, for some were to be poured out and others eaten. Anything offered to God is considered a sacrifice, such as the firstborn sons (13:15); praise (Ps. 107:22; 116:17; Heb. 13:15); broken and contrite heart and spirit (Ps. 51:17); and the offering of Christ on the cross (1 Cor. 5:7). There are and have been many other kinds of sacrifices - those not burnt, killed, or even of the kind that could be killed

e These were the officers or leaders of the various tribes and armies of Israel (3:16, 18; 4:29; 12:21; 17:5-6, 24-25; Dt. 5:23; 21:2-6)

f To hear differences between them and give instruction to the people (v 15-16)

g This was what Jethro objected to in the program of Moses, and what caused him to suggest lower and higher courts (v 14-27)

Making the tabernacle (35:4-40:35)

The making of the tabernacle was the last thing to be done, or at least to be recorded in Exodus. This was after the entire 8 ascents and descents. Moses received the pattern of the tabernacle on mount Sinai and brought down the plan and specifications for the various workers to construct it and make all the furnishings (Heb. 8:5; 9:23)

Father-in-law of Moses (18:1)

Heb. chathan, to give away in marriage; to contract affinity by marriage. Some commentators hold that Jethro was the brother-in-law of Moses because the Heb. simply means a relative by marriage. But there is no ground for this. From all statements on the subject it would seem that he was the father-in-law, for the priest of Midian had seven daughters, not seven sisters (2:16), one of whom became the wife of Moses. They kept their father's flock, not their brother's (2:16). They came to their father (2:18); he said something to his dauthers, not his sisters (2:20). Moses was content to dwell with the man, the father, not the brother, of his wife (2:21). Moses kept the flock of Jethro, his father-in-law, the priest of Midian (3:1); and returned to his father-in-law (4:18). The same Jethro now brought the wife and sons of Moses to him (18:1-27)

52 Moses relates to Jethro the miracles of God

7 ¶ And Mō'şeş went out to meet his father in law, and did obeisance, and kissed him; and they asked each other of their welfare; and they came into the tent.

8 And Mō'şeş told his father in law all that the LORD had done unto Phā'raōh and to the Ĕ-ğўp'tiaṇş for Iş'ra-el's sake, and all the travail that had come upon them by the way, and how the LORD delivered them.

53 Jethro worships God and feasts with elders of Israel

9 And[a] Jĕth'rō[b] rejoiced for all the goodness which the LORD had done to Iş'ra-el, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Ĕ-ğўp'tiaṇş.

10 And Jĕth'rō said, Blessed be the LORD, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Ĕ-ğўp'tiaṇş, and out of the hand of Phā'raōh, who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Ĕ-ğўp'tiaṇş.

11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all gods: for in the thing wherein they dealt proudly he was above them.

12 And Jĕth'rō, Mō'şeş' father in law, took [a]burnt offering and[d] sacrifices for God: and Aâr'on came, and all the[e] elders of Iş'ra-el, to eat bread with Mō'şeş' father in law before God.

54 Long court sessions

13 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Mō'şeş sat[f] to judge the people: and the people stood by Mō'şeş[g] from the morning unto the evening.

55 Jethro advocates three changes: (1) Moses to save his strength (Num. 11:17)

14 And when Mō'şeş' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, [h]What is this thing that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even?

15 And Mō'şeş said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to enquire of God:

16 When they have a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between one and another, and I do make them know the statutes of God, and his laws.

17 And Mō'şeş' father in law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good.

18 Thou wilt surely wear away, both thou, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is too heavy for thee; thou art not able to perform it thyself alone.

(2) Universal teaching and knowledge of the law

19 Hearken now unto my voice,[a] I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee: Be thou for the people to Godward, that thou mayest bring the causes unto God:

20 And thou shalt teach them ordinances and laws, and shalt shew them the way wherein they must walk, and the work that they must do.

(3) Establishment of lower and higher courts (Dt. 16:18; 17:8)

21 Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people[b] able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of [c]thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

22 And let them judge the people at all seasons: and it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear the burden with thee.

23 If thou shalt do this thing, and [d]God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace.

56 Moses obeys Jethro (Num. 11:10-25)

24 So Mō'şeş [e]hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said.

25 And Mō'şeş chose able men out of all Iş'ra-el, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

26 And they judged the people at all seasons: the hard causes they brought unto Mō'şeş, but every small matter they judged themselves.

27 ¶ And Mō'şeş[f] let his father in law depart; and he went his way into his own land.

69 CHAPTER 19

57 Journey: Rephidim to Sinai

IN the third month, when the children of Iş'ra-el were gone forth out of the land of Ĕ'ğўpt,[g] the same day came they into the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

2 For they were departed from Rĕph'i-dĭm, and were come to the desert of Sī'nāi, and had pitched in the wilderness; and there Iş'ra-el camped before the mount.

V Tenth or Mosaic Covenant (see p. 57): 55 laws and commandments (Ex. 19:3-24:18). 1 The Covenant proposed

3 And Mō'şeş [h]went up unto God, and [i]the LORD called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to [j]the house of Jā'cob, and tell the children of Iş'ra-el;

4 Ye have [k]seen what I did unto the Ĕ-ğўp'tiaṇş, and how I bare you on [l]eagles' wings, and a 7fold advice of Jethro:

1 Let Moses act as mediator between God and the people (v 19)
2 Instruct all the people in all the ordinances and laws (v 20)
3 Show the people the true way to walk before God and man (v 20) do 4 Show the people the work they must 5 Appoint able leaders as rulers of thousands, hundreds, fifties, tens (v 21)
6 Establish a lower court - let the leaders judge all the small matters (v 22)
7 Establish a supreme court - let Moses judge serious cases (v 22, 26)

b 4fold qualification of leaders (v 21):
1 Let them be able, capable men
2 God-fearing men, truly religious 3 Truthful men, honest and just 4 Men who hate covetousness, doing all things for God's sake and the love of man; laboring to promote the best public good so as to inspire others to live upright lives
These general qualifications of ability, piety, truthfulness, and unselfishness are complete for any special work

c Just how Israel was organized before this is not stated in Scripture, That they had some form of organization is clear from 12:17

d Note how Jethro advised Moses to get the will of God in this plan (v 23)

e Moses did get the will of God, as is clear from Num. 11:17. The 70 elders were the general leaders: and there were other officers over tens, fifties, hundreds, and thousands (v 25)

f Let him depart with great reluctance, as indicated in Num. 11:29-32. He loved his family and was faithful in all his house (Heb. 3:2). Moses ruled in such unselfishness that he made no special provision for his own sons in Israel. No people ever had a better ruler, sacred or civil. No history records a leader more consecrated or more devoted to the highest good of the whole nation. This fact will forever refute any who charge human origin of his laws, or hypocrisy in his faith. Moses was above reproach and fault in all his dealings. There was no carnal interest to serve or propagate; no self-gratification to enslave; no effort for personal gain. That he sought worldly and selfish honor to himself, his relatives or friends can never be laid to his charge. His life was spotless and without fault except in one act of disobedience to God which was due to the constant provoking of the people. For this, Moses was kept out of the promised land (Num. 20). He was truly a man of God

g This perhaps means the same day the 3rd month began, meaning the 1st day of the 3rd month - Sivan, or May. The Septuagint, the Berkeley, and some other versions read: On the first day of the third month. This would make the day of the giving of the law the 50th (or pentecost) after Israel left Egypt on the 15th day of the 1st month (Num. 33:3). The day of Pentecost was after 7 sabbaths (49 days) were completed, or the 50th day after the sabbath after the passover (Lev. 23:11, 15-16). Thus, beginning with the 16th day of the 1st month and counting 50 days would mean the law was given on Pentecost as follows:

50 days from exodus to Pentecost:

1 Israel left Egypt the 15th of April and on the sabbath (Num. 33:3). The 16th was the starting of the 50 days to Pentecost. The 16th of the 1st month to and including the 1st day of the 3rd month would be 46 days (19:1)

2 Moses went up into the mount the next day after camping in the mount, or on the 2nd day of the 3rd month (19:3-9)

3 The law was given the 3rd day of the 3 days of sanctifying Israel (19:10-15). These 3 days were the 3rd, 4th, and 5th of the 3rd month. The 46 days, the day in the mount, and the 3 days of sanctification make 50 days, the 50th being the day the law was given brought you unto myself.

▸5 Now therefore, [a]if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant,[b]then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for [c]all the earth is mine:
▸6 And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Is'ra-el.

2 Moses relates the terms of the covenant: Israel promises to obey (Ex. 34:10)

7 ¶ And Mō'ses [d]came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the LORD commanded him.
8 And all the people answered together, and said, All that the LORD hath spoken we will do. And Mō'ses[e]returned the words of the people unto the LORD.

3 The proposed meeting of God with Israel

●9 And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, Lo,[f]I come unto thee in a thick cloud,[g]that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever. And Mō'ses told the words of the people unto the LORD.

4 Ten conditions of meeting with God (v 15)

●10 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, [h]Go unto the people, and[i]sanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes, ●11 And be ready against the third day: for the third day the LORD will come down [j]in the sight of all the people upon mount Sī'nāi.
●12 And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves, that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mount [k]shall be surely put to death:
●13 There shall not an hand touch it, but he shall surely [l]be stoned, or shot through; whether it be beast or man, it shall not live: when the trumpet soundeth long, they shall come up to the mount.

5 The conditions met

14 ¶ And Mō'ses [m]went down from the mount unto the people, and sanctified the people: and they [n]washed their clothes.
●15 And he said unto the people, Be ready against the third day, [o]come not at your wives.

6 The meeting with God

16 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day [p]in the morning, that there were [q]thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled.
17 And Mō'ses [r]brought forth the people [s]out of the camp to meet with God; [t]and they stood at the nether part of the mount.
18 And mount Sī'nāi was altogether on a smoke,[u]because the LORD descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly.
19 And when the voice of the trumpet sounded [b]long, and waxed louder and louder, Mō'ses spake, and God [c]answered him by a voice.

7 Third ascent of Moses (note h, 19:3)

●20 And the LORD [d]came down upon mount Sī'nāi, on the top of the mount: and the LORD called Mō'ses up to the top of the mount; and Mō'ses [e]went up.

8 Third descent of Moses (note h, 19:3)

●21 And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, [f]Go down, charge the people, lest they break through unto the LORD to gaze, and many of them perish.
●22 And let the priests also, which come near to the LORD, sanctify themselves, lest the LORD break forth upon them.
23 And Mō'ses said unto the LORD, The people cannot come up to mount Sī'nāi: for [g]thou chargedst us, saying, Set bounds about the mount, and sanctify it.
●24 And the LORD said unto him, Away, get thee down, and thou shalt come up, thou, and Aär'on with thee: but let not the priests and the people break through to come up unto the LORD, lest he break forth upon them.
25 So Mō'ses [h]went down unto the people, and spake unto them.

70 CHAPTER 20

9 [i]The Ten Commandments: sum of the whole contract (Ex. 20:1-17; Dt. 5:6-21). (1) Law against polytheism (Ex. 20:22; 22:19; Lev. 19:4; Dt. 5:7; 12:30; 13:6, 13; 17:3)

AND God [j]spake [k]all these words, saying,
2 [l]I am the LORD thy God, which [m]have brought thee out of the land of Ē'gўpt, out of the house of bondage.
●3 [n]Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

(2) Law against idolatry (Ex. 22:20; 23:24; Lev. 26:1; Dt. 5:8; 12:29; Isa. 2:20; 40:18)

●4 Thou shalt not make unto thee any [o]graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:
●5 Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a [p]jealous God,[q]visiting the iniquity [r]of the fathers upon the children [s]unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;

a 2 conditions of blessing (v 5):
1 If you will obey My voice indeed
2 If you will keep My covenant
b 3 blessings if conditions are met:
1 You shall be a peculiar treasure to Me above all people on earth (v 5; Dt. 7:6; 14:2; 26:18; Ps. 135:4; Mal. 3:17; 1 Pet. 2:9)
2 You shall be a kingdom of priests (v 6; 1 Pet. 2:9). Israel was to be a nation of priests to all other nations, like the tribe of Levi to all the other tribes of Israel
3 You shall be an holy nation (v 6; 1 Pet. 2:9). These 3 things will be literally true in the Millennium (Isa. 2:1-4; 61:6; 62:12; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)
c See Ps. 24:1; 50:12
d 1st descent of Moses (note h, v 3)
e 2nd ascent of Moses (note h, v 3). Israel promised to accept all the words of the covenant and obey its commands (v 8; 24:3, 7)
f 35th prophecy in Ex. (19:9-13, fulfilled, v 14-25). Next, 23:20, Here God predicted that He would come down in the sight of Israel, warning that if any man or beast touched the mount he would be killed. Moses received new orders to sanctify (set apart) Israel and prepare them to approach God and hear His voice (v 9-13)
g God's audible voice on this occasion was to convince the people that Moses was divinely sent and that he was not doing his miracles through sorcery or enchantment. Note the effect of hearing God's voice, on Israel (v 18-22; Dt. 4:11-13, 36; 5:5, 22-29; Heb. 12:18-21)
h 8 commands to Moses regarding Israel:
1 Go down to Israel (v 10)
2 Sanctify them for 3 days (v 10-11)
3 Command them to wash their clothes 11, 15)
4 Have them ready the 3rd day (v 10-5 Set bounds around the mount so that they may not come too close (v 12)
6 Permit no person or beast to go up into the mount or touch it (v 12-13)
7 When the trumpet sounds loud have them draw near the mount (v 13) (v 15)
8 They are to come not at their wives
i In this passage on sanctification, as in 13:2; Gen. 2:3, the meaning is not cleansing from sin or removal of what is called "the old man" but simply a setting apart unto God (v 10). This sanctification or setting apart was for 3 days only, to hear God's voice and receive the law (v 10-11, 14-15). Moses sanctified the people on this occasion; hence, there was no moral cleansing involved (v 14). Even the mount was sanctified or set apart for this occasion (v 23). Priests sanctified themselves (v 22). See Sanctification, p. 231 of N. T.
j The people were to see and hear but not to touch (v 16; Heb. 12:18-21). Whether they could smell the fire and smoke is not stated (v 18)
k The death penalty was to be passed upon any man or beast who touched the mount (v 12-13, 21, 24)
l The method of execution for man or beast who touched the mount was by stoning or being shot with an arrow (v 13; Heb. 12:20)
m 2nd descent of Moses (note h, v 3) n According to Jewish custom bathing the body always went along with washing the clothes. Both were considered necessary in order to meet Jehovah. Cp. Gen. 25:2; Lev. 14:8-9, 47; 15:5-27; 16:4, 24-28; 17:15-16; 22:6; Num. 8:7; 19:7-21; 31:24; Dt. 23:11. Even pagans practiced the same. People could be seen near heathen temples washing themselves and their clothing in order to prepare themselves for worship. In some places the custom is still carried on in connection with pagan worship o Husbands and wives were to abstain from all sexual relationship during the 3 days of sanctification (v 15. Cp. 1 Cor. 7:5) p This must have been at day break, for activity began early in the morning. This term is found 33 times in Scripture. Early on the morrow, dawning of the day, rose up early, and other terms are found 37 times q 4 things caused Israel to tremble (v 16):
1 Thunders 3 Thick cloud
2 Lightnings 4 Loud trumpet
r Moses personally led the people out of the camp to Sinai and showed them the bounds which they were not to cross (v 12-13, 17, 21, 23-24)
s 7 things "without the camp", p. 112
t 14 cases of worship while standing, p. 112

a This explains v 9. Cp. v 16
b Who but God or an angel could blow a trumpet so long and loud!
c This explains how the many messages were given to Moses d This proves that God personally descended to the mount, either from the pillar of fire and cloud or from heaven itself, as He came down to Adam (Gen. 3:8-19); Babel (11:5); Abraham (18:1-8, 33); Israel (Ex. 14:24-25) and others
e 3rd ascent of Moses (note h, v 3)
f 7 new commands to Moses:
1 Go down to the people (v 21)
2 Charge the people not to break through the fire and smoke to gaze upon Me lest they perish
3 Charge the priests also not to break through to gaze upon Me (v 22)
4 Charge the priests to sanctify (set apart) themselves in obedience
5 Away (hurry), get down to the people before they break through to Me and be destroyed (v 24)
6 Come back up
7 Bring Aaron up with you
g This was done as in v 9-13
h 3rd descent of Moses (note h, v 3)
i 20 facts about 10 commandments, p. 112
j God spake the 10 commandments and then Israel begged that His voice be heard no more lest they die (Dt. 5:22-29). God then stopped speaking with an audible voice in the presence of the whole nation, and spoke only to Moses, giving the rest of the commands which Israel should obey. Moses wrote the 10 commandments and many others in a book which he ratified by the blood of animals (24:3-8; see also note g, 17:14). God wrote on stones and Moses wrote in a book. 2, 713 commandments, p. 113 k Cp. God spake all these words with Moses wrote all the words (v 1 with 24:3-4)
l See Various introductions of God, p. 112 m This was such an important event that it is referred to 44 times in the Pentateuch alone (v 2) n See The 10 commandments in the old and new covenants, p. 116 o Heb. pesel, hew; engrave; sculpture. This command forbids making any kind of idol and prohibits every kind of idolatry. 12 things not to worship, p. 116 p The first of 10 times Jehovah claims to be a jealous God (v 5; 34:14; Dt. 4:24; 5:9; 6:15; Josh. 24:19; Ezek. 39:25; Joel 2:18; Zech. 1:14; 8:2). There is a godly jealousy (2 Cor. 11:2), and an ungodly kind (Pr. 6:34; Song 3:6) ments q 3 warnings of penalty in 10 command-1 Visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children (v 5)
2 Jehovah will not hold guiltless (v 7)
3 Shortening of life (v 12)
It is noticeable that definite penalties, whether death by stoning or otherwise are not mentioned here. This proves that the 10 commandments, which are sometimes held to be a complete code of laws by themselves are not really complete. They require the many additions to the covenant, for they are simply a statement of general laws. See Penalties of the 10 commandments, p. 116
r Never does it say the iniquity of the mothers, for the following reason: Adam, not Eve, was the fountainhead, the source, the moral, spiritual, and legal head and representative of the whole race. All were in his loins when he was innocent and when he committed sin. When he sinned he acted for the entire race and as their source he was responsible for sin being passed upon all men. When he acted, he did so, not as a private person, but for the race that was to come from him, to share his blessings if he obeyed or his curses if he sinned (Gen. 2:17; 3:1-24; Rom. 5:12-21; 1 Cor. 15:21-22, 45-48). We virtually gave consent to what he did in the same sense that Levi paid tithes in Abraham while still in his loins (Heb. 7:9-10). Sin has always been reckoned as passing from the fathers to the children, not through the mothers to them (Ex. 20:5; 34:7; Lev. 26:39-40; Num. 14:18; Dt. 5:9). Scripture recognizes the woman as merely the means of reproduction of man without sinful responsibility as far as passing sin from parent to offspring is concerned. This is how Jesus could be born of a woman, a virgin, and still not be sinful flesh. See Reasons Christ had sinless flesh, p. 175 of N. T. s This pronouncement is made in both lists of the 10 commandments (v 5; Dt. 5:9). See 5 notable pronouncements, p. 112

a Heb. asah, to do or to make; bestow; demonstrate (v 6; Dt. 5:10; 2 Sam. 22:51; Ps. 18:50; Jer. 32:18)
b Heb. checed, kindness; beauty; favor; pity; mercy (v 6; 34:7; Num. 14:18-19; Dt. 5:10; 7:9,12; Ps. 23:6; 106:1; 136:1-24) c 2 conditions of blessing:
1 Love Me (v 6; Dt. 5:10; 6:5; 11:1, 13, 22, 19:9; 30:6, 16, 20)
2 Keep My commandments (v 6; Lev. 22:31; 26:3; Dt. 5:10, 29; 7:9, 11; 8:6; 10:13; 11:8; 13:4, 18; 19:9; 26:18; 27:1; 28:9, 45; 30:10, 16)
d This commandment is against all false swearing, blasphemy, and all profane, vain, trivial, light, and irreverent use of God's name in ordinary life. It also refers to using God's name in false religions, witchcraft, conjuring - any abuse of the sacred and holy name whatsoever (v 7). The right use of His name is confined to that which is sacred - prayer, praise, prophecy, teaching, worship, and communion with God and saints (Mal. 3:16). See Blasphemy in Index
e No set penalty is stated here, but death is specified in Lev. 24:10-16, 23; Num. 15:30-31
f See Remember the sabbath, p. 116
g This is the 2nd of 8 times, and all in the law of Moses, that man was commanded to work 6 days and rest the 7th day (16:26; 20:9; 23:12; 31:15; 34:21; 33:2; Lev. 23:3; Dt. 5:13). The 1st of the 8 times was when God first gave the sabbath to man (16:22-26). This particular commandment is not in the new covenant at all; and so, since the old or Mosaic covenant has been abolished, it is not in force any more. Christians are now free to observe any sabbath of their choice (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17). See 10 reasons why Christians keep Sunday, note k, Acts 20:7
h The 7th day was not always the same weekday throughout the year, as our Saturday is. The sabbath or rest day was on two different days of the week in one year, due to a second sabbath at Pentecost which changed the regular weekly sabbath to a day later. See notes, p. 111
i Sabbath to the Lord. This meant a rest from all unnecessary work, all that was forbidden by the law on this day. It was a day of rest consecrated to the Lord and His religious commands j Any work not allowed by the law. The same law that forbade all work on the sabbath under penalty of death, also commanded certain other work to be done on that day, as proved in note k, below

m This is the first commandment of the 10 giving any promise (v 12; Eph. 6:2). It implies a shorter life, proving there is no set time to die and suggesting that man more or less determines his own length of life (whether long or short), and destiny. Cp. Ps. 91; 1 Cor. 11:30. See Family laws, col. 3, p. 114 n This law does not prohibit killing as punishment for crimes, or killing in war, which God Himself commanded these same people to do; but it does prohibit killing for malice, and premeditative and wilful destruction of man who was made in the image of God (Gen. 9:6). All violence (21:12), stratagem (21:14), assault and battery (21:18), hatred and anger (Lev. 19:14, 17), vengeance (Lev. 19:18), and danger to human life in general, was forbidden (Dt. 22:8). See Murder laws, p. 114
o This commandment prohibits all unlawful sexual relationship and upholds the sacredness and divine appointment of marriage for the propagation and multiplication of the human race. See Sex laws, col. 3, p. 114 p This commandment prohibits secret and open removal of the property of another, any injury done to it, and carelessness about that which belongs to a neighbor. See Stealing laws, p. 114
q This prohibits false testimony in courts of justice, and lying about the acts, words, and property of a neighbor. See Lying laws, p. 114
r This last commandment prohibits the inward desire of the heart from longing for, scheming, and putting forth any effort to acquire anything that belongs to another (Pr. 6:25; Mk. 7:19-21; Jas. 1:13-15). See Covetousness laws, p. 114

11 [l]For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.

10 Effect of God's presence (Dt. 5:22-27)

18 ¶ And all the people [u]saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking: [v]and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off.
19 And they said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Speak thou with us, and we will hear: but let [w]not God speak with us, lest we die.
20 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the people, [x]Fear not: for God is come [y]to prove you, [z]and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye [aa]sin not.
21 And the people stood [ab]afar off, and Mō'ṣeṣ [ac]drew near unto the thick darkness where God was.

11 Two religious laws: (1) Against idolatry (v 4, refs.)

●22 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, Ye have seen that [ad]I have talked with you from heaven.
●23 [ae]Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold.

(2) Law concerning altars

●25 And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of [ah]hewn stone: [ai]for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it.
●26 [aj]Neither shalt thou go up by [ak]steps unto mine altar, [al]that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.

71 CHAPTER 21

12 Ten civil laws concerning persons: (1) Menservants

NOW these are the [am]judgments which thou shalt set before them.
●2 If thou [an]buy an Hē'brew servant, six years he shall serve: and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing.
●3 If he came in by himself, he shall go out by himself: if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him.
●4 If his master have given him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself.
5 And if the servant shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free:
●6 Then his master shall bring him unto the judges; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post; and his master shall [ao]bore his ear through with an aul; and he shall serve him for ever.

(2) Maidservants and wives

f Not only does the N. T. teach that men should not sin (Rom. 6:16-23; 8:1-13; 1 Jn. 2:1-2), but the O. T. as well required the same of Israel (20:20; 23:33; Ps. 4:4; Ezek. 3:21)

l Any chosen place of worship was to have an altar on which to sacrifice the burnt and peace offerings (v 24; Lev. 17:1-11). God was to choose the place (Dt. 12:5, 11, 15, 18, 26)

o 6 commands concerning worship, p. 116 p Heathen worshippers who imitated the rites of the true God, made their altars very high, partly through pride and partly in the belief that their gods might hear them better. Such high places are mentioned 77 times in Scripture as sinful (Lev. 26:30, note). Many heathen altars had gods engraved on them as objects of worship, and this was in direct contradiction to the 2nd commandment (20:4-6)

In this first giving of the 10 commandments there are 32 commands (20:3-17). (5) Death for kidnapping (Dt. 24:7)

●16 ¶ And he that [i]stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death.

(6) Death for parental dishonour (Ex. 20:12, refs.)

●17 ¶ And he that [j]curseth his father, or his mother, shall surely be put to death.

(7) Assault and battery (Dt. 25:11-12)

●18 ¶ And if men [k]strive together, and one smite another with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed:
●19 If he rise again, and walk abroad upon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit: only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.

(8) Injuries to servants (v 26)

●20 ¶ And if a man smite [l]his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely punished.
●21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished: for he is his money.

(9) Injuries to pregnant women

●22 ¶ If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, [a]so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine.
●23 And if any mischief follow, then thou shalt give [b]life for life, ●24 Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, ●25 Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

(10) Injuries to servants (v 20)

●26 ¶ And [c]if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake.
●27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.

13 Seven civil laws concerning property: (1) Penalties to owners of mean oxen

●28 ¶ If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die: [d]then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit.
●29 But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.
●30 If there be laid on him a sum of money, then he shall give for the ransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him.
●31 Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him.
●32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maidservant; he shall give unto their master thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.

(2) Penalty for carelessness

●33 ¶ And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein;
●34 [e]The owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his.
●35 ¶ And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it; and the dead ox also they shall divide.
●36 Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in; he shall surely pay ox for ox; and the dead shall be his own.

72 CHAPTER 22

(3) Penalties for larceny (Ex. 20:15)

●1 IF a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it;

a To go out means to be released from slavery after 6 years of service (v 2). The release of slaves took place every 7th year, in the sabbatic year. No Israelite could be permanently enslaved, even by some rash act or a debt he owed. If he became a slave the year after the sabbatic year he had to serve 6 years before he could be released in the next sabbatic year; but, if for instance, he became a slave the 3rd year after the sabbatic year he had to serve only 3 years. See 2 Ki. 4:1
A woman slave was not freed if she became the wife of her master, unless the husband did not care for her, and then she could be redeemed by her family. Otherwise she was to continue as his wife. She could not be sold to Gentiles (v 7-8). If she was betrothed to the master's son, she was to be dealt with as a daughter, not sold (v 9). If the son took another wife, he was required to treat the former like the new wife, in support and duties of matrimony (v 10). If he refused to treat her as a wife, then she was to be freed and could go home without her family redeeming her with money (v 11) b That is, smites him in anger, malice, jealousy, hatred, or a desire for vengeance (v 12). This does not prohibit smiting to death in executing justice for crimes punishable by death, nor does it forbid smiting men in war-time battle, for these two acts were commanded by God (v 12-17; Num. 25:17; Dt. 7:2; 13:15; 20:13) c If a man did not plot or attempt to kill another, but did so accidently, then he was allowed to flee to the city of refuge (v 13). According to ancient custom the nearest of kin could avenge his brother if he was slain. Such a kinsman was called the avenger of blood (Num. 35:12; Dt. 19:6, 12; Josh. 20:3-9). In the city of refuge one who had slain a man accidently could live in safety until the case could come before the judges to be settled by them (Num. 35; Dt. 4:41-49; 19:1-13)
d This was an expression meaning that God permitted a certain thing to be done (v 13)
e This refers to the cities of refuge provided by law (Num. 25; Dt. 19)
f If a man deliberately killed another through guile and stratagem he incurred the death penalty (v 14) g Before the cities of refuge were chosen, and even afterward, the altar of God was a place of refuge. See 1 Ki. 1:50-53; 2:28-29
h See Family laws, p. 114
i See Stealing laws, p. 114
j See 42 death penalty sins, p. 16 k If a man died in a fight the killer was to die (v 12), but if he was only hurt, the one who smote him was to stand all expenses of his healing including payment for his loss of time at work (v 18-19)
l This law deals with the killing of a man or woman slave by a master (v 20-21)

Seeing God (24:11)

Heb. chazah, to gaze at; behold; see. It is used of seeing visions (Num. 24:4, 16; Isa. 1:1; 2:1; Amos 1:1); of learning a lesson (Pr. 24:32); of seeing God with the eyes and in the flesh (24:11; Job 19:26-27; Isa. 33:17); of seeing the sun with the eyes (Ps. 58:8); of God seeing man with His eyes (Ps. 11:4, 7); and of seeing God and His works (Ps. 17:15; 27:4; 46:8). Any argument that because it is used of visions the 74 or 75 men saw God only in vision and not with the eyes, is contradicted by the literal fact of their going up on Sinai for the express purpose of seeing and eating with God as in 24:9-11
The word for saw in v 10 is ra'ah, to see; gaze at; look at; stare. Just a few of the hundreds of references where this word is used proves that it means to look upon with eyes, regardless of what else it might mean (Gen. 1:4, 10, 12, 18, 21, 25, 31; 3:6; 6:2; 9:22-23; 12:15; 18:2; 21:9,19; 22:4). Try to make everything spiritual and invisible in these passages and see how impossible such an idea is. Over 25,000 references in Scripture make it clear that God is a real Being with a personal spirit-body, a soul, and a spirit like other spirit beings

a If two men striving hurt a woman with child so that she lost her child in an untimely birth, the husband had the right to suggest a certain fine. If it was within reason the judges would sanction the fine and pass sentence accordingly (v 22). If the woman died the person responsible had to pay the death penalty (v 23-25)
b This program of Life for Life not only reduced the need for jails but reduced crime to a minimum. If such laws of God were enforced today crime would be diminished greatly, and fast. But as long as there is no real fear of punishment crime rates will be increased c This kind of law made the unmerciful slave holder more humane, and fearful lest he lose valuable slave help in his business (v 26-27). Slaves injured as stated, were thus free to return to their former homes or even leave the country if they so desired d 9 penalties to mean ox and owners:
1 Death to an ordinary ox that killed a man (v 28)
2 His flesh not to be eaten
3 The owner to be freed
4 If a mean ox killed a man and the owner had been negligent, knowing his ox was mean, then the owner was to die (v 29)
5 The mean ox to die also
6 If the death sentence was commuted in the case of a slave being killed, and the owner was fined he was required to pay the fine as a ransom for his life (v 30)
7 This law applied to sons and daughters alike (v 31)
8 The owner was required to pay $19.50 to the slave owner for a man or woman slave killed by his ox (v 32)
9 The ox killing a slave was to be stoned e 7 penalties for carelessness:
1 The owner of a pit wherein an animal died was to make it good if he was found negligent (v 33-34)
2 He was to give money to the owner of any animal thus killed (v 34)
3 The dead beast then belonged to the owner of the pit
4 If one ox killed another, then the live ox was to be sold and the money divided between the 2 owners (v 35)
5 The dead ox was to be divided also 6 If it was known that the live ox was mean, and the owner did not keep him up, then the owner was to pay ox for ox (v 36)
7 The dead ox then was to belong to the one who paid the fine

8 commands concerning national feasts (23:14)

1 Keep 3 feasts unto Me each year
2 Keep the feast of unleavened bread
3 Eat unleavened bread 7 days (v 15)

5 None shall appear before Me empty
6 Keep the feast of firstfruits (v 16)
7 Keep the feast of tabernacles
8 All males shall appear before Me 3 times a year (v 17; 34:23; Dt. 16:16)

20 predictions of God (23:20)

15 I will not drive them out in 1 year (v 29)
16 I will drive them out gradually, as you occupy the land (v 30)
17 I will set your boundaries (v 31)
18 I will deliver the people into your hands
19 You will drive them out 20 If you serve their gods they will ensnare you (v 33)

a 6 penalties for stealing:
1 Restore 5 oxen for 1 ox (v 1)
2 Restore 4 sheep for 1 sheep
3 Death penalty for a man killing a thief in the day-time - in cold blood after he had got away (v 3). No death penalty for one killing a thief breaking into a home at night (v 2)
4 Full restitution according to the law required of a thief who was caught (v 3)
5 Slavery for a thief who could not make full restitution, the full penalty to be worked out before he was set free
6 Double for any animal found alive in the hands of a thief (v 4) b David thus judged. See 2 Sam. 12:6

c 2fold penalty for spite work:
1 The best of one's own field to be given in restitution (v 5)
2 The best of one's own vineyard to be given in restitution
This applied when a man permitted his beast to destroy the field or vineyard of a neighbor

d Restitution for loss by fire in case of carelessness (v 6)

e 8 commands - property in trust:
1 A person to pay double for stealing money or other valuables held in trust (v 7)
2 If the thief be not found the man responsible for his neighbor's goods to be tried by judges to determine whether he stole the goods or not (v 8)
3 All manner of trespasses to be tried before judges (v 9) viction
4 Double to be paid in case of con-
5 Acquittal of responsibility in case of loss of animals in trust (v 10-11)
6 Owner to accept the oath of his neighbor that he was not to blame(v 11)
7 If stock entrusted to a person be stolen restitution to be made by him (v 12). This implies that the person did not take care of that which was entrusted to him as in the case of his own stock
8 A person not to make good any stock torn by beasts which could not have been prevented (v 13)

f Heb. ha-elohim, the gods. Here it stands for men who represent God in judgment and executing justice according to His own law given to Moses. Such men represent Him and act in His stead according to Rom. 13:1-6. This meaning should be given to the term judges in 18:15-19; 21:6; 22:8. Cp. Ps. 82:1, 6; Jn. 10:34-35. God instituted human government through Noah and now He added many more laws to civil government in Israel, to make His will more complete. There was no appeal to a higher court or for another trial when the judges gave their decision g This simply means making a solemn vow in the presence of God. In those days such oaths were so sacred and awful, it being believed that God would judge a man with calamity who made an untrue declaration before Him, that it was taken for granted that one was innocent who could and would make such an oath. Even contracts are not looked upon as being as binding today as a mere oath was in ancient times

h 2 commands concerning borrowed property: animals (v 14)
1 Restitution for loss of borrowed
2 No penalty if the owner present when such animals die (v 15) of all law and rewards for obedience to it, v 28). There is no definite article before God in the Heb. here as before judges in v 8-9. See Trinity in Index 2 Do not curse your ruler who derives his authority from God (v 28)

p 8 commands to Israel:
1 Offer the first of all ripe fruit and fruit juices to Me (v 29)
2 Give Me your firstborn sons
3 Give Me the firstborn of sheep and cattle (v 30)
4 Let the young stay with the mother for 8 days
5 Give them to Me the 8th day
6 Be holy men unto Me (v 31)
7 Do not eat flesh torn of beasts
8 Cast torn meat to the dogs

All these commands to Israel applied solely to them and not to the Gentile world. They concerned the Jews until the Messiah made the new covenant based on better promises (Heb. 8:6) he [a]shall restore five oxen for an ox, and [b]four sheep for a sheep.

●2 ¶ If a thief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him.
●3 If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft.
●4 If the theft be certainly found in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall restore double.

(4) Penalty for loss through spite work

●5 ¶ If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; [c]of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.

(5) Penalty for carelessness

●6 ¶ If fire break out, and catch in thorns, so that the stacks of corn, or the standing corn, or the field, be consumed therewith; [d]he that kindled the fire shall surely make restitution.

(6) Penalty for loss in trust

●7 ¶ If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, [e]let him pay double.
●8 If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto [f]the judges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods.
●9 For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his, the cause of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour.
●10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it:
●11 Then shall an [g]oath of the LORD be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good.
●12 And if it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof.
●13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn.

(7) Penalty for loss of borrowed property

●14 ¶ And if a man borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he [h]shall surely make it good.
●15 But if the owner thereof be with it, [a]he shall not make it good: if it be an hired thing, it came for his hire.

14 Sixteen civil laws concerning persons: (1) Penalty for rape (Dt. 22:28)

●16 ¶ And [b]if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, [c]he shall surely endow her to be his wife.
●17 If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay [d]money according to the dowry of virgins.

(2) Death for witchcraft

●18 ¶ Thou shalt not [e]suffer a witch to live.

(3) Death for bestiality (Lev. 18:23; 20:15-16; Dt. 27:21)

●19 ¶ Whosoever [f]lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death.

(4) Death for idolatry (Ex. 20:4)

●20 ¶ He [g]that sacrificeth unto any god, save unto the LORD only, he shall be utterly [h]destroyed.

(5) Penalty for oppression (Ex. 23:9; Lev. 19:13, 33-34; Dt. 10:19; 22:10; 24:14-15)

●21 ¶ Thou [i]shalt neither vex a stranger, nor oppress him: [j]for ye were strangers in the land of E'gypt.
●22 ¶ Ye shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child.
▸23 If thou afflict them in any wise, and they cry at all unto me, [k]I will surely hear their cry;
▸24 And my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.

(6) Law against charging interest to the poor (Dt. 23:19)

●25 ¶ If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor by thee, [l]thou shalt not be to him as an usurer, neither shalt thou lay upon him usury.
●26 If thou at all take thy neighbour's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down:
▸27 For that is his covering only, it is his raiment for his skin: [m]wherein shall he sleep? and it shall come to pass, when he crieth unto me, that I will hear; [n]for I am gracious.

(7) Law against anarchy

●28 ¶ Thou [o]shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.

(8) Law of first-fruits and first-born of man and beast

●29 ¶ Thou [p]shalt not delay to offer the first of thy ripe fruits, and of thy liquors; the firstborn of thy sons shalt thou give unto me.

a The owner being present could take care of his own property, so the borrower was not to be held responsible. In the case of anything hired, the price of the hire stood good for any risk the owner would run (v 15)

b This law was a wise one, for it no doubt curbed seduction and fornication. Before a man would seduce a virgin he would perhaps consider whether he wanted to take her to be his wife and give the customary dowry if the parents consented. In a case where parents did not consent the dowry in full had to be paid, regardless of the objections. When parents favored the marriage such a wife could not be put away by her husband all the days of his life as one could be for certain reasons otherwise (Dt. 22:28-29). This in itself may have kept many from sinning with a virgin

c 2 commands concerning seduced virgins:
1 The seducer to marry her (v 16)
2 The seducer to pay full dowry even if parents did not consent (v 17)

d The dowry for virgins was 50 shekels of silver or $32.50 (Dt. 22:28-29)

e Allow: permit. No spiritualist medium was permitted to live in Israel. Each one found was to be put to death (v 18; Lev. 19:31; 20:27; Dt. 18:9-14). This is why the witch of Endor was afraid of Saul (1 Sam. 28:3, 7-25). Witchcraft was as the sin of rebellion (1 Sam. 15:23; 2 Ki. 9:22; 2 Chr. 33:6; Neh. 3:4; Gal. 5:20). Witches claimed to reveal hidden secrets by contact with God and the invisible world (Isa. 8:19). They were seducers of the people to turn them from God; thus they were to be killed (Dt. 13)

f This, the sin of bestiality, was punishable by death (v 19; Lev. 18:23; 20:15-16; Dt. 27:21). See Sex laws, 114

g Here we have the death penalty for idolatry - breaking the 2nd commandment (20:4-6; Dt. 6:8-10). See Divine laws, p. 113

h Heb. charam, to seclude. It refers to being finally separated from God without any possibility of redemption. The phrase utterly destroyed is found about 50 times referring to complete destruction and cutting off of cities and nations (v 20; Lev. 26:44; Num. 21:2) not left to the judges. God reserved the right of all such punishment for Himself (v 23-24)

i 4 commands concerning oppression:
1 Do not vex a stranger (v 21)
2 Do not oppress him
3 Do not afflict a widow (v 22)
4 Do not afflict an orphan

j National pride because of ancestry, wartime victory, learning, riches, and even religion has been a common weakness of human beings in all ages. Encouraged to excess it causes prejudice, intolerable malice and hatred of others among all peoples. Here God used the slavery experience of Israel in Egypt to warn them against all oppression of other nations and the weak and poor classes among themselves (v 21)

k Punishment for oppressing people not left to the judges. God reserved the right of all such punishment for Himself (v 23-24)

5 warnings of God to oppressors:
1 He will hear cry of oppressed (v 23)
2 Become angry at oppressors (v 24)
3 Kill them with the sword
4 Make their wives widows
5 Make their children orphans

l 3 commands concerning loans:
1 Do not be a usurer to the poor (v 25)
2 Do not charge them interest
3 Do not take raiment as a pledge and hold it over night (v 26; Dt. 24:1-13). The robe of the poor in many cases, was the only covering for the night

m Question 52. Next, 32:11

n 7 things God is to His people:
1 A shield (Gen. 15:1)
2 Exceeding great reward (Gen. 15:1)
3 A jealous God (Ex. 20:5)
4 Gracious (Ex. 22:27)
5 Holy (Lev. 11:44-45)
6 Their part (Num. 18:20)
7 Their inheritance (Num. 18:20)

o 2 commands against anarchy:
1 Do not revile the Gods (Heb. Elohim, the Divine Trinity, the source a 5 commands concerning justice:

1 Do not invent a false report against your neighbor (v 1)
2 Do not join the wicked to be a false witness (v 1). Let evil die alone
3 Do not follow a multitude to do evil, or think the majority to be always right (v 2). Do right if you have to stand alone
4 Do not join any cause or follow any multitude in wresting justice from anyone 5 Do not take up the cause of a poor man through sympathy if he is wrong (v 3). When justice is at stake, neither wealth nor poverty must be favored. Strict and impartial justice must be given b 2 commands - showing love for enemy:

1 Bring back your enemy's stock if you find it going astray (v 4)
2 Help your enemy's ass if you see it lying under a burden (v 5) c 5 commands concerning justice:

1 Do not countenance a poor man in his crimes, nor condemn him in his righteous cause (v 6) 7)
2 Keep yourself from all falsehood (v
3 Do not be a party to slaying the innocent and righteous
4 Do not accept bribes (v 8) 21-24)
5 Do not oppress the stranger (v 9; 22:

e 7 commands concerning the sabbatic
1 Sow the land 6 years (v 10; Lev. 25)
2 Harvest the crops 6 years
3 Let the land rest the 7th year (v 11)
4 Let the poor have all the land produces by itself the 7th year
5 Let the beasts eat all that the poor leave the 7th year
6 Let the poor have the increase of the vineyards the 7th year
7 Let the poor bave the crops of the oliveyards the 7th year times in Scripture of the appearance of one of the persons of the Divine Trinity, who is the Angel (messenger) of or from God, the head of the Godhead (2 Chr. 29:11; 1 Cor. 11:3). The second person of the Trinity is no doubt the manifestation of God in such appearances (Heb. 1:1-3; Isa. 63:9). See The spirit world, p.632

5 Paul told us plainly that Israel "drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ" (1 Cor. 10:4)

o 12 commands to Israel:
1 Beware of the Angel (v 21)
2 Obey His voice
3 Provoke Him not (v 24)
4 Do not bow down to gods of pagans
5 Do not serve their gods

11 Make no covenant with their gods
12 Live segregated (v 33)

p This has been translated various ways - "that He may not rise to punish you (without forgiveness), for My power is around Him"; "He beareth not with your sins, for My name is in His heart"; "He will not forgive your sins, for I am manifest in Him" and "perhaps He will not pardon your sins, for My name is upon Him." The Sept. reads, "for He should not withdraw Himself from you, for My name is upon Him." All these renderings confirm the fact that the Angel was a divine person with the sovereign prerogative to uphold the divine holiness and honor. God alone has power to forgive or not forgive; hence, a member of deity is here referred to q This statement denotes that the full authority of God, represented by the name of God, was upon Him, in Him, around Him, and in His heart and nature, as suggested by the various renderings in note p, above. This same kind of statement is made of Christ in Col. 1:19; 2:9. As the divine representative of the Godhead, the executive of God among Israel, the Angel was essentially all that God could be in their midst to lead, keep, and bring them into Canaan (v 21)

r These promises, like all others in Scripture, are based upon meeting conditions (see v 21, 22, 24, 25, 32-33)

●30 Likewise shalt thou do with thine oxen, and with thy sheep: seven days it shall be with his dam; on the eighth day thou shalt give it me.

(9) Law of personal holiness (Lev. 11:44; 19:1; 20:7, 25; 21:6, 8)

●31 ¶ And ye shall be holy men unto me: neither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.

73 CHAPTER 23

(10) Law against perjury (Ex. 20:16, refs.)

1 THOU[a] shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness.

(11) Law against following popular opinion

●2 ¶ Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment:

(12) Law against favoring a poor man because he is poor

●3 ¶ Neither shalt thou countenance a poor man in his cause.

(13) Law of love to enemies (Lev. 19:17; Dt. 23:6)

●4 ¶ If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou[b] shalt surely bring it back to him again.
●5 If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him.

(14) Law against injustice (Lev. 19:35; Dt. 16:19; 24:17)

●6 Thou [c]shalt not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause.
●7 Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked.

(15) Law against bribery (Ps. 15:5; Isa. 33:15-16)

●8 ¶ And thou shalt take no gift: for the [d]gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous.

(16) Law against oppression (Ex. 22:21, refs.)

●9 ¶ Also thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of E'gypt.

15 Six religious laws: (1) Law of the sabbatic year (Lev. 25)

●10 And six years thou [e]shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof:

Concerning idolatry, oppression and usury

●11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard.

(2) Law of the weekly sabbath (Ex. 20:8-11, refs.)

●12 Six days thou [e]shalt do thy work, and on the [b]seventh day thou shalt rest: [c]that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.

(3) Law against unfaithfulness to God (Ex. 20:1, refs.)

●13 And [d]in all things that I have said unto you be circumspect: and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

(4) Law of three national feasts (Ex. 34:22; Lev. 23)

●14 ¶ [e]Three times thou [f]shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.
●15 Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread: (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, [g]as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the [h]month A'bib; for in it thou camest out from E'gypt: and none [i]shall appear before me empty:)
●16 And the [j]feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field: [k]and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.

(5) Law of assembly of males (Ex. 34:23; Dt. 16:16)

●17 Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord GOD.

(6) Law of the offerings (Lev. 1:1-6:7)

●18 Thou [l]shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning.
●19 The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

16 Four laws of conquest (Num. 31:17, refs.). (1) Law of obedience to God

‡20 ¶ [m]Behold, I send an [n]Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.
●21 [o]Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; [p]for he will not pardon your transgressions: [q]for my name is in him.
22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; [r]then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an a 2 weekly commands:

1 Work 6 days (v 12)
2 Rest the 7th day

b As explained elsewhere, the 7th day sabbath was changed to a day later each year, after the day of Pentecost which was an extra sabbath following the 7th of a series of 7 sabbaths. See point 3 of 22 facts about sabbaths, p.111

c This was one of the purposes of a sabbath of rest. Every creature needs a set period of rest and relaxation to be refreshed and renewed bodily for further work (v 12). In the O. T. God regulated man's program so that he would always have a day of rest after 6 days of work; and the particular day of rest was designated by Him. To meet this need the N. T. allows any day one chooses to be observed as a day of rest (Rom. 14:5-6; Col. 2:14-16). Most Christians choose Sunday for rest and worship. Some have another week-day off for rest and can use their Sunday (or another day) for worship only God:

4 Do not boil a kid sacrifice in his mother's milk (v 19; 34:26; Dt. 14:21. Cp. Lev. 22:28; Dt. 22:6). This could be to discourage cruelty to animals, or refer to a superstitious custom of harvest-time in which a kid was boiled in its mother's milk and used to propitiate gods and sprinkle on crops as a charm to increase production the coming year n This Angel was none other than the second person of the Divine Trinity in His pre-incarnate state as God, and an equal member with the other two of the Godhead

5 proofs Angel member of Godhead:

1 That this was a divine person is clear from the fact that God's name was in Him (see note p-q, below)

2 The expression the angel of the Lord is used 25 times by Moses, identifying the person as divine and calling Him God and Lord. To Hagar He said, "I will multiply your seed... the Lord has heard your affliction... I will make him a great nation" (Gen. 16:7-12; 21:17-18). To Abraham He said, "now I know... you have not withheld your son from Me... By Myself I have sworn... I will bless you... I will multiply you" (Gen. 22:11-12, 15-17). To Jacob He identified Himself as the God of Bethel (Gen. 31:11-13). Jacob spoke of Him as his Redeemer (Gen. 48:16). To Moses He identified Himself as the God of your fathers, the I AM (Ex. 3:2-4:28). He further identified Himself to Moses as the One in the pillar of fire by night and the cloud by day (14:19, 24-31; 23:20, 23; 32:34; 33:2; Num. 20:16). To Balaam He identified Himself as the Lord (Num. 22:22-35)

3 The Angel appeared to Joshua as captain of the Lord's host, a divine person in whose presence he (like Moses in Ex. 3:5) was required to remove his shoes (Josh. 5:13-15)

4 The phrases the angel of the Lord and the angel of God are used many q Here we have another proof, of which there are hundreds in Scripture, that God has a personal body with bodily parts like man. A pavement "under his feet" would require Him to have feet (cp. Rev. 4:6; 15:2-4). If "he laid not his hand" upon the nobles, then He surely has hands. If "they saw God," then He must have a body to see. If they "did eat and drink," then God provided a real, tangible banquet on Sinai. Two in 2 verses (v 10-11), it says "they saw" God. We must accept these and the other facts here as true. It is useless to attempt explaining them away r Laid not His hand in judgment (as men falsely believed He would), because they had seen God with the eyes (note q, Gen. 32:30). Had they but touched the mount before this they would have been killed (19:12-25; Heb. 12:20)

CHAPTER 24 74

17 Sealing of the tenth or Mosaic Covenant (Gen. 1: 14, b). (1) By worship

[p]AND he said unto Mō'şeş, Come up unto the LORD, thou, and Aâr'on, [q]Nā'dăb, and Ă-bī'hū, and [r]seventy of the elders of Iş'ra-el; and worship ye afar off.

2 And Mō'şeş [s]alone shall come near the LORD: but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people go up with him.

(2) By promise and monuments (Dt. 27; Josh. 8:30)

3 ¶ And Mō'şeş [t]came and told the people [u]all the words of the LORD, and all the judgments: and [v]all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which the LORD hath said will we do.

4 And Mō'şeş [w]wrote all the words of the LORD, and rose up early in the morning, [x]and builded an altar under [y]the hill, and [z]twelve pillars, according to the twelve tribes of Iş'ra-el.

(3) By blood and promise

5 And he sent [a]young men of the children of Iş'ra-el, [b]which offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen unto the LORD.

6 And Mō'şeş took half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood [c]he sprinkled on the altar.

7 And he took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people: and they said, [d]All that the LORD hath said will we do, and be obedient.

8 And Mō'şeş took the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and said, [e]Behold the blood of the covenant, which the LORD hath made with you concerning all [f]these words.

(4) By banquet with God: 5th ascent and descent of Moses (note h, 19:3)

9 ¶ [g]Then went up Mō'şeş, and Aâr'on, Nā'dăb, and Ă-bī'hū, and [h]seventy of the elders of Iş'ra-el:

10 And [i]they saw the God of Iş'ra-el: and there was [j]under his feet as it were a paved work of a sapphire stone, and as it were the body of heaven in his clearness.

11 And upon the nobles of the children of Iş'ra-el [k]he laid not his hand: also they [l]saw God, and [m]did eat and drink.

(5) Sixth ascent of Moses (note h, 19:3, refs.) Ascends to get the law (Ex. 31:18; 32:15)

[n]12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [o]Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them.

13 And Mō'şeş rose up, and his minister Jŏsh'u-ă: and Mō'şeş went up into the mount of God.

14 And he said unto the elders, Tarry ye here for us, until we come again unto you: and, behold, [p]Aâr'on and Hûr are with you: if any man have any matters to do, let him come unto them.

15 And Mō'şeş [q]went up into the mount, and a cloud covered the mount.

16 And the glory of the LORD abode upon mount Sī'năi, and the cloud covered it six days: and the [r]seventh day he called unto Mō'şeş out of the midst of a 4th descent of Moses (note h, 19:3) b Including the 10 commandments (20:1-17); hence, the theory that they alone were the law of God and the rest of the law was the law of Moses is erroneous. The Heb. for words in this verse is dabar, word; matter; sentence, commandment; counsel; decree; duty; message; oracle; thought. It is trans. commandments in every place where the 10 commandments are mentioned in the O. T. (34:28; Dt. 4:13; 10:4). Dabar is trans. commandments only 2 other times (1 Sam. 15:11; Ps. 103:20). In these passages it could be trans. words, for the meaning is the same. Likewise, this verse (24:3) could be trans. thus: "Moses came and told the people all the commandments (dabar) of the Lord, and all the judgments" c All, not part of the people, promised to obey all the words (Heb. dabar, commandments, judgments) of the Lord (v 3). This is further proof that all commandments, statutes, judgments, ordinances, and laws of Moses made the one covenant between God and Israel. All the words include the 10 commandments (20:1-17) and judgments (20:18-23:33) d Another proof that Moses wrote the 10 commandments as well as the other words of Jehovah. If the 10 commandments were not a part of the covenant and the words (Heb. dabar; note b, above) of the Lord, then we should have to say that Israel was not obligated to keep them and did not promise to do so. Their promise was to keep all the words of the Lord given to Moses, and if these words included the 10 commandments, then they were as much a part of the law of Moses as other words of God. Thus, the 10 commandments are to be recognized, not only as the law of God, but also as the law of Moses. The law of God then was not separate and distinct from the law of Moses; they were the same law. Regarding the fact that Moses wrote, thousands of papyri have been found in Egypt that were written before and after the exodus recording public acts and laws. Writing was well known in the time of Moses. See 16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch in Summary of Genesis, p. 51

e 4 altars made by Moses, p. 117
f At the foot of Mt. Sinai
g The 12 pillars are here explained as representing the 12 tribes of Israel. With the altar standing for access to God, both God and Israel were thus represented as making a covenant together. God proposed the covenant, promising curses for breaking it and blessings for keeping it. Israel accepted the terms of the covenant and promised obedience to it (19:5-8; 24:3, 7). It was then ratified by the blood of animals, which signified that disobedience caused life to be forfeited, and showed faith in the coming Redeemer (v 5-8; Heb. 9:18-23). The 12 pillars were of uncut stones used either as a support to the altar (20:25), or placed around the altar as witnesses that the whole nation accepted the terms of the covenant h These were perhaps sons of Aaron who were chosen to minister (27:21; 28:1). The whole tribe was not set apart in place of the firstborn until 11 1/2 months after leaving Egypt (40:1; Num. 1:1; 3:1-13)
i The law regarding offerings had not yet been given, as in Lev. 1-7, but they knew what kind of offerings to sacrifice from the time of Adam (Gen. 4:3-7; 8:20-21; 12:7; 13:4; 15:9-12; 22:13; 26:25; 31:54; 35:7; Ex. 8:26; 10:9,26; 12:1-13)
j This blood on the altar signified their acceptance of the covenant and their pledge to obey it (v 6). Then Moses read the whole covenant (20:1-23:33) to the people to assure them that no change had been made in the law and that this very covenant in its entirety was what they promised to keep (v 7). Then, after the people had promised to keep all the law, he took the other half of the blood, sprinkled the book and all the people, or at least representatives of the people, and considered the covenant binding (v 7-8; Heb. 9:15-23. Cp. 1 Pet. 1:2)
k 3 promises of Israel, p. 117

a This describes God's glory as seen with human eyes - like a consuming fire devouring highly inflamable material (16:7, 10; 24:16-17; 40:34-35; Lev. 9:6, 23; Num. 14:10, 21-22; 16:19, 42; 20:6; Dt. 5:24; 1Kl. 8:11; 2 Chr. 5:14; 7:1-3; Ezek. 1:28; 3:23; 8:4; 9:3; 10:4, 18-19; 11:22-23; 43:2-5; 44:4) b Moses observed a complete fast - one without eating or drinking water for the whole 40 days (v 18; Dt. 9:9-17). He fasted at least 2 other 40-day periods following this (34:28; Dt. 9:19, 25; 10:10)

1 Speak to Israel (v 2)
2 Command to bring Me an offering 3 Take My offering from everyone who gives willingly d This was to be an heave-offering because it was to be lifted up and waved before the Lord (see 29:26-28; Num. 15:19-21; 18:8-29; 31:29; 41; Dt. 12:6-17)

i 4 kinds of linen - blue, purple, red, and fine (white, v 4). Red and purple were associated with the crucifixion of Christ (Mt. 27:28; Jn. 19:2). White or fine is mentioned last here in Rev. 19:13-14. The blue was a color made from cerulean mussel shells; the purple was made from shell-fish (see note n, Acts 16:14); and the scarlet was made from the glow worm. The linen referred to was thread spun and dyed by the women. The weaving and embroidering was left to Aholiab and his assistants (35:25, 34-35). The Sept. reads, "blue and purple and scarlet yarn, and cotton thread, and goats' hair"

j Goats in many parts of Asia have long, beautiful hair, almost as fine as silk and valued as much as wool from the sheep

k It is said that some skins of rams already had beautiful red colors and would not need very much dye, if any l Badger skin was used for coverings for the tabernacle and furniture, and also for making shoes. The badger, a marine animal, lives along the seashores and river banks. See 25:5; 26:14; 35:7, 23; 36:19; 39:34; Num. 4:6-25; Ezek. 16:10

v Heb. tabniyth, structure; model. Moses did not have a plan, but a literal model to go by (v 9, 40. Cp. Heb. 8:5; 9:23). David later saw a model of the temple (1 Chr. 28:11-19)

VI Commands to make the tabernacle and furniture (Ex. 25:1-27:21; 30:1-31:11; Heb. 9:1-28). 1 The materials (Ex. 35:4-29)

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 [c]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they bring me [d]an offering: of every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take my offering.

3 And this is the offering which ye shall [e]take of them; [f]gold, and [g]silver, and [h]brass,

4 And [i]blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, [j]and goats' hair,

5 And [k]rams' skins dyed red, and [l]badgers' skins, and [m]shittim wood,

6 [n]Oil for the [o]light, [p]spices for anointing oil, and for sweet incense,

7 [q]Onyx stones, and [r]stones to be set in the ephod, and in the breastplate.

2 Patterns for the tabernacle and furniture (Heb. 8:5)

8 And [s]let them make me [t]a sanctuary; [u]that I may dwell among them.

9 According to all that I shew thee, after the [v]pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make it.

3 The ark (Ex. 37:1-5)

10 ¶ And they [w]shall make an ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half shall be the [x]length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.

11 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a crown of gold round about.

12 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put them in the four corners thereof; and two rings shall be in the one side of it, and two rings in the other side of it.

13 And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

14 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, that the ark may be borne with them.

15 The staves shall be in the rings of the ark: they shall not be taken from it.

16 And thou shalt put into the ark the testimony which I shall give thee.

4 The mercy seat (Ex. 37:6-9)

17 And thou [a]shalt make [b]a mercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof.

18 And thou shalt make [c]two cherubims of gold, of [d]beaten work shalt thou make them, in the two ends of the mercy seat.

19 And make one cherub on the one end, and the other cherub on the other end: even of the mercy seat shall ye make the cherubims on the two ends thereof.

20 And the cherubims shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercy seat with their wings, and their faces shall look one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the cherubims be.

21 And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark; and in the [e]ark thou shalt put the testimony that [f]I shall give thee.

22 And there [g]I will meet with thee, and [h]I will commune with thee [i]from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubims which are upon [j]the ark of the testimony, of [k]all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

5 The table of showbread (Ex. 37:10-16)

23 ¶ Thou [l]shalt also make a table [m]of shittim wood: two cubits shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.

24 And thou shalt overlay it with pure [n]gold, and make thereto a [o]crown of gold round about.

25 And thou shalt make unto it a border of an [p]hand breadth round about, and thou shalt make a golden crown to the border thereof round about.

26 And thou shalt make for it four [q]rings of gold, and put the rings in the four corners that are on the four feet thereof.

27 Over against the border shall the rings be for places of the staves to bear the table.

28 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, that the table may be borne with them.

29 And thou shalt make [r]the dishes thereof, and spoons thereof, and covers thereof, and bowls thereof, to cover withal: of pure gold shalt thou make them.

30 And thou shalt set upon the table [s]shewbread before me alway.

6 Seven lamp golden candlestick (Ex. 37:17-24)

31 ¶ And thou [t]shalt make [u]a candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work shall the candlestick be made: his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, shall be of the same.

32 And six branches shall come out of the sides of it; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and a 10 commands - the mercy seat, p. 117

b Heb. kapporeth, covering. The solid gold mercy seat made the covering of the ark which held the 10 commandments. This signified that mercy and grace overshadowed law, that judgment and death were the penalty for sin, and that justice and mercy could be reconciled through grace and faith in the blood (Lev. 16; Heb. 9). See 26:34; 30:6; 31:7; 33:19; 34:7; 35:12; 37:6-9; 39:35; 40:20 c The cherubim, patterned after heavenly spirit beings, were a further symbol of the Divine Presence (v 18-22. For a description of cherubim see Ezek. 1, 8 and 10). Between them was the mercy seat, the visible symbol of the presence of God from whom came the mercies and curses of the law. Their wings stretching over the mercy seat and their faces looking toward it symbolized the eternal watchfulness and ministry of angels to the redeemed, and their co-operation with God in the plan of redemption as typified by the tabernacle and offerings of the law of Moses (v 21-22; 30:16; Heb. 1:14)

d The cherubim and mercy seat were beaten out of a piece of pure gold - with no foreign matter, dross or alloys, thus signifying absolute freedom from hypocrisy and sham in God's dealings with Israel (v 17-22; 37:6-9)

e The ark a symbol, p. 117

f Moses was yet to receive the tables of stone to be put inside the ark (32:15)

g The idea here is that God would meet with Israel as by appointment, there being an appointed place and way to become reconciled to God. See 23:14-17; 29:42-46; 34:22-24; 40:33-35

h Communion always follows meeting with God and reconciliation with Him (cp. 1 Cor. 10:16; 2 Cor. 6:14; 13:14)

i Note the place of communion (v 22):
1 From above the mercy seat
2 From between the cherubim k Here is another proof that the judgments, commands, ordinances, and statutes were as much the commandments of God as the 10 commandments

m See note m, v 5 n Heb. zahab, gold; yellow metal; to be bright. Used about 140 times of the tabernacle and furniture. All the shittim wood of the tabernacle was covered with gold - the boards, ark, altar of incense, and table of showbread; while the candlestick and mercy seat were made wholly of beaten gold. Since the tabernacle was God's dwelling place in Israel it was fitting that gold should be used in its building. It typified God's real and eternal dwelling place - the Holy City, the New Jerusalem which is made of pure gold (Rev. 21:18, 21)

7 things gold symbolizes:
1 God's Word (Ps. 19:10; 119:127)
2 Wisdom (Pr. 3:13-14)
3 Knowledge (Pr. 8:10)
4 Truth (Pr. 8:19) 22:1)
5 Good name and living favor (Pr.
6 Trials (Zech. 13:9; Mal. 3:3; 1 Pet. 1:7; Rev. 3:18)

1 Crown of the ark (25:11) (25:24)
2 Crown of the table of showbread
3 Crown of the altar of incense (30:3)

q How large the rings were is not stated, but they were of a size big enough for staves which carried the ark (v 26-28)

r Vessels of tabernacle, p. 117

s The Heb. for showbread (shewbread) means bread of face, so-called because it was to lie continually before Jehovah as a meat offering presented by the 12 tribes. The bread was not for Jehovah to eat, but for the priests as a symbol of spiritual food (Lev. 24:5-9; Mt. 12:3-5). It was at the end of the week when the bread was changed that the priests could use it for food for themselves and their families. The loaves were large but would not feed all the priests, so evidently they were eaten only by the officiating ones in their turn

u The golden lampstand, p. 117

a This refers to the 3 lamps on one side of the shaft of the candlestick (v 33); and the 4 lamps of v 34 refer to the middle one on the shaft and the 3 lamps on the other side of it. All were shaped like almonds with a knop (or knob) and a lily-like flower on each arm below the lamp (v 33-34)

b A knob was to be made on the main shaft under each of the 2 main stems where they branched off from the shaft (v 35) c All knobs and branches were to be of beaten work - pure gold (v 36)

d See The 7 lamps, p. 117

e The snuffdishes merely held the tongs which were used in cleaning the wicks of the lamps (v 38). The lamps were trimmed and taken care of otherwise, every morning and evening (30:7-8; Lev. 24:3-4)

2 Embroidery on them: cherubim of blue, purple, scarlet
3 Length: 58 ft. 4 in. (v 2)
4 Breadth: 6 ft. 4 in.
5 Make all curtains the same size
6 Couple 5 curtains together at the sides, making a width of 41 ft. 8 in.(v 3) 7 Couple the other 5 curtains together, making 41 ft. 8 in.
8 Make loops of blue on the edge of each of the 5-curtain sections (v 4)
9 Make 50 loops to hold the 2 sets of curtains together, making one piece 58 ft. 4 in. long and 83 ft. 4 in. wide (v 5)
10 Make 50 taches (hooks or clasps, v 6)
11 Couple the 2 pieces (of 5 curtains each) together with the gold hooks

j Ten here has no spiritual significance or symbolic meaning. Even when it is used in prophecy and typology the word means ten (Dan. 7:7, 20, 24; Rev. 12:3; 13:1; 17:3, 7, 17)

k It is clear from the N. T. that the tabernacle, sacrifices, offerings, and rituals of the law are among the few really scriptural types (Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 10:1). However, if we are to give meaning to any detail of the tabernacle and offerings, let it be only that which is scriptural. If there is any meaning to fine linen, it could only be typical of righteousness, as in Rev. 19:8. The blue is generally held to typify heaven or heavenly perfection; purple to typify royalty; and scarlet, earthly glory. Bible scholars agree more or less on these ideas, but to prove them from Scripture is not possible. Hence, they become details of human theory. On the other hand all must agree on the tabernacle and its worship in general being typical of the work of Christ in death, burial, and resurrection, and of heavenly things (Heb. 8:1-13; 9:1-24; 10:1-18). The major facts are typical and represent major doctrines that are essential to Christian faith, but minute details without plain passages to prove them, should not be stressed

l Cherubim are heavenly creatures who dwell in God's presence and have certain divine duties to perform
1 They guarded the tree of life in Eden when man was driven out (Gen. 3:24)
2 They are one means of God, in travel (2 Sam. 22:11; Ps. 18:10)
3 They take God's throne (at least His travelling throne) from place to place (Ezek. 1; 9:3; 10:1-20; 11:22)
Since the mercy seat represented the presence of God, and cherubim actually dwell in His presence in heaven, it was only proper that they be represented on the linen curtains, to further impress men with the fact of divine presence. Ordinary angels are called cherubs (Ezek. 28:11-17). See Spirit world and Angels in Index

m Figuring 26 inches as a cubit this would make each curtain 8 ft. 4 in. x 58 ft. 4 in.

n 50 loops would make them about a foot apart (v 5). The 50 hooks were used to couple the curtains together (v 6)

o 12 commands - 11 goats' hair curtains:
1 Make 11 curtains of goats' hair(v 7)
2 Length: 62 1/2 ft. (v 8)
3 Breadth: 6 ft. 4 in.

76 CHAPTER 26

7 Ten linen curtains (Ex. 36:8-13)

MOREOVER thou [h]shalt make the [i]tabernacle with [j]ten curtains of [k]fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with [l]cherubims of cunning work shalt thou make them.
●2 The [m]length of one curtain shall be eight and twenty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and every one of the curtains shall have one measure.
●3 The five curtains shall be coupled together one to another; and other five curtains shall be coupled one to another.
●4 And thou shalt make loops of blue upon the edge of the one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling; and likewise shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.
●5 [n]Fifty loops shalt thou make in the one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make in the edge of the curtain that is in the coupling of the second; that the loops may take hold one of another.
●6 And thou shalt make fifty taches of gold, and couple the curtains together with the taches: and it shall be one tabernacle.

8 Eleven goat hair curtains (Ex. 36:14-18)

●7 ¶ And thou [o]shalt make curtains of [p]goats' hair to be a covering upon the tabernacle: eleven curtains shalt thou make.
●8 The [q]length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and [r]the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and the [s]eleven curtains shall be all of one measure.
●9 And thou shalt couple five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and shalt double [t]the sixth curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle.
●10 And thou shalt make [u]fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain that is outmost in the coupling, and fifty loops in the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.
●11 And thou shalt make fifty taches of brass, and put the taches into the loops, and couple the tent together, that it may be one.
●12 And the remnant that remaineth of the curtains of the tent, the [v]half curtain that remaineth, shall hang over the backside of the tabernacle.
●13 And a [w]cubit on the one side, and a cubit on the other side of that which remaineth in the length of the curtains of the tent, it shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it.

9 Two coverings of ram and badger skins (Ex. 36:19)

●14 And thou [x]shalt make a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering above of badgers' skins.

10 Forty-eight boards: 96 silver sockets (Ex. 36:20)

●15 ¶ And thou [y]shalt make boards for the tabernacle [z]of shittim wood standing up.
●16 Ten cubits shall be the length of a board, and a cubit and a half shall be the breadth of one board.
●17 Two tenons shall there be in one board, set in order one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle.
●18 And thou shalt make the boards for the tabernacle, [aa]twenty boards on the south [ab]side southward.
●19 And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.
●20 And for the [ac]second side of the tabernacle on the north side there shall be twenty boards:
●21 And their forty [ad]sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.
●22 And for the sides of the tabernacle westward thou shalt make [ae]six boards.
●23 And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.
●24 And they shall be [af]coupled together beneath, and they shall be coupled together above the head of it unto one ring: thus shall it be for them both; they shall be for the two corners.
●25 And they shall be eight a Length: 30 cubits of 25 in. each would be 62 1/2 ft. (v 8)

b Breadth: 6 ft. 4 in. (v 8) c One more curtain larger than the covering of linen of v 1-6, making the second covering of the tabernacle to be 4 ft. 2 in. longer and 6 ft. 4 in. wider than the first. Cp. v 1-2 with v 8

d The 6th curtain made the second covering wide enough for an overlap in the front of the tabernacle (v 9)

e Like the 10 curtains of linen (v 1-6) these 11 curtains were to be made into one covering by 50 loops and hooks, the hooks being of brass instead of gold (v 10)

f Half the 11th curtain, which would be 4 ft. 2 in., was to hang down in front. This was the same amount that the first curtain was to hang down in back to make an overlapping (v 9, 12)

g On each side of the tabernacle there was to be an overlapping of the curtains to a depth of 25 in. (v 13)

h This indicates 2 coverings to go over the one of linen (v 1-6) and the one of goats' hair (v 7-14). The size of these curtains is not given, but they would not be less in size than the one of goats' hair. They were perhaps slightly larger in order to cover the whole tabernacle and the curtains underneath. The 3rd covering was to be of ram skins dyed red, and the 4th or top covering of badger skins, which could stand the weather better than the others. Even shoes were made out of this kind of skin (note 1, 25:5). Why there should have been 4 coverings is not explained, but perhaps to keep out summer heat as well as rain and dampness during Judea's rainy seasons p. 94

i 16 commands - 48 boards; 96 sockets,

j The shittim or accacia tree trunk seldom got to be more than 2 ft. in thickness. It could be that more than one were joined together to make each board the width of 3 ft. 1 1/2 in. How thick the boards were is not known. The whole of each one was covered with gold so that all of them together appeared as a solid board k 20 boards on a side the width of 3 ft. 1 1/2 in. each made the tabernacle 62 1/2 ft. long. The 6 boards of the end westward (v 22) and the 2 corner boards (8 boards the width of 3 ft. 1 1/2 in. each) made the tabernacle 25 ft. wide. Height of the wall was 20 ft. 10 in.

l Heb. peah, extremity; side (v 18, 20; 27:9-13; 36:23; 38:9-14)

m The opposite side (v 18, 20)

n Heb. eden, base; foundation; socket. Each silver socket weighed a talent - 117 lbs. (see 38:27, note). The tenons on the end of the boards were fitted in rabbets in the bases, and the boards stood upright to make the wall. The Sept. reads, "forty bases of silver, two for each pilaster, for both the ends thereof." There were 20 boards and 40 silver socket bases to each side and in one end 8 boards and 16 silver bases and sockets into which the board-ends could rest on their foundation. The other end of the tabernacle was open except for 5 pillars to hold up the outer vail (v 36-37). The inner vail was held up by 4 pillars (v 31-32)

o The 6 boards with the 2 corner boards made 8 boards or 25 ft. for the width of the end wall (v 22-25) p The 4 corner boards were to be coupled together at the top and bottom with rings of gold (v 23-24)

4 Make all 11 curtains the same
5 Hook 5 curtains together (v 9)
6 Hook 6 curtains together
7 Double the 6th curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle
8 Make 50 loops on the edges (v 10)
9 Make 50 taches (hooks) of brass (v 11)
10 Put the hooks in the loops, and couple the curtains together (making one piece, 62 1/2 ft. by 91 ft. 8 in.)
11 Hang the remnant (1/2 curtain) over the backside of tabernacle (v 12)
12 Let 25 in. of each end hang over the sides of the tabernacle (v 13)

q This refers to cloth made of goats' hair for a second covering of the tabernacle. Modern Bedouin tents are nearly always made of goats' hair which forms a strong waterproof cloth adapted to wear and rough usage in travel a 4 commands - the bars:

1 Make bars of shittim wood (v 26)
2 Make 5 bars for one side
3 Make 5 for the other side (v 27)
4 Make 5 for the end boards

b The bars were to strengthen and hold the boards of the walls together. Perhaps every board, and not just part of them, was fastened to the bars with rings of gold. This would make a solid construction for a portable building. The bars were to be placed in 5 rows lengthwise on the walls at equal distances apart - 1 middle bar with 2 bars above and 2 below it (v 26-28). These were visible and passed through the entire rows of rings

c Heb., yerekah, rear; part: quarter; side. It is always in the plural (v 22-23, 27; 36:27, 28, 32; 1 Sam. 24:3; 1 Ki. 6:16; 2 Ki. 19:23; Ps. 48:2; 129:3; Isa. 14:13, 15; 37:24; Jer. 6:22; Ezek. 32:23; 46:19; Amos 6:10; Jonah 1:5). It could not mean that the end had 2 sides. This is explained as the 2 corner boards being the 2 sides with 6 boards between them, making the 8 boards of the end (v 22-23, 27; 36:27-28, 32). The Bishop's Bible renders it, "And on the side of the tabernacle towards the west shalt thou make six boards; also two boards shalt thou make in the corners of the tabernacle on the two sides." Other versions simply say, the west side without mention of two sides d The middle bars on the sides and end reached the whole length of the walls. The length of the other 4 bars on each wall is not given e 4 commands:

1 Overlay the boards with gold (v 29)
2 Make the rings of gold
3 Overlay the bars with gold
4 Erect the tabernacle as demonstrated on the mount (v 30; 25:40; Heb. 8:5)

f 4 commands - inner vail and pillars:
1 Make a linen vail with cherubim (v 31)
2 Hang it on 4 pillars (v 32)
3 Make the hooks of gold
4 Set the pillars on 4 sockets (bases, foundations) of silver g 6 commands - placement of furniture:

1 Hang the vail under the hooks of the tabernacle cloth overhead (v 33)
2 Bring the ark inside the vail
3 Make the vail a division between the holy and most holy place
4 Put the mercy seat upon the ark in the most holy place (v 34)
5 Set the table outside the vail on the north wall at the middle point (v 35)
6 Set the candlestick opposite the table on the south wall

h 5 commands - outer vail and pillars:
1 Make an embroidered linen vail for the door of the tabernacle (v 36)
2 Make 5 pillars to hang the door upon (v 37)
3 Overlay the pillars with gold
4 Make the hooks of gold
5 Make 5 castings of brass bases for the 5 pillars

i It will be noticed that the same colors of blue, purple, scarlet, and fine (white) linen were used in the 10 curtains of the first covering of the tabernacle (25:4; 26:1), the inner vail (26:31), the outer vail (26:36), and gate curtain of the outer court (27:16)

j The work of the outer vail and the gate of the court (27:16) is definitely stated as embroidery work (v 36). The work of the linen covering and the inner vail seems to be the cunning work of a weaver (26:1, 31). The cunning work is called that of the weaver in 35:35 and is distinguished from embroidery work or needlework. It was, no doubt, a material with a certain pattern or design woven into it by the weaver while he was making it on the frame one on each side of each pillar, to hold up the pillar. The brass pillars had silver chapiters (28:17). The gate space was 41 ft. 8 in. (20 cubits of 25 in. each); and the height of the hangings 5 ft. 5 in. (v 18; 38:18). The stakes which held the silver rods on each side of the pillars were brass (38:20)

j Silver rods between the pillars and the brass stakes in the ground to hold up the posts and the curtains (v 10-11)

19 Court gate, 41' 8" (Ex. 38:18)

a 20 commands - brazen altar:
1 Make an altar of shittim wood (v 1)
2 Length: 10 ft. 5 in.
3 Breadth: 10 ft. 5 in.
4 Make it foursquare
5 Height: 6 ft. 3 in.
6 Make 4 horns of equal size on the 4 corners (v 2)
7 Overlay altar with brass
8 Make ashpans and shovels for ashes (v 3)
9 Make basons for blood and water
10 Make fleshhooks for the meat
11 Make firepans for fire
12 Make all utensils of brass
13 Make a grate of brass (v 4)
14 Make 4 brazen rings in the corners of the grate
15 Put the grate in the middle of the altar beneath (v 5)
16 Make staves of shittim wood (v 6)
17 Cover them with brass
18 Put the staves in the rings of the 2 sides to carry the altar with (v 7)
19 Make the framework of boards (v 8)
20 Make the altar according to the pattern on Sinai (v 8; 25:40; 26:30; Heb. 8:5) b The large brazen altar (38:30; 39:39) is called the altar of burnt-offerings, for on it were sacrificed all offerings by fire (29:13-34; 30:20; Lev. 1:9-17; 2:1-16; 3:5-16; 4:1-35; 5:12; 6:12-15; 7:5, 31; 8:32; 16:25-27; 17:6; Num. 5:26; 18:17; 19:5). It is also called the altar of God (Ps. 43:4) and altar of the Lord (Mal. 2:13). Priests were required to wear certain clothes while ministering around the altar (28:43), were supposed to be sober (Lev. 10:1-10) and obey to the letter, all that was commanded, or bear their sin (30:18-21). All who touched the altar were considered holy (29:37). It was sanctified and anointed before use (29:36-44; 30:26-28; 40:10; Num. 7). Perpetual fire was kept on the altar so that any time anyone sinned he could have immediate access to God (Lev. 6:13) c The horns were projections pointing upward, perhaps shaped like the horn of an ox (v 2). Sacrifices were tied to them (Ps. 118:27). To take hold of one meant the individual claimed protection from the God of Israel (21:14; 1 Ki. 1:50)

d The fleshhooks were used in handling the sacrifices on the altar. Cp. 1 Sam. 2:13

e Besides other uses, the firepans were perhaps used to keep the perpetual fire going while the altar was being cleaned. The same word is rendered snuffdishes (25:38; 37:23) and censers (Lev. 10:1; 16:12; Num. 4:14; 16:6)

f A shelf or projection all around the altar between the top and the base. It was the place the priests walked upon to carry on their work at the altar. Cp. Lev. 9:22. It is supposed that there was a slope of earth up to this ledge on one side of the altar, in keeping with Ex. 20:26 which forbade steps

g This refers to the hollow space inside the framework of the board altar covered with brass. This made it light enough for travel (v 8; 38:7)

h 16 commands - outer court:
1 Make the court of the tabernacle (v 9) side of fine linen
2 Make the hangings of the south
3 Length: 208 ft. 4 in.
4 Breadth: 104 ft. 2 in. (v 12)
5 Make 20 pillars and 20 sockets (bases) of brass for the south side (v 10)
6 Make the hooks and fillets (rods to hold up pillars) of silver
7 Make hangings for the north side like those of the south side - 208 ft. 4 in. long (v 11)
8 Make 20 pillars and 20 sockets of brass for the north side
9 Make also the hooks and pillar rods of silver for the north side 10 Make the end hangings 104 ft. 2 in.
11 Make 10 pillars and bases for the end (v 12)
12 Make the breadth of the gate end of the court 104 ft. 2 in. (v 13)
13 Make the hangings of one side of the gate 31 ft. 3 in. (v 14)
14 Make 3 pillars and bases for these 15 Make the hangings for the other side 31 ft. 3 in. (v 15)
16 Make 3 pillars and bases for these

i The court of the tabernacle was 104 ft. 2 in. by 208 ft. 4 in. It had 60 pillars and 60 bases of brass; 120 fillets or rods, a 7 commands - the gate and pillars:

1 Make the gate width 41 ft. 8 in. (v 16)
2 Make the hanging of fine linen with blue, purple, and scarlet needlework
3 Make 4 pillars for the gate
4 Make 4 sockets (bases) for the foundations of the pillars like those of the other 56 pillars of the outer courts (v 17)
5 Make all the 60 pillars of the outer court with silver rods (fillets): 2 to each pillar to hold it up
6 Make their hooks of silver
7 Make their sockets of brass

b The gate curtain was to be needlework, embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread like the gate or curtain of the tabernacle (note i-j, 26:36)

c 69 pillars of the tabernacle are:
20 for south side of court (27:9-10)
20 for north side (27:11)
10 for west end (27:12)
10 for east or gate end (27:14-16)
4 for inner vail (26:32)
5 for outer vail (26:37)
The 60 pillars for the outer court were of uniform size but the 9 for the 2 vails were longer. Some believe they were of various lengths so that the top of the tabernacle could be raised in the middle like a tent or house roof with gable ends d Here we have the dimensions of the court clearly stated - length: 208 ft. 4 in.; width: 104 ft. 2 in.; height: 10 ft. 5 in.

e See note h, 92-4; note k, 106-1

f This could only refer to the vessels of the brazen altar and its service, for the ark, the incense altar, the table of showbread and all its vessels, and the candlestick and its dishes were to be of pure gold (25:11-13, 17, 24, 26, 29, 31, 36-39; 37:25-28). Even the rings, bars, boards, and pillars of the inner and outer vails were to be overlaid with gold (26:28). The foundation bases, the rods for the posts and their hooks were of silver, not brass (26:19-25; 27:11). The foundation bases of the outer court, the pillars or posts to hang the outer curtains on, the large altar of sacrifice and its vessels, and the laver were of brass (27:2-6, 10-11, 17-19; 38:8)

g The pins of the tabernacle and pins of the outer court, indicate that even the tabernacle walls were held by rods of silver to pins driven in the ground like tent stakes (v 19). The pins were of brass because it was a stronger material and could stand being driven into the ground better than gold or silver h 4 commands - oil for the light:

1 Command Israel to bring pure beaten olive oil for the light (v 20)
2 Cause the light to burn always
3 Put the lamp in the holy place (v 21)
4 The priests shall order the light from evening to morning i Beaten olive oil was made by bruising the olives in a mortar or mill without the application of heat. Inferior oil could be made under stronger pressure and with the aid of heat

j From this and Lev. 24:2,4 it would seem that the light burned day and night. This does not contradict v 21 and Lev. 24:3 which no doubt mean only that the lamps were serviced each evening and each morning Note: This completes the first section dealing with building the tabernacle (25:1-27:21). The subject is resumed with some additional details in 31:1-11 and again in 35:4-38:31. Instructions for setting up the tabernacle are given in 40:1-38 k 4 commands - choice of priests (v 1):

1 Choose Aaron your brother
2 Choose Aaron's sons: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, Ithamar
3 Set them apart from all Israel
4 Let them minister in the priests' office

l 6 commands - priestly garments:
1 Make holy garments for Aaron (v 2)
2 Pattern them for glory and beauty
3 Speak to the wise hearted whom I have filled with the Spirit (v 3) 4 Command them to make garments to consecrate Aaron that he may minister to Me in the priest's office 4):

CHAPTER 28 78

VII Commands for the priesthood (Ex. 28:1-29:46; 39:1-31; Lev. 8:1-9:24; 16:4). 1 Choice of the priests

●AND [k]take thou unto thee Aâr'on thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office, even Aâr'on, Nā'dăb and Ă-bī'hū, Ĕ-le-ā'zar and Ith'a-mär, Aâr'on's sons.

2 Special garments for Aaron (Ex. 29:5-7; Lev. 8:7-9; 16:4). (1) Their kind

●2 And thou [l]shalt make holy garments for Aâr'on thy brother for glory and for beauty.
●3 And thou shalt speak unto all that are wise hearted, whom I have [m]filled with the spirit [n]of wisdom, that they may make Aâr'on's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.
●4 And these are the garments which they shall make; a breastplate, and an ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coat, a mitre, and a girdle: and they shall make holy garments for Aâr'on thy brother, and his sons, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

(2) The ephod and its girdle (Ex. 39:2-7)

●5 And they [a]shall take [b]gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen.
●6 ¶ And they shall make [c]the ephod of gold, of blue, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine twined linen, with [d]cunning work.
●7 It shall have the two shoulderpieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and so it shall be joined together.
●8 And the [e]curious girdle of the ephod, which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the work thereof; even of gold, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.
●9 And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and grave on them the names of the children of Iṣ'ra-el:
●10 Six of their names on one stone, and the other six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth.
●11 With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold.
●12 And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod for stones of memorial unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el: and Aâr'on shall bear their names before the LORD upon his two shoulders for a memorial.
●13 ¶ And thou shalt [f]make ouches of gold;
●14 And two chains of pure gold at the ends; of wreathen work shalt thou make them, and fasten the wreathen chains to the ouches.

(3) The breastplate (Ex. 39:8)

●15 ¶ And thou [g]shalt make [h]the breastplate of judgment with cunning work; after the work of the ephod thou shalt make it; of gold, of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine twined linen, shalt thou make it.
●16 Foursquare it shall be being [i]doubled; a [j]span shall be the length thereof, and a span shall be the breadth thereof.
●17 And thou shalt set in it settings of stones, even four rows of stones: [k]the first row shall be a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this shall be the first row.
●18 And the second row shall be an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.
●19 And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.
20 And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper: they shall be set in gold in their inclosings.
●21 And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet; every one with his name shall they be according to the twelve tribes.
●22 ¶ And thou shalt make upon the breastplate chains at the ends of wreathen work of pure gold.
●23 And thou shalt make upon a 15 commands - the ephod, p. 94

b For the cunning work the gold was made into fine wire which could be woven with the linen threads of blue, purple, scarlet, and white to make the pomegranate patterns on the hem-line of the ephod (v 5-6, 8, 33-35, 39; 39:22-26) c Heb. ephod, shoulder-piece; vestment. It was a garment worn over the shoulders and hanging down both front and back to the hips, being held together at the shoulders by the 2 shoulder-pieces (v 7, 12, 25). The ephod was the special garment of the high priest only, to which the breastplate of judgment was attached (v 15, 25-28). Below the arms and above the hips the 2 pieces were held together or kept in place by the curious girdle of the ephod (v 8). On the 2 shoulder-pieces were 2 onyx stones with the names of the 12 tribes engraved on them (v 9-11). The stones were set in gold encasements and fastened to the shoulder-pieces (v 11). The breastplate was put on the breast over the ephod. It had 12 stones on which were engraved the names of the 12 tribes of Israel, and was fastened to the shoulder-pieces of the ephod by gold chains (v 14, 25)
d Heb. chashab, plait; weave; fabricate (26:1,31; 28:6,15; 35:35; 36:35; 38:23; 39:3, 8). Not the same Heb. word as the one for cunning in 31:4; 35:33, 35, which is machashebeth, plan; plot; machine; device; make curious work. This latter word is also trans. curious (28:8, 27-28; 29:5; 35:32; 39:5, 20, 21; Lev. 8:7) and deals with working in metal and precious stones, while the other is used of cloth weaving and embroidery work e The curious girdle, like the ephod was to be made of gold, blue, purple, scarlet and white (fine linen) threads (v 8). It held the front and back pieces of the ephod together above the hips and below the breast-plate f This explains why the names of Israel were to be borne by Aaron on his 2 shoulder-pieces. He carried the burden and responsibility of all Israel upon his shoulders before God (v 12). If he should fail in his duty the whole nation would perish, for he alone made atonement for all their sins once a year (Lev. 16)
g Settings, encasements for jewels (v 17)
h 19 commands - breastplate, p. 118 i The breastplate, like the ephod and girdle, was made with threads of gold, blue, purple, scarlet and white (v 5-6, 8, 15). It was called the breastplate of judgment because Aaron bore the responsibility of representing Israel in life-or-death matters before the Lord, when he wore it (v 29-30). It was made double and foursquare with settings of precious stones (4 rows of 3 settings each) having the names of the 12 tribes of Israel engraved on them (v 16-21). The breastplate was fastened to the ephod as a permanent part of it (v 22-29)
j This made the pocket for the Urim and Thummin (v 16, 30) k A span is the distance which the expanded hand can reach - about 9 or 10 in. (v 16)
l See Order of stones and names of tribes, p. 118 n Here is a proof that men were filled with the Holy Spirit in O. T. days and had certain gifts of the Spirit. See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T. o This indicates that God enabled some men in a special way to make certain parts of the tabernacle, the garments, and the equipment of typical worship of God

●36 ¶ And thou [h]shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, [a]HOLINESS TO THE LORD.
●37 And thou shalt put it on a blue lace, that it may be upon the mitre; upon the forefront of the [b]mitre it shall be.
●38 And it shall be upon Aär'on's forehead, that Aär'on [c]may bear the iniquity of the holy things, which the children of Iş'ra-el shall hallow in all their holy gifts; and it shall be always upon his forehead, that they may be accepted before the LORD.

3 Garments for the priests (Ex. 39:27-29)

●39 ¶ And thou [d]shalt [e]embroider the [f]coat of fine linen, and thou shalt make the mitre of fine linen, and thou shalt make the [g]girdle of needlework.
●40 ¶ And for Aär'on's sons thou shalt make coats, and thou shalt make for them girdles, and bonnets shalt thou make for them, [h]for glory and for beauty.
●41 And thou shalt put them upon Aär'on thy brother, and his sons with him; and [i]shalt anoint them, and consecrate them, and sanctify them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.
●42 And thou shalt make them linen [f]breeches to cover their nakedness; from the loins even unto the thighs they shall reach:
●43 And they shall be upon Aär'on, and upon his sons, when they come in unto the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they come near unto the altar to minister in the holy place: that they bear not iniquity, and [k]die: it shall be a statute for ever unto him and his seed after him.

CHAPTER 29 79

4 Consecration of the priests (Ex. 29; Lev. 8:1-10:20).
(1) Their offerings (Lev. 8:1-5)

[a]AND this is the thing that thou [l]shalt do unto them to hallow them, to minister unto me in the priest's office: Take one young bullock, and two rams without blemish,
●2 And unleavened bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: of wheaten flour shalt thou make them.
●3 And thou shalt put them into one basket, and bring them in the basket, with the bullock and the two rams.

(2) Their cleansing (Lev. 8:6)

●4 And Aär'on and his sons thou [m]shalt bring unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shalt wash them with water.

(3) Clothing and anointing of the high priest (Ps. 133; Ex. 28:4; 31:10; Lev. 8:10, 20) a Heb. qodesh. Trans. sanctuary 56 times (30:13, 24; 36:1-6); consecrated (Josh. 6:19); dedicated 12 times (1 Ki. 7:51; 15:15); hallowed 9 times (Lev. 12:4; 19:8); holy 299 times (3:5; 12:16); and holiness 30 times. Here HOLINESS TO THE LORD was to be worn on the forehead of the high priest (28:36; 39:30). All Israel was holiness to the Lord (Jer. 2:2-3). See 18 ways "holiness" is used, p. 110 b Heb. mitchopheth, tiara; mitre; diadem; official turban of a king or high priest (28:4, 37-39; 29:6; 39:28, 31; Lev. 8:9; 16:4; Zech. 3:5). It was to be of fine linen (v 39) c To bear iniquity applies either to the one who suffered the penalty for his own sin (v 43; Lev. 5:1, 17; 17:16; 26:41), or to the one who bore the sins of others (v 38; Lev. 10:17; 16:22; Isa. 53:4-6; Mt. 8:17; 1 Pet. 2:24). The high priest was the atoning mediator between God and Israel, and consecrated the holy gifts that they might be accepted by the Lord (v 38, 43) d 10 commands - garments for priests:

1 Embroider Aaron's coat of fine linen (v 39)
2 Make his mitre of fine linen
3 Make his girdle of needlework
4 Make coats, girdles, and bonnets for all priests (v 40)
5 Make them for glory and beauty
6 Put them upon Aaron and his sons (v 41)
7 Anoint, consecrate, and sanctify them as ministers unto Me
8 Make them linen breeches reaching from the loins to the thighs to cover their nakedness (v 42)
9 Put them upon Aaron and sons when they minister in the tabernacle (v 43) their successors 10 This shall be a law for them and e Heb. shabats, to interweave threads into squares. The Berkeley version says, "Weave the tunic of checkered fine linen... also a sash of embroidered workmanship" f This was a long tunic, or cassock. Josephus says that it was worn next to the skin, that it reached to the feet, and that it had close fitting sleeves g The girdle was to be of needlework of various kinds. Josephus says the girdle was wound several times around the body and the end which hung down to the feet, was thrown over the shoulders when the priest was at work h See note m, 28:2
i See notes on Lev. 8 for anointing, consecration, and sanctification of priests j These were knee length trouser-like undergarments to hide the nakedness of priests. This was in contrast to heathen priests who often ministered in nakedness, as in the sacrifices of Bacchus. Cp. 20:26 k The penalty for ministering before God naked was death (v 42-43; 20:26)
l 4 commands - consecration offerings:
1 This you shall do to sanctify the priests: take 1 young bullock and 2 rams without blemish (v 1)
2 Take unleavened bread, unleavened cakes tempered with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil (v 2)
3 Make them of wheat flour
4 Put all of them in a basket, and bring them with the bullock and 2 rams to the tabernacle (v 3) m 2 commands - cleansing of priests:
1 Bring Aaron and his sons to the door of the tabernacle (v 4)
2 Wash them with water

Israel upon them
8 Put 6 names of the 12 tribes upon one, and 6 on the other according to birth (v 10-11)
9 Set the 2 stones in ouches (settings) of gold (v 11)
10 Put the 2 stones on the shoulders of the ephod for a memorial to Israel (v 12)
11 Aaron shall bear their names before the Lord for a memorial 12 Make 2 ouches of gold (v 13)
13 Make 2 chains of pure gold at the ends of the settings (v 14, 17)
14 Make them of wreathen work (v 14)
15 Fasten the chains to the settings

Ephods were also used in idolatrous worship, being imitations of the true ephod of Jehovah's worship (Judg. 8:27; 17:5; 18:14-20). David was girded with a linen ephod when he brought the ark to Jerusalem and danced before it (2 Sam. 6:14)

a 5 commands - sanctifying high priest:
1 Take (or bring) the garments (v 5)
2 Put the coat, robe of the ephod, the ephod, and breastplate on him
3 Gird him with the curious girdle
4 Put the mitre upon his head and the holy crown upon the mitre (v 6) 5 Take the anointing oil and pour it on his head to anoint him (v 7)

b Heb. mashach, to rub or anoint with oil; consecrate

22 examples of anointing:
1 Aaron to be high priest (28:41; 29:7; 30:30; 40:13; Ps. 133:2)
2 Aaron's sons to be priests (28:41; 29:29; 30:30; 40:15)

c 6 commands - sanctifying priests:
1 Bring forth Aaron's sons (v 8)

4 Put bonnets upon Aaron and sons (v
5 Give them the priest's office for a perpetual statute
6 Consecrate Aaron and his sons

d 33 perpetual statutes, p. 118

e 7 commands - sin-offering:
1 Bring a bullock before the tabernacle (v 10)
2 Have Aaron and sons put their hands on its head
3 Kill the bullock before the Lord by the door of tabernacle (v 11)
4 Take its blood and put it on the horns of the altar with a finger (v 12)
5 Pour out the rest of the blood beside the bottom of the altar
6 Take all the fat, the caul above the liver, the 2 kidneys, and the fat upon them, and burn upon the altar (v 13)
7 Take the flesh, skin, and dung, and burn them outside the camp (v 14)

f Putting hands on the bullock signified imparting sins on the sin-offering which was to be killed to make atonement (v 10). Here is a clear example of the great doctrine of substitution (Heb. 2:9-18; 1 Pet. 2:24)

g The flesh of the sin-offering was destroyed outside the camp, as a type of Christ paying the penalty for sin outside the camp (Heb. 13:11-13)

h 6 commands - peace offering:
1 Take 1 ram and have Aaron and sons put their hands upon its head (v 15)
2 Slay the ram, take the blood, and sprinkle it round about the altar (v 16)
3 Cut the ram in pieces (v 17)
4 Wash its inwards and its legs
5 Put the pieces in place again
6 Burn the whole ram upon the altar as a burnt sweet savour offering made by fire unto the Lord (v 18)

i 5 commands - consecration offering:
1 Take the other ram and have Aaron and sons put their hands on its head (v 19)
2 Kill the ram, take its blood, and put it upon the tip of the right ear, thumb of the right hand, and great toe of the right foot of Aaron and his sons (v 20) round about
3 Sprinkle the blood upon the altar
4 Take of the blood upon the altar, and the anointing oil, and sprinkle these upon Aaron and his sons, and upon their garments (v 21)
5 Take the fat and rump, the fat of inwards, the caul above the liver, the 2 kidneys and the fat on them, and the right shoulder and wave all these as a wave offering (v 22-28)

●5 And thou[a] shalt take the garments, and put upon Aâr'on the coat, and the robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breastplate, and gird him with the curious girdle of the ephod:
●6 And thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and put the holy crown upon the mitre.
●7 Then shalt thou take the anointing oil, and pour it upon his head, and[b] anoint him.

(4) Clothing of the priests (Lev. 8:13)

●8 And thou [c]shalt bring his sons, and put coats upon them.
●9 And thou shalt gird them with girdles, Aâr'on and his sons, and put the bonnets on them: and the priest's office shall be theirs for a[d] perpetual statute: and thou shalt consecrate Aâr'on and his sons.

(5) Their sin-offering (Lev. 8:14-17)

●10 And thou [e]shalt cause a bullock to be brought before the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aâr'on and his sons shall [f]put their hands upon the head of the bullock.
●11 And thou shalt kill the bullock before the LORD, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
●12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the bullock, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and pour all the blood beside the bottom of the altar.
●13 And thou shalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul that is above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and burn them upon the altar.
●14 But the flesh of the bullock, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire[g] without the camp: it is a sin offering.

(6) Their peace offering (Lev. 8:18-21)

●15 ¶ Thou[h] shalt also take one ram; and Aâr'on and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
●16 And thou shalt slay the ram, and thou shalt take his blood, and sprinkle it round about upon the altar.
●17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them unto his pieces, and unto his head.
●18 And thou shalt burn the whole ram upon the altar: it is a burnt offering unto the LORD: it is a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

(7) Their consecration offering (Lev. 8:22-26)

●19 ¶ And thou [i]shalt take the other ram; and Aâr'on and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood, and put it upon the tip of the [j]right ear of Aâr'on, and upon the [k]tip of the right ear of his sons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.
●21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is [l]upon the altar, and of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it [m]upon Aâr'on, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon the garments of his sons with him: and he shall be [n]hallowed, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

(8) Their wave and heave offerings (Lev. 2:10; 7:28; 8:27, 31; Num. 15:17-21)

●22 Also thou [o]shalt take of the ram the fat and the [p]rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the [q]caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder; for it is a ram of consecration:
●23 And [r]one loaf of bread, and one cake of oiled bread, and one wafer out of the basket of the unleavened bread that is before the LORD:
●24 And thou shalt put all in the hands of Aâr'on, and in the hands of his sons and shalt wave them for a [s]wave offering before the LORD.
●25 And thou shalt receive them of their hands, and [t]burn them upon the altar for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour before the LORD: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
●26 And thou shalt take the breast of the ram of Aâr'on's consecration, and wave it for a wave offering before the LORD: and it shall be thy part.
●27 And thou shalt [u]sanctify the breast of the wave offering, and the shoulder of the heave offering, which is waved, and which is heaved up, of the ram of the consecration, even of [v]that which is for Aâr'on, and of that which is for his sons:
●28 And it shall be Aâr'on's and his sons' by a statute for ever from the children of Iṣ'ra-el: for it is an [w]heave offering: and it shall be an heave offering from the children of Iṣ'ra-el [x]of the sacrifice of their peace offerings, even their heave offering unto the LORD.

(9) Final consecration rites

●29 ¶ And the holy garments of Aâr'on [y]shall be his sons' after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrated in them.
●30 And that son that is priest in his stead shall put them [z]on seven days, when he cometh into the tabernacle of the congregation to minister in the holy place.
●31 ¶ And thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in [aa]the holy place.
●32 And Aâr'on and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

a See Ears, hands, and feet, p. 118 b Placing the blood upon the tips of ears and on thumbs and toes is mentioned 8 times (v 20; Lev. 8:23-24; 14:14, 17, 25, 28). Cp. Lk. 16:24 c The blood of sacrifices was held in brass vessels made for this purpose. The anointing oil was kept in vessels in the court of the tabernacle d The blood and oil were sprinkled upon both Aaron and his sons, as well as upon their garments. Cp. Ps. 133:2. They had to be washed before and after such ritual (30:18-21; Num. 19:21). The blood on their bodies and garments served to make the awfulness of sin and its penalty more vivid. It was a visible evidence that life had been taken away and God's law vindicated. Every sacrifice testified of the death of an innocent substitute, the sinfulness of the offerer, the surrender of the guilty to God and His service, and deep humility and gratefulness to the victim which became the substitute

f 8 commands - wave offerings, p. 119
g Heb. alyah, the fat tail of oriental sheep (29:22; Lev. 3:9; 7:3; 8:25; 9:19). It was considered a great delicacy. This part of the broad-tailed sheep weighed from 15 to 40 lbs. Some owners are said to have harnessed small carts to sheep which gave support to the tail and preserved the wool from being torn by dragging on the ground, rocks and bushes h Heb. yotbereth, the lobe or flap of the liver. It was part of the sacrifice that was to be burned on the altar (29:13, 22; Lev. 3:4, 10, 15; 4:9; 7:4; 8:16, 25; 9:10, 19). Cp. Hos. 13:8 where the Heb. is seghor, the enclosure or covering of the heart, and could mean the hardening of the heart i The bread of different kinds was intended to show gratefulness for God's blessings of abundant supply for daily needs (v 23). All the parts of the ram and the different breads were waved and heaved before God to acknowledge Him. This is the motive of all true worship
j See notes on Lev. 7:30-34 k All sacrifices burned upon the altar or without the camp were offerings made by fire to Jehovah. Some were of animals and others of flour and cooked articles. Of these, some were called sweet savour offerings (see notes on Lev. 1-7)
l Set apart, which is the true meaning of sanctification. See Hallowed, p. 118
m The breast and shoulder that were not burned were for Aaron and his sons as their due of all such offerings made from Israel (v 26-28) p 12 commands - final consecration rites:

1 Use the holy garments of Aaron when consecrating his successors (v 29)
2 Aaron's successors shall put on the holy garments for 7 days when ministering in the holy place (v 30; Lev. 8:33)
3 Take the ram of consecration and boil his flesh in the holy place (v 31)
4 Aaron and sons shall eat the ram with the bread in the basket by the door of the tabernacle (v 32)
5 They shall eat those things wherewith the atonement was made, as a symbol of their consecration and sanctification (setting apart) for divine service (v 33)
6 No stranger shall eat of the holy things of consecration
7 Eat nothing that remains overnight of the holy things; burn it with fire (v 34)
8 Take 7 days to consecrate Aaron and his sons, as commanded (v 35)
9 Offer a bullock every day for a sin offering of atonement (v 36)
10 Cleanse the altar daily after every sacrifice of atonement
11 Anoint the altar daily after it has been cleansed of the blood of atonement 12 Sanctify it (set it apart) 7 days by blood of atonement and by anointing it with oil daily (v 36-37)

b Set apart or consecrate (note e, v 21)

2 Sacrifice one lamb in the morning and the other in the evening (v 39)
3 With the morning lamb offer 1/2 gallon of flour, mixed with 1 1/2 quarts of beaten oil and 1 1/2 quarts of wine for a drink offering (v 40; Num. 28:5; 29:4)
4 Offer the same amounts of flour, oil, and wine for the evening lamb as offered in the morning (v 41)
5 This shall be a continual burnt offering daily forever (v 42)
i Considering that there were 1,718 years from the giving of this law to the destruction of Jerusalem, 70 A. D. (excluding the 70 years captivity) or a period of 627,499 days, there would be 1,254,998 lambs sacrificed, counting 2 each day. Priced at $20.00 each these would be valued at $25,099,960.00 today. Later laws required 2 additional lambs, etc. to be offered each weekly sabbath. Total for these would be $4,448,932.80 (note l, below)

k A hin was 6 quarts. 3 quarts or 1/2 hin (allowing 1/4 for each of the 2 lambs) used every day in the continual burnt offerings (v 42) for the 627,499-day period (note i, above) would amount to 1,882,497 quarts of oil. At $1.40 a quart the total cost today would be $2,635,495.80

3 That God dwelled among them

●34 And if ought of the flesh of the consecrations, or of the bread, remain unto the morning, then thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, because it is holy.
●35 And thus shalt thou do unto Aär'on, and to his sons, according to all things which I have commanded thee: [c]seven days shalt thou consecrate them.
●36 And thou shalt offer every day a bullock for a sin offering for [d]atonement: and thou shalt cleanse [e]the altar, when thou hast made an atonement for it, and thou shalt anoint it, to sanctify it.

VIII Further commands to make the tabernacle and furniture (Ex. 30:1-31:11. Cp. Ex. 25:1-27:21; Heb. 9:1-28). 1 The altar of incense (Ex. 37:25)

●AND thou [a]shalt make an altar to burn incense upon: of shittim wood shalt thou make it.
●2 A cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof; [b]foursquare shall it be: and two cubits shall be the height thereof: the horns thereof shall be of the same.
●3 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the top thereof, and the sides thereof round about, and the horns thereof; and thou shalt make unto it a crown of gold round about.
●4 And two golden rings shalt thou make to it under the crown of it, by the two corners thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make it; and they shall be for places for the staves to bear it withal.
●5 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.
●6 And thou shalt put it before the veil that is by the ark of the testimony, before the mercy seat that is over the testimony, where I will meet with thee.
●7 And Aär'on shall burn thereon sweet incense every morning: when he dresseth the lamps, he shall burn incense upon it.
●8 And when Aär'on lighteth the lamps at even, he shall burn incense upon it, a perpetual incense before the LORD throughout your generations.
●9 Ye shall offer no [c]strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor meat offering; neither shall ye pour drink offering thereon.
●10 And Aär'on shall make an atonement upon the horns of it once [d]in a year with the blood of the sin offering of atonements: once in the year shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations: it is most holy unto the LORD.

2 Atonement memorial money

■11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şes, saying,
●12 When thou takest the sum of the children of Iş'ra-el after their number, then [e]shall they give every man a [f]ransom for his soul unto the LORD, when thou numberest them; [g]that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them.
●13 This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, [h]half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary: (a shekel is twenty gerahs:) an half shekel shall be the offering of the LORD.
●14 Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from [i]twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the LORD.
●15 The [j]rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than half a shekel, a 15 commands - altar of incense:

1 Make an altar to burn incense upon (v 1)
2 Make it of shittim wood (v 1)
3 Make it 25 in. square (v 2)
4 Height: 4 ft. 2 in.
5 Make 4 horns of the same size and shape for the 4 corners
6 Overlay it with pure gold - the top, sides, and horns (v 3)
7 Make a crown of gold round it
8 Make 4 gold rings for the 4 corners to be placed under the crown for staves to carry it (v 4)
9 Make 2 staves of shittim wood (v 5)
10 Overlay them with gold
11 Put the altar before the vail in the holy place opposite the ark of the testimony which is on the other side of the vail (v 6)
12 Aaron shall burn sweet incense upon it every morning and evening when he prepares the lamps (v 7-8)
13 The incense shall burn perpetually like the lamps, day and night
14 Do not offer strange incense, any burnt sacrifice, or meat offering upon it; and do not pour any drink offering upon it (v 9)
15 Aaron shall make an atonement upon its 4 horns once a year with the blood of the sin offering (v 10)
b The golden altar was square, like the brazen altar (v 2). Being a cubit (25 in.) it was only 2 ft. 1 in. square while the brazen altar was 10 ft. 5 in. square (27:1). The golden altar was only 4 ft. 2 in. high, whereas the brazen altar was 6 ft. 3 in. high. The horns were the same in number and shape as on the brazen altar (v 3; 27:2). Unlike the larger altar which was covered with brass, the one on which incense was burned was covered with gold. Nothing is said here of the vessels which held the incense but we know there were some, and no doubt they were made of gold as all the other vessels and the pieces of furniture in the holy and most holy places (25:11-13, 17-18, 24-29, 31, 36-39). The altar of sacrifice, the laver, and all vessels of the court outside the tabernacle were of brass (27:2-6; 30:17-21; 38:8) c Strange incense would be any kind that was not like that commanded to be burned on this altar (v 9, 34-38). In Lev. 10:1; 16:12-13; Num. 16:6-7, 17-18, 35-47 we read of incense being offered before God, in a censer - a bowl-shaped vessel. Burning incense was one of the most prominent rituals in divine worship which foreshadowed things to come. Heathen copied from this and many references speak of burning incense to idols (1 Ki. 11:8; 12:33; 13:1-2; 22:43; 2 Ki. 12:3; 14:4; 15:4, 35; 16:4; 17:11; 18:4; 22:17; 23:5-8; 2 Chr. 25:14; 28:3-4, 25; 34:25; Jer. 1:16; 7:9, 11; 12-17; 18:15; 19:4, 13; 32:29; Hos. 2:13; 4:13; 11:2). Only the priests were to offer incense (2 Chr. 26:16-19). Smoke of sacrifices, and prayers are considered incense (Ps. 66:15; 141:2; Rev. 5:8; 8:3-4), but the kind offered daily to God was sweet incense (30:7-8, 34-38). Offering of incense daily was to be done perpetually (30:6-8). It is offered in heaven (Rev. 8:3-4) d This was on the great day of atonement (v 10; Lev. 16:16-18, 27-34; Num. 29:7)
e 5 commands - atonement money:
1 Charge every man a ransom (v 12)
2 When he registers each shall give 32¢ as an offering to God (v 13)
3 Every man 20-years-old and older shall pay the registration tax (v 14)
4 The rich shall not give more; the poor shall not give less than 32¢ (v 15)
5 Use the money in the tabernacle service (v 16)
f The money was a special tax of registration in Israel as a memorial or reminder of God's provision of redemption and of their obligation under the terms of the Mosaic covenant (v 16)
g Here God promised freedom from plague when the men were numbered, proving that it had to do only with a token or memorial of God's protection and blessing in Israel
h A shekel was 64¢, making the tax 32¢ according to our money i This was the age for military service, so the memorial money could be considered a registration tax (v 15-16; 38:26; Num. 1:3, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 45; 14:29; 26:2, 4; 32:11)
j This placed every man in Israel on an equal footing in relation to God and obligation to the law a The money did not actually redeem the soul. Not even the blood of bulls and other animals did this (Heb. 10:4; 1 Pet. 1:18-23), but rather faith in the blood of the coming Redeemer of which the blood of sacrifices was a type. See note c, below for meaning of soul. The equal amount as payment of registration tax, for rich and poor alike only indicated that, in matters of atonement, there is no difference among men (Acts 10:34-35; Rom. 3:22-25; 10:9-14)

b The half shekel was no doubt silver - the same metal used in the foundation bases and the post rods of the outer court (26:19, 21, 25, 32; 27:10-11, 17; 38:25-28)

c The Heb. word nephesh trans. soul and souls (v 12, 15-16) should be trans. life and lives because the subject is saving the lives from death in a plague (v 15). The half shekel was a token of obedience and recognition of God's protection from plague and death because of obedience to God and the law. If disobedience to the law and God was manifest many plagues were pronounced upon the people (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). Money had nothing to do with salvation of the soul from sin or making atonement for forgiveness of sins, so the ransom and atonement here concern physical, not spiritual life. The blood alone makes atonement for the soul and its sin (Lev. 17:11; Mt. 26:28; Heb. 9:11-28; 10:1-23; 1 Jn. 1:7). God again emphasized the close relationship of sin and sickness showing obedience, forgiveness, and healing to be His complete remedy for such (15:26; Lev. 26; Dt. 7:12-15; 28:1-68; Ps. 91; 103:3; Pr. 3:5-8; Isa. 6:10; 53:1-5; 58:5-14; Mt. 8:17; Jn. 10:10; 1 Pet. 2:24; Jas. 5:14, note) d 5 commands - the laver of brass:

1 Make a laver and its base of brass (v 18) and the brazen altar
2 Put it between the tabernacle door
3 Put water in it so Aaron and his sons can wash their hands and feet when they minister in the tabernacle and offer sacrifices (v 19-20)
4 If they fail to wash their hands and feet while ministering they shall die (v 20-21) all priests (v 21) 5 This shall be a statute forever for e See The laver of brass, p. 119

f 5 commands - holy anointing oil:
1 Make holy anointing oil of: pure myrrh, 19 1/2 lbs., sweet cinnamon, 9 3/4 lbs., sweet calamus, 9 3/4 lbs., cassia, 19 1/2 lbs. and olive oil, 6 qts. (v 22-25)
2 Anoint the tabernacle, ark, table of showbread and its vessels, the candlestick and its vessels, altar of incense, the brazen altar and its vessels, the laver and its foot, and sanctify them to be most holy (v 26-29)
3 Anoint Aaron and sons and consecrate them to be ministers (v 30)
4 Speak to Israel that the holy anointing oil be not poured upon the flesh of any man (other than priests, v 30; Ps. 133:2), and that no man make any oil like it to be used in Israel (v 31-32)
5 Whoever makes any like it or puts it on a stranger shall die (v 33)

g The best spices

h Myrrh is a gum which comes from the stem of a low, thorny, ragged tree growing in Arabia and East Africa. The word pure here means free flowing. The best exudes spontaneously from the bark while the inferior comes more abundantly by splitting the bark. See note h, Jn. 19:39

i Considering that a shekel weight was 224 grains, 500 shekels would be 112,000 grains. There being 5, 760 grains to a troy and the apothecaries' weight per pound, this would make 500 shekels come to about 19 1/2 lbs. That we must take the apothecaries' weight of 12 ounces per pound instead of the 16 ounces of the avoirdupois weight seems clear from v 25, 35; 37:29; 2 Chr. 16:14; Eccl. 10:1

j Cinnamon comes from a tree growing in Ceylon and islands of the Indian Ocean. It is the dried inner rind of the tree (v 23; Pr. 7:17; Song 4:14; Rev. 18:13)

k 250 shekels - 9 3/4 lbs. (note i, above)

The 68 1/2 lbs. of spices and 6 quarts of olive oil were combined in some way to make a texture thin enough to pour (v 32; Ps. 133:2). The work was entrusted to Bezaleel (37:1, 29), then to Eleazar (Num. 4:16), and later to the when they give an offering unto the LORD, [a]to make an atonement for your souls.

●16 And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and shalt [k]appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el before the LORD, to make an atonement for your [a]souls.

3 Laver of brass (Ex. 38:8)

■17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●18 Thou [d]shalt also make [e]a laver of brass, and his foot also of brass, to wash withal: and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein.
●19 For Aâr'on and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet thereat:
●20 When they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they die not; or when they come near to the altar to minister, to burn offering made by fire unto the LORD:
●21 So they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they die not: and it shall be a statute for ever to them, even to him and to his seed throughout their generations.

4 Holy anointing oil (Ex. 27:29)

■22 ¶ Moreover the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●23 [f]Take thou also unto thee [g]principal spices, of pure [h]myrrh five [i]hundred shekels, and of sweet [j]cinnamon half so much, even [k]two hundred and fifty shekels, and of [l]sweet calamus two hundred and fifty shekels,
●24 And of [m]cassia five hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, and of oil olive [n]an hin:
●25 And thou shalt make it an oil of [o]holy ointment, an ointment compound after the art of the apothecary: it shall be an holy anointing oil.
●26 And thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the testimony, ●27 And the table and all his vessels, and the candlestick and his vessels, and the altar of incense, ●28 And the altar of burnt offering with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot.
●29 And thou shalt sanctify them, that they may be most holy: whatsoever toucheth them shall be holy.
●30 And thou shalt anoint Aâr'on and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.
●31 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, This shall be an holy anointing oil unto me throughout your generations.
●32 Upon man's flesh shall it not be poured, neither shall ye make any other like it, after the composition of it: it is holy, and it shall be holy unto you.
●33 Whosoever compoundeth any like it, or whosoever putteth any of it upon a stranger, shall even be cut off from his people.

5 Holy incense (Ex. 37:29)

■34 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [a]Take unto thee sweet spices, [b]stacte, and [c]onycha, and galbanum; these sweet spices with [d]pure frankincense: of each shall there be a [e]like weight:
●35 And thou shalt make it [f]a perfume, a confection after the art of the apothecary, [g]tempered together, pure and holy:
●36 And thou shalt beat some of it very small, and put of it before the testimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, where I will meet with thee: it shall be unto you most holy.
●37 And as for the perfume which thou shalt make, ye shall not make to yourselves according to the composition thereof: it shall be unto thee holy for the LORD.
●38 Whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto, shall even be cut off from his people

81 CHAPTER 31

6 The anointed workers (Ex. 35:30; 38:22)

[1]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
2 See, [j]I have called by name Bĕ-ṣăl'e-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of [j]Hûr, of the tribe of Jū'dah:
3 And I have [k]filled him with the spirit of God, in [l]wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship,
4 To devise cunning works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass,
5 And in cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of timber, to work in all manner of workmanship.
6 And I, behold, I have given with him Ā-hō'li-ăb, the son of Ā-his'a-măch, of the tribe of Dăn: and in the hearts of all that are wise hearted I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee;

7 Sum of the work commanded

●7 The tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the tabernacle,
●8 And the table and his furniture, and the pure candlestick [m]with all his furniture, and the altar of incense, ●9 And the altar of burnt offering with all his furniture, and the laver and his foot,
●10 And the cloths of service, and the holy garments for Aâr'on the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office, ●11 And the anointing oil, and sweet incense for the holy place: according to all that I have commanded thee shall a 4 commands - holy incense:

1 Take 4 sweet spices: stacte, onycha, galbanum, and pure frankincense, of equal weight to make incense or holy perfume (v 34-35)
2 Beat some of it very small and put on the altar of incense before the ark of the testimony (v 36)
3 Do not make any like it for your own use (v 37)
4 Anyone making any like it for his own use shall die (v 38)

b Stacte is supposed to be the gum of the storax tree found in the East (v 34)

c Onycha comes from a sweet smelling shell found on the shores of the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean. It is said to increase the fragrance of other perfumes, and to be the basis of perfumes made in the East Indies (v 34)

d Galbanum is the juice of a shrub growing in Arabia, Persia, India, Africa (v 34)

e Frankincense is the most important of the aromatic gums and is regarded by itself as a precious perfume (v 34; Song 3:6; 4:6, 14). The other three spices are mentioned only here, but the frankincense is mentioned 17 times, in some Jewish rituals it was used alone (Lev. 2:1-2, 15-16; 6:15; 24:7; Num. 5:15; 1 Chr. 9:29; Neh. 13:5, 9). It was one of the gifts of the wise men to Jesus (Mt. 2:11), and is named as one of the last-day articles of commerce in future Babylon (Rev. 18:13). It comes from a tree that grows abundantly in India (Song 4:14). The word pure used here refers to the free flowing and liberal giving forth of its odors

f The exact weight of materials used in each making is not given. All we know is that the ingredients were of equal weight and measure (v 34)

g Heb. getoreth, a fumigation. It is trans. perfume (v 35, 37; Pr. 27:9) and incense 51 times (25:6). See note c, 30:9

h This means to beat until there was one mass thoroughly mixed together

i 4 acts of God:
1 I have called Bezaleel (v 2)
2 I have filled him with the Spirit of God in wisdom, understanding, knowledge, all manner of workmanship (v 3-5) assist him (v 6)
3 I have given Aholiab wisdom to 4 I have given wisdom to all that are wise hearted to help in the work (v 6)

j This was the Hur of 17:10-12; 24:14. Josephus says he was the husband of Miriam and brother-in-law of Moses k See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.

l Here we have a divine comment on how the workers of the tabernacle received gifts to do all the fine workmanship necessary to construct such a building (v 3-6; 28:3; 35:31). It seems that Bezaleel had charge of the metal, stone, wood, and apothecary work (v 1-5; 37:1, 29), and Aholiab had charge of the textile work (v 6; 35:35; 38:23) sons of the priests (1 Chr. 9:30). The fragrance no doubt counteracted the stench of the butchering, burning, and cooking of animals in the tabernacle court. The ointment was to be used freely in every generation (v 31), but not upon anyone who was not a priest (v 32; 29:7, 21; Lev. 10:7). Even anyone who compounded any like it to use privately or sell to others was to be given the death sentence (v 33)

m Sweet calamus is a fragrant cane whose root is highly prized as a spice. It grows in Arabia and India (v 23; Song 4:14; Ezek. 27:19) n Cassia is the aromatic bark of a shrub resembling the cinnamon. It grows in various parts of the East (v 24; Ps. 45:8; Ezek. 27:19). The fact that cassia and the other spices were commanded to be used proves the Israelites had contact with trading caravans which visited Egypt, Syria, and Palestine

n An hin was 6 quarts o The holy ointment was compounded after the art of the apothecary (v 25, 35; 37:29; 2 Chr. 16:14; Eccl. 10:1).

The word apothecary was applied to one who compounded perfumes. His work was nothing like that of the druggist or pharmacist as we know such today in our modern drug stores they do.

IX Laws and dealings of God (Ex. 31:12-35:3). 1 Weekly sabbath a sign of the Mosaic Covenant

●12 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
●13 [c]Speak thou also unto [b]the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, Verily [c]my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is [d]a sign between me and you throughout your generations; [e]that ye may know that I am the LORD that doth sanctify you.
●14 Ye shall [f]keep the sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you: [g]every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
●15 Six days may work be done; but in the [h]seventh is the sabbath of rest, holy to the LORD: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death.
●16 Wherefore the children of Iş'ra-el shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant.
●17 It is a sign between me and the children of Iş'ra-el [i]for ever: for in six days the LORD [j]made heaven and earth, and [k]on the seventh day he rested, and [l]was refreshed.

2 Commandments given to Moses, fulfilling Ex. 24:12

18 ¶ And he gave unto Mō'şeş, [m]when he had made an end of communing with him upon mount Si'nāi, [n]two tables of testimony, tables of stone, written with the [o]finger of God.

82 CHAPTER 32

3 The covenant broken: sixth of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

AND [p]when the [q]people saw that Mō'şeş delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aär'on, and said unto him, [r]Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; [s]for as for this Mō'şeş, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gyp't, [t]we wot not what is become of him.
2 And Aär'on said unto them, Break off the [u]golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, [v]of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.
3 And all the people brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto Aär'on.
4 And [w]he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf: and they said, These be thy [x]gods, O Iş'ra-el, [y]which brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gyp't.
5 And when Aär'on saw it, he built an altar before it; and Aär'on made proclamation, and said, [z]To morrow is a feast to the [a]LORD.
6 And they rose up [b]early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to [c]play.

4 First of 4 times God determines to destroy Israel (Num. 14:11; 16:20, 44)

●7 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [d]Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Ē'gyp't, have [e]corrupted themselves:
8 They have [f]turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Iş'ra-el, which have brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gyp't.
●9 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people:
10 Now therefore [g]let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and [h]that I may consume them: [i]and I will make of thee a great nation.

5 First intercession of Moses (Ex. 32:30; 33:12; 34:8; Num. 14:13; 16:22)

11 And Mō'şeş besought the LORD his God, and said, [j]LORD, why doth [k]thy wrath wax hot against [l]thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Ē'gyp't with great power, and with a mighty hand?
12 [m]Wherefore should the Ē-gyp'tians speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people.
●13 Remember Ā'brā-hām, Ī'saac, and Iş'ra-el, thy servants, to whom thou [n]swarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them, [o]I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall [p]inherit it for ever.
14 And the LORD [q]repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people.

6 Sixth descent of Moses (Ex. 19:21, refs.)

15 ¶ And Mō'şeş turned, [r]and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other were they written.
16 And the tables were the work of God, and the [s]writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables.
17 And when Jŏsh'u-ā heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Mō'şeş, There is a noise of war in the camp.
18 And he said, It is not the voice of them that shout for mastery, neither is it the voice l What a revealing statement of God! Cp. v 17 with 23:12; 2 Sam. 16:14 m This was at the end of 40 days of fasting on Sinai (24:12-18; Dt. 9:9-18), in these 40 days he had received all the revelation concerning the tabernacle (25:1-27:21; 30:1-21), the priesthood, garments, and services (28:1-29:46), the anointing oil and incense (30:22-38), the workmen (31:1-11), and the new instructions about the sabbath (31:12-18). Moses was ready to make his 6th descent from the mount (note b, 19:2) n God had told Moses (in 24:12) to come up into the mount to receive the tables of stone o This should be taken as literally as Dan. 5:5, 24; Jn. 8:6. There is no proof that it is figurative of the power of God as in 8:19; Lk. 11:20. It is plainly stated that the writing was done with the finger of God, and since He does have hands and fingers it should be understood thus (24:12; 31:18; 32:14-15; 34:27-28; Dt. 5:22; 9:10; 2 Cor. 3:6) p How long it was, after Moses went up into the mount, that this took place is not stated, but it must have been about the 38th or 39th day of the 40 which he spent in the mount. In 32:5 it is stated that tomorrow would be the feast. This was when they had finished the golden calf. Such a calf could be molded and engraved in a day with materials already gathered and ready. The day of the feast was the day Moses came down (32:5-28)

q The people came in a bitter and seditious spirit determined to have a god made for them, and to return to Egypt (v 1, 22; Acts 7:39-40). Unfortunately they had a leader in Aaron, in the absence of Moses, who had no back-bone. He was swayed by the people and went along with them in their plan to return to Egypt (v 1-6)
r This was in direct transgression of the 1st and 2nd commandment and a deliberate breaking of their own vow to obey God and the law (20:3-6; 24:3, 7) s This language was in great contempt of Moses, the man who had saved the nation from slavery and proved in many ways the supernatural power of their God who had forbidden such action (20:3-6). Moses referred to this act of apostasy in Dt. 9:8-21, 25-29; 10:1-11
t Perhaps some did think that Moses had been consumed by the fire which enveloped the mount in those days (19:16-18; 24:16-18) u This was the first time a collection of earrings and other jewelry was given (v 2-6). The next time it was to make the tabernacle (35:22-29)
v Hebrew and Oriental men as well as women wore earrings, nose rings, finger rings, gold bracelets, chains, and other ornaments, while among Romans, Greeks, and Western people in general only the women were so adorned (32:2-3; 35:22; Gen. 24:22, 30, 47; 35:4; 41:42; Num. 31:50; Judg. 8:24-26; Job 42:11; Pr. 1:9; 25:12; Esther 3:10-12; 8:1-10; Song 1:10; 3:15; 4:9; 5:14; Isa. 3:19-21; Ezek. 16:11-12; Dan. 5:7, 16, 29; Lk. 15:22; Jas. 2:2). Chains were even worn by camels (Judg. 8:26)
w 14 steps in Aaron's backsliding, p. 119 x The idol made was the same as the chief Egyptian god, a young bull called Apis, which was worshipped at Memphis near the land of Gosben. Israel worshipped idols in Egypt (Josh. 24:14; Ezek. 20:8; 23:3-8)
y Heb. Elohim, proving that Aaron and the backsliders in Israel called an idol by the same name Jehovah is called by 2,700 times in Scripture (v 1,4,8,23,31) z What a great fall in a short time - to credit something they had made with their own hands with producing the miracles God had wrought to bring them out of Egypt!
a Aaron not only called his idol Elohim (v 4), but here he called it Jehovah (v 5)
b 6 religious activities of Israel, p. 119
c Idolatrous festivities, p. 119
d Notice that God did not tell Moses of the people's plot to break the law; instead He waited to see how far the people would go before telling him of their doings (v 7)
e 7 accusations of God: the people have 1 Corrupted themselves (v 7)
2 Turned aside quickly (v 8)
3 Made a molten image
4 Worshipped it
5 Sacrificed to it
6 Claimed it to be the god that led them out of Egypt
7 Been stiffnecked (v 9)
f This is a very clear example of backsliding and falling from God and grace (v 8), and of having one's name blotted out of the book of life (v 32-33). See p. 284 of N. T. and p. 153 g An instance of God seeking to ward off being persuaded to show mercy in time of judgment (v 10). At this point Moses did not know the sin of Israel as God did. When he came to the camp and found out how serious it really was he, himself took action and championed God's justice in the matter and executed 3,000 (v 26-28)
h This is proof that God will cut off any people who return to sin and transgress against Him (v 10) i What an opportunity for Moses, if he had been a selfish man! This proves that God's covenants with Israel were conditional and based upon obedience j Questions 53-54, Next, v 21 k Generally we think of God as seeking to calm man, but here it was man seeking to calm the hot anger of God (v 11, Cp. Jonah 4:1-9). God is slow to anger (Ps. 103:9; 145:8), so He must have been provoked many times up to this point (Dt. 4:25; 9:18; 31:29; 32:16, 21, Cp. Num. 14:22). See Anger in Index l Here Moses called them God's people whom He had brought out of Egypt, but in verse 7 God called them Moses' people whom he had brought out. With neither one claiming them they were at this time orphans indeed m 2fold argument of Moses:
1 What the Egyptians will say (v 12). Enemies in all ages could have used the same argument against God
2 What the friends of God would think and what would happen to the covenants made with them (v 13)
This kind of argument persuaded God to change His mind and have mercy again (v 14)

2 All this land I will give your seed (Gen. 12:7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 26:3-4; 28:3-4, 13-15; 35:11-12)

a When Moses was not angry he could see only the hot anger of God, and sought to appease it (v 11), but when he also became angry over the same thing he saw God's justice and slew 3,000 people (v 19-28)

b Moses was beside himself when he saw the idolatrous worship, and acted the way God wanted to, and did what He would have done if it had not been for the pleading of Moses (v 10) c The calf was melted, beaten to thin plates, and then ground to powder. The gold dust on the water could easily float and be swallowed with water (v 20; Dt. 9:21)

d Question 55. Next, v 26. Moses saw another trait in Aaron, a weakness as a ruler that showed up only under pressure. He was here charged with full responsibility of the sin of Israel, because if he had been firm it never would have happened (v 21). He laid the blame on the wicked and rebellious spirit of the people, claiming that he was obliged to give in to their desires (v 22-23). The most ridiculous part of Aaron's excuse was his claim that a calf automatically and unexpectedly came out of the fire (v 24) e Heb, para, to loosen; expose; uncover (v 25; 2 Chr. 28:19). It is also trans. bare (Lev. 13:45); avenging (Judg. 5:2); avail (Pr. 4:15); nought (Pr. 1:25); perish (Pr. 29:18); refuse (Pr. 8:33); refuseth (Pr. 13:18; 15:32); and uncover (Lev. 10:6; 21:10; Num. 5:18). It means that Aaron caused Israel to be exposed to the judgments of God and the vengeance of their enemies without God's protection. It could also refer to the nakedness of the people in their idolatrous and immoral orgies in worship to their idol

g The Levites quickly responded to the call of Moses to be on the Lord's side and slay all, even closest relatives, who continued to rebel and refused to come back on God's side, 3,000 held out in rebellion and were slain (v 26-28)

h This 3-fold command - take your swords, go, and slay - was, of course, to those on the Lord's side. The command to slay applied only to those who continued in stubbornness and held out against Moses i Heb. yad mala, hands full. It really means fill your hands. Various versions read differently - "Be installed as priests to the Eternal this day... Your hands today have worked for Jehovah; thus each man has gained a blessing through his son, and through his brother... You are installed today for the Lord, because each one was against his son and against his brother... Consecrate your hand today to Jehovah... Fill your hands today for the Lord, every one with his son or with his brother that a blessing may be bestowed upon you." According to these renderings the thought is that of filling their hands with the consecration offerings and being consecrated as priests that day (to fulfil Ex. 29:1-35), or of filling their hands with swords to slay sons and brothers who continued in rebellion

t This was while God was still undecided regarding what action to take. Moses having persuaded Him against immediate destruction of Israel (32:7-14). God's anger was still hot over their sin, and they were put on probation until they should see what He would finally do with them (v 5)

u No man dared put on his ornaments while it was undecided by God as to their punishment (v 4-6). It was the custom in those days for both men and women to wear ornaments (32:3-4, 24; 35:22)

v This was not the tabernacle of 25:1-27:21; 36:1-40:38, for that one was not yet made. It must have been the temporary tent of the assembly used for sacrifices until the other one was built w Putting the tent of worship outside the camp indicated the seriousness of sin and the uncertainty of Israel's relationship with God who was ready to destroy them. God had been dwelling in the midst of Israel, but now it was uncertain whether He would continue in their midst, so He had His tent moved from their camp (v 3-11). Cp. Heb. 13:13. The rabbins say the tent was removed 2,000 cubits, about 4/5 of a mile away of them that cry for being overcome: but the noise of them that sing do I hear.

7 Sin discovered: tables broken by Moses in anger (Dt. 9:8)

19 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that he saw the calf, and the dancing: and Mō'şeş [e]anger waxed hot, and he [b]cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the mount.

8 First punishment of Israel for idolatry at Sinai (v 25, 33; Dt. 9:21)

20 And he took the calf which they had made, and [c]burnt it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Iş'ra-el drink of it.

9 Aaron's excuse: golden calf came spontaneously

21 And Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, [d]What did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sin upon them?

22 And Aâr'on said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot: thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief.

23 For they said unto me, Make us gods, which shall go before us: for as for this Mō'şeş, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, we wot not what is become of him.

24 And I said unto them, Whosoever hath any gold, let them break it off. So they gave it me: then I cast it into the fire, and there came out this calf.

10 Second punishment of Israel for idolatry at Sinai (v 20)

25 ¶ And when Mō'şeş saw that the people were [e]naked; (for Aâr'on had made them naked unto their shame among their enemies:)

26 Then Mō'şeş stood in the gate of the camp, and [f]said, Who is on the LORD's side? let him come unto me. And [g]all the sons of Lē'vī gathered themselves together unto him.

27 And he said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, [h]Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother. and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 And the children of Lē'vī did according to the word of Mō'şeş: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.

29 For Mō'şeş had said, [i]Consecrate yourselves to day to the LORD, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.

11 Second intercession of Moses (Ex. 32:11, refs.)

30 ¶ And it came to pass [k]on the morrow, that Mō'şeş said unto the people, [l]Ye have sinned a great sin: and now I will go up unto the LORD; peradventure I shall make an [c]atonement for your sin.

31 And Mō'şeş [d]returned unto the LORD, and said, [e]Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin—; and [f]if not, blot me, I pray thee, [g]out of thy book which thou hast written.

12 Third punishment of Israel for idolatry at Sinai (v 20): 27th miracle. First of 11 plagues on Israel in the wilderness (Num. 11:1, 31; 12:10; 14:26, 36-37; 16:31, 34, 44; 21:6; 25:1)

33 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [h]Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book.

34 [i]Therefore [j]now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold, mine Angel shall go before thee: [k]nevertheless in the day when I visit I will visit their sin upon them.

35 And the LORD [l]plagued the people, because they made the calf, which Aâr'on made.

CHAPTER 33 83

13 Command to resume the journey to Canaan

AND the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [m]Depart, and go up hence, thou and the people which [n]thou hast brought up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, unto the land which I [o]sware unto Ā'brăhăm, to Ī'şaac, and to Jā'cob, saying, [p]Unto thy seed will I give it:

2 [q]And I will send an angel before thee; and I will drive out the Că'năan-īte, the Ăm'ôr-īte, and the Hĭt'tīte, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zīte, the Hī'vīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte:

3 Unto a land [r]flowing with milk and honey: for I will not go up in the midst of thee; for thou art a stiffnecked people: lest I consume thee in the way.

14 Israel's new consecration

4 ¶ And [s]when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned: and no man did put on him his ornaments.

5 For the LORD had said unto Mō'şeş, Say unto the children of Iş'ra-el, Ye are a stiffnecked people: [t]I will come up into the midst of thee in a moment, and consume thee: therefore [u]now put off thy ornaments from thee, that I may know what to do unto thee.

6 And the children of Iş'ra-el stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Hō'reb.

b Moses charged Israel with sin without any promise of forgiveness, but assured them he would do what he could to obtain forgiveness for them (v 30) c No sin can be forgiven without proper atonement (v 30; Mt. 26:28; Heb. 9:22)

d 7th ascent of Moses (note h, 19:3)

e Much praying is passing on to God the information He already has - telling Him things He already knows about (v 8, 31)

f Moses believed that names could be blotted out of the book of life (v 32). cp. Rom. 9:3. See p. 153 g This is the first mention of the book of God in which all the names of the righteous are written. It is referred to throughout Scripture under various terms, being called: "thy book" and "my book" (Ex. 32:32-33); "the book of the living" (Ps. 69:28); "the book" (Dan. 12:1); "the book of life" (Phil. 4:3; Rev. 3:5; 13:8; 17:8; 20:11-15; 22:18-19); and "the Lamb's book of life" (Rev. 21:27). Because the term book of life does not appear in all of these passages it does not mean that the reference in any one instance is to something else. Just as we have several names for the Bible - "the holy scriptures" (Rom. 1:2; 2 Tim. 3:15); "the oracles of God" (Rom. 3:2; Heb. 5:12; 1 Pet. 4:11); "the law and the prophets" (Lk. 24:25-44); "the word of God" (Mk. 7:13; Rom. 10:17; Heb. 4:12); "the sword of the Spirit" (Eph. 6:17); and others; so we also have several names for the book of life. Scripture teaches plainly that God blots the names of sinners out of His book (v 32-33). The psalmist predicted it to happen in the case of Judas (Ps. 69:20-28). Christ warned of it regarding all who would not overcome sin (Rev. 3:5; 22:18-19).

2 predictions of God (v 34):

j 7th descent of Moses (note h, 19:3). Moses' original commission was renewed after the law was broken (32:1-33), and after God had been moved to go on with His original program of leading Israel into Canaan (v 34). This teaches that the whole program was cancelled and God wanted to raise up a nation through Moses to fulfil the covenant with Abraham (32:7-14)

k This perhaps refers to the fact that God spared them, but was determined that the old generation should not enter Canaan (Num. 14:28-35)

l This was perhaps additional judgment besides the 3,000 killed, according to v 28. How many lives the plague took is not stated

m 39th prophecy in Ex. (33:1-3, fulfilled). Next, 34:10. Here we have the second renewal of the original commission of Moses to lead Israel into Canaan (v 1. Cp. 32:34)

3 predictions of God:
1 Unto your seed will I give the land (v 1)
2 I will send My angel before you (v 2)
3 I will drive out your enemies n Again God recognized the leadership of Moses and the part he played in leading Israel out of Egypt (v 1)

o See note e, Ps. 89:35

p Gen. 15:18-21; 17:8; Ezek. 48, notes

q God now promised only to send an ordinary angel to lead them into Canaan, instead of going with them Himself, as He had been doing. He gave as His reason that they were so stiffnecked He might destroy them on the way (v 2-3). Not wanting to tolerate their backslidings any longer, God resigned, but His resignation was not accepted. Israel repented, prayed, and mourned (v 4-10); and Moses interceded for God to change His decision until He favored him again (v 11-17). See note n, 23:20

r This is a figurative expression meaning all good things. It is used 20 times (3:8, 17; 13:5; 33:3; Lev. 20:24; Num. 13:27; 14:8; 16:3-14; Dt. 6:3; 11:9; 26:9, 15; 27:3; 31:20; Josh. 5:6; Jer. 11:5; 32:22; Ezek. 20:6, 15)

s This was after Moses had rebuked them for their sin and put them on probation (v 4-6) b That is, every man that could see him from his tent door. Those living in back rows of tents around the camps would not be able to see c God came down to meet Moses and thus convince the people of His respect for him d This was evidently a normal conversation with audible voices as 2 persons would talk face to face, and as one friend would speak with another (v 9-11). There is no indication here that God spoke to Moses merely by impression, through an invisible presence, or by any other means than what is usual in a literal and visible face to face conversation. This may be objected to on the grounds that God said My face shall not be seen (v 23), but this was God's face as expressing His infinite glory and the light He dwells in, which no man has seen nor can see (1 Tim. 6:16). God's face outside of His glory has been seen by many men with their natural eyes. See notes on verses 18-23, below; and 44 appearances of God, p. 63

e It is noticeable that Aaron who had been with Moses in all the journeys was now missing during this period of probation, because he, himself had sinned along with Israel (32:21-25). After the intercession of 32:30-33:23 Aaron was back in his old position. He was anointed and served about 38 years after that, as high priest in the wilderness experiences (39:1-43; Lev. 1:1-Num. 20:29)
f 3 past statements of God to Moses (v 12):
1 Bring up this people (from Egypt)
2 I know you by name

g See 7 requests for God's grace, p. 107
b Here Moses was pleading with God to show him the way He intended to help him lead Israel into Canaan, since He had resigned the direct oversight of the journey. Also, he was asking God to take Israel back, forgive them, return to their camp, and proceed to lead them by His presence, as He had done before (v 13-17). God, because of the sin of Aaron and Israel (32:7-28) had moved His tent outside the camp (33:7-11), and had plainly said that He would not go up with such a sinful people (33:1-3), but because of His love for a man who had not failed Him, He was willing to move back into camp and continue with the nation (v 14-17)

m God will do the impossible for those whom He loves and who please Him (v 17; Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Lk. 11:1-13; Jn. 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:5) n That grace was manifest in O. T. days is proved by the fact that it is mentioned in 38 O. T. scriptures (v 17: Gen. 6:8; Ps. 84:11) o This is mentioned twice here (v 12, 17). It speaks of the divine call of Moses to carry out God's will, and of the close friendship of God and Moses p Moses requested to see God's glory as expressed in his face or countenance, not to see His face apart from His glory. That he had seen God's literal face is clearly stated in v 11, and that he had seen God's glory in a limited sense is clear from 16:10; 24:16-17; so the request was for something he had not yet seen. Many others have also seen God's face and spirit-body apart from the glory. See note d, above; also 44 appearances of God, p. 63
Regarding the impossibility of man beholding the face of God when He "dwells in a light whom no man has seen nor can see" (1 Tim. 6:16), Moses became an example of this himself when his face could not be looked upon by Israel because of its brightness (34:29-35; 2 Cor. 3:6-18)

20 And he said, Thou [a]canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, [b]and live.

21 And the LORD said, Behold, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stand upon a rock:

22 And it shall come to pass, while [c]my glory passeth by, that I will put thee in a clift of the rock, and will cover thee with my hand while I pass by:

23 [d]And I will take away mine hand, and thou shalt see [e]my back parts: but my face shall not be seen.

84 CHAPTER 34

18 Second tables of the law (Ex. 31:18; 32:15-17; Dt. 10: 8th ascent into Sinai (Ex. 19: 20, refs.)

AND the LORD said unto Mŏ'şeş, [f]Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: and I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest.

●2 And be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto mount Sĭ'năi, and present thyself there to me in the top of the mount.

●3 And [g]no man shall come up with thee, neither let any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the flocks nor herds feed before that mount.

4 ¶ And he hewed two tables of stone like unto the first; and Mŏ'şeş [h]rose up early in the morning, and [i]went up unto mount Sĭ'năi, as the LORD had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.

19 New revelation of God (Cp. Ex. 33:18)

■5 And the LORD [j]descended in the cloud, and [k]stood with him there, and [l]proclaimed the name of the LORD.

6 And the LORD passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth,

▸7 Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means [m]clear the guilty; [n]visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation.

20 Fourth intercession of Moses (Ex. 32:11, refs.)

8 And Mŏ'şeş [o]made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshipped.

■9 And he said, If now I have [p]found grace in thy sight, O Lord, [q]let my Lord, I pray thee, go among us; for it is a stiffnecked people; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for thine inheritance.

21 Mosaic Covenant renewed: (Ex. 34:10-35:3). (1) Command to obey (Ex. 19:7) a That is, cannot see My face in My usual glory and in the light that I dwell in, which no man has seen nor can see (v 20, 22; 1 Tim. 6:16). Moses was then looking upon the visible face of God's spirit-body (v 11), as many others have done. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

b This and other statements were no doubt the foundation of the ancient superstition that if one saw God he would die (Gen. 32:30; Dt. 5:24; Judg. 13:22; Isa. 6:5; Rev. 1:16-18) c This affirms the fact that it was God in His infinite glory that Moses wanted to see (v 18, 22) d 7 things to be done before he could see:
1 Goodness to pass by (v 19)
2 Name of Jehovah announced
3 Moses to stand upon a rock (v 21)
4 Glory to pass by (v 22)
5 Moses to be put in clift of rock
6 To be covered with God's hand
7 Hand to be removed (v 23)
e If God's spirit-body has back parts, it also has other parts (see note r, Jn. 4:24)
f In 32:16 we read that the first 2 stones were the work of God, but since Moses had broken them he was now commanded to hew out stones like the ones he had destroyed and come upon the mount where God would write again what He had previously written on the first stones (v 1-2)
g 7 commands of God to Moses:
1 Hew 2 stones like the first ones (v 1)
2 Have them finished by morning (v 2)
3 Come up into the mount in the morning top of Sinai 4 Present yourself before Me on the 5 Come up alone (v 3)
6 Let no man be seen on the mount 7 Let no animals feed before the mount h This seems to indicate that he had the stones finished in time to have some sleep (v 4)
i 8th ascent of Moses (note b, 19:3) j Moses ascended and the Lord descended to meet him on top of the mount (v 2, 4, 5) k God stood by Moses again, the two being face to face as before (v 5; 33:11, 21-23). If it had been an invisible presence Moses could not have written such simple facts which indicate he saw the Lord standing there
l See God proclaims Himself, p. 107
m Unless he repents, God will not clear the guilty; but if he repents God is gracious, merciful, and forgiving n This term is used 4 times (20:5; 34:7; Num. 14:18; Dt. 5:9)
o When Moses had heard the promises of God (33:14, 17), had seen His limited glory (32:18-23), and had heard the proclamation of His name (33:18-34:7) which assured him that God was all that His name implies, he was quick to lay hold of new hope for Israel and show his appreciation for God's willingness to forget the past and lead them into Canaan (v 8) p 3 new requests of Moses (v 9): camp 1 That God would come back into the 2 That Israel would be forgiven
3 That God would accept Israel as His inheritance had passed by (v 20-23), God gave Moses a further revelation of His character and infinite nature (v 19). The Heb. for goodness is tuwb, superlative good; the best (of a person); beauty. This could refer to the infinite beauty or glory of God which was to pass before Moses while he was hid in the cleft of the rock (v 22)

r This simply means that God would announce to Moses (while hidden in the cleft of the rock) who He was as He passed by, so that he would know it was Jehovah and not an angel whose back parts he saw after the hand was removed (v 19, 22)

s Here God made it clear that no act of grace or mercy was merited by man, but that His own will was the basis of all His blessings. They do not come from God simply because man wills it to be, but because God is essentially good, gracious, merciful, and does everything for man after His own free choice, it being His pleasure to will that man be blessed (v 19; 34:5-7; Rom. 9:15; Eph. 1:5, 11; Rev. 4:11)

In all these passages literal whoredom was also committed by licentious worshippers who carried on sex orgies and perversions. See The Asherah, p. 106

h Such sacrifices were really made to devils who inspired such sinful practices (Dt. 32:17; 1 Cor. 10:20)

t Aaron and the elders came near, and then all Israel (v 31-32). To all of them Moses gave the new commandments of God (v 32) and broke the good news of forgiveness, the renewed covenant, their re-adoption by God, and the assurance of His leading them as before they had sinned (v 10-28)

u Moses talked to Israel veiled, but when he went into the tabernacle to talk to God he was unveiled (v 33-34)

(7) Laws concerning annual feasts renewed (Ex. 23:14; Lev. 23)

●23 ¶ [d]Thrice in the year shall all your menchildren appear before the LORD God, the God of Ĭs'ra-el.

(9) Promise of protection from invasion during assemblies

★24 [e]For I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy borders: neither shall any man desire thy land, when thou shalt go up to appear before the LORD thy God thrice in the year.

(10) Four other laws renewed (Ex. 12:15; 22:29; 23:18)

●25 Thou [f]shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven; neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the passover be left unto the morning.

(11) Ten commandments renewed (Ex. 20:1-17; Dt. 5: 6-21)

■27 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [g]Write thou these words: for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Ĭs'ra-el.

28 And he was there with the LORD [h]forty days and forty nights; [i]he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. [j]And he wrote upon the tables [k]the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

32 And [t]afterward all the children of Ĭs'ra-el came nigh: and he gave them in commandment all that the LORD had spoken with him in mount Sĭ'nāi.

a This was the feast of Pentecost, called the feast of weeks because it was the day after 7 weeks, counting from the feast of firstfruits (Lev. 23:15-22)

b This was the feast of firstfruits, held along with the passover feast and the feast of unleavened bread (Lev. 23:4-14)

c This feast of harvest or of ingathering was the feast of tabernacles (note e, 23:14; Lev. 23:33-44; Dt. 16:13-17)

d Israel could gather 3 times in a year and attend all the 7 yearly feasts of Jehovah. The 1st gathering would take in the passover, feast of firstfruits, and feast of unleavened bread, covering 8 days (Lev. 23:1-14). The 2nd gathering would take in the feast of Pentecost, the 50th day after the feast of firstfruits (Lev. 23:15-22). The 3rd gathering would take in the last 3 feasts, the feast of trumpets (held Oct. 1 according to our calendar), the feast of the great day of atonement (Oct. 10), and the feast of tabernacles (Oct. 15-21), all within a 21-day period (Lev. 23:23-44), whether all gathered for the first 2 of these last 3 feasts is not known, but all were required to be present at the 7-day feast of tabernacles, feast of harvest, or feast of the ingathering (v 23; 23:17; Dt. 16:16) besides the 8-day and 1-day feasts of the other gatherings

e 41st and last prophecy in Ex. (34:24, fulfilled in the land many years)

3 predictions of God (v 24):

1 I will cast out the nations before you
2 I will enlarge your borders
3 No man will desire your homes or invade your land while the males appear before Me 3 times a year

f 4 commands to Israel:

1 Do not offer leaven with the blood of sacrifices (v 25; 23:18)
2 Do not leave the passover feast until the morning (v 25; 12:10)
3 Bring the firstfruits of the land to the house of God (v 26; 23:19)
4 Do not boil a kid in his mother's milk (v 26; 23:19; Dt. 14:21)

g God told Moses to write the renewed covenant (v 10-28), as he had written the original (20:1-23:33. See 24:3-8). Both writings were only a part of the whole Mosaic covenant, which was added to from time to time until it was completed and included all of Ex. 20:1-40:38; Lev. 1:1-27:34; Num. 1:1-36:13; Dt. 1:1-34:12. The renewed contract did not need to be dedicated, as the original was (24:3-9). By the renewed adoption of Israel, the original covenant was restored. The writing down of the fundamental conditions of the covenant here was merely proof of its restoration. See note g, 17:14

h This was the second 40-days on Sinai (v 28 with 24:18; Dt. 9:9, 11, 18, 25; 10:10)

i It seems that Moses fasted 2 periods of 40 days each without any nourishment between them (Dt. 9:9-21). If true, then Moses is the only man on record to fast 80 days thus. This would not be possible without the presence and help of God. We do know that Moses experienced glory and power filling him even to the point of being reflected on his face so that men could not look at "the skin of his face" (v 28-35). No man without such divine presence could live so long without water; in the natural it would be impossible. See note j, Mt. 4:2

j The pronoun he here refers to God, for He alone wrote upon the tables of stone (v 28; 24:12; 31:18; 32:15; 34:1; Dt. 9: 10; 10:1-2; 2 Cor. 3:6-18). In Dt. 10:1-2 we see that God plainly said He would write upon the second tables of stone

k The 10 commandments were considered the sum of the whole law of Moses because they contained all the necessary rules under which all the thousands of other laws could be embodied

l 8th and last descent of Moses from Sinai (note h, 19:3)

m So-called because they were a visible, material testimony of the contract between God and Israel (v 29; 25:16, 21; 27:21; 30:36; 31:18; 32:15; 40:20). The ark was called the ark of the testimony (25:22; 26:33-34; 30:6, 26; 31:7; 39:35; 40:3, 5, 21) and the tabernacle was called the tabernacle of the testimony (38:21; Num. 1:50-53; 10:11) for the same reason a See 2 Cor. 3:6-15. Cp. Mt. 17:2

b That is, in the tent of meeting, not the tabernacle of chs. 36-40 because it was not yet built c A reference to this is made in the N. T. showing that when Israel turns to God the veil shall be taken from their hearts (2 Cor. 3:13-18)
d Moses kept putting the veil on and off while going in and out of the tent where he met with and talked with God (v 35) e Moses now gave Israel the instructions concerning the priesthood and the building of the tabernacle which he had received during the 80 days in the mount (24:18; 34:28). He also began to build and carry out those instructions. This section could be called the acts of Moses (35:1-40:38)
f Before beginning the work of the tabernacle Moses reminded Israel of the 6 days and a sabbath, and warned again of the death penalty for breaking the law. The sabbath was to be observed even in the making of the tabernacle (v 2-3) g This seems a small thing to be penalized with death, but God wanted to impress upon Israel the absolute necessity of perfect obedience and perpetual alertness to do righteousness even in little things (v 3). He commanded that this and other details be obeyed like major commands. See Num. 15:32-36. Jews considered this law as applying to fires for doing work, not to keeping themselves warm or making light in their dwellings. Those who observed it strictly concerning warmth and light are said to have had the Gentiles to take care of such fires for them h 3 commands - building the tabernacle:
1 Take an offering of Israel for the Lord (v 5)
2 Let everyone who is willing bring gold, silver, brass, and blue, purple, scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, red ram skins, badger skins, shittim wood, oil, spices, and precious stones (v 5-9)
3 Let everyone who is wise hearted come and make the tabernacle, its furniture, the showbread, the anointing oil, the sweet incense, cloths of service, and the garments for the priests (v 10-19)

3 Knowledge (v 31. Cp. 1 Cor. 12:1-11)
4 Ability in all manner of arts (v 31; 36:1) a 8 abilities given by the Spirit:

1 Ability to invent, plan, and make curious works in gold, silver, brass (v 32)
2 To cut stones (v 33)
3 To set stones
4 To carve wood
5 To teach these trades (v 34)

(14) Sabbath again commanded (Ex. 20:8; 31:12; 34:21)

AND Mō'şeş gathered all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el together, and said unto them, [e]These are the words which the LORD hath commanded, that ye should do them.

●2 [f]Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the LORD: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death.

●3 Ye shall [g]kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day.

X Construction of the tabernacle and furniture (Ex. 35:4-38:31). 1 Materials commanded (Ex. 25:1-9)

4 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake unto all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, This is the thing which the LORD commanded, saying,

●5 [h]Take ye from among you an offering unto the LORD: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the LORD; [i]gold, and silver, and brass,

6 And [j]blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, [k]and goats' hair,

7 And [l]rams' skins dyed red, and [m]badgers' skins, and [n]shittim wood,

9 And [r]onyx stones, and [s]stones to be set for the [t]ephod, and for the [u]breastplate.

●10 And every wise hearted among you shall come, and make all that the LORD hath commanded;

●11 The [v]tabernacle, [w]his tent, and his covering, [x]his taches, and his boards, his bars, his pillars, and his sockets,

2 Command obeyed: materials brought in abundance

20 ¶ And all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el [k]departed from the presence of Mō'şeş.

21 And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the LORD's offering to the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments.

22 And they came, [l]both men and women, as many as were willing hearted, and [m]brought bracelets, and [n]earrings, [o]and rings, and [p]tablets, all [q]jewels of gold: and every man that offered offered an [r]offering of gold unto the LORD.

23 And every man, with whom was found [s]blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and [t]goats' hair, and [u]red skins of rams, and [v]badgers' skins, brought them.

24 Every one that did offer an offering of silver and [w]brass brought the LORD's offering: and every man, with whom was found [x]shittim wood for any work of the service, brought it.

25 And all the women that were wise hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen.

26 And all the women whose heart stirred them up in wisdom spun goats' hair.

27 And the rulers brought [y]onyx stones, and [z]stones to be set, for the [a]ephod, and for [b]the breastplate;

28 And [c]spice, and [d]oil for the light, and for the [e]anointing oil, and for the [f]sweet incense.

29 The children of Iş'ra-el brought a willing offering unto the LORD, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work, which the LORD had commanded to be made by the hand of Mō'şeş.

c The people departed, not to think over what they should give, but to get what was in their hearts to give. They had willingly given to make a golden calf, so now under the blessing of the renewed covenant, the new beginning as adopted people of God with His forgiveness and promise to lead them Himself instead of sending an angel to do so, they were influenced by the spiritual revival to give of their material means and services to their God (v 20-21)

d Worship and part in God's work was not limited to men only. Both men and women had shared equally in the guilt of the recent backsliding to idolatry, so now both shared equally in the revival spirit and blessing of God

1 Called Bezaleel (v 30)
2 Filled him with the Spirit, wisdom, understanding, and knowledge, for all manner of workmanship in gold, silver, brass, precious stones, wood, embroidery, and weaving (v 30-35)
3 Gave him the gift of teaching (v 34)
4 Gave him Aholiab as helper
5 Filled both with wisdom and ability for the work of the tabernacle (v 35)

z Men in O. T. days were filled with the Spirit. Spiritual gifts not only include ability in the spiritual, but also in the physical, mental, and material realms (v 31-35). See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.

4 spiritual gifts:
1 Wisdom (v 31, 35. Cp. 28:3)
2 Understanding (Heb. tebunwnah, intelligence; skilfulness, v 31; 36:1) c This shows how divine abilities are given to man - so he can use them as his own abilities to accomplish the will of God. The Lord simply puts the wisdom, the knowledge, or super-intelligence of whatever it is, in man, so that it becomes a natural ability of the receiver as if it had been his by nature all his life. Ability to teach what has been received is a special endowment in itself. Christ, the prophets, and apostles are examples of persons having been given abilities by the Spirit d Bezaleel of the tribe of Judah(31:2) and Aholiab of the tribe of Dan were the chief overseers of all the tabernacle work (v 35; 36:1-2). Both were special agents of God and endued with gifts of the Holy Spirit for the work. They had many workers under them who were also filled with the Spirit and endued with wisdom, knowledge, and special ability (36:1-2). All were God-called men. Aholiab's particular gifts were engraving and embroidery work(38:23)

e Free-will offerings came in daily for some time - until there was more than enough for the needs (v 3-7)
f This would be the normal condition of churches today if all members would be as free in giving as Israel was on this occasion (v 6)

Bible types (Ex. 38:21)

The Bible is not as full of types as some would have us believe, that is, types that can be proved by Scripture. Some make nearly every person and historical event of the O.T. typical. When such a method of interpretation is carried this far it leads to confusion and a wrong understanding of the Word of God. Searching for hidden meaning in every passage and pressing the typical teaching so far imperils the literal teachings and soundness of many Bible truths

Everything in Scripture intended as a divine type is confirmed by at least two or three plain statements somewhere in God's Word. "In the mouth of two or three witnesses" applies to this subject as much as any other doctrine of the Bible (Dt. 19:15; Mt. 18:16; 2 Cor. 13:1). In this work we recognize types as distinct from parables, symbols, allegories, riddles, and figurative statements otherwise. We therefore deal with typology only as defined below, accepting types as such, if they harmonize with all the essential characteristics that make true Bible types

Definition of Bible types:

A type is a pre-ordained representation wherein certain persons, events, and institutions of the O.T. stand for related and corresponding persons, events, and institutions of the N.T. Types are pictures or object lessons by which God has taught the people concerning His redemptive plan. They are a shadow of things to come and not the very image of those things (Col. 2:17; Heb. 8:5; 10:1). The Mosaic system, for example, was a kind of kindergarten in which God's people were trained in divine things and taught to look forward to the realities of things yet to come

5 Greek words defined:

1 Tupos, trans. print (Jn. 20:25); figure (Acts 7:43; Rom. 5:14); form (Rom. 6:17); fashion (Acts 7:44); manner (Acts 23:25); pattern (Tit. 2:7; Heb. 8:5); ensample (1 Cor. 10:11; Phil. 3:17; 1 Th. 1:7; 2 Th. 3:9; 1 Pet. 5:3); and example (1 Cor. 10:6; 1 Tim. 4:12)

2 Anti-tupon, trans. like figure (1 Pet. 3:21) and figure (Heb. 9:24)

3 Hupodeigma, trans. pattern (Heb. 9:23); ensample (2 Pet. 2:6); and example (Jn. 13:15; Heb. 4:11; 8:5; Jas. 5:10)

4 Parabole, trans. figure in only 2 places, referring to types (Heb. 9:9; 11:19). This word is mostly limited to the parable or illustration in the N.T. Types workmanship;

33 And in the cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of wood, to make any manner of [c]cunning work.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach, [d]both he, and Ā-hō'lī-ăb, the son of Ā-hĭs'a-māch, of the tribe of Dăn.

35 Them hath he filled with wisdom of heart, to work all manner of work, of the engraver, and of the cunning workman, and of the embroiderer, in blue, and in purple, in scarlet, and in fine linen, and of the weaver, even of them that do any work, and of those that devise cunning work.

86 CHAPTER 36

4 Materials delivered to the workers in abundance

THEN wrought Bĕ-zăl'e-el and Ā-hō'lī-ăb, and every wise hearted man, in whom the LORD put wisdom and understanding to know how to work all manner of work for the service of the sanctuary, according to all that the LORD had commanded.

2 And Mō'şeş called Bĕ-zăl'e-el and Ā-hō'lī-ăb, and every wise hearted man, in whose heart the LORD had put wisdom, even every one whose heart stirred him up to come unto the work to do it:

3 And they received of Mō'şeş all the offering, which the children of Iş'ra-el had brought for the work of the service of the sanctuary, to make it withal. And they brought yet unto him free offerings [e]every morning.

4 And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work which they made;

5 People restrained from giving

5 ¶ And they spake unto Mō'şeş, saying, The people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the LORD commanded to make.

6 [f]And Mō'şeş gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary. So the people were restrained from bringing.

7 For the stuff they had was sufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.

6 Ten linen curtains (Ex. 26:1-6)

8 ¶ And every wise hearted man among them that wrought the work of the tabernacle made [g]ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with cherubims of cunning work made he them.

9 The length of one curtain was [a]twenty and eight cubits, and the [b]breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains were all of one size.

10 And he [c]coupled the five curtains one unto another: and the other five curtains he coupled one unto another.

11 And he made loops of blue on the selvedge in the coupling: likewise he made in the uttermost side of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

12 [d]Fifty loops made he in one curtain, and fifty loops made he in the edge of the curtain which was in the coupling of the second: the loops held one curtain to another.

13 And he made fifty taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one unto another with the taches: so it became one tabernacle.

7 Eleven goat hair curtains (Ex. 26:7-13)

14 ¶ And he made curtains of goats' hair for the tent over the tabernacle: [e]eleven curtains he made them.

15 The [f]length of one curtain was thirty cubits, and four cubits was the [g]breadth of one curtain: the eleven curtains were of one size.

16 And he coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves.

17 And he made [h]fifty loops upon the uttermost edge of the curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops made he upon the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.

18 And he made fifty taches of brass to couple the tent together, that it might be one.

8 Two coverings of ram and badger skins (Ex. 26:14)

19 And he made a [i]covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering of badgers' skins above that.

9 Forty-eight boards and 96 silver sockets (Ex. 26:15)

20 ¶ And he made [j]boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood, standing up.

21 The length of a board [k]was ten cubits, and the [l]breadth of a board one cubit and a half.

22 [m]One board had two tenons, equally distant one from another: thus did he make for all the boards of the tabernacle.

23 And he made boards for the tabernacle; [n]twenty boards for the south side southward:

24 And [o]forty sockets of silver he made under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 And for the other side of the tabernacle, which is toward the north corner, he made twenty boards, 26 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

27 And for the sides of the are illustrations, but they are also the pre-ordained shadow or likeness of things to come, while parables may be illustrations of something in the past, present, or future. Scriptural types and prophecy are the same in substance, differing only in form. This fact distinguishes between types, parables, symbols and other forms of human expression. See notes i and p, Mt. 13:3, 11

5 Sikla, trans. shadow 3 times, referring to types (Col. 2:17; Heb. 8:5; 10:1). The English word type best corresponds with sikla because it means a shadow, a limited idea or likeness of the reality it foreshadows

It is clear from the above scriptures that N.T. writers used the word type with some degree of freedom; and yet, they had one general idea in common, namely, that all types show a likeness existing between two persons, events, or institutions, The one resembles the other in some essential feature or particular. In typology these two are called type and antitype, and the link that binds them together is the correspondence or similarity of the one to the other. The type is the pre-ordained shadow of the antitype. The type is the object lesson, the temporary and shadowy resemblance of some predicted person, event, or institution. The antitype is the fulfillment of that which has been predicted

6 essential characteristics of types:

1 There must be one or more points of resemblance between the type and the antitype (Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 10:1)

2 The type must be prophetic in all points of resemblance with the antitype. It must truly pre-figure something to come (Jn. 3:14; Rom. 5:14; Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 8:5; 9:23-24; 10:1; 1 Pet. 3:21)

3 The type is merely the shadow of the realities to come and not the realities typified (Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 8:5; 10:1)

4 The type is always earthly while the antitype could be earthly or heavenly (Heb. 8:5; 9:24; 1 Pet. 3:21)

5 Since both the type and the antitype must be pre-ordained as part of the same plan of God, they cannot therefore be something chosen by man, picked out simply because certain details in a record resemble and could be made to fit some future truth (Rom. 5:14; Heb. 9:23-24; 10:1-21)

6 The only authority for types and the application of them is Scripture itself. More than a mere resemblance is needed to constitute a type. In true typology no human meaning should be accepted where no positive scripture supports a theory. Mere historical events that bear some resemblance to N.T. truths should not be taken as true types of those truths unless substantiated by two or three plain passages proving a connection (2 Cor. 13:1). This would require at least a plain scripture on the antitype as well as the type

A genuine Bible type is a true figure or shadow of the reality to come – the antitype (Jn. 3:14; Rom. 5:14; Heb. 9: 23-24; 10:1; 1Pet. 3:21). Centuries or even millenniums may lie between them but the shadow is never lost and the figure is never destroyed thereby. The fulfillment or reality always comes. Furthermore, a type has its own meaning apart from the antitype (Jn. 3:14 with Num. 21). Regarding the recorded details of a type, as in the case of parables, allegories, and symbols, these are not to be stressed; nor are they to be interpreted apart from the antitype. In typology only the intended truth should be empbasized

4 classes of types:

1 Typical persons:

(1) Adam a type of Christ who was yet to come (Rom. 5:12-21; 1 Cor. 15:45-49)

(2) Melchizedek a type of the eternal priesthood of Christ (Gen. 14:18-24; Heb. 5:5-9; 6:20; 7:1-10,17); a type of combined kingship and priesthood (Heb. 7:1-3 with Zech. 6:12-13); and a type of eternal existence (Heb. 7:3, 6 with Mic. 5:1-2; Jn. 1:1-3; Heb. 1:8)

(3) Abraham offering up his only promised son, a type of God offering His only begotten Son (Gen. 22; Jn. 3:16; Heb. 11:17-19)

(4) Isaac a type of the resurrection of Christ (Gen. 22; Heb. 11:19)

(5) Moses a type of Christ as the prophet of God (Dt. 18:15-19; Acts 3:19-26); and of faithfulness (Heb. 3:1-6)

(6) Aaron a type of the high priesthood of Christ (Heb. 5:1-5)

(7) Jonah a type of the death, burial, descension (into the lower parts of the earth for 3 days), and resurrection of Christ (Jonah 2; Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10)

2 Typical events:

(1) The flood was typical of baptism (1 Pet. 3:20-21)

(2) Some of the events during Israel's wandering in the wilderness were typical of things Christians would face (1 Cor. 10:1-13)

(3) The lifting up of the brazen serpent in the wilderness was typical of the crucifixion of Christ and benefits of the cross to be realized by others (Jn. 3:14; Num. 21)

3 Typical acts:

(1) Smiting the rock as in Lev. 17 was typical of Christ being crucified or smitten for men (1 Cor. 10:4)

(2) Smiting the rock the second time instead of speaking to it was typical of crucifying Christ afresh (Num. 20; 1 Cor. 10:4; Heb. 6:6)

(3) Rejecting the chief cornerstone was typical of the rejection of Christ (Isa. 28:16; Mt. 21:42)

(4) The many acts of the priests in the tabernacle worship were typical of various aspects of truth concerning redemption through Christ. The killing of animals, shedding and sprinkling of blood, the burning of incense, the showbread, the lighting of lamps, and the seemingly endless and repeated rituals day by day and year by year were all typical acts and fulfilled in Christ and His redemptive work (Heb. 7:11-28; 8:1-6; 9:1-28; 10:1-22)

4 Typical institutions:

(1) The whole Mosaic institution tabernacle [e]westward he made six boards.

28 And two boards made he for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.

29 And they were coupled beneath, and coupled together at the head thereof, to one ring: thus he did to both of them in both the corners.

30 And there were eight boards; and their sockets were sixteen [b]sockets of silver, under every board two sockets.

10 Fifteen outside bars (Ex. 26:26-27)

31 ¶ And he made [c]bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle, 32 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the sides westward.

11 Middle bar (Ex. 26:28)

33 And he made the [d]middle bar to shoot through the boards from the one end to the other.

12 Gold overlay for boards and bars (Ex. 26:29-30)

34 [e]And he overlaid the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold to be places for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

13 Inner veil: 4 pillars (Ex. 26:31-32)

35 ¶ And he made a [f]veil of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: with cherubims made he it of cunning work.

36 And he made thereunto four pillars of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold: their hooks were of gold; and he cast for them four sockets of silver.

14 Outer veil: 5 pillars (Ex. 26:36-37)

37 ¶ [g]And he made an hanging for the tabernacle door of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined [h]linen, of needlework;

38 And the five pillars of it with their hooks: and he overlaid their chapiters and their fillets with gold: but their five sockets were of brass.

CHAPTER 37 87

15 The ark (Ex. 25:1-16)

AND [a]Bĕ-zăl'e-el made [i]the ark of shittim wood: [j]two cubits and a half was the length of it, and a [k]cubit and a half the breadth of it, and a [l]cubit and a half the height of it:

2 And he overlaid it with pure gold within and without, and made a crown of gold to it round about.

3 And he cast for it four rings of gold, to be set by the four corners of it; even two rings upon the one side of it, and two rings upon the other side of it.

4 And he made staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

5 And he put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, to bear the ark.

16 Mercy seat (Ex. 25:17)

6 ¶ And he [a]made the mercy seat of pure gold: [b]two cubits and a half was the length thereof, and one cubit and a [c]half the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two [d]cherubims of gold, beaten out of one piece made he them, on the two ends of the [e]mercy seat;

8 One cherub on the end on this side, and another cherub on the other end on that side: out of the mercy seat made he the cherubims on the two ends thereof.

9 And the cherubims spread out their wings on high, and covered with their wings over the mercy seat, with their faces one to another; even to the mercy seatward were the faces of the cherubims.

17 Table of showbread (Ex. 25:23-30)

10 ¶ [f]And he made the table of shittim wood: [g]two cubits was the length thereof, and a [h]cubit the breadth thereof, and a [i]cubit and a half the height thereof:

11 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made thereunto a crown of gold round about.

12 Also he made thereunto a border of an handbreadth round about; and made a crown of gold for the border thereof round about.

of offerings and worship was typical of things to come in the sacrifice and redemptive work of Christ and the worship of God in the true way (Ex. 12-13; 25:1-40:38; Heb. 7-10)

(2) The Aaronic priesthood, the garments of the priests, and other aspects of the ministry of the law were typical of Christ and His redemptive work (Ex. 28-29; Heb. 7-10)

(3) The sabbath for Israel was typical of the eternal rest in Christ and of that which is to come for all the redeemed (Ex. 20:8-11; 31:12-18; Dt. 5:15; Heb. 4)

(4) The feasts of Israel were typical of various aspects of redemption through Christ (Ex. 12; Lev. 23; 1 Cor. 5:7; Heb. 5-10)

(5) The temple and all the rituals of worship carried on in it were typical of the same things which the tabernacle and its worship were typical of, as in points above

(6) The tabernacle and temple, their compartments, and furniture were themselves typical of the heavenly tabernacle Christ entered into (Heb. 8:1-5; 9:1-10, 23-24)

Interpretation of types:

1 Only the point or points of resemblance between the type and the antitype should be emphasized; but they should not be used as the basis of other doctrines which they do not typify

2 Types should be understood and interpreted only in the light of their antitypes

3 Plain historical events should not be made typical simply because there are some points of resemblance between them and N. T. truths

4 The type and the antitype must agree with each other as well as with all related scriptures

5 The historical sense of Scripture or the literal meaning of the words telling of the type or antitype should never be destroyed

6 All so-called hidden meanings of the words should be avoided, for such a method of explaining only leads to fanciful and confusing interpretations

How much of the O. T. is typical?

That the above mentioned O. T. persons, events, acts, and institutions are types is proved by plain statements in the N. T. How much more, if any, of the O. T. is typical is a matter of speculation. One thing is certain, only as much of the O. T. is to be counted typical as the N. T. affirms to be. Anything beyond this should be considered in the field of illustration in teaching. Innumerable lessons can be taken from similarities of O. T. facts and N. T. truths; and such may be permissible by way of application; but to make these types and antitypes is not allowed by Scripture. Proof can rest only on human authority. True types meet all the requirements as in the above points on definition, essential characteristics, etc.

Many so-called types are found in the plain history of the lives of Bible characters, and they make interesting studies, but not as true Bible types because they lack identification as such, in the N. T. passages. The life of Joseph compared to that of Christ is an example of this. Not recognized as type and antitype in Scripture, nevertheless the two lives have many resemblances, as seen in the outline below, and the facts

Eve, Rebekah, Ruth, and other women of the O. T. are sometimes taken to be types of the church and the bride of Christ, but this could not be because the church is never typified, symbolized, or illustrated by a woman, married or unmarried. On the contrary, the church being the body of the Man, Christ, it is therefore referred to as a man (Eph. 2:14-15; 4:13). See 1 Cor. 10:16; 12:12, 27; Eph. 1:21-22; Col. 1: 18, 24. Regarding the bride of Christ, Rev. 21:9-10 makes it plain that "the bride, the Lamb's wife" is "that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God." See Rev. 21: 2, 9-10, notes

Some attempt to prove the doctrine of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit by the fact that Noah's ark had 3 stories. They seek to prove the doctrine of the rapture before the tribulation by the fact that Enoch was translated before the flood, even though it was 669 years before the flood. Others, teaching about the bride of Christ, say that He will not marry all the church, or that all in the church are not the bride, simply because Isaac did not marry all the family of Laban

The objection to this method of Bible interpretation is that it wrests the scriptures out of their natural and historical setting and intent. It destroys the simplicity of the Word of God, detracts from its trustworthiness and leads men to believe that there is a hidden and mysterious meaning to every detail of Scripture. The safe way is to prove every doctrine with plain passages related to the subject; and use any historical event or resembling detail as an illustration of some point in teaching. Innumerable applications can be made apart from the authentic types and antitypes; and these are permissible as such - illustrations or applications

The renewed covenant (34:10)

The renewed covenant of v 10-28 was made with Moses and Israel in answer to the 3 requests of v 9. The particular ones of the 10 commandments being emphasized in this renewed covenant were the main ones which had been broken in the sinning of Aaron and Israel with the golden-calf worship of 32:1-6, 21-25. See 34:12-17

The terms of the renewed covenant:
7 obligations of God to Israel:

1 I will do marvels such as have not been done in all the earth (v 10)
2 All nations shall see them
3 I will use Israel to do terrible things among men
4 I will drive out the nations before Israel and give them their lands (v 11, 24)
5 I will enlarge borders of Israel (v 24)
6 I will protect homes of Israel as they go up 3 times a year to meet Me
7 I will honor the whole covenant (v 25-26)

God has always been ready to renew covenants and fulfil His promises to man. He has never broken a covenant or failed to meet His obligations; man has always been the offender and when he fulfils his part of the requirement it can be counted on, in every case, that God will do His part. His gifts and callings are unchangeable (Rom. 11:29)

a See note d, 35:34
b A talent of gold was $29,085.00
c A shekel of gold was $9.69 1/2. There being 3,000 shekels to a talent, the 29 talents and 730 shekels would make 87,730 shekels or $850,542.35
d A talent of silver was $1,920.00 (note e) e A bekah, meaning half, was 32¢ in silver, of our money. 32¢ each, for 603,550 men brought in a total of $193,136.00 for the making of the sockets, hooks, etc. A half-shekel for each of the 603,550 men would be 301,775 shekels - explained in v 27-28 as being 100 talents for the sockets with 1,775 shekels left over the hooks, and other items. Subtracting the 1,775 shekels used for things in v 28 from the total of 301,775 shekels brought in for this work, gives a balance of 300,000 shekels to be used for the sockets of v 27. This amount being equal to 100 talents as indicated here, shows that one talent is 3,000 shekels. At 32¢ a half-shekel or 64¢ a shekel, 3,000 shekels or one talent of silver would be worth $1,920.00 as stated in note d, above (v 25-26)
f The sockets or foundation bases were made of silver equal to a cost of $1,920.00 each. The 1,775 extra shekels of silver, above the amount needed for the 100 bases (100 talents), were used to make hooks for the posts, to overlay the tops with silver, and to make the rods from the top of the posts to stakes in the ground, to hold up the posts and curtain walls (v 28) socket g $1,920.00 worth of silver for each h The tops of the posts covered with silver, the hooks and silver rods from the tops of the posts on 2 sides to brass stakes in the ground must have been beautiful to behold (v 28)
i Capitals or tops of the posts (v 28)
j Joined them to the brass stakes on either side of the posts and driven into the ground (v 28)
k A talent of brass is supposed by some to be 1,500 shekels, but this could not be, for according to v 29, there were 2,400 shekels left over after counting out the 70 talents. From this we learn that a talent of brass would be more than 2,400 shekels. Let us suppose then, that a brass talent, like one of gold or silver, should be reckoned as 3,000 shekels. On this basis the 70 talents would amount to 210,000 shekels which, added to the 2,400 would make a total of 212,400 shekels of brass. There being 224 grains to the shekel this would amount to 47,577,600 grains; and reduced to troy weight (with 5,760 grains to the lb.) would be 8,260 lbs. This at 51¢ a lb. would be $4,212.60

Total value of gold, silver, brass:

1 Gold (87,730 shekels @ $9.69 1/2)	850,542.35
2 Silver (301,775 shekels @ 64¢)	193,136.00
3 Brass (212,400 shekels or 8,260 lbs. @ 51¢ a lb.)	4,212,60
Total value	$1,047,890.95

Total weight of metals in pounds:

1 Gold (87,730 shekels or 19,651,520 grains), approx.	3,412
2 Silver (301,775 shekels or 67,597,600 grains), approx.	11,736
3 Brass (212,400 shekels or 47,577,600 grains)	8,260
Total pounds	23,408

(Shekels in the above were reduced to grains by using 224 grains to the shekel, then reduced to pounds by using 5,760 grains to the troy weight pound)

l The foundation sockets or bases to the outer court were of brass and the ones for the tabernacle itself were of silver (v 27, 30-31). The large altar of sacrifices and all its vessels, the pins or stakes for the tabernacle and outer-court posts were of brass (v 30-31)

m This is the 3rd mention of the cloths for the service. They included the aprons, towels, and other cloths needed in the butchering and personal cleanliness of the priests (31:10; 35:19; 31:1,41). They were not mentioned in the commands to build the tabernacle (25:1-30:38)

n The garments of the priests were the last things made, or at least last mentioned in the commands to build the tabernacle (25:1-30:38)

89 CHAPTER 39

XI Making the priestly garments (Ex. 39:1-31). 1 Materials (Ex. 28:5)

AND of the blue, and purple, and scarlet, they [m]made cloths of service, to do service in the holy place, [n]and made the holy garments for Aär'on; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

2 The ephod (Ex. 28:6-14)

2 [o]And he made the ephod of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they [a]did beat the gold into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to work it in the blue, and in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine linen, with cunning work.

4 They made shoulderpieces for it, to couple it together: by the two edges was it coupled together.

5 And the [b]curious girdle of his ephod, that was upon it, was of the same, according to the work thereof; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

6 ¶ And they wrought onyx stones inclosed in [c]ouches of gold, graven, as signets are graven, with the [d]names of the children of Iş'ra-el.

7 And he put them on the shoulders of the ephod, that they should be stones for a memorial to the children of Iş'ra-el; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

3 Breastplate (Ex. 28:15)

8 ¶ [e]And he made the breastplate of cunning work, like the work of the ephod; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 It was foursquare; they made the breastplate double: a span was the length thereof, and a span the breadth thereof, being doubled.

10 And they set in it four rows of stones: [f]the first row was a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this was the first row.

11 And the second row, an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.

12 And the third row, a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.

13 And the fourth row, a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper: they were inclosed in ouches of gold in their inclosings.

14 And the stones were according to the names of the children of Iş'ra-el, twelve according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every one with his name, according to the twelve tribes.

15 And they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of wreathen work of pure gold.

16 And they made two ouches of gold, and two gold rings; and put the two rings in the two ends of the breastplate.

17 And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings on the ends of the breastplate.

18 And the two ends of the two wreathen chains they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod, before it.

19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastplate, upon the border of it, which was on the side of the ephod inward.

20 And they made two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart of it, over against the other coupling thereof, above the a This explains how they made the gold wires to be used in the embroidery work on the curtains and priests' garments. Iron anvils or tools of other hard surface were no doubt used to beat the gold into thin plates; and scissors of some kind were used to cut the thin plates into small strips which were further beaten into wire (v 3)

Asherah (34:13)

Heb. asherah, a pillar or image of wood. It was set up with the image of Baal, and worshipped by libidinous rites and lascivious practices. Asherah is always rendered grove and groves in the A.V., but retained as a proper name in the R.V. The word comes from the root ashar, to be straight, upright, erect. The pillar was set upright or erect in the ground like a totem pole. It was either a living tree with the top cut off and the trunk fashioned into a certain shape (Dt. 16:21), or a log fashioned into an idol and set erect in the ground (1 Ki. 14:15; 16:33; Isa. 17:8). Though usually made of wood (Judg. 6:26) it was perhaps, in some cases, made of stone. Such poles could be cut down (34:13), plucked up (Mic. 5:14), burnt (Dt. 12:3), and broken in pieces (2 Chr. 34:4). That they were not groves of trees is clear from 2 Ki. 17:10 where they are forbidden to be set up under any green tree

Originally the idol was worshipped as a symbol of the tree of life, but later perverted to mean the origin of life and pictured with the male organs of procreation (Ezek. 16:17). Such symbols became the objects of worship carried on with all forms of impurity, perversion, and licentiousness by crowds of devotees involved in demonized and obscene orgies. The worship centered in the Canaanite nations and then spread into others. Relics of it are found among all heathen peoples. The first mention of the idol in the Bible stamps it as a special object of God's hatred; and it was at this idol that God revealed His name as Jealous (34:13-14, Cp. 1 Ki. 14:15; 15:13; 16:32-33; 2 Chr. 36:14). It led to the destruction of all Canaanite nations and, with other things, caused Israel to be banished among other nations. The true nature of this form of idolatry is made clear in Jer. 5:7; 7:30-31; 19:4-5; 32:34-35; Hos. 4:12-14; Amos 2:7-9, and in other passages where grove and groves are found (34:13; Dt. 7:5; 12:3; 16:21; Judg. 3:7; 6:25-30; 1 Ki. 14:15, 23; 15:13; 16:33; 18:10; 2 Ki. 13:6; 17:10, 16; 18:4; 21:3, 7; 23:4-15; 2 Chr. 14:3; 15:16; 17:6; 19:3; 24:18; 31:1; 33:3, 19; 34:3-7; Isa. 17:8; 27:9; Jer. 17:2; Mic. 5:14)

Glory of God in Moses' face (34:29)

Heb. qaran, to push; to shoot out horns; to send out rays; to shine out or dart forth as horns. This seems to indicate that the glory of God in Moses' face was like rays or darts of lightning shooting forth. He had been in the presence of God so long in the mount that his own eyes did not recognize these shining rays from his face. Like one blinded by the sun who cannot see a candlelight, Moses was not aware that his skin shone. Cp. 2 Cor. 7:7-10. The Vulgate reads: he did not know that his face was horned. Because of this some painters have represented Moses with 2 horns. Others have promoted the idea by painting halos or luminous circles around the heads of saints supposed to have had special contact with God. This not only prevails in part of the Christian world but also among Mohammedans, Hindoos, and Chinese who evidently got the idea from stories of the many manifestations of the glory of God in O.T. days. Various tales of God's glory were no doubt passed on by word of mouth and added to, from one country and one generation to another; and many superstitious ideas came to be accepted as the truth curious girdle of the ephod.

21 And they did bind the breastplate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it might be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate might not be loosed from the ephod; [a]as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

4 Robe of the ephod (28:31)

22 ¶ [b]And he made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of blue.
23 And there was an hole in the midst of the robe, as the hole of an habergeon, with a band round about the hole, that it should not rend.
24 And they made upon the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and twined linen.
25 And they made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates;

b These garments were to be worn only in the priests' office (v 41; 28:1, 43)
c All the work on the tabernacle and the garments of the priests was now finished and brought to Moses for inspection. He saw that everything was as commanded by Jehovah, and then blessed the skilled and faithful workers (v 42-43)
d This expression, as the Lord commanded, is found 26 times in Exodus, emphasizing obedience to God (7:6, 10, 20; 12:28,50; 16:34; 34:4, 18; 35:1; 39:1, 5, 7, 21, 26, 29, 31, 32, 42, 43; 40:19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 32) e 8 commands - erection of tabernacle:

6 If You want us to be segregated from all other people, then do this for us as proof of good faith
7 Show me Your glory (v 18)

7 promises of God in answer to Moses: (33:14)

1 My presence shall go with you (v 14)
2 I will give you rest
3 My presence will go with you and Israel because of My love for you (v 17)
4 I will make all My goodness pass before you (v 19)
5 I will proclaim the name of the Lord before you 6 I will be gracious and show mercy to whom I will 7 I will put you in a cleft of the rock, and cover you with My hand while I pass by, so you will not see My glory as expressed in My face; then I will remove My hand so you will see My glory expressed at My back parts (v 22-23)

God proclaims Himself (34:5)

Heb. qara, to accost a person met; to call out to; to address by name; to introduce or announce self; publish; pronounce; make a proclamation (32:5; 33:19; 34:4-6; Lev. 23:2-4, 21, 37; 25:10; Dt. 20:10; Judg. 7:3; 1 Ki. 21:9-12; Pr. 20:6; Isa. 61:1-2; 62:11)

10 names and attributes of God proclaimed by Himself:

1 Heb. Yehovah, Jehovah (v 6)
2 Heb. El Yehovah, Strong Jehovah
3 Heb. rachum, merciful, full of tenderness and compassion
4 Heb. channun, gracious
5 Heb. arek-aph, longsuffering, not easily angered or irritated
6 Heb. rab-checed, abundant and sufficient in goodness, kindness, and love and faithfulness
7 Heb. emeth, truth, trustworthiness,
8 Heb. natsar checed, guarding or protecting kindness and mercy (v 7)
9 Heb. naṣa avon pesha chattaah, lifting up and carrying away moral evil and perversity, moral and religious revolt, and all offences
10 Heb. paqad avon, overseeing punishment for moral evil

These things combine to give the real meaning of the word Jehovah. Thus, He is all things to all men. God exercises all the above qualities in His many dealings with men - manifesting strength, mercy, tenderness, compassion, graciousness, longsuffering, goodness, kindness, love, faithfulness, trustworthiness, and moral cleansing, as well as administering punishments whenever they are needed a 3 commands - anointing the tabernacle:

1 Take the anointing oil, anoint the tabernacle and all things in it to be holy (v 9)
2 Anoint the brazen altar in the outer court and all its vessels to be holy (v 10)
3 Anoint the laver and its foot to sanctify it to be holy (v 11)

b 4 commands - consecration of priests:
1 Bring Aaron and sons to the laver and wash them with water (v 12)
2 Put the holy garments upon Aaron, anoint him, and sanctify him to the office of the high priest (v 13)
3 Bring his sons and put coats upon them (v 14)
4 Anoint them to be priests unto Me forever (v 15) c The 1st month, but the full year had not yet ended. The 14th of this month and a year before, the first passover had been held (12:2-6, 18). In 15 more days they could say that a year before they had left Egypt: so the tabernacle was set up in one day exactly 11 1/2 months after they had left Egypt. On the 14th of this month the 2nd year they kept the 2nd passover (Num. 9:1-3). On the 1st day of the 2nd month Israel was numbered (Num. 1:1-2). On the 20th day of the 2nd month, or 50 days after the tabernacle was set up, it was taken down and the journey to Canaan was resumed (Num. 10:11-13). During these 50 days the book of Leviticus and Num. 1:1-10: 10 were written and the events therein transpired

1 Fastened sockets or foundations (v
2 Set up the boards for the wall 18)
3 Put in the bars to make walls firm
4 Set up the pillars or posts
5 Spread tent over tabernacle (v 19)
6 Put coverings over the tent

The Mosaic tabernacle (33:7)

Heb. ohel, tent, dwelling. It is trans. tent 134 times (Gen. 9:21; 12:8; 13:3; 18:1); tabernacle 203 times (26:9, 13-35); and dwelling (Job 36:15; Ps. 52:5; 91:10). The Heb. mishkan is trans. tabernacle 114 times, referring to the tabernacle of Moses and the temple of Solomon, or God's dwelling among men. It is never trans. tent, temple, house; but trans. dwell, meaning God dwells (Ps. 26:8; 49:11; 74:7; 87:2; 1 Chr. 6:32) and dwelling place of man (18:21; 21:28; 39:6; Isa. 32:18; Jer. 9:19; 30:10; 50:30; Ezek. 25:4; Hab. 1:6). The 2 words are used interchangeably referring to the same tabernacle made at Sinai. Cp. ohel (26:9; 27:21; 35:11; 36:37; 38:8, 30; 40:12) with mishkan used in the same chapters of the same dwelling place of God (26:1,6-7,12-35; 27:9, 19; 35:11, 15, 18; 36:8-37; 38:20-21, 31; 40:2-38). Ohel is also used in one place of the tabernacle of the congregation in Israel before the tabernacle commanded at Sinai was made (33:7-11)

8 names of Moses' tabernacle:

1 The tabernacle of the congregation (126 times, 27:21; 28:43; 29:4, 10-11)
2 The tabernacle of the tent of the congregation (39:32; 40:2, 6, 29)
3 The tabernacle (40:28; Num. 1:50)
4 The tabernacle of the Lord (17:4)
5 The tabernacle of testimony (Num. 1:50-53) 7)
6 The tabernacle of witness (Num. 17:
7 The Lord's tabernacle (Josh. 22:19)
8 The tabernacle of the house of God (1 Chr. 6:48)

The whole building, the outer court and the holy and most holy places were called the tabernacle. In Heb. 9:1-8 the holy and most holy places are called the first and second tabernacle

12 reasons God segregated Israel (34:16)

1 This was God's plan for all nations (Dt. 32:8; Acts 17:26), and will be enforced when Messiah comes (Isa. 11:11-12; Ezek. 37; 48; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 14:16-21) door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

7 And thou shalt set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.

8 And thou shalt set up the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court gate.

7 Anointing the tabernacle

9 And thou [a]shalt, take the anointing oil, and anoint the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and shalt hallow it, and all the vessels thereof: and it shall be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoint the altar of the burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar: and it shall be an altar most holy.

11 And thou shalt anoint the laver and his foot, and sanctify it.

8 Consecration of the priests (Ex. 29:1-27)

12 And thou [b]shalt bring Aâr'on and his sons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put upon Aâr'on the holy garments, and anoint him, and sanctify him; that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

14 And thou shalt bring his sons, and clothe them with coats:

15 And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office: for their anointing shall surely be an everlasting priesthood throughout their generations.

9 Tabernacle set up. (1) Date of erection 16 Thus did Mô'şeş: according to all that the LORD commanded him, so did he.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the [c]first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the tabernacle was reared up.

(2) The tabernacle erected

18 And Mô'şeş [d]reared up the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof, and reared up his pillars.

19 And he spread abroad the tent over the tabernacle, and put the covering of the tent above upon it; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

(3) Placing the ark, the only piece of furniture in the most holy place (Ex. 26:33-34)

20 ¶ And he [e]took and put the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark:

21 And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and set up the veil of the covering, and covered the ark of the testimony; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

(4) Placing the three pieces of furniture in the Holy Place

22 ¶ And [a]he put the table in the tent of the congregation, upon the side of the tabernacle northward, without the veil.

23 And he set the bread in order upon it before the LORD; as the LORD had commanded Mô'şeş.

24 ¶ And he put the candlestick in the tent of the congregation, over against the table, on the side of the tabernacle southward.

25 And he lighted the lamps before the LORD; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

26 ¶ And he put the golden altar in the tent of the congregation before the veil:

27 And he burnt sweet incense thereon; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

(5) The court of the tabernacle erected and its two pieces of furniture placed 28 ¶ [b]And he set up the hanging at the door of the tabernacle.

29 And he put the altar of burnt offering by the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation, and offered upon it the burnt offering and the meat offering; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

30 ¶ And he set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and put water there, to wash withal.

31 And Mô'şeş and Aâr'on and his sons [c]washed their hands and their feet thereat:

32 When they went into the tent of the congregation, and when they came near unto the altar, they washed; as the LORD commanded Mô'şeş.

33 And he reared up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, and set up the hanging of the court gate. [d]So Mô'şeş finished the work.

10 The glory appears and remains on the tabernacle (Ex. 13:21; 30:43)

34 ¶ [e]Then a cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

35 And Mô'şeş was not able to enter into the tent of the congregation, because the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

36 And [f]when the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the children of Iş'ra-el went onward in all their journeys:

37 But if the cloud were not taken up, then they journeyed not till the day that it was taken up.

38 For the cloud of the LORD was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Iş'ra-el, throughout all their journeys.

a 6 acts - arranging the holy place:
1 Moses put the table in the holy place on the side of the tabernacle northward (v 22)
2 Set the bread in order upon it (v 23)
3 Put the candlestick on the opposite side of the tabernacle (v 24) 25)
4 Lighted the lamps before Jehovah (v
5 Put the golden altar before the ark just this side of the inner vail (v 26)
6 Burnt sweet incense on it (v 27)

b 8 acts - arrangement of outer court:
1 Moses hung the outer vail to the tabernacle (v 28)
2 Put the brazen altar by the door of the outer court (v 29)
3 Offered burnt offerings and meat offerings to the Lord
4 Set the laver between the brazen altar and the tabernacle door (v 30)
5 Put water in the laver
6 Washed hands and feet before service in the tabernacle worship (v 31-32)
7 Set up the outer court (v 33)
8 Hung the gate to the outer court

c Such washings were done by the persons themselves, and could not be called baptisms, as some teach d Moses personally supervised all the work of setting up the tabernacle and carried on the priestly work until it was finished. He was the one who had received the instructions and commands concerning these matters so he saw to it that everything was done as commanded. All the acts of v 18-33 were mainly those of Moses. He showed those who were to be responsible for taking down and setting up the tabernacle how to do everything. He was the first to light the lamps (v 25), to burn incense on the golden altar (v 26-27), to offer burnt and meat offerings (v 29), to wash in the laver (v 31), and to anoint and sanctify the high priest and other priests (v 12-15). He was the one who anointed the whole tabernacle and furniture (v 9-11), and placed all the furniture where it was commanded to be (v 20-33)

e The cloud, the symbol of the visible presence of God, and the glory of God filled the tabernacle when all things were completed, anointed, sanctified, and made holy for divine services and the Divine Presence (v 34). Moses could not enter the tabernacle for such overwhelming glory (v 35). A similar glory appeared when Solomon finished the temple (1 Ki. 8:10-11). About 650 years of blessings and curses upon Israel were experienced by the nation between these two events

f This was the sign for Israel either to move or make camp in all their journeys (v 36-38. Cp. 13:21-22)

2 To fulfil the covenants and promises made to Abraham regarding his seed being a great nation (Gen. 12:1-3)

3 To fulfil His covenants and promises to Abraham regarding the land of Canaan being the home of his seed eternally (Gen. 15:18-21; 17:8)

4 To destroy the mighty races of giants whom Satan had raised up in an effort to do away with pure Adamite stock hoping to keep the Seed of the woman from coming into the world which would have averted his own doom. See Giants and sons of God, p. 62

5 To destroy all the Canaanite nations for their wickedness (Dt. 7:1-24; 9:5)

6 To have a people of pure Adamite stock through whom the Messiah should come (Gen. 3:15; Rom. 9:3-5)

7 To make Israel the channel of the revelation of God to man (Rom. 3:2; 9:3-5)

8 To make them the head of all nations forever (Dt. 15:16; 28:13)

9 To evangelize the nations (Gen. 12:1-3; Isa. 2:1-4; 52:7; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)

10 To be a kingdom of priests to represent God in true worship (Ex. 19:6)

11 To be a holy nation and a special people of God to exemplify the grace and blessings of God, physically, mentally, materially, and spiritually (Ex. 19:6; Dt. 7:6-8)

12 To demonstrate the futility of idolatry and sin to all nations (Ex. 20:1-6; 32:21-25; 34:15-17; Dt. 7:1-6; 13:1-18; 18:9-14)

These purposes of God in the segregation of men will be eternally realized

Amram (2:1)

This was Amram who married Jochebed and had 3 children: Miriam, Aaron, Moses (6:18-20; 15:20-21; Num. 12; 20:1; 26:59; Dt. 24:9; 1 Chr. 6:3; Mic. 6:4). We take it from 2:4-8 that Miriam was several years older than her brothers. Aaron was 3 years older than Moses (7:7). The father, Amram, was the son of Kohath, a son born to Levi before he went to Egypt (Gen. 46:11). How old Kohath was when Amram was born is not known. Both Amram and Jochebed though, were born in Egypt some time after the Israelites began the 215 year sojourn there (Num. 26:59). We know that Aaron was 83 years old and Moses 80 when he led Israel out of Egypt (7:7; Acts 7:23,30,36). Subtracting 83 (the number of years of the 215-year sojourn that Aaron, the older son of Amram lived in Egypt) we then have a period of 132 years for Kohath to have Amram, for Amram to grow up, marry Jochebed, and have Miriam, and Aaron, with Moses being born 3 years later

Age of Moses at adoption (2:10)

How old Moses was at this time is not stated. Perhaps he was nearly 5 when he was fully weaned as Isaac was, for we read the same statement, the child grew, and was weaned, regarding him (Gen. 21:8). Cp. Judg. 13:24; 1 Sam. 2:21, 26; 3:19; Lk. 1:80; 2:40. Moses was now old enough to begin his education as the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He was finally learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and became mighty in words and deeds (Acts 7:22). Josephus says he was put in command of the Egyptian war against the Ethiopians and conquered them completely

Six acts of Moses in Egypt (2:15):

1 Inspected slavery of brethren (v 11)
2 Intervened to deliver a brother
3 Sought to unite his brethren (v 13)
4 Misjudged his brethren (Acts 7:25)
5 Became afraid for his life (v 14). The not fearing of Heb. 11:27 refers to Ex. 10:28-29
6 Fled from Pharaoh (v 15)

Marriage of Moses (2:21)

Generally the proposal of marriage came from the parents of the bridegroom, but sometimes the custom was reversed, as here and in Josh. 15:16-17; 1 Sam. 18:27. Zipporah was called an Ethiopian by Aaron and Miriam (Num. 12). This simply means that she was an Ethiopian subject. Ethiopia perhaps having rule of the Midianites at this time. She was not a negro, but a distant relative of Moses, being the daughter of Midian, the son of Abraham (v 15-22; 3:1; Gen. 25:1-7). She was sent home after the experience at the inn (4:24-26), and re-united with Moses in the wilderness of Sinai (18:1-27)

God identifies Himself (3:6)

God identified Himself as the God of Amram (your father), Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 6). On this and similar verses Christ founded the doctrine of the resurrection and immortality of the inner man, by claiming that these men are still alive and will be resurrected bodily in due time (Mt. 22:31-32). If they are alive, then all who die are still alive in soul and spirit. It is only the body that dies at physical death (Jas. 2:26) and it is only the body that will be resurrected (Jn. 5:28-29; Dan. 12:2)

22 predictions of God in Exodus 3-4 (3:8):

17 He will be to you as a mouth (4:16)

21 I will harden Pharaoh's heart that he will not let Israel go (4:21)
22 I will slay the firstborn of Egypt if he will not let Israel go (4:23)

Summary of Exodus

Date and place: written as part of the law during the 11 months at Mt. Sinai - about 1688 B.C.

Author: Moses, the lawgiver and leader of Israel during the exodus and the wilderness wanderings. See Moses in Index

Proof of authorship: see note g, 17:14 and 16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch, Summary of Genesis

Theme: among the ancient Jews the Pentateuch was in the form of one book, and written on one scroll, called Ha-Torah, The Law, and Sepher Ha-Torah, The Book of the Law. It was in time divided into 5 sections called, The five parts of the law, each section named by the leading Heb. word or words in the first verse. The title of this book was Elle-Shemoth, These the Names, or simply Shemoth, Names. Exodus signifies a departure or going out, referring to the leading event of the book, the going out of Egypt by the children of Israel. The structure of the book in the first few sentences show that it is a part of and a continuation of Genesis. It introduces another great epoch in the history of Israel. What Genesis sets forth in prophecy, Exodus records in history. It records the wonderful prophetic increase of Israel during the 145 years between Joseph and the Exodus; the persecution and oppression of Israel in Egypt; their deliverance by the power of God; the exodus from Egypt; the giving of the law; the building of the tabernacle; and the beginning of the Aaronic priesthood. It sketches the early life of Moses and his call to lead Israel out of Egypt; tells of the plagues which made Pharaoh willing to permit Israel to leave; and records the fundamental principles of the constitution of the Jewish nation. Here we have the history of the political and religious organization of Israel as a people of God and a mighty nation among men. The book may be divided into two main parts: Historical (1:1-19:25) and Legislative (20:1-40:38)

Purpose: to continue the history of Israel in fulfillment of the covenant, the promises, and the prophecies given to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob concerning their seed; to show the time, circumstances, the purpose of the law given by Moses to Israel; and to record the organization of the nation and the establishment of a visible form or worship with God dwelling in the midst of His people

Statistics: 2nd book of the Bible; 40 chapters; 1,213 verses; 32,692 words; 1,089 verses of history; 129 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 2 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 58 questions

See below

3 things Israel did in Egypt (2:23):

1 Sighed, Heb. anach, trans. sigh (v 23; Isa. 24:7; Lam. 1:4, 8, 11, 21; Ezek. 9:4; 21:6-7) and mourn (Pr. 29:2; Isa. 51:11)
2 Cried, Heb. zaaq, to shriek from anguish or danger (v 23; Judg. 3:9, 15; 6:6-7; 10:10; 1 Sam. 4:13; 5:10; 7:9; 12:8-10; 28:12; 1 Chr. 5:20; 2 Chr. 18:31; 32:20; Neh. 9:4, 28; Ezra 4:1; Ps. 22:5; 107:13; 142:1, 5; Isa. 26:17; 57:13; Jer. 20:8; 30:15; Ezek. 9:8; 11:13; Hos. 7:14; Jonah 1:5; Zech. 6:8)
3 Groaned, Heb. neaqah (v 24; 6:5; Judg. 2:18; Ezek. 30:24). By reading the above scriptures one can picture the anguish, pain, sorrow, distress, grief, torture, and agony of the Israelites under bondage. Ps. 88-89 might refer to this. Such sufferings might have been necessary to make Israel willing to leave Egypt. Even as it was they were always longing to go back (Ex. 16:3; 17:3; 14:2-4)

8 sacred mountains in Scripture (3:1):

1 Mt. Sinai and Horeb (v 1; 4:27; 18:5; 24:13; Num. 10:33; 1 Ki. 19:8). Sinai is mentioned as a wilderness and a mountain 35 times (19:1-23; Num. 1:1; 3:1; Gal. 4:24-25). In 17 passages the same desert and mountain are called Horeb (3:1; 33:6; Dt. 1:6; 4:10-15; 5:2; 29:1; 1 Ki. 19:8; Ps. 106:10; Mal. 4:4)
2 Mt. Moriah (Gen. 22:2; 1 Chr. 21:18; 2 Chr. 3:1)

9 answers of Pharaoh to God's demands (5:2)

Dense darkness (10:21)

The darkness which could be felt (v 21), was so dense that no artificial light could penetrate it enough for any person or thing to be seen. Not a person could move from his place (v 23). This could be a picture of the outer darkness of hell (Mt. 8:12; 22:13; 25:30; 2 Pet. 2:4, 17; Jude 6, 13). In what sense the darkness and fire of hell will be combined is not explained, but both are and will be literal in all eternity (Isa. 66:24; Mt. 13:42-50; 25:41, 46; Mk. 9:32-49; Rev. 14:9-11; 20:10-15; 21:8; 22:15). See Hell in Index

Thick darkness is mentioned in v 22; 22:21; Dt. 5:22; 1 Ki. 8:12; 2 Chr. 6:1; Job 38:9; Joel 2:2; Zeph. 1:15. This evidently is the same as the thick cloud of 19:9, 16; 2 Sam. 22:12; Job 22:14; 26:8; 37:11; Ps. 18:11-12. It is clear that the darkness and clouds are of the same material substance

7 cases of darkness (10:21)

1 Darkness at creation of the earth (Job 38:9). Cp. with 5 future times there will be darkness on earth (note c, Rev. 6:12)
2 Curse of darkness on earth (Gen. 1:2)
3 Horror of darkness on Abraham (Gen. 15:12) 21:22)
4 Curse of darkness in Egypt (Ex. 10:
5 Darkness between Israelites and Egyptians (Ex. 14:20; Josh. 24:7)
6 Darkness on Sinai when the law was given (Ex. 20:21; Dt. 4:11; 5:22-23; Heb. 12:18)
7 Darkness at the crucifixion (Mt. 27:45; Mk. 15:33; Lk. 23:44)

14 rulers offended by God's servants (10:28)

1 Pharaoh by Abraham (Gen. 12:10-20)
2 Abimelech by Abraham (Gen. 20)
3 Abimelech by Isaac (Gen. 26:6-16)
4 Pharaoh by Moses (Ex. 10:24-29)
5 Balak by Balaam (Num. 24:10-11)
6 Jeroboam by a prophet (1 Ki. 13:4)
7 Ahab by Micaiah (1 Ki. 22:6-28)
8 Namaan by Elisha (2 Ki. 5:10-19)
9 Asa by Hanani (2 Chr. 16:7-11)
10 Joash by Zechariah (2 Chr. 24:20-22) 21) 11 Uzziah by Azariah (2 Chr. 26:16-12 Jehoiakim by Urijah (Jer. 26:20-24)
13 Zedekiah by Jeremiah (Jer. 32:1-5)
14 Herod by John the Baptist (Mt. 14:3)

Double miracle (11:7)

1 The howling of dogs at the time of death. It is a well known fact that this often happens. There must have been much howling when all the firstborn of of Egypt were killed. But no dog raised his voice over an Israelite, for none died

2 The miraculous way in which Israel was protected of God when leaving Egypt. It is likely that the dogs were supernaturally hushed in their barking at night when the millions of Hebrews began to be on the move to leave Egypt

Dogs were held sacred by Egyptians, and in one city called Anubis, the city of the dog, they were fed consecrated food in the temple dedicated to the dog god. Thus, even this final miracle before Israel left Egypt, was directed against another one of the gods of Egypt

Jewish calendar (12:2)

The month Abib (13:4), later called Nisan, corresponding somewhat with our month of April (Neh. 2:1; Esther 3:7). Israel's year previously began with Tishri, which is now the 7th month corresponding with our September. Jews still consider Abib or Nisan as the beginning of their sacred year and Tisri as the beginning of the civil year. The 15th day of Abib became the ruling date of all events of the year

Jewish calendar compared to ours:

1 Abib (Nisan)..... March-April
2 Iyyar (Ziv)..... April-May
3 Sivan..... May-June
4 Tammuz..... June-July
5 Ab..... July-August
6 Elul..... August-September
7 Tishri (Tisri)... September-October
8 Marchesvan (Bul) October-November
9 Chisleu..... November-December
10 Tebeth..... December-January
11 Sebat..... January-February
12 Adar..... February-March

To maintain the relation of the lunar months to the solar year, it was periodically necessary to add a 13th month, which was called Second Adar, Jewish months are generally identified by number instead of names, in Scripture, as follows:

1 The first month (30 times); Abib (Ex. 13:4); Nisan (Neh. 2:1; Esther 3:7)
2 The second month (12 times); Ziv (1 Ki. 6:1, 37) (Esther 8:9)
3 The third month (6 times); Sivan
4 The fourth month (5 times)
5 The fifth month (11 times)
6 The sixth month (6 times); Elul (Neh. 6:15)
7 The seventh month (27 times)
8 The eighth month (5 times); Bul (1 Ki. 6:38) (Neh. 1:1)
9 The ninth month (8 times); Chisleu
10 The tenth month (9 times); Tebeth (Esther 2:16) Sebat (Zech. 1:7)
11 The eleventh month (2 times);
12 The twelfth month (9 times); Adar (Ezra 6:15; Esther 3:7, 13; 8:12; 9:1, 15, 17, 19; 9:21)

It is remarkable and to our advantage that the law of religion regarding days, weeks, months, years, sabbaths, new moons, feasts, and various rituals and forms of worship has been done away with entirely in the N. T. No mention of any one particular month is made in the entire N. T. as compared to the above 149 times in the O. T. Paul condemns the observance of days, months, times, and years, and having respect of an holyday, the new moon, or sabbath days as essential to salvation in the new-covenant program (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17)

14 examples of being angry (12:8):

1 Esau against Jacob (Gen. 27:45)
2 Jacob against Rachel (Gen. 30:2)
3 Simeon and Levi against Shechem (Gen. 49:6-7)
4 Moses against Pharaoh (Ex. 11:8); and against Israel (Ex. 32:19)
5 Balaam against an ass (Num. 24:10)
6 Balak against Balaam (Num. 24:10)
7 Samson against Philistines (Judg. 14:19)
8 Saul against Ammonites (1 Sam. 11:6); and against Jonathan (1 Sam. 20:30-34)
9 Eliab against David (1 Sam. 17:28)
10 David against a rich man (1 Sam. 12:5) 1:12) 11 Ahasuerus against Vashti (Esther 12 Nebuchadnezzar against wise men (Dan. 2:12)
13 Jonah against God (Jonah 4)
14 Jesus against hypocrites (Mk. 3:5)

Judgment on gods of Egypt (12:12)

The death of the firstborn was a blow against all the gods of Egypt (v 12), for they were worshipped as different animals; and to slay the firstborn of beasts as well as men was literally bringing judgment on the gods. Cp. Isa. 19:1; Jer. 43:13. When any idolatrous nation was destroyed the blame fell upon the gods who were supposed to have abandoned the nation or been overcome by stronger gods (cp. Isa. 37:6-13)

10 plagues against gods of Egypt:

1 Turning the Nile to blood was against worship of the river as a god under the name father of the gods or father of life (note i, 7:19)
2 Bringing up frogs was directed against the frog-god idol of Egypt, causing Egyptians to abhor frogs and despise this particular god (note f, 8:1)
3 The creation of lice or mosquito gnats and other insects was to show the powerlessness of the insect-god to protect from them (note g, 8:16)
4 The creation of flies was to show the powerlessness of Beelzebub, the god of flies, to protect the people from such insects (note k, 8:21)
5 The murrain (pestilence) upon the stock of Egypt was to prove that the very creatures the people held as sacred objects of worship were powerless to protect themselves from the God of the Hebrews (note d, 9:26)
6 The boils and blains upon man and beast were directed against gods that were worshipped to protect from such plagues (note d, 8:26; notes g, j, 9:8, 11)
7 The hail and fire plague was against the gods that were worshipped to protect Egypt from such (note c, 9:18)
8 The locust plague was against the locust-god who was thought to be the protector from these creatures (note g, 10:4)
9 The darkness was a blow against the sun-god who was worshipped as one to protect from any curse of the sun, and as the provider of light, warmth, and fruitfulness through the sun (note c, 10:23)
10 The death of the firstborn was directed against all the gods of Egypt, for they were supposed to protect the lives of both men and beasts. The very choice of each family died as proof that no god of Egypt had power to stand against the God of the Hebrews (note q, 11:4)

Why the firstborn were chosen (13:14)

This explains why the firstborn of man and beast of the non-Levites were to be dedicated to God for the support of the Levites. The firstborn of Egyptians and their animals had been destroyed while those of Israel had not been; so to commemorate this miracle and render proper thanks to God the firstborn of males were to be given (v 14-16). By this we mean that non-Levite boys were redeemed for a fee of $3.20 each (note a, above; Num. 3:45-51). In the case of an unclean animal, a lamb was given in its place if the owner wished to keep his beast alive (an ass for instance) to be used in work. Should the owner not want to give the Levites a lamb in exchange, he was under command then to kill the firstborn of the unclean animal (v 13). Rabbins taught that if a father neglected to redeem his firstborn, the son himself was to pay the redemption price when he came of age. Such redemption price did not typify redemption of the soul, for no blood was involved as required by Lev. 17:11. It related only to services

3 outstanding facts about God (15:11)

1 Glorious in holiness (v 11). This expresses His essential nature and divine perfection. As applied to God it means that which is wholly sacred and set apart for holy uses

18 ways "holiness" is used:

(1) Of God's true nature (v 11; Ps. 30:4; 97:12)
(2) In signets on the high priest's mitre (28:36; 39:30)
(3) Of worship to God (1 Chr. 16:29; Ps. 29:2; 96:9)
(4) Of praise to God (2 Chr. 20:21)
(5) Of separation to God (2 Chr. 31:18)
(6) Of God's throne (Ps. 47:8)
(7) Of God's dwelling (Ps. 48:1; Isa. 63:15; Jer. 31:23) 7; Jer. 23:9)
(8) Of God's revelation (Ps. 60:6; 108:7; Jer. 23:9)
(9) Of God's oath (Ps. 89:35; Amos 4:2)
(10) Of God's house (Ps. 93:5; Isa. 62:9)
(11) Of consecrated things (Isa. 23:18)
(12) Of a literal highway leading up to the temple of God (Isa. 35:8) 2:3)
(13) Of God's people (Isa. 63:18; Jer.
(14) Of human society (Oba. 17; Lk. 1:75) (Zech. 14:20-21)
(15) Inscription on bells and pots
(16) Of God's Spirit (Rom. 1:4)
(17) Of Christian living (Rom. 6:19, 22; 2 Cor. 7:1; Eph. 4:24; 1 Th. 3:13; 4:7; 1 Tim. 2:15; Tit. 2:3; Heb. 12:10, 14)
(18) Of the eternal state and nature of believers in heaven (1 Th. 3:13)

2 Fearful in praises (v 11). This literally refers to the reverential fear angels and men have of God

3 Doing wonders (v 11). God is eternally doing wonders in creation, redemption, and providence. They are seen in daily miracles of His manifestations in nature and otherwise

2 Destroyed the horses and riders
3 Destroyed all Pharaoh's army (v 4-4 Congealed the Red Sea (v 8) 8)
5 Melted the Red Sea (v 10, 19)
6 Did wonders for Israel (v 11-12)
7 Led Israel out of Egypt (v 13)
8 Redeemed Israel from bondage

God greater than Egyptian gods (15:11)

In the plagues of Egypt God had proved Himself greater than the gods worshipped by Egyptians. He had done glorious and wonderful things before all men. No god or man could withstand His power. His acts had already destroyed the land of Egypt and all the mighty armies of the greatest kingdom on earth at that time; and had brought fear and terror to the hearts of all the neighbors of Egypt who had seen and heard of His mighty deeds (v 11-16)

Prophetesses (15:20)

Heb. hannebiah, a woman who prophesies. First occurrence in the Bible. Rachel was the first woman to prophesy, but she is not called a prophetess (Gen.30:24). God has done so in the past and will yet pour out His Spirit upon women (Joel 2:28; Acts 2:16-21)

14 prophetesses:

1 Rachel (Gen. 30:24)
2 Miriam (Ex. 15:20)
3 Deborah (Judg. 4:4)
4 Huldah (2 Ki. 22:14; 2 Chr. 34:22)
5 Noadiah (Neh. 6:14)
6 Isaiah's wife (Isa. 8:3)
7 Elizabeth (Lk. 1:41-45)
8 Mary, mother of Jesus (Lk.1:46-55)
9 Anna (Lk. 1:36-38) 2:20)
10 Jezebel, a false prophetess (Rev. 11-14 Philip's 4 daughters (Acts 21:9)

Water miracles (15:22)

The first test for Israel after leaving Egypt through the Red Sea was regarding water (v 22-23). See note a, 8:22

7 water miracles of the exodus:

1 Water turned to blood (7:20-27)
2 Red Sea divided (14:21-22)
3 Red Sea drowning enemies (14:26-29; 15:8-19) 26)
4 Making bitter water sweet (15:23-5 Water from the rock (17:5-7) 7-13)
6 Water from the rock again (Num. 20:
7 Drying of Jordan (Josh. 3:13-4:23)

Marah (15:23)

Marah means bitter. There is no statement proving a spiritual, symbolic, or typical meaning. The experience at Marah was just another one in the training of God's people. There are many such lessons in Scripture, as follows:

1 Darkness before light (Gen.1:2-5)
2 Fall before salvation (Gen. 3)
3 Sacrifice before blessing (Gen. 4)
4 Marah before Elim (Ex. 15:23-27)
5 Wilderness before Canaan (Ex. 16)
6 Humiliation before exaltation (Lk. 14:11)
7 Death before life (Jn. 12:24)
8 Travail before birth (Jn. 16:21; Gal. 4:19) (Rom. 5)
9 Mortgage before redemption
10 Tribulation before patience (Rom. 5) Pet. 1:11; 4:13; 5:1) 11 Suffering before glory (Rom. 8:18; 1
12 Work before reward (1 Cor. 3:11-15)
13 Cross before crown (Gal. 6:14; 1 Tim. 4:8)
14 Fight before victory (2 Tim. 4:7-8)
15 Temptation before overcoming (Jas. 1:12-16; Rev. 2:7, 11, 17)

The basin of the well of bitter water is 8 ft. in diameter with about 2 ft. of water, which is said even now to contain sulphate of lime, magnesia, soda, potash, chloride of sodium, bituminous matter, silicic acid, and carbonic acid. These chemicals make the water unfit for drinking. Arabs seldom even permit their camels to drink of it

22 facts about sabbaths (16:23):

1 The words sabbath and seventh do not come from the same original word. The Heb. for sabbath is shabbath, meaning intermission or cessation from work. It is from shabath, to repose, desist from exertion; rest; and such rest does not have to be on the 7th day. The particular day does not make it a rest or a cessation. One can rest on any day, any time he ceases from work. It is the cessation that causes it to be the sabbath, not the day or time one ceases from work

2 Sabbaths have been observed on different days and for different lengths of time, as follows:

Sabbaths on different days:

(1) On the 1st day (Lev. 23:39)
(2) On the 7th day (Ex. 20:8)
(3) On the 8th day (Lev. 23:39)

Sabbaths of different lengths:

(1) 1 day long (Ex. 16:23-29)
(2) 2 days long (Lev.23:6-8,15-22)
(3) 1 year long (Lev. 25:4)
(4) 70 years long (2 Chr. 36:21)
(5) Eternity long (Heb. 4:9)

3 The 7th-day sabbaths of Israel were changing sabbaths, being observed on two different days each year because of an additional sabbath being observed at Pentecost. If we suppose, for instance, that the 15th of Abib (when Israel left Egypt) which was on the sabbath, was Saturday, then the 7th-day sabbath would fall on Saturday for 7 weeks or until 49 days had run their course. The 50th day, which would be Sunday, would be Pentecost. The next 7th-day sabbath after Pentecost would fall on Sunday, and so it would be until Pentecost of the following year which would change the 7th-day sabbath again. This time it would fall on Monday until the next Pentecost which would be 50 days after the first 15 days of Abib, as stated, or on the 65th day of that particular new year. Thus, there was no such thing as the sabbath always being on Saturday throughout the year, or perpetually

4 Sabbaths were to be a delight instead of a burden and would have been if they had been observed lawfully, and the true nature of rest and worship maintained (Isa. 58:13)

5 Sabbaths were for Israel only (Ex. 16:29; 31:14; Ezek.20:12), Gentiles who wished to become apart of the nation of Israel could do so by meeting certain requirements, after which the sabbath laws applied to them (Ex. 12:49; Num. 15:16)

6 Sabbaths were to be observed holy (Ex. 16:23; 20:8; 35:2; Isa. 58:12; Jer. 17:21-27)

7 Sabbaths were to be observed unto God (Ex. 16:26)

8 Sabbaths were of or from the Lord (Ex. 20:10; 35:2; Lev. 23:3; Dt. 5:14)

9 They were to be kept (Ex. 31:14)

10 No work was to be done on sabbaths (Ex. 20:8-11; 31:15; 35:3; Num. 15:32; Jer. 17:21-27). The penalty for breaking this law was death (Num. 15:30-36)

11 Sabbaths were to be observed as a time of rest (Ex. 35:2; Lev. 16:31; 23: 3, 32)

12 They were to be sanctified or set apart by Israel (Dt. 5:12)

13 Sabbaths were commanded (Ex. 20:8-11; Dt. 5:15)

14 To Israel the 7th-day sabbath was a memorial of deliverance from slavery under Pharaoh (Dt. 5:15), not a commemoration of God's rest upon completing His work. The fact is, man's rest could not have been the same day that God rested, for man was only created the day before God's sabbath. He had worked no more than 1 day - and 6 days of work are required before a sabbath (Ex. 20:8-11). Because of its being a deliverance memorial it would be as meaningless for the church to observe the old Jewish sabbath to commemorate their deliverance from Pharaoh, as it would be for England to observe the 4th of July with Americans who thus commemorate their independence and freedom from bondage

15 Sabbaths are to be observed in the Millennium and New Earth, so that all flesh can come before God to worship (Isa. 66:22-24; Ezek. 44:24; 45:17; 46: 3). No scripture reveals what particular day will be observed in this future time. Whatever day it is that will be set apart it will be observed at different times throughout the earth (if world-wide observance is required) because there is as much as 2 days of variation in time around the globe. It may be that the coming sabbaths will be local in fulfillment with men being required to send representatives to Jerusalem at the specified time so that all may observe the same sabbaths at the same time in that one part of the earth. That universal gatherings to worship are to be representative is proved in Zech. 14:16-21

16 It is lawful to do good things on sabbaths (Mt. 12:2, 12; Mk. 2:27-28; 3:4; Lk. 6:9)

17 Man is lord of sabbaths. They are not to lord it over man. He was not made for them, but they were made for him (Mt. 12:8; Mk. 2:27-28; Lk. 6:5). Therefore, man can do and is always free to do that which is good and best for man on rest days

18 In man's beginning he was not required to observe the 7th day which God rested on and sanctified, He, Himself did not continue observing such a rest day because sin was committed by man almost immediately and He began the work of redemption (3:8-21) which still requires God's time every day in the week. Sinners can be saved any time they choose to come to God. It was 2,513 years after God's 7th-day sabbath when Israel was commanded to observe any particular day as illustrated by God's rest (Ex. 16:23-29; 20:8-11)

19 Jews proved the principle of doing good and performing essential duties on sabbaths by:

(1) Offering sacrifices (Num. 28: 9-10; 1 Chr. 9:32)
(2) Caring for animals (Mt. 12:11; Mk.2:27-28; 3:4; 13:15; 14:5) 22-23)
(3) Circumcising children (Jn. 7:
(4) Other essential work (Mt. 12:5)

20 Sabbaths were typical of eternal rest (Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 4:1-11; 10:1)

21 All the Jewish sabbaths were abolished and done away, with the Mosaic law. See note i, Acts 15:24; 95 old and new covenant contrasts, p. 201 of N.T.; Sabbath in Index

22 Law and sabbath keeping were not required by the apostles (Acts 15:5-29; Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-11; Col. 2:14-17)

24 reasons Christians observe 1st day:

1 The typical sabbaths of the law of Moses have been abolished. See Sabbath in Index

2 The new covenant does not command any particular day to be observed by Christians (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-11)

3 Christians are free to choose their own day of rest (Rom. 14:5-6)

4 They are commanded not to permit any man to judge them regarding a sabbath (Col. 2:14-17)

5 Rigid observance of days is rebuked by Paul (Gal. 4:9-11)

6 Sabbaths are not named among the necessary requirements of the gospel (Acts 15:1-29)

7 Real and eternal rest is in Christ, not in a day (Mt. 11:28-29; Heb. 4)

8 The 4th commandment (Ex. 20: 8-11) concerning the sabbath was left out of the new covenant (note i, Acts 15:24)

9 The 7th-day Jewish sabbath commemorated a deliverance from bondage in Egypt, with which Christians had no part (Dt. 5:15)

10 Going under the law to observe a sabbath would obligate them to keep the whole law of Moses (Gal. 3:10-14; 5:3, 9-11; Jas. 1:10)

11 Resting and worshipping on Sunday serve the same purpose as on Saturday

12 Early Christians kept the 1st day of the week (Jn. 20:1, 19, 26-29; Acts 20:6-12; 1 Cor. 16:1-2)

13 The Lord completed His redemptive work and His victory over death, hell, and the grave on Sunday, the 1st day

14 Christ's special manifestations to His disciples after the resurrection were on the 1st day of the week (Mt. 28; Mk. 16; Lk. 23-24; Jn. 20:19, 26)

15 No recognition was given by Christ or any apostle to the old Jewish 7th-day sabbath after the resurrection

16 The outpouring of the Holy Spirit was on the 1st day of the week, the day after 7 Jewish sabbaths (Acts 2:1)

17 After Christ's ascension, the first gospel sermon was preached on the 1st day; and the first conversions (about 3,000) took place on the 1st day (Acts 2:1-42)

18 The very lack of any warning by Christ and the apostles regarding it being sinful or "the mark of the beast" as some teach, to observe the 1st day of the week, shows that it is acceptable as a day of rest and worship

19 Typology of the old covenant makes the 1st day of the week prominent. The feasts of first-fruits and Pentecost were observed on the 1st day, as well as the feasts of unleavened bread and tabernacles (Lev. 23:8-14, 34-39)

20 God honored the 1st day by giving the law on that day (Ex. 19:1, 3, 11; Lev. 23:5-6 with Ex. 12:2-18)

21 God honored many 1st days of the week in Israel (2 Chr. 7:10; 29:17; Ezra 3:6; Neh. 8:14-18; etc.), Hence, to say that no religious service was ever honored of God on that day is unscriptural

22 God honored the 1st day again by giving the book of Revelation on that day (Rev. 1:10, notes; note k, Acts 20:7)

23 The new covenant frees from such bondages of the old covenant as the penalty of death for cooking, making fires, and performing other duties on a sabbath (Ex. 16:23; 20:8-10; 31:15; 35:2-5; Lev. 23:3; Num. 15:32)

24 Not a passage in the N.T. ever records a distinctive gathering of Christians on the Jewish 7th-day sabbath. On the contrary the records show that Christians gathered on Sunday, the 1st day of the week, which was called "the Lord's day" (Rev. 1:10), for worship (Jn. 20:1, 17; note k, Acts 20:7; 1 Cor. 16:2). See p. 191 of N.T.

Of the 60 times the word sabbath is found in the N.T., it is used 50 times before the new covenant was made. Of the remaining 10 times, 6 refer to Paul as preaching to the Jews (at non-Christian gatherings) on Jewish sabbath days (Acts 13:14, 42, 44; 17:1, 2; 18:4); 2 refer to the law of Moses being read by Jews in their synagogues on Jewish sabbaths (Acts 13:27; 15:21); 1 refers to Jewish travel as not more than a mile on the sabbath (Acts 1:12); and 1 plainly says all were abolished (Col. 2:14-17)

Had there been explicit commands to worship on any day, even the 1st day it would have brought about the same bondage as the law of Moses. The higher ideals and principles of Christianity would have then been regulated to days and seasons which God promised to abolish (Isa. 1:13; Hos. 2:11) and which He did abolish (2 Cor. 3:6-15; Gal. 3: 19-25; 4:21-31; 5:1-3; Eph. 2:14-15; Col. 2:14-17; Heb. 6:20-10:18). Whereas Israel was obliged to commemorate freedom from bondage with a yoke of bondage which included the sabbath-keeping law, Christians are free to commemorate their freedom on any day they choose (Rom. 14:5-6)

The Testimony (16:34)

This refers to the tabernacle of worship, especially to the ark of the testimony (v 34; 25:22; 26:33-34; 30:6, 26; 31:7; 38:21; 39:35; 40:3, 5, 21; Num. 4:5; 7:89; Josh. 4:16). The testimony here refers to the 2 tables of stone, the 10 commandments - the sum of the whole law (25:16, 21; 31:18; 32:15; 34:29; 40:20). It was considered the old testament or covenant (2 Cor. 3:6-15). The tabernacle is called the tabernacle of testimony (Num. 1:50-53; 10:11) and the tent of the testimony (Num. 9:15). The ark itself is also called the testimony because it contained the covenant (21:21; 30:36; Lev. 16:13; Num. 17:4, 10). Any covenant or word of God is called a testimony because it testifies of God's revelation and provision of redemption in Christ (Ps. 19:7; 119:88; 132:12; Isa. 8:16, 20; 1 Cor. 1:6; 2:1; 2 Tim. 1:8; Rev. 1:2, 9; 12:17; 19:10). The real tabernacle, ark, and testimony from which Moses made his are in heaven (Heb. 8:5; 9:23; Rev. 11:19; 15:5). Various parts of the Word of God are called testimonies (Dt. 4:45; 6:17, 20; 1 Ki. 2:3; Ps. 119:2, 14, 22, 24, 31, 36, 46, 59, 70, 95, 99, 111, 119, 125, 129, 138, 144, 146, 152, 157, 167, 168). Testimonies are distinguished from commandments (2 Ki. 23:3; 1 Chr. 29:19; 2 Chr. 34:31; Neh. 9:34), His covenant (Ps. 25:10), the ordinances (Ps. 99:7), and from the statutes (Jer. 44:23). All these are testimonies, but there are testimonies besides these

The ark and tabernacle were not yet made when the manna was put into the pot. We must therefore believe that putting the manna before the testimony was after the ark was made; or believe that there was some kind of tabernacle in Israel even before the one which Moses patterned after heavenly things as he was instructed to do at Sinai. Israel no doubt had such a place; even Adam and his sons had one (Gen. 4:7, note); and Moses pitched a tabernacle outside the camp before he made the one at Sinai (33:7-11). The one at Sinai was not set up until the 1st month of the 2nd year after leaving Egypt (40:2, 17); and it was placed inside the camp (Num. 2)

7 things "without the camp" (19:17):

1 God's meeting with Israel (v 17)
2 The first tabernacle (not the one Moses made at Sinai), all sacrifices, and worship (29:14; 33:7-11; Lev. 4:12, 21; 6:11; 8:17; 9:11; 10:45; 16:23-28; Heb. 13:11)
3 Slaying of sacrifices (Num. 19:3, 9)
4 Lepers (Lev. 13:45-46; 14:3, 8; Num. 5:2-4; 12:14-15)
5 Executions (Num. 15:35-36)
6 Purifications of persons (Num. 31:23-24; Dt. 23:10-11)
7 Christ's own sacrifice (Heb. 13:13)

14 cases of worship while standing (19:17):

1 Abraham before God (Gen. 18:22; 19:27)
2 Israel before God at Sinai (Ex. 19:17)
3 Moses before God on Sinai (Ex. 34:5)
4 Israel before God at Sinai (Lev. 9:5)

7 Christ standing to read (Lk. 4:16)
8 Multitudes in the plain (Lk. 6:17)
9 The sinner woman by Jesus (Lk. 7:38)
10 Pharisee and the publican (Lk. 18:11)
11 Redeemed before God in heaven (Rev. 7:11)
12 Angels before God (Rev. 7:11)
13 Angels at altar in heaven (Rev. 8:3)
14 144,000 in heaven (Rev. 14:1)

5 Descendants of Jehu to have the throne of Israel to the 4th generation (2 Ki. 10:30; 15:12)

Note: The statement them that hate Me indicates that any of the same family who might love God would be blessed of Him (v 5)

20 facts about 10 commandments (20:1, heading):

1 The term ten commandments is found only 3 times in Scripture (34:28; Dt. 4:13; 10:4)
2 The 10 commandments are a summary or basis of the whole law of Moses in the same sense that on these two commandments hang ALL the law and the prophets, as taught by Jesus in Mt. 22:35-40
3 They are the only part of the law of Moses spoken by God's audible voice to Israel (Dt. 5:22; 10:4)
4 They were not known to Adam. He had only one law and sin was imputed to him and the whole race for breaking it (Gen. 2:17; Rom. 5:12-21). There was no need to command Adam to honor father and mother when he had none; to command him not to commit adultery when there was no one to commit it with, or to command him not to steal when he owned all things and had no neighbors
5 The 10 commandments were not known to Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and the other fathers of Israel before Sinai (Dt. 5:2-3). The commands to Abraham and his seed were 14 in number (note m, Gen. 12:1; 26:5), besides the laws of human government handed down from Noah (Gen. 9:1-18). The laws in Israel before the Sinai commandments (referred to in 16:28), were the 184 commands given to Moses up to that time, and not the 10 commandments
6 They were not known in Israel before Sinai (Dt. 4:7-8; 5:2-3; Neh. 9:13-14)
7 They are found only in the law of Moses (Ex. 20; Dt. 5). If they had not been made a part of this law we should not have them, for where the stones are, on which God wrote His copy of them, is not known. To make the 10 commandments a separate law from that of Moses and call them the law of God because God made a copy of them, and to maintain they are not a part of the law of Moses because of this, is fallacy indeed
8 They are not the only commandments of Moses. There were 203 others (about the sabbath, passover and other things as well as personal commandments) given to him before the 10 on Sinai; and 155 were given to him at the same time he received the 10 (20:18-23:33). After receiving all these commandments the book of the law was ratified by blood of animals (24:1-8). Later, from time to time 2,345 other commands were added to the book of the law of Moses, as in Ex. 24-Dt. 34. See note g, 14:14; and 2,713 commands in the law of Moses, p. 113
9 The 10 commandments were called the covenant because they were the sum and basis of the entire contract between God and Israel at Sinai (34:28; Dt. 4:13). They were not the whole of the law of God and of Moses, but merely the first part of the contract that was spoken by God with His audible voice. God added no more by His audible voice (Dt. 5:22), not because His law was ended, but because Israel begged not to hear His voice any more lest they die (Dt. 5:23-29; Heb. 12:18-21)
10 The 10 commandments were given along with the rest of the law of God and Moses to Israel only (24:7-8; 34:27-28; Lev. 26:9, 44-45; 1 Ki. 8:53; Acts 3:25; Rom. 2:14-29; 3:1-2; 9:4-5). Gentiles were to have no part with Israel in keeping the law unless they became a part of the nation of Israel; and then there was to be ONE LAW for both in some things (12:24; Num. 15:16, 29). Gentiles could not partake with Israel in other things

10 things Gentiles could not do:

(1) Eat the passover without being circumcised (12:43, 45) 10-13)
(2) Eat holy things (29:33; Lev. 22:
(3) Be anointed with the holy anointing oil (30:33)
(4) Take any part in or come near the tabernacle work (Num. 1:51)
(5) Have part in the priesthood (Num. 3:10, 38)
(6) Offer incense to God (Lev. 16:40)
(7) Come near priests in their service (Num. 18:4, 7)
(8) Be king over Israel (Dt. 17:15)
(9) Be exempt from paying interest (Dt. 23:20) 20)
(10) Marry widows in Israel (Dt. 23:

No scripture in the Bible teaches that Gentile nations had the law of Moses and were under obligation to obey the 10 commandments or any other detail of Moses' law. The word stranger is used 68 times in that law and not once is it stated that they were equal with Israel in having the law. God dealt with Gentiles under the old program of imputing sin to them through Adam (Gen. 2:17; Rom. 5:12-21), and saving all who would obey the gospel or program of grace which was never a part of the law of Moses (Rom. 4; Gal. 3:3-16; Heb. 4:1-2; 11:1-40). Gentiles were under the Noahic covenant (Gen. 9) and the Abrahamic covenant (Gen. 12:1-3; Rom. 4), but not the Mosaic covenant. The fact that Gentiles had no part with Israel in the law is confirmed many times in the N. T. as follows:

(1) When Christ came to fulfill the law, He went only to Israel (Mt. 10:5-6; 15:24)
(2) Christ took the kingdom of God (not the law of Moses) from the Jews and gave it to the Gentiles when Israel made her final rejection of Him and His gospel (Mt. 21:33-46; Jn. 10:16)
(3) Gentiles are now blessed with Israel through the gospel of the N. T., not through the law of Moses (Jn. 3:16; Rom. 1:16; 11:1-25; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:28-29; Eph. 3:1-6; Col. 3:11)
(4) Gentiles do not become Jews or Israelites by faith (see notes, Rom. 2:28-29; 9:6-7)
(5) Under the law Jews had all the advantages over the Gentiles (Rom. 2:17-29; 3:1-2; 9:4-5), Under the N. T. and the gospel this is not true (Rom. 10:9-21; 11:1-25; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:28; Col. 3:11)
(6) Paul said plainly that the Gentiles did not have the law (Rom. 2:12-16)
(7) The apostles stated that Gentiles were aliens and strangers from the covenants and promises of Israel (Eph. 2:12, 19). They decided at the first general conference of Christians that the Gentiles were not to be required to be circumcised, keep sabbaths, or observe any other part of the law of Moses (Acts 15:1-41)

11 The 10 commandments as such, were not kept by the early Christians, as some teach. Only 9 of the 10 became a part of the N. T. program, the 4th commandment concerning the sabbath being omitted from the new covenant entirely. Christians are not under obligation to keep any particular sabbath, much less the old Jewish sabbath. Early Christians did not keep it and did not teach others to do so (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17). They observed the first day of the week, not as a matter of commandment or obligation, but for other reasons. See Sabbath in Index

12 The 10 commandments were not passed on from mouth to mouth or from father to son before they were given on Sinai, as some teach. There is no statement in Scripture that hints of such

13 They are the only part of the law of God and of Moses that was written and engraven on the 2 tables of stone (Dt. 4:13; 9:9-15; 10:4), and the only part that is emphasized by Paul as being abolished and done away (2 Cor. 3:6-15, notes; Col. 2:14-17)

14 They were given at the same time the so-called ceremonial laws were given (19:1-23; 24:12-18; 25:40; 26:30; 27:8; 31:18; 32:1-19; 33:6; 34:1-32; Lev. 7:38; 25:1; 26:46; 27:34; Num. 3:1; 15:22-23; 28:6; Heb. 8:5)

15 The Bible recognizes the 10 commandments as the law of Moses as well as the law of God. The many names and titles of the law prove there is no such thing as the 10 commandments being the law of God and not the law of Moses. They prove also that the other laws are not laws of Moses without being laws of God

The following terms are used interchangeably in Scripture of the same law - the law of God and of Moses: a law (Dt. 34:2-4; Ps. 78:5); the law (194 times, Josh. 1:7-8; 8:31-35; 22:5; 2 Ki. 17:13; Mt. 5:17; 7:12; 11:13; 23:23; Jn. 1:17; Heb. 7:11-10:28); My (God's) law (Ps. 89:30-31; Pr. 3:1; 7:2; Ezek. 22:26; Hos. 8:12-13); the law of the Lord (1 Chr. 16:40; Ezra 7:10; Lk. 2:22-39); the book (not stones) of the law of God (Josh. 24:25-26; 2 Chr. 17:6-9; Neh. 8:1-13; 9:3; 10:29); the book of the law of Moses (Josh. 8:31; 23:6; 2 Ki. 14:6; 2 Chr. 34:14-19; Neh. 8:1); the law of God and the law of Moses (Jn. 1:17; 7:19; 8:5; Acts 6:11, 14; 13:39; 15:5; Rom. 7:22-25; Heb. 10:28); the law of commandments and the handwriting of ordinances (Eph. 2:15; Col. 2:14-17); the law and commandment (2 Ki. 17:34); the statutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment (2 Ki. 17:37); the law and the commandment (2 Chr. 14:4); the WHOLE LAW and the statutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moses (2 Chr. 33:8); My (God's) commandments, and My statutes, according to ALL THE LAW (2 Ki. 17:13; 21:8); the WHOLE LAW (Gal. 5:3); Moses (Lk. 16:29, 31; 24:27, 44; Acts 15:21; 26:22; 28:23); and the old testament (2 Cor. 3:6-15; Heb. 8:6-9:10)

16 Christ and the apostles spoke of the 10 commandments as part of the law of Moses, so to make them the law of God only would be contradictory to such teaching. See Mt. 22:36-40 with Ex. 20:1-6; Mk. 7:10 with Ex. 20:12; Rom. 2:21-22; 7:7-16 with Ex. 20:12-17. See also Josh. 7:11; Ex. 20:15; note g. 17:14

17 They are declared by other Bible writers to have been written by Moses as part of his law (Josh. 1:8-9; Judg. 3:4; 1 Ki. 2:3; 2 Ki. 18:6; 21:8; 23:25; 1 Chr. 23:12; Neh. 1:7; 8:1; 10:29; Mal. 4:4). The sabbath in particular is declared to have been given by Moses and this was the 4th commandment of the 10 (Neh. 9:14)

18 They are spoken of as the covenant God made with Moses and Israel (34:28; 2 Chr. 5:10). Moses took the book of the covenant, which included the 10 commandments and 115 other commands, and dedicated it (24:7-8)

19 The ONE LAW of God and of Moses is not divided into a moral law (as some call the 10 commandments) and a ceremonial law (as they call the ordinances, statutes and judgments) - one written only on tables of stone and the other in a book. The whole law including the 10 commandments was written in Moses' book in due time. The word moral is not found in Scripture, but whatever is in the 10 commandments that suggests the term moral law, is also embodied in other laws called ordinances, statutes, and judgments. Regarding the regulation of life between the sexes, for instance, there are no less than 14 commands in Ex. 20:18-23:33 (20:26; 21:2-11, 22-23; 22:16-17, 19). While in the matter of religion and proper relationship to God, there are 3 commandments of the 10 regulating this, there are no less than 35 such commands in Ex. 20:18-23:33; 20:23-26; 22:20, 28-31; 23:13-19, 21-22, 24-25, 32-33). If the 10 commandments, then, are moral law, the 35 similar ones in the ordinances, statutes, and judgments are moral law in like manner the 10-commandment laws regarding sabbath-day observance, governing relationship with parents and society in general are far outnumbered in other parts of the law; so if one part is moral law the other parts must be also

The fact that some of the laws of God and of Moses are called commandments, some statutes, and judgments, and others ordinances, does not give us the right to divide the whole into moral and ceremonial laws. An ordinance is simply any authoritative rule of conduct, whether religious or civil. To say that it applies only to the rituals of the law of Moses is unscriptural. The word is used of both religious (12:14; 13:10; Ezek. 46:14; 1 Cor. 11:2) and civil laws (15:25-26; Lev. 18:1-30; 22:1-9; Josh. 24:20-25; 1 Sam. 30:25; Isa. 58:2)

7 examples of ordinances:

(1) Moral laws on marriage and sex in Lev. 18:1-29 are called ordinances (Lev. 18:30)

(2) The health law of cleansing from defilement is called an ordinance (Lev. 22:8-9)

(3) Religious laws - the 1st and 2nd of the 10 commandments are called ordinances (Josh. 24:20-25)

(4) Laws of conquest regarding spoils of battle are ordinances (1 Sam. 30:21-26)

(5) Civil laws of justice are called ordinances of justice (Isa. 58:2)

(6) Religious laws of giving to God's temple are called ordinances (Neh. 10:32)

(7) Civil laws of human government that have nothing to do with religion are called ordinances (Rom. 13:2; Col. 2:14, 20; 1 Pet. 2:13)

Judgments is just another term for commandments, for there is no difference in the 10 commandments of 20:1-17 and the other commandments called judgments in 21:1-23:33; 24:3; Lev. 18:4-5, 26; etc. as seen above. In both subject matter and wording they are essentially the same. The Heb. for judgments is mishpat, meaning a sentence or formal decree; a divine or human law; a charge. All commandments are laws, decrees, judgments. The judgments of Scripture were to be kept as much as commandments (Lev. 18:4-5, 26; 19:37; 20:22; 25:18); and were commanded as were other commandments (Dt. 7:11; 1 Ki. 8:58)

Statutes are simply authoritative ordinances or laws. The word is used in Scripture of laws God has commanded (15:26; 18:16; Lev. 10:11; 18:5, 26). There is no technical difference between the meanings of commandments, judgments, ordinances, statutes, or laws that would change the requirements of God to man; so whether one word or another is used, the laws that are stated are just as binding in one case as the other. Sometimes judgments and statutes are used together of the same laws (Lev. 26:46; Dt. 4:1, 5, 8; 5:1); and sometimes statutes and commandments or some other combination is used of the same laws (Dt. 5:31; 6:1-2; 7:11). All commandments are commanded (Dt. 4:13; 6:25; 27:1); the covenant is commanded (Dt. 4:13); statutes are commanded (Dt. 4:14; 6:17); judgments are commanded (Dt. 4:14; 6:20); testimonies are commanded (Dt. 6:17, 20); ordinances are commanded (Num. 19:2; 31:21); and all words of the Lord are commanded (35:1). All the laws spoken on Sinai, the tabernacle laws as well as others, were commandments (34:32; Lev. 7:38; 25:1; 26:46; 27:34). This gives us no authority to say that the ordinances of Eph. 2:15; Col. 2:14 refer only to a ceremonial part of Moses' law. The whole law of Moses contained commandments, statutes, and ordinances (2 Chr. 33:8), and so, when the law was abolished as plainly stated in 2 Cor. 3:6-15; Gal. 3:19-25; 4:21-31; Heb. 7:11-10:18, all of these, including the 10 commandments were abolished. In fact, it was the 10-commandment part written on stones that Paul specified as being abolished and done away (2 Cor. 3:6-15)

Therefore, in view of the above facts the theory that the law of commandments contained in ordinances (Eph. 2:15) and the handwriting of ordinances (Col. 2:14-17) refers solely to all the laws of Moses exclusive of the 10 commandments, and the theory that the 10 commandments are the only part of the law of Moses that has not been abolished, are proved unscriptural

20 The 10 commandments are not the only ones referred to when the word commandment or commandments is used in Scripture. Many times in the O. T. the 10 are not referred to at all (15:26; Gen. 26:5; Lev. 4:2, 13, 22; 22:31; 27:34; etc.). In Mt. 5:19; Jn. 14:15-21; 15:10; Acts 1:2; 1 Cor. 7:19; 14:37; 1 Jn. 2:3-4; 3:22-24; 5:2-6; 2 Jn. 6; Rev. 12:17; 14:12; 22:14 the word commandments refers to the commandments of the N.T. (of which there are 1,050) and not the 10. A study of the N. T. commands will show that 9 of the 10 were carried over into the new covenant, and that the one excluded was the 4th concerning the sabbath (Rom. 14:5-6; Col. 2:14-17). 4 2,345 commands which are additions to the book of the law of Moses (24:1-Dt. 34:12). In all we have 2,277 commands embodied in 445 laws of Moses, which are listed below. They were the rules of religion and morals for all Israel until the Messiah should come to make the new covenant (p. 201 of N. T.). Many of the commands have been repeated in Scripture; and so, they are listed herewith in groups, in the case of the 10 commandments, for instance, there are 225 statements or commands repeating some phase of them

Remember the sabbath (20:8)

Heb. zakar, to mark in the mind; be mindful; bring to remembrance; think on. This command was to keep Israel mindful of Ex. 16:22-26 where we have the first commandment for men to observe a particular day as a day of rest. It does not, and could not refer to Gen. 2:2-3 which concerns the rest of God after His work. In no place in Scripture is there a command for that to be remembered any more than various other acts of God. This does not prove a long standing institution or something well known to man for many centuries any more than the same word in Ex. 13:3 proves that the children of Israel had come out of bondage many centuries before, it refers to a present and recent event in both places - 13:3 and 20:8 (see note c, 13:3). What were the Israelites to remember here? The sabbath day to observe it holy (v 8). When were they first given the commandment to keep a sabbath? In Ex. 16:22-26, not in Gen. 2:2-3. In fact, in Dt. 5:12 the Remember is changed to Keep, Israel was to keep this day to sanctify it, as God had commanded them. God did not command them in Gen. 2:2-3, but in Ex. 16:22-26, thus proving the sabbath commandment was a recent one. See Sabbath in Index

7 classes not to work on sabbath (20:10):

1 Parents (v 10)	4 Menservants
2 Sons	5 Maidservants
3 Daughters	6 Cattle
	7 Strangers

The list in Dt. 5:14 adds, nor thine ox, nor thine ass. God wisely did not list the Levites, for they were commanded to work on the sabbath, butchering and offering sacrifices (Num. 28:9-10; 1 Chr. 9:32). Necessary work was not forbidden (Lev. 12:5 with Jn. 7:22-23). The kind of work specified as not to be done on the sabbath was servile, that which required the use of any animals or slaves, and even that which was unnecessary by the masters (Lev. 23:7-8, 21, 25, 35). This allowed for emergencies, and all necessary care of stock as mentioned in Mt. 12:3-8, 12; Mk. 2:27-28; 3:4; Lk. 13:15; 14:5. Every occupation was to observe rest that came under the heading of labor, business, and industrial employment (16:23; 31:21; 35:3; Num. 15:32; Neh. 13:15; Jer. 17:21). In religion, certain work was necessary and lawful

4 things taught by this parable (20:11)

1 That God Himself worked in the re-creation of the earth from chaos to a second habitable state the same length and number of days that He now commanded Israel to work (20:8-11 with Gen. 1:3-31)
2 That God rested the same length and number of days that Israel was told to rest (20:8-11 with Gen. 2:2-3)
3 The Lord made (did not originally create) the heavens and the earth in 6 literal 24-hour days (20:8-11 with Gen. 1:3-31)
4 That as God sanctified or hallowed a day of rest for Himself, so Israel was to sanctify (set apart) a day of rest for themselves (20:11 with Gen. 2:2-3; Dt. 5:12)

The sabbath was a mere type of rest in Christ (Mt. 11:28-30; Col. 2:14-17). The type was in force until Christ came as the reality of what it typified. Therefore, all obligation to observe a set day as a shadow of something to come is ended (Gal. 3:19-25; 4:21-31; Heb. 7:11-10:18)

Terror-stricken people (20:18)

Probably at the end of each commandment there was lightning and a long, loud, deafening peal of thunder to impress Israel with the sacredness of the divine majesty and the holiness of Jehovah and His law. At least, the people became terror-stricken and fled from the mount, whereas before they were pressing so close toward it that Moses had to go down and warn them not to break through in their gazing (19:17-25). The sight and sound were so terrible that even Moses who was with God said I exceedingly fear and quake (Heb. 12: 18-21). This only emphasized the importance of a mediator between God and man (1 Tim. 2:4-5)

5 times God proved Israel (20:20):

1 Gave manna (16:4; Dt. 8:16)
2 Spoke from heaven (20:20)
3 Led them in the wilderness (Dt. 8:2)
4 Permitted thirst (Dt. 33:8)
5 Permitted enemies to trouble them (Judg. 2:22; 3:1,4). Cp. Gen. 22:1; 2 Chr. 32:31; Ps. 11:4; Zech. 13:9; Jas. 1:3

6 commands concerning worship (20:26):

1 Make an altar of earth to God (v 24)
2 Offer burnt offerings and peace offerings upon it
3 Sacrifice sheep and oxen upon it
4 Only in the place chosen by God must an altar be made (v 24; Dt. 12:5-26)
5 Do not make altar of hewn stone, but of stone untouched by tools (v 25; Josh. 8:31)
6 Make no steps to God's altar (v 26)

Image worship in Christendom:

Regardless of many commands in both testaments against idolatry, the love of images and their worship are indulged in by millions today, even in so-called Christian lands, and those who break God's laws are destined to God's wrath. Idolatry was God's big problem with Israel. No Bible writer ever mentioned images in worship to God in the tabernacle or temple rituals, except when Israel was backslidden and served idol gods. Images are the work of man (Isa. 2:8; 40:19-20; Jer. 10: 1-9; Hos. 8:6; 13:2; Amos 5:26). Being mere imitations of creatures and made of dead material, it is folly to make them part of one's worship (Dt. 4:16; Hos. 4:12; Isa. 44:9-10)

In the church: the first Christians were not adverse to art, but they had no images of Christ. From 100-400 A. D. Christian leaders rebuked various ones for seeking to introduce images of Christ and saints into their worship. The 36th canon of the synod of Elvira prohibited images as a hindrance to the spiritual worship of God. Eusebius, father of church history, opposed them

Ambrose, Jerome, and Augustine all mention pictures made of apostles and Christ and the worship of images as beginning in their day. The use and adoration of images were popular in the East, being increased by pagan concepts and customs in worship. The theory that images represent the invisible persons became very prominent in some circles. Images began to be used as sponsors and reverence began to be paid them. Opposition to image worship then became acute for some time, the conflict being between the emperors and many of the bishops. Emperors often condemned images as heresy and idolatry, and religious relics were destroyed and thrown into the sea. In 766 A. D. Constantine sought to impose an oath against image worship, but the Lateran synod sanctioned images in 769

Tarasius, an advocate of images, was made patriarch of the East in 784; and in 787 the synod of Nicea ascribed reverence to images and worship to God through them. The same decision was reached in the West at the synod of Frankfort, 794 A. D., and images were again sanctioned at Paris in 825. Emperors in the East continued their opposition, and advocates of images were exiled for some time. Such worship was restored in the reign of Theodora (843). After 850 A. D. the cult of image worship in churches began to grow due to arguments for images and stories of miracles performed through them. Blessings were claimed for the images themselves and finally in 1188 it was declared that denial of images was a denial of God. In 1225 it was said that Christ was not Christ unless He was graven. Even Thomas Aquinas (1265) declared that an image of Christ claims the same veneration as Christ Himself. The 25th session of the Council of Trent (1551-52) justified the worship of images. Thus, from the beginning until now the controversy has raged, and image worship has been accepted by many as authorized of God. The fact remains though, that the Bible is against all uses of images in worship. See Divine laws, p. 113

The ark a symbol (25:21)

The whole ark symbolized the Divine Presence in all places (1 Sam. 4:3-22; 5:1-11; 6:1-21; 7:1-2; 14:18; 2 Sam. 6:2-17; 2 Chr. 5:1-10; 8:11). It served as the container of the covenant stones which were a continual reminder of the covenant between God and Israel (v 16, 21). It also contained the pot of manna symbolizing the bread of God from heaven (16:33; Jn. 6; Heb. 9:4), Aaron's rod was placed in it later, as a witness to Israel of God's choice of the priesthood (Num. 17:10; Heb. 9:4)

The ark was placed at a middle point just inside the vail which divided the holy place from the most holy. On the other side of the vail and opposite the ark, the golden altar of incense was placed so that continual incense would ascend up before the mercy seat from which God was to speak to His people and bless or curse them as they would obey or disobey the covenant. The high priest went in before the ark to sprinkle blood only once a year (Lev. 16; Heb. 9:3-7). The total absence of any figure or symbol of God on the mercy seat was most significant. It testified of His invisible presence and discouraged all idol making. The ark was never carried in processions, and was kept concealed being covered in transportation. A man was killed for even seeking to steady it (2 Sam. 6:6-7)

15 Make covers for the dishes

16 Make bowls for the table

17 Make them of pure gold

18 Set showbread on the table before Me always (v 30)

Vessels of tabernacle (25:29)

The vessels, dishes, bowls, and spoons were made of pure gold (v 29; 37:16) and put on the table for use in incense, meat and drink offerings, and to hold the 12 loaves of bread which symbolized the 12 tribes as being in the Divine Presence. There were to be 2 stacks of showbread placed on the table, each containing 6 flat loaves; and these were to be exchanged for fresh loaves every sabbath. Incense was burned in a container placed on the top loaf of each stack, signifying the worship of the 12 tribes (v 30; Lev. 24:5-9). The dishes were perhaps large receptacles in which the showbread was mixed. The spoons were small censers in which incense was burned (Num. 7:14, 20, 26, 32, 38, 44, 50, 56, 62, 68, 74, 80, 86). The bowls held blood of sacrifices and offerings (v 29; 37:16; Num. 4:7). The covers were large goblets or cups which held wine to be poured out before the Lord every sabbath when the bread was changed. The Heb. word for cover means to pour, so whatever the bowls were used for, the contents were to be poured out, as in these passages. The Sept. reads, "make its plates and its incense vessels and its libation vessels and the cups with which thou shalt pour out libations" (v 29)

A cloth of blue covered the table on which were placed the platters for the bread, the censers for incense, the goblets for wine, and the cups for pouring out the drink-offerings before God (Num. 4:7). The table was placed on the north side of the tabernacle (26:35). This is the direction of heaven (Isa. 14:12-14; Ps. 75:6-7). In travel a cover of scarlet and then a covering of badger skins were placed over the table and its vessels (Num. 4:8). See Ex. 35:13; 39:36; 1 Ki. 7:48; 1 Chr. 9:32; 23:29; 28:16; 2 Chr. 2:4; 4:19; 13:11; 29:18; Neh. 10:33; Heb. 9:2

11 commands, golden candlestick (25:31)

1 Make candlestick of pure beaten gold (v 31)

2 Make the shaft, branches, bowls, knops, and flowers of the same

3 Make 6 branches on 2 sides: 3 on one side of the shaft and 3 on the other (v 32)

4 Make a bowl like an almond with a knop and a flower on each of the 6 branches (v 33)

5 On the middle shaft make 4 bowls like almonds with knops and flowers (v 34)

6 Make a knop under each 2 branches of the 6 branches of the sides (v 35)

7 Make 7 lamps (v 37)

8 Light all 7 lamps

9 Make tongs and snuff-dishes for the lamps of pure gold (v 38)

10 Use a talent of pure gold to make the candlestick and its vessels (v 39)

11 See that you make them after the pattern shown you on Sinai (v 40)

The golden lampstand (25:31)

A lampstand of beaten gold (37:17; Num. 8:4) with middle shaft and 3 branches on each side, making 7 lamps in all. Each branch as well as the shaft was adorned with flowers, supposed to resemble lilies, with large knops (knobs) resembling pomegranates, and smaller knops representing almonds. The size of the lampstand is supposed by some to have been about 3 ft. high and 2 ft. wide. It was to be set on the south wall of the holy place (26:35), opposite the table of showbread on the north so that light would be reflected toward the table on which were the 12 loaves symbolizing the 12 tribes. The light was to burn perpetually, being serviced each evening and morning (27:21; Lev. 24:1-4), which means the lamps were large enough to hold the amount of oil needed for a whole day or night. A cloth of blue and then a covering of badger skins were placed over the candlestick and vessels in travel (Num. 4:9-10). See Ex. 30:27; 31:8; 35:14; 37:17-20; 39:37; 40:4, 24; Lev. 24:4; Num. 3:31; 4:9; 8:2-4; Heb. 9:2

The seven lamps (25:37)

The 7 lamps shaped like almonds at the top of the 6 arms and middle shaft were in a single row and all of equal height (v 37). The candlestick was made after the pattern of things in heaven (v 40; Zech. 4:2); but why the lamps numbered 7 is not explained. The 7 lamps of Zech. 4:2 are explained to be symbolic of the eyes of the Lord (Zech. 4:10). The 7 candlesticks of Rev. 1:12-13; 2:1 are explained to be the 7 churches (Rev. 1:20); and the 7 lamps of fire of Rev. 4:5 are explained to be the 7 spirits of God, or the fulness of the Holy Spirit (note d, Rev. 5:6). The 7 lamps of the tabernacle evidently symbolized the eyes of the Lord, as in the case of the pattern (v 40; Zech. 4:2, 10; Heb. 8:5; 9:23)

To say that every use of the word seven or any other number in Scripture is symbolic or figurative of spiritual things is erroneous. Where there is scriptural evidence we can speak with authority, but otherwise such a conclusion is man's opinion and means nothing as far as proof of doctrine is concerned. Spiritual meanings have been given to every number from one to forty; and this has led to many fallacies and caused mysticism to shroud the plain revelation of God

The word one means unity in some passages (Gen. 2:24; 11:6; Jn. 10:30; 17:21-23), but to make it mean unity in all passages would be unscriptural, as in Gen. 2:21; 4:19; 14:13; 19:9; Josh. 12:9-24; Jn. 1:23, 26, 40. The word two does not always mean division or difference; three does not always denote divinity, trinity, or completeness; four is never used as a symbol of creative works; and five is not used of grace. Six relates to events in connection with both God and man, so it cannot be said to be man's number (20:11; 31:17). The word eight is not symbolic of resurrection or regeneration; nor is nine symbolic of finality of judgment. Ten does not refer to ordinal perfection; eleven to disorder; twelve to governmental perfection; and thirteen does not mean apostasy. Seventeen does not refer to spirit or order; and forty is not the number of earth in any one scripture

It is the aim of this work not to change any word from a literal to a spiritual or figurative meaning if it is not clearly authorized by Scripture. Even then such a change is to be limited to particular scriptures to which such a meaning applies. The number seven is no exception. Where there is a symbolic use of the word, as in the above passages, it will be recognized, but in other places the number will be accepted as literal whether used by divine arrangement or coincidence. God's use of the number in His plan is no proof that the word itself has spiritual or figurative meaning

Urim and Thummim (28:30)

Heb. Uwriym, plural of uwr, light; flame; fire. Uwr is from the root word owr, to be or make luminous; break of day; to give or show light; be enlightened; shine; set on fire. Urim literally means lights. The Heb. Tummiym, is the plural of tom, completeness; innocence; integrity; perfect; uprightness. Tom is from the root word tamam, to complete in a good or bad sense; be perfect. Thummim literally means perfections or complete truth

The 2 words are used together only 5 times in Scripture (v 30; Lev. 8:8; Dt. 33:8; Ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65). The word Urim is used 2 other times by itself (Num. 27:21; 1 Sam. 28:6). The words are trans. various ways in different versions as: Lights and Perfections, Light and Truth, Manifestation and Truth, and the sacred lots. All we may know about them is what we find in Scripture

10 facts about the Urim-Thummim:

1 There was no command given by God for Moses to make them. He was only told to put them in the pocket or pouch of judgment (v 15, 30)

2 Moses put them in the pouch of judgment when Aaron was first clothed, so they were then already made (Lev. 8:8)

3 Who made them, whether God or Moses, is not stated; or whether they were used before this time is not stated

4 The word Urim is used of the high priest giving counsel from God to Joshua (Num. 27:18-23)

5 Advice was given to Levi to have the Urim and Thummim always with the high priest for use in a crisis (Dt. 33:8)

6 The Urim and Thummim were mentioned after the captivity to Babylon (Ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65)

7 They were something material, separate from the breastplate pouch and the stones in the breastplate (v 30)

8 They were the means of obtaining an answer from God when needed regarding any problem which concerned Israel:

(1) Joshua was guided by them in leading Israel into Canaan (Num. 27:18-24)

(2) He used them in the case of Achan (Josh. 7:14-18), but not in the case of Gibeon (Josh. 9)

(3) They were used in dividing the land to the tribes (Num. 34:17; Josh. 17:4). After being divided into certain parts by a special commission, simple directions were given by God regarding who should inherit certain lots or portions (Josh. 18:4-10). Each section was ever afterward referred to as by lot (Num. 26:55-56; 33:54; 34:13; 36:2-3; Josh. 13:6; 14:2; 15:1; 16:1; 17:1-2, 14-17; 18:11, 18; 19:1, 10, 17, 24, 32, 40, 51; 21:4-10, 20, 40; Judg. 1:3; 20:9)

(4) This was the method used in choosing certain cities for the Levites to live in (1 Chr. 6:54, 61-65)

(5) The order of the priesthood was settled by this means (1 Chr. 24:5-7; 25:9)

(6) Israel used them to inquire of the Lord after Joshua (Judg. 1:1-2; 20:18, 26-28) (1 Sam. 10:20-22)

(7) Saul was chosen through them

(8) Saul enquired of God through them in war, and received an answer (1 Sam. 14:36-46)

(9) God refused to answer him this way after he sinned (1 Sam. 28:6)

(10) David enquired of God this way and received answers (1 Sam. 22:10-15; 30:8; 2 Sam. 2:1; 5:19, 23-25; 1 Chr. 14:10, 14-17)

(11) On one occasion he was afraid to enquire of God (1 Chr. 21:30)

We have no record of any more inquiry after God in this fashion after the days of David, although after the Babylonian captivity the question of who had the right of the priesthood to use the Urim and Thummim was discussed (Ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65). Priests began to be so corrupt in the days of Samuel (1 Sam. 2:12-17), that God began to raise up prophets to take their place in speaking to men. From Samuel's time on, prophets were used more than priests (1 Sam. 9:9; 1 Ki. 22:5-8; 2 Ki. 3:11; 8:8; etc.)

9 The Urim and Thummim articles, placed in the bag or pocket of judgment, were perhaps 2 precious stones which were at times drawn from the bag to give God's judgment or message. Some claim that one stone had a yes and the other a no on it so that whichever one the high priest took out would give a direct answer, either affirmative or negative

10 The system of obtaining an answer through Urim and Thummim is spoken of as casting lots (Lev. 16:8; Josh. 18:6-10; 1 Sam. 14:42; 1 Chr. 24:31; 25:8; 26:13-14). Such phrases as came up (Josh. 18:11; 19:10); came forth (Josh. 18:11; 19:1); and came out (Josh. 19:24, 32, 40; 21:4) are used in connection with casting lots, meaning the lot or answer came out of the pouch of decision, or pocket of the breastplate of judgment. In Pr. 16:33 it says: "The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord." This means the matter was settled by the judgment of the Urim and Thummim. The same thing is no doubt referred to in Pr. 18:18, "The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty." This indicates there was complete satisfaction regarding decisions of the Urim and Thummim

The Heb. for lot in all these passages is goral, a stone; a pebble, or lot because of the small stones being used for casting lots. It is trans. lot 68 times and lots 17 times. Regardless of how the decision was made it was always considered the will of God. Not only was a simple yes or no given, but sometimes whole messages were spoken by the priests who were used of God in the same manner perhaps, as the prophets of old. The high priest was simply to take the place of Moses and continue as the mediator between God and man, receiving messages from Him, before the ark of the covenant. See messages given by God in the use of the Urim and Thummim in point 8, above, and note on Prophets of Scripture, p. 731

If Israel had obeyed the law God would have been under obligation to them forever to continue the law; but since they broke it He was freed from this obligation. Ears, hands, and feet (29:20)

The blood applied to the right ear, right hand, and right foot signified that all the bodily members and soul and spirit faculties of priests were to be consecrated to God and His service. They represent the hearing, working, and walking members of the body. Priests were to hear and obey God and the law, work with their hands in performing their service, and walk in all the ways of God

Hallowed (29:21)

Heb. qadash, trans. holy 7 times (20:8; 30:29; Lev. 6:18, 27; Isa. 30:29; Ezek. 7:24; Hag. 2:12); sanctify (set apart, 64 times, 13:2; 19:10, 22-23; 28:41; 29:27-44; 30:29; 31:13; 40:10-13; Lev. 8:11-12; 11:44; 20:7-8; 21:8-23; 22:9, 16; 27:14-26; Num. 11:18; 20:12; 27:14; Dt. 5:12; 15:19; Josh. 3:5; 7:13; 1 Sam. 16:5; 1 Chr. 15:12; 23:13; 2 Chr. 29:5, 17, 34; 30:17; 35:6; Neh. 13:22; Isa. 8:13; 29:23; 66:17; Ezek. 20:12; 36:23; 37:28; 38:23; 44:19; 46:20; Joel 1:14; 2:15-16); sanctified (set apart, 46 times, Gen. 2:3; Ex. 19:14; 29:43; Lev. 8:10, 15, 30; 10:3; 27:15, 19; Num. 7:1; 8:17; 20:13; Dt. 32:51; 1 Sam. 7:1; 16:5; 21:5; 1 Chr. 15:14; 2 Chr. 5:11; 7:16, 20; 29:15-19, 34; 30:3-24; 31:18; Neh.

One can see by the various ways qadash is trans. that it means simply setting apart, not cleansing from sin or removal of what is termed "the old man" in one's nature. See Sanctification in Index

8 commands - wave offerings (29:22)

1 Take the fat, the rump, the caul above the liver, the 2 kidneys and their fat, and the right shoulder of the consecration ram (v 22)

2 Take 1 loaf of bread, 1 cake of oiled bread, and 1 wafer out of the basket of unleavened bread (v 23)

3 Put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons (v 24)

4 They shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord

5 Take them from their hands and burn them upon the altar for a burnt sweet savour offering (v 25)

6 Take the breast of the consecration ram (v 22) and wave it before the Lord for a wave offering (v 26)

7 Sanctify (set apart) the breast of the wave offering and the shoulder of the heave offering (v 22, 27) (v 28)

8 Let them be for Aaron and his sons

Atonement (29:33)

Heb. kaphar, to cover; expiate; placate; cancel; appease; cleanse; disannul; forgive; be merciful; pacify; pardon; reconcile; make atonement; purge. This is the first of 69 times the word is trans. atonement (v 35, 36-37; 30:10-16; 32:30; Lev. 1:4; 4:20-35; 5:6-18; 6:7; 7:7; 8:34; 9:7; 10:17; 12:7-8; 14:18-31, 53; 15:15, 20; 16:6-34; 17:11; 19:22; 23:28; Num. 5:8; 6:11; 8:12, 19-21; 15:25-28; 16:46-47; 25:13; 28:22, 30; 29:5; 31:50; 2 Sam. 21:3; 1 Chr. 6:49; 2 Chr. 29:24; Neh. 10:33). The plural of kaphar is kippur, atonements (30:10). It is trans. atonement but should be atonements in 29:36; 30:16; Lev. 23:27-28; 25:9; Num. 5:8; 29:11. Both words are used together in some verses (30:16; Lev. 23:28; Num. 5:8). The first use of kaphar is trans. pitch and gives the essential meaning in that it refers to a covering for the ark which made it safe from leaks so as to preserve life (Gen. 6:14). The plural, kippur is also used in that verse. Kaphar and kippur are the only Heb. words trans. atonement. In the N. T. the word atonement is found only once (note u, Rom. 5:11)

Kaphar is trans. cleansed (Num. 35:33); disannulled (Isa. 28:18); forgive (Jer. 18:23); forgiven (Dt. 21:8); merciful (Dt. 21:8; 32:43); pardon (2 Chr. 30:18); reconcile (Lev. 6:30; Ezek. 45:20); reconciliation (Lev. 8:15; Ezek. 45:15-17; Dan. 9:24); reconciling (Lev. 16:20); purge (Ps. 65:3; 79:9; Ezek. 43:20, 26); purged (1 Sam. 3:14; Pr. 16:9; Isa. 6:7; 22:14; 27:9); and put off (Isa. 47:11). Another word, kapporeth, from the root word kaphar, is trans. mercy seat 27 times, referring to the lid to the ark of the covenant (25:17-22; 26:34; 30:6; 31:7; 35:12; 37:6-9; 39:35; 40:20; Lev. 16:2-15; Num. 7:89; 1 Chr. 28:11)

12 daily happenings at altar (29:36)

1 It served as a hitching post for the bullock killed beside it (v 10-11, 36)

2 The blood was put on the horns of the altar daily by the finger (v 12)

3 The remaining blood was poured out at the base of the altar

4 The parts used for burnt offerings were burned upon the altar (v 13)

5 One ram was killed and its blood sprinkled around the altar (v 16)

6 The whole ram was burned on the altar (v 17-18)

7 A second ram was then killed and its blood put on Aaron and sons and sprinkled around the altar (v 19-21)

8 Parts of the offerings were then burned upon the altar (v 25)

9 The ram of consecration (the parts not burned) were boiled on the altar and then eaten by the priests (v 31-33)

10 The altar was cleansed of all blood and ashes (v 36)

11 The altar was then anointed with oil to sanctify it

12 Any of the ram not eaten the day of its killing was burned the next day upon the altar (v 34)

After 7 days of sanctifying, the altar was considered completely sanctified (set apart) for God's use without further consecration rituals (v 36-37). After this the daily sacrifices began (v 38-42; Heb. 9:9; 10:1-2)

10fold order - consecration of priests (29:37)

1 Bringing the prescribed offerings of animals and cooked articles (v 1-3)

2 Bringing Aaron and sons before the door of the tabernacle and washing them in water (v 4)

3 Dressing the high priest (v 5-6)

4 Anointing the high priest (v 7; Ps. 133:2)

5 Dressing the priests (v 8-9)

6 Offering of sacrifices for the sins of the priests and the application of the blood and anointing oil (v 10-21)

7 Waving the wave offering and burning it on the altar (v 22-25)

8 Boiling the priests' portion of the wave and heave offerings on the brazen altar (v 26-31)

9 Priests eating their portion in the tabernacle court (v 35)

10 Priests beginning ministry by sanctifying the altar 7 days (v 36-37). The priests and the altar were made most holy for the beginning of the regular daily ministry (v 38-42)

Israel an eternal nation (29:42)

This means forever, for Israel is an eternal nation and will be ruled by Christ in all eternity (Isa. 9:5-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 5:10; 11:15; 20:4-6; 21:1-22:5). Some suppose that since the sabbath is spoken of as being eternal (31:12-18), the church is under obligation to observe the old Jewish sabbath. If so, then the church is also under obligation regarding the offerings of daily sacrifices (v 38-42), for they are equally as eternal. If the O. T. sabbath is now in force, so are the sacrifices; but if they have been abolished for today, then the other has been done away, for both are a part of the same law of Moses, and expressed in eternal terms. See 33 perpetual statutes, p. 118

The laver of brass (30:18)

The laver of brass was made from the looking glasses of the women (38:8). Bronze mirrors were items of luxury, and very popular in Egypt. No hint is given as to the size and shape of the laver. The one in the temple of Solomon is described in detail and was no doubt made from the pattern of this one, although perhaps larger (1 Ki. 7:23-39). It must have contained much water to have enough for all to wash their hands and feet, bathe on certain occasions (29:4; 40:12; Lev. 16:4, 24), and furnish water to wash the sacrifices (29:17; Lev. 1:9, 13; 9:14). The laver of Solomon's temple contained something over 16,000 gallons and each of the 10 small lavers contained over 300 gallons, or a total of more than 19,000 gallons of water. The laver here was no doubt a large reservoir with the base being a smaller basin with pipes and valves that allowed running water in the lower part so that priests could do as required - wash in running water. Even certain sacrifices were to be washed in running water (Lev. 14:4-6, 50-52)

7 commands - the sabbath (31:13)

1 Speak to Israel (not the church), saying: You shall keep My sabbaths as a sign between Me and you throughout your generations (v 13, 16)

2 You shall keep the sabbath, for it is holy to you (v 14)

3 Everyone that defiles the sabbath shall be put to death

4 Whoever does any work on the sabbath shall be cut off (v 14, 15)

5 On 6 days you shall work, but on the 7th day you shall rest (v 15)

6 The children of Israel shall keep the sabbath for a perpetual covenant (v 16)

7 The sabbath shall be a sign between Me and Israel forever (v 17)

11 times Israel is referred to here (31:13)

1 Speak to children of Israel (v 13)
2 My sabbaths you shall keep
3 It is a sign between Me and you
4 Throughout your generations
5 That you may know
6 That the Lord doth sanctify you (set you apart from all other people)
7 You shall keep My sabbath (v 14)
8 It is holy to you
9 The children of Israel shall keep the sabbaths (v 16)
10 Throughout their generations
11 It is a sign between Me and the children of Israel forever (v 17)

Note that the above is directed strictly to Israel and not to Gentiles or the N. T. church. See Sabbath in Index

Sabbath sign of old covenant (31:13)

The weekly sabbath of Israel was not only a sign of the covenant between God and their nation, but also a witness to all other nations that Israel was a special people set apart from others to receive the revelation of God, and to bring the Messiah into the world (v 13). The word sanctify in this verse, meaning set apart, indicates that Israel was set apart from all other peoples to remain separate from them and perform the will of God in a particular calling

Sabbath not for Gentiles, Church (31:14)

Not once in Scripture are the Gentiles and the N. T. church commanded to keep any particular day as a sabbath, or respect one day as being holy any more than another (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-11). The program of the N. T. for all men (Jews and Gentiles) is to consider every day holy and realize that whatever is sin must not be committed on any day, Saturday, Sunday, or any other. It is not the day that makes an act sinful; it is the act, itself regardless of the day it is committed on. Transgression of the law is sin and that regardless of the day the transgression takes place (1 Jn. 3:4)

No sabbath commanded in N. T. (31:15)

Even if there was a special sabbath commanded in the N. T., any 7th day after 6 days of work would be the 7th day from a previous 7th day, whether Sunday, Wednesday, or another day of the week. There is no proof that our Saturday is the exact day of the week on which God rested as recorded in Gen. 2:3-4. We simply know that He rested on the 7th day from the time He began the work of re-creation, and no more. Calendars have changed from time to time so that no man can guarantee what was the original 7th day

It is not the purpose of this work to do away with a day of rest and worship, but to warn against unbiblical claims and show that the observance of days, times, and seasons in religion do not merit special consideration from God. As a matter of practice, Sunday has been observed as the day of rest and worship by Christians from the very beginning; but as a matter of biblical law there is no definite obligation laid down for Christians on this point. See Sabbath in Index

Eternal sabbath not for Church (31:17)

Some argue that this is sufficient proof that the Mosaic sabbath was to be eternal and therefore observed by Christians under the N. T. program, but it must be kept in mind that similar eternal terms are used of sacrifices and many other things in the law of Moses. If we can prove that the sabbaths of Israel, by being eternal, are for us today, we can likewise prove the offerings, sacrifices and various rituals are for us today also, for all are referred to with eternal terms in the law of Moses. See 33 perpetual statutes, p. 118

Purpose of God's rest (31:17)

God rested on the 7th day because His work for the time being was finished (Gen. 1:31; 2:1-4). If it had not been finished He would have continued working on the 7th day as He has been doing ever since the fall of man. If some good act had been needful He would have performed it, for this is what He taught through His Son (Mt. 12:1-8; Mk. 2:23-3:5; Lk. 13:10-17; Jn. 5:1-16; 9:1-41)

14 steps in Aaron's backsliding (32:4)

1 Listened to the people in their criticism of Moses (v 1)

2 Surrendered to the seditious mob, going along with them for fear of being unpopular with them (v 1, 22)

3 Agreed with them to make an idol god (v 2) make an idol god (v 4)

4 Received gold from the people to 5 Made a golden calf to worship

6 Built an altar before it (v 5)

7 Made a proclamation of a feast to it, calling it Jehovah

8 Sacrificed to it (v 6)

9 Sanctioned licentious eating, drinking, singing, dancing, honoring the idol (v 6, 19)

10 Worshipped the calf (v 8)

11 Claimed the calf was God who led them out of Egypt (v 21-23)

12 Laid the blame of sin upon others

13 Lied about making the calf (v 24)

14 Exposed the whole nation to the wrath of God and their enemies (v 11-14, 25)

6 religious activities of Israel (32:6)

1 Making preparation for worship (v
2 Proclamation of worship (v 5) 1-4)
3 Gathering for worship (v 6) ings
4 Offerings burnt and peace offer-
5 Eating and drinking the sacrifices and drink offerings
6 Singing, dancing, shouting (v 17-19)

Some of these activities could be lawfully carried on in worship to God, but not to idols. This shows that outward manifestations of worship, sacrifices of gold and other valuables, shouting, dancing, and singing in themselves are no proof of a spiritual experience with God (2 Tim. 3:5)

Idolatrous festivities (32:6)

Heb. tsachaq, to laugh outright in merriment or scorn; to sport; mock; play the whore. It is trans. play (v 6; Dt. 22:21, Cp. Gen. 38:24; Lev. 21:9; Judg. 19:2; Jer. 3:1-8; 23:5, 1, 9, 44; Ezek. 16:15-16); mock (Gen. 19:14; 21:9; 39:14-17); sport (Gen. 26:8; Judg. 16:25); and laugh (Gen. 17:17; 18:12-15; 21:6). The word play is used of fornication in all the above passages and mock is used in this sense in Gen. 39:14. Paul refers to fornication in connection with worship in 1 Cor. 10:6-8. The reference no doubt is to the immoral practices that generally were associated with idolatry in all lands in that day

All idol gods had their consecrated women who were devoted to immoral practices. This is why worship was carried on in groves or high places where trees were planted - in places of seclusion (34:13; Dt. 7:5; 12:3; 16:21; Judg. 3:7; 6:25-30; 1 Ki. 14:15, 23; 15:13; 16:33; 18:19; 2 Ki. 13:6; 17:10, 16; 17:6; 19:3; 24:18; 31:1; 33:3, 19; 34:3-7; Isa. 17:8; 27:9; Jer. 17:2; Mic. 5:14). This is how the corrupt priesthood of idol gods made their living, and such is still being carried on in many pagan countries. That the children of Israel may have gone to the depths in idolatrous practices is suggested by the statement have corrupted themselves (v 7). If so, then not only were the 2 commandments regarding other gods and idolatry broken (20:1-6), but also taking the name of God in vain (20:7), dishonoring parents (20:12), adultery (20:14), lying (20:16), and coveting (20:17).

Actually, all Israel had sunk so low in sin and moral depravity during these days of the absence of Moses that God was literally ready to destroy the whole nation. He promised to do so and raise up another nation of the seed of Moses if he would be willing for this; but Moses interceded for the nation until God changed His mind and spared the people from such fate. If Moses had accepted this, the program of God for Israel to occupy Canaan would have been postponed indefinitely and the literal fulfillment of many prophecies would have been delayed. God hates idolatry and immorality and is determined to get rid of them from the earth

LEVITICUS

Offerings - The Priesthood - Religious and Civil Laws - Eight Feasts - The Palestinian Covenant - Prophecies

a And connects this book closely with Exodus. In fact, all the 5 books of Moses make one law, though divided into 5 parts, each with a distinct purpose

b Leviticus is the only book of the 5 by Moses in which no other Heb. word besides Yehovah (Jehovah) is used for Lord. It is found 305 times compared to 204 in Genesis, 388 in Exodus, 393 in Numbers, and 545 in Deuteronomy

c 5 calls of God to Moses:
1 From the burning bush to go to Israel (Ex. 3:4) 19:3)
2 From Sinai to speak to Israel (Ex.
3 From Sinai to come up (Ex. 19:20)
4 From Sinai to come closer (Ex. 24:16)
5 From the tabernacle to speak to Israel concerning worship (1:1)

d 36 times "the Lord spake" in Leviticus:
1 To Moses to speak to Israel - 15 times (1:1; 4:1; 7:22, 28; 12:1; 18:1; 20:1; 23:1,9,23,33; 24:1,13; 25:1; 27:1)
2 To Moses alone - 7 times (5:14; 6:1, 19; 8:1; 14:1; 22:26; 23:26)
3 To Moses to speak to Aaron and sons - 5 times (6:8, 24; 17:1; 22:1, 17)
4 To Aaron alone - 1 time (10:8)
5 To Moses and Aaron to speak to Israel - 2 times (11:1; 15:1)
5 To Moses and Aaron jointly - 2 times (13:1; 14:33)
7 To Moses to speak to Aaron - 2 times (16:1; 21:16)
8 To Moses to speak to all the congregation of Israel - 1 time (19:1) 9 To Moses to speak to the priests, the sons of Aaron - 1 time (21:1)

e God moved into His new dwelling place as soon as it was finished and set up; and this was to be the place from which He would speak instead of Sinai (Ex. 40:33-38)

f Note the many if's in the law, proving that everything was to be from choice, not compulsion. If's are found 368 times from Ex. 20-Dt. 34 and only 61 times in the 69 chapters of Gen. 1-Ex. 19. No man was forced by God to obey law, but if he did not obey he would die. No man is forced by grace to serve God, but if he does not he will suffer eternal hell. Obedience and conformity to God have always been and always will be the condition of salvation and eternal life

g Heb. qorban, a sacrificial present; an oblation; a sacrifice. Cp. Mk. 7:11. See Sacrifices and offerings, p. 113

h All worship of God and seeking means of reconciliation to God are and always have been on a free-will basis. Even where certain things were commanded the individual was not forced to obey (v 3)

i The sacrificer always put his hands on the head of the offering and confessed his sins at the time of the slaying of the animal (v 4; 3:2, 8, 13; 4:4, 15, 24, 29, 33; 16:21)

This signified that:
1 The sacrifice was his own
2 It was offered to atone for sins
3 He was worthy of death
4 He had broken the law incurring the death penalty God
5 He now sought forgiveness from 6 He accepted the substitute of an innocent victim in his place
7 He had faith in the coming Redeemer who would take his place and die in his stead (Jn. 3:16; Heb. 2:9-18; 1 Pet. 2:24)

j See note a, Ex. 29:33

k The sacrificer himself killed the animal and the priest received the blood and used it (v 5)

l The sacrificer and his assistants cut the animal in pieces and the priests then took over to follow the law on sacrifices (v 6-9; 7:8; 2 Chr. 29:34)

m All burnt offerings were to be males without blemish. Females were permitted in some offerings, but not here, because of typifying Christ to come as the substitute (Heb. 2:9-18; Isa. 53)

n God's throne is in the north part of the universe (Isa. 14:12-14; Ps. 75:6-7)

o This refers to the sacrificer (v 2-6, 10-13, 14-17)

91 CHAPTER 1

I Offerings (Lev. 1:1-6:7). 1 Sweet savour offerings (Lev. 1:1-3:17). (1) Burnt offerings. A Bullock

AND the [b]LORD [c]called unto Mō'ses, and [d]spake unto him [e]out of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them, [f]If any man of you bring an [g]offering unto the LORD, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock.
3 If his offering be a burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male without blemish: he shall offer it of his [h]own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD.
4 And he shall [i]put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make [j]atonement for him.
5 And [k]he shall kill the bullock before the LORD: and the priests, Aär'on's sons, shall bring the blood, and sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
6 And [l]he shall flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his pieces.
7 And the sons of Aär'on the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire:
8 And the priests, Aär'on's sons, shall lay the parts, the head, and the fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:
9 But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priest shall burn all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

B Sheep and goats

10 ¶ And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a [m]male without blemish.
11 And he shall kill it on the side of the altar [n]northward before the LORD: and the priests, Aär'on's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar.
12 And [o]he shall cut it into his pieces, with his head and his fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:
13 But he shall wash the inwards and the legs with water: and the priest shall bring it all, and burn it upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

C Turtledoves and pigeons

14 ¶ And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the LORD be of fowls, then he shall bring his offering of turtledoves, or of young pigeons.
15 And the [c]priest shall bring it unto the altar, and wring off his head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the altar:
16 And he shall pluck away his crop with his feathers, and cast it beside the altar on the east part, [b]by the place of the ashes:
17 And [c]he shall cleave it with the wings thereof, but shall not divide it asunder: and the priest shall burn it upon the altar, upon the wood that is upon the fire: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a [d]sweet savour unto the LORD.

92 CHAPTER 2

(2) Meat offerings (Lev. 2; 6:14). A Fine flour

AND when any will offer a [e]meat offering unto [f]the LORD, his offering shall be of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put [g]frankincense thereon:
2 And he shall bring it to Aär'on's sons the priests: and he shall take thereout his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn the memorial of it upon the altar, to be [h]an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD:
3 And the remnant of the meat offering shall be Aär'on's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the LORD made by fire.

B Unleavened baked cakes

4 ¶ And if thou bring an oblation of a meat offering baken in the [i]oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers anointed with oil.

C Unleavened baked pan cakes

5 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in a [j]pan, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil.
6 Thou shalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: it is a meat offering.

D Unleavened frying pan cakes

7 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in the [k]fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.
8 And thou shalt bring the meat offering that is made of these things unto the LORD: and when it is [l]presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar.
9 And the priest shall take from the meat offering a memo-a With the birds it seems that the priest did all the work (1:15-17), but with the larger animals the sacrificer helped (v 5-6, 10-13)

b The feathers, ashes, and other refuse were carried outside the camp after the sacrifices were completed (4:12, 21)

c 15 commands - burnt offerings (Lev. 1):
1 Speak to Israel concerning burnt offerings (v 2)
2 Bring a bullock without blemish (v 3)
3 Let a man offer if of his own will 4 He shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering as a token of his faith in substitution for sin (v 4)
5 The offerer shall kill the bullock (v 5)
6 Priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the brazen altar
7 The offerer shall flay the bullock and cut it in pieces (v 6)
8 Priests shall put fire and wood upon the brazen altar and lay the parts upon it together with the washed inwards and legs, and burn all of them
9 Or, bring a male sheep or a goat without blemish (v 10)
10 The offerer shall kill it on the north side of the brazen altar (v 11)
11 Priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the brazen altar
12 The offerer shall cut the offered animal into pieces (v 12)
13 Priests shall put the pieces upon the altar fire, including the head, the fat, and the washed inwards and legs, and burn them (v 12-13)
14 Or, bring an offering of a pigeon or turtledove to the Lord (v 14)
15 Priests shall bring the bird to the brazen altar, wring its neck and shed the blood beside the altar, pluck its feathers and cast them beside the altar by the ashes, cut the wings off, but not divide the bird, and burn it upon the altar (v 15-17). Cp. Gen. 15:10

The cost of a bullock today is estimated to be about $325.00; a sheep or a goat, $20.00; and a pigeon or turtledove, $1.00. The burnt offerings typified Christ who offered Himself without spot, to God to atone for sin and to be man's substitute to die in his stead (Jn. 3:16; Heb. 2:9-18; 9:11-14; 10:1-18; 1 Pet. 1:18-23; 2:24). In this offering the whole animal was consumed by fire except the skin, and no part, as in the other offerings, was reserved for the priests

d Such offerings were called sweet savour because Jehovah was well pleased with them (Gen. 8:21). They typified Christ in His absolute perfection and obedience to God in service and life. The non-sweet savour offerings typified Him as being the sin-bearer and sufferer for all sin (Eph. 5:2)

e The word meat literally means food offering, and not the flesh of animals, as in the offerings of 1:1-17. These offerings had oil poured upon them and frankincense set upon them (v 1). A small portion was burned as a memorial (v 2) and the rest belonged to the priests for their services (v 3)

2 Unleavened baked cakes (v 4) 1-3)

j Pans were flat iron plates like our griddles today

k It is supposed that a frying-pan was what the Arabs call a ta-jen, a shallow earthen vessel something like our frying-pans of today, and used not only to fry in, but for other purposes also

l All food offerings were presented to the priests as offerings for their services, but a small portion was taken from them to burn as an incense to God (v 2-3, 8-10, 14-16)

All meat offerings were called sweet savour offerings, as well as were some kinds of animal offerings to the Lord (1:9, 13, 17; 2:2, 9, 12; 3:5, 16; 4:31; 6:16, 21; 8:21, 28; 17:6; 23:13, 18; Num. 15:1-11, 14, 24; 18:17; 28:2-8, 13, 24, 27; 29:2, 6-8, 13, 36)

a The word holy is not found in Genesis, yet in the other 4 books of Moses it is used 179 times referring to persons and things which are sacred and set apart for holy uses. They were of 2 classes - holy and most holy (21:22)

10 most holy things of the law:
1 The most holy place(Ex.26:33-34)
2 The brazen altar(Ex.29:37; 40:10)
3 The golden altar (Ex. 30:10)
4 The tabernacle and all its furniture and vessels(Ex.30:29;Num.4:4,19)
5 Sweet perfume or incense (Ex. 30:36)
6 All food offerings, part of which was burned by fire (2:3, 10; 6:17; 10:12; Num. 18:9) Num. 18:9)
7 Sin offerings (6:17, 25, 29; 10:17;
8 Trespass offerings (6:17; 7:1,6; 14:13; Num. 18:9) offerings, 24:9) 9 Showbread (most holy of the holy 10 All devoted things (27:28)

28 holy persons and things of law:
1 Holy ground (Ex. 3:5)
2 Convocations (ch. 23; Ex. 12:16)
3 Habitation of God (Ex. 15:13)
4 Sabbath (Ex. 16:23; 20:8; 35:2)
5 Nation (Ex. 19:2; Dt. 7:6; 14:2, 21)
6 Men (11:44; Ex. 22:31; 29:37)
7 Place (in tabernacle, Ex. 26:33)
8 Garments (16:4; Ex. 28:2-4)
9 Things (22:2; Ex. 28:38)
10 Gifts (Ex. 28:38)
11 Crown (Ex. 29:6; 39:30)
12 Sacrifices (23:20; Ex. 29:33-34)
13 Ointment or anointing oil (Ex. 30:
14 Incense (Ex. 30:37) 25)
15 Sanctuary (16:33)
16 God (19:2; 20:7, 26; 21:8)
17 Firstfruits of trees (19:24)
18 God's name (20:3; 22:2)
19 Priests (21:6-8)
20 Food offerings (22:2-16)
21 Tithes (27:30-32)
22 Water (Num. 5:17)
23 Nazarites (Num. 6:5-8)
24 Wave offerings (Num. 6:20)
25 Firstborn of stock (Num. 18:17)
26 Heave offerings (Num. 18:19)
27 Instruments (Num. 31:6)
28 Camp (Dt. 23:14)

When it is said that the priests and families could eat of the holy and most holy things it refers to the sacrifices made by fire, a part of which was to be burned as a memorial (2:3,10; 6:16-29; 7:6, 19-26; 10:12-19; 19:6-7; 21:22; 22:4-16; 24:9;Num.18:9-10).An oblation is anything offered to God in worship and sacrifice (v 12-13)

b 4 Heb. words trans. "meat" in law:
1 Mazown, food; meat; victual (21:15; 5:13; 6:14-23; 7:9-10, 37; 9:4, 17; 10:12; Ex. 29:41; 30:9; 40:29)
2 Akal, to eat; devour; food; meat (25:6-7; Num. 4:16; 6:15-17; 7:13, 19, 25, 31, 37, 43, 49, 55, 61, 67, 73, 79, 87; 8:8; 15:4-9, 24; 18:9; 25:5-13, 20)
3 Okel, food; meal; meat; victuals (14:10, 20, 21, 30)
4 Lechem, food; bread; grain;meal; fruit; loaf; meat; victuals (Num. 28:24-31; 29:3-39)

In all these passages the term meat offering could be better understood if trans. food offering, for the offerings were all of grains, vegetables, fruits, and other products of vines and trees

c 8 Heb. words trans. "offering" in law:
1 Qorban, a sacrificial present; an oblation; something brought near the altar. Trans. offering 122 times, (1:2-17; 2:1-2; 3:1-16; 4:3-34);offerings 29 times (2:3-13; 4:10-35; 5:12; 6:12-18; 7:11-37); and oblation (2:4-13; 3:1; 7:14, 29)
2 Minchah, to apportion; bestow; a gift; oblation; present; donation; tribute; sacrificial offering. Trans. offering 320 times (2:3-16; 5:13-19; 6:5-17; Gen. 4:3-5; 22:2-13; Ex. 29:41-42); offerings 120 times (Num. 29:39). Minchah literally signifies a gift from one who is an inferior to a superior(Gen. 32:18-20; 43:11), but in the law it is generally used to denote grain, vegetable, and fruit offerings as distinguished from animal offerings. The minchah was more simple than animal sacrifices, being merely something given to God, which was of value to man as a means of living - the fruit of man's labor. It is supposed that it expressed a confession that all good works are a blessing of God

1 Bring either male or female of the cattle (estimated cost today $189.00 to $325.00, v 1)

13 Priests shall burn on the altar the fat and the inwards, the 2 kidneys and their fat, and the caul above the liver (v 14-16)
14 You shall not eat any fat or blood throughout your generations (v 17)

b In all animal offerings blood was shed and life taken, signifying that without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin (17:11; Mt. 26:28; Col. 1:20;Heb.2:9-18; 9:11-28; 1 Pet.1:18-23; 2:24). In the meat (food) offerings there was no blood shed and no type of sin offering. They were mainly typical of appreciation to God for providing remission of sin. In meat offerings no leaven or honey was to be offered with them, for both cause fermentation, the first stage of corruption (2:11; 1 Cor. 5:8). Salt was permitted because, being the opposite of leaven, it was an emblem of purity, permanence, and preservation of life. Salt was also used when sealing the covenant, implying that it was to be binding and permanent. Hence, it is called the salt of the covenant (Num. 18:19; 2 Chr. 13:5). The custom still remains in force among Arabs who make vows and covenants with a piece of bread sprinkled with salt, signifying peace and friendship between the parties of the covenant of salt

c The peace offerings were sacrifices distinct in purpose from the burnt and sin offerings. In the latter sin and atonement for sin were the chief things symbolized, whereas in the peace offerings fellowship with God as the result of atonement was the chief point. Portions of such offerings were to be eaten by the offerer (7:15), signifying the enjoyment of fellowship with God as a pardoned and reconciled sinner. They were really thank offerings because the offerer was at peace with God and thankful for it (7:11-21)

a 4 classes of sinners:
1 Priests (v 3) 3 Rulers (v 22)
2 Congregation (v 13) 4 Common people (v 27)
If any of these sinned a sin of ignorance against the commandments of Jehovah, a sin offering had to be brought and atonement made (v 2-3, 13, 22, 27)

b Sin is transgression of the law (1Jn.3:4), so breaking any single one of the commandments was sin and incurred the penalty of the broken law. This applied to all men, priests or laymen (v 2-3). Sin is sin regardless of who commits it or when it is committed and so, according to Scripture God deals with all who sin, on the same basis. See 210 warnings, p. 284 of N. T.

c This typified Christ as a young man and without sin, dying in man's place (1 Pet. 1:18-23; 2:21-25)

d All work for God in O. T. times was done by men who were called and anointed for that particular work (v 5; Num. 3:3; 1 Sam. 10:1; 2 Sam. 12:7). This was true of priests (Ex. 29:29), kings (1 Sam. 10:1), prophets and preachers (1Ki. 19:16; Isa. 61:1-2; Lk. 4:18-21; Acts 3:21). Even offerings and other material things were anointed when dedicated to God for His use (2:4; 7:12; Ex. 40:9-15)

e This was not the priest that had sinned, for he had no claim on applying the blood for others until he, himself had been cleansed from sin. This was the high priest (8:12; 21:10; Ex. 29:7)

f 7 times, if it is typical at all, means fulness or completion of a perfect work. See Seven in Index g 20 places blood was applied:

1 Horns of the golden altar (v 7)
2 At the foot of brazen altar
3 Before the vail (4:6)
4 Horns of brazen altar (4:30)
5 Upon the brazen altar (1:5,11; 3:2)
6 Upon the side of the brazen altar (5:9)
7 In the holy place (6:30; 16:27) 24)
8 On tip of right ear of priests (8:23-9 On right thumb of priests (8:23-24)
10 On great right toe of priests (8:23-11 Upon houses (14:51-53) 24)
12 On right ear of persons cleansed (14:25, 28) (14:25, 28)
13 On right thumb of those cleansed
14 On great right toe of those cleansed (14:25, 28)
15 Upon the mercy seat (16:14-15)
16 Before the tabernacle (Num. 19:4)
17 Upon the people (Ex. 24:6-8)
18 Upon book of covenant (Ex.24:6-8)
19 Upon priests (Ex. 29:21) 21)
20 Upon garments of priests (Ex. 29:

h Blood of certain sacrifices was poured, signifying that life had been freely given; and the blessings of God were freely bestowed on all who made sin offerings to meet His terms for reconciliation (v 7)

i At the bottom was the proper place for all sacrifices or offerings to be poured out, signifying deep humility and surrender of life on the part of the offerer (v 7)

j Some portions of the sin offerings and peace offerings were to be burned on the brazen altar, showing that the offerer was pleading for forgiveness and wanting peace with God (v 10 with 3:3-5, 9-11, 14-16)

k This made the whole of sin offerings burned, part on the brazen altar (v 8-10) and the rest outside the camp (v 11-12). Such were called whole burnt offerings (v 12). Priests could not eat of these offerings because of being the offerers. The same law applied to their meat offerings (6:23). Only the peace offerings could be eaten by offerers (7:15-21)

l This refers to the public committing a sin, not just a few individuals. Note the change in pronouns from he and him (v 3, 4, 8) to they and them (v 13, 14, 20)

m When it becomes known that sin has been committed responsibility for getting rid of it is clear. Then immediate action must be taken regarding it (v 14). God, being just, passes over sin until it is made known by the conscience, the Word, and the Holy Spirit, then He holds sinners responsible and will judge and punish them if sin is permitted to continue (Jn. 16:7-11; Rom. 2:12-16)

n The representative leaders of Israel were to act for the whole congregation in meeting the requirements of God to get rid of sin (v 15)

Is'ra-el, saying, [a]If a soul shall sin through ignorance [b]against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and shall do against any of them:

●3 If the priest that is [c]anointed do sin according to the sin of the people; then let him bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a [d]young bullock without blemish unto the LORD for a sin offering.

●4 And he shall bring the bullock unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the LORD.

●5 And the priest that [d]is anointed shall take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation:

●6 And the [e]priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood [f]seven times before the LORD, before the veil of the sanctuary.

●7 And the priest shall put some of the [g]blood upon the horns of the altar of sweet incense before the LORD, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation; and shall [h]pour all the blood of the bullock [i]at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

●8 And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

●9 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away,

●10 [j]As it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering.

●11 [k]And the skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung, ●12 Even the whole bullock shall he carry forth without the camp unto a clean place, where the ashes are poured out, and burn him on the wood with fire: where the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.

B Bullock for people's sin of ignorance

●13 ¶ And if the [l]whole congregation of Is'ra-el sin through ignorance, and the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which should not be done, and are guilty;

●14 [m]When the sin, which they have sinned against it, is known, then the congregation shall offer a young bullock for the sin, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation.

●15 And the [n]elders of the congregation shall lay their hands upon the head of the bullock before the LORD: and the bullock shall be [o]killed before the LORD.

●16 And the [p]priest that is anointed shall bring of the bullock's blood to the tabernacle of the congregation:

●17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, even before the veil.

●18 And he shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar which is before the LORD, that is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

●19 And he shall take all his fat from him, and burn it upon the altar.

●20 And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.

●21 And he shall carry forth the bullock without the camp, and burn him as he burned the first bullock: it is a sin offering for the congregation.

C Male goat for ruler's sin of ignorance

●22 When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the LORD his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty;

●23 Or if his [q]sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge; [r]he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish:

●24 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat, and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the LORD: it is a sin offering.

●25 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out his blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering.

●26 And he shall burn all his fat upon the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

D Female goat or lamb for the people's sin of ignorance

●27 ¶ And if any one of [s]the common people sin through ignorance while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty;

●28 Or if his sin, which he hath sinned, [t]come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned.

●29 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offer-a It does not say who killed the animal, but in other cases the offerer did the killing and cutting up, perhaps with the help of priests (1:4-5, 11)

b This was the high priest (4:3,5,16; 6:22, Cp. 21:10; Num. 35:25, 28; Josh. 20:6; 2 Ki. 25:18). He took the blood into the tabernacle, dipped his finger in the blood, and sprinkled it 7 times this side of the vail, at the place where the ark was just beyond the vail, perhaps on the tabernacle floor before the golden altar. Then he took some of the blood and smeared it on the horns of the golden altar with his finger. The rest of the blood was poured out by the brazen altar (v 16-18). The fat was then burned on the brazen altar and the remaining part of the sin offering burned outside the camp (v 19-21)

c 2 kinds of sins referred to in the law:
1 Sins of ignorance (4:2, 13-14, 22-23, 27-28; 5:15, 18; Num. 15:24-29), Such sins were acts done through ignorance of what the law required, and those known to be wrong but done accidently (Dt. 19:4)
2 Presumptuous sins (Ex. 21:14; Num. 15:30; Dt. 1:43; 17:12-13; 18:20-22; Ps. 19:13; 2 Pet. 2:10). These were sins committed wilfully, knowingly, and stubbornly (24:11-16; Heb. 10:26-31)

d After it became known that he had done something in ignorance against the law and will of God, a ruler was to go through the same routine as others, bringing the required sacrifice, laying hands upon it, killing it, and co-operating with the priests (v 23-26). His power, position, rank, riches, and honor did not excuse his sin. He was to be an example to others

e This refers to the people in contrast with priests, rulers, or elders. It may denote the very lowest of the people (v 27). A female offering for such persons, but a male for priests (v 14) and rulers (v 22-23) f If he becomes conscious of his act he shall then acknowledge his sin and make a proper sacrifice to atone for it as if he had known about the sinfulness of his act all the time. In such cases a female animal was to be offered, a kid of the goats, instead of a male, lamb, or some other animal. All animals had to be without blemish whether male or female to be accepted as a sin offering (v 28)

17 commands - meat offerings (2:16)

1 A meat offering shall be fine flour with oil and frankincense upon it (v 1)
2 Bring it to priests who shall take some of it and burn for a memorial (v 2)
3 The rest shall belong to the priests as something most holy to eat (v 3)
4 Bring unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil (v 4)
5 Bring baked pan cakes unleavened and mingled with oil (v 5)
6 Part them in pieces and pour oil on them (v 6)
7 Bring fried pan cakes of fine flour with oil (v 7) Lord (v 8)
8 Bring such meat offerings to the 9 The priests shall bring them to the brazen altar and burn a memorial portion in the fire (v 8-9)
10 The rest shall belong to the priest as his part to eat (v 10)
11 Do not offer meat offerings with leaven or honey (v 11)
12 Offer your firstfruits to the Lord to be burned upon the altar (v 12) salt 13 Season every meat offering with 14 With all offerings offer salt (v 13)
15 Bring the firstfruits as an offering to the Lord (v 14)
16 Pour oil upon it and lay frankincense upon the meat offering of the firstfruits (v 15)
17 Priests shall burn a memorial part of it in the fire as a burnt offering on the brazen altar (v 16)

The meat offerings typified something altogether different from the burnt offerings and sin offerings. The latter typified sin and a Saviour, while the meat offerings simply acknowledged that the offerer was grateful to God for a Saviour and forgiveness, and recognized that he owed everything to God, including the fruit of his labors. They were thank offerings for God's blessing and provision for sin, and not offerings of atonement for sin

2 distinctions were made between the offerings for priests and common people:

1 For priests the blood was sprinkled before the LORD in the holy place and put on the horns of the golden altar (4:6-7), while the blood of the offerings of common people was put on the horns of the brazen altar (v 30)

2 For priests the whole animal for a sin offering was burned upon the brazen altar, and outside the camp (v 8-12), while only part of the sin offering of common people was burned and part was eaten by the priests (v 31; 6:26)

25 commands - sin offerings (Lev. 4):

1 Speak to Israel saying that the priest who sins shall bring a young bullock without blemish for a sin offering (estimated cost today $325.00, v 2-3)

2 He shall bring the bullock to the door of the outer court (v 4)

3 He shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head and kill it before Jehovah

4 The high priest shall take the blood and bring it into the holy place (v 5)

5 He shall dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle it 7 times on the floor before the golden altar and before the mercy seat on the ark which is just beyond the vail (v 6)

6 He shall smear some of the blood on the horns of the golden altar before Jehovah and the mercy seat (v 7)

7 He shall pour the rest of the blood at the base of the brazen altar in the outer court

8 He shall take all the fat of the bullock, the 2 kidneys, the caul above the liver and burn them on the brazen altar (v 8-10)

9 He shall carry the rest of the bullock out of the camp, the skin and flesh, the head, legs, inwards, and the dung, and burn them in a clean place where the ashes are poured (v 11-12)

10 For the sin of the congregation they shall bring to the door of the outer court a young bullock without blemish (cost today $325.00), for a sin offering (v 13-14)

11 The elders shall lay their hands on the head of the bullock and kill it before Jehovah (v 15)

12 The high priest shall bring the blood into the holy place (v 16)

13 He shall dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle it 7 times on the floor before the golden altar and before the mercy seat on the ark which is just beyond the vail (v 17)

14 He shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the golden altar before Jehovah and the mercy seat (v 18)

15 He shall pour the rest of the blood at the base of the brazen altar in the outer court

16 He shall take all the fat and other parts (named in point 9, above) and burn them on the brazen altar (v 19-20)

17 He shall carry out of the camp the rest of the bullock and burn it (as he did the sin offering for priests, point 10, above, v 21)

18 A ruler who sins shall bring a male goat without blemish for a sin offering (cost today $20.00, v 22-23)

19 He shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat and kill it where they kill the burnt offering (north side of the brazen altar, 1:11) before Jehovah (v 24)

20 The priest shall take of the blood with his finger and put it on the horns of the brazen altar, and pour out the rest at the base of the altar (v 25)

21 He shall take all the fat and other parts that are burned of the peace offerings (3:3-5) and burn them upon the brazen altar to make an atonement (v 26)

22 The common man who sins shall bring a female of the goats or sheep without blemish (cost today $20.00) for a sin offering (v 27-28, 32)

23 He shall lay his hand upon the head of the offering and kill it in the place where burnt offerings are killed (north side of the brazen altar, 1:11) before Jehovah (v 29, 32-33)

24 The priest shall take of the blood with his finger and put it on the horns of the brazen altar, and pour the rest at the foot of the altar (v 30, 34)

25 He shall take all the fat and other parts that are burned of the peace offerings (3:3-5) and burn them on the brazen altar to make an atonement (v ing, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering.

●30 And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger,[a] and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar.

●31 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from off the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour unto the LORD; and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him.

●32 And if he bring a lamb for a sin offering, he shall bring it a female without blemish.

●33 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay it for a sin offering in the place where they kill the burnt offering.

●34 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar:

●35 And he[b] shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lamb is taken away from the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall burn them upon the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD: and the priest shall make an atonement for his sin that he hath committed, and it shall be forgiven him.

CHAPTER 5 — 95

(2) Trespass offerings (Lev. 5:1-6:7; 7:1). A Sheep or goats for the rich

●AND [c]if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall bear his iniquity.

●2 Or if a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcase of an unclean beast, or a carcase of unclean cattle, or the carcase of unclean creeping things, and if it be[d] hidden from him; [e]he also shall be unclean, and guilty.

●3 Or if he touch the uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty.

●4 Or if a soul swear, pronouncing with his lips to do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these.

●5 And it shall be, [f]when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall confess that he hath sinned in that thing:

●6 And he shall bring his [g]trespass[h] offering unto the LORD for his sin which he hath sinned, [i]a female from the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sin.

B Trespass offering: pigeons or turtle doves for the poor

●7 And [c]if he be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the LORD; one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering.

●8 And he [b]shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the [c]sin offering first, and wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder:

●9 And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar: it is a sin offering.

●10 And he shall offer the second for a burnt offering, according to the manner: and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he hath sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

C Trespass offering: a little flour for the extremely poor ●11 ¶ But[d] if he be not able to bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon: for it is a sin offering.

●12 Then shall he bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take his handful of it, even a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD: it is a sin offering.

●13 And the priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and the remnant shall be the priest's, as a meat offering.

D Trespass offering: ram and estimation price of 20% for sins of ignorance

■14 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mo'ses, saying,

●15 If a soul commit a [c]trespass, and sin through ignorance, in [f]the holy things of the LORD; then he shall bring for his trespass unto the LORD [g]a ram without blemish out of the flocks, [h]with thy estimation by shekels of [i]silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering:

●16 And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him.

●17 ¶ And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things a God always makes it possible for anyone to meet His terms of reconciliation. This is why He permitted different kinds of offerings for the rich, poor, and very poor - from rams to turtledoves and pigeons to a little flour (5:6, 7, 11, 15). These offerings ranged in value from $20.00 to about 80¢ for 3 qts. and 1 pt. of flour, or less than an hour's wage for the poorest man of today

b See note c, point 15, 1:17

c One bird of the 2 pigeons or turtledoves was offered as a sin offering (v 7-9), and the other as a burnt offering. The sin offerings of v 1-13 are distinguished from those of 4:1-35, the offences being of a lighter nature. The doctrines of imputation and expiation are not so prominent here as in ch. 4. The Heb. asham trans. trespass offering in v 6, 17; 7:1-7, 37; 14:12-28; 19:21-22 appears to have been generally used to denote a sin, moral or ceremonial, committed through error, negligence, or ignorance. When the transgressor came to know of his fault, then he was bound to make compensation and present the offering specified for that particular sin. The word denotes both the offence and the offering required for it, just as chata denotes both sin and sin offering. In every offence there is guilt and penalty incurred; and where these are there must be atonement. Consequently, the first pigeon or turtledove was a sin offering which required the shedding of blood; and the second one was a burnt offering symbolizing satisfaction to God by perfect obedience to Him in making atonement. Both symbolized the perfect obedience of Christ to God as man's substitute (v 10)

d See Offerings of the poor, p.152

e 5 differences between trespass offerings of 5:14-6:7; 7:1-7 and ordinary offerings

1 Trespass offerings were made on account of offences involving injuries to a person (it could be Jehovah Himself) in respect to property (v 16; 6:4-5)

2 They were always accompanied by a fine equal in value to the injury done, with 20% added (5:15-6:7. Cp. Num. 5:5-8)

3 The treatment of the blood was more simple. Cp. 5:6, 10, 13, 16, 18; 6:7 with 4:5-7, 16-18, 25, 30

4 The victim was a ram instead of a bullock, male goat, a female sheep or goat, pigeons, turtledoves, or fine flour (v 15, 18. Cp. 6:6 with 4:3, 14, 23, 28; 5:6, 7, 11)

5 There was no such graduation of kinds or value of offerings to suit rank, position, or circumstances of the offerer (5:15-6:7 with 4:1-5:13)

f This refers to sacrilege and defrauding in holy things which God commanded given to Him, such as tithes, firstfruits, firstborn of animals, redemption money for firstborn of man, and other things connected with the sanctuary and worship. Cp. Lev. 27; Num. 5:6-8

g A ram was the only kind of offering to be used in these latter trespass offerings (5:15, 18; 6:6)

h This means that price of damage incurred by the sin was to be paid back, plus 20% interest, as well as atonement made for the sin (v 15-16)

i A shekel of silver was 64¢. The silver had nothing to do with atonement, but cost of the damage done was paid back in silver, plus 20% interest (v 15-16). The actual atonement was made by the ram

1 Failing to speak and reveal the truth when under oath (v 1. Cp. Num. 5:21) unclean (v 2-3)

2 Failing to purify self when one is unclean (v 2-3)

3 Speaking and swearing rashly and quickly then forgetting what was said, or shirking responsibility for it (v 4)

2 Confess his sin g 5 sins called trespasses, p.152

h Trespass offerings were sin offerings of a distinct type to make atonement for the trespasses named in the sins listed under note g, above (v 6)

i 6 kinds of trespass offerings, p.152

a In the case of one's ignorance of the commandments of God on certain points, if he was guilty of breaking them, when he came to know of it he was to offer a ram for atonement to cover his sins (v 17-18)

b It will be noticed that all animals for sacrifice were to be without blemish if accepted by God, for they typified the perfect, sinless, spotless, and holy Son of God who knew no sin or guile (1 Pet. 1:18-23; 2:22). Redemption by Christ makes even the lowest of sinners to be without blemish (Eph. 5:27). All redeemed are to be presented to God without blame (1 Th. 3:13; Jude 24)

c This means that an estimation was to be agreed upon by the sinner and the one he had wronged, regarding the amount of damage done or cost of property loss. The amount was to be paid back, with 20% added; and atonement had to be made for the sin before it could be forgiven and peace restored between the persons at enmity (v 18)

d This settled the question of guilt on the part of the one breaking the law whether he was conscious of his sin or not when the wrong was committed (v 19). He was just as much a lawbreaker before knowing as afterward. Thus, ignorance is no excuse for breaking the law or being freed from responsibility after it is broken

e Here we have the case of one lying:
1 About property in trust (v 2, 5)
2 About property in parmership (v 2,4)
3 About stolen property (v 2, 4)
4 About any property obtained through deceit (v 2, 4)
5 About lost property (v 3, 4)

f When it was decided by judges which man was in the wrong, the guilty one was to pay a fine as determined by the judges, with 20% more, then offer a ram to atone for his sin (v 5-6)

g The priest was the mediator between man and man and God and man (v 6-7)

h 18 commands - trespass offerings (5:1-6:7):
1 One who commits certain sins (v 1-5) shall bring an offering for his sin (5:6)
2 He shall bring a female lamb or a kid of the goats (cost today $20.00, v 6)
3 The priest shall make atonement for him (v 6)
4 If one is not able to bring an offering (of $20.00 value) he shall bring 2 pigeons or turtledoves (approximate cost today $2.00), one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering (v 7)
5 He shall bring them to the priest
6 The priest shall offer the sin offering first by wringing its neck and sprinkling some of its blood on the side of the brazen altar (v 9)
7 He shall pour out the rest of the blood at the base of the altar (v 9)
8 He shall offer the second bird for a burnt offering to be wholly consumed as other such offerings (v 10)
9 He shall thus make atonement for the guilty and he shall be forgiven
10 If he is not able to bring an offering or sacrifice (of $2.00 value), he shall bring an omer, a tenth part of an ephah of fine flour (3 qts, 1 pt, costing about 90¢ today) as a token of his sorrow for sin (v 11)
11 The priest shall take a handful of it and burn it for a memorial on the brazen altar causing it to be wholly consumed as other burnt offerings (v 12)
12 The priest shall make an atonement for the guilty one's sin (v 13)
13 The priest shall use the rest of the flour for himself
14 One who sins in holy things shall bring a ram for atonement and shall pay the estimation price or fine of the judges adding 20% to it in shekels of silver (v 15-16)
15 He shall give these to the priest who shall make atonement for him (v 16)
16 One who sins by breaking any of the commandments of God shall make full restitution for his wrong and bring a ram to the priest who shall make atonement for him (v 17-18)
17 One who sins against his neighbor, lying and deceiving about property in trust, property stolen or violently taken away, lost property, partnership property, or property obtained through deceit, shall make full restitution adding 20% to such payment made to the one sinned against (v 1-6) which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the LORD; [a]though he wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity.

●18 And he shall bring a [b]ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy [c]estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him.

●19 It is a trespass offering: he hath [d]certainly trespassed against the LORD.

96 CHAPTER 6

E Trespass offering: a ram, full restitution and 20% interest for stolen property

[1]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,

●2 If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the LORD, [e]and lie unto his neighbour in that which was delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour;

●3 Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein:

●4 Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, [f]that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found,

●5 Or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass offering.

●6 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD, a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, [g]unto the priest:

●7 And the priest [h]shall make an atonement for him before the LORD: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.

II Law of the offerings (Lev. 6:8-7:38). 1 Law of burnt offerings (Lev. 1:1-17)

■8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,

●9 [i]Command Aâr'on and his sons, saying, This is the law of the burnt offering: It is the burnt offering, because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it.

10 And the priest shall put on his linen garment, and his linen breeches shall he put upon his flesh, and take up the ashes which the fire hath consumed with the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.

●11 And he shall [j]put off his garments, and put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes without the camp unto [a]a clean place.

●12 And the fire upon the altar shall be burning in it; it shall not be put out: and the priest shall burn wood on it [b]every morning, and lay the burnt offering in order upon it; and he shall burn thereon the fat of the peace offerings.

●13 [c]The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out.

2 Law of meat offerings (Lev. 2:1-6; 10:12)

●14 ¶ And [d]this is the law of the meat offering: the sons of Aâr'on shall offer it before the LORD, before the altar.

●15 And he shall take of it his [e]handful, of the flour of the meat offering, and of the oil thereof, and all the frankincense which is upon the meat offering, and shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour, even the memorial of it, unto the LORD.

●16 And the remainder thereof shall Aâr'on and his sons eat: with unleavened bread shall it be eaten in the holy place; in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eat it.

●17 It shall not be baken with leaven. I have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire; [f]it is most holy, as is the sin offering, and as the trespass offering.

●18 [g]All the males among the children of Aâr'on shall eat of it. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the LORD made by fire: [h]every one that toucheth them shall be holy.

3 Law of daily meat offerings (Ex. 29:38-46)

19 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,

●20 [i]This is the offering of Aâr'on and of his sons, which they shall offer unto the LORD in the day when he is anointed; the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a meat offering perpetual, half of it in the morning, and half thereof at night.

●21 In a pan it shall be made with oil; and when it is baken, thou shalt bring it in: and the baken pieces of the meat offering shalt thou offer for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

●22 And the priest of his sons that is anointed in his stead shall offer it: it is a statute for ever unto the LORD; it shall be wholly burnt.

●23 For every meat offering for the priest shall be wholly burnt: it shall not be eaten.

4 Law of sin offerings (Lev. 4:1-35)

●24 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,

●25 [j]Speak unto Aâr'on and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin offering: In the place where the burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the LORD: [k]it is a Evidently there was a certain place for ashes of the sacrifices other than the place of refuse (v 11)

b This would also have to be done at night in order to take care of the evening sacrifices that were commanded later (Num. 28:4) c The fire was to be kept going perpetually as a symbol of the never ceasing worship which Jehovah required of His people Israel, and so there would be fire to burn the daily sacrifices as well as the many special ones that might be brought any time of the day (v 13). The fire originally came from heaven (9:24)

d See 6 commands - law of meat offerings, p. 152

e 3 offerings most holy (v 17):
1 Meat (food) offerings (note a, 2:10)
2 Sin offerings (note a, 2:10)
3 Trespass offerings (note a, 2:10)

f This refers to all the males who were allowed service in the tabernacle worship, for it was eaten in the court and holy place only (v 16). Males under 30 years of age were not allowed in the holy place (Num. 4:3, 23, 30, 39)

g This kind of holiness was ceremonial, meaning that the person was sanctified (set apart) for divine services, that is, allowed to partake of the meat offerings (v 18) ing:

h 7 commands - law of daily meat offer-
1 Aaron and his sons (his successors to the high priesthood) shall offer a meat offering to Jehovah the day he is anointed (v 20, 22-23)
2 He shall offer an omer, a tenth part of an ephah (3 qts, 1 pt, note e, 16:36) of fine flour, half in the morning and half at night (v 20)
3 Bake it in a pan with oil (v 21)
4 Offer the baked pieces of bread (perhaps 6 at night and 6 in the morning) as a sweet savour to Jehovah
5 The high priest, his successors, and those chosen to act in their place shall offer it to Jehovah (v 22)
6 It shall be wholly burnt, not a part eaten (v 22-23), typifying the completeness of the offering of Christ and His bodily resurrection and ascension (Lk. 24:39-54; Acts 1:9-11)
7 It shall be a statute forever to offer it morning and night (v 20, 22-23)

i 10 commands - law of sin offerings:
1 Command Aaron and sons concerning the law of sin offerings (v 25)
2 Kill the sin offering at the north side of the brazen altar where the burnt offerings are killed (v 25; 1:11)
3 The priest that offers it for sin shall eat it along with the other priests who serve in the tabernacle (v 26, 29)
4 They shall eat it in the holy place and in the court of the tabernacle (v 26)
5 Consider every material thing and person that touches the flesh of the sin offering to be holy (set apart, v 27)
6 If any blood of the sin offering is sprinkled upon the garments of the priests wash them in the holy place (v 27)
7 The earthen vessel in which it is sodden (boiled) shall be broken (v 28)
8 The brazen pot in which it is sodden (boiled) shall be scoured and rinsed in water (v 28)
9 No sin offering whose blood is sprinkled in the holy place shall be eaten (v 30; 4:5-7, 16-18, See Heb. 13:11). Those whose blood was used only in the court could be eaten in part (4:25, 30, 34, 6:26-30; 7:1-10)
10 It shall be wholly burnt (v 30)

j Two times it is stated here that sin offerings are most holy (v 25, 29). See note a, 2:10

→ Cont. from column 1

18 He shall bring a ram for a trespass offering, with the estimated fine with an additional 20% to the priest who shall make an atonement for him (v 6-7)

i See 7 commands - law of burnt offerings, p. 152

j Priests did not wear their ministerial garments in public out of the tabernacle (v 11). Though nothing is said about small tents in the tabernacle court we suppose there were places provided for dressing and storage of garments. In the temple there were many chambers or rooms to provide ample space for this (1 Ki. 6:5, 10; 1 Chr. 9:26, 33; 23:28; 28:11-12)

a This explains what was done with the flesh of the sacrifices of rulers and others. The fat was wholly burned and the flesh eaten by the priests (v 26; 4:16-35). Eating of it signified acceptance of the offererby the Lord, and the re-establishment of communion between them. See note g, 10:17 b 8 offerings eaten in the holy place:

1 Remnant of meat offerings (2:1-3; 7:14)
2 Meat offerings of Israel (2:4-10)
3 Flesh of sin offerings (4:26; 6:26; 10:
4 Flesh of trespass offerings (7:6) 17)
5 Flesh of peace offerings (7:15-17)
6 Remainder of leper's log of oil (14:10-13)
7 The 2 wave loaves (23:17-20)
8 The showbread (24:9)

c The flesh of the sin offering was considered most holy (v 25-29). It represented Christ who in due time took our nature upon Himself and made full atonement for all sin (Phil. 2:7; Heb. 2:9-18; 9:14-28; 1 Pet. 1:18-23; 2:24). Everything that touched the sin offering was regarded as holy, symbolizing that whoever touched Christ could be made whole

d The unglazed pottery which would absorb some of the juices could not be washed as clean for future use as a brazen vessel (v 28)

e The place where the blood was applied made the difference between the 2 types of sin offerings. Those whose blood was brought into the holy place could not be eaten. They had to be burned wholly with fire (4:5-7, 16-18. See Heb. 13:11). Those whose blood was used only in the court on the brazen altar or at its base could be eaten in part (4:25, 30, 34; 6:26-30; 7:1-10. See note a, above)

f 6 commands - law of trespass offering:
1 The trespass offering shall be killed north of the brazen altar where the burnt offerings are killed (v 2; 1:11)
2 The priest shall sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar (v 2)
3 He shall burn on the brazen altar all the fat, the rump (tail, note g, Ex. 29:22), the fat of the inwards, the 2 kidneys and their fat, the caul above the liver, for a trespass offering (v 3-5)
4 The remainder of the flesh shall be eaten in the holy place by the males among the priests that serve in the tabernacle (v 6)
5 The priests shall have the same parts of the trespass offerings as allowed in the sin offerings (v 7) 6 The priests shall retain for themselves in equal shares, the skins, all the meat that is not burned, the frying-pan and baked-pan offerings, and every meat offering mingled with oil or that is dry (v 8-10) males:

g 4 distinctions between males and females:
1 Males had the sign of the covenant in their flesh (12:3; Ex. 12:44-48)
2 Males belonged to God for service (Ex. 13:12, 15)
3 Males commanded to appear before God 3 times a year (Ex. 23:17; Dt. 16:16)
4 Males of Aaron to eat of certain sacrifices (6:18, 29; 7:6; Num. 18:10)

h It is believed by some that the right of the officiating priest to get the skin goes back to Adam who was clothed with the first skins of sacrifices (Gen. 3:21)

i 3 kinds of peace offerings:
1 Thanksgiving offerings (v 11-15)
2 Vow offerings (v 16-21)
3 Voluntary offerings (v 16-21)

j 10 commands - peace offerings:
1 Thanksgiving peace offerings shall be unleavened cakes mingled with oil, unleavened wafers anointed with oil made of fine flour and fried (v 11-12)
2 Besides the cakes the offerer shall offer unleavened bread with the sacrifice of a thanksgiving or peace offering (v 13)
3 He shall offer 1 unleavened cake, 1 wafer, 1 fried cake, and 1 loaf of leavened bread as a heave offering for the priest who sprinkles the blood of the peace offering (v 14) 4 The flesh of the peace offering shall be eaten the same day it is of-most holy.

●26 [c]The priest that offereth it for sin shall eat it: [b]in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.
●27 [c]Whatsoever shall touch the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof upon any garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it was sprinkled in the holy place.
●28 But the [d]earthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken: and if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water.
●29 All the males among the priests shall eat thereof: it is most holy.
●30 And no sin offering, whereof any of the blood is [e]brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withal in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt in the fire.

97 CHAPTER 7

5 Law of trespass offerings (Lev. 5:1-6:7)

●1 [f]LIKEWISE this is the law of the trespass offering: it is most holy.
●2 In the place where they kill the burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar.
●3 And he shall offer of it all the fat thereof; the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards,
●4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away:
●5 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a trespass offering.
●6 ¶ Every [g]male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: it is most holy.
●7 As the sin offering is, so is the trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it.
●8 And the priest that offereth any man's burnt offering, even the priest shall have to himself the [h]skin of the burnt offering which he hath offered.
●9 And all the meat offering that is baken in the oven, and all that is dressed in the frying-pan, and in the pan, shall be the priest's that offereth it.
●10 And every meat offering, mingled with oil, and dry, shall all the sons of Aăr'on have, one as much as another.

6 Law of peace offerings (Lev. 3:1-17)

●11 And this is the law of the sacrifice of [i]peace offerings which he shall offer unto the LORD.
●12 [j]If he offer it for a thanksgiving, then he shall offer with the sacrifice of thanksgiving unleavened cakes mingled with oil, and unleavened [a]wafers anointed with oil, and [b]cakes mingled with oil, of fine flour, fried.
●13 Besides the cakes, he shall offer for his offering [c]leavened bread with the sacrifice of thanksgiving of his peace offerings.
●14 And of it he shall offer one out of the whole oblation for an heave [d]offering unto the LORD, and it shall be the priest's that sprinkleth the blood of the peace offerings.
●15 And [e]the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered; he shall not leave any of it until the morning.
●16 But if the sacrifice of his offering be a [f]vow, or a voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and on the morrow also the remainder of it shall be eaten:
●17 But the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burnt with fire.
●18 And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings be eaten at all on the third day, it shall not be accepted, neither shall it be imputed unto him that offereth it: it shall be an abomination, and the soul that eateth of it shall bear his iniquity.
●19 [g]And the flesh that toucheth any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burnt with fire: and as for the flesh, all that be clean shall eat thereof.
●20 But the soul that eateth of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, that pertain unto the LORD, having his uncleanness upon him, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.
●21 Moreover the [h]soul that shall touch any unclean thing, as the uncleanness of man, or any unclean beast, or any abominable unclean thing, and eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which pertain unto the LORD, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

7 Law against eating fat and blood (Dt. 12:23)

■22 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mŏ'sĕs, saying,
●23 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, Ye [i]shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat.
●24 And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it.
●25 For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which men offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, even the soul that eateth it shall be cut off from his people.
●26 Moreover ye shall eat no manner of blood, whether it be of fowl or of beast, in any of your dwellings.

a Heb. rakik, a thin cake. Trans. wafer (2:4; 7:12; 8:26; Ex. 29:2, 23; Num. 6:15, 19)
b Heb. challah, cakes, or punctured bread. The root word is chalal, to bore. In baking or frying the top perhaps was pierced and gave the appearance of having holes in it. In 24:5 we learn that the cakes of showbread contained two tenth deals (1 gallon of dry flour) which would make very large ones (about 7 1/2 lbs. each)

c Leaven, commonly used at social feasts, was permitted in the thank offering because this was the spontaneous expression of devotion from lives that were not entirely rid of sin and evil in every case (v 13). It taught that everything eaten is sanctified by the Word of God and prayer (1 Tim. 4:4-5; 1 Cor. 10:23, 30) and that food which enters the stomach does not defile a man (Mt. 15:11)

d A heave offering was made to the priest sprinkling the blood, consisting of one each of the various things offered in the thank offering, except the whole animal (v 14). He could eat of the flesh for the offering and have 1 unleavened cake mingled with oil, 1 unleavened wafer anointed with oil, 1 large cake mingled with oil made of fine flour and fried, and 1 loaf of leavened bread (v 12-15)

e This indicates that the offerer could have a feast with his friends. Such a large animal as a beifer, a bullock (3:1), or a lamb (3:7) could not be eaten in one or two days by himself or by a few priests helping him (v 15-18)

f Peace offerings could be made when giving thanks to God (v 12), making vows (v 16), or as a voluntary act otherwise. Regardless of the purpose the flesh was to be eaten the same day or no later than the following day (v 18)

g The principle of touching any unclean thing making one unclean also applied to touching any holy thing; this made one clean or holy (v 19 with 6:18; Ex. 29:37; 30:29). It typified touching Christ to be made whole (note b, Mt. 8:3)

h An unclean person was not to eat of the peace offerings on penalty of death (v 21)

i 4 commands - eating fat and blood:
1 You shall not eat any manner of fat of ox, sheep, goat (v 23)
2 Use the fat of beasts that die for other things but not eating (v 24)
3 Do not eat the fat of any beast offered as a burnt offering (v 25) 26)
4 Do not eat any manner of blood (v
These are the first laws against eating fat, but previous to this, when flesh was permitted to be eaten by men, the blood or the life of the flesh was forbidden (Gen. 9:4). The command became a part of the law of Moses, as is clear in several passages (1:17; 7:26-27; 17:10, 12, 14). The same law was also made a part of the N. T. (Acts 15:19-20, 29). Nothing is said about fat in the N. T.

fered. Nothing shall be left of it until morning (v 15)
5 If the sacrifice of one's offering be a vow or voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that it is offered, and on the morrow also, but the remainder shall be burned on the 3rd day (v 16-17)
6 If any of the flesh be eaten on the 3rd day, it shall not be accepted, neither shall it be imputed unto the offerer, but shall be an abomination and sin to the one who eats (v 18). The reason for this was that the meat would begin to putrefy, and being holy, to expose it to putrefaction was a crime against God to whom it was consecrated. Avoiding putrefaction typified the fact that the body of Christ would not see corruption (Ps. 16:10; Acts 2:27-30)
7 The flesh that touches any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burned with fire (v 19)
8 All that are clean shall eat of the flesh of the peace offerings
9 The person with uncleanness upon him shall die if he eats of the flesh of peace offerings (v 20) 10 The person who touches any unclean thing and then eats of the flesh of the peace offerings shall die (v 21)

a Those eating fat of sacrifices or blood were to be cut off (v 25-27)

b 4 commands - priests' portion:
1 The one who offers peace offerings shall give a portion of it to the Lord for the priests (v 29 with v 14)
2 His own hands shall bring the offering made by fire - the fat to burn and the breast for the priests' portion (v 30-31)
3 The right shoulder shall be given to the priest offering the blood of atonement and burning the fat (v 32-33)
4 Always give the wave breasts and the heave shoulders of peace offerings to the priests (v 34)

c The wave offering derived its name from the fact that whatever was offered was waved toward the brazen altar symbolizing it was offered to the Lord, and away from the altar symbolizing that it was returned to the priests for their services (v 34-36)

d The heave offering was lifted up and down several times - up as a symbol of offering it to God who is above, and down again as a symbol of offering it to God's servants on earth (v 34-36)

e The portion appointed for Aaron and his sons who were anointed to minister in the priest's office (v 35-36)

f Summary of the laws of offerings (v 37):
1 Burnt offerings (1:1-17; 6:8-13)
2 Meat offerings (2:1-16; 6:14-23; 10:12)
3 Sin offerings (4:1-35; 6:24-30)
4 Trespass offerings (5:1-6:7; 7:1-10)
5 Consecration of priests (6:19-23; 8:1-10:20; Ex. 29:38-46)
6 Peace offerings (3:1-17; 7:11-21)

g In listing the various offerings the peace offerings are in 3rd place (3:1-17), but in the laws of offerings they are dealt with last (7:11-21)

h The laws of sacrifices and all other laws and commands were given mainly on Sinai and made the one law of God and of Moses for Israel (v 36)

i He commanded the laws of sacrifices and offerings, the judgments, statutes, and ordinances, as well as the 10 commandments. Therefore, these are commandments as much as the 10 are. See p. 113

j This is the beginning of the first of 3 historical sections of Leviticus and contains a brief record of the consecration of Aaron and his sons. Moses acted as God's representative in the sanctifying (setting apart) of the priests

3 historical sections of Leviticus:
1 Consecration of priests and their ministry (8:1-10:7) 20)
2 Moses rebuking the priests (10:16-3 Penalty for blasphemy (24:10-23)

k 8fold command to Moses (v 1-3):
1 Take Aaron 5 A bullock
2 His sons 6 2 rams
3 Garments 7 Basket of unleavened bread
4 Anointing oil 8 Gather Israel together

l This was the place where the priests were consecrated and anointed (v 3).

Many events took place at the door of the tabernacle. The term is found 45 times in the Pentateuch and only 2 times in the rest of the Bible 12 events at the door:

1 Aaron and sons were consecrated here (Ex. 29:1-37)
2 Jehovah met with Israel after their sin (Ex. 33:9-10)
3 Offerings for the laver were made here (Ex. 38:8)
4 All animal sacrifices of Israel were to be brought here to be killed (Lev. 1:3; 3:2; 4:4; 12:6; 17:4-9; 19:21-22; Num. 6:13-18)
5 All Israel gathered here at the day of yearly cleansing (Lev. 16)
6 Nazarites were made and unmade at this door (Num. 6)
7 Regular gatherings of Israel were at this door (Num. 10:3)
8 God came down to meet with Israel here (Num. 12:5)
9 Rebellions were put down here (Num. 16:18-19; 20:6; 25:6)
10 Moses remained at the door while the plague in Israel was being brought to an end (Num. 16:45-50)
11 Judgment took place in Israel at this door (Lev. 27:2)
12 God's last meeting with Moses before death was here (Dt. 31:15)

●33 He among the sons of Aâr'on, that offereth the blood of the peace offerings and the fat, shall have the right shoulder for his part.
●34 For the [c]wave breast and the [d]heave shoulder have I taken of the children of Iş'ra-el from off the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and have given them unto Aâr'on the priest and unto his sons by a statute for ever from among the children of Iş'ra-el.
●35 ¶ This is the [e]portion of the anointing of Aâr'on, and of the anointing of his sons, out of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, in the day when he presented them to minister unto the LORD in the priest's office;
●36 Which the LORD commanded to be given them of the children of Iş'ra-el, in the day that he anointed them, by a statute for ever throughout their generations.
37 [f]This is the law of the burnt offering, of the meat offering, and of the sin offering, and of the trespass offering, and of the consecrations, and of the sacrifice of the [g]peace offerings;
38 Which the LORD commanded Mō'şeş in [h]mount Sī'nāi, in the day that [i]he commanded the children of Iş'ra-el to offer their oblations unto the LORD, in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

CHAPTER 8 98

III The priesthood (Lev. 8:1-10:20). 1 Consecration of the priests (Ex. 29:1-9; 30; 30; Ps. 133)

AND the LORD [j]spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
●2 [k]Take Aâr'on and his sons with him, and the garments, and the anointing oil, and a bullock for the sin offering, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread;
●3 And gather thou all the congregation together [l]unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And Mō'şeş [a]did as the LORD commanded him; and [b]the assembly was [c]gathered together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
5 And Mō'şeş said unto the congregation, This is the thing which the LORD commanded to be done.
6 And Mō'şeş brought Aâr'on and his sons, and [d]washed them with water.
7 And [e]he put upon him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod upon him, and he girded him with the curious girdle of the ephod, and bound it unto him therewith.
8 And he put the breastplate upon him: also he put in the breastplate the [f]Ū'rim and the Thŭm'mim.
9 And he put the mitre upon his head; also upon the mitre, even upon his forefront, did he put the golden plate, the holy crown; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.
10 And Mō'şeş took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them.
11 And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all his vessels, both the laver and his foot, to sanctify them.
12 And he poured of the anointing oil upon Aâr'on's head, and anointed him, to sanctify him.
13 And Mō'şeş brought Aâr'on's sons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnets upon them; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

2 Offerings for priests: (1) Sin offering (Ex. 29:10)

14 [g]And he brought the bullock for the sin offering: and Aâr'on and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the bullock for the sin offering.
15 And he slew it; and Mō'şeş took the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make reconciliation upon it.
16 And he took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Mō'şeş burned it upon the altar.
17 But the bullock, and his hide, his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

(2) Burnt offering (Ex. 29:15)

18 ¶ [h]And he brought the ram for the burnt offering: and Aâr'on and his sons [i]laid their hands upon the head of the ram.
19 And he killed it; and Mō'şeş sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.
20 And he cut the ram into pieces; and Mō'şeş burnt the head, and the pieces, and the a Moses did. This was characteristic of the man. He was quick to obey God after being convinced by Him of his divine mission (v 4; 16:34; Ex. 4:30; 7:6, 10, 20; 8:17; 11:10; 17:6; 39:43; 40:16; Num. 4:37, 41; 17:11; 20:27; 27:22; 31:31)

4 Anointed them (v 10-12)

a Age and sex of the various offerings:
1 Burnt offerings:
(1) Bullock, over 4-years-old, estimated cost today $325.00 (1:3; 8:2; 16:3)
(2) Male sheep or goat, cost $20.00 (1:10; 9:2; 16:3, 5-28)
2 Peace offerings:
(1) Male or female of cattle, cost $189.00 (3:1)
(2) Male or female lamb or kid, cost $20.00 (3:6-7, 12)
3 Sin offerings:
(1) Bullock, over 4-years-old, cost $325.00 (4:3-4, 8, 12-21)
(2) Male goat, cost $20.00 (4:23)
(3) Female lamb or kid, cost $20.00 (5:6)
(4) Young calf, cost $95.00 (9:2)
4 Trespass offerings:
(1) Female lamb or kid, cost $20.00 (5:6)
(2) Ram, cost $20.00 (5:15, 18; 6:6)
5 Freewill offerings:
(1) For burnt offerings: male of cattle ($189.00), sheep or goat, cost $20.00 (22:18-21)
(2) For vows: male of cattle ($189.00), sheep or goat, cost $20.00 (22:18-21, 27)
(3) Bullock, over 4-years-old, cost $325.00 (22:23) (22:23)
(4) Male lamb or kid, cost $20.00
6 Sacrifices for feasts:
(1) Passover: male lambs, cost $20.00 each (Ex. 12:5)
(2) Pentecost: 9 male lambs and 1 male kid, cost $200.00, 1 young bullock, $325.00, 2 rams, $40.00 (23:18-19)

Many special offerings are mentioned, nearly all being male sacrifices, implying by figure and type the responsibility of Adam, not Eve, as the agent of God; emphasizing the iniquity of fathers, not mothers; and symbolizing the Redeemer who came as a man (1 Tim. 2:4-5). Female offerings that were permitted simply implied that the woman had a part in the transgression of man and was also provided for in redemption. Females were used only in peace offerings (Lev. 3) and in minor sin offerings of a personal nature - never in the whole burnt offerings or any that definitely symbolized Christ as the sin-bearer for all men

b Moses officiated as priest until Aaron and his sons were anointed to take over the priesthood. Moses was prophet (Dt. 18:15-20), priest (Lev. 9:23; etc.), and king (Dt. 33:5)

c See note a, Ex. 29:20

d The tail part (note g, Ex. 29:22)

e This proves that the unleavened bread and other breads in the basket were brought and all things fully prepared before the consecration of priests who were to succeed Moses in the ministry (v 2, 26)

f Moses put all the things belonging to the burnt wave offering upon the hands of Aaron and his sons and then, with his own hands under theirs, waved the whole offering back and forth before burning it (v 27-28). The next wave offering, that of the breast, was waved before Jehovah and then given to Moses (v 29). After this the breast was given to the high priest. Other parts were waved and given to the other priests (7:34; 10:14-15; Ex. 29:27)

g The sprinkling of the blood and anointing oil together upon the bodies and garments of the priests was a fitting conclusion of their consecration and of the entire rite of such sanctification. Blood had been applied before this to the bodies (v 23-24) and to the altar (v 14-15). Even Aaron had been anointed as high priest (v 10-13), so the new part of the ritual did not cleanse from sin, sanctify, or bless in any particular way except to show the necessity of continued trust in the blood and the need of continued anointing with the Spirit (v 30). The outward ritual of anointing with oil signified the choice of God, the calling of God, and the enduement of power for the particular work one was called to do. Priests, prophets, and kings were anointed and if they carried out their calling they had the backing of God. If they sinned and failed they received the curse of God until they repented and came back to the original calling and fulfilled it. If they never came back the curse of God remained fat.

21 And he washed the inwards and the legs in water; and Mō'ṣeṣ burnt the whole ram upon the altar: it was a burnt sacrifice for a sweet savour, and an offering made by fire unto the LORD; as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

(3) Consecration ram (Ex. 29:19)

22 ¶ And he brought the other ram, the[e]ram of consecration: and Aār'on and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.

23 And he slew it; and [b]Mō'ṣeṣ took of the blood of it, and put it upon the[c]tip of Aār'on's right ear, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

24 And he brought Aār'on's sons, and Mō'ṣeṣ put of the blood upon the tip of their right ear, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet: and Mō'ṣeṣ sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

25 And he took the fat, and the[d]rump, and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and the right shoulder:

26 And [e]out of the basket of unleavened bread, that was before the LORD, he took one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shoulder:

(4) Wave offering (Ex. 29:23)

27 And he [f]put all upon Aār'on's hands, and upon his sons' hands, and waved them for a wave offering before the LORD.

28 And Mō'ṣeṣ took them from off their hands, and burnt them on the altar upon the burnt offering: they were consecrations for a sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

29 And Mō'ṣeṣ took the breast, and waved it for a wave offering before the LORD: for of the ram of consecration it was Mō'ṣeṣ' part; as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

3 Anointing of the priests (Ex. 30:30; Ps. 133)

30 And Mō'ṣeṣ took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it [g]upon Aār'on and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aār'on, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

4 Priest - food (Ex. 29:23)

●31 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Aār'on and to his sons, [h]Boil the flesh [i]at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aār'on and his sons shall eat it.

●32 And [a]that which remaineth of the flesh and of the bread shall ye burn with fire.

5 Seven days' separation for priests (Ex. 29:35-37)

●33 [b]And ye shall not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation in seven days, until the days of your consecration be at an end: for seven days shall he consecrate you.

34 As he hath done this day, so the LORD hath commanded to do, to make an atonement for you.

●35 Therefore shall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and [c]keep the charge of the LORD, that ye die not: for so I am commanded.

36 So Aār'on and his sons did all things which the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

99 CHAPTER 9

6 Ministry of priests (Lev. 9:1-24; Ex. 29:38-46).
(1) Two offerings for priests

AND it came to pass on [d]the eighth day, that Mō'ṣeṣ called Aār'on and his sons, and the elders of Iṣ'ra-el:

●2 And he [e]said unto Aār'on, Take thee a young calf for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and offer them before the LORD.

(2) Six offerings for people

●3 And unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el thou shalt speak, saying, Take ye a kid of the goats for a sin offering; and a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without blemish, for a burnt offering;

●4 Also a bullock and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD; and a meat offering mingled with oil: [f]for to day the LORD will appear unto you.

(3) Preparation for worship

5 ¶ And [g]they brought that which Mō'ṣeṣ commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation: and all the congregation drew near and stood before the LORD.

*6 And Mō'ṣeṣ said, This is the thing which the LORD commanded that ye should do: [h]and the glory of the LORD shall appear unto you.

●7 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Aār'on, Go unto the altar, and offer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thyself, and for the people: and offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them; as the LORD commanded.

(4) First offering: calf for sin offering for priests

8 ¶ Aār'on therefore went unto the altar, and slew the calf of the sin offering, which was for a In this hot country of the East care was to be taken so that all flesh or bread of offerings would be eaten before it began to spoil, because it typified that which was spotless and perfect (v 32)

b The rites of consecration were to last 7 days, during which time the priests were not to leave the tabernacle day or night. They were to go through the same rituals and offer the same sacrifices daily for the 7 days (v 33-35; Ex. 29:35-37). They ate of the sacrifices and the bread, and slept inside the court, perhaps on the ground, on skins

c 7 commands - final consecration orders:
1 Boil flesh of sacrifices on the brazen altar at door of tabernacle (v 31)
2 Eat it at the same place with the bread of consecration
3 Aaron and sons shall eat of it
4 That which remains daily shall be burned on the brazen altar (v 32)
5 Do not go out the door of the tabernacle for 7 days of your consecration (v 33, 35)
6 Do daily for the 7 days what is done today (v 34; Ex. 29:35-37)
7 Keep the charge of the Lord day and night lest you die (v 35)

d This was the 1st day after their 7 days of consecration of 8:31-36. If they began consecration services on the sabbath, this 8th day would be on the next sabbath; if on the day after the sabbath it would be the next 1st day of the week following a sabbath. Regardless of when the 7-day period began at least one day of the 7 was on a sabbath, thus showing additional work on the sabbath, in divine services. The command of no work on the sabbath referred solely to secular work and business which could be postponed a day; but sabbath work to carry on worship and necessary rituals was not forbidden. This also shows that worship services were on the 8th day as well as the 7th, even back in the time of Moses

8 commands concerning the 8th day:
1 Firstborn males of animals to be given to God (Ex. 22:30)
2 Priests to begin ministry (Lev. 9:1)
3 Children to be circumcised (Lev. 12:3) (Lev. 14:10, 23)
4 Ceremonial cleansing for lepers
5 Ceremonial cleansing of issues (Lev. 15:14)
6 Ceremonial cleansing of women with running issue (Lev. 15:29)
7 Holy convocation at the feast of tabernacles (Lev. 23:36, 39; Num. 29:35)
8 Final rites of Nazarites (Num. 6:10)

e 4 commands - first ministry of priests:
1 Take a young calf for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering, both without blemish, and offer them before Jehovah for Aaron and sons (v 1-2)
2 Speak unto Israel to take a kid for a sin offering; a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without blemish, for a burnt offering; a bullock and a ram for peace offerings; and a meat offering mingled with oil, and offer them before Jehovah for themselves (v 3-4)
3 To Aaron: Go to the brazen altar and offer your sin offering, and your burnt offering, and make atonement for yourself (v 7)
4 Offer the offering of the people and make atonement for them

11 And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire[d]without the camp.

(5) Second offering: ram for burnt offering for priests

12 And he slew the burnt offering; and Aâr'on's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about upon the altar.

13 And they presented the burnt offering unto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: [e]and he burnt them upon the altar.

14 And he did wash the inwards and the legs, and burnt them upon the burnt offering on the altar.

(6) Third offering: goat for sin offering for the people

15 ¶ And he brought the people's offering, and took the goat, which was the sin offering for [f]the people, and slew it, and offered it for sin, as the first.

(7) Fourth and fifth offerings: calf and ram for burnt offerings for the people

23 And Mō'şeş and [c]Aâr'on went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and [d]blessed the people: [e]and the glory of the LORD appeared unto all the people.

(11) Divine acceptance by fire: 29th miracle (Gen. 4:4-5; 15:17; 1 Ki. 18:38; 1 Chr. 21:26; 2 Chr. 7:1-3)

24 And there [f]came a fire out from before the LORD, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat: which when all the people saw, [g]they shouted, and fell on their faces.

CHAPTER 10 100

7 First sin of priests. Fire from God: 30th miracle

AND[h]Nā'dăb and Ă-bī'hū, the sons of Aâr'on, [i]took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the LORD, which he commanded them not.

2 And there went out fire from the LORD, and [j]devoured them, and they died before the LORD.

3 Then Mō'şeş said unto Aar'on, This is it that the LORD spake, saying, [k]I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people I will be glorified. And Aâr'on held his peace.

4 And Mō'şeş [l]called Mish'a-el and Ĕl'za-phăn, the sons of Ŭz'zĭ-el the uncle of Aâr'on, and said unto them, Come near, carry your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.

5 So they went near, and carried them in their coats out of the camp; as Mō'şeş had said.

●6 And Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, and unto Ē-le-ā'zar and unto Ĭth'a-mär, his sons,[m]Uncover[n]not your heads, [o]neither rend your clothes; lest ye die, and lest wrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Ĭş'ra-el, bewail the burning which the LORD hath kindled.

●7 [p]And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oil of the LORD is upon you. And they did according to the word of Mō'şeş.

8 Law against strong drink and neglect of duty

■8 [q] And the LORD spake unto Aâr'on, saying,

●9[q]Do not drink [r]wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations:

a 4 acts of the sons of Aaron:
1 Brought the blood of the sin offering to Aaron (v 9)
2 Brought the blood of the burnt offering to Aaron (v 12)
3 Presented the burnt offering to him, with the head and pieces (v 13)
4 Presented the blood of peace offerings to Aaron (v 18), as well as the parts to burn on the altar (v 19-20)
The sons no doubt held the basins to catch the blood, helped skin and cut the sacrifices, and did many other things, but Aaron himself was the overseer of all the work and the actual doer of many rituals

11 Burned them upon the altar
12 Brought the sin offering of the people to the brazen altar (v 15)
13 Slew the goat and offered it for sin upon the altar
14 Brought the burnt offering, and offered it as commanded (v 16)
15 Brought the meat offering, took a handful and burned it upon the altar (v 17)
16 Slew the bullock and the ram for peace offerings for the people (v 18)
17 Sprinkled the blood round about the brazen altar
18 Burned the fat, kidneys, rump, and caul upon the brazen altar (v 19-20)
19 Waved the wave offering before the Lord, as commanded (v 21)
20 Lifted up his hand toward the people and blessed them (v 22)
21 Came down from the altar

c Aaron did not act here according to the ordinary law (4:5-7, 16-18), but as Moses did in the sin offering of the consecration ceremony (8:15). This perhaps was because he had not yet been introduced as the high priest in the holy place (v 23) d This symbolized complete expiation. The whole curse fell upon the substitute, and atonement was not completed until the whole sacrifice was consumed (v 10, Cp. Heb. 13:11-13)

e This also was for Aaron. The sin offering was for individual acts of sin. The burnt offering was for general guilt and original sin. It symbolized Jesus Christ as the one all-sufficient offering for sin (Jn. 1:29; 1 Pet. 2:24)

f After offering the sin offering and the burnt offering for himself (v 8-14), he then offered the sin offering for Israel's atonement (v 15), the burnt offering typifying complete surrender (v 16), the meat offering to render thanks (v 17), and the peace offerings of the people for communion with God (v 18-21)

wail as an act of acknowledgement of sin and to signify that they had a share in the acts of their priests (v 6)

o Permitting the hair to be dishevelled, and rending clothes were common signs of grief (13:45; Gen. 37:29; 44:13; 2 Sam. 1:11; 15:30; Job 1:20; Joel 2:13)

q 3 commands to Aaron:
1 Do not drink wine or strong drink when ministering before Me (v 9)
2 Distinguish between the holy and unholy, clean and unclean (v 10)
3 Teach Israel the statutes which I have spoken to Moses (v 11) a The lifting up of hands became a custom of priests in blessing the people when completing their duties for them in the rituals. What the priest said to them on this occasion is not stated, but it could have been what was established for priests in Num. 6:24-26, Cp. 2 Chr. 6:3-11; Ps. 90:17. One of the Targums reads, "May your offerings be accepted, and may the Lord dwell among you and forgive you of your sins"

b Came down from the platform around the altar, on which the priests stood to burn sacrifices (see note f, Ex. 27:5) c Aaron, having gone through the cycle of priestly duties connected with the brazen altar, was now taken into the tabernacle by Moses, perhaps to be shown his duties therein (v 23) d This was the second blessing of the people on this occasion. One was by Aaron (v 22) and the other by Moses and Aaron - a joint blessing of the mediator of the law and the new high priest of the law (v 23)

e 2 manifestations of God's presence:
1 Appearance of glory of God (v 23)
2 Fire falling from God on the altar to consume the sacrifices (v 24)

f An old Jewish tradition maintains that the fire of the brazen altar was first kindled by this fire from the Lord, and that it was kept alive on the altar until the dedication of the temple of Solomon when it fell from Him again (2 Chr. 7:1). However, it seems from 8:16; 9:10, 13; Ex. 40:29 that fire had already been kindled on the altar. If so, then the fire from God only manifested His divine presence and acceptance in burning up the sacrifices, as was true in Gen. 4:4; Judg. 6:21; 13:19-20; 1 Ki. 18:38; 1 Chr. 21:26-28. This appearance of God fulfilled the prophecies of v 4, 6

g This was the result of the sudden appearance of God and of the consuming fire from Him in devouring the sacrifices. It was the after effect upon the emotions of the people. See Emotions in Scripture, p.152

h These sons accompanied Moses with over 70 others to a banquet with Jehovah on Sinai (Ex. 24:1-11). They had but recently been set apart for the ministry (8:13-36). Now, through self-exaltation, pride, and drunkenness they committed sin and died in the fire of God sent as punishment for violating the sacred office (v 1-7)

i 5 sins of priests Nadab and Abihu:
1 In the process of divine services, did what was not commanded (v 1)
2 Offered strange fire - that of their own making and not the fire of the altar, before Jehovah (v 1; Num. 3:4)
3 Offered incense at the wrong time and place
4 Failed to sanctify themselves before Jehovah and the congregation who were in a state of religious ecstacy (v 3; 9:24)
5 Got drunk and sought to carry on the holy services in this state (v 3, 9)

j 5 cases of destruction by fire of God:
1 Sodom and Gomorrah (Gen. 19:24)
2 Plague upon Egypt (Ex. 9:23-24)
3 Plague in Israel (Num. 11:1-3) 10)
4 250 men of Israel (Num. 16:35; 26:5 102 men by Elijah (2 Ki. 1:10-14)

5 future destructions by fire:
1 First trumpet judgment (Rev. 8:7)
2 Fire from 2 witnesses (Rev. 11:5)
3 Destruction of Babylon (Rev. 18:8)
4 Fire consuming rebels (Rev. 20:9)
5 Fire renovating earth (2 Pet. 3:10-13)

k If God had not judged them their ministering in a drunken state would have been an evil example for coming generations. Aaron recognized this so held his peace (v 3)

l These were first cousins of Aaron and the nearest relatives who were not priests (v 4; Ex. 6:22)

m 4 commands to Aaron and sons:
1 Do not uncover your heads (v 6)
2 Do not rend your clothes
3 Let Israel bewail them, not you
4 Do not go out of the door of the tabernacle, lest you die (v 7)

n Priests were not to mourn for the dead or touch them (21:10-12). On this occasion especially, they were to uphold the honor of Jehovah in His just judging of sin. The people were allowed to be-

11 First misunderstanding and confusion among the priests

16 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ diligently sought the [d]goat of the sin offering, and, behold, it was burnt: and he [e]was angry with Ê-le-â'zar and Ith'a-mär the sons of Aâr'on which were left alive, saying,
17 [f]Wherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, [g]seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD?
18 Behold, [h]the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place: ye should indeed have eaten it in the holy place, as I commanded.
19 And Aâr'on said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Behold, this day have they offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD; and such things have befallen me: [i]and if I had eaten the sin offering to day, [j]should it have been accepted in the sight of the LORD?

101 CHAPTER 11

IV Health laws (Lev. 11:1-15:33). 1 Dietary laws (Lev. 11:1-30; Dt. 14:3-20). (1) Clean and unclean animals (Dt. 14:3)

[a]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and to Aâr'on, saying unto them,
●2 Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, [a]These are the beasts which [b]ye shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth.
●3 Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is clovenfooted, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts, that shall ye eat.
●4 Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: [c]as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
●5 And the coney, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
●6 And the hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
●7 And the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; he is unclean to you.
●8 Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; they are unclean to you.

(2) Clean and unclean fish (Dt. 14:9-10)

●9 ¶ These shall [d]ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat.
●10 And all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an abomination unto you:
●11 They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in abomination.
●12 Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an abomination unto you.

(3) Clean and unclean fowls (Dt. 14:12-18)

●13 ¶ And these are they which ye shall have in abomination among the fowls; [e]they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray, ●14 And the vulture, and the kite after his kind;
●15 Every raven after his kind;
●16 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,
●17 And the little owl, and the cormorant, and the great owl, ●18 And the swan, and the pelican, and the gier eagle, ●19 And the stork, the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

(4) Clean and unclean creeping fowls (Dt. 14:19)

●20 All fowls that creep, going upon all four, shall be an abomination unto you.
●21 Yet these may ye eat of every flying creeping thing that a Here God, Himself, ascribed the Law to Moses (v 11)

b 6 commands - priests' portion:
1 Take the meat (food) offering that remains of the burnt offerings (v 12)
2 Eat it without leaven beside the altar (v 12)
3 Eat it in the holy place (v 13)
4 The wave breast and heave shoulder of the peace offerings shall be eaten by all your families in a clean place (v 14)
5 The heave and wave offerings shall be yours after you heave and wave them before Jehovah (v 15)
6 They shall be yours by a statute forever (v 15) c This no doubt refers to the golden altar of incense in the holy place. This particular part of the burnt offerings was to be eaten in the holy place by the high priest and the associating priests who officiated in the sacrifices. Those not in the ministry were not allowed in the holy place, much less were permitted to go in and eat the most holy things. The parts of the peace offerings of v 14-15 could be eaten by all the family members of the priests in a clean place, either in the outer court or outside of it as they chose d The law on this point was clear (notes, 2:1-16; 9:15-16), but due to the confusion caused by the death of Nadab and Abihu (10:1-10) the goat had been burned instead of eaten in the holy place (v 17-19)
e Moses had experienced enough in the last few hours to make him angry. Aaron had gone through his initial ministry with flying colors (9:1-24), but when the other priests, the sons of Aaron, began their ministry everything seemed to go wrong (10:1-20)
1 Nadab and Abihu had got drunk and sought to minister before Jehovah, a sin for which they were killed (v 1-5)
2 The other priests had to be warned of further acts contrary to the law, and were forbidden even to mourn or attend the funeral of the slain priests, lest they also die (v 6-7)
3 It became necessary to command the other priests against drunkenness (v 9)
4 It became necessary to emphasize the seriousness of being strict in making a clear distinction between the clean and unclean (v 10)
5 Command had to be given to teach the letter of the law already given (v 11)
6 Priests had to be instructed again regarding the eating of holy things which was an essential part of the atoning work (v 12-20)
7 Priests had committed two acts of disobedience (see note h, below)
The failures of the priests in such important matters were disturbing to Moses, and he was afraid that God would judge them further. This, he wanted to avoid. God spoke the first 3 commands to Aaron (v 8-11) and Moses spoke the last 6 (v 12-15) rebuking the priests in his anger for their failure to obey (v 16-20)
f Question 1, Next, v 19
g Here we have proof that all eating of the sacrifices by the priests, their families, and even the people of Israel who offered them, was connected with the work of atonement and was to be held as sacred and most holy (v 12-19). It was to them as sacred as the Lord's Supper should be to Christians (1 Cor. 11) h 2 acts of disobedience of priests:
1 The blood was not brought within the holy place and sprinkled before Jehovah and put on the horns of the golden altar (v 18). This kind of sin offering required the blood to be taken into the holy place, as in 4:5-7, 15-19; 9:15
2 The flesh was not eaten in the holy place, as commanded in 6:26,29; 7:6-7
i Question 2, Next, 25:20
j Aaron's excuse for not eating the sin offering in the holy place was that it would not be pleasing to Jehovah for him to force himself to eat food in view of the calamity that had just befallen his sons (v 19)
k Moses did not contend with Aaron any further, being satisfied that this was about all any father and brothers could do in view of their grief at the loss of Nadab and Abihu, especially, since they were not to shed a tear, mourn, or attend the funeral services of the loved ones (v 20) a 33 commands - clean, unclean things:

1 Among beasts you shall eat whatever parts the hoof, is clovenfooted, and chews the cud (v 1-3)
2 Others (as described in v 4-7) you shall not eat
3 Do not touch their carcases (v 8)
4 You shall eat whatever has fins and scales of all that are in the waters (v 9)
5 Other water creatures you shall not eat; they shall be an abomination to you (v 10-12)
6 These (named in v 13-19) are the fowls you shall not eat
7 All fowls that creep, going on all 4 legs shall be an abomination to you (v 20)
8 These (described in v 21-22) you may eat of flying, creeping things that go on 4 legs
9 All other flying, creeping things shall be an abomination to you (v 23)
10 Whoever touches any carcase of them shall be unclean (v 24)
11 Whoever bears a carcase of them shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening (v 25)
12 The carcases of animals which divide the hoof, are not clovenfooted and do not chew the cud shall be unclean to you (v 26)
13 Whatever goes upon his paws, among beasts going on 4 legs shall be unclean to you (v 27)
14 Whoever touches one of these unclean animals shall be unclean until the evening (v 26-27)
15 Whoever carries a carcase of one of these shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening (v 28)
16 These - (described in v 29-30) of the creeping things shall be unclean to you
17 Whoever touches a carcase of one of them shall be unclean until the evening (v 31)
18 Anything upon which such a carcase falls shall be unclean (v 32)
19 Any vessel which is not earthen that is touched by such a carcase shall be put into water, and be unclean until the evening (v 32)
20 Any earthern vessel that one touches shall be broken (v 33)
21 Any meat on which such water falls shall be unclean (v 34)
22 All drink that may be in any such vessel shall be unclean (v 34)
23 Any oven, range, or pot on which an unclean carcase falls shall be broken down (v 35)
24 Any pit or fountain of water that has plenty of water shall not be unclean if such a carcase falls into it (v 36)
25 Seeds on which a carcase falls shall be clean, unless water has been put on them (v 37-38)
26 If one touches any clean beast that has died of itself he shall be unclean until the evening (v 39)
27 One who eats of such shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening (v 40)
28 One who carries such a carcase shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening (v 40)
29 You shall not eat any creeping thing (as described in v 41-42)
30 Every such creeping thing shall be an abomination to you (v 41-42)
31 Do not make yourselves abominable or unclean by them (v 43-44)
32 Do not defile yourselves with any of them (v 44-45) 33 You shall sanctify (set apart) yourselves from them and be holy h See Dt. 14:4-6 for a list of these c 4 unclean animals (cp. Dt. 14:7-8):
1 Camel, a large animal with one or two humps on its back, used as a beast of burden in desert countries (v 4; Dt. 14:7) 30:24)
2 Coney (v 5; Dt. 14:4; note j, Pr. 3 Hare (v 7; Dt. 14:7). After first nibbling and partially chewing its food the hare deposits same in its cheeks to be chewed a second time more fully before swallowing (v 6). This is spoken of as chewing the cud
4 Swine, commonly known as hogs or pigs (v 7; Dt. 14:8)
d Fish are not named as are other animals and fowls. The general law given to determine which could be eaten said that any kind which had fins and scales were clean and those which did not have were unclean for food (v 9-12)
e See 20 unclean fowls, p. 152

a 4 clean flying creeping things (v 20-23):
1 Locust, the food of John (Mt. 3:4)
2 Bald locust, now unknown
3 Beetle, thought to be a species of grasshopper
4 Grasshopper. See Index

b All flying creeping things other than the 4 of v 22 were to be unclean and an abomination to Israel. Whoever touched a carcase of them or carried any was to be unclean until the evening (v 23-25) c This shows how they were to distinguish between the clean and unclean beasts of those having 4 legs. The unclean would include apes, monkeys, bears, lions, tigers, cats, dogs, etc. Whoever touched the carcase of one of these was to wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening (v 26-28)

d 8 unclean creeping things (v 29-30):
1 Weasel
2 Mouse
3 Tortoise
4 Ferret
5 Chameleon
6 Lizard
7 Snail
8 Mole

e Whoever touched any one of the 8 unclean things of v 29-30 (when it was dead), was to be unclean until evening (v 31)

f If any vessel of wood, any leather or cloth contacted the dead body of an unclean animal it became unclean; and it was then necessary to soak it in water until the evening to make it clean. All earthen vessels so contaminated were to be broken (v 32-33)

g Any water into which an unclean thing had fallen was counted unclean unless it was a large body of water (v 34-36)

7 commands - diagnosing leprosy (13:9)

1 When the plague of leprosy is in a man he shall be brought to the priest (v 9)

2 If the priest sees that the rising is white with white hair and quick raw flesh in the rising, he shall pronounce the man unclean and shut him up (v 10-11)

3 If the plague breaks out and covers the whole body, then the priest shall pronounce him clean (v 13)

4 If raw flesh appears in him he shall be unclean (v 14)

5 The priest shall see the raw flesh and pronounce him unclean (v 15)

6 If the raw flesh turns again and is changed to white he shall come to the priest again (v 16)

7 The priest shall then examine him and if the plague is turned white, he shall pronounce the man clean (v 17)

As stated in note a, 13:3 the ancients called a great variety of skin diseases leprosy. Some writers identify one as lepra vulgaris the common white leprosy or dry tetter. This disease first appears in reddish pimples, the surface of which becomes white and scaly, spreading in a circular direction and covering large parts of the body. It is said that it scarcely affects the general health, and may last for years and then disappear. A person having such a plague would no doubt be pronounced clean of leprosy by the priest. In v 2-17 we either have 2 kinds of disease or 2 stages of one kind

(1) That which partially covers the body, is raw and open emitting corruption (v 10-11, 14-15)

(2) That which is dry and scaly, and therefore not so contagious (v 13,16-17)

6 commands concerning a leper (13:45)

1 He shall rend his clothes (as a sign of mourning, calamity, and extreme sorrow, v 45)

2 He shall go with his head bare

3 He shall put a covering on his upper lip (a cloth on his mouth as a corpse in death)

4 He shall cry "Unclean, unclean," when he comes near other people (to protect them from the disease)

5 He shall be considered defiled and unclean all the days of his plague (v 46)

6 He shall stay segregated from clean and healthy people (even relatives) all the days of his plague

To all men the leper was a living lesson portraying sin, of which death was the penalty. He carried about perpetual signs of mourning for the dead, himself being an example of living death. He was a symbol of sin, teaching

(2) Unclean vessels

●33 And every earthen vessel, whereinto any of them falleth, whatsoever is in it shall be unclean; and ye shall break it.

(3) Unclean meat and water

(4) Unclean cooking equipment

●35 And every thing whereupon any part of their carcase falleth shall be unclean; whether it be oven, or ranges for pots, [a]they shall be broken down: for they are unclean, and shall be unclean unto you.

(5) Streams, lakes, and fountains

(6) Clean and unclean seeds

●37 And if any part of their carcase fall upon any [c]sowing seed which is to be sown, it shall be clean.

●38 But if any water be put upon the seed, and any part of their carcase fall thereon, it shall be unclean unto you.

(7) Unclean persons

●39 [d]And if any beast, of which ye may eat, die; he that toucheth the carcase thereof shall be unclean until the even.

●40 And he that eateth of the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: he also that beareth the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

(8) Unclean creeping things

●41 And [e]every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth shall be an abomination; it shall not be eaten.

●42 Whatsoever goeth upon [f]the belly, and whatsoever goeth upon all four, or whatsoever hath more feet among all creeping things that creep upon the earth, them ye shall not eat; for they are an abomination.

●43 Ye shall not make yourselves abominable with any creeping thing that creepeth, neither shall ye make yourselves unclean with them, that ye should be defiled thereby.

(9) Personal holiness commanded (Ex. 22:31, refs.)

●44 For I am the LORD your God: ye shall therefore [g]sanctify yourselves, and [h]ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

●45 For I am the LORD that bringeth you up out of the land of E'gypt, to be your God: ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the law of the beasts, and of the fowl, and of every living creature that moveth in the waters, and of every creature that creepeth upon the earth:

a All ranges, ovens, and pots which became unclean through unclean water falling on them or the carcase of an unclean creature touching them, were to be broken (v 35)

b A well, cistern, or fountain that had plenty of water in it was to be recognized as clean even though the carcase of an unclean animal fell into it (v 36)

c Seeds to be sown were to be considered clean even though the carcase of an unclean animal fell on them (v 37), unless the seed had been soaked in water (v 38)

d Touching the carcase of a clean animal that had died of itself made one unclean until the evening (v 39)

e Every creeping thing going upon its belly, as snakes of all kinds; those having 4 legs, as crocodiles, lizards, frogs, mice, rats, hares, conies, etc.; and all creatures having more than 4 legs, were unclean to Israel (v 41-43)

f In the Heb. Bible the second letter of the word belly is printed much larger than the others indicating that it is the middle letter of the Pentateuch and that this is the middle verse g This, as all other statements on sanctification in the Bible, confirms the primary meaning as being set apart from a profane to a sacred use. Here men were to sanctify themselves, and this they could not do, in the sense of cleansing themselves from sin. See 1 Cor. 6:11; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:9; 5:1-4, 18; 1 Pet. 1:1-3, 18-23; Rev. 1:4-6; also Sanctification in Index

h Holiness required here, consisted of separation from all unclean, abominable, and unholy things. Other degrees of holiness take in separation from all sin and immoral living, and consecration to the same end in life that God is consecrated to. The condition of holiness as in 19:2-37; 20:2-27 and many other passages, goes further and takes in personal moral cleanness of life and conduct (1 Th. 4:3; 5:6-23; Heb. 12:14). Such holiness is evidenced by purity of life and morals, not by outward appearance and the customary adorning which makes a person more attractive and a better representative of true religion. See 1 Sam. 16:7; Mk. 7:19-23; Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21 that he was not only lost and ruined because of what he had done, but on account of what he was. The sinner must not only confess what he has done, but also admit that there is no righteousness in him (Ps. 51:5; 2 Cor. 5:21; Eph. 2:1-8; 1 Jn. 1:9)

14 commands - woman's issue of blood (15:19)

1 A woman which has an issue of blood shall be put apart for 7 days (v 19)

2 Whoever touches her shall be unclean until evening

3 Everything that she lies upon shall be unclean (v 20)

4 Everything that she sits upon shall be unclean

5 Whoever touches her bed shall wash his clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening (v 21)

6 Whoever touches anything that she has sat upon shall wash his clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening (v 22)

7 If a man is contaminated by lying down beside her he shall be unclean until evening (v 24)

8 If the woman's issue continues beyond the 7 days she shall remain separated as long as it continues (v 25)

9 Every bed whereon she lies during the continuation of her issue shall be unclean (v 26)

10 Everything she sits upon during that time shall be unclean

11 Whoever touches any of the things she contacts during that time shall be unclean, shall wash his clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening (v 27)

12 If her issue is healed, then she shall number to herself 7 days, and after that be clean (v 28)

13 On the 8th day shall take 2 young pigeons or turtledoves and bring them to the priest at tabernacle door (v 29)

14 The priest shall offer one bird for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make atonement for her (v 30) a To make a difference between the clean and unclean: sin and holiness: and right and wrong made all the difference in the world regarding Israel's relationship with God (v 47; Heb. 12:14)

b 7 commands - purification of women:
1 If a woman gives birth to a man child she shall be unclean 7 days (v 2)
2 On the 8th day the child shall be circumcised (v 3)
3 She shall continue in her purification 33 more days (making 40 days of purification, v 4)
4 She shall not touch any hallowed thing or come into the sanctuary until the days of her purification end
5 If a woman gives birth to a maid child she shall be unclean 2 weeks, and then continue in her purification for 66 more days (making 80 days of purification, v 5)
6 When the days of purification are over, the woman shall bring a lamb (estimated cost today, $20.00) and a young pigeon or turtledove (cost $1.00) unto the priest at the door of the tabernacle which he shall offer before Jehovah to make atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed from her issue of blood (v 6-7)
7 If she is not able to bring a lamb and a turtledove, she shall bring 2 pigeons (cost $2.00), the one for a burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be pronounced clean (v 8) c 7 days for a boy and 14 for a girl (v 2, 5), and after this continue in her purification 33 days for a boy (v 4) or 66 for a girl (v 5). Just why the time for purification after the birth of a girl was twice as long as that for a boy is not stated. Reasons men give include: women represent the lower side of nature; the first to fall into temptation; the dishonor of women before Christ came; the double transgression of the woman; the inferiority of the woman; and, some physical cause. These are but valueless theories to be rejected for lack of proof. Some claim the purpose of this law was to regulate the sexes in more equal numbers, so that the birth of females might not exceed that of males

d Jews circumcised their sons on this day even if it fell on a sabbath (Jn. 7:23). Thus they demonstrated that this law superceded the law of the sabbath. Circumcision brought the boy under the covenant of protection with God, for it was the sign of the covenant in the flesh and a continual reminder of the covenant relationship with God. It was also a matter of cleanliness and a deterrent to incontinence. See Circumcision in Index

e See note c, v 2

f The same sacrifices were made for a son as for a daughter (v 6). The only difference was that, for those who could afford it, a lamb and a pigeon (or a turtledove) were to be offered, while for a poor mother only 2 pigeons or turtledoves were required (v 8)

g It is interesting to note that in the case of Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ, the offering for the extremely poor was made (v 8; Lk. 2:24). For our sakes He became poor, that we through His poverty might be made rich (Mt. 8:20; 2 Cor. 8:9)

h This did not mean that every time a woman had a child she had sinned and needed to make atonement for her sin of childbirth. Her sorrow in conception simply reminded her of her original sin, a sin that deserved death, which she could not atone for, and for which a sacrifice had to be offered. Having been saved from the death in childbirth, though she deserved to die, a sacrifice was therefore commanded to be offered as soon as her days of separation were ended. The remembrance of sin was the true idea in the continued sacrifices until Messiah should come (Heb. 10:3). Now, if Christ is accepted as the Substitute and Saviour there is no more such remembrance of sins (Heb. 10:1-18). All the cleansings of chapters 11-17, for sin, sickness, or any part of the curse otherwise, were ceremonial. The real cleansing from sin had to be done and was done by faith in the coming Redeemer (Rom. 4:1-25; 5:1-11; Gal. 3:8-14; Eph. 2:1-8; Heb.

CHAPTER 12 — 102

3 Laws of motherhood:
(1) Purification for a man-child: 40 days

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, [b]If a woman have conceived seed, and born a man child: then she shall be unclean [c]seven days; according to the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean.
3 And in the [d]eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised.
4 And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirty days; she shall touch no hallowed thing, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying be fulfilled.

(2) Purification for a maid-child: 80 days

5 But if she bear a maid child, then she shall be unclean [c]two weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying three-score and six days.

(3) Ceremonial purification of a rich mother

6 And when the days of her purifying are fulfilled, for a son, or [f]for a daughter, she shall bring a lamb of the first year for a burnt offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtledove, for a sin offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest:
7 Who shall offer it before the LORD, and make an atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed from the issue of her blood. This is the law for her that hath born a male or a female.

(4) Ceremonial purification of a poor mother

8 And if [g]she be not able to bring a lamb, then she shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons; the one for the burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the priest shall make an [h]atonement for her, and she shall be [e]clean.

103 CHAPTER 13

4 Diagnosis of skin diseases:
(1) Symptoms of leprosy

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and Aär'on, saying,
2 When a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a rising, a scab, or bright spot, and it be in the skin of his flesh like the plague of leprosy; then [i]he shall be brought unto Aär'on the priest, or unto one of his sons the priests:
3 And the priest shall look on the plague in the skin of the flesh: and when the hair in the plague is turned white, and the plague in sight be deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of [a]leprosy: and the priest shall look on him, and pronounce him unclean.

(2) Symptoms of common scab

4 [b]If the bright spot be white in the skin of his flesh, and in sight be not deeper than the skin, and the hair thereof be not turned white; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague seven days:
5 And the priest shall look on him the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague in his sight be at a stay, and the plague spread not in the skin; then the priest shall shut him up seven days more:
6 And the priest shall look on him again the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague be somewhat dark, and the plague spread not in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean: it is but a scab: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

(3) Symptoms of leprosy

7 But if the scab spread much abroad in the skin, after that he hath been seen of the priest for his cleansing, he shall be seen of the priest again:
8 And if the priest see that, behold, the scab spreadeth in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a leprosy.
9 ¶ When the [c]plague of leprosy is in a man, then he shall be brought unto the priest;
10 And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the rising be white in the skin, and it have turned the hair white, and there be quick raw flesh in the rising;
11 It is an old leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall not shut him up: for he is unclean.
12 And if a leprosy break out abroad in the skin, and the leprosy cover all the skin of him that hath the plague from his head even to his foot, wheresoever the priest looketh;
13 Then the priest shall consider: and, behold, if the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: it is all turned white: he is clean.
14 But when raw flesh appeareth in him, he shall be unclean.
15 And the priest shall see the raw flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean: for the raw flesh is unclean: it is a leprosy.

(4) Symptoms of common boil

16 Or if the raw flesh turn again, and be changed unto white, he shall come unto the priest;
17 And the priest shall see a Leprosy as known today, begins with an eruption of small reddish spots which are said to be soon covered by a thin, smooth scale of whitish color. In a little while this falls off, leaving the skin beneath red and uneven. As the circles increase in size the skin recovers its healthy appearance toward the center; fresh scales are formed, which are thicker and cause the center to seem depressed. The disease generally affects the knees and elbows, but sometimes it extends over the whole body. It causes skin to be thickened about the joints thus impeding free motion of the limbs. Leprosy is common to both sexes, to almost all ages, and all ranks of society. It is always difficult to treat, and when it is of long standing may be pronounced incurable

Among the ancients leprosy was the name for many varieties of skin disease (including the modern leprosy), some of which caused the Hebrews to be ceremonially unclean. It being possible to spread the contagious type when the ulcers were running and furthermore, because of the loathsomeness of the disease, lepers in Israel were required to live segregated and cry, "Unclean, unclean" if approached by others (v 45). In the middle ages elephantiasis was thought to be leprosy and referred to as such. This very serious ailment also makes its appearance by spots over the skin, and progresses to impair sensibility of the skin. It can produce deformity of the face, and baldness - falling out of lashes, brows and beard; and cause joints of the toes to ulcerate and fall off one after the other. After many years of suffering the victim sinks either from exhaustion or effects of the disease internally
The Heb. word for leprosy is tsaraath, meaning to smite or strike. In the Gr. leprosy comes from a word meaning to scale. Anyone in Israel seemingly smitten or stricken with such a disease was required to appear before the priest for diagnosis. It was his duty to determine whether the person was the victim of scall, scab, other non-contagious inflammation or the loathsome plague of contagious leprosy itself

7 symptoms of leprosy:
1 White rising of the skin, white hair, raw flesh (v 2, 10, 14-15)
2 Thin white scales or scabs on the body like layers of snow (v 2; Ex. 4:6; Num. 12:10; 2 Ki. 5:27)
3 Bright spots, white and somewhat reddish (v 2, 19)
4 Skin depressed, white hair in the spots (v 3, 20-22)
5 Hot burning raw flesh, spreading white bright spots, somewhat reddish, white hair (v 24-25)
6 Spreading deep spots in the skin with yellowish thin hair (v 29-34)
7 White reddish sore (v 42-44)

b 6 commands - diagnosing leprosy:
1 If one has symptoms of leprosy the priest shall shut him up 7 days (v 4)
2 On the 7th day the priest shall look, and if the plague has not spread, the person shall be shut up another 7 days (v 5)
3 On the 14th day the priest shall look on him and if the plague is somewhat dark and has not spread, he shall be pronounced clean, for it is but a scab (v 6) and be clean
4 The person shall wash his clothes
5 If the scab spreads much in the skin after he has been pronounced clean, he shall be seen of the priest again (v 7)
6 If it is seen that the scab has spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean, for it is leprosy (v 8)

i Being made clean did not imply that the woman's blood had been impure and needed to become pure again. It was the issue of blood that made her ceremonially unclean at the time

j 2 commands - diagnosing leprosy:
1 When a man has symptoms of leprosy, he shall be brought to the priest (v 2)
2 The priest shall diagnose his plague and if it is leprosy he shall pronounce the man unclean (v 3)

2 If the priest sees the man has these symptoms (of v 20) he shall pronounce the person leprous
3 If the priest does not find such symptoms as white hair, lower places in the skin; and the place is somewhat dark, the man shall be shut up for 7 days (v 21)
4 If, on the 7th day the priest finds the plague spread abroad in the skin, then he shall pronounce the man leprous (v 22)
5 If the bright spot stays the same size and does not spread, it shall be pronounced a burning boil and he shall be pronounced clean (v 23)

3 If the priest does not see such symptoms, and the place is somewhat dark, the man shall be shut up for 7 days (v 26)
4 On the 7th day the priest shall examine him again and if the plague is spread abroad in the skin, the man shall be pronounced leprous (v 27)
5 If it has not spread abroad in the skin, but is somewhat dark, he shall be pronounced clean because it is only an inflammation of burning (v 28)

c 6 commands - diagnosing leprosy:
1 If a person has a plague in the hair of the head or beard, he shall be brought to the priest (v 29)
2 The priest shall examine him and if the spots are deeper than the skin, with yellow thin hair, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean (v 30), for it is a scall. (This was a scurf or scabby disease, said to be known now as fox mange)
3 If the priest does not find these symptoms (of v 31) the man shall be shut up for 7 days
4 On the 7th day the priest shall examine him and if the plague has not spread, the skin is not depressed and has no yellow hair in it, he shall be shaved except for the plagued parts and be shut up 7 more days (v 32-33)
5 If, on the 14th day, when the priest examines him the plague has not spread and is no deeper, then he shall be pronounced clean (v 34)
6 If the plague spreads much in the skin after the man is pronounced clean, then the priest shall examine him again and pronounce him leprous; otherwise, he shall be pronounced clean (v 35-37)

33 commands - great day of atonement (16:2)

1 Speak to Aaron telling him not to come into the most holy place at all times (v 2, 29) lest he die. (The high priest was allowed there once a year, on great day of atonement, Oct. 10th)
2 He shall come into the most holy place after sacrificing a young bullock for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering, for himself and his family (v 3, 11)
3 He shall put on his holy garments - linen coat, breeches, girdle, mitre (v 4)
4 He shall wash his flesh with water before putting them on 5 He shall take 2 kids of the goats for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering for the congregation (v 5)
6 He shall offer his bullock for a sin offering, and make atonement for himself and his house (v 6, 11) him: and, behold, if the plague be turned into white; then the priest shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: he is clean.

(5) Symptoms of leprosy

●30 Then the priest shall see the plague: and, behold, if it be in sight deeper than the skin; and there be in it a yellow thin hair; then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a dry scall, even a leprosy upon the head or beard.
●31 And if the priest look on the plague of the scall, and, behold, it be not in sight deeper than the skin, and that there is no black hair in it; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague of the scall seven days:
●32 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the plague: and, behold, if the scall spread not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the scall be not in sight deeper than the skin;
●33 He shall be shaven, but the scall shall he not shave; and the priest shall shut up him that hath the scall seven days more:
●34 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the scall: and, behold, if the scall be not spread in the skin, nor be in sight deeper than the skin; then the priest shall pronounce him clean: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

(10) Symptoms of leprosy

●35 But if the scall spread much in the skin after his cleansing;
●36 Then the priest shall look on him: and, behold, if the scall be spread in the skin, the priest shall not seek for yellow hair; he is unclean.

(11) Symptoms of dry scall

●37 But if the scall be in his sight at a stay, and that there is black hair grown up therein; the scall is healed, he is clean: and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

(12) Symptoms of freckles

●38 ¶If a man also or a woman have in the skin of their flesh bright spots, even white bright spots;
●39 Then the priest shall look: and, behold, if the bright spots in the skin of their flesh be darkish white; it is a freckled spot that groweth in the skin; he is clean.

(13) Symptoms of baldness

●40 And the man whose hair is fallen off his head, he is bald; yet is he clean.
●41 And he that hath his hair fallen off from the part of his head toward his face, he is forehead bald: yet is he clean.

(14) Symptoms of leprosy

●42 ᵇAnd if there be in the bald head, or bald forehead, a white reddish sore; it is a leprosy sprung up in his bald head, or his bald forehead.
●43 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh;
●44 He is a leprous man, he is unclean: the priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean; his plague is in his head.

(15) Symptoms of leprosy

●45 And the leper in whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, Unclean, unclean.
●46 All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; without the camp shall his habitation be.

(16) Symptoms of leprosy

●47 ¶The garment also wherein the plague of leprosy is, whether it be a woollen garment, or a linen garment;
●48 Whether it be in the warp, or woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether in a skin, or in any thing made of skin;
●49 And if the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a plague of leprosy, and shall be shewed unto the priest:
●50 And the priest shall look upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days:
●51 And he shall look on the plague on the seventh day: if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, in whatsoever work skin is made; the plague is a fretting leprosy; it is unclean.
●52 He shall therefore burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosy; it shall be burnt in the fire.
●53 And if the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin;
●54 Then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more:
●55 And the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed: and, behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burn it in the fire; it is fret inward, whether it be bare within or without.
●56 And if the priest look, and, behold, the plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof:
●57 And if it appear still in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a spreading plague: thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire.
●58 And the garment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean.
●59 This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

a 2 commands - diagnosing freckles:
1 If a person has white bright spots in his skin, he shall go to the priest for an examination (v 38)

b 2 commands - diagnosing leprosy:
1 If a man has a white reddish sore on the bald head, he shall be brought to the priest for an examination (v 42)

28 This law shall be obeyed by both Jews and Gentiles in your midst (v 29)
29 The day of atonement shall be a sabbath of rest unto you when you shall fast (afflict your souls, v 31)
30 It shall be a sabbath and a day to fast, by a statute for ever

2 If the priest shall see that the plague is greenish or reddish he shall shut the garment up for 7 days (v 49-50) times upon the leper. The living and dead birds typified the death and resurrection of Christ through which sin, sickness and the entire curse would be removed from mankind. They also pictured the leper freed from sin, sickness, and suffering to go free and walk in newness of life in perfect deliverance from his curse, enjoying salvation and health, fellowship with his own kind, and communion with Jehovah

(15) Segregation for leprosy

●45 And the leper in whom the plague is, [a]his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, Unclean, unclean.
●46 All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; [b]without the camp shall his habitation be.

●48 Whether it be in the warp, or woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether in a skin, or in any thing made of skin;
●49 And if the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a plague of leprosy, and [c]shall be shewed unto the priest:
●50 And the priest shall look upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days:
●51 And he shall look on the plague on the seventh day: if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, or in any work that is made of skin; the plague is a fretting leprosy; it is unclean.
●52 He shall therefore burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosy; it shall be burnt in the fire.
●53 And if the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any thing of skin;
●54 Then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more:
●55 And the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed: and, behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burn it in the fire; it is fret inward, whether it be bare within or without.
●56 And if the priest look, and, behold, the plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof:
●57 And if it appear still in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a spreading plague: thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire.
●58 And the garment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean.
59 This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

104 CHAPTER 14

6 Ceremonial cleansing for flesh leprosy for the rich

[a]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣēs, saying,
●2 This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: [a]He shall be brought unto the priest:
●3 And the priest shall go [b]forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper;
●4 [c]Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed [d]two birds alive and clean, and [e]cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:
●5 And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water:
●6 As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the [f]running water:
●7 And he shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy [g]seven times, and shall [h]pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird loose into the open field.
●8 And he that is to be cleansed shall [i]wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, that he may be clean: and after that he shall come into the camp, and shall tarry abroad out of his tent seven days.
●9 But it shall be on the [j]seventh day, that he shall shave all his hair off his head and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair he shall shave off: and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean.
●10 And on the [k]eighth day he shall take two he lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish, and three [l]tenth deals of fine flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and [m]one log of oil.
●11 And the priest that maketh him clean shall present the man that is to be made clean, and those things, before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
●12 And the priest shall take one he lamb, and offer him for a trespass offering, and the log of oil, and [n]wave them for a wave offering before the LORD:
●13 And he shall slay the lamb in the place where he shall kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the holy place: for as the sin offering is the priest's, so is the trespass offering: it is most holy:
●14 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the tres-a 18 commands - ceremonial cleansing:

1 One who is healed of leprosy shall be brought to the priest who shall go on the outside of the camp to meet him (v 2-3)
2 The priest shall examine him and if the plague is healed, then he shall command 2 live birds (cost $2.00), cedar wood, scarlet, and hyssop to be taken for him that is to be cleansed (ceremonially, v 3-4)
3 The priest shall command one of the birds to be killed in an earthen vessel over running water (v 5)
4 He shall take the living bird, the cedar wood, the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the dead bird, then sprinkle it 7 times upon the cleansed leper, pronounce him clean, and let the living bird go free in the open field (v 6-7)
5 The leper shall wash his clothes, shave himself, bathe himself in water, and remain outside the camp for 7 days (v 8)
6 On the 7th day the man shall shave off the hair of his head, beard, and eyebrows, and shall wash his clothes and body in water and be clean (v 9)
7 On the 8th day he shall take 2 male lambs without blemish, 1 female lamb of the first year without blemish (estimated cost $60.00), and 3 tenth deals of fine flour (1 1/2 gal., cost approximately $1.20) and a log of oil (cost 70¢), and accompany the priest to the door of the outer court of the tabernacle (v 10-11)
8 The priest shall take 1 lamb to offer as a trespass offering and wave it with the log of oil for a wave offering before the Lord (v 12)
9 He shall slay the lamb at the north side of the brazen altar (v 13; 1:11)
10 The priest shall take some of the blood and put it upon the tip of the right ear, the thumb of the right hand, and the great toe of the right foot of the leper (v 14)
11 The priest shall pour some of the log of oil in his own left hand (v 15)
12 He shall dip his right finger in it and sprinkle the oil 7 times before Jehovah (v 16)
13 The rest of the oil in his hand he shall put on the tip of the right ear, right thumb, and right great toe of the man, and upon the blood on these parts (v 17)
14 The remnant of oil in the priest's hand shall be put upon the head of the leper (v 18)
15 The priest shall offer the other male lamb for a sin offering and make atonement for the leper (v 18-19)
16 He shall then kill the female lamb for a burnt offering (v 19-20)
17 The priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meal offering of flour and oil upon the brazen altar (v 20) 18 The priest shall thus make an atonement for the leper and be shall be clean

b The leper was not only excluded from the sanctuary, but also from the camp (v 3) c 2-fold ceremony of regoration:

1 That which was performed outside the camp (v 3-9)
2 That which was performed in the camp, in the tabernacle (v 10-32)

d These were 2 pigeons or turtledoves, so often mentioned as sacrifices (v 22, 30; 1:14; 5:7, 11; 15:14; Lk. 2:24). They were not brought near the sanctuary nor was any portion of them offered on the altar

e Cedar wood, scarlet, and hyssop were used in rites of purification (Ex. 12:22; Num. 19:6; Ps. 15:7; Heb. 9:19). The scarlet (string) was used to tie the living bird and hyssop to the cedar wood handle. The bird was bound tail downward in order to dip it in the blood of the bird that had been killed; and the whole thing was made an instrument of sprinkling the blood. After such sprinkling the living bird was turned loose to go where it would f Meaning fresh water or water with a good flow. It may have been from a spring or the laver (note e, Ex. 30:18). The bird was killed so that its blood dropped into the vessel of water, thus making enough of the mixture for the ceremony (14:52). The paddle with the hyssop and living bird was dipped into the blood and water and sprinkled 7 a Note the application of the blood before the oil, both on the same bodily parts, and after that the pouring of the oil upon the head (v 14-18)

b 3 kinds of offerings for lepers:
1 Sin offering (v 19)
2 Burnt offering (v 20)
3 Meat (food) offering

c He was already clean from leprosy before he was brought to the priest; so this simply refers to ceremonial cleansing, as recognized by Christ (Mt. 8:1-4) d 7 commands - ceremonial cleansing:

1 A poor man healed of leprosy shall take 1 lamb, 1 tenth deal of flour mingled with oil, a log of oil (1 pt.), 2 turtledoves or pigeons, and bring them to the priest at the door of the tabernacle, on the 8th day (v 21-23)
2 The priest shall take the lamb and the oil and wave them before the Lord (v 24)
3 He shall kill the lamb for a trespass offering and put some of the blood on the tip of the right ear, right thumb, and right great toe of the leper (v 25)
4 The priest shall pour the oil in the palm of his own left hand and sprinkle some of it with his right finger 7 times before Jehovah (v 27)
5 He shall put some of the oil upon the bodily parts of the leper where the blood has been applied (v 28)
6 He shall pour the rest of the oil upon the head of the leper (v 29)
7 He shall offer one of the pigeons or turtledoves for a sin offering, the other for a burnt offering with the meat offering, and make atonement for the leper (v 30-31)

A comparison of the above items to be offered by the poor man with those of the more prosperous one (note a, v 2) shows that some of each thing sacrificed was to be given by rich and poor alike. The same number of birds and the same amount of oil were required of both, but the amount of flour was less for the poor man, and the number of lambs was diminished from 3 to 1. The whole lamb, it seems, was waved before Jehovah in both cases; and this was to go to the priest for his services after the blood was properly shed and applied (v 21-32). Whereas, in the case of the rich man one bird was set free, both were killed for the poor man, to provide a sin offering and a burnt offering to Jehovah instead of lambs (v 10-20, 22)

The things to be offered were brought to the tabernacle door on the 8th day and all rituals were completed before the leper, rich or poor, was pronounced clean. The kind of offerings brought advertised the material standing of the leper (v 21-23). The estimated cost as of today, of the total offerings commanded of the rich and poor would be:

Offerings required of rich leper:

3 lambs ($20, 00 each)	$60, 00
2 pigeons or turtledoves	2, 00
3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) flour	1, 20
1 log of oil (1 pt.)	.70
Total for rich man	$63. 90

Offerings required of poor leper:

1 lamb	$20, 00
2 pigeons or turtledoves	2, 00
1 tenth deal (1/2 gal.) flour	.40
1 log of oil (1 pt.)	.70
Total for poor man	$23, 10

The log of oil was for special uses. According to Num. 15, oil and wine (1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts. of each) were to be offered with each lamb. This would add to the above costs. Estimated price of oil, $1. 40 a qt.; wine, $1. 60 a qt.

To "lie with her" explained (15:24)

The reference here is evidently not to sexual relationship, for that carried the death penalty. It caused both the man and the woman to be "cut off from among their people" (20:18; also 18:19; Ezek. 18:6). The Sept. reads, "If anyone lie down by her." The Berkeley version says, "If a man lies beside her so that her menstruation comes on him;" and the Moffatt translation says, "And if any man lies beside her, so that her impure discharge comes on him, he shall be unclean for seven days." The wording here, "If a man lie with her at all" seems also to give this idea when contrasted with v 18 which says, "lie with seed of copulation" pass offering, and the priest shall [d]put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:

●15 And the priest shall take some of the log of oil, and pour it into the palm of his own left hand:
●16 And the priest shall dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand, and shall sprinkle of the oil with his finger seven times before the LORD:
●17 And of the rest of the oil that is in his hand shall the priest put upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the blood of the trespass offering:
●18 And the remnant of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall pour upon the head of him that is to be cleansed: and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD.
●19 And the priest shall offer the [b]sin offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleanness; and afterward he shall kill the burnt offering:
●20 And the priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meat offering upon the altar: and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and [c]he shall be clean.

7 Ceremonial cleansing from flesh leprosy for the poor

●21 And if he be poor, and cannot get so much; [d]then he shall take one lamb for a trespass offering to be waved, to make an atonement for him, and one tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering, and a log of oil;
●22 And two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering.
●23 And he shall bring them on the eighth day for his cleansing unto the priest, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, before the LORD.
●24 And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass offering, and the log of oil, and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD:
●25 And he shall kill the lamb of the trespass offering, and the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:
●26 And the priest shall pour of the oil into the palm of his own left hand:
●27 And the priest shall sprinkle with his right finger some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the LORD:
●28 And the priest shall put of the oil that is in his hand upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the place of the blood of the trespass offering:
●29 And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, to make an atonement for him before the LORD.
●30 And [b]he shall offer the one of the turtledoves, or of the young pigeons, such as he can get;
●31 Even such as he is able to get, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, with the meat offering: and the priest shall make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed before the LORD.
32 This is the law of him in whom is the plague of leprosy, whose hand is [c]not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.

8 Symptoms of house leprosy and the remedy

■33 [e] And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying, 34 [d]When ye be come into the land of Cā'nāan, which [e]I give to you for a possession, and [f]I put the plague of leprosy in a house of the land of your possession;
●35 And he that owneth the house [g]shall come and tell the priest, saying, It seemeth to me there is as it were a plague in the house:
●36 Then the priest shall command that they empty the house, before the priest go into it to see the plague, that all that is in the house be not made unclean: and afterward the priest shall go in to see the house:
●37 And he shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the plague be in the walls of the house with [h]hollow strakes, greenish or reddish, which in sight are lower than the wall;
●38 Then the priest shall go out of the house to the door of the house, and shut up the house seven days:
●39 And the priest shall come again the seventh day, and shall look: and, behold, if the plague be spread in the walls of the house;
●40 Then the priest shall command that [i]they take away the stones in which the plague is, and they shall cast them into an unclean place without the city:
●41 And he shall cause the house to be scraped within round about, and they shall pour out the dust that they scrape off without the city into an unclean place:
●42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones; and he shall take other morter, and shall plaister the house.
●43 And if the plague come again, and break out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and after he hath scraped the house, and after it is plaistered;
●44 Then the priest shall come and look, and, behold, if the plague be spread in the house, it is a [j]fretting leprosy in the house: it is unclean.

a The oil was placed upon the blood which had been applied to the right ear, hand, and foot of the leper (v 14-17, 25-28)

b The leper was to bring the offering he could afford. The offerer was always required to provide his own offering regardless of how poor he was (v 30-31)

c That is, not able to get the sacrifices required of a person able to provide more (v 14, 21). The poorest of the poor had to bring 1 lamb and 2 pigeons or turtledoves (v 21-22) d This was spoken in view of the coming settlement in Canaan (v 34)

e 2 acts of God here:
1 I give to you (v 34). God gave Canaan to Israel, but they had to conquer to posses it. In God's plan He reserved it for them (Gen. 12:1, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:1-8) in the same way that He allotted the other nations and distinct types of people their inheritances and set the boundaries of their lands (Gen. 10:32; Dt. 32:8-9; Acts 17:26)
2 I put the plague (v 34). God does such as this only in the sense that He made a plan based on "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" (Gal. 6:7-8). Many times in Scripture God is spoken of as being the doer of something which, in the course of nature and a man's reaping He does not miraculously interfere with or stop by His own personal act. He is thus said to make sickness, wretchedness, misery, sorrow, and pain because He allows these to operate under the law of reaping (Isa. 45:7, note)

f The leprosy of houses and clothes is thought to refer to spots and disfigurations appearing on some walls and clothing which resembled leprous spots (v 34). Such a plague is said to have originated from a species of mold or mildew, indicating a great deal of dampness and no doubt pollution of the air, and injury to health

g 14 commands - house leprosy:
1 If it seems that a man has leprosy in his house, he shall come to the priest and make it known (v 34-35)
2 The priest shall command that the house be emptied before he goes in to examine it, so that all in the house may not be declared unclean (v 36)
3 He shall examine the walls and if he finds hollow streaks, greenish or reddish, and lower than the wall surface, he shall shut the house up for 7 days (v 37-38)
4 He shall examine it again on the 7th day and if the plague has spread in the walls, he shall command that the plagued part be torn out and carried to an unclean place outside the city (v 40)
5 He shall cause the remaining part of the house to be scraped and the dust shall be poured into an unclean place outside the city (v 41)
6 The priest shall command that full repairs be made to the house; and if the plague appears again, he shall then declare the house unclean and unfit for occupancy (v 42-44)
7 He shall command that the house be torn down and all the material carried to the unclean place outside the city (v 45)
8 He shall declare any person unclean until the evening if he goes inside the house while it is shut up (v 46)
9 Anyone who eats or sleeps in the house while it is unclean shall wash his clothes (v 47)
10 If the plague does not appear in the house after it is repaired, the priest shall pronounce it clean and free from leprosy (v 48)
11 To cleanse the house he shall take 2 pigeons or turtledoves, cedar wood, scarlet, and hyssop (v 49)
12 He shall kill one bird over running water; take the cedar wood, hyssop, scarlet, and the living bird and dip them into the blood of the slain bird and the running water; and sprinkle the house 7 times (v 50-51)
13 He shall cleanse the house with the blood of the bird and the running water (declare it clean, v 52-53)
14 He shall turn the living bird loose to go where it pleases (v 53)

h Sunken places (v 37; Gen. 30:27)

i The owners of the house or those helping to rid the house of leprosy

j Heb. ma'ar, to be bitter; embitter; be painful; fretting. It refers to that which is malignant. Found only here, and is translated pricking in Ezek. 28:24 a Referring to the priest who directed others in tearing out the diseased parts and replacing them. Note the they in v 46-47

b This referred to any person who entered the house while it was unclean(v 46-47)

c This was a second examination of the house, after the old plagued part had been torn out and repaired (v 48)

d After the house was healed of the plague, a ceremonial cleansing had to be performed for it, as in the case of human beings. Cp. v 49-53 with v 21-32. The sacrifices and atonement did not cleanse from leprosy in either case; they were mere ceremony or ritual recognizing that the coming redemption of Christ would concern both persons and things. "The whole creation" has been affected by sin and it will finally be delivered from bondage of corruption through Christ (Rom. 8:20-24). All things of the material creation which have been touched by the curse will, in the end, be redeemed from it

e 2 pigeons or turtledoves (v 49 with 22), which would amount to an estimated cost of $2, 00 today, besides the cost of the cedar wood, scarlet, and hyssop. See notes d, e, f, and g, 14:4-7

g Here the place affected by the leprosy was to be sprinkled, not the whole house; and no doubt this was also true of the sprinkling of leprous persons (14:

h 6 things used in this ritual (v 52): 7,51)
1 Blood of the dead pigeon or turtle-

3 The living pigeon or turtledove
4 Cedar wood (used as a paddle)
5 Hyssop (tied to the cedar wood)
6 Scarlet (threads to bind the living bird and hyssop to the paddle)

i As in the case of a leprous person, the living pigeon or turtledove was turned loose in the open country to go where it pleased. This symbolized the freedom of the man, house, or other plagued thing from the leprosy (v 7, 53)

1 Leprosy — 5 Garment leprosy
2 Scall — 6 House leprosy
3 Rizings — 7 Bright spots
4 Scabs

1 A man having a running issue (v 2-2 The bed whereon he lies (v 4) 3)
3 The chair he sits on 4 Any person who touches such a man's bed (v 5)
5 Any person who sits on the chair whereon he sat (v 6)
6 Any person who touches the flesh of such a man (v 7)
7 One who contacts his spittle (v 8)
8 The saddle whereon the man rides (v 9) him (v 10) 9 Whoever touches what was under 10 Whoever carries any of those things
11 Anyone touched by the man without washing his hands (v 11)

l Heb. zuwb, to flow freely; have a sexual flux; waste away; overflow; gush out; or have a running issue. It is trans. flowing and floweth 20 times in connection with the land flowing with milk and honey (20:24; Ex. 3:8, 17; etc.). Its reference here is to some bodily uncleanness. The Sept. renders it gonorrhea in this chapter. Such diseases of men (v 2-15) and women (v 19-30) have been known from the early ages. In countries where public prostitution has been promoted and religious ceremonies to idols have been carried on with much immorality the loathsome diseases have been common. Zuwb is used in v 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 19, 25, 32, 33; 22:4; Num. 5:2; 2 Sam. 3:29. The kindred word zowb, a seminal or menstrual flux, is also used in v 2, 13, 19, 25, and in 3, 15, 26, 28, 30 m A man having such a disease was unclean until he was both physically and ceremonially cleansed (v 3), as in v 13-15

n Complete isolation was commanded for persons so diseased (v 4-12)

●46 Moreover [b]he that goeth into the house all the while that it is shut up shall be unclean until the even.
●47 And he that lieth in the house shall wash his clothes; and he that eateth in the house shall wash his clothes.
●48 And if the priest shall come in, and look upon it, and, behold, the plague hath not spread in the house, [c]after the house was plaistered: then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the plague is healed.
●49 And he shall take [d]to cleanse the house [e]two birds, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:
●50 And he shall kill the one of the birds in an earthen vessel over [f]running water:
●51 And he shall take the cedar wood, and the hyssop, and the scarlet, and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slain bird, and in the running water, and [g]sprinkle the house seven times:
●52 And he shall cleanse the house [h]with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the scarlet:
●53 [i]But he shall let go the living bird out of the city into the open fields, and make an atonement for the house: and it shall be clean.

9 Summary of leprosy laws

54 This is the law for all manner of [j]plague of leprosy, and scall, 55 And for the leprosy of a garment and of a house,
56 And for a rising, and for a scab, and for a bright spot:
57 To teach when it is unclean, and when it is clean: this is the law of leprosy.

CHAPTER 15 105

10 Running issues of men
(1) Any kind

[k]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ses and to Ăăr'on, saying,
●2 Speak unto the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them, When any man hath a running issue out of his flesh, [k]because of his [l]issue he is unclean.
●3 And this shall be his uncleanness in his issue: whether his flesh run with his issue, [m]or his flesh be stopped from his issue, it is his uncleanness.
●4 [m]Every bed, whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is unclean: and every thing, whereon he sitteth, shall be unclean.
●5 And whosoever toucheth his bed shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean unto the even.
●6 And he that sitteth on any thing whereon he sat that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
●7 And he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue shall [n]wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, [k]and be unclean until the even.
●8 And if he that hath the issue spit [o]upon him that is clean; then he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean [d]until the even.
●9 And what [c]saddle soever he rideth upon that hath the issue shall be [l]unclean.
●10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was under him shall be unclean until the even: and he that beareth any of those things shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
●11 And whomsoever he toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
●12 And the vessel of earth, that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall [p]be broken: and every vessel of wood shall [h]be rinsed in water.

(2) Ceremonial cleansing of running issues of men

●13 And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue; then he [q]shall number to himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in [l]running water, and shall be clean.
●14 And on the eighth day he shall take to him [k]two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, and come before the LORD unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and give them unto the priest:
●15 And the priest shall offer them, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD for his issue.

(3) Cleansing from seed of copulation

●16 And if any man's seed of copulation go out from him, then he [l]shall wash all his flesh in water, and be unclean until the even.
●17 And every garment, and every skin, whereon is the seed of copulation, shall be washed with water, and be unclean until the even.
●18 The woman also with whom man shall lie with seed of copulation, they shall both bathe themselves in water, and be unclean until the even.

11 Running issues of women:
(1) Issue of blood

●19 ¶ And if a woman have an issue, and her issue in her flesh be blood, [r]she shall be put apart seven days: and whosoever toucheth her shall be unclean until the even.

j Realizing that bacteria can multiply as much as 281, 500, 000, 000, 000 times in 24 hours, we see the wisdom of the commands to wash in running water instead of stagnant, to destroy certain vessels prone to harbor contamination, to quarantine persons with symptoms of contagious disease until a diagnosis could be made, to declare clothing, beds, chairs, saddles and other things touched by the diseased to be unclean and to require cleansing both physically and ceremonially before a person stricken with a contagious ailment could be restored to society. Through divine knowledge Moses was thousands of years ahead of his time in bacteriological science, treatment of disease, sanitation and health laws. This gave the Jews the benefit of wisdom concerning physical fitness which no other nation of that time had $2, 00)

10 things not taught here:

1 That azazel means the devil
2 That it refers to a demon in the wilderness being sacrificed to 3 That God places the sins upon Satan who will be the final sin-bearer and be annihilated with all sins upon him 4 That azazel refers to some personal being opposite Jehovah whom the goat is sent to 5 That the goat is sent to azazel and is not azazel itself
6 That it represents all evil
7 That it is the personification of all that is great and terrible
8 That God recognizes the author of sin so much that He sends a goat to be sacrificed to him, thus satisfying his demands
9 That the goat being loosed typifies mystery of religion
10 That azazel was a certain place in the wilderness where the goat was taken to be turned loose

To teach the above and other such fallacies, turns into mystery the simple gospel truth expressed in type here. The 2 goats represented and completed one atonement for sin. The goat which died typified the death of Christ and the one which lived typified His resurrection. The 2 goats represented the same idea as the 2 birds, one of which was killed and the other turned loose in the open fields (14:4-8, 50-53), when the goat was led into the wilderness atonement was complete; the sins transferred figuratively on the goat were already atoned for; and the blood was sprinkled before the Lord. No other sacrifice could be allowed for sin after this on the day of atonement, signifying that when Christ died and entered into heaven there was no more sacrifice for sin

p This typified Christ who became sin for us though He knew no sin (2 Cor. 5:21)
q The azazel or scapegoat did not die to atone for sins; he completed the atonement in that he took sins away, typifying the removal of them by the resurrection of Jesus Christ (Rom. 4:25; 1 Cor. 15:1-23; 1 Pet. 3:21)
r It was the wilderness here, but in Canaan it was merely outside the city of Jerusalem to a place uninhabited (v 10). Thus, there was no particular place called azazel, as some erroneously teach, where the goats were taken year after year to be turned loose s The only fire acceptable was that from the brazen altar where atonement had been made. Only this could be used for burning incense on the golden altar and in censers (v 12). All other fire was strange fire. See notes, 9:24; 10:1

12 Summary of ceremonial laws of cleansing of defilements

●31 Thus shall[f]ye[g]separate the children of Is'ra-el from their uncleanness; that they die not in their uncleanness, when they defile [h]my tabernacle that is among them.
32 This is the[i]law of him that hath an [j]issue, and of him whose seed goeth from him, and is defiled therewith;
33 And of her that is sick of her[k]flowers, and of him that hath an issue, of the man, and of the woman, and of him that lieth with her that is unclean.

106 CHAPTER 16

V Religious laws (Lev. 16:1-17:16). 1 Day of atonement. (1) The time (Lev. 16:29; Heb. 9:7)

[a]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ses [b]after the death of the two sons of Aär'on, when they offered before the LORD, and died;
●2 And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, [b]Speak unto Aär'on [c]thy brother, that he come not at all times into[d]the holy place[e]within the veil before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; [f]that he die not: [g]for I will appear in the cloud upon the[h]mercy seat.

(2) Two offerings for priests

●3 Thus shall Aär'on come into the holy place; with a [i]young bullock for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering.

(3) The high priest's attire

●4 He shall put on the holy linen coat, and he shall have the linen breeches upon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdle, and with the linen mitre shall he be attired: these are [j]holy garments; [k]therefore shall he wash his flesh in water, and so put them on.

(4) Three offerings for people

●5 And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el two kids of the goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering.

(5) Sin offering for priests

●6 And Aär'on shall offer his bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and make an atonement for himself, and for his house.

(6) Two goats for the people for a sin offering

●7 And he shall take the [l]two goats, and present them before the LORD at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
●8 And Aär'on shall[m]cast lots upon the two goats; [n]one lot for the LORD, and the other lot for the[o]scapegoat.
●9 And Aär'on shall bring the goat upon which the LORD's lot fell, and [p]offer him for a sin offering.
●10 But the goat, on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat, shall be presented alive before the LORD, [q]to make an atonement with him, and to let him go for a scapegoat into [r]the wilderness.

(7) Law of the sin offering for the priests

●11 And Aär'on shall bring the bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and shall make an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself:
●12 And he shall take a censer full of burning[s]coals of fire from d The holy here is the holy of holies, not the ordinary holy place this side of the vail (Ex. 26:33-34). Nearly always the term is used to refer to the first part of the tabernacle proper this side of the most holy place (Ex. 28:35, 43; 29:30-31; 31:11; 35:19; 38:24; 39:1, 41); but here it refers to the holy (the holiest of the holy), as is evident from the fact that the word place is in italics, meaning it has been supplied by translators (v 2-3; cp. Heb. 9:25)

e Every expression within the vail identifies the place to be the most holy place where the ark was (v 2, 12, 15; Ex. 26:33; Num. 18:7; Heb. 6:19)
f This indicates that if the high priest or any other would go into the most holy place more than once a year to minister he would die (v 2, 34). All things in this chapter were typical of Heb. 9:7-12, 24-26

n According to tradition, the 2 goats were to be the same in size, color, and value, and as nearly alike as possible. Both were presented to the Lord by the high priest and then the lots were cast to determine which one should die and which should live (v 8-10, 15-22)
o Heb. aza'zel, from aze, a goat, and azal, departure, meaning goat of departure. Used in v 8, 10, 26. We must depend upon this simple meaning for a true understanding of this chapter. The Sept. reads, "Aaron shall cast lots on the goats, one lot, For the Lord, and one lot, For escape." The priest, standing before the 2 goats, would put his hands into the pocket and take a lot in each one. The lot in his right hand was for the goat before him, on the right, and the one in his left hand was for the goat on the left. See notes on the Urim and Thummim, p. 118

a The brazen altar where the fire was always burning (6:9, 12-13)
b Inside the most holy place (Ex. 26:33) c The fire consisted of coals from the brazen altar (16:12). The burning incense was a symbol of prayer ascending up before Jehovah (v 13; Rev. 5:8) d The censer was perhaps placed on the mercy seat, which was the lid of the ark; and this permitted the cloud and fragrance of the incense to cover it while the priest went out for the blood of the sin offering to put on the mercy seat eastward and sprinkle before it 7 times (v 13-14). This sprinkling he did for his own self and his house (v 6,13-14)
e After making atonement for himself and family, the high priest went through the same ritual for the people (v 15-17)
f This explains why atonement for the most holy place was made; and the same should be understood in connection with the high priest and his house. They also had uncleanness and transgressions for which blood atonement had to be made. God looks on ministers and laymen alike where guilt is concerned; any sin committed by one class is as black as that of the other; and it takes the same blood atonement for both (v 6; 17:11; Heb. 5:1-4; 9:22)
g Here the high priest was commanded to do for the golden altar and the holy place what he had done for the most holy place. The blood was to be applied to the golden altar as to the ark inside the vail (v 12-14, 16)
h No man was allowed in the tabernacle while the high priest was making atonement for the most holy place, the holy place, and the outer court (v 17). This nullifies all the arguments and practices of pretentious priesthoods that make claims of direct representation as mediators between God and the people while Christ is in the heavenly tabernacle, as now, carrying on His priestly work (Heb. 4:14-16; 5:1-14; 6:20; 7:11-17, 24-28; 8:1-13; 9:1-28; 10:1-18). Christ is the only mediator between God and man (1 Tim. 2:4-6; Heb. 9:24). No man can sacrifice Christ anew, for He has been sacrificed once for all (Heb. 7:27; 9:26-28; 1 Pet. 3:18); and His flesh cannot be mystically made into bread or wafers which are the creation of man i Here the high priest was commanded to go out of the tabernacle, after having made atonement for the most holy place and the holy place (v 12-16), to make atonement for the brazen altar in the outer court (v 18-19) j 3 places reconciled by blood:
1 The most holy place (v 12-16, 20)
2 The holy place (v 16, 20)
3 The brazen altar (v 18, 20)
k After fully reconciling the most holy place, the holy place, and the brazen altar, he was now commanded to bring the live goat chosen to carry the sins of Israel into the wilderness, and thus complete the work of the great day of atonement for sins (v 20)

4 acts of the high priest:

1 Bringing the live goat (v 20) 21)
2 Laying both hands upon its head (v
3 Confessing over it all sins of himself, his house, and all Israel
4 Sending it away by a fit man into the wilderness (v 21-22)

l This is the only occasion where both hands are definitely referred to in the atonement ritual (v 21). Note the 4 all's of v 21-22 m The goat was sent away by the hand of a fit (Heb. ittiy, timely) man - a qualified man chosen for the time and occasion (v 21, Cp. 1 Chr. 7:11; 12:8; Job 34:18). Tradition says that he was chosen for this work a year in advance n The 2 goats completed the one type of Christ in His work of death and resurrection. One alone could not do this because, being killed would make it impossible for an animal to represent the resurrection as when it was taken into the wilderness. If Christ had died and remained dead His atoning work would have been in vain. It was the resurrection that made it effective (Rom. 4:25; 1 Cor. 15:1-23; Col. 3:1; Heb. 4:14-16; 6:20; 7:11, 17, 25; 9:24-28; 1 Pet. 1:3; 3:21-22)
o Shall bear away, as in Isa. 53:4; Mt. 8:16-17; 1 Pet. 2:24 off the [c]altar before the LORD, and his hands full of sweet incense beaten small, and bring it within [b]the veil: ●13 And he shall put the incense upon the [c]fire before the LORD, [d]that the cloud of the incense may cover the mercy seat that is upon the testimony, that he die not:

●14 And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercy seat eastward; and before the mercy seat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

(8) Law of sin offering for the people

●15 ¶ Then [e]shall he kill the goat of the sin offering, that is for the people, and bring his blood within the veil, and do with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it upon the mercy seat, and before the mercy seat:
●16 And he shall make an atonement for the holy place, because of the [f]uncleanness of the children of Is'ra-el, and because of their transgressions in all their sins: and [g]so shall he do for the tabernacle of the congregation, that remaineth among them in the midst of their uncleanness.
●17 And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of the congregation [h]when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, until he come out, and have made an atonement for himself, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Is'ra-el.
●18 And he [i]shall [j]go out unto the altar that is before the LORD, and make an atonement for it; and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about.
●19 And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Is'ra-el.

(9) The scapegoat sent away

●20 ¶ And when he hath made an [k]end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, [k]he shall bring the live goat:
●21 And Aâr'on shall lay [l]both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Is'ra-el, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him [m]away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness:
●22 And the [n]goat shall [o]bear upon him all their iniquities [n]unto a land not inhabited: and he shall let go the goat in [n]the wilderness.

(10) Change of garments and cleansing between the sin offering and the burnt offering

●23 And Aâr'on shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall put off the linen garments, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall [a]leave them there:
●24 And he shall wash his flesh with water in [b]the holy place, and put on his garments, and come forth, and [c]offer his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himself, and for the people.
●25 [d]And the fat of the sin offering shall he burn upon the altar.

(11) Cleansing for the escort of the scapegoat

●26 And he that let go the goat for the scapegoat shall wash his clothes, [e]and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into the camp.

(12) Sin offerings burned outside the camp

●27 And the bullock for the sin offering, and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, shall one carry forth without the camp: and they shall burn in the fire their skins, and their flesh, and their dung.

(13) Cleansing for priests who burn the sin offerings

●28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.

(14) Annual date of the great day of atonement

●29 ¶ And this shall be a statute [f]for ever unto you: that in the seventh month, [g]on the tenth day of the month, ye shall [h]afflict your souls, and [i]do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a [j]stranger that sojourneth among you:
●30 For on that day shall the priest make an atonement for you, to cleanse you, that ye may be clean from all your sins before the LORD.
●31 It shall be a [k]sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, by a statute for ever.
●32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments:
●33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar, and he shall make an atonement for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation.
●34 And this shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Is'ra-el for all their

a There must have been some place in the tabernacle court, perhaps a small tent, in which to change and store the clothes and many other things used in the priestly work (v 23)
b This could not refer to the most holy place or even the holy place of the tabernacle itself, but to the court which was also a part of the holy area and contained the laver of water and his foot where the priests bathed and washed hands when in service of the tabernacle worship (Ex. 30:18-21) c The burnt offerings completed the extra ones on the great day of atonement mentioned in this chapter. The regular daily sacrifices were also made, but are not listed here. This washing of Aaron took place after the goat had been sent into the open country outside the camp, it being necessary at this time because of his transferring the sins of Israel with his hands upon its head (v 23-25). This very act of contacting sin, even in a symbolic way, caused the high priest to be so unclean that washing and more sacrificing were required. This teaches us that any contact with sin makes one unclean and sinful, and if he transgresses after confession and cleansing he must put away sin and be cleansed in like manner as at the first time. See Backsliding, p. 237
d The fat of the sin offerings was burned upon the brazen altar, but the flesh, the skins, and the dung of the animals were carried outside the camp and burned there (v 25, 27). This typified Christ as a sin offering dying outside the camp (Heb. 13:11-13)
e The man who led the goat forth into the open field outside the camp became defiled and unclean by his service of contacting what represented sin; so he had to bathe and wash his clothes before coming back into camp (v 26). For the same reason the man who burned, and those who carried the sin offerings outside the camp had to be ceremonially cleansed; they needed to bathe and wash clothes, before returning to camp (v 28)
f This was observed until the Babylonian captivity and afterward in the restoration until the destruction of Jerusalem, 70 A.D. When Israel failed God and had to be judged He was no longer obligated to fulfil His covenant with them (v 29-34)
g This would be October 10th h This means to fast (v 29, 31; 23:27, 32; Num. 29:7; Ps. 35:13; 69:10; Isa. 38:3, 5, 10). See Fasting in Index 29:7) i Used 5 times (v 29; 23:3, 28, 31; Num.
j This refers to the Gentiles living in the nation of Israel (v 29) k This was a special sabbath once a year, not the regular weekly sabbath (v 31). It was a day of rest, fasting, and atonement observed on whatever day of the week the 10th of Oct. came on, and did not interfere with the calendar so as to push the regular weekly sabbath a day forward as did the special sabbath earlier in the year (called Pentecost).

There were a number of special sabbaths during the year, and all were rest days as much as the regular weekly sabbaths. This one was a yearly sabbath like the 1st and 7th days of the feast of unleavened bread, the day of Pentecost, the day of the blowing of trumpets, and the 1st and 8th days of the feast of tabernacles. Besides these there was a special year long sabbath every 7th year and a 2-year sabbath every 50 years. All were provided by the Lord to give the land, the animals, and all men a time of rest and relaxation that they might be built up in strength for coming work p Unto a land cut off or separated from human habitation. It represented Christ in resurrection having removed our sins as far as the east is from the west, and remembering them against us no more (Ps. 103:12; Heb. 10:17)

q Heb. midbar, a pasture or open field, not necessarily a desolate waste or desert. Any land of beauty, fertility, waters, and abundance could be a wilderness if uninhabited. The goat was merely sent out into the open country to wander where it would; and to make the place refer to a land of desolation symbolizing hell is far from the scriptural intent a 10th of Oct. (v 29, 34; Heb. 9:7, 12)

b 7 commands - one place of worship:
1 Speak to Aaron, his sons, and all Israel saying: This is what God commands (v 1)
2 Whoever kills an animal in sacrifice outside the camp and does not bring it to the tabernacle to offer it to Jehovah, shall die (v 2-4)
3 Israel shall bring all sacrifices to the priests at the tabernacle and offer them for peace offerings to Jehovah (v 5)
4 The priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the brazen altar and burn the fat on it as a sweet savour to the Lord (v 6)
5 Israel shall no more offer their sacrifices unto devils (v 7)
6 This shall be a statute forever to them in their generations
7 Any Israelite or Gentile in Israel who offers a sacrifice and does not bring it to the tabernacle and offer it to the Lord, shall die (v 8-9)
c Shedding of blood in sacrifice to devils or anyone other than Jehovah was a sin carrying the death penalty. All offerings were to be brought to the one and only place of sacrifice or the offerer was to die (v 4). There is no contradiction here to Dt. 12:15, 21, which refers to food only being killed and enjoyed, and not sacrifices as here d This shows that pagan sacrifices and worship are to devils and not to God (v 7; cp. 1 Cor. 10:20). The Heb. word sa'ir, means shaggy goat, hairy one, satyr. It is trans. devils (here; 2 Chr. 11:15) and satyr (Isa. 13:21; 34:14). The other word trans. devils in the O. T. is shed, demon; malignant; devil (Dt. 32:17; Ps. 106:37). See Demons in Index
e This affirms that Israel by this time (before leaving Sinai and during the first year after the exodus) had already gone whoring, in some measure, after idols and gods of other nations (v 7). This was the sin so detested by God and for which the nation not only met defeat many times but went into Babylonian and Assyrian captivities (2 Ki. 17, 25) f 2 commands - eating blood:
1 Anyone in Israel or of Gentiles sojourning with you who eats any manner of blood shall be cut off (v 10-12)
2 Anyone who kills game in hunting that is to be eaten shall pour out the blood on the ground and cover it with dust (v 13)
g Here we have stated the reason for humans not being allowed to eat blood, and an explanation showing how serious the sin is (v 11, 14). See Acts 15:20, 28-29 for the N. T. ruling on this which is the same as in the O. T.
h See Mt. 26:28; Eph. 1:7; Heb. 9:22

7 commands - sex and idolatry (18:19)

1 You shall not have sexual relationship with a menstrous woman (v 19; 15:19-24; 20:18)
2 You shall not commit adultery (v 20; Ex. 20:14, refs.)
3 You shall not sacrifice your children to be burned in the fire to the god Molech (v 21; Ex. 20:4, refs.)
4 You shall not profane the name of the Lord your God (v 21; Ex. 20:7, refs.)
5 You shall not lie with mankind as with womankind (v 22; 20:13)
6 No man shall lie with any beast to defile himself (v 23; 22:19). Acts of this kind were part of the worship of the Egyptians 7 No woman shall lie down to a beast to defile herself (v 23; 22:19) sins [c]once a year. And he did as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 17 107

2 Only one place of sacrifice: one God to worship (Dt. 12:5)

1 AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
2 [b]Speak unto Aär'on, and unto his sons, and unto all the children of Iş'ra-el, and say unto them; This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded, saying,
3 What man soever there be of the house of Iş'ra-el, that killeth an ox, or lamb, or goat, in the camp, or that killeth it out of the camp,
4 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the LORD before the tabernacle of the LORD; blood shall be imputed unto that man; [c]he hath shed blood; and that man shall be cut off from among his people:
5 To the end that the children of Iş'ra-el may bring their sacrifices, which they offer in the open field, even that they may bring them unto the LORD, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them for peace offerings unto the LORD.
6 And the priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the LORD at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burn the fat for a sweet savour unto the LORD.
7 And they shall no more offer their sacrifices unto [d]devils, after whom they [c]have gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations.
8 ¶ And thou shalt say unto them, Whatsoever man there be of the house of Iş'ra-el, or of the strangers which sojourn among you, that offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice, 9 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the LORD; even that man shall be cut off from among his people.

3 Law against eating blood (Dt. 12:23, refs.)

10 ¶ And *[f]*whatsoever man there be of the house of Iş'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, that eateth any manner of blood; I will even set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.
11 [g]For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul.
12 Therefore I said unto the children of Iş'ra-el, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood.
13 And whatsoever man there be of the children of Iş'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, which hunteth and catcheth any beast or fowl that may be eaten; he shall even pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust.
14 For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Iş'ra-el, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off.

4 Law against eating animals not properly slaughtered (Dt. 14:21)

15 [e]And every soul that eateth that which died of itself, or that which was torn with beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even: then shall he be clean.
16 But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then he shall bear his iniquity.

CHAPTER 18 108

VI Ninety-two civil and religious laws (Lev. 18:1-20:27). 1 Laws must be obeyed

1 AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
2 [b]Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and say unto them, I am the LORD your God.
3 After the doings of the land of E'gÿpt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and after the doings of the land of Că'năan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do; neither shall ye walk in their ordinances.
4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: I am the LORD your God.
5 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the LORD.

2 Twenty laws against incest (Dt. 22:30). (1) Father or mother

6 ¶ [c]None of you shall approach to any that is near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness: I am the LORD.
7 The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

(2) Father's wife, or stepmother

8 The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness.

(3) Sister or brother (20:17)

9 The nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover.

a 2 commands - unhealthy animals:
1 Anyone who eats something not properly slaughtered - that which dies of itself or is torn by beasts - shall wash his clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening (v 15)
2 If he does not wash his clothes and bathe he shall bear his iniquity (v 16)
God, the Creator, knew and informed Israel that such meat as that which had been improperly bled or had died of disease would be full of pollution and dangerous to health b 5 commands - obedience to God's laws:
1 Speak to Israel saying: I am the Lord your God (v 2)
2 Do not practice the customs and ways of the land of Egypt (v 3)
3 Do not follow the customs and ways of the peoples of Canaan
4 Do not obey the laws of Canaanites
5 You shall keep My ordinances, statutes and judgments which, "If a man do, he shall live in them," that is, live again in the resurrection by obeying them (v 4-5) c 20 commands - incest: Do not lie with 1 Any near kin (v 6)
2 Father (v 7). Cp. Gen. 19:31-38
3 Mother (v 7)
4 Father's wife (v 8; 20:11; Dt. 27:20). Cp. Gen. 35:22; 2 Sam. 16:20-23; 1 Ki. 2:17; 1 Cor. 5:1-5)
5 Sister (v 9)
6 Father's daughter (v 9). Cp. Gen. 20:12; 2 Sam. 13:12, 16, 20; Ezek. 22:11
7 Mother's daughter (v 9)
8 Son's daughter (v 10)
9 Daughter's daughter (v 10)
10 Father's wife's daughter (v 11)
11 Father's sister (v 12; Ex. 6:20)
12 Mother's sister (v 13)
13 Father's brother (v 14)
14 Father's brother's wife (v 14)
15 Daughter-in-law (v 15)
16 Brother's wife (v 16). Such relationship was unlawful unless the brother had no children (at death), it was then commanded that a brother bring up seed to his name (Dt. 25:5; Mt. 22:24-30)
17 Woman and her daughter (v 17)
18 Her son's daughter (v 17)
19 Her daughter's daughter (v 17)
20 Wife and her sister (v 18). This was to avoid such trouble as Jacob had with Rachel and Leah (Gen. 29:15-30:24) a Uncovering nakedness in v 6-19 means to marry or have sexual relationship with b Had this been the law in Abraham's time it would have prevented him from marrying Sarah (Gen. 20:12) c Such a law as this would have prevented Jacob from taking sisters as wives (Gen. 29:16-31)

d 7 commands - sex and idolatry, p. 138

e When men lost sight of God and began to consecrate altars and sacrifices to the planets, demons, and hero gods, of which 33 are listed in col. 3-4, p. 116 they practiced horrifying acts of cruelty, obscenity, and perversion (unnatural sex acts). Even sons and daughters were burned in the fire (v 21; 2 Ki. 3:26-27; 16:3; 17:17, 31; 21:6; 23:10-11; 2 Chr. 28:3; 33:6). Many of the ancient nations shed human blood before their deities Molech means king. This was the name of the main god of Ammon - called Chemosh by Moabites (see Facts about false gods, p. 116). Molech was worshipped in Egypt as Amun, or Amun-Ra, "the king of gods." What was supposed to be his likeness was a statue of brass resting on a pedestal or throne of brass - his head crowned and resembling that of a calf, and his arms extended as if to embrace all who came near. Children were his victims. The statue was heated red hot by fire inside and children were shaken over the flames or passed through the hot arms in dedication to it, to receive Molech's favor. It was believed that all children not so dedicated would die in infancy. Many were actually burned alive in the idol (see scriptures above). It seems that king Ahaz was dedicated to it (2 Ki. 16:3, 19-20; 2 Chr. 28:3)

Later spued Israel out for committing the same sins. Thus He will do to anyone who follows the former apostates in the practice of sin. See Backsliding, p. 237

g Whosoever means that any and all persons committing any of these sins would be cut off (v 29). Neither law nor grace can protect from judgment in such cases, for God has promised in both periods like punishment for like transgressions. See Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:18-32; 2:1-6; 6:14-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; etc.

h Keeping God's Word is shown to be the secret of blessing of both testaments, for both ages - law and grace. Such terms as keep, obey, do, observe, walk in, diligently hearken, hear My voice, follow, abstain, avoid, be not, do not, beware, continue in, flee, hold fast, lay aside, let, let not, let us, let us not, put away, put off, put on, stand fast, take heed, thou shalt, thou shalt not, and others expressing conditions are found hundreds of times in connection with requirements to be met under grace as well as under the law of Moses; and they mean the same in both periods. It is folly to place one's hopes in a grace that will excuse sin and allow him to do the very things he is forbidden to do under the terms of grace as revealed in God's Word. See 30 things grace cannot do, under Grace and Backsliding in Index

i To commit any one of these sins would bring punishment (v 30; Rom. 2:17-29). This rule prevails under grace of the N. T. also (Jas. 2:9-10). Criminals do not need to break every law to be judged and punished; and such holds true under God's government as well as man's (Gal. 5:19-21; Rom. 1:21-32)

j See Mk. 7:21-23 for some of the sins listed in the N. T. that defile k 9 commands - civil and religious laws:

1 Speak to Israel saying: You shall be holy (v 2)
2 You shall fear father and mother (v 3)
3 You shall keep My sabbaths
4 Do not turn to idols (v 4)
5 Do not make molten gods
6 Offer peace offerings at your own will and not as a forced act (v 5)
7 Eat of the sacrifice the day it is offered and on the day following, but not on the 3rd day (v 6-7)
8 Burn what remains to the 3rd day, in the fire (v 6)
9 Whoever eats any of it on the 3rd day shall be cut off (v 7-8)

●13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister: for she is thy mother's near kinswoman.
●14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife: she is thine aunt.

(7) Any "in-laws" (20:12, 21)

●15 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law: she is thy son's wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.
●16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness.

(8) Woman and her daughter, or her grandchild (20:14)

●17 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness.

(9) Wife's sister or brother

●18 Neither shalt thou [c]take a wife to her sister, to vex her, to uncover her nakedness, beside the other in her life time.

3 Seven laws against abominable pagan practices (Dt. 14:1, refs.). (1) Against relationship with a menstruous woman (20:18)

●19 Also [d]thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness.

(2) Against adultery (Ex. 20:14, refs.)

●20 Moreover thou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.

(3) Against idolatry (Ex. 20:4, refs.)

●21 And thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to [e]Mō'lech, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: [f]I am the LORD.

(4) Against homosexuality (20:13)

●22 Thou shalt not [b]lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination.

(5) Against bestiality (Ex. 22:19)

●23 Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith; neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion.

4 Why the pagans were cast out of the promised land - for the sins of v 6-23 (20:22)

✱24 [c]Defile not ye yourselves in any of [d]these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you:
25 And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants.
●26 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you:
27 (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;)

5 Warning against the pagan sins of v 6-23

28 [c]That the land [f]spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you.
●29 For [g]whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people.
●30 Therefore shall ye [h]keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not [i]any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye [j]defile not yourselves therein: I am the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 19 — 109

6 Ten laws. (1) Command to holiness (Ex. 22:31)

[k]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,
●2 [k]Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I the LORD your God am holy.

(2) Honoring parents; sabbath keeping (Ex. 20:8, 12)

●3 ¶ Ye shall fear every man his mother, and his father, and keep my sabbaths: I am the LORD your God.

(3) Against idolatry (Ex.

a When speaking of false gods, the Lord usually reminded Israel that He was Jehovah (v 21). See "I am," p. 71

b All homosexuality - sodomy, lesbianism, and other sex perversion are condemned in Scripture with the penalty of death (v 22, 26-29; 20:13; Rom. 1:18-32). In fact, all the 7 sins of v 19-23 carry the death penalty, as proved in v 24-29, in parallel passages, and as seen in points 1-7, note d, v 19 c 3rd prophecy in Lev. (18:24-30, fulfilled as predicted in v 25). Next, 20:22

5 commands - defilements of heathen:
1 Defile not yourselves in any of these things (sins of v 6-23; v 24)
3 You shall keep My statutes and My judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations (v 26)
3 Neither you nor the Gentiles among you shall commit any of these abominations (v 26-27). Here God made Israel responsible for the conduct of all Gentiles in the nation as well as their own behavior
4 Whoever commits any of these abominations shall be cut off (v 29)
5 You shall keep My ordinance, not committing any one of these abominable customs (v 30)

d 7 general sins having death penalty:
1 Incest (v 6-18, 24-30)
2 Sex relationship with menstruous woman (v 19)
3 Adultery (v 20; Ex. 20:14, refs.)
4 Idolatry (v 21; Ex. 20:4, refs.)
5 Blasphemy (v 21; Ex. 20:7, refs.)
6 Homosexuality (v 22; 20:13)
7 Bestiality (v 23; 22:19)
All the nations of Canaan practiced these things (v 24, 27-29) and for such sins they were destroyed as predicted, and their land was given to Israel (v 24-30)

e Here God warned Israel that He would spue them out also if they practiced the sins of the nations they were dispossessing (v 28-30). God did do this to Israel also (2 Ki. 17 and 25), thus proving again that God is no respecter of persons and that there is no such thing as remaining in His favor when His people go into the same soul-damning sins as others do. God would be an unjust tyrant if He saved one group of people and judged another who were committing the same sins worthy of death. This He does not do. God told Moses that He would blot out of the book of life any man who would sin against Him, and this He is under obligation to do regardless of anyone's past standing in His love and grace (Ex. 32:32-33). This is the rule under both law and grace. See 21 examples and 210 plain laws and warnings, p. 284 of N. T.; also Backsliding, in Index That God did reject Israel and spue the nation out when they backslid and went into the sins of the Canaanites is clear. He raised up 16 different judges to deliver them from 7 servitudes to other nations because of sin (see p. 60). He cursed the nation many times in the period of the kings, because of sin, and finally sent them into captivity under Babylon (see p. 419). After that, when Israel rebelled and rejected Christ and the gospel He scattered them among the nations where they have been for many centuries. That Israel was in grace and had spiritual experiences in O. T. times is also clear (see O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.)

f The term spue out is used in Rev. 3:16, of backslidden Christians. See v 28; 20:22; Jer. 25:27. The word spue here is from the Heb. qayah, spue out; vomit up; and since one cannot spue out anything which was not one time possessed by him, it indicates that even the Gentiles were once in God's favor before being spued out by Him. This fact is proved in Rom. 1:21-32 where it says of Gentiles that "when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools... changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image... for this cause God gave them up unto vile affections" - the homosexual sins as referred to in v 22; 20:13. When they went into depravity, apostasy, and the abominations of Lev. 18; and Rom. 1, He spued them out and a Heb. elilim, nothings. This is what an idol is called (1 Cor. 8:4) b All God's program of salvation and redemption is on a free will basis (Jn. 3:16; Rev. 22:17) c Anything beginning to putrefy was not to be used because this was a type of the pure, uncorrupt, sinless Son of God. Such food was to be burned instead of being used in communion with God (v 6). To disobey in this matter was an offence serious enough to require the death penalty, as it would tend to honor corruption in the type and in the communion with God in practice (v 7-8) d 5 commands - law of gleanings:

1 Do not reap your fields clean (v 9)
2 Do not gather the gleanings of the harvest
3 Do not glean your vineyard (v 10)
4 Do not gather all the grapes
5 Leave the gleanings of all your fields and vineyards for the poor. This was God's plan to help care for the poor. The generous left plenty for them and this created a spirit of love between neighbors laws e 26 commands - social and religious 1 Do not steal (v 11; Ex. 20:15, refs.)
2 Do not deal falsely (v 11; Ex. 20:16)
3 Do not lie (v 11; Ex. 20:16)
4 Do not swear falsely by My name
5 Do not profane My name (v 12)
6 Do not defraud your neighbor (v 13)
7 Do not rob your neighbor
8 Pay wages at end of every day
9 Do not curse the deaf (v 14)
10 Do not cause the blind to stumble
11 You shall fear God ment (v 15)
12 Do no unrighteousness in judg-
13 Do not dishonor a man because he is poor mighty 14 Do not honor a man because he is 15 Judge your neighbor righteously
16 Do not be a talebearer (v 16)
17 Do not endanger the life of your neighbor or interfere with justice if he is guilty heart (v 17)
18 Do not hate your brother in your 19 Do not suffer your neighbor to sin if a rebuke will keep him from it
20 Do not seek revenge (v 18)
21 Do not bear a grudge against your people
22 Love your neighbor as yourself
23 Keep My statutes (v 19)
24 Do not crossbreed your stock
25 Do not sow fields with mingled seed fabric
26 Do not wear garments of mixed f The idea here is that one should not be quick to make vows by God's name, or swear to tell the truth by His name in order to make a lie seem all the more true (v 12)
g The wage earner received his sole support from day labor, and it being all that he had for the upkeep of his family, the law provided that a man's living should be given him as fast as he earned it (v 13; cp. Dt. 24:14-15; Jer. 22:13; Mal. 3:5; Jas. 5:4). This shows that God took special care for the poor h God not only showed concern for the poor and the wage earner, but for the handicapped in body. According to His commands, no man was to curse the deaf because he could not hear; cause the blind to stumble because he could not see who tripped him; take advantage of the poor and wage earners because they had no power to resist; be unjust to anyone in court because of having the advantage over him; show respect of persons to the poor or rich for personal gain; bring injury to others through malicious gossip; hate anyone in the heart and seek his hurt in private; hold grudges or live ungodly for the sake of any gain or advantage (v 9-19). The law was to love one's neighbor as himself (v 18); and it was God's desire for every Israelite to be righteous inwardly as well as outwardly, doing everything in the fear of God and for the good of all, both in secret and public life i Heb. rachil, trader; peddler. It is used here of those who peddle scandal, obtaining the secrets of others and retailing them as gossip wherever they go. Cp. 1 Sam. 22:9-18; Jer. 6:28; 9:4; Ezek. 22:9
j This could only refer to being responsible for his death by bearing false witness, or standing idly by while seeing a neighbor suffer wrong when it is known that he is innocent and something could be done about it (v 16)

20:4; 1 Cor. 6:9; Gal. 5:20)

●4 ¶ Turn ye not unto [a]idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the LORD your God.

(4) Against forced religion and eating old consecrated foods

●5 ¶ And if ye offer a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, ye shall offer [b]it at your own will.
●6 It shall be eaten the same day ye offer it, and on the morrow: and if ought remain until the [c]third day, it shall be burnt in the fire.
●7 And if it be eaten at all on the third day, it is abominable; it shall not be accepted.
●8 Therefore every one that eateth it shall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the LORD: and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.

7 Law of gleanings (Lev. 23:22; Dt. 24:19)

●9 ¶ And when ye reap the harvest of your land, [d]thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest.
●10 And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and the stranger: I am the LORD your God.

8 Twenty-six social and religious laws. (1) Against stealing, false dealing, and perjury (Ex. 20:15-17)

●11 [e]Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another.

(2) Against false vows and profanity (Ex. 20:7)

●12 ¶ And ye shall not [f]swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the LORD.

(3) Against oppression (Ex. 22:21)

●13 ¶ Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall [g]not abide with thee all night until the morning.
●14 ¶ Thou [h]shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the LORD.
●15 ¶ Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.

(4) Against bearing false witness (Ex. 20:16)

●16 ¶ Thou shalt not go up and down as a [i]talebearer among thy people: neither shalt [j]thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the LORD.

(5) Law of love (Ex. 23:4)

●17 ¶ Thou shalt [a]not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise [b]rebuke thy neighbour, and not [c]suffer sin upon him.
●18 ¶ Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, [d]but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: I am the LORD.

(6) Law of segregation (Ex. 23:22; Dt. 22:9)

●19 ¶ Ye shall keep my [e]statutes. Thou [f]shalt not let thy cattle [g]gender with a diverse kind: thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed: neither shall a garment [h]mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.

9 Concerning sexual experience with women slaves

●20 ¶ [i]And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman, that is a bondmaid, betrothed to an husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her; she shall be scourged; they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.
●21 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, even a ram for a trespass offering.
●22 And the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering before the LORD for his sin which he hath done: and the sin which he hath done shall be forgiven him.

10 Law of first fruit of trees

●23 ¶ And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted all manner of trees for food, then ye [j]shall count the fruit thereof as [k]uncircumcised: three years shall it be as uncircumcised unto you: it shall not be eaten of.
●24 But in the fourth year all the fruit thereof shall [l]be holy to praise the LORD withal.
●25 And in the fifth year shall ye eat of the fruit thereof, that it may yield unto you the increase thereof: I am the LORD your God.

11 Twenty-six social and religious laws. (1) Against seven pagan practices (20:22; Dt. 14:1)

●26 ¶ Ye [m]shall not eat any thing with the blood: neither shall ye use [n]enchantment, [o]nor observe times.
●27 Ye shall not [p]round the corners of your heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard.
●28 Ye shall not make any [q]cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor [r]print any marks upon you: I am the LORD.

(2) Against prostitution (Ex. 20:14)

f See 31 facts: segregation, p. 148
g Heb. rabá, to lie with in copulation; breed (v 19)
h God wanted to show men in all ages how important it was from His standpoint, to maintain strict segregation of everything, from the minutest seeds to the greatest of His creations - man. He wished everything preserved after his kind, so that the distinct colors, types, sizes, and kinds could continue according to His plan, forever. He thus discouraged cross-breeding of animals, mixing of seeds, and integration of different peoples by commandment in accordance with His fixed and eternal law (Gen. 1:11-12, 21, 24, 26-28; 6:14, 19-20; 8:19; Dt. 32:8; Acts 17:26, note) i 5 commands - sex sin with slaves:
1 A man who has sex relationship with a slave not yet redeemed but betrothed to a husband, shall be scourged (v 20)
2 The slave shall also be scourged. The Sept. reads, "they shall be chastised"
3 The man and slave shall not be put to death (as in other cases, Dt. 22:23-24), because she was not free
4 Besides being scourged the man shall bring a ram (estimated cost today, $20.00) to the tabernacle for a trespass offering (v 21)
5 The priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, with the ram, and it shall be forgiven him (v 22) j 4 commands - fruit trees:
1 You shall count all fruit of new trees as uncircumcised for 3 years (v 23)
2 You shall not eat the fruit of these years
3 The fruit of the 4th year shall be given to the priest as holy (v 24)
4 The fruit from the 5th year on shall be yours to enjoy (v 25) k Plucking the blossoms is no doubt what is meant by regarding the fruit as being uncircumcised or unclean and unacceptable for eating in the first years (v 23-25). The law concerning fruit trees was a wise one, for it is said that if the blossoms are plucked in the early years, trees will bear more abundantly afterward l God considered all firstborn of man and animals, and all firstfruits as His. These were called holy because of being used by the priests who were dedicated to holy services. In the case of humans, any who were not of the priestly tribe could be redeemed from priestly service. See Firstborn and Firstfruits in Index
m 20 commands - social, religious, p. 138 n Heb. nachash, serpent; to hiss or whisper a magic spell; to charm, prognosticate, or divine by serpents (v 26; Num. 23:23; 24:1; Dt. 18:10; 2 Ki. 17:17; 21:6; 2 Chr. 33:6). See note b, Gen. 3:1; note b, Lk. 12:29
o Heb. anan, to cover; cloud over; to practice magic or divine by the clouds or by flocks of birds that pass over. It refers to being superstitious regarding lucky and unlucky days, imagining omens in the skies, and other such practices by various means (v 26; Dt. 18:10, 14; 2 Ki. 21:6; 2 Chr. 33:6). See note b, Lk. 12:29 p Cutting the hair and beard in idolatrous practices was common in Egypt, Canaan, Arabia, and other lands. It was a means of signifying dedication to idols. Hebrews were not to follow these customs as a testimony that they were not idol worshippers with their neighbors (v 27)
q Many peoples were very violent both in mourning and worship of idols, tearing the hair, scratching and cutting the flesh (v 28; Dt. 14:1; Jer. 48:37)
r Tatooing was practiced in various pagan nations from the earliest times, as well as markings with all kinds of paint and cuttings on the flesh. These were connected with superstition; and any disfiguration of the body was an outrage to God and an insult to Him who designed the body originally. Hence, the law here (v 28)

a For this and other reasons Israelites were forbidden to allow their daughters to become prostitutes (v 29). It was a custom in some parts to prostitute daughters previous to marriage, the money received for such being dedicated to idols

b Commands regarding sabbaths and worship were given often because it was easy for men to neglect such religious rituals and temptations to do so were always present (v 30)

c See Familiar spirits, p. 142

d Heb. yiddenonim, knowing ones, a conjurer. The wizards were males who practiced witchcraft (v 31; 20:6,27; Dt. 18:11; 1 Sam. 28:3, 9; 2 Ki. 21:6; 23:24; 2 Chr. 33:6; Isa. 8:19; 19:3)

e Heb. seybah, old age; gray hairs (v 32; Job 41:32; Pr. 16:31)

1 Do not vex them (note f, above)
2 Treat them as one born among you
3 Love them as yourself (v 34)

CHAPTER 20

12 Penalties for the laws of Lev. 18 and 19: (1) Death for worshippers of Moloch and all their sympathizers (Lev. 18:21)

[o]AND the LORD spake unto Mŏ'şes, saying,
●2 Again, thou [p]shalt say to the children of Iş'ra-el, Whosoever he be of the children of Iş'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn in Iş'ra-el, that giveth any of his seed unto [q]Mŏ'lech; he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land shall stone him with stones.
3 And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people; because he hath given of his seed unto Mŏ'lech, to defile my sanctuary, and to profane my holy name.
4 And if the people of the land do any ways hide their eyes from the man, when he giveth of his seed unto [r]Mŏ'lech, [s]and kill him not:
●5 Then I will set my face against that man, and [t]against his family, and will cut him off, and all that go [u]a whoring after him, to commit whoredom with Mŏ'lech, from among their people.

(2) Death for traffic with mediums and occultist teachers (Lev. 19:26, 31; 20:27; Ex. 22:18; Dt. 18:10-12; 1 Chr. 10:13-14; Isa. 8:19; 1 Tim. 4)

●6 ¶ And the soul that turneth after such as have [v]familiar spirits, and after [w]wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will [x]cut him off from among his people.

(3) Command to holiness (Ex. 22:31)

●7 ¶ [y]Sanctify yourselves therefore, and [z]be ye holy: for I am the LORD your God.
●8 And ye shall keep my statutes, and do them: I am the LORD [a]which sanctify you.

(4) Death for parental disrespect (Ex. 20:12)

●9 ¶ For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely [b]put to death: he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him.

(5) Death for adultery (Ex. 20:14)

●10 ¶ And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the [c]adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.

(6) Death for incest (18:8, 15; Dt. 22:30)

●11 And the man that lieth with his [d]father's wife hath uncovered his father's nakedness: both of them shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.
●12 And if a man lie with [e]his daughter in law, both of them shall surely be put to death: they have wrought confusion; their blood shall be upon them.

(7) Death for homosexuality (18:22)

●13 If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

(8) Death for incest (18:17)

●14 And if a man take a [f]wife and her mother, it is [g]wickedness: they shall be burnt with fire, both he and they: that there be no wickedness among you.

a See note e, 18:21; Idols in Index

b Those who refuse to execute idolaters shall be executed themselves (v 4-5) c This warning of punishment against a man's family would perhaps cause many to obey when nothing else would (v 5)

d Go a whoring after idols to commit whoredom with them is not to be understood only in a spiritual sense of leaving the worship of God for idolatry, for many immoral rites were carried on in connection with idol worship by both men and women. Thousands of women were consecrated to the various gods and even many men were also given over to numerous perversions in worship of idols

g Here we have the death penalty stated for those going after witches and wizards, or having traffic with demon spirits (v 6; cp. v 27)

h The words sanctify and sanctified are used 133 times; sanctification 5 times; and sanctifieth 4 times - 142 times in Scripture; 111 times in the O.T. and only 31 times in the N.T. A study of the passages where these words are found shows that to sanctify means to set apart from other uses to the particular use of God, not to cleanse from sin or rid of carnal nature, sometimes called the old man or Adamic nature. Even Christ, the sinless One, was sanctified (Jn. 10:36; 17:19). Where humans are concerned one begins to become sanctified when he begins to consecrate his life to God, and the process is continued as he continues in his dedication (1 Cor. 1:30; 6:11; 2 Th. 2:13; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 3:8-10; 5:1-4, 18; see col. 2, p. 231 of N.T.)
In passages on the subject God is spoken of as sanctifying material things and persons, and even immaterial things as a day (Gen. 2:3); a fast (Joel 1:14; 2:15); and His name (Isa. 29:23; Ezek. 36:23). Man is spoken of as the agent in sanctification, 85 times; God as the agent, 29 times; Christ, 10 times; and the Holy Spirit, 4 times. Man has as much to do with sanctification as God, for he is the one who decides to sanctify himself to God. Man and God work together in the setting-apart process. Men are spoken of as being sanctified, 75 times; material things are said to be sanctified, 40 times; and God is referred to as being sanctified, 14 times (Lev. 10:3; Num. 20:12-13; 27:14; Isa. 5:16; 8:13; 29:23; Ezek. 20:41; 28:22, 25; 36:23; 38:16; 39:27) 7 personal agents (used in sanctifying):
1 God (Gen. 2:3; Lev. 21:15, 23; 22:9; Jn. 10:36; 1 Th. 5:23; Jude 1)
2 Jesus Christ (1 Cor. 1:30; Eph. 5:26; Heb. 2:11; 10:10, 14; 13:12)
3 Holy Spirit (Rom. 15:16; 1 Cor. 6:11; 2 Th. 2:13; 1 Pet. 1:2)
4 Moses (Ex. 19:10, 14; 40:13; Lev. 8:10-15, 30; 21:8; Num. 7:1)
5 Joshua (Josh. 7:13) Ex. 19:22)
6 Priests (1 Chr. 15:14; 2 Chr. 30:24;
7 Laymen (Lev. 11:44; 20:7). Cp. Mt. 23:17, 19; Heb. 9:13
9 things God sanctified:
1 Day (Gen. 2:3; Num. 27:14; Dt. 5:12; Neh. 13:22)
2 Tabernacle (Ex. 29:43-44)
3 Firstborn (Num. 8:17)
4 Temple (2 Chr. 7:16, 20; 29:17; 30:8)
5 Heathen armies (Isa. 13:3)
6 Jeremiah (Jer. 1:5)
7 People (Ex. 31:13; Lev. 20:8; 22:9)
8 Jesus Christ (Jn. 10:26)
9 Christians (Jude 1)
Some of the other things spoken of as being sanctified are: laver (Lev. 8:11); house (Lev. 27:14-15); field (Lev. 27:16-25); most holy things (1 Chr. 23:13); bread (1 Sam. 21:5); vessels (2 Chr. 29:19); gates (Neh. 3:1) 15 commands - to sanctify:
1 Let priests sanctify themselves (Ex. 19:22; 1 Chr. 15:14; 2 Chr. 29:15, 34; 30:3, 5, 15, 24; 31:18)
2 Sanctify them (Ex. 19:10; 28:41; 29:33; 30:29; Lev. 8:11; 21:23)
3 Sanctify him (Lev. 8:12; 21:8, 15)
4 Sanctify yourselves (Lev. 11:44; 20:7; Num. 11:18; Josh. 3:5; 1 Sam. 16:5; 1 Chr. 15:12; 2 Chr. 29:5)
5 Sanctify the people (Ex. 19:14; Josh. 7:13) (Lev. 8:30)
6 Sanctify Aaron and his garments

a Bestiality (sexual relationship with a beast) has been practiced in pagan nations by both men and women. For this and other sins the Canaanites were destroyed (18:19-25; 20:22-24). The Bible speaks of a man's relationship with a woman as making them one flesh, even in harlotry (1 Cor. 6:15-18). On these grounds bestiality would lower the image of God to becoming one flesh with a beast; hence, it insults the Creator more than some other sins. It was God's plan for man to be higher in morals and principles than to cohabit with senseless dumb animals. Just as murder is a serious crime against God, because it takes the life of one created in His image (Gen. 9:6), so bestiality is a depraved crime against Him because it lowers one of His likeness to the level of a beast. For this sin both the man and the beast were to be killed. Though the beast had no moral responsibility it had to be destroyed, perhaps to stamp out any further attempt on its part to commit the act with others and thus promote such sin

b Their death would be their own responsibility, not God's (v 16)

c If a brother and a sister agreed to sexual relationship both were to be put to death (v 17; 18:6, 9) d The man who became so depraved as to have relationship with a menstruous woman, and the woman who was depraved enough to permit such an act were to be put to death (v 18; 18:19)

e See 18:18; Gen. 29:15-30:24

g See 18:6, 14

h This is another way of expressing the death penalty (cp. v 10, 11, 12, 14, 17, 18)

i It was a sin to marry a brother's wife unless the brother had left no seed to keep his name alive in Israel. Then it was permitted (v 21; Dt. 25:5; Mt. 22:24-30)

l 2 commands - obedience to God:
1 Keep all My statutes, all My judgments, and do them (v 22)
2 Walk not in the manners of the nations (Dt. 7:1) which I cast out before you (v 23)

m This was a prophetic warning to Israel that if they committed the same sins for which the Canaanites were cast out they would likewise be cast out. This was fulfilled (2 Ki. 17 and 25)

n See notes c-e, 18:24-27

o God had made this prediction and given this promise to Israel many times in the past (Gen. 12:1-3, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:7-8, 21; 26:3-4, 13-15; 35:11-12; Ex. 3:8, 17-22; 6:1-8; 13:5; 23:20-33; 32:13; 33:1-3, 10-11)

q 3 commands - laws of holiness:
1 Put a difference between unclean and clean beasts, unclean and clean fowls (for the sake of health, v 25)
2 Do not make your souls abominable by any unclean beast, fowl, or living creature
3 You shall be holy unto Me, for I have segregated you from all other people for Myself (v 26). Cp. note i, v 7

r See Lev. 11 and Dt. 14 for a list of clean and unclean animals

Familiar spirits (19:31)

Heb. owb, a mumble as from a water skin because of its hollow sound; a bottle; a necromancer or ventriloquist. Trans. bottles (Job 32:19); and familiar spirits (v 31; 20:6, 27; Dt. 18:11; 1 Sam. 28:3-9; 2 Ki. 21:6; 23:24; 1 Chr. 10:13; 2 Chr. 33:6; Isa. 8:19; 19:3; 29:4). These are demon spirits possessing mediums - those who give their will to them, to imitate dead human beings, make predictions, promote doctrines, etc. (1 Tim. 4:1-7). We have clear examples in Scripture. In 1 Sam. 28 it seems that Samuel actually appeared to Saul, but in 1 Chr. 10:13 it is clear that it was a familiar spirit imitating Samuel which appeared. The girl of Acts 16:16 (see note there) had a spirit of python. It is said that persons under the operation of this demon would become swollen and give answers in a frenzied state of mind. Counterfeit demonstrations were made by ventriloquists, as suggested here, using a bottle or large water skin. See note b, Lk. 12:29

(9) Death for bestiality (Ex. 22:19)

●15 And if a man [a]lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast.
●16 And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their [b]blood shall be upon them.

(10) Death for incest (18:9)

●17 And if a man shall take his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and see her nakedness, and she [c]see his nakedness; it is a wicked thing; and they shall be cut off in the sight of their people: he hath uncovered his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his iniquity.

(11) Death for relationship with a menstruous woman (18:19)

●18 And if a man shall lie with a woman having her [d]sickness, and shall uncover her nakedness; he hath discovered her fountain, and she hath uncovered the fountain of her blood: and both of them shall be cut off from among their people.

(12) Death for incest (18:12-14)

●19 And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy [e]mother's sister, nor of thy [f]father's sister: for he uncovereth his near kin: they shall bear their iniquity.
●20 And if a man shall lie with his [g]uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin; [h]they shall die childless.
●21 And if a man shall take his brother's wife, [i]it is an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness; they [j]shall be childless.

(13) Why the pagans were cast out of the promised land (18:24)

‡22 ¶[k]Ye [l]shall therefore keep all my statutes, and all my judgments, and do them: that the land, [m]whither I bring you to dwell therein, spue you not out.
●23 And ye shall not walk in the manners of the nation, which I cast out before you: for [n]they committed all these things, and therefore I abhorred them.
●24 But [o]I have said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land that floweth with milk and honey: I am the LORD your God, which have [p]separated you from other people.

(14) Command to holiness (Ex. 22:31)

●25 Ye [q]shall therefore put difference between [r]clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean.
●26 And ye shall [s]be holy unto me: for I the LORD am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.

(15) Death for traffic with spirit mediums and occult teachers (Lev. 20:6, refs.)

●27 ¶ A man also or woman that hath a [t]familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death: they shall stone them with stones: their blood shall be upon them.

CHAPTER 21 111

VII Religious laws (Lev. 21:1-24:23). 1 Laws against defilements of priests: (1) Priests not to touch the dead except close relatives

AND the LORD said unto Mō'ses, [c]Speak unto the priests the sons of Aär'on, and say unto them, There shall none be [d]defiled for the dead among his people:
●2 But for his kin, that is [e]near unto him, that is, for his mother, and for his father, and for his son, and for his daughter, and for his brother,
●3 And for his sister a virgin, that is nigh unto him, which hath had no husband; for her may he be defiled.
●4 But he shall not defile himself, being a chief man among his people, to [f]profane [g]himself.

(2) Priests not to defile themselves by pagan practices (19:26; Dt. 14:1)

●5 They shall not make [h]baldness upon their head, neither shall they shave off the corner of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their flesh.

(3) Priests are to be holy (Ex. 22:31)

●6 They shall be holy unto their God, and not [i]profane the name of their God: for the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and the bread of their God, they do offer: therefore they shall be holy.

(4) Priests not to defile themselves by wrong marriages

●7 They shall not take a [j]wife that is a whore, or profane; neither shall they take a woman put away from her husband: for he is holy unto his God.

(5) Priests are to be holy (Ex. 22:31)

●8 Thou shalt [k]sanctify him therefore; for he offereth the bread of thy God: he shall be holy unto thee: for I the LORD, which sanctify you, am holy.

c 9 commands - laws for priests:
1 Speak to the priests (the sons of Aaron) telling them that none shall be defiled by the dead except very close kin (v 1-4)
2 Make no baldness on the head (v 5)
3 Make no special shavings of the beard like the heathen
4 Make no cuttings in the flesh
5 Be holy unto God (v 6, 8)
6 Do not profane God's name
7 Marry no whore, profane, or divorced woman (v 7) holy (v 8)
8 Sanctify every priest; he shall be 9 If a priest's daughter becomes a whore she shall suffer the death penalty (v 9) 10; 19:11-18)

d Become unclean for (v 1; 22:4; Num. 9:

e 6 classes of dead - priests defiled for:
1 Mother (v 2) 4 Daughter
2 Father 5 Brother
3 Son 6 Virgin sister (v 3)

f Heb. chalal, to bore; wound; dissolve; profane a person; break one's word; defile; pollute; prostitute; slay. It is akin to chalah, to be worn, weak, sick, afflicted; to grieve, make sick or diseased. From the meanings of the Heb. and the Eng. word profane (meaning secular; uninspired; vulgar; common; blasphemous; godless; impious; irreligious; unconsecrated; unholy; unsanctified; wicked; worldly) we understand what God meant by the following laws:

5 commands to priests:
1 A priest shall not profane himself (v 4)
2 He shall not profane the name of God (v 6). Cp. 18:21; 19:12; 20:3; 22:2, 32
3 A priest shall not marry a profane woman (v 7, 14)
4 He shall not profane the sanctuary (v 12, 23). Cp. Ezek. 23:39; 25:3
5 Priests shall not profane the holy things (22:15). Cp. 22:9; Ezek. 22:26

10 examples of profaning:
1 Israel profaning the sabbaths (Neh. 13:17; Ezek. 22:8, 26; 23:38)
2 Prophets and priests profaning God (Jer. 23:11-15; Ezek. 22:25-26)
3 Zedekiah is called the profane wicked prince of Israel (Ezek. 21:25)
4 Profaning the sanctuary (Ezek. 25:3)
5 Profaning God's holy name (Ezek. 36:20-23; Amos 2:7; Mal. 1:12) 2:11) 6 Profaning the holiness of God (Mal.
7 Profaning the holy covenant (Mal. 2:10)
8 Lucifer was cast out as profane when he sinned (Ezek. 28:16)
9 Priest profaning the temple (Mt. 12:5). Cp. Acts 24:6
10 Esau was a profane person, a fornicator (Heb. 12:16)

g A priest profaned himself when he became backslidden in heart, irreverent, ungodly, unholy, defiled, unclean, wicked, or worldly - more interested in secular things than in his duty to God (v 4) h Here the same commands given to laymen (19:28) were also given to priests so that none could think he was exempted from them and therefore, free to follow other nations in such practices. See notes o-q, 19:27-28

i 13 times God speaks of profaning His name (v 6; 22:2, 32; 18:21; 19:12; 20:3; Ezek. 36:20-23; Amos 2:7; Mal. 1:12). It means to show irreverence, blaspheme, and disrespect the name of God and His program by sinning (v 6; Amos 2:7)

j Priests were limited to godly, pure, undefiled, and religious women for wives

3 kinds of wives forbidden the priests:
1 Whore (v 7. Cp. v 13-14)
2 Profane, i.e., a vulgar, blasphemous, godless, impious, irreligious, unconsecrated, unsanctified, wicked, worldly woman
3 Divorcee. Others were permitted to marry a divorced woman, but not the priests (Dt. 24:1-4)

k Moses was to sanctify all the priests, Aaron and all his sons. As a man he could set them apart for God and ceremonially cleanse and dedicate them, but any cleansing from sin had to be done by the Lord. Technically, sanctification is not a cleansing from sin, but a setting apart from profane uses to holy uses and the divine will. In many cases sin is not even involved a A daughter profaning herself was one playing the whore - selling herself to a life of passion and lust. This profaned her father by bringing disgrace upon him, making him the object of gossip, and encouraging irreligious acts in others (v 9)

b If this was not a mode of punishment to cause death, it referred to burning the body after the whore was stoned, as was the case with Achan (Josh. 7:25) c Anointing with oil by pouring it upon the head was the distinguishing mark between the high priest and others as far as consecration was concerned (v 10; 8:12; Ps. 133). He also wore clothes different from those of the other priests (Ex. 28). The high priest was chief ruler - a sort of king and representative for God among the people. By his anointing he represented God as chief prophet; by his office he was typical and representative of Christ in His sacrificial character; and by his holy crown he represented the ruling authority of God on earth

d 6 commands - high priest laws
1 The high priest shall not uncover his head or rend his clothes in mourning (v 10)
2 He shall not defile himself by going in to any dead body (to attend the funeral), or defile himself for his father or mother (v 11)
3 He shall not go out from the sanctuary for the sickness or death of any of his near kin (v 12)
4 He shall marry only a virgin (v 13), not a widow, divorcee, profane woman, or an harlot (v 14)
5 His virgin wife shall be of his own people, not a foreigner
6 He shall not profane his seed among his people (v 15)

e Ordinary priests were permitted to be ceremonially defiled or become unclean for a dead father, mother, and close kin, but not the high priest (v 1-2). He had to be clean at all times and ready for service between God and the people both day and night. In God's plan there was to be a dependable and qualified representative who could be contacted whenever the need arose (v 11). In the East the first sign of mourning was uncovering the head, dishevelling the hair, throwing dust upon it, and rending the clothes. This behavior was forbidden the high priest (v 10)

f This, of course, refers to staying in the sanctuary all the time he was in service. He was not free to leave his tabernacle work for any outside emergency (v 10-12)

g 6 commands - marriage of high priest:
1 He shall marry a virgin (v 13)
2 One of his own people (v 14)
3 He shall not marry a widow
4 Or a divorced woman
5 Or a profane woman
6 Or an harlot, even if redeemed

h This was not a requirement of ordinary priests, as with the high priest (v 7, 14)

i This prohibition was alike for all priests, perhaps to avoid scandal - any report that a priest had been improperly associated with a woman and this was the reason for her divorce (v 14). Divorcees could be married again to someone outside the priesthood, if legally and scripturally divorced (Dt. 24:1-4)

j See note j, point 2, v 7

k No priest could ever marry an harlot, even though redeemed and made clean of her sin in the sight of God and man. This was to discourage harlotry in Israel and keep the ministry on the highest moral level, free from any appearance or memory of evil (v 14)

l The wife of a priest could not be a foreigner - of another race or color. She could be from another tribe, but an Israelite (v 14)

m Profaning his seed refers to marriage with a profane woman who would become the mother of his seed (children). A priest was to have a wife who would be a help to him and one acceptable with the people to whom he ministered (v 15)

n See 12 physical qualifications of priests, p. 144

o No man of the seed of the priests who had any body infirmity or imperfection could serve as a priest to make sacrifices (v 21). For him to do so would have glorified defeat, sickness, disease,

(6) Priests not to defile themselves by approving sin

●9 ¶ And the daughter of any priest, if she[a]profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: she shall [b]be burnt with fire.

(7) High priests not to defile themselves by mourning

●10 And he that is the high priest among his brethren, upon whose head [c]the anointing oil was poured, and that is consecrated to put on the garments, [d]shall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes;

(8) High priests not to defile themselves even by viewing their closest dead relatives

●11 Neither shall he go in to any dead body, nor [e]defile himself for his father, or for his mother.

(9) High priests not to make any world contacts while ministering to God in the tabernacle

●12 Neither shall he [f]go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for the crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the LORD.

(10) High priests not to defile themselves by wrong marriages

●13 And he[g]shall take a wife in her virginity.
●14 A [h]widow, or a [i]divorced woman, or [j]profane, or an[k]harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin [l]of his own people to wife.

(11) High priests not to defile themselves by permitting their family to sin (v 9)

●15 Neither shall he[m]profane his seed among his people: for I the LORD do sanctify him.

2 Twelve physical qualifications for priests

●16 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'sēs, saying,
●17 Speak unto Aär'on, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, [n]let him not approach to offer the bread of his God.
●18 For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing superfluous,
●19 Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded, ●20 Or crookbackt, or a dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken;
●21[o]No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aär'on the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the LORD made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.
●22 He [p]shall eat the bread of his God, [q]both of the most holy, and of the holy.
●23 Only he shall not go in unto the veil, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish; that he [r]profane not my sanctuaries: for I the LORD do sanctify them.
24 And Mō'sēs told it unto Aär'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Iş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 22 112

3 Death penalty for priests who eat of the holy things while defiled

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'sēs, saying,
●2 [a]Speak unto Aär'on and to his sons, that they [b]separate themselves from the holy things of the children of Iş'ra-el, and that they[c]profane not my holy name in those things which they hallow unto me: I am the LORD.
●3 Say unto them, Whosoever he be of all your seed among your generations, that goeth unto the holy things, which the children of Iş'ra-el hallow unto the LORD, having his uncleanness upon him, that soul shall be cut off from my presence: I am the LORD.
●4 What man soever [d]of the seed of Aär'on is a [e]leper, or hath a[f]running issue; he shall not eat of the holy things, until he be clean. And whoso[g]toucheth any thing that is unclean by the dead, or a man whose [h]seed goeth from him;
●5 Or whosoever[k]toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or a[l]man of whom he may take uncleanness, whatsoever uncleanness he hath;
●6 The soul which hath touched any such[m]shall be unclean until even, and shall not eat of the holy things, unless he[n]wash his flesh with water.
●7 And when the sun is down, he shall be clean, and shall afterward eat of the holy things; because it is his food.
●8 That which [o]dieth of itself, or is torn with beasts, he shall not eat to defile himself therewith: I am the LORD.
●9 They shall therefore keep mine ordinance, lest they bear sin for it, and die therefore, if they profane it: I the LORD do sanctify them.

4 Strangers forbidden to eat of the holy things

●10 There[p]shall no stranger eat of the holy thing: a sojourner of the priest, or an hired servant, shall not eat of the holy thing.
●11 But if the priest buy any soul with his money, he [q]shall eat of it, and he that is born in his house: they shall eat of his meat.

5 When priests' daughters may and may not eat of the holy things

●12 If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger, she

a See Holy in the Index

b Here it is explained that profaning God's house was by allowing a blemished, deformed, frail, sickly, physically imperfect man to serve as priest (v 23). Such were forbidden to have any part in the tabernacle service (v 16-23)

c 7 commands - penalties for priests:
1 Speak to Aaron and his sons to separate themselves (when disqualified) from the holy things of Israel (v 2)
2 They shall not profane My holy name in those things hallowed unto Me
3 Whoever of their seed forever, who goes unto the holy things in uncleanness shall be cut off (v 3)
4 No man of Aaron's seed that is a leper, or that has a running issue from his flesh, shall eat of the holy things until he is pronounced clean (v 4)
5 Whoever becomes unclean by any means shall be unclean until evening, and shall not eat of the holy things until he has bathed (v 4-7)
6 No man of the seed of priests shall eat that which dies of itself (v 8)
7 Aaron and his seed shall keep My ordinance lest they die (v 9)

d Meaning they should separate themselves from the holy things as long as they were disqualified to eat of them, as outlined in v 3-9 (v 2)

e Profaning God's name is here explained as sinning in those things He has spoken of as being sinful, and which He has plainly commanded in His own name (v 2-9). It is the sin of ignoring God and His word, showing no concern for His commands, and acting contrary to His laws. Such ungodly irreverence and wilful irresponsibility in divine and religious matters could not be tolerated in the priesthood

f No man of Aaron's seed or any of the nation otherwise needed to be leprous or diseased in other ways according to God's covenants; that is, if the people would carry out their obligations to Him. At Marah a covenant of healing was made with the whole nation which guaranteed both healing and continued health upon meeting certain conditions (see note c, Ex. 15:26). Upon their obedience God promised to take away sickness from their midst (Ex. 23:25). Sicknesses were promised only as a result of sin and failure to obey (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). We read that God healed every one so that there was not a feeble person in all their tribes (Ps. 105:37; 107:20). Thus Israel had a perfect beginning as a nation leaving Egypt and they could have continued in this state had they not rebelled. The laws about diseases in Lev. 13, 14, 15, etc. and the references to possible leprosy and other diseases in Israelites were made in view of the fact that, if Israel failed, they would be needed. Even when Israel went into sin, God promised time and again to heal them should they turn to Him (Ps. 34:9-10; 84:11; 91:1-12; 103:3; Isa. 58; etc.). When the Messiah came to restore Israel and save the nation, should they turn to God, He healed everyone who came to Him for healing, without exception. No less than 23 times it is recorded in the Gospels that He healed them all (note b, Mt. 13:58). Thus God sought to renew Israel and start them out with a new beginning as in the days of Moses. True to the prophecy of Moses in Dt. 18, He sent them a prophet like unto Moses weakness, failure, and physical infirmity to some extent which would have been out of harmony with the type - Christ, the perfect One

r Physically imperfect men of Aaron's house could eat holy things but not serve the tabernacle (v 22) a Indicating that a woman could be divorced without being sinful or unclean (v 13). See Dt. 24:1-4 concerning one's re-marriage b If the priest's widowed or divorced daughter had a child she could not return to her father's house and eat of the holy things. With the child having no rights in the priesthood she would have to find another way of support (v 13) c Restitution and a 20% fine had to be paid to the priest for eating holy things in ignorance (v 14-16)

d Profaning the holy things came about by someone eating them who was not supposed to partake of them. If a priest became so irreverent he did not protect holy things from those who were forbidden to eat of them, then he was said to profane the holy things. Any misuse of these things was profaning them (v 15), and such was a trespass (v 16) e 6 commands - offerings for sacrifices:
1 Speak to Aaron, his sons, and to all Israel saying that whoever offers oblations for vows or makes freewill offerings, whether an Israelite or Gentile, he shall offer a male without blemish, of the beeves, sheep, or goats (v 18-19)
2 You shall not offer any animal that has a blemish; it shall be perfect to be accepted (v 20-21)
3 Any animal that is blind, broken, maimed, or having a wen, scurvy, or scab shall not be offered (v 22)
4 Any animal that is imperfect in private parts may be offered for a free-will offering, but not for vows (v 23)
5 Any animal that is bruised, crushed, broken, or castrated shall not be offered to the Lord (v 24)
6 Do not accept such animals for sacrifice, from Gentiles (v 25)
f See vow and freewill offering sacrifices in 7:15-21 with 22:17-22 g 8 blemishes not acceptable in sacrifices:
1 Blindness (v 22)
2 Broken. Heb. shabar, to burst; break off or in pieces; crush. No animal that had been crushed or broken in body was acceptable. The same word is used of broken vessels (6:28; 15:12), yokes (26:13), ships (1 Ki. 22:48; 2 Chr. 20:37), heart (Ps. 34:18), and bones (Ps. 34:20; 37:17)
3 Maimed. Heb. charats, to wound; maim. See point 2, above
4 Wen. Heb. yabbel, having running sores; a tumor
5 Scurvy. Heb. garab, to scratch; scurf from itching; scab
6 Scab. Heb. yallepheth, to stick or scrape; scurf; scabbed (v 22; 21:20)
7 Anything superfluous or lacking in private parts. This means having any abnormal condition. Animals with such imperfection could be used for free-will offerings, but not for vows (v 23)
8 Bruised, crushed, broken or cut. This refers solely to castration (v 24). The Sept. reads, "castrated by crushing, bruising, cutting or extracting." Moffatt says, "No animal with its testicles bruised or crushed or broken or cut"

12 physical qualifications of priests (21:17)

1 Without blemish on the body (v 17-18, 21), 52 times God commanded this regarding animals sacrificed by the priests for all the people. Christ, the fulfillment of that which was typical in the law, was Himself without blemish (1 Pet. 1:19). The church will be presented to Him that way (Eph. 5:27)
2 Free from blindness (v 18). Both the priests and sacrifices offered were required to be thus (22:22; Dt. 15:21)
3 Free from lameness (v 18). Cp. Dt. 15:21; Mal. 1:8, 13
4 Without deformed nose (v 18)
5 Without anything superfluous (Heb. sara, to prolong; be deformed by excess of members as an extra finger or toe, v 18). Cp. 22:23
6 Without broken foot - any foot deformity (v 19) deformity (v 19)
7 Without broken hand - any hand
8 Without crooked back, hump-back or other back deformity (v 20)
9 Without dwarfishness, not being extra small or undeveloped (v 20) 20) 10 Without eye blemish of any kind (v
11 Without scurvy of scabbed places - any skin disease or imperfection (v 20) 12 Without rupture or imperfect genital parts (v 20). The Sept. reads, "who may not eat of an offering of the holy things.

●13 But if the priest's daughter be a widow or [a]divorced, [b]and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house, as in her youth, she shall eat of her father's meat: but there shall no stranger eat thereof.

6 Penalty for eating of holy things in ignorance

●14 ¶ And if a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, then he shall put the [c]fifth part thereof unto it, and shall give it unto the priest with the holy thing.
●15 And they shall not [d]profane the holy things of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, which they offer unto the LORD;
●16 Or suffer them to bear the iniquity of trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the LORD do sanctify them.

7 Only perfect animals accepted in all offerings made by fire

●17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,
●18 [e]Speak unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Whatsoever he be of the house of Iṣ'ra-el, or of the strangers in Iṣ'ra-el, that will offer his oblation [f]for all his vows, and for all his freewill offerings, which they will offer unto the LORD for a burnt offering;
●19 Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats.
●20 But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.
●21 And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD to accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein.
●22 [g]Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a wen, or scurvy, or scabbed, ye shall not offer these unto the LORD, nor make an offering by fire of them upon the altar unto the LORD.

8 Some imperfect animals acceptable in free will offerings, but not for vow offerings

●23 Either a bullock or a lamb that hath any thing superfluous or lacking in his parts, that mayest thou offer for a freewill offering; but for a vow it shall not be accepted.
●24 Ye shall not offer unto the LORD that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut; neither shall ye make any offering thereof in your land.
●25 Neither from a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these; because their corruption is in them, and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you.

9 Age of sacrifices: all animals at least eight days old

●26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moṣes, saying,
●27 When a bullock, or a sheep, or a goat, is brought forth, then it [a]shall be seven days under the dam; and from the eighth day and thenceforth it shall be accepted for an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

10 Mother and offspring not to be sacrificed the same day

●28 And whether it be cow or ewe, [b]ye shall not kill it and her young both in one day.

11 All sacrifices of thanksgiving must be of own free will ●29 And when ye will offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving unto the LORD, offer it at your own will.

●30 On the same day it shall be eaten up; ye shall leave none of it until the morrow: I am the LORD.

12 Command to obedience

●31 Therefore [c]shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the LORD.
32 Neither shall ye [d]profane my holy name; but I will be hallowed among the children of Iṣ'ra-el: I am the LORD which hallow you, 33 That brought you out of the land of Ê'ġypt, to be your God: I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 23 113

13 Eight feasts of Jehovah: (1) Weekly sabbath (Ex. 20:8-11)

■AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes, saying,
●2 [e]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Concerning the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, leven these are my feasts.
●3 [f]Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the LORD in all your dwellings.

(2) Feast of the Passover (Ex. 12; Num. 9:9; 28:16; Dt. 16:1)

●4 ¶ These are the feasts of the LORD, even holy convocations, which ye shall proclaim in their seasons.
●5 In the [h]fourteenth day of the first month at even is the LORD's passover.

(3) Feast of unleavened bread (Ex. 12:15; Num. 28:17; Dt. 16:6)

●6 [i]And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the LORD: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread.
●7 In the first day ye shall have a 4 commands - sacrifices:

1 All sacrifices shall be at least 8-days-old before being offered by fire (v 27)
2 Do not kill the mother animal and her young on the same day (v 28)
3 All sacrifices of thanksgiving shall be of your own free will (v 29)
4 All sacrifices of thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day as offered; none shall be left until the morrow (v 30)
b This was to emphasize the sacredness of the relationship between parent and offspring (v 28) c 2 commands - obedience and reverence:
1 Keep My commandments and do them (v 31)
2 Do not profane My holy name (v 32) d See notes f and i, 21:4, 6
e 3 commands - feasts of Jehovah:
1 Speak to Israel concerning the feasts of Jehovah (v 2)
2 Proclaim My feasts to be holy convocations
3 Proclaim the feasts in their proper seasons (v 4)
f 8 feasts of Jehovah (Lev. 23):
1 Weekly sabbath feast (v 2-3)
2 Yearly passover feast (v 4-5) 6-8)
3 Yearly feast of unleavened bread (v
4 Yearly feast of firstfruits (v 9-14)
5 Yearly feast of Pentecost (v 15-21)
6 Yearly feast of trumpets (v 23-25)
7 Yearly feast of atonement (v 25-32)
8 Yearly feast of tabernacles (v 33-34)

3 yearly feast gatherings for all males:
1 The feasts of the passover, unleavened bread, and firstfruits were observed in the same season at the same gathering (Ex. 12; 23:14-17)
2 Feast of Pentecost (v 15-21; Ex. 23:16)
3 Feast of tabernacles (v 33-44; Ex. 23:16; 34:18-22). This was preceded by 2 other feasts which all males attended. By gathering 15 days earlier they could attend all 3 which required a total of 21 days - the feast of trumpets, the great day of atonement, and feast of tabernacles (v 23-44; 2 Chr. 8:13)

8 other feasts of the Jews
1 A septennial (recurring every 7 years) or sabbatical feast (Lev. 25)
2 Feast of the new moon, the first day the moon appeared after her change (1 Chr. 23:31; 2 Chr. 2:4; 8:13; 31:3; Ezra 3:5; Neh. 10:33; Isa. 1:13-14; Hos. 2:11; Col. 2:14-17)
3 Feast of Purim, to celebrate the deliverance from Haman (Esther 9)
4 Feast of dedication, or restoration of the temple, which was profaned by Antiochus Epiphanes (Jn. 10:22). This was also called the feast of lights
5 Feast of branches, to commemorate the taking of Jericho by Joshua. It is not mentioned in Scripture
6 Feast for the death of Nicanor (1 Macc. 7:48 of the Apocrypha)
7 Feast for the discovery of the sacred fire (2 Macc. 1:18)
8 Feast of carrying wood to the tabernacle, called Xylophory (Josephus, War, ch. 17, 6)

g 2 commands - the weekly sabbath feast:
1 Work 6 days, but rest the 7th day, which is a holy convocation (v 3)
2 Do no work on the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings h 1 command: The passover shall be the 14th day of the 1st month. This would be in April of our calendar i 7 commands - feast of unleavened bread:
1 Keep the feast of unleavened bread for 7 days (from the 15th to the 21st of the 1st month - March-April, v 6)
2 Eat only unleavened bread during the 7 days of this feast
3 In the 1st day you shall have an holy convocation (v 7) day - the 1st
4 You shall do no servile work on this 5 Make offerings by fire to Jehovah on each of the 7 days (v 8)
6 The 7th day shall also be an holy convocation
7 You shall do no servile work on this day - the 7th

If such qualifications for ministers were required today most men would have to quit the ministry. Cp. Heb. 8:6

a Heb. miqra, a public meeting; assembly; convocation (v 2-4, 7-8, 21, 24, 27, 35-37; Ex. 12:16; Num. 22:18, 25-26; 29:1, 7, 12)

b 8 commands - feast of firstfruits, p. 153

c Heb. omer, a heap; sheaf; a dry measure of 3 quarts and 1 pint. Whether the sheaf referred to was a bundle of the first cutting presented to Jehovah, or an omer is not known (v 10)

d Estimated cost of offering mentioned here:

Lamb of the first year	$20.00
Wheat (if an omer) about	.80
Fine flour (1 gallon)	.80
Wine (1 1/2 qts. @ $1.60)	2.40
Oil (1 1/2 qts. @ $1.40)	2.10
Total	$28.10

e Offering the firstfruits to God was a way of demonstrating the principle of putting Him first in all things. It fulfilled the 1st commandment in practice (Mt. 22:37-38). Such offerings were commanded (v 10, 17, 20; 2:12-14; Ex. 23:16-19; 34:22, 26; Num. 18:12; 28:26; Dt. 26:10); and special blessings were promised those who made them (Pr. 3:9-10). The offering of firstfruits typified the resurrection of Christ (1 Cor. 15:2-23)

f 12 commands - feast of Pentecost, p. 153

g This would be the 16th of Abib or Nisan, corresponding somewhat with our April (v 11, 15)

h This would be 49 days after the feast of firstfruits (v 6, 11, 15)

i The word sabbath is used for a week (v 15; 25:8; Mt. 28:1; Lk. 18:12). We have here a week of weeks and then the feast of Pentecost

4 different names of this feast:
1 The day of Pentecost (Acts 2:1; 20:16)
2 The feast of harvest (Ex. 23:16)
3 The feast of weeks (Ex. 34:22; Dt. 16:10)
4 The day of the firstfruits (Num. 28:26)

j This would be the 50th day from the feast of firstfruits (v 6, 11, 15). The word pentecost in Gr. means fifty and it is from this that we get the word used in the heading at v 15, and in Acts 2:1; 20:16; 1 Cor. 16:8. See also Tobit 2:1; 2 Macc. 12:32 of the Apocrypha

k Fifty in Gr. is pentecost

l The new meat offering was that of 2 loaves of bread baked with leaven (v 17). All meat offerings were given to the priests (note 1, 2:8) m This simply means that in a place of dwelling they should bake 2 loaves, not that 2 loaves were to come from each house for the priests. This would have made thousands of loaves, more than the priests could use. This could be trans. from your dwelling, or place of abode, referring to abode in the general sense; or from the assembly, referring to the loaves being from the public at public expense and dedicated to Jehovah for the priests who were on duty at this time. They must have been very large loaves, for each contained 1/2 gallon or about 4 pounds of flour raised with leaven (v 17). According to the Mishna (the writings of the oral law), the length of a loaf was 7 hand-breadths (about 28 inches), the width 4 hand-breadths (about 16 inches), and the depth equal to 7 fingers' width (about 6 or 7 inches). No bread made with leaven could be burned upon the altar (2:11), so the object was not a burnt offering; this was a present to Jehovah from the best produce of the earth in the form most useful to sustain human life. It was a thanksgiving offering for His blessings upon the crops of the year. Besides these there were hundreds, even thousands of other loaves brought to the feast, not as offerings for the priests' use but for the people attending on that day n All food offerings were for the priests in appreciation of their services (2:2-3, 8-10, 14-16)

o A tenth deal was 1/2 gallon

p Referring to the firstfruits of the wheat harvest, not the barley which was earlier. In warmer parts of Palestine barley ripened about the middle of April, whereas the wheat crop did so the last of May or first part of June, being reaped by the time of the feast of Pentecost (v 17)

(4) Feast of firstfruits (Ex. 23:16; Num. 28:26; Dt. 16:9)

●9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●10 [a]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a [c]sheaf of the firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest:
●11 And he shall wave the sheaf before the LORD, to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it.
●12 And ye shall offer that day when ye wave the sheaf an he lamb without blemish of [d]the first year for a burnt offering unto the LORD.
●13 And the meat offering thereof shall be two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the LORD for a sweet savour: and the drink offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth part of an hin.
●14 And ye shall eat neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, [e]until the selfsame day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

(5) Feast of Pentecost (Dt. 16:9-12; Acts 2)

●15 ¶ And ye [f]shall count unto you from [g]the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; [h]seven [i]sabbaths shall be complete:
●16 Even unto [j]the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number [k]fifty days; and ye shall offer a [l]new meat offering unto the LORD.
●17 Ye shall bring [m]out of your habitations two [n]wave loaves of two [o]tenth deals: they shall be of fine flour; they shall be baken with leaven; they are the [p]firstfruits unto the LORD.
●18 And ye shall offer with the bread [q]seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the LORD, [r]with their meat offering, and their drink offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savour unto the LORD.
●19 Then ye shall sacrifice [s]one kid of the goats for a sin offering, and two lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace offerings.
●20 And the priest shall [t]wave them with the bread of the firstfruits for a wave offering before the LORD, with the two lambs: they shall be holy to the LORD for the priest.
●21 And ye shall proclaim on the selfsame day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you: ye [u]shall do no servile work therein: it shall be a statute for ever in all your dwellings throughout your generations.

(6) Law of gleanings (Lev. 19:9; Dt. 24:19)

●22 ¶ And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou [v]shalt not make clean riddance of the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou gather any gleaning of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the LORD your God.

(7) Feast of trumpets (Num. 10:1-10; 29:1-6)

●23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●24 [c]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, In the [d]seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a memorial of [e]blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation.
●25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall [f]offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

(8) Feast of the Great Day of Atonement (Lev. 16; Num. 29:7)

●26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●27 Also on the tenth day of this seventh month there [g]shall be a day of atonement: it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and [h]offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
●28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: [i]for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the LORD your God.
●29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people.
●30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.

●32 It shall be unto you a sabbath of rest, and ye shall [k]afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your sabbath.

●34 [k]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, The fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the LORD.
●35 On the first day shall be an holy convocation: [l]ye shall do no servile work therein.
●36 Seven days ye shall [m]offer a Pentecost was an extra sabbath added to the regular one. This made a 48-hour sabbath at which time the weekly sabbath was changed to a day later for the remainder of the year, and until the next Pentecost. See 22 facts about the sabbath, p. 111

b 3 commands - law of gleanings:
1 When you reap your harvests do not reap the corners of the fields (v 22)
2 Neither gather all the gleanings of the harvest in your fields
3 Leave them for the poor, and for the stranger in your midst

c 3 commands - feast of trumpets:
1 Speak to Israel telling them to observe the 1st day of the 7th month (October) as a special sabbath and a day of blowing of trumpets (v 24)
2 You shall do no servile work on this day (v 25) by fire on this day
3 You shall offer an offering made d The 7th month was called Tizri by the Jews, in later times, but Ethanim in 1 Ki. 8:2. It corresponds to some extent with our month of October (v 24, 27, 34, 39, 41)

e The kind of trumpets and their use are referred to in Num. 10:1-10. They were silver and 2 in number; the blowing was not throughout all Israel, but over the sacrifices at the tabernacle only f What kind of offerings, other than the regular daily sacrifices, is not stated here; but in Num. 29:1-6 they are said to be 1 young bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs, and 1 kid - 10 animals in all, besides the other sacrifices. See notes there

g 10 commands - day of atonement, p. 153

h What kind of offerings, or how many, is not stated here, but Num. 29:7-11 lists 1 young bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs, and 1 kid for a sin offering besides other offerings. Also, in Lev. 16 (see notes) we have information about special offerings being offered on this day, making it different from any other feast day. This was the day, the great day of atonement, when Aaron, the high priest was to go into the most holy place to make atonement for all Israel, including himself and his family. He was to offer a young bullock for himself, 2 kids for the congregation, and a ram for an additional burnt offering

i Every day was a time of sacrifice and atonement in Israel, but this was the great day of atonement because it was the only day in the year that the high priest could go into the holy of holies within the veil to make atonement for all the sins of the people and himself (v 28; Lev. 16:2-17; Heb. 9:1-10)

j Afflicting the soul was by fasting (Ps. 35:13; 69:10; Isa. 58:1-6). See Fasting in Index

k 11 commands - feast of tabernacles, p. 153

l Here is another example of doing necessary work on the sabbath day. It was commanded that the people do no servile (slave, or unnecessary) work on the 1st day of the feast; and it was also commanded that they make booths on this day to dwell in during the period of the feast (v 39-40). This was work but necessary in connection with the feast. The theory of doing absolutely no kind of work on sabbath days is in error because the work of sacrifices, circumcision, booth making and other allowable duties went on. Servile work refers to slave and hired-man work, or the ordinary daily labors of man

m Here again we are not told what kind of sacrifices were to be offered on each of these days; but Num. 29:12-40 lists 71 young bullocks, 15 rams, 105 lambs, and 8 kids of the goats as being offered on these 8 days - a total of 199 animals offered with it. See Num. 15:3-10; also note q, above

s One animal of the 13 was a sin offering, as a remembrance of sin (v 19; cp. Heb. 10:3); 10 were for burnt offerings (v 18); and 2 for peace offerings (v 19). Besides these there were the regular daily offerings, morning and evening

t The 2 lambs were waved for the peace offerings with the bread, flour, oil, and wine (v 18, 20). Tradition says that when whole animals were waved before God they were led back and forth before death. If this was not the procedure then they were waved on the hands of several priests after death (Ex. 29:24-27, notes) an offering made by fire unto the LORD: [a]on the eighth day shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a solemn assembly; and[b]ye shall do no servile work therein.

●37 [c]These are the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, a burnt offering, and a meat offering, a sacrifice, and drink offerings, every thing upon his day:

●38 Beside the sabbaths of the LORD, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the LORD.

●39 Also in the [d]fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the LORD seven days: [e]on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.

●40 And ye shall take you on the [f]first day the [g]boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.

●41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the LORD [h]seven days in the year. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations: ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month.

●42 Ye shall dwell in [i]booths seven days; [j]all that are Iṣ'ra-el-ites born shall dwell in booths:

43 [k]That your generations may know that I made the children of Iṣ'ra-el to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Ĕ'gŷpt: I am the LORD your God.

44 And Mō'ṣĕs declared unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el the feasts of the LORD.

CHAPTER 24 114

14 Oil for the perpetual light (Ex. 27:20)

[1]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣĕs, saying,

●2 [2]Command the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamps to burn continually.

●3 Without the veil of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aär'on order it from the evening unto the morning before the LORD continually: it shall be a statute for ever in your generations.

●4 He shall order the lamps upon the pure candlestick before the LORD continually.

15 The showbread (Ex. 25:23)

●5 ¶ And thou [m]shalt take fine flour, and bake twelve cakes thereof: [n]two tenth deals shall be in one cake.

●6 And thou shalt set them in two [o]rows, six on a row, upon the pure table before the LORD.

●7 And thou shalt put pure frankincense [a]upon each row, that it may be on the bread for a memorial, even an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

●8 [b]Every sabbath he shall set it in order before the LORD [c]continually, being taken from the children of Iṣ'ra-el by an everlasting covenant.

●9 And it shall be Aär'on's and his sons'; and they shall eat it in the holy place: for it is most holy unto him of the offerings of the LORD made by fire by a perpetual statute.

16 First jail in Israel: death for blasphemy (Ex. 20:7)

●10 ¶ And the son of an Iṣ'ra-el-īt-ish woman, [d]whose father was an Ē-ġŷp'tian, went out among the children of Iṣ'ra-el: and this son of the Iṣ'ra-el-īt-ish woman and a man of Iṣ'ra-el strove [e]together in the camp;

●11 And the Iṣ'ra-el-īt-ish woman's son blasphemed the name of the LORD and cursed. And they brought him unto Mō'ṣĕs: (and his mother's name was Shĕl'o-mĭth, the daughter of Dĭb'rī, of the tribe of Dăn:)

●12 And they put him in [f]ward, that the mind of the LORD might be shewed them.

●13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣĕs, saying,

●14 [g]Bring forth him that hath cursed without the camp; and let all that heard him lay their hands upon his head, and let all the congregation stone him.

●15 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, Whosoever curseth his God shall bear his sin.

●16 And he that blasphemeth the name of the LORD, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the LORD, shall be put to death.

17 Essence of the law (Ex. 21:23-25; Lev. 20:6-21; 2 Cor. 6:7)

●17 ¶ And he that killeth any man [h]shall surely be put to death.

●18 And he that killeth a beast shall make it good; beast for beast.

●19 And if a man cause a blemish in his neighbour; as he hath done, so shall it be done to him;

●20 Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as he hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again.

●21 And he that killeth a beast, he shall restore it: and he that killeth a man, he shall be put to death.

●22 Ye shall have one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country: for I am the LORD your God.

18 The blasphemer executed (v 10-16)

●23 ¶ And Mō'ṣĕs spake to the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they

a This was a special day in addition to the 7 days of the feast of tabernacles. It was a day of solemn assembly, and a special sabbath (v 36, 39; Num. 29:35) - the closing day of the present festival as well as the closing day of all festivals of the year. At this time the priests offered the last 10 animals of special sacrifice that made up the 199 offered during the 8 days (Num. 29:12-38). It was on this day (Jn. 7:37-39), 18 centuries later that Jesus promised the Holy Spirit in fulness. See note a, Jn. 7:37

b 5 kinds of days - no servile work:
1 Weekly sabbaths (v 3; Ex. 20:8-11)
2 Special sabbaths and fast days (v 6-9, 34-36)
3 Pentecost (v 21)
4 Feast of trumpets (v 25) (v 27-32)
5 Feast of the great day of atonement

c These are the annual feasts of Jehovah, holy convocations, to offer offerings in the appointed days, beside the weekly sabbaths of Jehovah, beside your gifts, beside your vows, and beside your freewill offerings to Jehovah (v 37-38)

d Like the passover and the feast of unleavened bread, the feast of tabernacles began on the 15th of the month during the full moon. All grain, olives, grapes, and other fruits and produce were harvested by then - the 15th of our October (v 39; Ex. 23:16)

e During the entire 8 days (7 days of the feast and the additional 8th-day sabbath) there would be 2 or 3 sabbaths, according to what day of the week the 15th of the month came on. The year the feast began on the weekly sabbath there would be 2 because the 1st-day and 8th-day sabbaths would be the same as the 2 regular weekly sabbaths. In other years the 1st and 8th days would be different and the feast would take in 1 weekly sabbath besides these special sabbaths, making 3 in all (v 34, 36, 39). With the addition of special sabbaths some Jewish months had 6 or 7 sabbaths

f This was the first sabbath of the 8 days; and the time when all Israel was supposed to spend the day making booths to live in (v 39-40). It was work, but very necessary and allowed by law. The commandment not to work on the sabbath applied only to unnecessary and servile work (Mt. 12:5; Jn. 7:23). Because of the booth-making the real feast did not begin until the 2nd day of the 8; so, technically, there were only 6 days between this work-sabbath and the 8th-day sabbath (v 36-39; Num. 29:35; Neh. 8:18)

g 4 kinds of material for booths (v 40):
1 Boughs of goodly trees (Heb. haddar, magnificence; beauty; goodly; glorious; majesty). What kind of trees is not known, but tradition says citron. By some this is taken to refer to fruit from trees, not branches. The Sept. reads: "ripe fruit of trees;" the Peshitta: "the fruits of goodly trees, citron;" the Berkeley: "the produce of goodly trees." This may refer then, to fruit of trees to eat as they built the booths, inasmuch as they had no time for cooking that day; or it may refer to both branches and fruit
2 Branches of palm trees
3 Thick trees - perhaps the myrtle 4 Willows of the brook

h The 7 days perhaps began with the 2nd and included the 8th day, after the booths were finished. According to v 41-42 the people were supposed to dwell in the booths 7 days and they were not finished until sometime on the 1st day of the 7-day period

i See Isa. 1:8, note

j It seems this was a law for Israelites only, but in the Millennium it will be broadened to take in all nations (Zech. 14:16-21)

k This was to teach Israel's new generations that the nation dwelled in booths or tents (temporary dwellings) when coming out of Egypt. It was to commemorate that experience of Israel (v 43)

l 3 commands - perpetual light:
1 Command Israel to bring pure beaten olive oil to cause the light to burn perpetually (v 2). See note i, Ex. 27:20
2 Aaron (the high priest) shall have oversight of the lamps to see that they are kept burning continually (v 3)
3 It shall be a statute for ever in all your generations

a According to v 6 there were 2 rows with 6 cakes in a row or pile (see note o, v 6), which means there were 2 dishes instead of 12 for the burning of incense - a dish for the top of each stack (v 7)

b The showbread was to be changed every sabbath and loaves that had been removed were to be eaten by the priests in the holy place. This was the most holy of all offerings made by fire (v 8-9)

c Not only was the light of the lamps to be burning continually, but the showbread also was to be set continually before the Lord (v 2, 3, 4, 8-9) d How many such mixed marriages there were is not known, but a mixed multitude is mentioned in Ex. 12:38; Num. 11:4 as coming out of Egypt with Israel. Moses, himself had married a Midianite woman (Ex. 3; Num. 12). After the captivities the mixed multitude was separated from Israel (Neh. 13:3)

e 2 fights between 2 men: 13)
1 The 2 Israelites in Egypt (Ex. 22:11-2 The 2 Israelites in wilderness (v 10)

f The first jail mentioned in Israel (v 12)

g 5 commands - sin of blasphemy:
1 Bring forth the blasphemer outside the camp (v 14)
2 Let all that heard him lay hands upon his head, and let all Israel stone him with stones (v 14, 16, 23)
3 Speak to Israel saying that whoever curses his God shall bear (be responsible for) his sin
4 He that blasphemes the name of the Lord shall be put to death (v 15-16)
5 Both Israelites and Gentiles shall be put to death for blasphemy (v 16)

h 4 commands - various crimes: 21)
1 The murderer shall be killed (v 17,
2 The man who kills the animal of another shall make it good, beast for beast (v 18, 21)
3 The man who causes a blemish on his neighbor shall suffer the same - blemish for blemish, breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth (v 19-20)
4 There shall be one law for both Israelites and Gentiles in your land (v 22)

m 8 commands - showbread:
1 Take fine flour and bake into 12 loaves (cakes, v 5) each cake
2 Use 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) of flour for 3 Set the 12 cakes of bread in 2 rows, 6 to a row, upon the gold table of showbread in the holy place (v 6)
4 Put pure frankincense on each row as a memorial (v 7)
5 Change the bread every sabbath before the Lord continually, as a gift from the children of Israel (v 8)
6 The bread of the previous week shall be for Aaron and his sons (v 9)
7 They shall eat it in the holy place as an offering most holy of all the offerings of the Lord made by fire
8 This shall be an everlasting covenant and a perpetual statute (v 8-9)

n A tenth deal was 1/2 gallon, so each cake was made from a gallon of flour, or about 7 1/2 pounds. The unleavened loaves made from a gallon would be about the same size as the ones made with leaven and 1/2 gallon of flour. See note m, 23:17

o Heb. ma'arakah, an arrangement; a pile (v 6-7). Not the same word to designate rows side by side as in Ex. 28:17-20; 39:10-13; 1 Ki. 6:36; 7:2-42. Evidently the 12 cakes were stacked one upon the other, 6 in a stack, with a gold dish of frankincense at the top (v 6-7). Some say the cakes were square, not round. The burning of the frankincense at the top of the stacks made the showbread an offering by fire unto Jehovah, as mentioned in v 7 of this chapter. We know we are not to understand that the loaves were burned in the fire, for they were to be eaten by priests in the holy place as the most holy of the offerings (v 9). They simply became "a memorial, even an offering made by fire" through the bowls of burning frankincense on top of each stack

Note that the stacks of showbread were to be upon the pure table; this was the table covered with pure gold that stood before the Lord. Also, pure frankincense was to be burned upon the pure table. This signifies that all things connected with Jehovah and His worship were to be pure, thus typifying the purity of life and conduct of the worshippers who came before Him a First penalty of the broken law for blasphemy (v 23; Ex. 20:7, refs.)

9 persons stoned in Scripture:
1 The blasphemer of Lev. 24:11-23
2 The sabbath breaker (Num. 15:36)
3 Achan under Joshua (Josh. 7:25)
4 Abimelech under the judges (Judg. 9:53)
5 Adoram under the kings (1 Ki. 12:18)
6 Naboth by Ahab (1 Ki. 21:13) 21)
7 Zechariah by King Joash (2 Chr. 24:
8 Stephen, first Christian martyr (Acts 9 Paul the apostle (Acts 14:19) 7:58)

b 5 commands - sabbatic year:
1 Speak to Israel saying that the land shall keep a sabbath unto Jehovah (v 2; Ex. 23:10-11)
2 You shall sow and reap your fields and vineyards for 6 years (v 3)
3 The 7th year shall be a sabbath of rest for the land (v 4)
4 Do not sow your fields or prune your vineyards in the 7th year
5 The crops that grow of their own accord that year shall be food for yourselves, your servants, the strangers in your midst, and your stock (v 5-6)

c The unpruned vineyard was called the Nazarite vine because it could be compared with the unshorn locks of Nazarites (Num. 6:5)

d 12 commands - year of jubile:
1 Number 7 sabbaths of years - 49 years (v 8)
2 At the end of the harvest season, in the 49th year on the great day of atonement (10th day of Oct.) you shall cause the trumpet to sound throughout the land (v 9)
3 You shall hallow (set apart) the 50th year, and proclaim liberty to all inhabitants (v 10) (v 10-13)
4 It shall be a year of jubile unto you
5 Every man shall return to his own possession family
6 Every man shall return to his own
7 You shall not sow, reap that which groweth of itself, or gather grapes of the undressed vineyards (v 11)
8 The year of jubile shall be holy unto you (v 12) the field
9 You shall eat from the increase of 10 If you buy or sell anything you shall take into account the number of years after jubile (v 14-17) (v 14,17)
11 You shall not oppress one another 12 You shall fear Jehovah in all your dealings

e In the 49 years there were 7 sabbatical years (v 3-4), then another (jubile) making 8 such years of rest every 50 years. The 7th sabbatical year being the 49th year of the period and the 8th or jubile being the 50th made a 24-month sabbath for the land to lie untended, and for the people to enjoy a rest from work in the fields (v 8-13)

f Hallow (set apart) the 50th year to proclaim liberty to all people, and to start business all over again as at the beginning. At this time all mortgages were cancelled, all servants released, and all bondages of men annulled. Debts were forgiven, and lands reverted to the original owners (v 8-13). The new start in business at the end of jubile was based upon another year of release 50 years in the future (v 14-17)

g Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof Is the famous quotation on the liberty bell of the U. S. A. in Philadelphia, Pa.

h Heb. yobel, a blast of the horn; the signal for the silver trumpets; the festival introduced by the blowing of horns throughout Israel (v 8-17)

7 commands - eating holy things (22:11)
1 No stranger shall eat of the holy things (v 10, 13) thereof (v 10)
2 No sojourner of the priests shall eat
3 No hired servant of a priest shall eat thereof holy things (v 11) 4 Slaves owned by priests may eat of 5 A priest's daughter who is married to a stranger shall not eat of the holy things (v 12)
6 A priest's daughter who is childless, a widow or a divorcee, and who has returned to her father's house to live, may eat thereof (v 13)
7 Any man who eats holy things in ignorance shall repay the priest with 20% added thereto (as a fine) when it is discovered that he is guilty (v 14-16) should bring forth him that had cursed out of the camp, [a]and stone him with stones. And the children of Is'ra-el did as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

CHAPTER 25 115

VIII Property and slave laws (Lev. 25:1-27:46). 1 The sabbatic year. (1) Every 7th year one of rest to the land

[1]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ in mount Si'nāi, saying,
[2] [b]Speak unto the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give you, then shall the land keep a sabbath unto the LORD.
[3] Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof;
[4] But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the LORD: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.

(2) All crops of sabbatic years for all people without profit to the owner

[5] That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes of thy vine [c]undressed: for it is a year of rest unto the land.
[6] And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee,
[7] And for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.

2 The year of jubile. (1) Every 50th year a sabbath of rest and full release of slaves and family possessions - a new start for all Hebrews (v 10, 13-17, 23-28, 31; Dt. 15:1-4)

[8] ¶ And thou [d]shalt number seven [e]sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years.
[9] Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land.
[10] And ye shall [f]hallow the fiftieth year, and [d]proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family.

(2) No sowing crops or pruning vines or trees, making two years of complete rest

[11] A [g]jubile shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed.
[12] For it is the jubile; it shall be [h]holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field.
[13] In the year of this jubile ye shall return every man unto his possession.

(3) All business based on number of years of profit between years of jubile

[14] And if thou sell ought unto thy neighbour, or buyest ought of thy neighbour's hand, ye shall not [b]oppress one another:
[15] [c]According to the number of years after the jubile thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee:
[16] According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.
[17] Ye shall not therefore oppress one another; but thou shalt fear thy God: for I am the LORD your God.

(4) Provision for sabbatic years

[18] ¶ Wherefore ye [d]shall do my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them; and [e]ye shall dwell in the land in safety.
19 And the land shall yield her fruit, and ye shall eat your fill, and dwell therein in safety.
20 And if ye shall say, [f]What shall we eat the seventh year? behold, we shall not sow, nor gather in our increase:
21 Then I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth fruit for three years.
22 And ye shall sow the eighth year, and eat yet of old fruit until the ninth year; until her fruits come in ye shall eat of the old store.

(5) The land not to be sold forever

[23] ¶ The land [g]shall [b]not be sold for ever: [i]for the land is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me.
[24] And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land.

(6) All country property redeemable in year of jubile

[25] ¶ [j]If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeem it, then shall he redeem that which his brother sold.
[26] And if the man have none to redeem it, and himself be able to redeem it;
[27] Then let him count the years of the sale thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he may return unto his possesa Heb. godesh, a sacred place or thing; something consecrated or dedicated; hallowed. The year of jubile was to be sacred to all because it was a year of release when all family inheritances that had been alienated were restored and everyone was given a fresh start in business, free from debt (v 11-13)

b Literally, overreach one another

c The prices in all business transactions, concerning lands or servants, were to be based upon the number of years before jubile (v 15-16)

d 3fold command - do My statutes, keep My judgments, and do them (v 18)

e 5th prophecy in Lev. (25:18-22, fulfilled). Next, 26:3, This is a prophetical promise of God's blessing of Israel in the land

f Question 3. Last question in Leviticus. Anticipating the questioning of Israel in regard to the program of allowing the land to rest every 7th year, God assured them that He would prosper them so much in the 6th year that all needs would be supplied during the rest period. The crops would be abundant enough to supply the people for 3 years (v 20-22)

g 9 commands - redemption of land:
1 The land shall not be sold and deeded to another permanently - for ever (v 23)
2 Redemption of the land may be granted at any time to the rightful possessor or his next of kin (v 24-27)
3 If the man who has sold his possession is not able to redeem it, and one of his near kin cannot or will not redeem it, then it shall remain in the possession of the buyer until the year of jubile when it shall be returned to the seller (v 28)
4 If a man sells a house in a walled city, he shall have a year to redeem it (v 29)
5 If he cannot redeem it within the year the property shall remain a permanent possession of the buyer; it shall not return to the seller in the year of jubile (v 30)
6 Houses in an unwalled village shall be like country property - redeemable any time during the 50 years before jubile; and if they are not redeemed they shall return to the original possessor in the year of jubile (v 31)
7 The cities and houses of the Levites whether walled cities, unwalled villages, or country may be redeemed at any time (v 32)
8 If they are not redeemed before the year of jubile they shall then be returned to the possession of the Levites (v 33)
9 The fields of the Levites shall not be sold at any time, for they are an eternal possession (v 34)

h All land mortgaged or leased was to be on a temporary basis, subject to redemption. If it could not be redeemed because of poverty during the 50 years, it was then automatically redeemed and returned to its original owner in the year of jubile (v 8-17, 23-24)

i Here God announced Himself as the rightful and eternal owner of the land. It is His by virtue of creation (v 23)

j The land of a poor man could be redeemed by himself or a relative any time during the period between the years of jubile (v 25-26). The redemption price was determined by the number of years remaining from the date of redemption to the next jubile, at which time all such property was returned to original owners (v 8-10)

18 Witchcraft (v 27; cp. v 6) a This gave a poor man another chance, an opportunity to regain his property - something he could never do otherwise (v 28)

b Note the difference in laws concerning houses in walled cities and those in unwalled cities or villages (v 29-30 with v 31)
c City dwellers could have a full year to redeem property inside the city walls; but if they failed to do so the property then passed into the permanent possession of the buyer, not to be affected by the year of jubile (v 30)
d In v 1-34 we have property laws, regulating what could and could not be redeemed or released in the year of jubile. In v 35-55 we have laws governing hired servants and slaves during the 49 years between the years of jubile e 4 commands - relief of poor brother:
1 If a brother becomes poor, then relieve him (v 35)
2 You shall relieve him whether he is an Hebrew, a stranger, or a sojourner among you
3 Do not take interest or increase of his crops in payment for your help of a poor brother (v 36, 37)
4 Fear your God that your brother may live with you (v 36, 38)
f Twice God gave the reason for helping a poor brother - that he might live among the Israelites instead of being driven to some other land (v 35-36)
g You shall not profit or become rich at the expense of the poor whom you can take advantage of to increase your own wealth (v 37-38)
h Being brought forth out of the land of Egypt is referred to 4 times in chs. 25-26 as follows: 25:38, 42, 55; 26:13

13 These are the sons of Shem, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their nations (Gen. 10:31)

●28 But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubile: and [a]in the jubile it shall go out, and he shall return unto his possession.

(7) Walled city property can be redeemed only for one year

●29 And if a man sell a dwelling house in a[b]walled city, then he may redeem it within a whole year after it is sold; within a full year may he redeem it.
●30 And if it be not redeemed within the space of a[c]full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall be established for ever to him that bought it throughout his generations: it shall not go out in the jubile.

(8) All village property redeemable in the year of jubile

●31 But the houses of the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: they may be redeemed, and they shall go out in the jubile.

(9) All city property of Levites redeemable any time

●32 Notwithstanding the cities of the Lĕ'vites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Lĕ'vites redeem at any time.
●33 And if a man purchase of the Lĕ'vites, then the house that was sold, and the city of his possession, shall go out in the year of jubile: for the houses of the cities of the Lĕ'vites are their possession among the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

(10) No country property of Levites can ever be sold

●34 But the field of the suburbs of their cities may not be sold; for it is their perpetual possession.

(11) All poor brothers to be relieved and helped back to prosperity (Dt. 15:7-15)

●35 ¶ And [d]if thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee; then thou [e]shalt relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; [f]that he may live with thee.
●36 Take thou no usury of him, or increase: but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee.
●37 Thou [g]shalt not give him thy money upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.
●38 I am the LORD your God, which[h]brought you forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, to give you the land of Cā'nāan, and to be your God.

●39 ¶ And if thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou [e]shalt not compel him to serve as a bondservant:
●40 But as an hired servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubile:
●41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return.
●42 For they are my servants, which I[h]brought forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt: they shall not be sold as bondmen.
●43 Thou shalt not rule over him with [i]rigour; but shalt fear thy God.

(13) Only pagan slaves to remain perpetual slaves

●44 Both thy bondmen, and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them [d]shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids.
●45 Moreover of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: and they shall be your possession.
●46 And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Iṣ'ra-el ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.

(14) All poor Hebrews can be redeemed from strangers any time, but if not redeemed they are free in the year of jubile

●47 ¶ And if a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, and thy brother that dwelleth by him wax poor, and sell himself unto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stock of the stranger's family:
●48 After that he is sold he may be redeemed again; one of his brethren [f]may redeem him:
●49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may [f]redeem him, or any that is nigh of kin unto him of his family may redeem him; or if he be able, he may redeem himself.
●50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he was sold to him unto the year of jubile: and the price of his sale shall be according unto the number of years, according to the time of an hired servant shall it be with him.
●51 If there be yet many years behind, according unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the money that he was bought for.

a 5 commands - Hebrew hired servant:
1 If your brother becomes poor and is sold to you, do not compel him to serve as a slave (v 39)
2 You shall treat him as an hired servant, and as a sojourner with you (v 40)
3 He shall serve you until the year of jubile; then he may depart with his children and return to his own family, and to the possession of his fathers (v 40-41) slaves (v 42-43)

d 4 commands - slaves:
1 Your slaves shall be of the heathen, not of your brethren (v 44)
2 Of the children of the strangers that sojourn among you shall you buy slaves (v 45)
3 Of their families which they beget in your land shall your possession be (v 45)
4 You shall take them as an inheritance for your children for ever, but regarding your brethren of Israel you shall not rule one over the other with rigour (v 46) slave:
e 7 commands - redemption of Hebrew
1 If a sojourner or a stranger becomes rich in your midst and buys a Hebrew slave he may be redeemed again (v 47-48)
2 One of his brethren, an uncle, a nephew, or any other near kinsman may redeem him (v 48-49)
3 If he is able to redeem himself he may do so any time (v 49)
4 The price of redemption shall be determined according to the number of years until the year of jubile (v 50-52)
5 He shall be to the Gentile as a yearly hired servant, not as a slave (v 53)
6 One shall not rule over him with rigour or oppress him in your sight
7 If he is not redeemed he shall go out free in the year of jubile with his children (v 54-55)
f Here we have the law of GOEL, kinsman redeemer (v 25, 48-49), which is so beautifully illustrated by the story in the book of Ruth

Rebekah (Gen. 26:34-35)
23 And Isaac called Jacob... and charged him... Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan... take a wife of the daughters of Laban (Gen. 28:1-2)
24 A whole nation was destroyed because they sought to integrate (Gen. 34)
25 In the Mosaic law Israel was definitely forbidden to integrate with other nations (Ex. 23:31-33; Dt. 7:3-6; Num. 23:9)
26 Israel did not integrate with the Egyptians during the 215 years they were in Egypt; they dwelled segregated - in a land by themselves (Gen. 47:6; Ex. 8:22-23; 9:26; 11:7)
27 Israel was even forbidden to cross-breed their cattle (Lev. 19:19)
28 Different kinds of seeds were not to be planted in the same field or vineyard (Lev. 19:19; Dt. 22:9)
29 Israel was forbidden to wear garments made of mixed threads - wool and linen (Lev. 19:19; Dt. 22:11)
30 Israel was forbidden to plow with an ox and an ass together (Dt. 22:10)
31 God divided the nations their inheritance, separated (segregated) the sons of Adam, and set the bounds of the people (Dt. 32:8-9). Cp. Acts 17:26, note
The passage in Acts makes it clear that although God "hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth," He has "determined... the bounds of their habitation;" and what He has determined will be respected when Christ comes and throughout all eternity (Dan. 7:13-14). Israel will be gathered and segregated from all nations to dwell in their own land (Isa. 11:10-12; Ezek. 37:47-48; Mt. 24:31). Other peoples will be returned to their own boundary lines as originally planned by the Lord, and all will be ruled by Christ and the res-

a The law limited the service of the Hebrew servant to 6 years, unless he offered a voluntary service after that period (Ex. 21:1-6)
b See note c, v 43
c The word years (usually in italics, meaning that it is not in the original Heb. but added by translators) is somewhat misleading. For a better understanding and the true meaning, the phrase in these years could have been trans. by one of these means. The means of redeeming Hebrew servants are plainly stated as follows:
1 The Hebrew servant was limited by law to serve a master as a hired servant for 6 years, after which he was to be released, unless he gave a voluntary service beyond that time (Ex. 21:1-6).
The serving unto the year of jubile of v 40 then, implies that it was the last 6 years before jubile. If not, then it must be understood that any Hebrew selling himself for a longer period of time would do so of his own free choice just as one would become a life-time slave according to Ex. 21:1-6
2 If a Hebrew sold himself as a slave to a rich Gentile in Israel, for a debt, he could be redeemed at any time by any near kinsman or by himself when he was able (v 47-49)
3 The redemption price was to be reckoned by the number of years the Hebrew had already served and the number of years he was yet to serve, and according to the wage being paid a yearly servant (v 48-53)
4 If the slave who sold himself for longer than 6 years for a debt was not redeemed by any of the above means, he was to continue until the year of jubile and then be set free from further obligation to his debt (v 54-55)

e 6 commands - idolatry and reverence:
1 Make no idols (Heb. elilim, nothings; clay or terra cotta gods, v 1; 19:4. See 1 Cor. 8:4)
2 Make no graven images (Heb. pesel, idol of wood or stone)
3 Do not set up a standing image (Heb. mazzebah, sacred pillar)
4 Do not set up any image of stone to bow down to (Heb. maskith, a sculptured or painted stone)
5 Keep My sabbaths (v 2)
6 Reverence My sanctuary
f 6th and last prophecy in Lev. (v 3-45. V 3-39 fulfilled; v 40-45 yet to be fulfilled at the 2nd coming of Christ and in the Millennium, Isa. 11:10-16; 66:20; Jer. 30:3-9; 31:8-9; Ezek. 37; Hos. 3:4-5; Mt. 24:31). This may be considered a conditional prophecy - one based upon conditions being met. It is 3fold:
1 If you walk in My statutes, and keep My commandments, and do them: THEN I will bless you (v 3-13)
2 But if you will not hearken unto Me, and will not do all these commandments; And if you shall despise My statutes, or if your soul shall abhor My judgments, so that you will not do all My commandments, but break My covenant: THEN I will curse you (v 14-39)
3 If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass.... and that they have walked contrary unto Me; and that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; IF THEN their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they THEN accept of the punishment of their iniquity; THEN will I fulfil with them the contract made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 40-46)
g 3fold commandment (v 3):
1 Walk in My statutes
2 Keep My commandments
3 Do them

2 The land shall be fruitful
3 Trees shall bear abundant fruit
4 Grain crops shall be great (v 5)
5 Vineyards shall yield abundantly
6 Your bread will be plentiful
7 You will dwell safely
8 I will give you peace (v 6)

●54 And if he be not redeemed in these [c]years, then he shall go out in the year of jubile, both he, and his children with him.

116 CHAPTER 26

IX Eleventh or Palestinian Covenant (See Dt. 11:13; 27:1-30:20). 1 Conditions of blessings in the land:
(1) No idolatry

YE [e]shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it: for I am the LORD your God.

(2) Keep the sabbaths (Ex. 20:8-11; 31:13-18; Lev. 23)

●2 ¶ Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the LORD.

(3) Keep the commandments (Ex. 20:1-17; Dt. 5:6-21)

●3 ¶ If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and [g]do them;

2 Twenty-four conditional blessings (Dt. 28:1-14; 30:1)

▸4 [h]Then [i]I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.
▸5 And your [j]threshing [k]shall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time: and ye shall eat your bread to the full, and dwell in your land safely.
▸6 And I will give peace in the land, and ye shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid: and I will rid evil beasts out of the land, neither shall the sword go through your land.
▸7 And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword.
▸8 And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.
▸9 For I will have respect unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you.
▸10 And ye shall eat old store, and bring forth the old because of the new.
▸11 And I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you.
▸12 And I will walk among you,

13 [l]I am the LORD your God, which [m]brought [n]you forth out of the land of E'gypt, that ye should not be their bondmen; and I have broken the bands of your yoke, and made you go upright.

3 Five sins that will bring chastening

14 ¶ But if ye will not hearken unto me, and will not do all these commandments;
15 And if ye shall despise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant:

4 Five degrees of chastisement: 54 curses. (1) Chastisement: 8 curses

16 [o]I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, [p]consumption, and the [q]burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall [r]sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it.
17 And I will set my face against you, and [s]ye shall be slain before your enemies: they that hate you [t]shall reign over you; and ye shall flee when none pursueth you.

(2) Chastisement: 7 curses

18 And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me, then I will punish you [u]seven times more for your sins.
19 And I will break the [v]pride of your power; and I will make your [w]heaven as iron, and your earth as brass:
20 And your strength shall be spent in vain: for your land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits.

(3) Chastisement: 6 curses

21 ¶ And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring [x]seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.
22 I will also send [y]wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number; and your high ways shall be desolate.

(4) Chastisement: 6 curses

23 And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me;
24 Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet [z]seven times for your sins.
25 And I will bring a sword upon you, that shall avenge the quarrel of my covenant: and when ye are gathered together within your cities, I will send the pestilence among you; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy.

c 3 acts of God for Israel (v 13):
1 Brought them out of Egypt
2 Broke their bands
3 Made them go upright
d 5 sins warned against (v 14-15):
1 Will not hearken unto Me
2 Will not do all My commandments
3 Despise My statutes
4 Abhor My judgments
5 Break My covenant
e See 50 conditional curses, p. 153
f Heb. shachepheth, emaciation; consumption; waste away (v 16; Dt. 28:22). Consumption was common in Egypt and Asia Minor g Heb. qaddachath, inflammation; fever; burning ague. Fevers of different kinds were common in Syria and surrounding countries. Here these diseases were to cause blindness and sorrow of heart (v 16). The Sept. reads, "scab, and gangrene to eat out your eyes; and wasting consumption" h This was literally fulfilled a number of times (Judg. 6:4; 1 Sam. 12:19)
i See Plagues and wars of Israel, p. 629
j See Victories, civil wars and defeats of Israel, p. 635 k This seven times simply means more severe judgments in addition to the 8 judgments of v 16-17. See meaning of seven times in The times of the Gentiles, p. 873 l Israel was a proud nation. Here God warned that He would humble them to the dust (v 19)
m This refers to a curse upon the ground so that it would not yield to them as when it was blest of God (v 19-20) n This seven times also means severity of punishment, not 7 times 360 years or 2,520 years, as sometimes taught. The idea is that of judgment being seven times harder than in previous times. The expression compares with that of a parent warning his child that it will be punished twice as hard for its disobedience the next time. The seven times more plagues here were to be in addition to the judgments of v 16-17, 18-20. See The times of the Gentiles, p. 873
o The lion, leopard, and the bear were scourges in times of scarcity of inhabitants (Dt. 7:22; 2 Sam. 21:10; 2 Ki. 17:25) p This is the 3rd time God said He would add yet seven times and seven times more punishment for the sins of Israel. This was in addition to that of v 16-17, 18-20, 21-22. If the nation would not repent when the various plagues would be sent upon them, more would follow as they were here pre-warned. See note b, v 28
q This is a proverbial expression for cutting off the supply of bread, the staff of life (v 26; Ps. 105:16; Ezek. 4:16; 5:16; 14:13)

13 They shall fall by your sword (v 7-8)
14 Only 5 of you will chase 100, and 100 will chase 10,000 (v 8)
15 I will respect you (v 9)
16 I will make you fruitful
17 I will multiply you
18 I will establish My covenant with you
19 You will have plenty left from the old crops to eat (v 10)
20 I will set My tabernacle among you (v 11)
21 My soul will not abhor you
22 I will walk among you (v 12)
23 I will be your God
24 You will be My people

j Threshing on the floors began as soon as the grain was reaped. It continued from about the middle of May to the middle of June in the lowlands of the south. The season was later in the mountainous country of the north. So abundant were the crops that the threshing continued until the vintage beginning about the end of July, and kept the laborers busy until the early rain at the end of September which prepared the ground for the next sowing of the seed. This is the idea of v 5 - the threshing lasting to the vintage and the gathering of the vintage continuing until the next sowing time k 4 contrasts - blessings and curses:
1 Compare v 4-5 with v 18-20
2 Compare v 6 with v 21-22

a The food supply of Israel was to be cut to the limit described here (v 26). Rationing of food by weight was a symbol of scarcity (2 Ki. 6:25; Jer. 14:18; Lam. 4:9; Ezek. 5:12; Hos. 4:10; Mic. 6:14; Hag. 1:6)

b 5 degrees of chastening:
1 The 8 curses of physical destruction by disease and war (v 16-17)
2 The 7 curses on agriculture - no more blessings upon the land to produce abundantly as promised in v 4-5, for obedience (v 18-20). These were additional plagues to those of v 16-17, and more severe, as proved by the statement of v 18, "And if ye will not yet for all this (8 curses of v 16-17) hearken unto me, then I will punish you seven times more for your sins." Before God could punish Israel seven times more, it was necessary for the nation to be punished a previous time; so, the seven times could not represent the whole length of the times of the Gentiles (as sometimes taught) or a period of 2,520 years (7 times 360 years), even if the expression referred to the years of such a period of Israel's chastening. The previous years of the 8 curses of v 16-17 would have to be accounted for in the reckoning as well as the 4 different times in this chapter when punishment seven times is promised. If the expression means 2,520 years the first time it is used to warn of punishment, it means the same when it is used to warn of additional punishment. In 4 such cursings we should have 4 times 2,520 years or 10,080 years for the times of the Gentiles before the dispersion of Israel among the nations (v 27-39), and this did not happen. The theory then, falls apart so we look on the seven times term as a figurative statement expressing more severe punishment from time to time, just as if a parent would say, "I will punish you seven times harder if you still refuse to obey." See The times of the Gentiles, p. 873
3 The 6 curses of destruction by multiplying wild animals against Israel, which God promised would not happen (in v 6) if they obeyed (v 21-22). These also were additional to the first 8 curses and the first seven times of v 16-20, as proved by v 21, "And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins"
4 The 6 curses of avenging His covenant by war, famine, and pestilence, which God promised He would not send (in v 7-10) if they would obey (v 23-26). These again were additional to the 8 curses of v 16-17, and those of the two previous seven times of v 18, 21, as proved in v 23-24, "And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things (the previous plagues or curses), but will walk contrary unto me; Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins"
5 The 27 curses bringing complete national destruction and dispersion among the nations, which God promised (in v 11-13) that He would not allow if they obeyed (v 29-39). This is the 4th seven times warning of curses and these too, were additional to the 8 of v 16-17 and others as proved in v 27-28, "And if ye will not for all this (all the curses and more curses before this) hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me; Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins"

27 And if ye will not for all this hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me;
28 Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you[b] seven times for your sins.
29 And ye shall[c] eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.
30 And I will[d] destroy your high places, and cut down your images, and cast your carcases upon the carcases of your idols, and my soul shall abhor you.
31 And I will[e] make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation,[f] and I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours.
32 And I will[g] bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be[h] astonished at it.
33 And I will [i] scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.
34 Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate, and ye be in your enemies' land; even then shall the land rest, and enjoy her sabbaths.
35 As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest; [j] because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.
36 And upon them that are left alive of you I will[k] send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth.
37 And they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth: and ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies.
38 And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up.
39 And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies' lands; and also in the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.

5 The Abrahamic Covenant not annulled by this one. (1) Eight conditions must be met to get its 7 blessings

40 [l] If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass which they trespassed against me, and that also they have walked contrary unto me;
41 And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity:
42 [a] Then will[b] I remember [c] my covenant with Já'cob, and also my covenant with Í'ṣaac, and also my covenant with Á'brāhăm will I remember; and[d] I will remember the land.
43 The land also shall be left of them, and shall enjoy her sabbaths, while she lieth desolate without them: and they shall[e] accept of the punishment of their iniquity: because, even because they despised my judgments, and because their soul abhorred my statutes.
44 And yet for all that, [f] when they be in the land of their enemies, [g] I will not cast them away, neither will I abhor them, [h] to destroy them utterly, [i] and to break my covenant with them: for I am the LORD their God.
45 But I will for their [j] sakes remember the [k] covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of É'gypt in the sight of the heathen, that I might be their God: I am the LORD.
46 [l] These are the statutes and judgments and laws, which the LORD made between him and the children of Iṣ'ra-el in mount Si-nāi by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

117 CHAPTER 27

X Laws of dedicated persons and things. 1 Vows of persons (Dt. 23:31, refs.)

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
2 [m] Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When a man shall make a[n] singular vow, the persons shall be for the LORD by thy estimation.
3 And thy estimation shall be of the male from twenty years old even unto sixty years old, even thy estimation shall be fifty[o] shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary.
4 And if it be a female, then thy estimation shall be thirty shekels.
5 And if it be from five years old even unto twenty years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male twenty shekels, and for the female ten shekels.
6 And if it be from a month old even unto five years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male five shekels of silver, and for the female thy estimation shall be three shekels of silver.
7 And if it be from sixty years old and above; if it be a male, then thy estimation shall be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.
8 But if he be poorer than thy estimation, then he shall present himself before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according to his ability that vowed shall the priest value him.

2 Offerings for vows: (1) Animals dedicated to God

9 And if it be a beast, whereof men bring an offering unto the LORD, all that any man giveth of such unto the LORD shall be holy.

a THEN - WHEN Israel meets the 8 conditions of v 40-41 - God will remember His covenant with them and fulfil it (v 42-45) ben:
b 5 remembrances of God - I will remember:
1 My covenant with Jacob (v 42)
2 My covenant with Isaac
3 My covenant with Abraham
4 The land of promise 45)
5 My covenant with their ancestors (v c This is the only instance in about 40 places where Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob are mentioned together that Jacob is named before Abraham and Isaac (v 42). See Gen. 28:13; 31:42; 32:9; 35:12; 48:15-16; Ex. 3:6, 15-16; 4:5; 6:3, 8; 32:13; 33:1; Num. 32:11; Dt. 1:8; 6:10; 9:6, 27; 29:13; 30:20; 34:4; 1 Ki. 18:36; 2 Ki. 13:23; 1 Chr. 16:16; 29:18; 2 Chr. 20:7; 30:6; Neh. 9:7; Ps. 47:9; 105:6, 9, 42; Isa. 29:22; 51:2; Mt. 8:11; 22:32; Mk. 12:26; Lk. 1:55, 78; Acts 3:13; 7:32 d Since the names of the 3 patriarchs are inverted here, with Abraham the first, named as last, and after that the naming of the promised land, it seems reasonable to believe that God had such land in mind even before the patriarchs. If the principle of inversion holds true throughout the verse this is so because it is mentioned last (v 42)
e Literally, enjoy their in/quity. The Heb. ratsah, to be pleased with, is trans. accept in v 41, 43 and enjoy in v 34, 43. It means that Israel will enjoy her punishment in the sense that chastening for sin will have brought the nation to repentance where they can enjoy the benefits coming from such chastening. It must be remembered that God cannot and will not fulfil His covenants with men while they are in rebellion. They must come to repentance and obedience, and meet the terms of God's covenants and promises before the benefits can be enjoyed. The theory of unconditional covenants and promises, and of eternal life while living in sin is an idle fancy. No man has the blessing and curse of God on him at the same time - life for obedience and death for sin at the same time. No man can be saved and unsaved, converted and unconverted at the same time. The only way one can serve two masters is to serve one at a time, not both of them together. When sin is committed it brings forth death, not life (Gen. 2:17; Ex. 32:32-33; Ezek. 18:4, 20-24; Mt. 6:24; Rom. 6:16-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21) f 5 promises while in dispersion (v 44-54):
1 I will not cast them away
2 I will not abhor them
3 I will not utterly destroy them
4 I will not break My covenant with them
5 I will remember My covenant with their ancestors for their sakes
It must be understood that the above promises were to be in effect only if Israel repented and confessed according to v 40-41
g God has not utterly cast away His people whom He foreknew; He will yet bring them back to repentance and make a great nation out of them (Isa. 11:10-12; Ezek. 27; Zech. 12:10-13:1; 14:14-21; Lk. 1:32-33; Rom. 11:1-2, 11-33)
h God did not abhor them to destroy them i In a sense God has not broken His covenant with them, but they have broken their covenant with Him; and therefore, He cannot fulfil it until they come to complete repentance (Isa. 1:9, refs.; Rom. 11:25-33; Rev. 12, notes)
j God also does things for the sake of men, not altogether for His own sake. Christians should never hesitate to pray for things God has already promised to give them. They are not always to say, "For thy sake," but also "For our sakes," and "For the sake of others" k It will be noticed here that God did not promise to remember the Mosaic covenant, which is now abolished for the sake of the new covenant; but, in v 42, 44-45 He promised to remember the Abrahamic covenant. See this covenant and its 7fold blessing, p. 57
l Again God affirmed that the statutes, judgments, and laws given to Moses on Sinai were from Him and that they made up the Mosaic covenant (v 46, Cp. 7:38; 25:1; 27:34). This concludes the special section begun in 25:1
m 9 commands - vows of persons, p. 153 n See Special vows to God, p. 153
o A shekel of silver was 64¢

a 6 commands - vows regarding animals, p. 153

b It will be noted that the unclean animal dedicated to God was not called holy to Jehovah, as the clean ones were (v 10 with v 11-13) c 3 commands - houses dedicated to God:

1 When a man sanctifies a house to God it shall be holy to Him (v 14)
2 The priest shall estimate the value of the house, and his appraisal shall stand
3 If he that sanctified the house wishes to redeem it, he shall add 20% to the appraisal price and pay the full amount to the priest; then the house shall return to the man's ownership (v 15). Houses sanctified in the country could be redeemed any time before jubile(25:31), but those in the city had to be redeemed in 1 year (25:29) d 7 facts about sanctification here:

1 Sanctification is not limited to human beings (v 14-33)
2 It does not involve the sin question, or what is called "the old man" because houses, fields, and other material things do not have such a nature
3 Man is the agent in sanctification here
4 When a man sanctified a house (v 14-15), a field (v 16-25), an animal (except the firstborn, v 26-27), or any other material thing (except tithing, v 28-33), it was holy to Jehovah (v 14,23)
5 Things sanctified could be made unsanctified if one paid the valued price with an additional 20% (v 15, 19-25, 31)
6 Things sanctified to the Lord became the possession of the priests; therefore redemption money to unsanctify anything belonged to them
7 Man could not sanctify anything that already belonged to Jehovah (v 26-33)

e 9 commands - fields sanctified to God:
1 If a man sanctifies a part of a field to Jehovah, the priest shall appraise it according to the amount of seed that can be sowed in it, counting the value of every homer of barley as 50 shekels ($32.00, v 16)
2 If a man sanctifies his fields to the Lord from jubile the appraisal shall stand (v 17)
3 If the field is sanctified after jubile the priest shall appraise its value according to the number of years left until the next jubile (v 18)
4 If the man who sanctifies a field will redeem it for his own use again, then he shall pay the appraisal value from then until jubile with an additional 20% (v 19)
5 If he will not redeem it, or he sells it to another, it shall never be redeemed again (v 20). In either case the priests got the rental of the property
6 If the field of an hereditary estate vowed to God is not redeemed before the jubile, it shall become holy to God in the year of jubile to be used by the priests ever afterward (v 21)
7 If a man sanctifies a field to the Lord which he has bought, one which is not a part of his own inheritance, then the priest shall appraise it according to the years before the jubile, and the owner shall give the appraised value to the Lord as a holy thing (v 23)
8 In the year of jubile the acquired field shall return to him of whom it was bought (v 24)
9 All appraisals shall be according to the shekel of the sanctuary, 20 gerahs to a shekel (v 25)

f An homer was 10 baths or 10 ephahs - about 10 1/2 bushels (Ezek.45:10-11)

g 50 shekels, 64¢ each, $32.00

h This applied to an inheritance or regular possession which a man sold to another, and did not redeem. The priests received rental of the land from the man to whom it was sold until the jubile, at which time the field became the permanent possession of the priesthood (v 20-21). If the field was not a part of a man's original inheritance or possession, and he acquired it, then dedicated it to the Lord, it was returned to the former possessor in the year of jubile (v 22-24)

i Heb. cherem, a shutting in, as in a net; something doomed; a devoted object to God, never to be used in a secular sense again (v 21, 28-29; Num. 18:14; Ps. 119:38), it means a total and complete separation, being shut up or cut off from common use and given up wholly to Jehovah without the right of recall or change. The word is also used of something utterly doomed to destruction (1 Sam. 15:21; 1 Ki. 20:42)

●10 He [d]shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: and if he shall at all change beast for beast, then it and the exchange thereof shall be holy.
●11 And if it be any unclean beast, of which they do not offer a sacrifice unto the LORD, then he shall present the beast before the priest:
●12 And the priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad: as thou valuest it, who art the priest, [h]so shall it be.
●13 But if he will at all redeem it, then he shall add a fifth part thereof unto thy estimation.

(2) Houses dedicated to God

●14 ¶ And [c]when a man [d]shall sanctify his house to be holy unto the LORD, then the priest shall estimate it, whether it be good or bad: as the priest shall estimate it, so shall it stand.
●15 And if he that sanctified it will redeem his house, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be his.

(3) Fields dedicated to God

●16 [c]And if a man shall sanctify unto the LORD some part of a field of his possession, then thy estimation shall be according to the seed thereof: an[f]homer of barley seed shall be valued at fifty[g]shekels of silver.
●17 If he sanctify his field from the year of jubile, according to thy estimation it shall stand.
●18 But if he sanctify his field after the jubile, then the priest shall reckon unto him the money according to the years that remain, even unto the year of the jubile, and it shall be abated from thy estimation.
●19 And if he that sanctified the field will in any wise redeem it, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be assured to him.
●20 And [h]if he will not redeem the field, or if he have sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed any more.
●21 But the field, when it goeth out in the jubile, shall be holy unto the LORD, as a field [i]devoted; the possession thereof shall be the priest's.
●22 And if a man sanctify unto the LORD a field which he hath bought, which is not of the fields of his possession;
●23 Then the priest shall reckon unto him the worth of thy estimation, even unto the year of the jubile: and he shall give thine estimation in that day, as a holy thing unto the LORD.
●24 In the year of the jubile the field shall return unto him of whom it was bought, even to him to whom the possession of the land did belong.
●25 And all thy estimations shall be according to the [e]shekel of the sanctuary: twenty[g]gerahs shall be the shekel.

3 Three things are God's forever. (1) Firstborn of animals

●26 ¶ [c]Only the firstling of the beasts, which should be the LORD's firstling, [d]no man [c]shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep: it is the LORD's.
●27 And if it be of an [f]unclean beast, then he shall redeem it according to thine estimation, and shall add a fifth part of it thereto: or if it be not redeemed, then it shall be sold according to thy estimation.

(2) All dedicated things

●28 Notwithstanding no devoted thing, that a man shall devote unto the LORD of all that he hath, [g]both of man and beast, and of the field of his possession, shall be sold or redeemed: every devoted thing is most holy unto the LORD.
●29 None devoted, which shall be devoted of men, shall be redeemed; but shall surely be put to death.

(3) All tithes of the people

●30 And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD's: it is holy unto the LORD.
●31 And if a man will at all redeem ought of his tithes, he shall add thereto the fifth part thereof.
●32 And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever [h]passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the LORD.
●33 He shall not search whether it be good or bad, neither shall he change it: and if he change it at all, then both it and the change thereof shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.

4 Sum of the commandments given to Moses at Sinai

34 [i]These are the commandments, which the LORD commanded Mō'ses for the children of Iṣ'ra-el in mount Sī'năi.

a A shekel was 64¢ 1/5¢ (v 25)

b A gerah was 1/20th of a shekel, or 3

c 3 things that belonged to God eternally:
1 Firstborn of man and beasts (v 26)
2 All devoted things (v 28-29)
3 All tithes of all people (v 30-33)

d No man can dedicate, sanctify or set apart anything to God that already belongs to Him. That would be as ridiculous as taking something which already belongs to a man and making a gift of it to him. Thus, for one to sanctify the firstborn of animals, tithes, or devoted things to the Lord which are already sanctified to Him would be a foolish and hypocritical act e 11 commands - devoted things:

1 No man shall offer to sanctify any firstborn of animals to God, for they are already His (v 26; Ex. 13:2; Num. 3:13; 18:15)
2 The firstborn of an unclean beast may be redeemed by the man who owns the mother if he will give the appraised value with an additional 20% to the priests (v 27)
3 If he does not care to redeem it, then it shall be sold and the money given to the priests
4 No devoted thing (except an unclean animal) shall be sold or redeemed for it is holy to Jehovah (v 28)
5 No man devoted to punishment for sin shall redeem his life, but shall surely pay the penalty (v 29)
6 All the tithe of the land is holy to Jehovah (v 30)
7 If a man will redeem any of his tithes, he shall add 20% thereto and give both the value of the tithe and the 20% fine to the priests (v 31)
8 All the tithes of animals (except unclean or redeemable animals) shall also be holy to Jehovah (v 27, 32)
9 Every 10th animal shall be given to God whether it be good or bad (v 33)
10 No man shall change a bad 10th animal for a good one, or a good one for a bad one and keep it for himself
11 If he should attempt to change one for another, both animals shall be holy to Jehovah never to be redeemed

f The firstborn of an ass could be redeemed with a lamb or have its neck broken (Ex.13:13; 34:20), or, according to this new provision, it could be sold for its appraised value and the owner fined 20% for not redeeming it with a lamb (v 27). In the event the owner wished to redeem an unclean animal for his own use on the appraisal basis he could do so by paying the appraised value with the additional 20%. Thus the earlier law was modified to help support the priesthood and the sanctuary work

g This passage does not teach human sacrifice, as some claim; such sacrifices were forbidden (Ex. 13:13; 34:20; Num. 18:15). Parents were not to sacrifice their children (Dt. 12:30-31; Ps. 106:37-38; Jer. 7:31; Ezek. 16:20-21). The word cherem (devoted thing) as applied to man here (v 28-29) could refer to those devoted or doomed to death, as in 1 Sam. 15:21; 1 Ki. 20:42. The root word charam is used many times of destruction (Ex. 22:20; Num. 21:2-3; Dt. 2:34; 7:2). That the death sentence was not to be altered is clear from v 29, which some versions render, "Among people no one who is under human doom can be bought off; he must certainly be executed." From the death sentence there was to be no redemption or commutation. The righteousness of this law is not involved in the rash vow and sin of Jephthah (Judg. 11:30) and Saul (1 Sam. 14:24). A cherem offered in sacrifice was always an innocent animal chosen, approved, and without blemish h The custom referred to here is that of counting the animals as they would go out of a pen one by one. At the pen opening every 10th one was counted by being marked as the Lord's with a rod dipped in red (v 33)

Summary of Leviticus

Date and place: written as part of the law of Moses at Sinai about 1,686 B.C.

8 Place of slaughter: At the door of the tabernacle and near the altar northward (1:11; 3:2; 6:25; 7:2)

9 Mode of killing: like that of slaughtering other animals. The throat was cut and the blood caught in a basin. The animal was then skinned and cut up (1:5-6; 4:8-12, 19-21). The blood was sprinkled and poured out before God (1:5, 11; 3:2; 4:7, 18)

Offerings of the poor (5:11)

Those not able to bring a sheep, a goat, 2 pigeons or turtledoves, could bring a tenth part of an ephah of fine flour, which would be an omer - 3 qts. and 1 pt. (notes e, f, Ex. 16:36), and would cost about 80¢ today (v 11). No oil or frankincense was to go with this kind of meat or food offering, as in the offerings of Lev. 2, for it was a sin offering, not a thank offering as when oil and frankincense were used (v 11; 2:1-16). Only an extremely poor person who could not afford even pigeons or turtledoves would be permitted to bring such an offering for sin (v 7, 11). Even then no sin could be forgiven without a blood sacrifice (17:11; Heb. 9:22) so blood atonement was provided for such paupers by the public through the priest, or it was taken care of in the great day of atonement for all Israel (v 12-13; 16:1-34). The flour provided by the pauper evidenced his faith in forgiveness by atonement even though it had to be provided by others for him. He gave his best, like the widow with her 2 mites (Lk. 21:1-4). The flour, after a handful was burned, belonged to the priest (v 13). Sin offerings were not offered with meat or drink offerings. See Num. 15:1-11

1 Command Aaron and sons concerning the burnt offering (v 9) altar
2 It shall burn all night on the brazen
3 The priest shall put on his linen garment and breeches and take up the ashes of the brazen altar every morning putting them beside the altar (v 10)
4 He shall put off the priestly garments, put on others, and carry the ashes outside the camp to a clean place (v 11)
5 He shall not put out the fire that is burning on the brazen altar (v 12)

3 The remainder of the flour and oil shall be eaten by Aaron and all other males of his house in the holy place and in the court of the tabernacle (v 16, 18)
4 It shall be baked and eaten without leaven (v 17)
5 The priests shall have it as their portion of the burnt offerings

Bible facts about wine (10:9)

12 facts about yayin:

Heb. yayin, wine in the broadest sense, including all types both fermented and unfermented

1 Yayin when fermented makes drunk (Gen. 9:21-24; 19:32-35; 1 Sam. 25:37; 2 Sam. 13:28; Esther 1:10; Ps. 104:15; Pr. 23:30; Isa. 5:11). Cp. Eph. 5:18

3 Permitted in moderation under the law of Moses (Dt. 14:23, 26; 16:13; 18:4)
4 Nazarites forbidden it (Num. 6)

10 other Heb. words for "wine":

1 Tiyrosh, used 39 times compared to yayin 136 times, and means newly made wine from grapes. It is the word used of prosperity under the term corn and wine (Gen. 27:28, 37; Dt. 7:13; 11: 14; 18:4; 28:51; 33:28; 2 Ki. 18:32; 2 Chr. 31:5). It is trans. with new (Neh. 10:37, 39; 13:5, 12; Pr. 3:10; Isa. 24:7; 65:8; Hos. 4:11; 9:2; Joel 1:10; 3:18; Hag. 1:11; Zech. 9:17) and with sweet (Mic. 6:15). Tiyrosh was the wine to be tithed (Dt. 12:17; 14:23). Yayin is never spoken of as being tithed. It generally refers to older grape juice, and God required the firstfruits or newly made wine as well as the firstfruits of other crops and the firstborn of animals and man (Ex. 13:2, 15; 23:16-19; 34:26). Juice of grapes is called wine when still in the cluster (Isa. 65:8). Yayin and tiyrosh are the main words for wine, being trans. wine a total of 175 times. The other 9 Heb. words trans. wine are used only 16 times, as follows:
2 Enab, grape drink (Hos. 3:1)
3 Aclye, fresh grape juice (Isa. 49: 26; Joel 1:5; 3:18; Amos 9:13)
4 Shekar, an intoxicant; alcoholic liquor; strong drink (Num. 28:7; Dt. 14: 25-26). It was made from barley, honey, and dates
5 Yeqeb, juice from the lower wine vat into which the wine drains to purify it when first pressed in the press (Dt. 16:13)
6 Chemer, wine of the grapes as fermenting; pure red wine (Isa. 27:2)
7 Chamar, red wine (Ezra 6:9; 7:22; Dan. 5:1, 4, 23)
8 Gath, treading out grapes (Neh. 13:15). Trans. winepress (Judg. 6:11; Isa. 63:3) and winefat (Isa. 63:2)
9 Cobe, wine; mixed wine (Isa. 1:22)
10 Mamcak, mixed wine with water or spices (Pr. 23:30)

References to wine in the N. T.:

1 New or newly made wine as grape juice (Mt. 9:17; Mk. 2:22; Lk. 9:37-39). The new wine of Acts 2:13 refers to sweet wine. The Gr. word is sometimes used in Gr. literature of fermented wine
2 Mixed wine (Mk. 15:23) 15)
3 Contrasted with strong drink (Lk. 1:
4 Used as medicine (Lk. 10:34)
5 Jesus made wine (Jn. 2:3-10; 4:46)
6 Advice against it for Christians (Rom. 14:21)
7 Warning against drunkenness by wine (Eph. 5:18), excess of wine (1 Pet. 4:3), and one not to be given to wine (1 Tim. 3:3, 8; Tit. 1:7; 2:3)
8 Timothy advised to use a little for his infirmity (1 Tim. 5:23, note)
9 Used figuratively (Rev. 14:8, 10; 16:19; 17:2; 18:3)
10 Ruthless destruction of it forbidden (Rev. 6:6). Cp. Rev. 18:13

It must be remembered that the word wine is used of both fermented and unfermented drink, in Scripture; and it therefore cannot always be determined which is the absolute meaning in every one of the above passages. Knowing that the Bible speaks of the juice of grapes as wine while it is still in the cluster (Isa. 65:8), and calls it new wine when it is just pressed out of the grapes, makes it impossible to decide in every case whether the reference is to that which is fermented or unfermented. One thing is certain: a drunkard shall not inherit the kingdom of God (Lk. 21: 34; Rom. 13:13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21)

50 Pining away over iniquities of the fathers

9 commands - vows of persons (27:2)

1 Speak to Israel saying that when a man makes a special vow which concerns the valuation of persons to Jehovah, the tax paid to the sanctuary for a male, 20 to 60 years old, shall be 50 shekels of silver ($32.00, v 2-3)
2 For a female, 20 to 60 years old, it shall be 30 shekels of silver ($19.20, v 4)
3 For a male, 5 to 20 years old, 20 shekels ($12.80, v 5)
4 For a female, 5 to 20 years old, 10 shekels ($6.40, v 5)
5 For a male, 1 month to 5 years old, 5 shekels ($3.20, v 6)
6 For a female, 1 month to 5 years, 3 shekels ($1.92, v 6)
7 For a male, 60 years old and above, 15 shekels ($9.60, v 7)
8 For a female, 60 years old and above, 10 shekels ($6.40, v 7)
9 If a person is too poor to pay the regular estimation tax, then he shall present himself to the priest who will tax him according to his ability to pay (v 8)

Special vows to God (27:2)

A special vow to God. It was voluntary; and most vows were made in cases of illness and danger, or under an emotional impulse, either in thanksgiving for blessings received, or pleading for those desired of God. A man might dedicate himself, his wife, his children, or his servants. The law simply ordained that a religious tax, according to age and sex be paid for special vows, the money to be for the priests

Vow taxes compared:	Male	Female
From 1 month to 5 years	$3.20	$1.92
From 5 to 20 years	12.80	6.40
From 20 to 60 years	32.00	19.20
From 60 years upward	9.60	6.40

6 commands - vows regarding animals (27:10)

1 If a man makes a special vow and dedicates a beast to God in connection with his vow, it shall be holy unto Jehovah (v 9)
2 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad or a bad for a good (v 10)
3 If he insists on a change, beast for beast, then the first beast and the one he wished to exchange for it shall both be holy 4 If a man dedicates an unclean beast to Jehovah which is not acceptable for sacrifice, then he shall present it before the priest (v 11)
5 The priest shall estimate its worth and the value he places upon it shall stand (v 12). The beast was to be sold for that amount
6 If the man will at all redeem it for himself, then he shall add 20% to its value and give the full amount to the priest; and the beast shall be his own again (v 13)

It is clear from the various scriptures on the subject that all vows were on a voluntary basis. No man was forced to make a vow, but he was under obligation to pay one after making it (Num. 30:2; Eccl. 5:4-6). According to Ps. 15:4, one of the characteristics of a righteous man is that he keeps his word. A person should not use vows to obtain an answer to prayer or to bring about some desire. Faith is the thing that will produce answers to prayer and not unnecessary vows before God. Jephthah made a rash vow in his anxious hours of striving for a victory over his enemies and had reason to regret it - an example to men of all ages (Judg. 11:29-30). He would have defeated his enemies otherwise, for God would have given him victory.

His experience was recorded for all to take a lesson from. Israelites vowed to destroy Benjamites, and refuse wives to the remnant; and they were sorry for this afterward (Judg. 20-21)

NOTES ON EXODUS CONTINUED

The book of life (32:32)

12 times the book of God is mentioned:

1 Blot me out of Thy book which You have written (v 32)
2 Whosoever hath sinned against Me, him will I blot out of My book (v 33)
3 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous (Ps. 69:28; 109:13)
4 Thy people shall be delivered (translated), every one that shall be found written in the book (Dan. 12:1)
5 Rejoice, because your names are written in heaven (Lk. 10:20)
6 Whose names are in the book of life (Phil. 4:3)
7 He that overcometh...I will not blot out his name out of the book of life (Rev. 3:5)
8 Names not written in the book of life (Rev. 13:8; 17:8)
9 Another book was opened, which is the book of life (Rev. 20:11-12)
10 Whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire (Rev. 20:15)
11 They which are written in the Lamb's book of life (Rev. 21:27)
12 God shall take away his part out of the book of life (Rev. 22:18-19)

Here God confirmed the belief of Moses that names can and will be blotted out of the book of life when men sin and incur the eternal death penalty for sin (v 33). This, God's word, not man's, is definite, not doubtful; and universal and eternal in application, not local and limited

7 proofs Aaron's name in book of life:

1 He was born again (Dt. 32:18)
2 He was holy (19:6; 22:31; Lev. 11: 44-45; 21:6-8) (32:32-33)
3 He had his name written in heaven
4 He was a prophet (7:1)
5 He was a miracle worker (7:1-17; 8:6, 16; 11:10; 12:1; Ps. 77:20)
6 He was in God's grace or favor until he sinned in the matter of the golden calf, for he was in charge of all Israel at that time (24:14; 32:1)
7 He had seen God and had eaten with Him on Sinai (24:1-11)

Aaron had his name blotted out

This is what God said He would do for those who had sinned in the matter of the golden calf (32:32-33). That Aaron sinned is plainly stated (32:1-6, 21-24, 30); therefore, it can only be concluded that his name was blotted out along with names of others who sinned at that time. Both God and Moses said he sinned (32:7-10, 30-33). Aaron was a special object of God's wrath (Dt. 9:20)

Aaron was forgiven and spared

God forgave Aaron and others in Israel after much intercession by Moses, and after atonement was made and sin acknowledged (32:11-14, 30-33; Dt. 9:12-21). After his name was blotted out and put back in the book of life, he continued as high priest for about 38 years (39:1-43; Lev. 6:9; 8:1-36; 13:1; 16:1-23)

7 uses of "blotting out":

1 Curses (Num. 5:23)
2 Names under heaven (Dt. 9:14; 29: 20; 2 Ki. 14:27)
3 The remembrance of Amalek (Dt. 25:19)
4 Transgressions (Ps. 51:1; Isa. 43:25; 44:22)
5 Iniquities (Ps. 51:9)
6 Sins (Acts 3:19)
7 Law of Moses (Col. 2:14-17)

In all the above cases the meaning is clear - a complete cancellation and annulment of whatever was blotted out. A name being blotted out of the book of life means that it is no longer in the book; likewise, sins that are blotted out are no longer held against a person.

NUMBERS

Numberings - Organization of a Theocracy - Religious and Civil Laws - Events - Journeys - Wanderings a The book of Numbers begins with And, indicating that it is only a part of the law of Moses, which was originally in 5 sections, rather than in 5 books (v 1) b Jehovah spake 70 times in 14 ways:

1 To Moses alone (35 times, 1:1, 48; 3:1, 5, 11, 14, 40, 44; 4:21; 7:4, 11; 8:5, 23; 10:1; 11:16, 23, 25; 12:14; 13:1; 14:11; 15:35; 16:44; 17:10; 21:8, 34; 25:4, 10, 16; 26:52; 27:6, 12, 18; 27:6; 31:1, 25; 34:16)
2 To Moses and Aaron (7 times, 2:1; 4:1, 17; 14:26; 16:20; 20:12, 23)
3 To Moses to speak to Israel (15 times, 5:1, 5, 11; 6:1; 9:1, 9; 15:1, 17, 37; 17:1; 28:1; 33:50; 34:1; 35:1, 9)
4 To Moses to speak to Aaron and sons (6:22)
5 To Moses to speak to Aaron (8:1)
6 To Moses, Aaron, and Miriam (12:4)
7 To Moses to speak to the congregation (16:23)
8 To Moses to speak to Eleazar (16:36)
9 To Aaron (18:1, 8)
10 To Moses to speak to Levites (18:25)
11 To Moses and Aaron to speak to Israel (19:1)
12 To Moses to speak to the rock (20:8)
13 To Moses and Eleazar (26:1, 7)
14 To Balaam (23:5, 16)

c Heb. bemidbar, in the wilderness. Bemidbar is the Heb. title of the record of the wilderness experiences. The title, Numbers is taken from the Septuagint

d They reached Sinai in the 3rd month (Ex. 19:1) where they abode until the 20th day of the 2nd month of the 2nd year (10:11)

e Moses received these instructions in the tabernacle and not on Sinai where much of the laws of Exodus and Leviticus was received (7:38; 25:1; 26:46; 27:34; Ex. 24; 32; 34)

f Israel had been at Sinai nearly a year (v 1; Ex. 19:1). This was a month after the tabernacle was set up (Ex. 40:17)

g The command to number Israel came 20 days before leaving Sinai (v 1-2, 18; 10:11-13). The book of Numbers records events from this day to the death of Aaron (33:38), a period of over 38 years

h See 4 commands - numbering armies, p. 156

i It seems there were 3 numberings:
1 Numbering for tax for the tabernacle (Ex. 30:12-16)
2 The 1st numbering of armies (1:2-46)
3 The 2nd numbering of armies (26:1-51)

j Men of war were from the age of 20 years upward, of those that were able to go forth to war (v 3, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 45). The 2nd numbering of the armies also began at the 20-year age level (26:2, 4)

k In this 1st numbering of the armies, Moses and Aaron directed the census takers, but in the 2nd numbering it was Moses and Eleazar (26:1)

l In this order of the tribes we have:
1 The 5 tribes of Leah (v 5-9)
2 The 3 tribes of Rachel (v 10-11)
3 The 1 tribe of Bilhah (v 12)
4 The 2 tribes of Zilpah (v 13-14)
5 The 1 tribe of Bilhah (v 15). Cp. Gen. 29:32-30:21

m In the line of the promised Seed, Nahshon was the father of Salmon, the husband of Rahab of Jericho, and progenitor of Boaz of Bethlehem, the husband of Ruth (Ruth 4:18-22; Mt. 1:4-5; Lk. 3:32)

n 2 tribes, Ephraim and Manasseh, came from Joseph to make up the 12 tribes after the tribe of Levi was taken from the original 12, to be the ministers (3:12-13)

o Called Reuel in 2:14

p God, having established a commonwealth in Israel by His just and equitable laws, having ordained everything relative to His own worship and the erection of the tabernacle which was to be His dwelling place - the place of His throne among His people; having completed the giving of His laws, and consecrated the priests who were to minister to the needs of the people, He now commanded the mustering of His subjects for certain reasons:
1 That they might become fully organized into armies and companies to carry out God's program of entrance into and settlement in Canaan (Ex.

118 CHAPTER 1

I Numberings and order of the tribes (Num. 1:1-4:49)
1 Numbering of the tribes: the old generation (Cp. Num. 26). (1) Command to number all males over twenty years of age

1 AND the LORD [b]spake unto Mō'şeş[c] in the wilderness of [d]Sī'nāi, [e]in the tabernacle of the congregation, on the first day of the second month, [f]in the second year after they were come out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, [g]saying,

2 [h]Take ye the [i]sum of all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls;

3 From [j]twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Iş'ra-el: [k]thou and Aâr'on shall number them by their armies.

(2) The 12 census takers

4 And with you there shall be a man of every tribe; every one head of the house of his fathers.

5 ¶ And [l]these are the names of the men that shall stand with you: of the tribe of Reu'ben; Ê-lī'zur the son of Shĕd'e-ur.

6 Of Sim'e-on; Shê-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shăd'da-ī.

10 [n]Of the children of Jō'seph: of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm; Ê-lĭsh'a-mà the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd: of Mā-năs'seh; Gă-mā'lī-el the son of Pĕ-dăh'zur.

11 Of Bĕn'ja-mĭn; Ăb'ī-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī.

14 Of Găd; Ê-lī'a-săph the son of [o]Deū'el.

15 Of Năph'ta-lī; Ă-hī'rà the son of Ê'nan.

16 These were the renowned of the congregation, princes of the tribes of their fathers, heads of thousands in Iş'ra-el.

17 ¶ And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on took these men which are expressed by their names:

(3) Assembling for the census

18 And they [p]assembled all the congregation together [q]on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, by their polls.

19 As the LORD commanded Mō'şeş, so he numbered them in [r]the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

(4) Tribe of Reuben: 46,500

20 And the children of Reu'ben, Iş'ra-el's [b]eldest son, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the [c]number of the names, by their polls, every [d]male from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

21 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Reu'ben, were [e]forty and six thousand and five hundred.

(5) Tribe of Simeon: 59,300

22 ¶ Of the children of Sĭm'e-on, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, those that were numbered of them, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

23 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Sĭm'e-on, were [f]fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.

(6) Tribe of Gad: 45,650

24 ¶ Of the children of Găd, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

25 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Găd, were [g]forty and five thousand six hundred and fifty.

(7) Tribe of Judah: 74,600

26 ¶ Of the children of Jū'dah, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

27 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Jū'dah, were [h]threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.

(8) Tribe of Issachar: 54,400

28 ¶ Of the children of Is'sachar, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

29 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Is'sachar, were [i]fifty and four thousand and four hundred.

(9) Tribe of Zebulun: 57,400

30 ¶ Of the children of [j]Zĕb'ulŭn, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the a This distinguishes this numbering from the 2nd one in this book, which took place in the plains of Moab (26:1-65)

b See Gen. 29:32-30:21

c See 2 numberings, p. 156

d Only the males were counted, those from 20 years old and upward of the 12 tribes. See note c, above; also note b, Ex. 12:37 for estimated totals including wives, children of soldiers, sisters, etc.

e Reuben was the 7th of the tribes in the 1st numbering of soldiers, and 9th in the 2nd numbering (v 21 with 26:7). A comparison of totals shows a loss of only 2,770 as to numbers in the 38 years of wandering f This was the 3rd largest tribe at this time, being surpassed only by Dan with 62,700 and Judah with 74,600. In the 38 years before the next numbering, Simeon lost 37,100 of its original 59,300 making it the smallest of all the 12 tribes with a total of 22,200 at the 2nd numbering (v 23 with 26:14). This indicates that this tribe suffered more from the plagues in the wilderness than any other. Simeon thus became as small as the tribe of Levi which had 22,000 from a month old and upward (22,300 with the priests and leaders) in their 1st count and 23,000 in their 2nd (3:15-39; 26:62). Levites lost a number of men in the rebellion of Korah (16:32) but how many, if any, in the other wilderness plagues is not known. These two men, Simeon and Levi, are spoken of in Jacob's prophecy as instruments of cruelty that were to be divided and scattered in Israel (Gen. 49:5-7)

g Gad was the 8th of the tribes in the 1st numbering and 10th in the 2nd (v 25 with 26:18). This tribe lost 5,150 in number between the two numberings which indicates that Gadites also suffered heavily in the plagues of the wilderness h Judah was the largest tribe of the 12 in both numberings and showed a total gain of 1,900 in the 38-year period (v 27 with 26:22). It seems this tribe was not as much involved in the wilderness sins as some of the others, so did not lose as many through the plagues. Judah was the 4th son of Jacob by Leah (Gen. 29:35). His tribe was singled out to be the ruling one through whom the Messiah should come (Gen. 49:10; Mt. 1:1-3; Rev. 5:5). David became the nation's first king from the line of Judah

i Issachar was the 5th largest tribe in the 1st numbering and the 3rd largest in the 2nd, having made a gain of 9,900 in numbers in the 38 years (v 29 with 26:25). This tribe was not as aggressive as some of the others (Gen. 49:14-15), so perhaps did not become involved as much in the many sins of the wilderness. Issachar was the 5th son of Jacob and Leah (Gen. 30:18). The tribe became a part of Judah after the captivity of most of the 10 tribes (2 Chr. 30:18)

j Zebulun was the 6th son of Jacob and Leah (Gen. 30:20; 35:23; 46:14)

2 That the people might see that God had fulfilled the promises made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Gen. 12:1-3)
3 That the tribes and families might be properly and orderly arranged in connection with the tabernacle (2:32)
4 That the tribes and many families might be distinguished (2:34)
5 That they might know their strength for war (2:32)
6 That proper order might be carried out in the coming invasion and settlement of the promised land (Josh. 13:1-25:31)

5 classes not numbered with soldiers:

1 Women	4 Old man
2 Children	5 Levites of all
3 Strangers	ages (3:1-39)

q On this day God commanded Moses to number Israel (see v 1), and the order was carried out at once. This was exactly 12 1/2 months from the day they left Egypt (v 1, 18; Ex. 33:3)

r How long it took for the census is not known, but it could have been taken in a day, for the 12 census takers were already heads of the tribes and under them were men over thousands and hundreds (Ex. 12:51)

a Zebulun was the 4th largest tribe in both the 1st and 2nd numberings (v 31 with 26:27). It was the 5th in numerical gains between the numberings, being surpassed by Issachar, Manasseh, Benjamin, and Asher. This tribe had an increase of 3,100 soldiers during the 38 years

b Ephraim and Manasseh were the children of Joseph, taking their places as 2 of the 12 tribes which made up the nation (v 32-35; Gen. 48:5-22)

c Ephraim took the place of Joseph and Manasseh took the place of Levi in the 12-tribe arrangement of Israel. The tribe of Levi was not counted, being chosen as the ministers of the other tribes and without any definite allotment of land among the 12 tribes. They did have some cities and different places among the various tribes, and they controlled certain parts which were devoted to God (Lev. 27:16-25). These 2 sons of Joseph became large tribes in Israel; Ephraim in particular became the most powerful and influential of the 10 tribes after the division of the kingdom and the death of Solomon. In fact the name Ephraim came to be used as the name of all the northern kingdom at times, in Bible records (2 Chr. 17:2; 25:6-7; Isa. 7:8-9; 11:12-13; 17:3; Jer. 31:18-20; Hos. 4:17; 5:3-5; 6:4,10; 9:11; 12:14). This tribe is called Joseph (Rev. 7:8). It was the envy of other tribes (Isa. 11:13; Jer. 7:15; Ezek. 37:16,19; Hos. 13:1). Though he was the 2nd son of Joseph, Ephraim received the first and best blessing of Jacob and the prediction that he would be the greater of the 2 boys (Gen. 48:5-22). The tribe of Ephraim took the lead in controversy and rebellion against Gideon (Judg. 8:1), Jephthah (Judg. 12:1), David (2 Sam. 2:9), and Rehoboam (1 Ki. 12:26; 2 Chr. 10:16)

d Ephraim was the 10th in the 1st numbering, and the 11th in the 2nd numbering (v 33 with 26:37). The tribe lost 8,000 soldiers in the 2 numberings thus indicating its sinfulness and rebellions against God in the wilderness

e Manasseh was the firstborn of Joseph by the princess Asenath (Gen. 41:50-51; 46:20). He is called Manasses in Rev. 7:6. He took the place of Levi in the 12 tribes which is clear from the fact that Ephraim is called Joseph in Rev. 7:8. The inheritance of the tribe of Manasseh was located on both sides of the Jordan (32:33-42; Josh. 16:9; 17:5-11). This tribe was one of the first to cause misunderstanding in Israel (Josh. 22). It joined Gideon in the war on the Midianites (Judg. 6:7). Members of Manasseh returned from captivity, as did parts of all the other tribes to make up the Jews in the land at the 1st coming of Jesus Christ (1 Chr. 9:3). With many from other tribes they became a part of Judah during the division of the kingdom (2 Chr. 15:9; 34:6-7). Thus, the 2 sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasseh of v 32-35 became very prominent in Israel in all of her history

f Manasseh was the smallest tribe of the 12 in the 1st numbering, and the 6th in size or number of soldiers in the 2nd numbering (v 35 with 26:34). This tribe gained more than any of the others, in their count between the 2 numberings - fully 20,500 or twice as much as any other tribe except Asher, which gained 11,900. This may indicate that Manasseh had the least to do with the sins of Israel in the wilderness

g Benjamin was the only full brother of Joseph, being the last child born to both Rachel and Jacob. Thus the two who loved each other the most had the last child of the 12 to head the national tribes (Gen. 35:18-24; 46:19). This tribe was almost exterminated in the war over sodomites (Judg. 19-21). From Benjamin came Saul, the first of Israel's line of kings (1 Sam. 9:1, 17; 10:20-21), as well as Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles (Rom. 11:1; Phil. 3:5). Soldiers of Benjamin were well known for archery and slinging of stones (Judg. 3:15; 20:16; 1 Chr. 8:40; 12:2)

h Benjamin was the 11th in the 1st numbering of soldiers, and the 6th in the 2nd (v 37 with 26:41). This tribe gained 10,200 soldiers between the 2 numberings, indicating that it was not as sinful as some of the others and therefore did not lose as many in the wilderness

35 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Mā-năs'seh, were [e]thirty and two thousand and two hundred.

(12) Tribe of Benjamin: 35,400

36 ¶ Of the children of [f]Bĕn'ja-mĭn, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

37 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, were [g]thirty and five thousand and four hundred.

(13) Tribe of Dan: 62,700

38 ¶ Of the children of [h]Dăn, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

39 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Dăn, were [i]threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.

(14) Tribe of Asher: 41,500

40 ¶ Of the children of [j][k]Ash'ĕr, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

41 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Ash'ĕr, were [l]forty and one thousand and five hundred.

(15) Tribe of Naphtali: 53,400

42 ¶ Of the children of [m]Năph'ta-lĭ, throughout their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

43 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Năph'ta-lĭ, were [n]fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

(16) Grand total: 603,550

44 These are those that were numbered, which Mō'şes and Aăr'on numbered, and the princes of Ĭş'ra-el, being twelve men: each one was for the house of his fathers.

45 So were all those that were numbered of the children of Ĭş'ra-el, by the house of their fathers, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war in Ĭş'ra-el;

46 Even all they that were numbered were [o]six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

(17) Levites not numbered

47 ¶ But the Lē'vītes after the tribe of their fathers were [p]not numbered among them.

■48 For the LORD had spoken unto Mō'şes, saying,

●49 [q]Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Lē'vī, neither take the sum of them among the children of Ĭş'ra-el:

(18) Levites to minister to all the 12 tribes

●50 But thou shalt appoint the Lē'vītes over the tabernacle of testimony, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall bear the tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it, and shall encamp round about the tabernacle.

●51 And when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Lē-vītes shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Lē'vītes shall set it up: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

(19) Levites to camp near the tabernacle

●52 And the children of Ĭş'ra-el shall pitch their tents, every man by [r]his own camp, and every man by his own [s]standard, throughout their hosts.

●53 But the Lē'vītes shall pitch round [t]about the tabernacle of testimony, that there be no wrath upon the congregation of the children of Ĭş'ra-el: and the Lē'vītes shall keep the charge of the tabernacle of testimony.

54 And the children of Ĭş'ra-el did according to all that the LORD commanded Mō'şes, so did they.

CHAPTER 2 119

2 Arrangement of the camp:

a Naphtali was the 6th son of Jacob. His mother was the maid of Rachel (Gen. 30:8; 35:25)

b Naphtali was 6th in the 1st numbering of soldiers and 6th in the 2nd. The tribe lost 8,000 in the count between the 2 numberings (v 43 with 26:50) c The grand total in the 1st numbering was 603,550 - a gain of 3,550 in the 12 months since coming out of Egypt (Ex. 12:37) when the number was 600,000 men of war that left Egypt. Compared to the grand total of 601,730 in the 2nd numbering the count shows a combined loss of 1,820 during the 38 years for the tribes (v 46 with 26:51)

d The Levites were not numbered with the soldiers because they were not to be counted with the 12 tribes making up the nation of Israel. They were the ministers of the 12 and not given an inheritance with them (v 47-51). See record of Levite's numbering in 3:15-39; 26:62

e 7 commands - Levites:
1 You shall not number the tribe of Levi, neither take the sum of them among the children of Israel (v 49)
2 You shall appoint them over the tabernacle of the testimony, and over all the vessels, and all things that belong to it (v 50)
3 They shall carry the tabernacle, and all the vessels of it
4 They shall minister unto it and camp round about the tabernacle
5 When it is time to move the tabernacle, the Levites shall take it down (v 51)
6 When it is time to pitch the tabernacle they shall set it up
7 The stranger that comes near the tabernacle to help in taking it down or setting it up shall be put to death

f God even segregated the various tribes one from the other, and gave each a place of its own. Each tribe was to camp by its own standard and live in its own allotted place around the tabernacle, not mixing or dwelling in the camps of others (v 52-53). Even the priests and Levites had their own flag or standard (2:17)

g Heb. degel, a flag; banner; standard. There were 12 different flags or banners for the 12 tribes. Degel is trans. standard (1:52; 2:2-3, 10, 18, 25; 10:14, 18, 22, 25); standards (2:17, 31, 34); banner (Song 2:4); and banners (Ps. 20:5; Song 6:4, 10)

h The Levites were to camp close to the tabernacle, all around it, and protect it from all intruders (v 53)

plagues

i Dan was the 5th son of Jacob. His mother was Bilhah (Gen. 30:6; 35:25). This tribe was the first to go into idolatry (Judg. 18:30). It is not mentioned in the 144,000 of Rev. 7:1-8 evidently because none of that tribe will be servants of God at that time

j Dan was the 2nd largest tribe in both the 1st and 2nd numberings (v 39 with 26:43). Dan gained 1,700 between the 2 numberings which means the tribe just about held its own during the 38 years

k Asher was the son of Jacob by Zilpah, Leah's maid, and the 8th of his sons (Gen. 30:13; 35:26; 49:20)

l Asher was 9th in the 1st numbering and 5th in the 2nd (v 41 with 26:47). This tribe gained 11,900 which was next to the largest amount gained by a tribe between the 2 numberings. This indicates that Asher was not as involved in the sins and plagues of the wilderness as some of the others

a Command - general order of the camp: every man of each tribe of Israel shall camp by his own flag or standard of his father's house at a distance from the tabernacle (v 2) b Heb. owth, flag; mark; sign; ensign; token. It is trans. ensign and ensigns (v 2; Ps. 74:4); sign (16:38; Ex. 4:8; 8:23; 13:9; 31:13, 17; Dt. 6:8; 11:18; 13:1-2; 28:46; Josh. 4:6; Judg. 6:17; 20:38; 1 Sam. 2:34; 14:10; 2 Ki. 19:29; 20:8-9; Isa. 7:11, 14; 19:20; 20:3; 37:30; 38:7, 22; 55:13; 66:19; Jer. 44:29; Ezek. 4:3; 14:8; 20:12, 20); signs (14:11; Gen. 1:14; Ex. 4:9, 17, 28, 30; 7:3; 10:1-2; Dt. 4:34; 6:22; 7:19; 26:8; 29:3; 34:11; Josh. 24:17; 1 Sam. 10:7-9; Neh. 9:10; Ps. 74:4, 9; 78:43; 105:27; Isa. 8:18; Jer. 10:2; 32:20-21; Dan. 4:2-3; 6:27); token (17:10; Gen. 9:12-13, 17; 17:11; Ex. 3:12; 12:13; 13:16; Josh. 2:12; Ps. 86:17); tokens (Dt. 22:15, 17, 20; Job 21:29; Ps. 65:8; 135:9; Isa. 44:25); and mark (Gen. 4:15). Tradition says that each flag or standard had one of the 12 constellations depicted on it as its sign

c This simply means over against, not far distant from the tabernacle. Just how far is not stated (v 2) d 8 commands - 3 camps of Judah:

1 On the east side of the tabernacle beyond the priests' camp shall be the standard of Judah (v 3; 10:14)
2 Nahshon shall be the captain of the armies of Judah, 74,600 (v 3-4)
3 The tribe of Issachar shall encamp next to Judah (v 5; 10:15)
4 Nethaneel shall be captain of the armies of Issachar, 54,400 (v 6)
5 The tribes of Zebulun shall also camp on the east side by Judah and Issachar (v 7)
6 Helon shall be the captain of the armies of Zebulun, 57,400 (v 8; 10:16)
7 All these shall be in the camp of Judah as the leading tribe with their armies of 186,400 (v 9; 10:14)
8 These shall be the first to set forth in the march to the promised land (v 9)

e 8 commands - 3 camps of Reuben:
1 On the south side of the tabernacle beyond the Kohathites shall be the standard of the camp of Reuben (v 10; 10:18)
2 Elizur shall be captain of the armies of Reuben, 46,500 (v 10-11)
3 The tribe of Simeon shall make camp next to Reuben on the south (v 12; 10:19)
4 Shelumiel shall be captain of the armies of Simeon, 59,300 (v 12-13)
5 The tribe of Gad shall make camp next to Simeon on the south (v 14; 10:20)
6 Eliasaph shall be captain of the armies of Gad, 45,650 (v 14)
7 All these shall be in the camp of Reuben, 151,450 (v 16)
8 They shall set forth in the journey as 2nd in rank

2 numberings (1:20)

	First	Second
Reuben	46,500	43,730	2,770	less
Simeon	59,300	22,200	37,100	"
Gad	45,650	40,500	5,150	"
Judah	74,600	76,500	1,900	more
Issachar	54,400	64,300	9,900	"
Zebulun	57,400	60,500	3,100	"
Ephraim	40,500	32,500	8,000	less
Manasseh	32,200	52,700	20,500	more
Benjamin	35,400	45,600	10,200	"
Dan	62,700	64,400	1,700	"
Asher	41,500	53,400	11,900	"
Naphtali	53,400	45,400	8,000	less
Totals	603,550	601,730	(1,820	less)

In 38 years the 5 tribes (Reuben, Simeon, Gad, Ephraim Naphtali) had a loss of 61,020 soldiers whereas, the other 7 tribes had a total gain of 59,200. Simeon's loss of 37,100 was the most, being more than half of the combined losses of all the other tribes. This may be due to many Simeonites being destroyed in the plague of the 24,000 killed because of adultery (25:1-9). It was Zimri, the chief of Simeon that led men in this sin (25:14-15)

Besides the sentence of death which took the last of the ones who rebelled at the entrance of Canaan, there were 10 different plagues, as recorded in Numbers, which took their toll of the people. In one of these plagues (16:44-50) a total of 14,700 were killed; in another (25:9) a total of 24,000. Israel suffered 3 plagues described as con-a 2 commands - marching:

1 The tabernacle of the congregation shall be carried by the Levites, and they shall march in the middle (of the numbered ranks, v 17; 10:17)
2 The people shall march forward as they encamp, by their standards and each one in his own place (v 17; 10:17)

b This makes it clear that even the various camps of the Levites had their own flags or standards (v 17). See note g, 1:52

c 8 commands - 3 camps of Ephraim:
1 On the west side of the tabernacle beyond the Gershonites shall be the camp of Ephraim (v 18; 10:22)
2 Elishama shall be the captain of the armies of Ephraim, 40,500 (v 18-19)
3 The tribe of Manasseh shall make camp on the west next to Ephraim (v 20; 10:23)
4 Gamaliel shall be the captain of armies of Manasseh, 32,200 (v 20-21)

suming them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp (11:1), smiting the people with a very great plague (11:33), and fiery serpents biting so many that much people in Israel died (21:6). If these took a toll of no more than 14,700 each there would have been a loss of 44,100 in the 3 plagues. These, with the losses of 14,700 and 24,000 in the previously mentioned 2 plagues would have meant a total of 82,800 people killed in 5 plagues alone

The total number of soldiers in the first column (603,550) shows a gain of 3,550 in 12 months over the 600,000 men of war that left Egypt (Ex. 12:37). The rebellion took place after this increase causing all of the 603,550 except Caleb and Joshua to come under the death sentence and die off within a 40-year period. The total figure of the second column then, represents practically a new generation of soldiers coming up in 38 years, actually a gain of approximately 601,730

4 commands - numbering armies (1:2)
1 Number all males of Israel, 20 years old and upward, that are able to go forth to war (v 2-3). Cp. Ex. 30:12-16
2 You and Aaron shall number them by their armies (v 3)
3 The 12 heads of the 12 tribes shall help you in this numbering (v 4) 4 These are the 12 men that shall help you number Israel:
(1) Of Reuben, Elizur (v 5)
(2) Of Simeon, Shelumiel (v 6)
(3) Of Judah, Nahshon (v 7)
(4) Of Issachar, Nethaneel (v 8)
(5) Of Zebulun, Eliab (v 9)
(6) Of Ephraim, Elishama (v 10)
(7) Of Manasseh, Gamaliel (v 10)
(8) Of Benjamin, Abidan (v 11)
(9) Of Dan, Ahiezer (v 12)
(10) Of Asher, Pagiel (v 13)
(11) Of Gad, Eliasaph (v 14)
(12) Of Naphtali, Ahira (v 15)

There were many other numberings of the soldiers of Israel, among them the ones that were taken in Egypt (Ex. 12:37), in Canaan (Josh. 8:10; Judg. 20:15-17; 21:9), under Saul (1 Sam. 11:8; 13:15; 14:17; 15:4), under David (2 Sam. 18:1; 24:9-15, under Amaziah (2 Chr. 25:5), and under Zerubbabel (Ezra 1:8)

a 6 main camps of Israel:
1 The camp of Levi of 4 sections, all around the tabernacle (2:17), included the camp of the priests on the east (3:38), the Kohathites on the south (3:29-30), the Gershonites on the west (3:23-24), and the Merarites on the north (3:35)
2 The camp of Judah beyond the priests, on the east of the tabernacle, included the tribes of Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun - 186,400 (2:3-9)
3 The camp of Reuben beyond the Kohathites on the south of the tabernacle, included the tribes of Reuben, Simeon, and Gad - 151,450 (2:10-16)
4 The camp of Ephraim beyond the Gershonites on the west of the tabernacle, included the tribes of Ephraim, Manasseh, and Benjamin - 108,100 (2:18-24)
5 The camp of Dan beyond the Merarites on the north of the tabernacle, included the tribes of Dan, Asher, and Naphtali - 157,600 (2:25-31)

16 separate camps in Israel:

1 Camp of priests (3:38)
2 Camp of Kohathites (3:29)	8,600
3 Camp of Gershonites (3:2)	7,500
4 Camp of Merarites (3:35)	6,200
5 Camp of Judah (2:3-4)	74,600
6 Camp of Issachar (2:5-6)	54,400
7 Camp of Zebulun (2:7-8)	57,400
8 Camp of Reuben (2:10-11)	46,500
9 Camp of Simeon (2:12-13)	59,300
10 Camp of Gad (2:14-15)	45,650
11 Camp of Ephraim (2:18-19)	40,500
12 Camp of Manasseh (2:20-21)	32,200
13 Camp of Benjamin (2:22-23)	35,400
14 Camp of Dan (2:25-26)	62,700
15 Camp of Asher (2:27-28)	41,500
16 Camp of Naphtali (2:29-30)	53,400
Total	625,850

In the above, the total number of Levites is 22,300 of whom Kohathites are listed as 8,600, Gershonites 7,500 and Merarites 6, 200 (see 3:22, 28, 34). Of these, 300 served as priests and leaders and could be listed on line 1 if we knew how many came from one camp or the other, so as to reduce the numbers listed for the 3 camps in the amount of 300. Levites were counted from the age of a month old and upward, whereas those of other tribes were counted from 20 years old and upward (males) that were able to go to war (1:3)
Tradition says that the whole encampment covered 12 square miles, but with all the stock and equipment it must have covered more than that

Comparative strength of 4 camps:

1 Camp of Judah (2:3-9)	186,400
2 Camp of Reuben (2:10-16)	151,450
3 Camp of Ephraim (2:18-24)	108,100
4 Camp of Dan (2:25-31)	157,600
Total	603,550

b 24 lists of the tribes in Scripture, p. 160
c 14 generations of Scripture, p. 155
d Technically, we have the generations of Aaron and not Moses here, for the children of Moses are not listed; but they are mentioned in Ex. 2:22; 18:4; 1 Chr. 23:15-17. In no place do we find Moses making a place for his own family. He gave them no rank or privilege above others during his lifetime and left nothing for them at death as far as we know. He manifested no selfish ambitions regarding them. The only sense in which we have the generations of Moses is in the recording of his father, Amram who came from Kohath (v 27; Ex. 6:16-27)
e 6 original priests of Israel:
1 Moses (Ex. 40:17-33; Ps. 99:6)
2 Aaron (Ex. 28:1-3; Lev. 8)
3 Nadab (v 2-4; Lev. 10:1-7)
4 Abihu (v 2-4; Lev. 10:1-7)
5 Eleazar (v 2-4)
6 Ithamar (v 2-4)
f Nadab and Abihu died for sin against the Lord in the priest's office (v 4; Lev. 10:1-10)
g The 2 men with Aaron were the active priests, for Moses ceased ministering regularly when Aaron was consecrated, and the other 2 men died of a plague (v 4; Lev. 10)
h 6 commands - priests and Levites:
1 Bring the men of the tribe of Levi, from 30-50 years of age, and present them before Aaron to be ministers (v 6; 4:47)
2 They shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation, to and four hundred.

●31 All they that were numbered in the camp of Dan were an hundred thousand and fifty and seven thousand and six hundred. They shall go hindmost with their standards.

(7) Grand total: 603,550 men besides the Levites

32 ¶ These are those which were numbered of the children of Is'ra-el by the house of their fathers: all those that were numbered of the [a]camps throughout their hosts were six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.
33 But the Le'vites[b] were not numbered among the children of Is'ra-el; as the LORD commanded Mo'ses.
34 And the children of Is'ra-el did according to all that the LORD commanded Mo'ses: so they pitched by their standards, and so they set forward, every one after their families, according to the house of their fathers.

CHAPTER 3 120

3 Numbering and service of the Levites: (1) High priests

THESE also are the [c]generations of Aar'on [d]and Mo'ses in the day that the LORD spake with Mo'ses in mount Si'nai.
2 And [e]these are the names of the sons of Aar'on; Na'dab the firstborn, and A-bi'hu, E-le-a'zar, and Ith'a-mar.
3 These are the names of the sons of Aar'on, the priests which were anointed, whom he consecrated to minister in the priest's office.
4 And [f]Na'dab and A-bi'hu died before the LORD, when they offered strange fire before the LORD, in the wilderness of Si'nai, and they had no children: [g]and E-le-a'zar and Ith'a-mar ministered in the priest's office in the sight of Aar'on their father.

(2) Tribe of Levi chosen as ministers (Num. 18:1-8)

●5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mo'ses, saying,
●6 [h]Bring the tribe of Le'vi near, and present them before Aar'on the priest, that they may minister unto him.
●7 And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle.
●8 And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Is'ra-el, to do the service of the tabernacle.
●9 And thou shalt give the Le'vites unto Aar'on and to his sons: they are wholly given unto him out of the children of Is'ra-el.
●10 And thou shalt appoint Aar'on and his sons, and they shall wait on their priest's office: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

(3) First-born (Ex. 13:1) traded for Levites (Num. 3:44; 8:15)

●11 And the LORD spake unto Mo'ses, saying,
●12 And I, behold, I have taken the Le'vites from among the children of Is'ra-el [a]instead of all the firstborn that openeth the matrix among the children of Is'ra-el: therefore the Le'vites shall be mine;
●13 Because all the firstborn are mine; for on the day that I smote all the firstborn in the land of E'gypt I[b]hallowed unto me all the firstborn in Is'ra-el, both man and beast: mine shall they be: I am the LORD.

(4) Command to number Levites: list of the Levite families

●14 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mo'ses in the wilderness of Si'nai, saying, ●15 [c]Number the children of Le'vi after the house of their fathers, by their families: every male from a month old and upward shalt thou number them.
16 And Mo'ses numbered them according to the word of the LORD, as he was commanded.
17 And these were the sons of Le'vi by their names; [d]Ger'shon, and Ko'hath, and Me-ra'ri.
18 And these are the names of the sons of Ger'shon by their families; Lib'ni, and Shim'e-i.
19 And the sons of Ko'hath by their families; Am'ram, and Iz'e-har, He'bron, and Uz'zi-el.
20 And the sons of Me-ra'ri by their families; Mah'li, and Mu'shi. These are the families of the Le'vites according to the house of their fathers.

(5) Gershon numbered: 7,500

21 Of Ger'shon was the family of the Lib'nites, and the family of the Shim'ites: these are the families of the Ger'shon-ites.
22 Those that were [e]numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, even those that were numbered of them were seven thousand and five hundred.

(6) Gershon located west of the tabernacle

●23 The families of the Ger'shon-ites shall pitch behind the tabernacle westward.
●24 And the chief of the house of the father of the Ger'shon-ites shall be E-li'a-saph the son of La'el.

(7) Work of Gershonites

●25 And the [f]charge of the sons of Ger'shon in the tabernacle of the congregation shall be the tabernacle, and the tent, the a At this time the Levites were traded for the firstborn of all Israel whom God had reserved to Himself from the death of the firstborn in Egypt until now (v 12-13 with Ex. 13:2, 12-16). In order to make the proper exchange the Levites and firstborn had to be numbered (v 14-43). According to the count an even exchange was made, man for man or male for male, animal for animal (v 44-45). The extra of the firstborn humans were redeemed by the parents at $3.20 each (v 46-51). Firstborn animals were to be redeemed, a lamb for an ass, or the unclean sold by the owner and the money given to the support of the priests and Levites (Ex. 13:12-13; 34:19-20; Lev. 27:26-27; Num. 18:15-17)

As explained in 4:25-28, this means that they were in charge of the tapestry of the tabernacle, the first covering of linen over the tabernacle (Ex. 26:1-6), the tent covering of goats' hair (Ex. 26:7-13), the covering of ram skins over the other 2 coverings, and the 4th or top covering of badger skins (Ex. 26:14), the hangings of the outer court, the wall curtains (Ex. 27:9-15), the door curtains of the outer court (Ex. 27:16-19), and the cords (Ex. 39:40)

True prophecy (11:18)

When a prophecy definitely predicts an event to happen within 24 hours or less, one does not have to wait long to see if it is genuine. All true prophecies will come to pass; but all prophecies that come to pass are not of God for that reason alone. See notes f-j, Dt. 13:1-6; 18:22. They have to be judged by the Word of God. In this prophecy there are at least 7 facts that proved it to be divine and true when fulfilled:
1 The definite time of fulfillment is given - tomorrow (v 18)
2 Exactly what was to happen on the morrow is stated - all Israel to eat flesh
3 Just who was to provide the flesh is stated - the Lord will give you flesh
4 The absolute impossibility of such a thing happening in the normal course of events precludes any thought of the prophecy coming from man. To provide enough flesh for so many people would require a supernatural act (v 19-20)
5 The exact length of time the prophecy would continue in fulfillment was not a day, but a whole month
6 The result of such prophecy is stated - you shall have so much flesh and you will be so greedy that you will eat to the point of becoming sick on flesh; and it will come out of your nostrils and become loathsome to you
7 The cause of such prophecy being given is stated - because you have despised the Lord and complained to Him (v 20) a See note f, v 25 regarding the work of the Gershonites b Amram, the father of Moses and Aaron was the son of Kohath, the son of Levi (Ex. 6:16-27). Kohath had 4 sons: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel (v 27; Ex. 6:18). Gershon had only 2 sons: Libni and Shimi (v 21; Ex. 6:17). Gershonites, whose count came to 7,500 were outnumbered by the Kohathites whose count was 8,600 (v 22 with 28). Merari also had only 2 sons: Mahali and Mushi (v 33; Ex. 6:19). From these came only 6, 200 or 1,300 less than the number which came from the 2 sons of Gershon (v 34 with v 22). It was from the family of Kohath, the son of Levi that the first priests were chosen (3:1-4) c This does not mean that the children from a month old and upward took part in the service of the tabernacle, for only when they became 30 years of age could they do so (4:47). Those old enough no doubt helped carry Levite dwelling tents and personal camp equipment, but entrance into the ministry and charge of the sanctuary did not begin before the age of 30

d See note a, 2:32
e See note e, v 22
f 7fold work of Kohathites (v 31; 4:4):
1 Carrying ark of the covenant
2 The table of showbread
3 The candlestick
4 The brazen and golden altars
5 The vessels of the sanctuary
6 The hanging, the inner vail
7 The service of the tabernacle
g The chief of the Kohathites was the son of Aaron (v 4), the son of Amram, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi (Ex. 6:16-26). He was made the overseer of all the Levites over the sanctuary (v 32)
h This was the 3rd and last numbering of the families of Levi - 22,300 in all (v 22, 28, 34)
i See note a, 2:32
j 10fold work of Merarites (v 36-37; 4:29):
Taking down, carrying, and erecting 1 The boards of the tabernacle
2 Bars that hold the boards
3 Pillars of the tabernacle
4 Foundation sockets
5 Vessels of the tabernacle, perhaps the ones of the outer court, for those of the sanctuary were carried by the Kohathites (v 31; 4:4-15)
6 All other tools of the service
7 Pillars of the court
8 The foundation sockets
9 Pins for the cords that were driven in the ground to hold up the posts
10 Cords (of the outer court) that reached from the top of the posts to the pins in the ground

From the above and the following chapter we see that the work of the Levites was very hard labor in all the journeys from Sinai to Canaan throughout the 40 years. In the tabernacle alone there were no less than 23,408 pounds (nearly 12 tons) of metal to move from place to place (Ex. 38:24-31, notes), besides the curtains, board walls, skin coverings, and other things which made a great weight. In addition to this the Levites had their own household goods, tents, and personal belongings to take care of. To what extent the people carried things is not known. There were some wagons and pack animals, for at least 6 covered wagons were dedicated to the Levites, 2 wagons being given to the Gershonites and 4 to the Merarites, because they had the heavy metals to carry. None were given to the Kohathites because they were to carry the furniture upon their shoulders (7:1-9. See Gen. 42:26; 45:17-19, 27; 50:9)

3 facts of Balaam (24:16)

He not only heard the words of God, but he said he knew the knowledge of the most High, and saw the vision of the Almighty, falling prostrate before God in a trance (v 16). Balaam was a descendant of Esau, the brother of Jacob, and knew much about the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 15 with Gen. 36:31-32). He claimed Jehovah as my God (22:18)

27 ¶ And of Kō'hath was the family of the[b] Am'ram-ites, and the family of the Iz'e-har-ites, and the family of the Hē'bron-ites, and the family of the Uz'zi-el-ites: these are the families of the Kō'hath-ites.
28 In the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were eight thousand and six hundred, [c] keeping the charge of the sanctuary.

(9) Kohath located south of the tabernacle

●29 The families of the sons of Kō'hath shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle[d] southward.
●30 And the [e] chief of the house of the father of the families of the Kō'hath-ites shall be Ē-liz'a-phăn the son of Uz'zi-el.

(10) Work of Kohathites

●31 And their [f] charge shall be the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they minister, and the hanging, and all the service thereof.
●32 And [g] Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aar'on the priest shall be chief over the chief of the Lē'vites, and have the oversight of them that keep the charge of the sanctuary.

(11) Merari numbered: 6,200

33 ¶ Of Mē-rā'rī was the family of the Mäh'lites, and the family of the Mū'shites: these are the families of Mē-rā'rī.
34 And those that were [h] numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were six thousand and two hundred.

(12) Merari located north of the tabernacle

●35 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of Mē-rā'rī was Zū'ri-el the son of Ab-i-hā'il: [i] these shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle northward.

(13) Work of Merarites

●36 And under the [i] custody and charge of the sons of Mē-rā'rī shall be the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof, and all the vessels thereof, and all that serveth thereto, ●37 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords.

(14) Moses and Aaron and sons located east of the tabernacle

●38 ¶ But those that encamp before the tabernacle toward the east, even before the tabernacle of the congregation eastward, shall be [a] Mō'ses, and Aar'on and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary for the charge of the children of Is'ra-el; and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

(15) Grand total: 22,000 Levites besides the priests and leaders making 22,300 of Lev. 3:22, 28 and 34

39 All that were numbered of the Lē'vites, which Mō'ses and Aar'on numbered at the commandment of the LORD, throughout their families, all the males from a month old and upward, were [b] twenty and two thousand.

(16) Firstborn numbered: 22,273

●40 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, Number all the [c] firstborn of the males of the children of Is'ra-el from a month old and upward, and take the number of their names.
●41 And thou [d] shalt take the Lē'vites for me (I am the LORD) instead of all the firstborn among the children of Is'ra-el; and the [e] cattle of the Lē'vites instead of all the firstlings among the cattle of the children of Is'ra-el.
42 And Mō'ses numbered, as the LORD commanded him, [f] all the firstborn among the children of Is'ra-el.
43 And all the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and upward, of those that were numbered of them, were twenty and two thousand two hundred and threescore and thirteen.

(17) Firstborn traded for Levites (Lev. 3:11; 8:15; Ex. 13)

44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying,
●45 [g] Take the Lē'vites instead of all the firstborn among the children of Is'ra-el, and the cattle of the Lē'vites instead of their cattle; and the Lē'vites shall be mine: I am the LORD.

(18) Extra number of firstborn (273) redeemed at $3.25 each. A total of $887.25 given to the Levites

46 And for those that are to be redeemed of the [h] two hundred and threescore and thirteen of the firstborn of the children of Is'ra-el, which are more than the Lē'vites;
●47 Thou [i] shalt even take five shekels apiece by the poll, after the [j] shekel of the sanctuary shalt thou take them: (the shekel is twenty [k] gerahs:)
●48 And thou shalt give the money, wherewith the odd number of them is to be redeemed, unto Aar'on and to his sons.

a We are not told how many were in this camp. All we know is that the families of both Moses and Aaron and all the priests camped in front of the tabernacle eastward (v 38). From a comparison of the numberings of Levites we learn that there were 300 males in the camp
b This verse, giving 22,000 as the total number of Levites, seems to contradict the sum of numbers given in v 22, 28, and 34 which is 22,300 - 7,500 Gershonites, 8,600 Kohathites, 6,200 Merarites. However, the contradiction disappears when we remember that 300 males from the camps of Gershon, Kohath and Merari served as priests and leaders with Moses and Aaron (see note a, above). It not being stated how many of the 300 came from one of these 3 camps or the other, we know only from this verse that the number of Levites apart from the priests and leaders was 22,000 (v 39) c The firstborn of males from the 12 tribes were 22,273 from a month old and upward or 273 in excess of the total number of Levites referred to in v 39 (v 43)
d 2 commands - Levites and cattle:
1 Exchange the Levites for the firstborn of the 12 tribes (v 41, 45)
2 Exchange the cattle of Levites for the firstlings of all Israel e The word cattle here is used for all kinds of animals which were the property of Israel - the firstborn of sheep, goats, asses, and other stock belonging to Jehovah after the law of Ex. 13:2, 12-13. The Lord perhaps took all the stock of the Levites as a whole for the firstborn of all the stock of the 12 tribes, considering these sufficient for the Levites. The firstborn of the stock of Israel had to be redeemed by the owners as a religious tax to support the priests and Levites (Ex. 12:13; 34:19-20)
f This refers only to the firstborn of Israel from the time of this law in Ex. 13:2, 12-13, and not to all the firstborn before that time ed
g Here the commands of v 41 are repeated h The 273 firstborn of the 12 tribes which exceeded the 22,000 Levites were redeemed for $3.20 each or a total of $873.60 (v 46-51)
i 2 commands - redemption of firstborn:
1 Take 5 shekels ($3.20) each as redemption tax from the parents of each of the 273 firstborn (v 47)
2 Give the money to Aaron and sons

Jealousy of Aaron and Miriam (12:1)

This was not the real cause; only the excuse. Not wanting to expose themselves as being jealous of their younger brother and his success, they tried to hide the real cause thus. Miriam, one of Israel's Prophetesses, enjoyed the position of first rank among the women of Israel (Ex. 15:20-21), being the sister of the two chief men of the nation. She caused the rebellion, without a doubt, because she thought she was being supplanted by a foreigner. Jethro had brought the wife and sons of Moses from Midian to Sinai in order to reunite the family. Furthermore, he had given advice which Moses followed in making heads over 10's, 50's, 100's, and 1,000's in Israel (Ex. 18:14-26). Moses had invited his father-in-law and brother-in-law to go along with them to be leaders in showing them the best places to camp (10:29-33). It displeased Miriam to see these newcomers given such attention; and her resentment was shared by Aaron, himself the ecclesiastical head of Israel. The two of them challenged the right of Moses to serve as the leader of the whole nation; but Miriam seems to have been the chief instigator of this ungodliness because punishment fell on her alone (v 10-15). Aaron was simply misled by the pleadings of his sister; and he yielded to her as he did once before to the desires of the people who urged him to sin (Ex. 32). Thus, again his weakness of character showed up, a trait that would have disqualified him for taking the place of Moses, his younger brother a 1,365 shekels (at 64¢ each) was $873.60

b 10 commands - priests and Kohathites:
1 Count the sons of Kohath from 30 to 50 years of age, to do work in the tabernacle of the congregation (v 2-3)
2 Their work shall be the care, protection, and transportation of the most holy things (v 4)
3 When the camp of Israel is moved, Aaron and his sons shall take down the covering vail and cover the ark of the testimony with it (v 5)
4 They shall put upon the ark the covering of badger skins, and spread over it a cloth wholly of blue, and put the staves in it (to carry it with, v 6)
5 They shall spread a cloth of blue over the table of showbread, put the dishes, spoons, bowls and their covers, and the showbread thereon (v 7); then spread a scarlet cloth over them, cover the same with a covering of badger skins and put the staves in (v 8)
6 They shall cover the candlestick and lamps, tongs, snuffers, and oil vessels with a blue cloth; then put them in a covering of badger skins and put it upon a bar (to carry it with, v 9-10)
7 They shall spread a blue cloth over the golden altar, cover it with badger skins, and put the staves in it (v 11)
8 They shall take all the instruments of ministry of the sanctuary, put them in blue cloth, cover them with badger skins, and put them upon a bar (v 12)
9 They shall take away the ashes from the brazen altar, spread a purple cloth on it, put all the vessels of the altar upon it, cover it with badger skins and put the staves in it (v 13-14)
10 The sons of Kohath shall carry all these things on the journey, but they shall not touch any holy thing lest they die (v 15; 7:9)
c The age of service for the ministers, in the beginning, was from 30 to 50 years of age - 20 years of service before retirement (v 3, 23, 30), while that of soldiers was from 20 years to as old as their ability to make war (1:18-45). This 30-year age limit for entrance into ministerial work was reduced to 25 shortly after this, perhaps because more men were needed to help with the work and carrying of loads (8:24-25). It was reduced again to 20 years in the time of David (1 Chr. 23:24-27; 2 Chr. 31:17)
d The most holy things were those mentioned in note b, above - the ark, table of showbread, candlestick, golden altar, brazen altar, and the vessels and instruments for all these pieces of furniture (v 4). The Heb. for the most holy is literally, holiness or holinesses. From this we get our modern term holy of holies e The priests alone were to handle, cover, wrap, and otherwise prepare each thing for travel, then unpack and set all pieces back in order for service when the tabernacle was set up again (v 5). No ordinary Levite - one not in the priesthood, was permitted to touch any of the holy things lest he die. He could only carry them after they were wrapped and ready for travel (v 15). It was a death penalty for others to do this work (1:51; 3:10; 18:4-7) f This refers to the inner vail (veil) between the holy and most holy place (v 5; Ex. 26:31). This was the vail that was rent from top to bottom when Christ was crucified (Mt. 27:51)
g 3 kinds of colored cloth coverings:
1 Covering of blue cloth for the ark (v 5-6), table of showbread (v 7), the candlestick (v 9), and the golden altar (v 11)
2 Covering of scarlet cloth for the table of showbread after a cloth of blue was spread on it and all the vessels and bread placed upon it (v 7-8)
3 Covering of purple cloth for the brazen altar (v 13)
Besides these cloth coverings, all pieces of furniture of the tabernacle were covered with badger skins for travel (v 6, 8, 10, 12, 14). This was to protect them and the things on them from the weather. Where the coverings were stored when Israelites were not travelling is not stated, but it is supposed that there was a storage place somewhere in the tabernacle court where these, the garments of priests, oil for the lamps, the anointing oil, incense, and many other things were kept ready for use in the tabernacle service. The staves of the ark were not to be taken out (Ex. 25:15), but in other instances staves would have to be stored

49 And Mō'şeş took the redemption money of them that were over and above them that were redeemed by the Lē'vītes:
50 Of the firstborn of the children of Iş'ra-el took he the money; [a]a thousand three hundred and threescore and five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:
51 And Mō'şeş gave the money of them that were redeemed unto Aâr'on and to his sons, according to the word of the LORD, as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 4 — 121

4 Work of the priests
(1) Work age 30 to 50 years old

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,
●2 [b]Take the sum of the sons of Kō'hath from among the sons of Lē'vī, after their families, by the house of their fathers,
●3 From [c]thirty years old and upward even until fifty years old, all that enter into the host, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

(2) Work of Kohathites: carry vessels of the tabernacle

●4 This shall be the service of the sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation, about the [d]most holy things:
●5 ¶ And when the camp setteth forward, [e]Aâr'on shall come, and his sons, and they shall take down the [f]covering veil, and cover the ark of testimony with it:
●6 And shall put thereon the covering of badgers' skins, and shall spread over it a [g]cloth wholly of blue, and shall put in the staves thereof.
●7 And upon the table of shewbread they shall spread a cloth of blue, and put thereon the dishes, and the spoons, and the bowls, and covers to cover withal: and the continual bread shall be thereon:
●8 And they shall spread upon them a cloth of scarlet, and cover the same with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put in the staves thereof.
●9 And they shall take a cloth of blue, and cover the candlestick of the light, and his lamps, and his tongs, and his snuffdishes, and all the oil vessels thereof, wherewith they minister unto it:
●10 And they shall put it and all the vessels thereof within a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put it upon a bar.
●11 And upon the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blue, and cover it with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put to the staves thereof:
●12 And they shall take all the instruments of ministry, wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, and put them in a cloth of blue, and cover them with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put them on a bar:
●13 And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth thereon:
●14 And they shall put upon it all the vessels thereof, wherewith they minister about it, even the censers, the fleshhooks, and the shovels, and the basons, all the vessels of the altar; and they shall spread upon it a covering of badgers' skins, and put to the staves of it.
●15 And when Aâr'on and his sons have made an end of covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that, the sons of Kō'hath shall come to [h]bear it: [b]but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. These things are the burden of the sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation.

(3) Work of the high priest

●16 ¶ And to the [c]office of Ē-lē-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest pertaineth the oil for the light, and the sweet incense, and the daily meat offering, and the anointing oil, and the oversight of all the tabernacle, and of all that therein is, in the sanctuary, and in the vessels thereof.

(4) Warning to Kohathites: touch not the holy things

●17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,
●18 [d]Cut ye not off the tribe of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes from among the Lē'vītes:
●19 But thus do unto them, that they may live, and not die, when they approach unto the most holy things: Aâr'on and his sons shall go in, and appoint them every one to his service and to his burden:
●20 But they shall not go in to see when the holy things are covered, lest they die.

(5) Work of Gershonites: carry coverings, curtains, tabernacle walls, and doors

●21 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
22 [e]Take also the sum of the sons of Gēr'shŏn, throughout the houses of their fathers, by their families;
●23 From thirty years old and upward until fifty years old shalt thou number them; all that enter in to perform the service, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.
24 This is the service of the families of the Gēr'shon-ītes, to serve, and for burdens:
●25 And they shall bear the curtains of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of the congregation, his covering, and the covering of the badgers' skins that is above upon it, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, ●26 And the hangings of the court, and the hanging for the door of the gate of the court, which is by the tabernacle and by the altar round about, and their cords, and all the instru-

a Though some things were put into wagons or perhaps on pack animals, all pieces of the tabernacle furniture were carried by men (7:1-9) b Even the Levites who were chosen and consecrated to bear the most holy things could not touch them unwrapped, lest they should die (v 15). They could only carry them after being packed by the priests and made ready for travel (v 5-14) c 5fold work of the high priest (v 16):
1 Keep lights burning
2 Burn incense
3 Offer daily meat offerings
4 All anointing work
5 Oversight of the tabernacle, all things therein, and vessels thereof d 3 commands regarding Kohathites:
1 Do not cut off the Kohathites from among the Levites (v 18)
2 Do this that they may live: Aaron and his sons shall go in and appoint each one to his service and burden (v 19)
3 The Kohathites shall not go in to see when the holy things are covered, lest they die (v 20)
e 4 commands - Gershonites:
1 Count the sons of Gershon from 30 to 50 years of age to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation (v 22-23)
2 They shall bear the tabernacle, the curtains and linen covering, the covering of badger skins, the hanging of the door of the tabernacle, hangings of the outer court, and the hanging for the door of the gate of the court, the cords and all the instruments of service (v 24-26)
3 At the appointment of Aaron and his sons shall they serve in all their burdens and service (v 27)
4 They shall be under Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest (v 28)

15 commands - law of jealousy (5:12)

1 Speak to Israel saying that if a wife commits adultery and it be kept secret and there is no witness against her, or if the spirit of jealousy come upon her husband, whether she is guilty or not, then the man shall bring her to the priest with a meat offering (v 12-15)
2 The priest shall bring her near, and set her before the Lord (v 16)
3 He shall take holy water in an earthen vessel and put dust in it (v 17)
4 He shall uncover the woman's head, put the meat offering in her hands and have the bitter water in his own hand (v 18)
5 He shall charge her by an oath saying: If you are not guilty you are free from the bitter water that causes a curse, but if you are guilty the Lord make you a curse among your people, make your thigh to rot, and your belly to swell (v 19-22) (v 22)
6 The woman shall say, Amen, amen
7 The priest shall write these curses in a book and shall blot them out with the bitter water (v 23)
8 He shall cause the woman to drink the water and it shall enter her and become bitter (v 24). See v 26 and point 10, below
9 He shall take the jealousy offering, the meat offering, out of her hands and wave it before the Lord and offer it upon the altar (v 25)
10 He shall take a handful of the meat offering, even the memorial of it, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward cause her to drink of the water (v 26)
11 If she is guilty she shall be a curse among her people (v 27)
12 If she is not guilty she shall be free, and shall conceive seed (v 28)
13 You shall execute this law upon a woman accused of adultery to determine her guilt or innocence (v 29-30)
14 By these means shall it be determined whether her husband is guilty of false accusation (v 31) her iniquity
15 If she is found guilty she shall bear

This was truly a just law, for it protected the innocent wife from the insane jealousy of her husband, and made it manifest to all that she was innocent. It also protected the husband from a guilty wife and made it possible for him to know the truth. There is no record of this law ever being used. Perhaps before one went through such an ordeal she would confess, if guilty; a show of willingness to go through it manifested innocense a 3 commands - Merarites:

1 Number the Merarites from 30 to 50 years of age to do work in the tabernacle of the congregation (v 29-30)
2 They shall bear the boards of the tabernacle, the bars, pillars and sockets thereof, and the pillars (posts), sockets (foundation bases), pins, and cords of the court with all their instruments of service (v 31-32)
3 They shall serve in the tabernacle of the congregation under Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest (v 33)

b For notes on the boards, bars, pillars, sockets, pins, and cords, see Ex. 26: 15-27:21

c It seems from this that the 2 brothers, Moses and Aaron, were the leaders of the whole congregation, so why Aaron warned to co-operate with Miriam in rebellion against Moses is hard to understand (12:1-16)

d See note c, v 3

e The total number of Kohathites from a month old and upward was 8,600(3:28), but those old enough to serve - 30 to 50 years of age - were only 2,750 (v 36-37)

f The total number of Gershonites from a month old and upward was 7,500 (3:22), but those old enough to serve - 30 to 50 years of age - were only 2,630 (v 40)

24 lists of the tribes in Scripture (2:33)

1 Tribal heads by birth (Gen. 29:32-30:24)
2 List of tribal heads according to the wives of Jacob (Gen. 35:23-26)
3 List of tribal heads according to the wives and giving the number of children of each head (Gen. 46:8-24)
4 First list by prophecy (Gen. 49:3-28)
5 List of those who went into Egypt with Jacob (Ex. 1:1-6). Joseph is omitted because he was already in Egypt. Levi is mentioned in these first 5 lists because his tribe did not serve as ministers of the 12 yet. The tribe is not mentioned in the next 4 lists because of being taken from the others to serve in the priesthood by that time
6 List naming census takers and heads of the 12 tribes making up the nation of Israel (Num. 1:4-16)
7 List by the numbering of the tribes (Num. 1:20-46)
8 List by encampment around the tabernacle (Num. 2:2-32)
9 List by offerings of the tribes at the dedication of the altar (Num. 7:12-84)
10 List by order of march on the journeys (Num. 10:14-28). Levi is included and given a place in the march 11 List by spies chosen to spy out Canaan (Num. 13:3-17). Levi is not included here
12 List by numbering of the tribes in the plain of Moab (Num. 26:4-56). Levi is again numbered here, after the 12 tribes, as in the 1st numbering (Num. 26:57-65 with 3:1-4:49)
13 List by dividers of the land of Canaan (Num. 34:16-29). Levi is not included because of not inheriting any of the land
14 List by order of position on mount Gerizim and Ebal (Dt. 27:12-14). The original 12 sons of Jacob are listed here, including Levi and Joseph (who stands in the place of Ephraim and Manasseh), because of representing the fathers of all the tribes, as before Levi was chosen to the priesthood
15 Second list by prophecy and blessing of the tribes. Levi is included but Simeon is omitted for some unknown reason (Dt. 33:6-29)
16 List by actual division of the land of promise (Josh. 13:1-21:45). Levi is included, not as receiving a portion to compare with the 12 tribes, but as being given certain places among them
17 List by failure to inherit all the land of promise (Judg. 1:1-36)
18 List by co-operation with Deborah and Barak (Judg. 5:14-18). Judah and Simeon are not mentioned because of not being in the war with the other tribes. Levi is not mentioned because of being ministers and not soldiers 19 List of original sons of Jacob before Manasseh and Ephraim (1 Chr. 2:1-2) ments of their service, and all that is made for them: so shall they serve.

●27 At the appointment of Aär'on and his sons shall be all the service of the sons of Gĕr'shon-ītes, in all their burdens, and in all their service: and ye shall appoint unto them in charge all their burdens.
●28 This is the service of the families of the sons of Gĕr'shŏn in the tabernacle of the congregation: and their charge shall be under the hand of Ith'a-mär the son of Aär'on the priest.

(6) Work of Merarites: carry framework of tabernacle

●29 ¶ As for the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī, thou [a]shalt number them after their families, by the house of their fathers;
●30 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old shalt thou number them, every one that entereth into the service, to do the work of the tabernacle of the congregation.
●31 And this is the charge of their burden, according to all their service in the tabernacle of the congregation; [b]the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and sockets thereof,
●32 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords, with all their instruments, and with all their service: and by name ye shall reckon the instruments of the charge of their burden.
●33 This is the service of the families of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī, according to all their service, in the tabernacle of the congregation, under the hand of Ith'a-mär the son of Aär'on the priest.

(7) Kohath numbered: 2,750

34 ¶ And Mō'şeş and Aär'on and the [c]chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kō'hath-ītes after their families, and after the house of their fathers, 35 [d]From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation:
36 And those that were [e]numbered of them by their families were two thousand seven hundred and fifty.
37 These were they that were numbered of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes, all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Mō'şeş and Aär'on did number according to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'şeş.

(8) Gershon numbered: 2,630

38 And those that were [f]numbered of the sons of Gĕr'shŏn, throughout their families, and by the house of their fathers,
39 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,
40 Even those that were numbered of them, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty.
41 These are they that were numbered of the families of the sons of Gĕr'shŏn, of all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on did number according to the commandment of the LORD.

(9) Merari numbered: 3,200

42 ¶ And those that [a]were numbered of the families of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers,
43 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,
44 Even those that were numbered of them after their families, were three thousand and two hundred.
45 These be those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on numbered according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Mō'şeş.

(10) Grand total of ministers 30-50 years old: 8,580

46 All those that were numbered of the Lĕ'vites, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on and [b]the chief of Iş'ra-el numbered, after their families, and after the house of their fathers, 47 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that came to do the service of the ministry, and the service of the burden in the tabernacle of the congregation,
48 Even those that were numbered of them, were [c]eight thousand and five hundred and fourscore.
49 According to the commandment of the LORD they were numbered by the hand of Mō'şeş, every one according to his service, and according to his burden: thus were they numbered of him, as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

122 CHAPTER 5

II Religious and social laws (Lev. 5:1-6:27). 1 Cleansing the camp of diseased people

1 AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
2 [d]Command the children of Iş'ra-el, that they put out of the camp every leper, and every one that hath an issue, and whosoever is defiled by [e]the dead:
●3 Both male and female shall ye put out, without the camp shall ye put them; that they defile not their camps, in the midst whereof I dwell.
4 And the children of Iş'ra-el did so, and put them out without the camp: as the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, so did the children of Iş'ra-el.

a The total number of Merarites was 6,200 of those that were a month old and upward, and those that were able to serve, being 30 to 50 years of age, numbered 3,200 (v 44). This branch of Levi, which had the least number of males from a month old and upward, had 450 more men old enough to serve than Kohath, and 570 more than Gershon

	Total males	Age of 30-50
Gershon	7,500 (3:22)	2,630 (4:40)
Kohath	8,600 (3:28)	2,750 (4:36)
Merari	6,200 (3:34)	3,200 (4:44)
Total	22,300 (3:39)	8,580 (4:48)

3 ages of the census:
1 The males of the common people from 20 years old and upward (1:3-46)
2 The males of Levi from a month old and upward (3:15, 22, 28, 34)
3 Males of Levi from 30 to 50 years of age (4:23, 30, 43, 47)

b This refers to the 12 chiefs of the tribes who helped Moses and Aaron number the people (1:4-16). The Sept. reads, "All the Levites were reviewed, whom Moses with Aaron and the chiefs of Israel reviewed by communities, by the houses of their families" (4:46)

c The total of Levites from all 3 branches (Kohath, Gershon, Merari) who were 30 to 50 years of age being 8,580 it left 13,720 of the 22,300 whose ages excluded them from the ministry (note b, 3:39)

d 2 commands - cleansing the camp:
1 Command Israel to put out of the camp every leper, everyone that has an issue in his flesh, and that is defiled by the dead (v 2)
2 Both males and females shall be put out of the camp until they are clean again, that you defile not the camp in which I dwell (v 3)

e Touching the dead body of a person made one unclean 7 days (19:11), touching other dead bodies made him unclean until evening (Jer. 11:27, 39:40). This refers to the body not the soul. The Heb. nephesh means an individual in some passages, not the invisible man only f Here is the first reference to carrying out the commands regarding segregation of persons with contagious diseases - hospitalizing them or putting them under quarantine. They no doubt were treated humanly in a prepared place outside the camp

20 List of the tribes and their descendants from Jacob to David, including Levi (1 Chr. 2:3-9:44). Zebulun and Dan are omitted for some unknown reason 21 List by tribes of those who were numbered to help David (1 Chr. 12:1-40). Levites are included because they also helped him
22 List by heads of tribes under David, king of Israel (1 Chr. 27:16-22). Levi is represented; Gad and Asher are omitted; and Manasseh is listed as having two heads to the tribe - East and West Manasseh
23 List by choice of God in future and eternal restoration and by division of the land of promise as it will be in all eternity (Ezek. 48). Levi is included here to show his portion of the eternal land under the Messiah. This makes 13 tribes recognized by God in the end
24 List by sealing of God in the foreheads of all that are servants of God at the time when 144,000 are protected through the trumpet judgments and are caught up to heaven as the manchild of Rev. 12:5 (Rev. 7:1-8; 14:1-5). Dan is excluded because of the tribe not being servants of God at the time, and Levi is included

The above lists are different in order and purpose, and should be studied and compared. Reuben, the first-born, heads most of them but Judah heads others, being the kingly and leading tribe (2:3; 10:14; 34:19; 1 Chr. 2:3; Rev. 7:5). Simeon and Reuben head a divided list (Dt. 27:12-13). Dan heads the list in Ezek. 48, because his division of land in the Millennium will be the farthest to the north, the place where most of the tribe of Dan eventually settled. Ezek. 48 deals with the eternal division of the land of the 13 tribes of Israel under their Messiah a 3 commands - law of restitution:

1 Speak to Israel saying that anyone who commits a sin shall confess it and make restitution, adding 20% and giving the amount to the man he has trespassed against (v 6-7)
2 If the man he has wronged is dead and has no kin to receive restitution payment, let it be given to the Lord for the priest (v 8)
3 The man shall bring a ram and the priest shall make atonement for him

b 3 commands - law of holy things:
1 Every offering of holy things which the Israelites bring to the priest shall be his (v 9)
2 Every man's hallowed things shall belong to the priest (v 10) 3 Whatever any man gives to the priest it shall be his c Holy things consisted of meat offerings, parts of certain sacrifices. See p. 121

d Hallowed things were those consecrated to God in special vows (Lev. 27, notes)

e 15 commands - law of jealousy, p. 159

f The trial of jealousy is also said to be practiced in other nations

g If unfounded, the spirit of jealousy is the work of a supernatural diabolic influence or a passion stirred up by the imagination. The purpose of the trial was to determine the truth and justify the woman if her husband was merely jealous; or prove her worthy of punishment if she was guilty

h It seems here that we have another case of the rights of a man declared and not those of a woman. No provision is made for a jealous wife in this passage

i The husband was to provide the offering for his wife whom he considered guilty. It was the cheapest kind - a little less than a gallon of barley flour, which would cost one-half as much as wheat (2 Kl. 7:1, 16, 18). The poorer classes, in distress, used barley (Judg. 7:13; 2 Kl.4:42; Ezek.4:12; Jn.6:9-13), but the more well-to-do used it as fodder (1 Kl. 4:8). In Rev. 6:6 the price of barley is mentioned as being one-third as much as that of wheat j An ephah was 1 bushel and 3 pints (67 pints in all). A tenth part would be nearly a gallon - close to 3 quarts and 1 pint of barley for the offering. No oil or frankincense, which symbolized grace and acceptance, was to be poured upon the barley flour. It was to represent the woman in an abased condition. She, herself stood at the trial with her head uncovered, a token of shame (v 18). The offering was called an offering of jealousy, and an offering of memorial, because it was designed to discover the guilt or innocence of a wife accused by her jealous husband of committing adultery k Water in the laver was called holy because it was sanctified to holy uses only (v 17). It was put into an earthen vessel which was broken afterward (Lev.11:33)

l Dust from the floor of the tabernacle was symbolic of vileness and misery, and a state of condemnation (v 17; Gen. 3:14; Ps. 72:9; Isa. 49:23; 65:25; Mic. 7:17)

m To cover the head was a sign of subjection to the husband (1 Cor. 11:1-16, notes). To uncover the head in this case would mean that the woman was deprived of the protection of her husband who was her accuser (v 14-15) of the fruit of the vine and touched the dead, which Nazarites were forbidden to do(Mt. 9:25; 11:19; 26:29; Mk.14:25; Lk.7:14, 34; 22:18). Whether He cut His hair or not is not stated; but we know that His consecration was more complete and genuine than that of a Nazarite because He was sanctified when sent into the world (Jn. 10:36), and depended on the Holy Spirit anointing to distinguish Him as separated unto God rather than the outward show of abstinence from grapes and refusal to cut His hair or touch the dead (Jn. 3:2, 34; 14:12)

The word Nazarite could be better spelled Nazirite because it comes from nazir meaning consecrated. The word Nazarene of Mt. 2:23 has no connection with Nazarite, for it simply means an inhabitant of Nazareth, a place whose name bore reproach(Jn.1:46). Nazarene as used in Acts 24:5 means a follower of Jesus of Nazareth

2 Law of restitution (Lk.19:8)

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
6 [a]Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, When a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the LORD, and that person be guilty;
7 Then they shall confess their sin which they have done: and he shall recompense his trespass with the principal thereof, and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed.
8 But if the man have no kinsman to recompense the trespass unto, let the trespass be recompensed unto the LORD, even to the priest; beside the ram of the atonement, whereby an atonement shall be made for him.

3 Law of holy things

9 And [b]every offering of all the holy [c]things of the children of Iş'ra-el, which they bring unto the priest, shall be his.
10 And every man's [d]hallowed things shall be his: whatsoever any man giveth the priest, it shall be his.

4 Law of jealousy. (1) Cause

11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
12 [e]Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and say unto them, [f]If any man's wife go aside, and commit a trespass against him, 13 And the man lie with her carnally, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and be kept close, and she be defiled, and there be no witness against her, neither she be taken with the manner;
14 And [g]the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and [h]he be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled: or if the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled:

(2) Jealousy offering
